Honor Code Commits Students To Accept Dual Responsibility

by Sally Foote '61

Part of the pride I feel as a member of Connecticut College is due to the Honor Code. This code fills its source in the ancient world and defined the relationship of the student to the college. It is my pleasure to tell you about the activities of the Honor Code during the current year.

The Honor Code is not an externally imposed regulation; it is a system that has been strengthened by years of successful operation. The success of the system is due to the faculty, administration, and students who have worked together to maintain its integrity. The Honor Code has not "outlived its usefulness" simply because it is no longer enforced by formal means. The code has remained a system through which the students work together to maintain the highest standards of social and academic behavior.

The focus of the Honor Code is dual: to maintain the high degree of personal integrity that the college presupposes in every student, and to give the community an effective means of working in the Conn. That is why we meet every Wednesday to discuss the functions of one charged with the responsibility of upholding the standards of the college as we believe that all students should be students of the community. We feel that the Honor Code is an integral part of the college community. The code is a system of working together to maintain the highest standards of personal and social behavior.

This year, the Cabinet has been successful in maintaining the standards of the Honor Code. The student body has been active in the Cabinet meetings, and the administration has been responsive to the students' concerns. The Cabinet has been successful in upholding the standards of the Honor Code and in working towards a more effective community for all students.

Athletic Association Plans Activities for Coming Year

by Paula Parker '61

Although I don't know what I want, I have decided to say something to you in a group such as this. I don't want to write anything down, so I will just talk about the Athletic Association.

The purpose of the Athletic Association is to provide a smooth running and effective operation of all the athletic programs at the college. The Athletic Association is made up of the faculty, students, and the Cabinet. It is the responsibility of the Athletic Association to see that the rules and regulations of the college are followed and that the students are provided with the best possible athletic programs.

The Athletic Association sponsors four subsidary clubs: Outing Club, Swimming Club, Tennis Club, and Golf Club. Each of these clubs is responsible for the operation of its own program. The Athletic Association provides general support and advice to these clubs, but it is the responsibility of each individual club to run its own program.

The focus of the Athletic Association is on the development of student-leadership. The Athletic Association is a vehicle for the students to express their ideas and opinions on the direction of the college. It is an opportunity for the students to take an active role in the development of the college.

The Athletic Association plans to continue its efforts to improve the athletic programs at the college. It is my hope that the students will continue to be active in the Athletic Association and that the college will be successful in its efforts to provide the best possible athletic programs for the students.

Cabinet, A Thinking Body for Progressive Campus Policies

by Margie Fisher '61

You are all aware by now of the importance which we attach to our tradition of Student Government. This year we have been able to continue this tradition on campus. Indeed, it is the central focus of our work to maintain a well organized and responsible group of student leaders.

We have worked hard to maintain the standards of the Honor Code, and we are proud of the results. We have been able to maintain the integrity of the Student Government and to provide a framework for the students to express their ideas and opinions on the direction of the college. We believe that the Student Government is an integral part of the college community and that it is important for the students to take an active role in the development of the college.

Religious Program Offers Meditation And Guest Speaker

by Liz Kestner '61

The most conspicuous aspect of Religious Fellowship, for the student body and faculty alike, is its part in the model program here on campus. Every student comes into contact with the fellow· ship, because chapel attendance is required twice a week. A student may, however, substitute another church or synagogue service for the chapel service.

Services are held in the chapel, on Sunday evenings and during the week. The group provides services led by students and members of the faculty, and special programs are scheduled when appropriate. The group is responsible for maintaining the religious atmosphere of the college.

The purpose of Religious Fellowship is to provide a place for students to come together to worship and to reflect on the meaning of their faith. It is an opportunity for students to express their ideas and opinions on the direction of the college. It is an opportunity for students to take an active role in the development of the college.

The cabinet is responsible for the executive branch of our government, and it is the responsibility of the cabinet to see that things run smoothly and that the students are able to express their ideas in an effective manner. It is the responsibility of the cabinet to see that all policies which affect the students are discussed in the cabinet meetings, and that the cabinet is able to make decisions and propose changes, student activities, and student organizations.

The cabinet meets every Wednesday, and the meetings are open to all students. It is the responsibility of the cabinet to see that all students are able to attend the meetings and to express their ideas and opinions on the direction of the college. Drama Group Plans Shows; Explains Membership Rules
by Jill Dargreno '61
The main purpose of Wig and Candle, the service club on campus, is to provide experience and enjoyment for the young men who are interested in the theatre arts. The club also serves as an avenue for the more interested students to become involved in and contribute to the theatre work that is being done on campus.

Service League to Plan New Projects
For Academic Year
by Randy Whitman '61
The organization, which deals directly with the theatre activities on campus, is called Service League. The function of Service League is to coordinate and plan programs under the guidance of freshmen mixers, a new faculty advisor, and the Mid-Winter Formal Committee. The Community Fund Fair and the New London School Program are the two main projects that Service League officers are working on.

New Work Program Stresses Cooperation of Student Body
by M. Zahniser '61
At the risk of becoming repetitive, I would like to tell you or rather to recall what has already been told about the New Work Program. The need of the Theatre Department for new plays is a vital one. Only by looking at an individual and vital to the college as a whole. In fact without the program both the students and the faculty would have difficulty existing. As you may know, the program was begun by students last semester. During the past four years the system has been changed and reorganized.
