See your house bulletin board for details. But don't forget—your blood is needed.

CC Club to Offer Student
Programs to Visiting Students

The Connecticut College Student Club is offering to students of other colleges a series of programs to be held on the campus.

The club includes a variety of programs, such as concerts, lectures, and workshops. The club's goal is to provide a place for students to come together and enjoy a wide range of programs.
Something to Remember
During the previous months many of us were shocked from our summer idleness by the appearance of screaming headlines in our daily newspaper. Teen-age students were found to be narcotic addicts; a traditioned-student institution was a whirlpool of scandal; one man's trial caused a great city to stand on the verge of anarchy. And all of this with a magnitude excited and even a little frighted, we gossiped, discussed, and argued vehemently—but for the most part, forgot.
You may say that is only a natural reaction, that it would be impossible to remain in a constant state of belligerence as each new situation arises to the surface. Quite often, this is true. Yet it is all only too reminiscent of one summer before, when the students of the exhibition. For Audubon's youth, and the Ele-

Juniors Entertain Frosh With Annual Fall Fashion Show
Saturday afternoon in Knowiton High School auditorium, the Connecticut College Frosh class was entertained by the Junior Department. The program consisted of a fashion show and a short informal talk by the Junior Student Government. The program began with the Junior Student Government song, followed by a fashion show. The junior girls modeled garments and accessories for the fall season. The audience was taken with the variety of styles and colors displayed. The Junior Student Government then presented a short talk on the importance of good fashion sense. The audience was encouraged to develop a good sense of style and to be confident in their own unique look. The program concluded with the Junior Student Government song. The Junior Department would like to thank the Junior Student Government for their hard work and dedication in putting on a successful program.

Student Government Work Explained In Greater Detail
It has come to the attention of Student Government officers that few Connecticut College students have more than a vague idea of how the Student Government actually functions. This Student Government work is divided into several parts. First of all, students body. The Student Government has been organized to support this government, they should have a clear idea of just what it is they are trying to support.
Student Government, like any other democratic government, is divided into several parts. First of all, students gather together in house meetings to discuss various suggestions, problems, or propos-tions.

College Adds Eleven Faculty, Students Lend International Note to Various Depts., To Varied Campus Activities, and Classes

Now that we are in full swing on the college campus again, many of the faculty members among the student members have become familiar to us. Added to the campus this year we find one new member on the Administration staff, two new full-time professors, two assistant in the chemistry department, and four part-time instructors.

Miss Boynton

The new assistant to the President, Violet C. Boynton, is in charge of the Student Activities office. Miss Boynton received her B.S. in 1933 from the University of Kentucky, and since then has established an impressive record as Director of Physical Education at many universities. From 1942-1946 she was a Physical Education Officer in the WAVES, and in 1948 Miss Boynton acted as Advisor for Women Veterans in the Veterans Administration in Washington. Miss Boynton comes to us directly from Des Moines College, where she held the position of Director of Admissions and Assistant to the Director of Student Personnel, 1948-51.

Mrs. Dimnick

In the Psychology Department Mrs. Claire C. Dimnick is the new Acting Chairman. Mrs. Dimnick received her B.A. from Smith, her M.A. from Columbus University and her Ph.D. from Columbia University in 1950. She has been an Instructor in Psychology at M.C. for five years. Mrs. Dimnick was a member of the Woman's College, and at Robert College she was Acting Head of the Psychology Department from 1940 to 1947.

Mr. Smith

We welcome a familiar face to the Department of Chemistry, Mr. Stanley B. Smith, who was on the Connecticut College faculty in the first semester last year, will resume teaching Clas- sical Chemistry as a visiting professor. Mr. Smith received his B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. from Harvard University, and has since been a teacher in many universities.

Miss Ruth S. Ferguson is another well-known person on campus, since she received her B.S. from this college in 1950. She was retained by the Connecticut College in 1950, and has been graduated from many schools. In addition to her teaching, Miss Ferguson has written pamphlets and journals. Miss Ferguson will be an assistant professor of Foreign Languages.

Mr. Dale

Added to the Music Department is Mr. William Dale, formerly of the faculty of Bradfield Junior College. Mr. Dale was graduated from the University of Florida, and has his B. and M. Music Masters from Yale University. He has served in the U.S. Army as a First Lieutenant from 1942 to June, 1946, and was a part-time instructor in piano at Yale University from 1946-48. Mr. Fussell

Mr. Paul Fussell, Jr., is a new instructor in the Chemistry Department. Mr. Fussell received his A. B. from Pomona College in 1949, and his A.M. from Harvard in 1949. He was instructor in En- glish in the U.S. Army Information and Education Program, and served as Flight Lieutenant in France and Germany. Mr. Fussell has had over 400 poems and arti- cles published. His wife, Betty Sue, is in the service of the Army Air Corps with the Airline.

Mr. Lockard

Mr. Allan Lockard comes to us from the Government Depart- ment of the Miyazaki University, and will have the same position here at Connecticut College. Mr. Lockard received his B.B. from Yale University and taught Government there for much of his military service from 1943-1945.

Miss Estes and Miss Leith

A new assistant in the Chemistry Department is Miss Betty D. Estes. Miss Estes was received by B.A. from Hofstra College this past year. Another assistant in this department is Sarah C. Leith, who received her A.B. in 1950 from her M.S. in the Chemical School of the University of Michigan. Mr. Delvecchio

A Connecticut College is sharing its research with the Yale University. On our campus is a pool, known as the Quabbin, in the Charles River, in the middle of whose waterway is a harbor. Mr. Delvecchio received his A.B. from Fordham College, and his M.S. from Yale University. Mr. Delvecchio was a part-time instructor in the Chemistry Department and is in the service of the United States Department of the Navy, with whom he served with the Army Air Corps in the Pacific. He has been a research associate in the Chemistry Department at the University of Connecticut and at the St. Lawrence College in 1951.

Mr. Nettles

Mr. Harvey Nettles comes from the Rhode Island School of Design, and will be our first part-time instructor in art history.

Mrs. Kossoff

Mrs. Ruth H. Kossoff is a part-time instructor in Spanish. She is also on the faculty at Brown University.

Lending a truly international note to our campus this year are five students from foreign nations. For Amany Difawry, Anna Christie Kube, Colette Darroz, Astrid Kiebelsberg and Maria Lourdes Mendezia, life in the United States is a new and exciting experience—an experience by whose countries they ultimately may benefit.

Amany Difawry, from Egypt, is studying Home Economics here in hopes that she may eventually return to her native land to help her government establish similar institutions in the United Arab Republic. Amany intends to go in the betterment of nutrition in Egypt. Having received a diploma from the College of Agriculture in Cairo, Amany attended for two years at Faudous University in Cairo. She has been associated with many student activities in her native land and she belongs to such organizations as the Girl Scouts of the United States and the National Club. Amany is living now in Grace Smith.

Anna Christie Kube

A fresh from Freeman is Anna Christie Kube, a candidate for the Ph.D. in the College of Agriculture in Berlin, Germany. Anna's deep interest in Chemistry is evidenced by her major field of study, which is in physics and mathematics. Anna's favorite courses are Chemistry and English. Anna is a member of the Free University of Berlin, students' union, and was a member of her school's choir called the Quabbin Youth Home in her native land. She has taken a job as a teacher in the service of the German government.

Colette Darroz

Colette Darroz, also a resident of Freeman and a native of Paris, France, is concentrating her studies in American literature and civilization. Colette has traveled in England, Switzerland, and the Netherlands. She is the author of the Faculty of Letters and the Faculty of the Law University of Paris. Colette graduated last year.

Miss Helen M. Jensen, born 1883, was a part-time instructor in the Chemistry Department at the St. Lawrence College in 1951.

Mr. DeLuccio

A member of the Mathematics Department is Mr. Charles DeLuccio. Mr. DeLuccio was received by B.A. from Boston University. Mr. DeLuccio received his A.A. from Fordham College, and his M.S. from Yale University. Returning to Connecticut, Mr. Dale taught at Bradford Junior College.

The program that will be presented here Friday was given at Phillips Exeter Academy on September 30, and Mr. Dale plans to repeat it in part in London this June. Caught on Campus

There seems to be some confusion on campus concerning the singing group called Conn Chords. In the first News issue, Contrary to rumor, this is not a new organization, but merely a new title for familiar entertainment. Last year, Double Octet had a contest for a new title when they found that the group numbered twelve instead of the usual sixteen, and Conn Chords was selected as the winner. So watch to hear more of Conn Chords in the future.

Now, bowels, and shrieks of joy greeted those upperclassmen returning to CC with brand new engagement rings.

Have you noticed that something new has been added to the old East Godfrey? Yep, she’s now the proud possessor of a glittering solitaire diamond ring—and it’s on the right finger! The lucky guy is Sgt. Aaron Richards, now stationed in Virginia, who hails from Sturt’s home town, the Bronx. This seems to be the traditional story of the “boy next door” coming to life. Oddly enough, Sari has known Aaron all her life. They grew up together!

More Engagements

News of Julie Griggs’ engagement was received with a mixed feeling of gladness and disappointment. Of course, everyone was happy to hear that Julie is soon to become Mrs. Samuel Mar- ty, but the prospective bride’s plans of returning to CC were completely disrupted. Julie is another gal who has known her fiancé all her life. He is a third year student at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. The Marty will live in Philadelphia after their marriage in December.

Pat Sherman, a senior in Kath- erine Blunt, is now Pat Sherman Le Pever. Pat was married during the summer and has returned to CC to complete her work as a psychology major. Her husband is Leonard LePever, who at the present time is stationed in Louis- ville with the U.S. Army.

Roommates can come in very handy. Not only did Swip Inksley ’52, fail to have roommate trou- ble, but her engagement has been brought about through two roommates, her own, Mary Ann Ross, and her fiancé’s roommate (who appar- ently never answers to that name) and Thomas Woods, U. I., met on a double date, on which

Mary Ann dated Tom’s roommate. Tom is a ‘48 graduate of Annapolis, and is now a lieutenant, j.g., in the Marines, stationed at the sub base. His home is in Evans- ton, and they became engaged on August 11, in Cleveland, her hometown. The wedding is planned for sometime in June.

A roommate was also instru- mental in bringing about the en- gagement of Barbara Rex ’52 to John Kasmiers, John’s room- mate, is Susie Longley’s cousin and John and Barbara met on a blind date in New York City. He is now in medical school at Boston University, after graduating from Columbia in 1950. At present Bob- by’s home is Binghamton. John’s is Hudson, New York. “Sometime in June” is the wedding date.

We always knew Tales were good for something! (but don’t take us too seriously, we’re really being facetious). It was a tale who introduced Joyce Leening ’52, to Stan Mayfield, to whom she plans to be married on December 27. He is a graduate of Annapolis, in the class of ’48, and is now a lieutenant, j.g., at the sub base. Stan’s hometown is New Orleans; hers is Highland Park, Illinois; but they plan to make their home right here in New London.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 23

THE AARDVARK

This classy campus caper-cutter got his snootful of cute cigarette tests. It didn’t take him long to dig out the fact that cigarette mildness can’t be determined by a mere single puff or quick-sniff experiment!

Millions of smokers, on and off the campus, have discov- ered there’s only one true test of cigarette mildness!

IT’S THE SENSIBLE TEST... the 30-day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camel as your steady smoke — on a day-after-day basis. No snap judgments. Once you’ve tried Camels for 30 days in your “T-Zone” (T for Throat, T for Taste), you’ll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests — Camel leads all other brands by billions she aids of Sis Quantzin during Jane's sophomore year. Don, who graduated from Yale last June, is from Grand Rapids, Michigan, and Jane from Saratoga, New York. The army will set their wedding date.

Parents Are Right

Remember the boys your parents were always begging you to meet—here's one instance of where the parents' judgment occurred with their daughter's. In fact, he even took her up at college. The couple who disproved all our pet theories is Bev Weber '52 and Reg Haynor. He's a sophomore; she's a '48 graduate of Yale. He's known most of her life. His name is Pete Swythe, and he is a Deke who graduated from Williams last June. Wedding plans are indefinite, though they will probably be married next summer. The date is contingent on action by the National Guard, in which Pete is enrolled.

Now for the other side of Campus. nicky Sperry, a K.B. senior, was recently engaged to Bob Meyers, a '48 graduate of Yale. He's planning to enter the Navy next September, so their plans are still indefinite.

Freshman Engaged

Not to be outdone by the upperclassmen, the freshman class also has an engagement to announce. Nancy Greenfield, who lives in Knowlton, is planning to marry Lee Daniels, a '49 graduate of Carnegie Tech, who is now in the printing business in Boston. Both of them live in Boston, where they met on a golf course during the summer.

The wedding is set for June, and Nancy hopes to keep on with her education in Boston.

Clerk Gets Away

It's a wonder that everyone's sense of humor was not smothered in the bustle and bedlam that reigned during Freshman Week. Some of the most amusing incidents occurred when they were least anticipated. When asked by President Far to what she had done this summer, one of the freshmen blithely announced that she had "screwed up the works, but left in time to avoid being disproved."

Shirley Lukens, a senior in Emily Abbey, became engaged this summer on August 18 to Dick Rosseau who is attending the School of Engineering at the University of Connecticut. Although Shirley is from Wood Hartford, and Dick lives in Lyme, they announced their engagement while they were staying at Squirrel Island Inn, the Lukens' hotel, in Maine. The wedding is planned for either next September or the following June.
