NET Movies No Longer on Campus

"We haven’t been able to work out an arrangement in terms of [space] for us," said MSF President Lawrence Diamond, "and our students are really disappointed because I think it’s made a difference in terms of the kind of film that we’ve been able to show here."

"We’ve had to make some decisions that we think are in the best interest of the College. We’ve had to make some compromises in order to stay within our budget constraints."

Barnes Imposes Freshmen to Be Safe

"There are some students who are not taking the seriousness of this issue very seriously," said Barnes President David Keyes. "I think that we need to be very clear that this is a serious concern."
Re-evaluate Smoking Policy

Dr. Jeff Wigand spoke passionately to our campus about his experiences with big tobacco and related consequences. One of the most disturbing and dangerous aspects of cigarette smoke is that big tobacco was lying about the dangers of smoking. What he did with that knowledge was to quit smoking and become an advocate for smoke-free policies. He feels that we should limit the number of outdoor areas that are designated as smoking areas. In addition, Conn needs to offer its students smoking cessation services as an important step in reducing the number of smokers on campus.

CLAIRES: Get Net Movies Back!

The Network Event Theater movies shown for the past year have been a hit with students. However, this past Fall we learned that Evans Hall would no longer be screening movies. This policy change was made in an effort to cut College costs. However, many students are upset about this decision and are calling for the restoration of Net movies. The Freshmen Experience

The Freshmen Experience

A colossal ecological and human rights catastrophe is currently occurring in the state of Gujarat, India. The construction of the Sardar Sarovar Dam is having disastrous consequences for the local indigenous people and the environment. The construction of this dam is causing significant harm to the environment, as well as the rights of the Native American Grass River. The dam will not only destroy the Narmada Bhandara Gorge, but it will also cause the displacement of over two million people from their homes. The dam will also lead to a decrease in the river’s ecological health and biodiversity. The dam will also lead to the loss of many cultural symbols and traditions. The construction of the Sardar Sarovar Dam is expected to begin in 2020.

A Freshman's Focus: the A Cappella concert

By CODY ZALK

Walking into Hardrock Chapel last Friday night and seeing the masses flow into the doors, I was surprised that so many people liked each other. It was such a rare event to see such a large group of people be brought together into one unified group to enjoy a musical experience.

All of the groups had such a great time and were stronger than the one before. This was the first time I have ever seen such a great display of musical talent. It was truly an amazing experience.

The concert was amazing, filled with energy and spirit. Afterwards, hundreds of people lined up to buy the compact discs for sale and to sign up for try-outs for every group. The show started like a hit on my rear end. The morning after a great party.

I am glad that I really enjoyed this experience and it wouldn't have been missed.

Lyman Allyn's First Sunday Does the Dance

By DAWN HOPKINS

Both music and bodies flowed freely as the A Cappella Art Museum, on Sunday in an effort to release a new CD. The Children's Dance Center and the Fandango drove the energy level and enthusiasm of the participants everywhere present.

The Children's Dance Center is located in the basement of the campus. It is where the majority of the children are taught.

In addition, there are a myriad of other organizations that work with the children's dance center. This includes the Children's Dance Center and the Foxtrot Zulu.

The Children's Dance Center, located in the basement, is the heart of the Children's Dance Center. It has been the center of the children's dance center since it was founded.

There is an interesting exhibition by photographer William W. S. Ingalls, who photographed many jazz greats like John Coltrane, Duke Ellington, and many others.

The effect of the overall atmosphere was very interesting. A large overturn following the onslaught, the live band in the library building.

The novelty of sitting on the floor was wearing off, and the heat and the smell of sweat grow stronger and stronger. I realized that I really couldn't sing and that I should stick to sailing. Besides, I wasn't an a cappella singer.

Whether you arrived at Conn this fall just to "get away from your family" or have set up a permanent residence and invested in Conn, you should check out the music and dance activities on campus.

Zulu has been playing for five years now. She says that her latest CD is a mix of music that she has heard while traveling. She says that she listens to a lot of music and uses this music to fit into her own style.

"When in Doubt, Do Something."

Alcohol

Ammirati and Goodwin both agreed with Miner, Sam Amhirati, Director of Campus Safety, and also felt that it is important to continue the discussion on alcohol use. Some freshmen have never had an alcoholic drink before, but most bring their drinking habits with them as the summer drinking stats show. We cannot pretend that we are dealing with a completely new set of problems. Last year's drinking at Crozier inside a bubble, which is why I think the bubble concept is helpful.

As the summer drinking stats show. We cannot pretend that we are de-ing age is 21.

Ammirati agreed with Miner. Said JR Paige, housefellow of Marshall, "If someone is drinking under age, I am obligated to make them drink it. I am personally responsible as well as imable thing is not responsible for what happens in the dorm."

Ammirati wanted to make it clear that the school is not going to become a dry campus. "Some schools are calling parents at first offense... Some schools have said one, two, three-strikes you're out, but we are not heading that way. I don't want to have an institution that is like that, but I also don't want to be on the other end of the continuum of having no institution where any-drinking age is 21.

Students not knowing what kind of or how much alcohol is in the punch.

In the past this practice has contributed to bottles and cans all over campus, spontaneous unregistered parties, and a general lack of understanding between campus safety and students. Please note that this response does not include the entrance and the interior of the College Center. Students who are 21 years of age and older can purchase alcohol in the campus bar and must be provided beverages containing alcohol at approved events, but students may not bring their own alcohol into the College Center at any time. We hope that this will cut down on the vandalism and need for excessive cleanup in and around the College Center.

Women’s Soccer Team Looks To Repeat Historical Season

by Matthew B. Kessler

Last season was so much fun, and because no one had any expectations, we just kept on winning and winning. It was the kind of season that we were able to get away with because we were the only team in the country that was the only team in the country that had the most successful season in school history. Expectations are high following last year’s 13-1 season, which included a final ranking of 10th in the Division III field. The Lady Camels were the only team in school history to be members of the All-New England Women’s College Soccer Coaches Association All-American first team on Wednesday, September 15 at Trinity College.

The team has brought in a crop of talented freshmen, including co-captain Polly Hall ’01, and a new goalie, as well as a new coach. Coach Price says he is looking forward to a new season with a lot of excitement.

Comes hopes to be more competitive with Trinity this year. Trinity’s senior team has won 15 games in the past three years, while Conn College has won 12 games in the past three years. This year, however, the team is looking to improve.

Men’s Soccer Hopes For A “Fresh” Start

by Matt Sceadas

Season has long been thought of as one of the most intriguing, both physically and mentally, due to the constant, uninterrupted play and extended time on the field. However, thanks to a bevy of young talent, the Conn College men’s soccer team seems to have enough legs to keep the game going.

Traditionally, a team starting 15 freshmen would be regarded as “up-and-coming,” but for the team this year, the freshmen all look very strong. With the team’s offense struggling last year, this year’s offense is looking to improve. The freshmen all look very strong, and the team is looking to improve.
