Contracto Solosit To Be Introduced in Recital Wed.

Editors have just been informed of a new opening meeting next Wednesday night at 8:00 in Holmes Hall. The purpose of the meeting is to introduce Phyllis Jennins, contralto, who will present a recital of Bach and modern songs of the French, German, and American schools. Miss Jennins is a New York student of Grace Leslie's, voice in teacher of Music. She is the daughter of the late Frank and William, Holy Communion of New York, and has appeared in recital in that city. She is extremely interested in conducting, and her program will include, besides several arias from the Messiah, Mendelssohn's Hymnus, Schubert's Ave Maria, and several other items. She is a student of Philip Quast in Music. The meeting is open to all students and faculty.

Entire Student Body Invited To See Corner Stone Laying

In the fall of 1930 the institution moved from Deshon Hall to the present site of the Faculty Lounge. Since that time, the building has been the site of many activities, such as concerts, meetings, and social events. This year, however, the cornerstone ceremony will be held on October 25th at 7:00 p.m.

The cornerstone ceremony will include speeches by President Rosemary Parks, Grace Leslie, and other members of the student body. After the speeches, the cornerstone will be laid, and the building will be officially dedicated.

Query Shows Majority Favor Freshman Hour Regulations

The majority of freshmen interviewed favor the current regulations. Many freshmen feel that the current regulations are easier to follow than the previous ones. However, some freshmen have expressed concerns about the amount of time spent in class and the difficulty of the classes.

Religious Liberal, Eminent Minister, Addresses Vespers

John Haynes Holmes, the speaker at the Vespers service on Sunday, has been one of the outstanding leaders in liberal religion in the United States. Born at Binghamton, New York, where he did his theological work, he is the recipient of the D.D. degree from several institutions, and of the Litt. D. from Benares Hindu University.

Since serving a pastorate (Interrational) in Denver, Colorado, he became minister of the Church of the Messiah in New York in 1907, which later became the Colwood Church. He has held this post just a few years ago, when he became pastor-emeritus of the church.

He has held positions of prominence in the United church and has been an active campaigner for religious liberalism. He has served as vice president of the N.A.A.C.P. since 1930, and on the executive board of the American Academy of Religion since 1932.

He is the author of a score of books on social and religious subjects. In his most recent book, "Theology and Ethics," he has given a clear and concise exposition of the principles of liberal theology.

Infirmary Moves to Final Location on Northwest Campus

Tomorrow at 12:30 the cornerstone of the new infirmary will be held. Participating in the ceremony will be Mr. Mawson, physician from 1916 to 1918. Since that time, the infirmary has had many homes.

When the college opened, the doctor was not in residence, but lived nearby. But a small part of Thanes was made the infirmary. The resident doctor was housekeeper at the infirmary and was in charge of household. There was one extra bed for students who could not treat their rooms.

When the flu epidemic hit Connecticut, the room was used for a temporary infirmary. The girls who were not moved into the dormitory.

In the fall of 1930 the infirmary moved to Deshon House, on the corner of Mohawk Avenue and Deshon St. There were two nurses who also worked in the infirmary. The nurses had trained for the work and had received the necessary training.

By this time the facilities had expanded so that the infirmary covered part of the first floor and all of the second and third floors. The infirmary house was moved next to the infirmary and was present location.

This house was once the home of the president of the college.

The cornerstone ceremony will include speeches by President Rosemary Parks, Grace Leslie, and other members of the student body. After the speeches, the cornerstone will be laid, and the building will be officially dedicated.

French Club Plans Variety of Events

Fiorimonde von Wedekind was selected social chairman of the French Club at the club's first dance. The French Club also announced an open meeting next Wednesday night at 8:00 in Holmes Hall. The purpose of the meeting is to introduce Phyllis Jennins, contralto, who will present a recital of Bach and modern songs of the French, German, and American schools.

The girls were chosen on a competitive basis, and each one is given a chance to make an adjustment during the first few months of college, and therefore seriously believe that having to be in on ten week nights aids this adjustment.

Although these girls like the freedom of the hours, they want. They are aware of the fact that freshmen have to be in early on week nights because they obviously have to be in early on weekends because they obviously have to be in early on weekends.

The U. N. Plus You

No editorializing can make Connecticut College more aware of the vitality of the United Nations than today's headlines. What lies behind those headlines in terms of yesterday and tomorrow has been realistically appraised by the U. N. itself:

This year there is a better understanding of both the powers and the limitations of the United Nations. The people have learned that the United Nations is not a super-state nor a world government that can impose its wishes arbitrarily on national states. They have come to realize that the United Nations is more of a mediator and conciliator of disputes, and a moderator of conflicts wherever and whenever they occur. (Neither the United Nations nor any conceivable substitute can impose a settlement among the great Powers.) What the United Nations can and does do is to moderate the differences of conflicting Powers and promote their ultimate settlement by peaceful means instead of by the use of force.

The United Nations, in the face of political differences and of conflicting national interests, has already prevented bloodshed, put an end to armed conflicts, and settled many disputes. The United Nations and its principal and subsidiary bodies have been working together with their connected specialized agencies for better health, higher living standards and greater educational opportunities for mankind. Thousands of refugees and displaced persons have found new homes, the hungry have been fed, and technical "know-how" through United Nations machinery is being shared throughout the world.

The United Nations has proved itself the only meeting place in which the great and small countries of the world can still voice freely the aspirations of the peoples, submit their policies and actions to the judgment of world opinion and seek its support for their causes. The presence in this meeting place is always in the direction of agreement and the peaceful processes of settlement. If we care as much as we claim to, we can have no cynics if "There Shall Be Peace."

Children's Fund, Foreign Students Aided Thru Drive

by Frances Wilcox

The four organizations that share more directly than any other (that is, outside the College Community Chest and W.S.S.P.) the Connecticut College Community Chest are the Children's Fund of Connecticut, the Hartford Children's Fund and the Red Cross. It is of interest to us as college students to discover how much of our Connecticut Community Chest goes directly to these organizations, the form of grants for study in aiding Connecticut citizens, and the reestablishment of European institutions in general.

The World Student Service Fund and the Student Friendship Fund are here to aid foreign students as well as to aid Connecticut students. Each of these institutions has its own board of directors, and each has its own policy. The Student Friendship Fund gives books and food to foreign students. It also helps to found hostels, which are warm shelters stocked with books not otherwise available to students. The Student-Friendship Fund is a cooperative organization of the United Nations.

The United Nations has created a separate organization so that the people realize that with the needs of students. The W.S.S.P. gives hope in clothes, books, and food to foreign universitv students. It also helps to found hostels, which are warm shelters stocked with books not otherwise available to students. The Student-Friendship Fund is a cooperative organization of the United Nations.

Many Faculty Members Spend Summer Traveling in Europe

by Virginia Rossman

Students weren't the only ones who spent the summer abroad. Many members of the faculty also traveled, attended conferences, and taught in Europe.

Miss Dorothy Bethun, Professor of English, attended the international conference of English and university professors of English at Oxford, England. Her presence, which is the first of its kind in this field, was attended by representatives of 50 nations and lasted five days. Afterwards Miss Bethun traveled in eastern France and in Austria.

Probable Varia

Business and pleasure were combined on a trip made by Mr. Leslie Beebe, Assistant Professor of Economics, in Liverpool, England. He discussed economics of general business with the production managers of large manufacturing concerns of women's dresses. He talked with prominent men in the industry while traveling through England. Mr. Beebe is looking forward to the trip of his lifetime and his next trip, vacation-sight seeing in France.

Six weeks of the vacation of Miss Maria Kosko, Assistant Professor of French, were spent teaching French evening school at the University of Lausanne in Switzerland. She also spent the summer traveling through France and Italy where she made extensive travels to Switzerland. She spent the rest of her vacation teaching in Oxford, the City of the arts and letters, in the summer term at Somerville College where she was on leave during the summer term.

Mr. Edgar Mayhew, Assistant Professor of English, attended the International Congress of English. Those conferences are the two old whaling buildings is a clubhouse reputed to have housed one of the first members of the Mystic whaling museum.

Foremost among attractions, of course, are the two old whaling ships now at rest in the harbor near the Mystic River. These ships are the first two ships to be restored in the Chilton Press which publishes the Oxford University publications.

South American Students Teach Young Visitors at Seaside Each Week

Each week at 2:15 on Wednesday afternoon twelve girls go over to Seaside to teach a group of the children for a half hour. The girls are given back-up books by the Department of Literature in addition to the tales they are to read, the stories varying according to the age of their class. In addition, every week, the students present a show which is a party at Christmas time and one usually later in the year.

The project of bringing South American girls over to the Waterford Sanatorium has grown in high the years and more and more interest has been aroused through the help of the girls. Organizing interest in this year is the fact that the girls will be able to come to Connecticut, and to go to churches downtown once a month to attend the Sunday services. If enough money can be raised to rent a bus for transportation from the Sanatorium. This is especially true because there are a number of them which will be the first time they will be able to come to the Seaside Church for a church service. These are the children who are the bone and sinew of the group, and a great number of them have been there for many years.

Classes began again at Seaside Oct. 11 and the continued existence of the South American girls is very encouraging. There was a group that did not want to leave, and this group will be working with the children who have decided to come.

College students are working on the Seaside project with a great deal of enthusiasm. The Seaside project is one that will not be easy to do, but they are doing it with the help of the Seaside Church.

Summer Abroad Leaves Mixed Impressions on Conn. Girls

Seniors Jane Keite and Mary Pennwirt were with the NSA this summer. They liked Switzerland and France in all its wintry and quaint beauty. The art of Italy was impressive to both of them. Jane said that Switzerland has made a "terrible comeback" since the end of the last war. Penny liked the friendliness of the English people and the bus fare of 1.40 cents. She stated that England is still suffering from the effects of the war and there remains a lot of rubble and priority for the people to face.

String Quartet Is Praised by Critic As Excellent Art

by Natalie Bowen

This reviewer spent an evening of unqualified delight last Thursday when the New Music String Quartet played a program of Mozart, Schubert, Bartok and Beethoven in Palmer Auditorium. It is hard to accept the fact that this group has played together only two years, for within my limited range, I have never heard such accomplished technical conception and influence. The soothing melodies of the Schubert and Mozart, particularly were achieved by the quartet through their forgetting about the measure bars, useful only for rehearsals, and their concentrating on drawing the utmost expressive power from the music. They could, and did, play very softly and very loudly and there was an amplitude of volume variation and coloristic contrast between these extremes.

The Mozart was gracious without being Haydnesque. Too many musicians, to my mind, think away cutely at Mozart as if he were Haydn, not seeming to realize that there's a world of warmth and excitement in his music that Haydn never reached. The Schubert was romantically done and its passionate climaxes were made the more so by the simplicity of this group's playing.

Amazing Exactitude

The pianistic nature of this work was obvious. How the Quartet maintained their exactitude during the irregular Magyar rhythms of the Bartok. Third Quartet is something I didn't understand last Thursday night and don't understand now, but they did, and for once, in this work, I went to hear everything. Mr. Strand's wonderful Viola playing. I hadn't soon forgot his solo entrance with the slow theme. The Beethoven C major Quartet seemed to me to lack freshness; I think they knew it too well, and were a little bored with the whole thing. I am experiencing the second movement with its haunting Non-politician melody, so aptly commented upon by Mr. Adam's, round, full cello pizzicato. All in all, a rather disappointing evening. All in all, it was a memorable evening. Between movements, I looked around and felt awfully sorry for all those people not sitting in the many, many seats in all quarters of the hall. They don't know what they missed.

by various in their work, so much so as to ignore their health and stay cooped up in their rooms or the library for any considerable length of time. And as for neglected assignments or exams, well, the faculty, I am sure, understands.

Now that I have satisfactorily refuted the three objections of those girls who are not enthusiastic about Mascot Hunt, I would like to bring up another point. Just what do these girls suggest should be done about Mascot Hunt? I put this question to one of them just today, and she said that she did not object to the constitution of Mascot Hunt, but that she thought it could be confined, and fairly, to those who enjoyed it. The girl also suggested that there should be a Mascot Hunt Club for those who enjoy the tradition, with a rule in the charter expressly stating that members are not to disturb those who do not enjoy or appreciate the activity. Well! That's about all I could say to any girl who could suggest such a self-righteous and intolerant idea! And it is always so typical of fault-finding people that they can not express themselves clearly or make valid suggestions for improvements!

In conclusion, I would like to say that I was for Mascot Hunt and I hope that I have refuted the See "Free Speech"—Page 6

Election Section
Giving the kicks in soccer will be Pidge Hoadley, our Freeman junior, direct- ing hockey, the most popular sport on campus, will be Carol Todd, who will manage the speed ball enthusiasts, and strung the bows along (we don't mean men) will be Anne Katz.

Eligibility for Clubs
Again may we call your attention to the procedure for making a club. The various managers will put up lists on the AA bulletin board in the gym and each girl signs the list of the clubs she would like to join. Freshmen may only get credit for one club, but they may go out for more than one. Each manager will call a meeting of the signees. You must go to the meeting if you want to make the club. At this meeting you will select your class managers, and they will arrange practices and tryouts. From the original group of signees, girls will be chosen to attend the coffee. This change has been made to avoid undue red tape and so that only the girls interested in a particular sport will elect their class managers.

Dance Group
1. If you are unsure of your academic eligibility read the below point and pro rules on the AA bulletin board. In accordance with these rules remember that Dance Group is not affected. It is a regular winter sport, and therefore you can be a member of Dance Group even when on pro. Also when on pro you can still play in the inter-dorm competition which should get underway soon.

2. Dance Group is the dancing organization on campus whose main objective is dancing in Five Arts weekend. Membership is through tryouts only.

3. Dance gym classes are dance classes from which you may be chosen for Dance Club and receive recognition at the AA Winter Coffee. Are you cleared up? Watch for announcements of future dance events on cut-out figures which will be posted on the dorm bulletin boards. Here's a preview. Dance Group tryouts will be held Nov. 8 and 9.

Party! Party! Party!
Start getting your ideas now for a costume for the annual AA brawl on October 27. You are to come as your alter ego (check dictionary). Although the entertainment is a surprise, you can count on something special.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 2...THE BLOW FISH

Try the poor Piscis! He's been making all those trick cigarette tests you've been reading about! He's taken one puff of this brand — one sniff of that. A quick inhale of cigarette "A" — a fast exhale of cigarette "B" — and he's still confused! Seriously, isn't the sensible way to test a cigarette to smoke pack after pack, day after day?

Caught on Campus

by Eva Bluman

Feelings are running high on campus this week, and you can almost smell class spirit in the air. Mascot Hunt, of course, is the thing that has been dominating the thoughts of all loyal sophomores and juniors. Sunday night saw the opening of hostilities, and at nine-thirty Durf was already tearing her hair because the first clue had been found within an hour.

Several ambitious sophomores guarded Freeman, and were elated to catch twelve juniors sneaking out of the dorm at five o'clock. They wrote down every name, because of course no one could leave the dorm before seven. Arguments of those who object to it (although I would be broad-minded enough to read an article against Mascot Hunt, if anyone could be so bold and nasty as to write one), to the complete satisfaction of all those who love and honor the tradition as much as I do. Girls who come to college for the selfish pursuit of studies should be dealt with squarely and firmly! Hurrah for Mascot Hunt! Long may it be a glorious tradition!
