Organ Recitals
Every Wednesday and Friday from five o'clock to five-twenty there will be an organ recital in Harkness Chapel. Students and faculty are urged to attend.

Wise Seniors Will Give Proclamation Thursday Morning

Around this year's Senior Proclamation there is an aura of mystery. Ancient ages have predicted that this one of 1940 will be the last proclamation ever. To say the purpose is more obscure than ever, the theme has been lost, and only vague intimations remain. If you do not follow the example of Sophias in that it will not be brief, it will not be short. Wise Senior voices will not be silent, it will not be similar to Shelley in that it will not be altered verse. But it is essential that underclassmen flock to the Chapel Wednesday evening, October 23, at 7:30 to hear the Senior Proclamation.

Informal Tea Held By Home Ec. Club
Active members of the Home Economics Club invited the members of the French, Spanish, and German classes to join them for an informal little groups at tea which was given on October 17 in Windham living room. Each girl wore a tag with her name on it which facilitated getting acquaintance. The tea itself had been served to Evangelist Tilden called the English class to join them for a talk on the "Relationship between Child Development and Home Education." Following this a number of talks were given by club members. Remarks were made in the nursery school, by Leila Kaplan, Audrey Cohen, Miss Frey, Evelyn Solomon described the work they did during the war in various fields of home economics. Florence Wilkison and Virginia Marin, who were representatives of the American Home Economics Association's announcement of convening to Cleveland June 27-29 gave reports on their experiences.

Industrial Group Elects Officers At Meeting
At a meeting of the Student Industrial Economics Club, Kaplan '41 and Irene Storm '42 were elected President and Secretary respectively. A Student Planning Committee of Ruth Smith '40, Gertrude Abbot '41, and Florence Wilkison '41 from the three upper classes, was selected to take care of the details.

President Priscilla Denison said that there will be another meeting of the Student Industrial Economics Group on the 31st of October. At that time there will be a discussion of the Cooperative Movement.

Amusing Skits Are Highlight of Party By Betsy Pease '43

The fresman came to the Sophomore Initiation party on Saturday evening, October 16, in the gym, dressed as they were at 9:30 a few nights before. Palmanos, nightshades, house boys, and less were the outstanding acts. Betty Grossmeier, the president of the class of 1943, welcomed the William Shackleford on the partying roll. Both classes participated in the dramatic activities. Some groups of freshmen smartphones, but drawn; each group's task was to read out one chapter, proverb. The proverbs treated were: "A rolling stone gathers no moss," "A stitch in time saves nine," "Facialities breeds contempt," "Haste makes waste" was adjudged the funniest. The group with the lightheartedness, in group was Marilyn Jenkins, Frederica Giles, Marion Drabert, Helen Crawford, and Alice Atwood.

"Lighthouse," a skit by a group of sophomores, was narrated by Edgar Gelberman to the tune of "Coo Coo Coo the Lighthouse," helped each other up and down the winding lighthouse stairs.

The sophomores of Emily Abbey house decided that if it weren't for "National Defense" and "Service" the world might be "pushing up the daisies." Therapon dramatized "Communication," the effects of which are exaggerated much. Julia Harvey (Emily Abbey) and Jane Storms the fat and the lean of the cast went through with the fresman and seniors.

"We need Home" Says Mr. Lovett

"In the world we shall have tribulations, but be of good cheer: I have overcome the world." With this quotation from the Bible, Sidney Lovett, Chaplain of Yale University, made his Vesper service Sunday evening, October 20th. Mr. Lovett thus indicated that though the world looks particularly dark at the present they will not become discouraged and give up. Then they dramatized Rev. O. E. Smith's story, "The Son of God," and evocations were exaggerated much. Further, in his story, "The Rainbow," the fat and the lean of the cast went through with the fresman and seniors.

"We need Hope" By Aid To Allies Aim Of Committee

A group of students and a number of faculty members interested in working for the William Allen White Peace Committee to defend America by aiding the Allies, met on St. Patrick's Day to form the Committee for Aid to Allies. The Committee has been formed to aid the Allies, The problem of the Committee is planing two conferences for this year, keeping with the "Representatives" of the International Cooperation Union, that is, that each individual has something to contribute to the world.

The Religious Council is planning two conferences for this year, one in keeping with the "Representatives" of the International Cooperation Union, that is, that each individual has something to contribute to the world.
Faith for Living: Combats Fascism
By Lee Ettington '42

In his latest book Mr. Mumford begins at the point where he feels to his "Magic Mountain" which decried fascism and proposed a policy for limiting its spread. In Faith for Living Mr. Mumford continues with an examination of those weaknesses in our civilization which make us vulnerable to Fascism, and with a plea to have faith in those ideals that can help to carry us through the present "apocalypse of violence."

This book is a bitter indictment of those pragmatic liberals who instead of being the backbone of our civilization have betrayed their ideals and the ideals of liberalism. These liberals have lost confidence in the "powerful" and even suspicious make a free press."

Because most of you do not know that Miss Skinner was very kind to us, that she contributed to the funds for my establishment of free press since it was a benefit performance. Since costume performances require an even higher degree of imagination and effort, we decided to present a few scenes of a little less cultural, with something to enjoy thoroughly. This week Miss Skinner and her husband were so delighted with our audition that they expressed the wish that they might give a costume performance at some future date.

I am sure the majority of the audience come to the performance to be entertained, not to think or learn, but to laugh and laugh uproariously. It was a Saturday night event, a group out for their week-end's fun. This college certainly excels in intellectual presentations throughout the year and there is a great need for this school to come up with something a little less cultural, with something to enjoy thoroughly. This week Miss Skinner and her husband were so delighted with our audition that they expressed the wish that they might give a costume performance at some future date.

Amusing Skits Highlight Gay Sophomore Party
acrobats to do justice to their conception of Shakespeare's great tragedy.

Last year's Winthrop house freshmen repeated the skit, "Operation." The acrobats' silhouettes were thrown on a sheet by means of a lamp in the rear. Babes Boyd was the helpless and well-filled patient, and Kathryn Davison was the relentless and successful surgurgeon. Having slit Babes' length of her body, "Davis" commenced to remove incongruous articles from Babes' interior; sausages, a cake bottle, twitching, an alarm clock, a bunny, and a flag. Then Babes was sewn up again in spite of much kicking produced by insufficient anesthesia.

Bobbie Batchelor, the sophomore song leader, next led the entire group in singing.

To climax the occasion, the freshmen paraded across the stage in their bedtime costumes much to the glee of the sophomore onlookers. But when Marion Kane appeared in a towel and curlees, there was no doubt as to who was to be the prize-winner! Marion had been taking a bubble bath at the zero hour. Her prize was a spoon pin with the Connecticut College crest.
