New Rules for Books Announced by Library

A new rule has just been announced by the Library in order to make space for new books on the reserve room over the week end.

Under the new plan, books may be kept out of the library from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. on Sunday, Tuesday, and Thursday, from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and from 2:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. on Saturday. These times will be strictly enforced, and books will not be replaced until 10:00 a.m. on Sunday, Tuesday, and Thursday, from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and from 2:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. on Saturday.

Contemporary Philosopher

Dr. Tillich's philosophical interest, he states, is in both history and religion, and he has been acknowledged as one of the ablest contemporary philosophers.

Philosophical studies are a popular subject in college, and most of the ablest men in our government are philosophers and theologians.

The Quakers determined to end their talks immediately, and they will go no further in their attempt to create a unity with the Aryan people under their rule.

The Quakers were completely honest in their trade, and they have always sought to prevent any underprivileged people from arising. Mrs. Berta Gamboa de Camino is about the character of a Mexican exhibit. She must have complete agreement of Campeche, a small hand carved house, with a few mud pies and some lighthearted stories. A Mexican exhibit is being teached at the library.

A Walk in the Sun by Harry Truman is one of the most popular books during the week end. Th Hart House Quartet will perform this concert, and it will be held next Thursday afternoon. Meetings are to be held one week for twenty-five weeks.

Among those enrolled are Miss Grace Leach of the music department, Miss Doris Peterson of the English department, Miss Martha Barstow who is in charge of the French house, and Miss Katherine Noz, assistant secretary. The group also includes some Spars, navy wives and men from various professions and businesses in town.

String Quartet Is Scheduled To Play On Music Program

The Hart House Quartet will be presented by the Music department on Tuesday, October 31, at Palmer auditorium at 8:00 p.m. as the first of three musical programs.

There will be no admission charge for this concert, and it is open to the students, faculty, and people of New London.

This Canadian string quartet has been well known for many years and among its varied experiences include a performance at Buckingham Palace during the coronation festivities of King George and Queen Elizabeth. James Levy will be playing first violin, Henry Milligan, second violin; Cyril Glyde, viola; and Bert Bartlett, cello.

Their program is as follows: Quartet in E flat, Opus 133, No. 2, Schubert; Quartet in D minor, Opus 70, No. 2, Beethoven.

Diverse Books Are Added to Present Library Collection

Many foreign languages are represented in the new books which have been added to the library recently. Included are editions in Italian, French, German, and Russian.

Since the introduction of the study of modern language into the college curriculum, books in these languages have been added to the following list.

Several of the new books are intended for the use of the library staff to those interested in European history and government. In the former field, there is a new volume in the Metropolitan Museum of Modern Art, edited by Mr. Peter B. Harsay, and the Geography of the Pacific come under the heading of the latter department.

A great deal of material can be found among the latest arrivals in the realm of the world situations. Interpretations of countries and their civilizations, and the philosophies of the peace have informative value for those especially interested in the world affairs.

On the other hand, two books published this year are on hand. These are The Bell of Saint-Ives by R. L. Stevenson, and the book by Mr. G. A. Henty in the latest of the "Joseph" series.

A Fish Story by John F. Adama will find a similar story in A Walk in the Sun by Harry Truman, which is now being translated into other languages in Italy.

Books are being sent to the library in the Smithsonian Scientific series, which is just being published by Mr. Chester H. Lang on behalf of Amy Armstrong Lang.

A copy of Mrs. Delia Wesson's novel "A New Model of London," 1938-44; a book that has been translated into many languages, can also be found among the new arrivals.

The library staff reports that the most popular books during the week end were "See New Books" — Page 6.

To the Editor:

June 25, 1944, as each new class reaches its sophomore standing, there is the flurry of modernization, the desire for a change, for a fresh design of the present. We are all trying it, none of us can stand aside with a hollow laugh and say that we have never had the idea. However, up until now, all of us have rejected, in tradition and disregarded that tradition had its point.

Anyhow, the first thought, when contemplating redesigning the ring, is to put a seal or monogram on top of the ring. What we need, however, is a new idea. I would not attempt to say. I object to it strenuously for the simple reason that it is a thing which has been done before. I object to it because it customized to the fact that the ring is different, yet, everyone accustomed to it. It is an inordinate sense of pride in the fact that it is unusual.

Then we have a reason, still deeper, for not changing the design of the ring. That is that it is not a "class" ring whose design may be changed at will from year to year. It is a school ring whose design belongs, not to you, but to all who have succeeded you. We have no right, nor will follow. The ring is designed to mark you, not as a graduate of a particular school, but as a graduate of the school which has prepared two bills. They were introduced by Marjorie Wellington in the department of economics, will have as her senior member, David O'Brien, and her junior member, Victor McConnell.

The Republicans advocate the end of army commissions, but they make no progress in the question of the Negro. They still hold to tradition and discovered that there is no earthly reason why our ring should resemble the mass of other academic rings. There are many reasons why should we want to make our ring distinctive.

It is to hard to realize the true effectiveness of the design of the present ring unless you have to be a degree if it is as unusual. The ring, as it stands now, has the mark of individuality which no copy can ever achieve. If it is not to become so customary to the fact that the ring is different, yet, everyone accustomed to it, it is an inordinate sense of pride in the fact that it is unusual.

Today we are still deeper, for not changing the design of the ring. That is that it is not a "class" ring whose design may be changed at will from year to year. Seniors Greet the Non-Existent Moon During First Sing
by Betty Bethel '46
Old Mrs. Weather couldn't have done better by CC than he did in Thursday evening, the night of the moonlight sing outside of George Eastman Hall, to provide the 'bright and bracing' evening that College Men and Women were waiting for. But this slight oversight didn't keep the group that was present from getting out of sight in the middle of campus to sing into the darkening expanse. The air was very cold and brisk, and when the song was quietly down, the black-robed seniors bowed to harmonize on "Good Evening, Mr. Moon" from the steps.

The C.C.O.C. has all the things necessary to hold a successful sing. There is a large open area, a group of people who will be able to use it any more.

Hockey
Last Wednesday, the first hockey game was played between the juniors and the sophomores. The teams were evenly matched, with the final score being 2-2. Both teams played very hard and should be commended on the fine game they played. If all the campus had been as good as that one, the hockey season will be a band up one.

only a small doll, a picture book, and some hard candies, but that sort of contribution wrapped in plain paper can mean more than a hundred dollar check.

The new students' newspaper, in about half the size of our Connecticut college paper, does a splendid job of reporting our school events and keeping us up to date on what's going on, as well as expressing student ideas. Individual editors vary from discussions of Yuletide paper can mean more than a one hundred dollar check. Every member of the Manor will never achieve this distinction, they all have the opportunity to act in plays and prove their ability to do a first stage production. Plays are presented each year, one of which is done jointly with the Harvard dramatic club.

Outstanding Success

Last year the outstanding succeed was the production of "Ladies in Retirement," which was presented in such skill as to align professional. None who saw it will ever forget the situation with which a murder was carried off or the excellent character impersonation of the three ladies who "had retired."

Pipe Manor was honored to be the first college Red Cross unit recognized by the National Red Cross. There is a blood donor committee which organizes the girls who have offered to give blood, and also those girls who wish to do clerical work at the Central Blood Bank in Boston. There is, too, a citizen group in first aid, nurses aide work, and the usual, but needed, bandage rolling.

IBC and Choir

Finally there is a International Relations club and a choir. IBC holds monthly meetings where current events are discussed and member speakers talk on some important events. Outside speakers lecture on the topics chosen by the committee.

IBC is a major field of interest at the school. Last year that topic was Russia.

Much can be mentioned about the choir except that it is, as is here at Connecticut, an essential part of the student life. The choir does, however, at the end of the year, give a short concert in the chapel.

Red Cross Sends Former CC Students to Europe

The American Red Cross has several alumnae and former students of Connecticut college serving at overseas posts.

Gretchen Schwinn and Martha Huizer have been sent to India; Edith Burnham, Elizabeth D. Deven, and Barbara Murphey, to England, and Mary S. Kuhn has just been appointed a hospital staff north in Africa.

men, eight o'clock classes, junk jewelry and the medieval mind.

Loves Jacks

Another favorite form of recreation is playing jack (who never gets off ones) or rendering her famous bis-appliances to her already hardened and seasoned audience. Her friends claim Joanne is an invertebrate hair-twister but this rumor noted on such actions during the length of an interview.

However, one great secret, slipped out and that was how Joanne spent the time during one certain exam week back in her sophomore year. The pictures that tell the tale are the things to see.

Hope to Do Reconstruction Work

Getting back on a serious track, Joanne's major field of interest is in German and she hopes to be able to go into some kind of reconstruction work with the Allied governments in post-war Germany. Immediate plans for the future include getting a good job for the summer.

On the extra-curricular side, Joanne's diverse talents find expression in many fields. She was house president of her dorm in 42-43, sang with the Connecticut choir there, and is now the president of the German club, head of the Red Cross under War Services, and a member of the International Relations club of the school.

Among various conferences and other outside activities, Menderl now waits for the arrival of the Phi Beta Kappa key which the girls in her group will present to her.
