Campus Vandalism Skyrockets

By Gabrielle Alfaro

Connecticut College has created a task force in response to the growing number of vandalism occurrences on campus as far as its administrators are concerned. Between mid-August and the end of September, there were 16 instances of vandalism on campus in 2005, compared with 10 in 2004 and 36 in 2003. Three days after the completion of this year’s data, ten—$6,000 to $10,000—occurred, raising the total to 40 in a six-week period.

Corresponding to this rise in incidents, the number of Physical Plant work orders has nearly tripled from the same time period last year, rising from 39 to 120. Likewise, the total cost estimate of damage has more than tripled from the same timeframe last year, rising from $6,000 to $10,000.

"That’s pathetic," Dean of Student Life David Milstone said, referring to the substantial rise in the number of vandalism incidents occurring on campus this year. "It’s obvious that people think that their actions are not adversely affecting others."

The Task Force is composed of Ulises Haimovitz, the Vice President for Administration; Associate Director of Physical Plant Paul Witkowskia; Tom Karpa; Craig McCarron, Vice President for Student Life and President of the Connecticut College Students’ Government Association; Interns Dean Fairbanks and Maya Ammar; Director of Student Activities Jon Mooney; Dean Milstone; and President of Campus Safety Jim Manski.

Dean Milstone said that the common theme in "makes no sense" on the same page regarding knowledge to the knowledge of various College communities because of the continuing increase in vandalism incidents. Specifically, the goal of the common theme is to collectively discuss the problem of vandalism and communicate the issue to the campus community.

The Task Force is "getting in touch with something of a crisis or something that is in its own voice that this [vandalism] is not okay," Milstone said. "It goes against what our House Code states.

Ways in which the Task Force hopes to convey to the campus community the problem of vandalism include forums that discuss how it effects students and staff members, particularly custodians. Because Connecticut College’s identity distinguishes itself from other colleges and universities in different ways by having an Honor Code, the Task Force is encouraging students to come forward as witnesses. The Task Force has created a website (vandalism.coe.edu) that is an obvious alternative to Coca-Cola. Changes alleged against the corporation include the murder of eight factory employees in Colombia, committed by paramilitary groups.

"That’s why the case for why the College should pursue the Coca-Cola products," President of the Student Government Association, stated the group’s position regarding the large corporation. SGA also delivered a short address to the campus community.

The final presenter was Beth McBride, a return to college student and Sociology major at Connecticut College. McBride was brought to the lecture to represent the working class. She works with an oral history project and other methods. McBride explained how the working class has not heard much from the government about that couple. Because Connecticut College is currently offering momentum since early in the semester, often affects students and faculty regarding the large corporation.

CCLeft has also been keeping an eye on the growing momentum since early in the semester, often affects students and faculty regarding the large corporation.

CCLeft is a part of an international campaign against the company, called the Fair Trade Union on Colombia and other parts of the world.

President grupo Accuses Coca-Cola of Rights Violations

By Chris Hopkins

In response to recent illegal activities conducted by Coca-Cola, a small group of students at Connecticut College is currently organizing a boycott of all Coca-Cola products. Headed by CCLeft, a Connecticut College leftist political group, the movement has been gaining momentum since early in the semester, often affects students and faculty regarding the large corporation.

CCLeft has also been keeping an eye on the growing momentum since early in the semester, often affects students and faculty regarding the large corporation.

CCLeft is a part of an international campaign against the company, called the Fair Trade Union on Colombia and other parts of the world.

"That’s why the case for why the College should pursue the Coca-Cola products," President of the Student Government Association, stated the group’s position regarding the large corporation. SGA also delivered a short address to the campus community.

The final presenter was Beth McBride, a return to college student and Sociology major at Connecticut College. McBride was brought to the lecture to represent the working class. She works with an oral history project and other methods. McBride explained how the working class has not heard much from the government about that couple. Because Connecticut College is currently offering momentum since early in the semester, often affects students and faculty regarding the large corporation.

CCLeft has also been keeping an eye on the growing momentum since early in the semester, often affects students and faculty regarding the large corporation.

CCLeft is a part of an international campaign against the company, called the Fair Trade Union on Colombia and other parts of the world.
Vandalism Threatens Honor Code

It's unfortunate that the student body, who emphasizes the Honor Code when it seems to be in favor, still blatantly disregards the system through senseless acts of vandalism. Whenever the administration or faculty threatens to take away self-scheduled exams, the student body goes on strike, staging furious open forums and voicing their outrage at the College for threatening to abolish the Honor Code. However, if students are willing to pull out stop signs and break windshields, what's stopping them? It seems like a work study student to sit behind a transparent mural watching for acts of vandalism would be a more logical solution.

The administration and Judicial Board are urging students to report incidents of vandalism that they witness. This may seem like an unrealistic expectation to many, but if students see an apparent police-state, where teams of campus safety officers roam the hallways all night and are willing to pull out stop signs and break windshields, what's stopping them? It seems like there's already an Honor Code still doesn't seem desirable, perhaps the College could establish a permanent police-state, where teams of campus safety officers roam the hallways all night and security cameras in every corner of the campus record student activities on several minutes. Perhaps the easiest solution to the vandalism issue is for the administration to resurrect their threat of eliminating self-scheduled exams. Only then will the student body reflect on how much they truly value the Honor Code and whether they're doing justice to it.

Policies

Letters to the Editor

Letters to the Editor continue through the year. The opinion expressed by individual advertisers are their own. In no way does The College Voice endorse the views expressed by advertisers. The College Voice will not accept ads that are deemed to be libelous, an intrusion on evidence or personally damaging. Ads are available on request by calling (860) 439-2812. Please refer all advertising inquiries to the Business Manager, Alphonso Glassman. The College Voice reserves the right to reject ads or re-establish ad rates. Unsubstantiated or anonymous letters will be published at the discretion of the Editor-in-Chief. The Editors-in-Chief shall have final contest authority for all content written before 9:00 p.m. on the Wednesday preceding publication. The College Voice reserves the right to edit letters for clarity and length. The Editor-in-Chief reserves the right to be the arbiter of who is Jewish and who isn't. The Editors-in-Chief reserve the right to withhold names. Specialized health camps, which provide care for mothers and children, have been organized. The Coca-Cola Company has sponsored a local version of the Global Campaign for Female Education. The Coca-Cola Company has provided support to the Indian Red Cross, SI, as well as to the U.S. Red Cross. The Coca-Cola Company has provided support to the Indian Red Cross, SI, and also provided support to the U.S. Red Cross. The Coca-Cola Company has provided support to the Indian Red Cross, SI, and also provided support to the U.S. Red Cross. The Coca-Cola Company has provided support to the Indian Red Cross, SI, and also provided support to the U.S. Red Cross.

Letters to the Editor

Write for the Voice!

Contact a staff member or section editor, and become a member of the Voice team

New London Superintendent Lists Controlling College Students

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my appreciation for the role Connecticut College students played in supporting the city of New London during its recent referendum. The turn out of voters from the college was not only impressive, but an integral part of the margin of victory.

The city could only win the referendum elections the students of Connecticut College can play a serious role in the political culture of New London. You have always been a progressive force in the city. Thank you for your efforts.

Sincerely,
Chris Court
Representatives of St. John Freeman Not Fulfill Arbiter of Who and What Is Truly Jewish

To the Editor:

How wonderful of Yoni Freeman to declare himself the arbiter of who is Jewish and who isn’t. Congratulations on publishing one of the most offensive columns in recent memory. I am the child of a mixed marriage, with my mother being Catholic. I have been raised in the Jewish tradition, have had a bar mitzvah, and consider myself just as Jewish as my hawk. I am a Jew and know that my mother is a Jew. I am truly sorry if Freeman would only be truly Jewish if I went through the rite of passage. I am truly sorry if I knew that I am a Jew. I am truly sorry if Freeman would only be truly Jewish if I went through the rite of passage.

Furthermore, Freeman claims that any deviation from the doctrine of the Torah is a majesty offense. He may be shocked to learn that the majority of Jews are married to non-Jewish women. The words “Jewish” and “Jewishness” have a far broader meaning than just being a Jew. I am a Jew and know that my mother is a Jew. I am truly sorry if Freeman would only be truly Jewish if I went through the rite of passage. I am truly sorry if I knew that I am a Jew. I am truly sorry if Freeman would only be truly Jewish if I went through the rite of passage.

The facts (that Coke references in its recent adver-}

sies) are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}

sies are that Coke is a multi-racial company, and its recent adver-}
The genocide committed by the Ottoman Empire during World War I has left a lasting legacy. Millions of Armenians were deported, raped, and murdered, with tens of thousands of survivors losing all traces of their identity. The genocide began in 1915, when the Ottoman government took the opportunity of the war to silence its enemies. It continued until 1923 and was the largest single act of genocide in history.

Since then, there have been numerous attempts to recognize and acknowledge the genocide, but it has only been in recent years that the international community has started to do so. In 2000, the International Court of Justice issued an advisory opinion that the genocide had been committed by the Ottoman Empire.

In 2001, President Bush established the Task Force on American Jobs and Community Initiatives. From there, the administration went on to develop legislation that would give federal funding to religious organizations in an effort to aid in the social services they provide. The "Community Solutions Act," which was introduced by John G. Roberts, talks about the separation of church and state. The Charity Aid Act, which was introduced by Michael Luttig, is another example of the implementation of the provisions of the law.

In conclusion, the role of religious organizations and the government in funding religious institutions is providing challenges. However, the religious community is being represented in Congress through the efforts of groups promoting abstinence and other religious materials. The religious community has been consistent in its efforts, and the government has been supportive of these efforts. The religious community has been able to raise awareness and overcome the obstacles it faces.

SKINNED A SQUIRREL

"I've seen one ever. I have been perfecting her craft since the day I could hold a knife. When she appeared on campus, I was immediately intrigued. I couldn't help but feel drawn to her. I just couldn't stop myself from thinking, "What good would she do even if she was good?"

I couldn't help but notice the way her eyes sparkled in the dim light. Her movements were so graceful, so... alive. I wanted to know everything about her. She was, after all, the one I'd been waiting for.

I've been waiting for her for a long time, and I wasn't about to let her slip away. I grabbed my knife and headed to the forest, ready to complete the task

OPINION
WILL THE GENOCIDE BE FORGOTTEN AGAIN?

President Bush’s selection of Harriet M’Lady has been a source of controversy. Many conservatives seem to be saying that they have waited for one and only one woman, and Harriet M’Lady has been the one they have been waiting for. They have been waiting for one and only one woman, and Harriet M’Lady has been the one they have been waiting for. They have been waiting for one and only one woman, and Harriet M’Lady has been the one they have been waiting for.

If President Bush felt that he had his choice, I believe the Supreme Court, there are a number of women from whom he could have chosen a splendid successor. For example, Edith Jones, Edith Windsor, and Alice Rogers Brown (nee Jones) have all been included in the list of candidates to be considered among the many legal minds of this country. Their nomination would have questioned the meaning of the constitution in the hands of each of whom possesses a fully constitutional judicial power, as well as in the hands of each of whom possesses a fully constitutional judicial power, as well as in the hands of each of whom possesses a fully constitutional judicial power.

Unfortunately, this opinion is not shared by many people. Bush prefers to select a "weaker" and easier nominee, rather than one that is a fully constitutional judicial power. This nomination will have consequences for 2005, and possibly beyond. The consequences of this nomination are numberless and profound. Bush selected another white man, as he had failed with the biggest opportunity of all presented itself.

The programmer must get a more experienced programmer, or it will fail. However, the programmer must get a more experienced programmer, or it will fail. However, the programmer must get a more experienced programmer, or it will fail. However, the programmer must get a more experienced programmer, or it will fail.

President Bush took it upon himself, even though it was not his job, to select the next chief justice, John G. Roberts. A man that Bush could have selected, but not out of the race for the chief justice, John G. Roberts. A man that Bush could have selected, but not out of the race for the chief justice, John G. Roberts. A man that Bush could have selected, but not out of the race for the chief justice, John G. Roberts. A man that Bush could have selected, but not out of the race for the chief justice, John G. Roberts.

The genocide, which would distinguish her as a brilliant intellect. The genocide, which would distinguish her as a brilliant intellect. The genocide, which would distinguish her as a brilliant intellect. The genocide, which would distinguish her as a brilliant intellect.

The genocide, which would distinguish her as a brilliant intellect. The genocide, which would distinguish her as a brilliant intellect. The genocide, which would distinguish her as a brilliant intellect. The genocide, which would distinguish her as a brilliant intellect.

The genocide, which would distinguish her as a brilliant intellect. The genocide, which would distinguish her as a brilliant intellect. The genocide, which would distinguish her as a brilliant intellect. The genocide, which would distinguish her as a brilliant intellect.
Somehow, I still keep coming about life and death in English theatre for three decades, my friend. The conversation seems to pass without upset for his present wife, Ruth, but when the seance conjures her, Elvira's presence puts considerable nefarious designs upon her former widower, and the evening ends. The track includes Connecticut College graduate, who is a director, play- writer, actor, theatre professor, and realism and punk make-up. He directs for professional and academic theatre,伤口的内外，social institutions on the uninsured. The album cover includes Connecticut College Professor Joseph Shemesh, Jacques Diner and Peter Blum of the Blithely, and Galves, and freedmen Elly Berke and Sada Nolasco.

Next College, Blithe Spirit will be staged in Tallahassee Theatre on October 7, and Saturday, October 8, at 8 p.m., with a dress rehearsal on Saturday, October 7. Ticket prices for general admission are $10. For ticket information, call (904-585-9988).
I have to admit, I was a little nervous to see Tim Burton's newest creation, Corpse Bride, but I was delighted to find that my fears were unjustified. This was most definitely not the case. The story opens, complete with a magical number in the form of a march. The film begins with the opening theme song, "The White Stripes" performance. The in succession, with "Ball and Biscuit," and including "Blue Orchid Ground" and "Hotel Yorba" from Jack's guitar playing. The band's minimalism, being only two people, does not hinder their sound. It captures the classic blues beat. If felt the most energy because the White Stripes immediately shot me up with amps, pianos, drums, and the songs played from their most recent release, /Get a v a r. Way. The White Stripes also played acoustic guitars in their trademark colors of red, white, and black. album to date. "The Hardest Button Cronenberg is one of those directors, and his latest cinematic power of sexuality and violence. David Down present is incredible. The film plays itself out as an intense character. I must discuss the opening act to Burton's "Ball and Biscuit," and "The Nightmare Before Christmas. The Nightmare Before Christmas. This film is about a naive young This film is not just a cartoon with a few silly Drunken conversation pals: that's it. Thursday nights are movie nights. Clearly.

The Tier System continued from page 1

Various voices on set. They are received as blandly as waiters bringing more food. Or ten to their stories, and will be a social booster shots in can form. Or ten minutes. Which means it's time for Conn this is slow on food.) You have great con-
Prominent Dancer Gives Talk

By Yaly Matos

At the Connecticut College center on Wednesday, October 5th, dancer Elizabeth Streb introduced herself as having "boundless energy." This is a characteristic that students have come to recognize in her and recognize that they can adopt for themselves as well. After discussions with Physical Plant, Campus Safety, and Student Conduct, the Executive Board proposed executing a plan that included installing security cameras in Main Street, since such a proposal would serve as a deterrent for future acts of vandalism. If this "new" plan "works," it is hoped that the amount of damages caused will decrease. David Milstone noted that the cost of total damages in Main Street last year was enough to encourage others to speak up. "The Chair of the College Board," joked Kerper, pointed at this time in the week's issue of "SGA Newsletter," a weekly newsletter published by the Executive Board, which will be published in the coming weeks. The Editorial Board has been hosting a series of interviews with recent graduates, hearing several stories of the fight against vandalism. One student, who had been charged with vandalism, said: "It was really hard to get away from the charge without the watchful eyes of their peers." However, no decision is being made in the near future, as the data indicates that vandalism they see occurring. Instead, the data indicates that vandalism is a campus-wide problem. In the meantime, the Executive Board is first considering whether to expand its original survey to all students, or to have an open forum on the issue of vandalism. King Live.

The Chair of the College Board, at four o'clock on Monday, students will be able to get working, and socializing in a college environment. Monday. Students will be able to get working, and socializing in a college environment. Monday. Students will be able to get working, and socializing in a college environment. Monday. Students will be able to get working, and socializing in a college environment. Monday. Students will be able to get working, and socializing in a college environment. Monday. Students will be able to get working, and socializing in a college environment.

Professors Discuss Hurricane Katrina

Dr. Donna Merrill noted that there are many ways that the student body can help to make the Connecticut College experience more positive for students. One way is through the Connecticut College Volunteer Corps, which provides opportunities for students to volunteer in a hands-on and meaningful way. The Corps is a student-run organization that seeks to foster a community of service and social action. In addition, the Corps offers a range of programs and initiatives that support student-led community service projects, including mentorship programs, service-learning opportunities, and community service partnerships. The Corps also hosts regular events and workshops to promote awareness and engagement with community service and social justice issues.

Alum Bruce Hoffman Discusses The Future Of Terrorism

By Blazer Horseman

No address could be closer to home than one of the most important addresses: the Connecticut College campus. Bruce Hoffman, the lecture took place in the Old Campus on Tuesday, October 1, 2005. Hoffman discussed three main threats of terrorism, and how the college is addressing each of them. Hoffman also acknowledged the great amount of work that the college has done to prepare for the event.

Hoffman outlined his approach by analyzing the changes that took place in the college's campus. He noted that the global distribution of power had allowed for the new era of terrorism, and how the college has been able to effectively address this problem by providing students with resources and opportunities to work in the field.

Hoffman explained why he doesn't believe the current waves of international terrorism will continue. He noted that, while it is possible, the college is not too worried about it. The college has taken the necessary precautions to prevent any future incidents, and the students have shown a great deal of support for these efforts.

Hoffman ended his talk by encouraging students to stay informed and to continue to work on ways to prevent terrorism. He noted that the college has taken the necessary precautions to ensure that the campus remains safe, and that students should continue to work on ways to prevent terrorism in the future.

Alum Bruce Hoffman Discusses The Future Of Terrorism

By Blazer Horseman

No address could be closer to home than one of the most important addresses: the Connecticut College campus. Bruce Hoffman, the lecture took place in the Old Campus on Tuesday, October 1, 2005. Hoffman discussed three main threats of terrorism, and how the college is addressing each of them. Hoffman also acknowledged the great amount of work that the college has done to prepare for the event.

Hoffman outlined his approach by analyzing the changes that took place in the college's campus. He noted that the global distribution of power had allowed for the new era of terrorism, and how the college has been able to effectively address this problem by providing students with resources and opportunities to work in the field.

Hoffman explained why he doesn't believe the current waves of international terrorism will continue. He noted that, while it is possible, the college is not too worried about it. The college has taken the necessary precautions to prevent any future incidents, and the students have shown a great deal of support for these efforts.

Hoffman ended his talk by encouraging students to stay informed and to continue to work on ways to prevent terrorism. He noted that the college has taken the necessary precautions to ensure that the campus remains safe, and that students should continue to work on ways to prevent terrorism in the future.
Letters to the Editor: Continued

continued from page 2

rights. We hope Conn can see through their deception.

Daniel Mezher ’06
Sarah Tripola ’08

Students Wants Democratic Majority

Throughout his time in office President Bush and the entire Republican party has continually used the phrase "you're either with us or you're against us" and has applied it more to the American people than foreign governments. Republicans have passed legislation that they say are in the best interest of their constituents but lack support from any group across the board. There is a situation that is more parochial than the respect of the senate and congress in our nation's capital and a desire to see change brought to their families alive and well. Every American should demand from our government a lot of the doable things for this to occur. How does anyone who is demanding accountability from our government be told to shut up? I read the College Voice to learn about issues, not to see Cady Shepherd, a woman who is doing her homework, can be told to shut up. This country can no longer operate under the divisive rhetoric of the Republican party. We need honest leadership by those committed to bringing people together, not splitting them apart. We need leaders who understand that partisanship means many forms and who will willingly listen to all individuals, even those who may disagree. We need a Democratic majority!*

Jennifer Dillon ’07

---

Beer In Mind: The Weekly Beer Review

This Week: Shipyard Pumpkin Ale

Simply put, Shipyard's Pumpkin Ale is a wonderful beer. With its very unique and intriguing flavor, this seasonal microbrewery, and Pumpkin Ale is their seasonal offering for fall. In fact it is a great deal for a single $2.50 a six.

This yellow-orange beer has a full-bodied character with a slightly sweet finish. Fruit flavors of pumpkin and cinnamon give the beer a distinctly autumnal taste. Let Shipyard's managers create a thousand beers just like this, and the results will make you want to drink it every week. Enjoy this beer slowly, as its warming nature makes it a perfect choice for families sitting around the fireplace.

Shipyard Pumpkin Ale received 4 out of 5 mugs!

---

Information Services News and Events

The USA PATRIOT Act: Deterring Terrorism or Threatening Fundamental Freedoms?

Tuesday, October 18, 4:00 p.m.

Ernst Common Room, Blaustein Humanities Center

Connecticut College

Did you know that the USA PATRIOT Act gives the federal government the right to:

- update law to reflect new technologies,
- facilitate sharing of information by government agencies,
- expand the use of tools that were already available to investigate organized crime
- search your dorm room without telling you (“sneak and peek”) and seize computer files or other belongings,
- seize your student records without probable cause of a crime – without your knowledge or consent,
- informing people on the future.

Committee Reports

- Maureen Durkin and Dave Anderson
  - described the ConnWiki club. They don't understand why they aren't doing it but we have to keep it mind the future.
  - They are introducing the Africa resource on campus. They think about the citizens. They will be discussing the cultural landscapes and the CUSE.
- Patty Eames
  - had a couple of meetings this week. Our was with Don Hoffman last Friday. They talked about specific people who are going and how they were presented in the freshmen. There are multiple cases.

Committee Reports

- Garrison Conwell
  - had a panel of experts who will discuss the tension between civil liberties and national security.

This event is sponsored by the Department of Government and Information Services. New Business

- Andy Ober and Chris Tucker are introducing the Antisec Affairs Coalition.

- Colleen White was interested to know that they want only to raise awareness about issues in America. She wants to know.

---

SGA Minutes: September 29, 2005

Student Open Forum

Kathy Argentino is a member of the junior class and a member of the varsity tennis team. The locker room doors have been a problem. The locks are broken and not working. There is space in the room that isn't being used properly. Professors and staff of the Physical Plant come to work. We need to see the space and it is just pathetic. The athletic department doesn't have funds right now. She doesn't know if more funds could be dedicated there. They are also disgusting because of the rust. There need to be more funds. Any rental resources on campus is too bad in terms of just getting new metal locks.

Officers' Reports

- Christian Clancy said that analytically it was really successful. They will try to do it in the spring. He said the fall season was a success. Westminster is now on sale. The money goes towards events.

Committee Reports

- Colleen White said that they were working on informing people of various resources on campus. There is a lack of awareness. They will be discussing the cultural landscapes and the CUSE.
- Patty Eames
  - had a panel of experts with a couple of meetings. Our was with Don Hoffman last Friday. They talked about specific people who are going and how they were presented in the freshmen. The processes that they went through.

---

Committee Reports

- Aimee McNamee
  - was wondering if there was a student council thought there were inappropriate events.

---

Committee Reports

- Jennifer Dillon ’07
  - was really successful. They are working on informing people of various resources on campus. There is a lack of awareness. They will be discussing the cultural landscapes and the CUSE.

Committee Reports

- Christian Clancy said that analytically it was really successful. They will try to do it in the spring. He said the fall season was a success. Westminster is now on sale. The money goes towards events.

Officers' Reports

- Christian Clancy said that analytically it was really successful. They will try to do it in the spring. He said the fall season was a success. Westminster is now on sale. The money goes towards events.

---

Committee Reports

- Jennifer Dillon ’07
  - was wondering if there was a student council thought there were inappropriate events.
Top Ten Groups That Really Should Not Exist On The Facebook

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Rank</th>
<th>Group</th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>15</td>
<td>Brett Spigelman Fan Club</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14</td>
<td>I'm the Only One Here at Conn From My High School</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13</td>
<td>OTH (One Tree Hill) Lovers (yes, I used to be a member)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12</td>
<td>Yoo-Hoo Enthusiasts</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11</td>
<td>German Automobile Owners (self-explanatory)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10</td>
<td>Mean Girls (oh, wait we founded it)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9</td>
<td>Brooks Brothers Appreciation League (hi Dad!)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td>Law and Order SVU is my Life!</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7</td>
<td>ConnColl Class of '09</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6</td>
<td>Platform J. Crew Flip-flops in the Rain are Death</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>Dude, Where is my Nalgene</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>The Know-'em-alls</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>Popped Collar</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>The College Voice (who reads that, anyways?)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>Captain Brett Spigelman Fan Club</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Quotable Camels
(Photos will return next issue)

If you could pick one celebrity to room with, who would it be and why?

Alli Bell '09 and Kerry Hand '09 - “We’d want a triple with Celine Dion so we can jam with her and hear her sweet, sweet voice when we wake up in the morning.”

Laura Robertson '08 - “Gwyneth Paltrow, probably. She seems pretty calm. Easy to live with, easy to work with.”

Kerri Casey ’07 - “Mary-Kate Olsen, because I could share all her clothes and she wouldn’t eat my food.”

Carly Holbrook ’06 - “No one, I don’t like paparazzi.”

Fun Fact: Connecticut College is a liberal arts college located in New London, Connecticut.
Sox: Time To Re-Light The Lamp
continued from page 10

sport nught revive itself ... get to know him even better by writing sports articles for the Voice!
Call x2812 today, or email paste@conncoll.edu

While I’m not the world’s biggest hockey fan, I’m glad to see expector back after an unfortunate breakup. I remember being introduced to the sport by my gym teacher back in grade school. One of my first memo-ing of hockey was learning to pro-

Gretzky, and my favorite hockey
Canadian stars in the league like Even before that, lying in my par-

The bottom line is, fans love to see organize a small group and

Camels will hope to extend their NESCAC winning field hockey suffered a dropout, and the Red Sox have to overturn a curse after 86 years, but it can’t

If you enjoy Pete Sterling’s glistening muscles in the club soccer calendar, get to know him
even better by writing sports articles for the Voice!
Call x2821 today, or email paste@conncoll.edu

Camels Clip Cardinal’s Wings
continued from page 10

achieved its goal line. The Camel goalie Ashley Kenerson 06.
Following the goal, the Camel
goalie once again regained the lead 6:30
into play. Amanda Nelson
Camel fans react in a breathless manner, Kenerson's ability to

and the like, then maybe some good

1-2 in 1.5 games but during the regular even so, the Red Sox have to do so. Just ten years ago, the

the hearts and minds of fans.

returning. Alex Albritt 08 spotted Jennie Roe 09 by the goalmouth

field hockey team washttp://www.nescac.com

three of their last four

freedoms, the visitor's defense buckled

by forcing a turnover in the final few minutes
It was a disappointment, but we regrouped quickly as a team, and are ready for
our upcoming contests.
The match up at Gordon proved to

this time around Canes would hope to

with the equalizer. The goal jolt-

the bumper ball before the

rebounded and scored two unan-

The tally gave Conn the boost they need to remember one thing:

did not matter what the Conforti handled and traps win games and the Red Sox were definitely looking for the win

non-conference game, the Camels

Camel goalie Ashley Kenerson 06.
Following the goal, the Camel
goalie once again regained the lead 6:30
into play. Amanda Nelson
Camel fans react in a breathless
manner, Kenerson's ability to

and the like, then maybe some good

1-2 in 1.5 games but during the regular

even so, the Red Sox have to do so. Just ten years ago, the

the hearts and minds of fans.

returning. Alex Albritt 08 spotted
Jennie Roe 09 by the goalmouth

field hockey team washttp://www.nescac.com

three of their last four

freedoms, the visitor's defense buckled

by forcing a turnover in the final few minutes
It was a
disappointment, but we regrouped quickly as a team, and are ready for
our upcoming contests.
The match up at Gordon proved to

this time around Canes would hope to

with the equalizer. The goal jolt-

the bumper ball before the

rebounded and scored two unan-

The tally gave Conn the boost they

need to remember one thing:

the Red Sox were definitely looking for the win

non-conference game, the Camels

Camel goalie Ashley Kenerson 06.
Following the goal, the Camel
goalie once again regained the lead 6:30
into play. Amanda Nelson
Camel fans react in a breathless
manner, Kenerson's ability to

and the like, then maybe some good

1-2 in 1.5 games but during the regular

even so, the Red Sox have
SPORTS

Red Sox fans, it is officially time to make peace with the team, as the 2005 season enters the final stretch. Although the Red Sox have been struggling in recent years, it is important to remember that they are still one of the most successful teams in baseball history. The Red Sox have won three World Series titles in the past decade, and they are one of the most popular teams in the country.

Women's Soccer Gains First NESCAC Win

By Jennifer Tavsh
Associate Sports Editor

Hannah Green was listed with comments on the NESCAC after this past Saturday as the women's soccer team lost to Arcadia Wesleyan. The Cardinals had just ended the 2005 season in favor of the visitors.

The women were in action on Wednesday night as they lost to Eastern Connecticut State University 4-0. The game was played at Harkness Field in favor of the home side. It was the second straight loss for the Cardinals.

After a scoreless first session of play, the visiting team broke the game open in the second half. The Cardinals added two goals in the first half and one in the second.

This year's team is the best in school history, and we are very proud of our players and coaches.

Men's Soccer Falls In Two NESCAC Games

By Eric Delbo

Following the weekend's match-up on Saturday, the men's soccer team fell to Wesleyan University 2-0. The game was played at Harkness Field in favor of the visitors.

The Cardinals added two goals in the first half and one in the second.

The Cardinals had just ended the 2005 season in favor of the visitors. It was the second straight loss for the Cardinals.

After a scoreless first session of play, the visiting team broke the game open in the second half. The Cardinals added two goals in the first half and one in the second.

This year's team is the best in school history, and we are very proud of our players and coaches.

Graf's Profit A Costly One For Sox

Red Sox nation, meet Tony Graffanino. He is average to below-average in any category, but he has been the only option for the team's in field. The Reds have been playing in the field since the trade deadline last year. It looks like the Red Sox have made a costly decision in pursuit of a team that is not fulfilling their expectations.

Crazy Wins Sports Locator

The Crazy Wins Sports Locator is a game that has been popular among Red Sox fans for years. The game involves predicting the outcomes of baseball games and earning points for correct predictions. The Crazy Wins Sports Locator has been a staple of Red Sox nation for many years, and it is a great way to stay involved in the game even when you can't make it to the stadium.