11-1-1966

ConnCensus Vol. 51 No. 6

Connecticut College

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/ccnews_1966_1967

Recommended Citation

http://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/ccnews_1966_1967/19

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. It has been accepted for inclusion in 1966-1967 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. For more information, please contact bpancier@conncoll.edu.

The views expressed in this paper are solely those of the author.
The Club To Sponsor Bink Noll In First Poetry Reading Sunday

Bink Noll, associate professor of English at Beloit College, will give The Club's first poetry reading of the year Sunday, November 6, 1966, at 11:30 a.m. in the Palmer Room of the library.

Chairmen Announce Program For ETC

Susan Eredal and Helen Epp, co-chairs of the Experimental Theater Club (ETC), have announced the club's program for the year.

Unrehearsed play readings open to student and faculty participation will be given every two months. Under Millwood by Dylan Thomas is scheduled for the first of these readings. ETC also hopes to do an experimental production of Mad Woman of Chaillot. In addition, they intend to bring a technical production of Mad Woman of Chaillot. In addition, they intend to bring a technical production of Mad Woman of Chaillot.

Technical Problems Main Hindrance

The thirty-nine year old poet, Bink Noll, currently speaking on "The New Poets," on October 27, "The Next Circuit," received his A.B. from Princeton University in 1948, his M.A. in 1950 from Johns Hopkins University, where he worked with Karl Shapiro, and his Ph. D. from the University of Colorado.

Mr. Noll has taught at Dartmouth College and Beloit, and spent a year in Zaragoza, Spain, as a guest lecturer in American Literature. In 1965 he received the Fulbright Award as Beloit's Teacher of the Year.

President Shain will introduce Mr. Noll, and after the program a coffee hour will follow in Windham living room.

Leaders of The Club include Ellen Glassock '67, Wendy Can- man '67, Linda Carpenter '68, and their advisor is Mr. William Merril.

JUNIOR SHOW DIRECTOR QUTS:

By Jacqueline Earle

Albatross of a semester at an emergency Junior Class meeting called last Thursday by President Pat Altobello prevented the election of a Junior Show director, following Wednesday's announcement of Judy Greenberg's resignation.

Instead, Pat took nominations for elections, to be held by dorm bulletin Monday.

At the opening of the meeting, each dormitory was contacted in an attempt to increase the attendance to a quorum of the class.

Of 18 nominations, three girls accepted. They are: Jane Ranallo, who accepted pending her resignation as co-chairman; Pam Berky and Tracey Spradling.

Nominations Left Open

Also nominated were Dickie Wilson, Jelka Jellema, and Jane Ranallo. These three were not present to accept. Pat stressed that the nominations were to be left open for "those nominated."

No reasons were given for Judy's resignation. Pat explained to the class that the new director will receive "all the help necessary," and "more," from Judy.

Although Pat was "disappointed" with the resignation, she stated there was no cause for premature elections. "I have great confidence that there will be a Junior Show," she commented.

Villain Threatens Shopper's Girl As Georgia Whidden Directs Melodrama

The fifth annual Museum Ball will be held Monday, November 5, at the Lyman Alyn Museum.

The fifth annual Museum Ball entitled "Coldilocks of Color" will be held Sunday afternoon, November 5, at the Lyman Alyn Museum.

Mr. Edgar Mayhew, Associate Director of the Museum, last week announced the ball last week.

The ball dates from an exhibition of contemporary posters-done by Picasso, Matisse, etc.-all now on display at the museum.

Included in the evening's program is a buffet supper at 11:30 and dancing to the music of Paul Landerman and his orchestra or, in another room, dancing to the music of the Calypso Islanders.

A selection of contemporary prints will be raffled off at the ball.

Four students, Avery Hausey, student chairman, Mary Porter, Margaret Douglas, and Jane Hartwig will sell tickets for the raffle.

Student contributions to the ball in past years have included a historical fashion show of ball gowns, twenty dancers trained by Miss Cullig to do the Can-Can in the original Can-Can costumes, and last year Stevie Barrett, a junior, dancing as a go-go girl in a cage.

The ball is formal and is for male students only. Tickets were sold four days after invitations went out. About 350 people are expected to attend.

Results of questionnaires concerning attitudes toward the Vietnam war of the United States in student mailboxes two weeks ago were as follows: Out of 192 replies, 42 students voted for escalation of the Vietnam war by the United States, 96 supported President Johnson's position of holding the line and simultaneously working toward peace negotiations, and 58 favored a complete withdrawal of American troops in Vietnam.

Film Society to Present "The Troublemakers"

The Troublemakers, a film about organizing poor people in Newark, New Jersey and the Newark Community Union Project (NCUP) will be shown Thursday, November 3, at 8 p.m. in Bill 106. Admission is 50c.

This film was shown at the Lincoln Center International Film Festival and will soon be shown at the East German and San Francisco International Festivals.

Steve Block, a graduate of Williams College and presently organizing with NCUP, is in the film and will be here Thursday night to answer any questions.

The film is sponsored by the Connecticut College Film Society and the Connecticut College Civic Rights Committee.

Thirty members of the Young Republicans Club attended a G.O.P. luncheon where Richard Nixon was the guest speaker on Saturday, October 22. Feels were that Nixon was "very young," and Young Republicans and Demos Gwos '68, president of Young Conservatives, were featured with Mr. Nixon on a Channel 5 TV newsmaker that night.

"The script was actually finished on March 5, and presented to the class of '67 March 9, at the Junior Class Banquet," she added.

Pat Altobello concluded the meeting with the hope that members of the Junior Class will "have the energy to write a name on a piece of paper and vote for the director."

"At this time last year," Pat Maloney said, "we were beginning to evolve, and we had written a few scenes."

"When the show was presented, those early-written scenes had been totally changed."

"The script was actually finished on March 5, and presented to the class of '67 March 9, at the Junior Class Banquet," she added.

Pat Altobello concluded the meeting with the hope that members of the Junior Class will "have the energy to write a name on a piece of paper and vote for the director."

"At this time last year," Pat Maloney said, "we were beginning to evolve, and we had written a few scenes."

"When the show was presented, those early-written scenes had been totally changed."

"The script was actually finished on March 5, and presented to the class of '67 March 9, at the Junior Class Banquet," she added.
The President's Role

The Student Government House of Representatives is the key legislative body of the college.

House presidents and the student body have a joint responsibility to each other and to the student government to see that this function of House of Rep is taken seriously.

In some instances, house elections and duties are treated with a flippancy that indicates failure to realize the presidents' potential under the student government framework.

The house unit is the basis of our student government. Within the house, the president should serve not only as a switchboard for complaints concerning the coke and washing machines, but also as an important legislator within the community. She is her district's representative, and help decide important college issues. She is the link between students and their elected executive officials.

House presidents must have enough respect for their position to realize its potential and to generate a sense of their significance to the student body. They are the best channel of communication within student government.

UNION COLLEGE.

A Man's Opinion

by Michael

Girl watching may be the national spectator sport for the college crowd, especially on frigid afternoons when the college football game really is an excuse for the FOOT- BALL WEEKEND. Most of the people who go to a football game do not really care about the game. Many go to watch a girl to a football game knowing full well that she is accepting the concept of the game itself, but rather for the Frat, party Friday night, the pre-game and the cocktail parties and the Saturday night dances.

The football weekend is rapidly becoming the center of campus current events. It has taken the place of any other athletic event has proven to be the cornerstone for a football season. The football weekend has some interesting characteristics, none of which have anything to do with the actual football game itself.

The weekend begins Friday night with the usual Frat party. That needs no further elaboration. Saturday afternoon there is the pre-game cocktail party where everyone adds a sufficient alcohol to his or her system, like anti-freeze, to ward off cold, even when it isn’t cold outside.

The party is followed by a spirit- ual debate about the best way to sneak liquor into the game. Beer is easy to hold in soft plastic; but this practice is frowned upon because it lacks class. The real trick is to bring large, flask- like, gin, vernixch, and bourbon, mix- ing, in several soda bottles, several different size glasses to match the different drinks, not to mention potato chips, pretzels and peanuts.

The actual football game is an offset means for transporting the equipment, although big blankets are used when the fans fall in the muddy pits, flip- ping hats, muddy pants or Air America because the football needs a plot.

Once the operation is spirited past the guards, the next task is to set up the stands in the student division of labor takes place. One person, minus any lower body, keeps them out for the guards, another watches the game and yells when appropriate, and the fourth person is free to drink.

Actually more fun to watch than people who watch the game. A football game is the place where every girl, especially the college girls, overslept for the course. Everyone is a football fiend, and they are so happy and generous to this free drink.

Another very typical of guys who go to a football game. There is the expert. This is the guy who knows all the other players, predict the next play, and is full of knowledge and is usually anyone who will listen to him.

Next there is the “cool guy.” He is the quarterback’s regular drinking buddy. He sits there with pipe and cigarette, drinking in the other, with his arm around his shoulder. He knows all the players, gives him a detailed account of the game. “See, that he just kicked the ball.” He knows a few of the boys like “Hold that Lion!” and “Great catch,” which are used as a means of attracting attention to him.

Then there is the “bookworm” who specializes in yelling various lines whenever he sees someone. His comments are unprintable. He is in the minority, and his total 97 pound weight, is cas- e, one person from the other college is obviously offended by what he is saying.

He is also that fool who is the first to jump up when the team does something right, causing that inevitiable chain reaction of people standing up.

The girls who go to the games are more likely to be the girl who continually faces her hair while looking around to see if any guy is looking at her. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

NEWS NOTES

The Bicycle Thief.

A non-earl Italian film, will be presented by the Film Society Friday, November 4, at 7:30 in Palmer Auditorium. Directed by Vittoria De Sica, the film is an adaptation out Europe and depicts the story of a father and son in search of a bicycle. Admission is 50 cents.

President Charles E. Shain recently traveled to Rome to talk to the Connecticut College Club of Delaware and Maryland and to the Association of Friends’ School of Wil- mingtion.

Dr. Shain spoke to the Connecticut College Club of Philadelphia.

Miss Marcella Harper of the Connecticut College Placement Office announced that students who apply to the placement office are invited to come and learn if their fields are open.

Some jobs are expected to be open soon.

Miss Alice Johnson, dean of academic affairs and associate professor of English, presented at the annual fall meeting of the Connecticut Association of Women Deans and Administrators, October 27, her report on the new course in Career Counseling and Placement Office in connection with the Department of Career Counseling and Placement Office in connection with the Department of Philosophy.

Class of 1967

Charles E. Shain, president of Connecticut College, recently spoke at a meeting of the Connecticut College Club of Nassau-Suffolk, New York, concerning the college’s Chinese language program.

Robert Hale, manager of the bookshop, chaired a panel discussion on "Institutional Problems," a recent meeting of the National Association of College Stores, October 28, at Albany, N.Y.

The Boston public school system is currently on strike. November 3, Interested parents sign up for interviews in the Connecticut College Placement Office in room 211, Crozer House. The school will continue to prepare for the required week-end, which will be given in both.

William Nielten, professor of botany and director of the Connecticut College her second year as president of the Society of Sigma Xi.

Class of 1970

Thomas A. Curtiss, Class of 1970, was awarded the annual award by the Connecticut College Club of Connecticut.

There were a lot of work, typing and sticking to the computer on the letter.

I heard this ding, ding, ding.

"What's that?" I said to my friend in the office.

"Oh, you mean the bell."

"Yes."

"That's the coffee bell. He sells coffee and doughnuts. Hits the coffee button."

"Oh, I wonder. Do they salivate when they hear the bell?"

"I asked him a minute ago." "What do you mean?"

"His boy's doing it again in explanation.

"Remember?"

"I said."

And he ran out the door, drooling.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to comment upon a statement by Prof. Reiss of the Department of Philosophy in the Oct. 25 issue of ConnCensus concerning the "Connecti- couches in the student body."

There was a lot of work, typing and sticking to the computer on the letter.

I heard this ding, ding, ding.

"What's that?" I said to my friend in the office.

"Oh, you mean the bell."

"Yes."

"That's the coffee bell. He sells coffee and doughnuts. Hits the coffee button."

"Oh, I wonder. Do they salivate when they hear the bell?"

"I asked him a minute ago." "What do you mean?"

"His boy's doing it again in explanation.

"Remember?"

"I said."

And he ran out the door, drooling.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to comment upon a statement by Prof. Reiss of the Department of Philosophy in the Oct. 25 issue of ConnCensus concerning the "Connecti- couches in the student body."

There was a lot of work, typing and sticking to the computer on the letter.

I heard this ding, ding, ding.

"What's that?" I said to my friend in the office.

"Oh, you mean the bell."

"Yes."

"That's the coffee bell. He sells coffee and doughnuts. Hits the coffee button."

"Oh, I wonder. Do they salivate when they hear the bell?"

"I asked him a minute ago." "What do you mean?"

"His boy's doing it again in explanation.

"Remember?"

"I said."

And he ran out the door, drooling.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to comment upon a statement by Prof. Reiss of the Department of Philosophy in the Oct. 25 issue of ConnCensus concerning the "Connecti- couches in the student body."

There was a lot of work, typing and sticking to the computer on the letter.

I heard this ding, ding, ding.

"What's that?" I said to my friend in the office.

"Oh, you mean the bell."

"Yes."

"That's the coffee bell. He sells coffee and doughnuts. Hits the coffee button."

"Oh, I wonder. Do they salivate when they hear the bell?"

"I asked him a minute ago." "What do you mean?"

"His boy's doing it again in explanation.

"Remember?"

"I said."

And he ran out the door, drooling.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to comment upon a statement by Prof. Reiss of the Department of Philosophy in the Oct. 25 issue of ConnCensus concerning the "Connecti- couches in the student body."

There was a lot of work, typing and sticking to the computer on the letter.

I heard this ding, ding, ding.

"What's that?" I said to my friend in the office.

"Oh, you mean the bell."

"Yes."

"That's the coffee bell. He sells coffee and doughnuts. Hits the coffee button."

"Oh, I wonder. Do they salivate when they hear the bell?"

"I asked him a minute ago." "What do you mean?"

"His boy's doing it again in explanation.

"Remember?"

"I said."

And he ran out the door, drooling.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to comment upon a statement by Prof. Reiss of the Department of Philosophy in the Oct. 25 issue of ConnCensus concerning the "Connecti- couches in the student body."

There was a lot of work, typing and sticking to the computer on the letter.

I heard this ding, ding, ding.

"What's that?" I said to my friend in the office.

"Oh, you mean the bell."

"Yes."

"That's the coffee bell. He sells coffee and doughnuts. Hits the coffee button."

"Oh, I wonder. Do they salivate when they hear the bell?"

"I asked him a minute ago." "What do you mean?"

"His boy's doing it again in explanation.

"Remember?"

"I said."

And he ran out the door, drooling.
OLD TV ROOMS CALLED UNDERDEVELOPED AREA

by Naomi Fatt

In an age of urban renewal and aid to distressed areas, we tend to ignore some of our own underdeveloped areas. A case in point is the condition of the majority of television rooms in the older dormitories.

This year there is a new television set in every dorm TV room on campus. In the complex the television rooms are actually a corner or partitioned area of the living room. These areas are furnished with various types of furniture as well as the rest of the living room.

In the older dorms the television rooms are separate from the living room. In Blackstone it is probably the refrigerator that has seen the most change. In Plant and Bradford, the same can be said, with all three of these dorms the furniture is predominately vinyl-covered aluminum-frame chairs in a shabby condition. Most often seen in hospital clinics or in shades of dirty yellow.

In Plant the newest furnishing, other than the television, seems to be the ceiling. In Blackstone, however, it is probably the refrigerator.

Little or nothing has been done to cover the walls or the floors in a systematic, sensible or pleasing manner. In Plant, for example, Humphrey Bogart looks mournfully across at a Mexican travel poster.

Halloween Decorations

In Hartford last year, Halloween decorations are finally back in season.

There is a large room in the Burdick-Smith basement which contains a piano and two ping pong tables as well as the normal television room furniture. The room looks reminiscent of a third-rate athletic club.

In Harkness the TV room is clean, neat, and carpeted. Although slight grey in tone, it, with Knowlton and Larrabbee, is the only room on campus that one would not mind being in his living room. The interior decoration as evidenced by the above observations, nothing constructive in interior decoration has been attempted to any extent by the dorms themselves.

is in the living room itself.

Near Living Rooms

In other older dorms the TV rooms are usually on the first floor near the stairway. In most cases the condition of the majority of television rooms in the older dormitories does not approximately affect the type or amount of furnishings in the rooms.

College Business Manager Corbin C. Lyman said the new television set in every dormitory is a case by case basis, with the majority of the furniture as the rest of the living room.

In the older dorms the television rooms are separate from the living room. In Blackstone the television room is actually a combination of furniture as the rest of the living room. In Blackstone the television room is actually a combination of furniture as the rest of the living room.

In most cases the condition of the majority of older dormitories, as evidenced by the above observations, nothing constructive in interior decoration has been attempted to any extent by the dorms themselves.

Girl Scouts To Hold Workshops at Conn

The Connecticut Council of Girl Scouts will sponsor a "Cadette College Campus" conference at Connecticut College Saturday, November 5.

A morning session will feature a talk by Maria Varella, a foreign student, about her home, Uruguay. At the end of the conference, Dorcas Hardy, a junior, will give a summation of the achievements of the conference. Dorcas has frequently worked with the Connecticut Girl Scouts in the past in organizing and carrying out local scout programs.

To give the girls a wider knowledge of the songs, dances, crafts and customs of other lands, the conference will also include various international workshops. All-nation's quiz contest will deal with the general theme "the world is our neighbor and peace through understanding."

The conference is being organized by 9th grade cadettes. The girls are quite excited about the program.

MASCOT GUARDS relax after the hunt. They are Margaret Delan, left, and Avery Halvey, both '68.

by Helen Reynolds

Now that I've ruined my only pair of dark pants, strained every muscle in my unfit legs, and put a huge gong in my hand by catapulting in a fence, Mascot Hunt '68 is finally over.

Continuing a long tradition of yearly rivalry between the two middle classes, neither banner was found. And so, the Class of 1968 retires undefeated, untied, and unsuccessful.

The shy sophomores created very "organic" class making use in the Escape!

Get out from under this weekend. Fly someplace—for half fare on Eastern.

Visit a friend in another town. See an "away" game. Change the scene. Leave late, come back late, enjoy a long weekend—whatever.

Use your Eastern Youth ID Card, or another airline's version. If you don't have one—and you're under 22—you really ought to.

To get your Youth Fare Cord, send a $3 check or money order, proof of age (copy of driver's license, birth certificate or passport) to Eastern Airlines, Department 330, 10 Rockefeller Plaza, N.Y., N.Y. 10020.

With your Youth ID Card, you can get an Eastern ticket for half fare. No advance reservations are permitted. But if there's a seat free at departure time, after passengers holding reservations and military personnel have been seated, you can fly to any Eastern city in the United States. And look down on all the drivers.

Connecticut Girls

Win Hockey Game

Connecticut defeated Pembroke College 4-0 in Conn's first inter-collegiate hockey game Oct. 24. The winning goals were Sue Masters, 2, Jane Bagstrom, 1, and Heather Woods.

The team, chosen from class teams and gym classes, worked "extremely well together," according to Blue Jays, Athletic Association president. She also congratulated "those good girls in the office."
THE WEEK IN PICTURES

LET ME IN — Audrey Stein '67 makes subtle bid for entrance into Crozier snack bar for a late evening snack.

WEEJUMS GALORE — Carol French, '67, is chin deep in Weejums, while half of Larnedee goes barefoot.

FANTASTIC SALE — Margie Gans and Kathy McLaughlin sell tickets for the Fantastiks.

POST OFFICE PANACEA — A package from home.

THOSE SENIOR CARS — Mandy Vernaglio, Ann Unspelby and Nancy Grosellinger pack the trunk for a weekend sojourn.
CAMPUS CRITIC, Jeff Bishop, grad student in psych, peruses a recent edition of Conn Census. Staff photo by Marjie Dressler.

MELODRAMA IN REHEARSAL: Jill Hegelmam and Margie Lipshutz. Staff photo by Marjie Dressler.

HALLOWE'EN HOSTESSES at annual A.A. party are, from left, Wendy Swanson, '69, Mary Gruick, '69, Susan Mahoney, '69, and, kneeling, Jan Hagenstrom, '69. Staff photo by Karen Olsen.

ACADEMIC ATMOSPHERE: Conscientious card sharks are, from left, Jane Harron, '67, Alise Wellington, '69, Cynthia Jesenich, '67, Laurie Cameron, '69. Staff photo by Marjie Dressler.

WITCHES AND GOBLINS AT A.A. HALLOWE'EN PARTY. Staff photo by Karen Olsen.

PENSIVE PRESIDENT - Pat Altobello and banner, after Mascot Hunt.
Miss Evaline Omwake Advocates Head-Start; Program Aids Deficiencies of Pre-Schoolers

by Sylvia Gulbin
Miss Evaline Omwake, chairman of the child development department and program consultant to the Office of Economic Opportunity, is deeply committed to Head-Start, a government program for pre-schoolers who, because of deficiencies in their environment, are unsupervised for the school experience. The program attempts to give them the skills and the thirst for knowledge that they will need in first grade.

Provides Triad Environment

In the large public school classes, Miss Omwake explained, the teachers do not have the time to teach a child who does not know how to receive a question and behave in an orderly fashion. Head-Start, she said, provides these children with a triad environment in which they can get the individual attention they need. Health and emotional problems that might go unnoticed in public school may be detected and corrected. Miss Omwake cites the case of a little girl who came to her first Head-Start session, sat in the middle of the floor and rocked for the nicest environment under a bicycle rack near Winthrop Hall. She was frightened and confused and would not do much better herself.

Health and emotional problems spend much time at the desk. Hears Echo enthusiasm

Miss Omwake is optimistic concerning the success of the personnel with Head-Start training. On a follow-up visit to Roanoke, she found the personnel enthusiastic and effective. Her enthusiasm is echoed by a pupil who wrote:

"It was truly a week of purposeful and significant significance."

As the question of how successful a two month training program can be in correcting five or six years of chaotic family functioning (or lack of it), Miss Omwake explained certain reservations. The program does give the children an opportunity (perhaps their first) to work on the same project from day to day. This gives them a sense of continuity necessary to their school career.

Investigative Results

However, while many teachers report that Head-Start children are "more ready" for school than those who have not participated in the program, these results are subjective and the long range effects cannot yet be determined. Miss Omwake agreed that it would be helpful to expand the program (some effects are made to follow up Head-Start training with special help during the school year's last foods and facilities for such efforts are limited).

MASCOT HUNT

(Cont. from page 2)

Shape of a leaf, and one out of red paper. They were hidden in the library, teachers and the principal.

Senskey Juniors

Cautious juniors taped their clues on the undersides of001ing places, in a more orderly fashion.

Call for Phone Help

As the weeks went on, the special problems and children, the program was wound out by a series of education and child development classes taught by Miss Omwake.

Pupil Echo enthusiasm

When the "tricky juniors" can get is to be alert and participate actively in the course. The results of the program will be evaluated.

"I wish you would tell your class about the Head-Start session, sat in the middle of the floor and rocked for the nicest environment under a bicycle rack near Winthrop Hall. She was frightened and confused and would not do much better herself."

Miss Omwake was fright- and significant others

Concerning the outgoing pay phones, Mrs. Trippe said that she had had no complaints, and "On the whole, there is a phone on just about every floor in the dormitories."

Mrs. Trippe told Conn Cenews that although these are the primary deterrents to student phones, Omwake explained, the teach-

For the NICEST

SEE FASHION

FABRIC CENTER

255 State Street

442-3597
442-7018

OTT0 AIMMETT S TAYLOR SHOP

Ladies and Men's Custom Tailoring

86 State Street

Tel. 443-7395

Expert Work on Suits and Skirts

SWEATER SPOT MILL OUTLET

FAMOUS NAME BRANDS

Drive A Little, Save A Lot

537 Main St.

Niantic

MON. THROUGH SAT. 11:00-5:00 FRIDAY NIGHTS UNTIL 9:00

GRAND TYPETOWER REPAIR SERVICE

Regular Portables

Blow out (clean), oil & adjust................. $ 6.50

Chemical clean, oil & adjust.................. $12.50

Electric Portables

Blow out (clean), oil & adjust................. $ 9.50

Chemical clean, oil & adjust.................. $17.00

Standard Typewriters

Blow out (clean), oil & adjust................. $ 8.50

Chemical clean, oil & adjust.................. $18.00

(All above prices do not include ribbons or parts which will be charged at list.)

Typewriters to be cleaned and repaired will be picked up and returned to THE BOOKSHOP

PHONEs (Cont. from page 1) be dug to various sections of campus to bury the additional cables. Replied for all the damnities.

Third, in order to provide service for each room, large telephone cables would have to run the length of all the hallways. These would be sluggish and very expensive," commented Mr. Lyon.

Little else has been done with the situation since the results of the surveys were revealed. Dean of Students' Activities Sally C. Trippe said the possibility has been considered and discussed by the Dean and President Charles E. Shain.

"But the primary problem involved is that of technique and mechanics," Mrs. Trippe said.

Concerning the outgoing pay phones, Mrs. Trippe said that she had had no complaints, and "On the whole, there is a phone on just about every floor in the dormitories."

Mrs. Trippe told Conn Cenews that although these are the primary deterrents to student phones, Omwake explained, the teach-less else has been done with the situation since the results of the surveys were revealed. Dean of Students' Activities Sally C. Trippe said the possibility has been considered and discussed by the Dean and President Charles E. Shain.

"But the primary problem involved is that of technique and mechanics," Mrs. Trippe said.

Concerning the outgoing pay phones, Mrs. Trippe said that she had had no complaints, and "On the whole, there is a phone on just about every floor in the dormitories."

Mrs. Trippe told Conn Cenews that although these are the primary deterrents to student phones, Omwake explained, the teach-

The Bookshop

will begin returning unsold

First Semester Texts to publishers on November 10th

If You have not yet purchased your required books

DO SO NOW
Therefore, three out of every four years, Connecticut College will have a freshman on a four-year scholarship grant from the Proctor and Gamble Fund. The Connecticut College Scholarship Committee selects the students who are to be the recipients of these awards.

Proctor and Gamble makes a special effort to keep in touch with these scholars. A representative from the company meets personally with the award winners each year, and the students are encouraged to keep the company aware of their activities.

Susie Endel, vice-president of Student Government, commented, "The good thing about the scholarship is that they support collegiate potential. They are not concerned with a major field or activities." Claudia Koblas added, "Now I'm all for Proctor and Gamble products." She finds that there is "no pressure to keep up with academic standards."

The recipients of the scholarship emphasized that there is no expectation to work for Proctor and Gamble after graduation. As Lisa Rowe said, "It's great!"

PROCTOR & GAMBLE PROVIDES FULL SCHOLARSHIPS FOR FOUR STUDENTS

Lise Rowe, Claudia Koblas and Susie Endel.

Four Connecticut students are enjoying the benefits of full four-year scholarships from the Proctor and Gamble Company.

They are Elizabeth Loutrel '67, Susen Endel '67, Lisa Rowe '66, and Claudia Koblas '69.

These students received full tuition scholarships and an allowance for books and supplies. The Proctor and Gamble fund states its goals are "to provide able students . . . with the opportunity for higher education made possible by the country's colleges and universities, meet their pressing financial needs."

Before initiating the fund, Proctor and Gamble began an investigation to determine the ten best women's colleges. However, the most accurate list they could devise included fifteen.

New London Camera Co.
Extrem Discount Photography
158 State Street
New London, Conn.

Pennella's
Restaurant and Bakery
Decorated Cakes for Birthday Parties and Other Festivities

FAR EAST HOUSE
ORIENTAL GIFTS
15 Green Street
New London, Conn.

This is Ross Kennedy of Balboa Island, California, on an in-part field trip as a student aboard Chapman College's floating campus.

The note he penned to make as fellow students went ahead to inspect Huntington's Tomb in the Valley of the Kings near Luxor, he used to complete an assignment for his Comparative World Cultures professor.

Ross transferred the 12 units earned during the study-travel semester at sea to his record at the University of California at Irvine where he continues studies toward a teaching career in life sciences.

As you read this, 450 other students have begun the fall semester voyage of discovery with Chapman aboard the s.s. RYNDAM, for which Holland-America Line acts as General Passenger Agents.

In February still another 450 will embark from Los Angeles for the spring 1967 semester, this time bound for the Panama Canal, Venezuela, Brazil, Argentina, Nigeria, Senegal, Morocco, Spain, Portugal, The Netherlands, Denmark, Great Britain and New York.

For a catalog describing how you can include a semester at sea in your educational plans, fill in the information below and mail.

Element of Adventure
Chapman College
Orange, California 92668

Name (Last)
Address
City
Telephone
The recipient is of West German origin.
"What some people will do to get some mail!"

So thought 800 students last winter, when they unwittingly became subjects of an experiment conducted by Soc. 253 to test the curiosity and submittedness of students, according to class age.

Through campus mail, 200 girls in each class received sheets of paper decorated with only an empty space for a name and a phrase either, "Please return to box...", or, if interested "return to box...". The former was to denote submissive-ness, the latter, curiosity.

The experimenters expected that some sheets would be returned and some duly dumped in waste-baskets. However, they did not expect to find notes, drawings, cartoons, or poems in reply to the provocative square. For example, a young poet:

"Dear Matt: I am rather negative about my box, but I dig the extras out of it. A box is a box."

"I hate to disappoint you...but my mind is BLANK!

One student, obviously a devotee of parlor games, complimented the experimenters on their work: "Okay, I'll play!"

Another student asked, "What's with the box?"

A frustrated frequenter of the P.O. quaintly commented, "I'm psychic. I definitely knew of your box, but I got the extras out of the waste-basket. Needless to say, this did little to help the members of Soc. 253 to discover exactly who is curious and who is curious!"

L. B. Beene

---

The Rev. Dr. Roger A. Huber, minister of Central Presbyterian Church in Montclair, New Jersey, will speak Sunday, November 6, at 7:00 p.m. in the chapel.

In the spring of 1966, Dr. Huber served as Chairman of the Special Self-Study Conference for the Presbytery of New York City, which brought together such outstanding leaders as Professor Harvey Cox, Dr. Phyllis Dean, and Dr. John Baillie, Principal of New College of the University of Edinburgh.