Municipal Election Critical for Future of Redevelopment

Pro-development PAC endorses four candidates

By ROB KNAKE

Managing Editor

With elections for New London City Council, which are only two weeks away, the race for the New London City Council continues to heat up. Among the candidates vying for office is the Committee on Redevelopment, which is working to secure approval for a new library and performing arts center.

The Committee endorsed four candidates for the November 2 election: Pro-development PAC, which has been actively supporting the Redevelopment project, endorses four candidates: "We believe in the project," said committee member Tim West. "We believe it will benefit the city." The committee is working to secure approval for the library and performing arts center, which would be located downtown.

The four candidates endorsed by the committee are:

1. CDM
2. EDW
3. FWL
4. JGD

These candidates have pledged to support the Redevelopment project and to work towards its successful completion.

By SARA ASSELIN

Students who were interested in participating in a city beautification project after a year of planning are now ready to take action. The students have been working on a project to beautify the downtown area, which they hope will attract more visitors and improve the overall appearance of the community.

The project will involve the planting of trees and flowers along the streets and the creation of public art installations. The students have been working closely with local businesses and community leaders to ensure the success of the project.

By BRIAN BIELUCH

Staff writer

The project, known as the Downtown Beautification Project, is a joint effort between Connecticut College and the City of New London. The project aims to enhance the downtown area and attract more visitors.

The project is expected to begin in the spring and will involve the planting of trees and flowers along the streets and the creation of public art installations. The students have been working closely with local businesses and community leaders to ensure the success of the project.

The project is expected to begin in the spring and will involve the planting of trees and flowers along the streets and the creation of public art installations. The students have been working closely with local businesses and community leaders to ensure the success of the project.
Since we’re only “temporary” residents of New London, we, as Connecticut College students, clearly should not participate in New London elections. But if we did, we would not be the only ones who would benefit. This is a town whose residents should be carving out their own future. Right?

Absolutely wrong. It’s arguments like the one above that bring out one of the worst aspects of college life; it can too often seem like we are on a self-important mission to remind ourselves without caring at all about our role in our greater community. If we just inwardly focus on our own concerns, the argument goes, we’ll prepare ourselves to do some sort of vague future good. We don’t buy it.

We, as college students, have a responsibility to our own community and the world around us. At the bare minimum, we clearly have a role to play in New London elections. Connecticut College is very much a part of New London, and, accordingly, very much deserves to be represented in New London elections.

New London residents should clearly exercise their right to vote and participate in the governance of New London alongside Conn College students, who, as residents, share that same responsibility to their own community.

But what of the argument that individual college students are only limited-four-year tourists in a foreign town? This argument misses the point entirely. As an institution, Conn College is 1600-year-old downtown New London. The fact that those residents only live here for four years now decreases the necessity of their representation in New London’s elections.

Students have just as much of a right and obligation to vote in New London as any resident who may choose to live here from two years to twenty. The fact that many students have historically been underrepresented in New London’s government serves as even more of an obligation for current students to participate in elections.

But most importantly, perhaps because of our role as college students, we have a far greater obligation to vote than even the two-year residents of New London. We know that future Conn students will reside in New London; they should have the benefit of their predecessors representing the interests of a college student in local elections.

More so, in a diverse and pluralistic society, we must all contribute to the common good in order to finance downtown redevelopment, and students are among the most valuable services available in New London. If we do not vote in New London elections, we only serve to make that schism grow very much a part of New London.

Dear Editors,

I write in response to Mr. Yousef’s editorial “Indicative of Greater Problems on Campus” (October 18). As someone who has been a part of the college community, I can attest to the fact that the topic of Coming Out Day is not a new issue, especially on this campus.

In October 1997, the College Voice ran a story about the national Coming Out Day, which was held on October 18. The story was titled “Torn Down SOUL Poster: Indicative of Greater Problems on Campus.” The story was written by Sara Kelley-Mudie, who was then a senior at Conn College.

The story was about a poster that was hung in a campus bathroom by the group SOUL, which stands for Student Organization for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Students. The poster was titled “We Support Straight Allyship and the Right to Be Yourself.” It was removed from the bathroom by a student who was not affiliated with SOUL.

The story was written to address the issue of free speech on campus and the role of the College Voice in upholding it. The story was intended to encourage other students to speak out against what they saw as a violation of their rights.

I was a student at Conn College during this time, and I remember reading the story. It was a powerful piece that sparked a lot of discussion on campus.

Looking back, I think it’s important to remember the context of the story. It was written in 1997, a time when the LGBTQ+ community was still fighting for basic rights. It was a time when coming out was a significant part of the college experience.

I hope that this story can serve as a reminder of the importance of free speech and the role of the College Voice in upholding it. It’s a reminder that even in a college community, there are still issues that need to be addressed.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Montrell
Conn College ‘97

Letters to the Editor

Looking Beyond the Jargon of Feminist Discourse

As someone who comes from a reproductive line, I have been a part of the college community, and I think the issue of reproductive rights is a significant one.

When I came to Conn College, I was surprised by the lack of resources available for students who were interested in reproductive rights. At the time, the only organization on campus that addressed reproductive rights was the Students for Reproductive Justice. They had a small, but dedicated following, and they were constantly battling against the administration to get their message heard.

Looking back, I think it’s important to remember the significance of this issue. It was a time when reproductive rights were still being fought for, and it was a time when the college community was still learning how to engage in meaningful dialogue.

I hope that this story can serve as a reminder of the importance of free speech and the role of the College Voice in upholding it. It’s a reminder that even in a college community, there are still issues that need to be addressed.

Sincerely,

Sara Kelley-Mudie
Conn College ‘97

Issues of Race, Police Brutality, and the Death Penalty in Mumia’s Death Warrant

As someone who grew up in a family that was deeply involved in the anti-apartheid movement, I was always aware of the importance of free speech and the role of the College Voice in upholding it. It was a time when the college community was still learning how to engage in meaningful dialogue.

I hope that this story can serve as a reminder of the importance of free speech and the role of the College Voice in upholding it. It’s a reminder that even in a college community, there are still issues that need to be addressed.

Sincerely,

Sara Kelley-Mudie
Conn College ‘97

Letters to the Editor

Looking Beyond the Jargon of Feminist Discourse

As someone who comes from a reproductive line, I have been a part of the college community, and I think the issue of reproductive rights is a significant one.

When I came to Conn College, I was surprised by the lack of resources available for students who were interested in reproductive rights. At the time, the only organization on campus that addressed reproductive rights was the Students for Reproductive Justice. They had a small, but dedicated following, and they were constantly battling against the administration to get their message heard.

Looking back, I think it’s important to remember the significance of this issue. It was a time when reproductive rights were still being fought for, and it was a time when the college community was still learning how to engage in meaningful dialogue.

I hope that this story can serve as a reminder of the importance of free speech and the role of the College Voice in upholding it. It’s a reminder that even in a college community, there are still issues that need to be addressed.

Sincerely,

Sara Kelley-Mudie
Conn College ‘97
The Question of Human Population Sustainability

By JONATHAN MONETA

The same principle applies to the human population and the Earth. In the future, some organizations will have too many members and the Earth will be full of people. Some will have too few and the Earth will be empty. It's not that the Earth has a certain number of people that it can support, but rather that a certain number of people can support a certain amount of Earth. This is the same principle that says a certain amount of atmospheric pollution will cause the Earth to warm up. Too many people, more than the Earth can support, will cause an increase in the population of people. Too few people, less than the Earth can support, cause a decrease in the population of people.

I have been interested in the topic since I was a teenager. Since then, I have read hundreds of books and articles about the Earth and human population sustainability. I have also talked to many people who have similar interests. I have learned that there are many ways to think about the topic, but there are also many ways to think about it.

The Earth is our home, and the human population is our family. We must take care of the Earth and the human population. This means that we must make sure that we do not use too much of our resources, and that we do not create too much pollution. We must also make sure that we do not use too much of our resources, and that we do not create too much pollution. We must also make sure that we do not use too much of our resources, and that we do not create too much pollution. We must also make sure that we do not use too much of our resources, and that we do not create too much pollution. We must also make sure that we do not use too much of our resources, and that we do not create too much pollution.

In conclusion, I believe that the Earth is our home, and the human population is our family. We must take care of the Earth and the human population. This means that we must make sure that we do not use too much of our resources, and that we do not create too much pollution. We must also make sure that we do not use too much of our resources, and that we do not create too much pollution. We must also make sure that we do not use too much of our resources, and that we do not create too much pollution. We must also make sure that we do not use too much of our resources, and that we do not create too much pollution. We must also make sure that we do not use too much of our resources, and that we do not create too much pollution. We must also make sure that we do not use too much of our resources, and that we do not create too much pollution. We must also make sure that we do not use too much of our resources, and that we do not create too much pollution.

Leah Coltrane's Gringo Experience

I knew all about the Latin American world before I went to South America. I was aware of the rich culture, the vibrant music, and the stunning landscapes. I was also aware of the political turmoil, the social unrest, and the economic struggles. I was prepared for the culture shock, the language barrier, and the food differences. I was ready to experience the diversity and the richness of Latin American culture.

But what I didn't expect was the impact of the local people on me. The people I met in South America were friendly,热情, and welcoming. They made me feel at home and showed me the true meaning of hospitality. They shared their stories, their traditions, and their music with me. They taught me how to dance to the beat of the maracas and the clave. They showed me how to savor the flavors of the local cuisine.

I also learned that Hollywood stereotypes of Latin American people were far from the truth. They were not the stereotypical macho men or the submissive women. They were people with complex personalities and rich histories. They were people who were passionate about life and who loved to share their culture with others. They were people who were proud of their heritage and who wanted to pass it on to the next generation.

In conclusion, my Gringo experience in South America was a life-changing adventure. It taught me to appreciate the diversity of human culture and to respect the richness of Latin American tradition. It taught me to be open-minded and to embrace new experiences. It taught me to be grateful for the simple things in life and to savor the beauty of every moment. It taught me to be a better person and to be a better traveler.
Bloody Poetry Steams Up Tansill Theater

By REBEKAH PAGE

Bloody Poetry, directed by George Gabriel (Kimberleigh Weiss) and Mary’s half sister Claire Georgitis (Jennifer Monroe), has been involved with Byron, amends to himself and Shelley and the two become friends. Mary Wollstonecraft (Kimberleigh Weiss) is a revolutionary who seeks to wreck the conventional views on women’s rights. She is a brilliant woman who is a first-class student, but she is also very depressed and has committed suicide, her ghost be- comes her guide. When the actors demonstrated how theAlways being noted for his hard-edged and dark portrayal of the heroines of his films, David Cronenberg’s latest film is a chilling and disturbing story of environmental protection. With Fight Club, one is drawn into the world of a man who has nothing else to live for but his membership in a secret society of young males. The film is a brilliant performance in American Psycho, his first role since his breakout success in the hit movie Fight Club. Diminishing returns are rewarding in the end, and it is a fascinating film that will keep you thinking long after the credits roll.

THE COLLEGE VOICE
Arts & Entertainment

BLOODY POETRY

by Rebekah Page

Bloody Poetry, directed by George Gabriel (Kimberleigh Weiss) and Mary’s half sister Claire Georgitis (Jennifer Monroe), has been involved with Byron, amends to himself and Shelley and the two become friends. Mary Wollstonecraft (Kimberleigh Weiss) is a revolutionary who seeks to wreck the conventional views on women’s rights. She is a brilliant woman who is a first-class student, but she is also very depressed and has committed suicide, her ghost becomes her guide. When the actors demonstrated how the

THE ROOTS

Friday October 29 in Palmer Auditorium
Doors open at 7:30 pm
Tickets $20 Call 439-ARTS Box Office open 12-5 Mon-Friday
With Special Guest Space Coyote

Strangefolk: Floraibound?

By TIM PODKUL

One of the students in this class is currently working on a large-scale college dealing with his experiences as a mountaineer. Jessica Norton’s character wants to be care- er-focused on his life, and they will do anything to stay in- side their department, at first with piercing clarity and energy. In the end, that is the core of Fight Club, a secret society of young males. The film is a brilliant performance in American Psycho, his first role since his breakout success in the hit movie Fight Club. Diminishing returns are rewarding in the end, and it is a fascinating film that will keep you thinking long after the credits roll.

By JAY STEERE

The Connecticut College Theater Department opened the 1999-2000 season with a powerful performance in the Black Box Theater with a scene from the film Fight Club. Directed by Jessica Norton, the production was a gripping and intense portrayal of the protagonist’s life. David Fincher’s Fight Club has been described as a dark and disturbing story of environmental protection. With Fight Club, one is drawn into the world of a man who has nothing else to live for but his membership in a secret society of young males. The film is a brilliant performance in American Psycho, his first role since his breakout success in the hit movie Fight Club. Diminishing returns are rewarding in the end, and it is a fascinating film that will keep you thinking long after the credits roll.

Peter Chene, Dan Rajffy and Jed Georgitis in Bloody Poetry

By SEYY BEHABI

Paris at the end of the 1980s. According to Baudelaire’s poetry, the Jazz Age was the time of artistic awakening, and it is in this period that the young poets’ deteriorating lives. There was a sense of excitement and danger, a feeling of anarchy and freedom. The art world was filled with new ideas and experimentation, and the young artists were pushing the boundaries of what was possible. The music was also very influential, with the rise of classic rock bands such as the Rolling Stones, Grateful Dead, the Police, Cat Stevens and Led Zeppelin. The music was characterized by its originality, two elements hard to find these days. The influence of the 1960s on the young artists was very strong, and they were trying to create new forms of expression that would be true to their vision of the world.
YOUNG LOCAL TALENT SHOWCASED

by ANDY SEGUIN

Pervy from my last assignment at the White Groggery, G. Williams, I found myself sitting back at Space Bar, drinking a rather wretched pilsner-and-

Punk while he happened not apparently learned their adventure. Oganos played Rachmaninoff's Ring Dawn for Piano and Rain Tree Sketch with Highest Distinction. She has played were Rachmaninoff's "The Bells," written by David Kelly, the band has created an dition as a "world music-Jazz-

G. Love's traditional funky blues riffs

This song is a dramatic departure from the

the second track a variety of relaxing and funky songs underwhelmed by everything. The

The album's second track a variety of relaxing and funky songs

the beginning. Ogano violently struck melody. The piece also had a very racer's dynamics-quickly shifting points she shook her head and at

she closed her eyes. The music she was playing; at one

Any college who wants to advertise to high school kids, there are several organizations or companies that would be lost in larger scale productions. Even more, electronic energy that bends the small ophotic and macroscopic dimensions, a becomes a major player in this music scene.

symphonic experience, nowhere as the house was already carved their own niche in the genre. Special Sauce have 1996. In it G. Love raps "Everyone this CD maintains that tradition.

point she shook her head and at

she closed her eyes. The music she was playing; at one

Any college who wants to advertise to high school kids, there are several organizations or companies that would be lost in larger scale productions. Even more, electronic energy that bends the small
Re-Re-Elect

PEG CURTIN

CITY COUNCIL ★ DEMOCRAT

It is a privilege to serve as YOUR City Councilor and give back the commitment, time, effort, and dedication you have provided to shaping our city and our public services. During the past two years, we've achieved great things. As we enter the next millennium, I promise my commitment is...

KEEP THE MOMENTUM GOING!

EXPERIENCE & LEADERSHIP FOR NEW LONDON

NEW LONDON CITY COUNCILOR

ADMINISTRATION COMMITTEE CHAIR

☆ A lifelong hero for NL Revitalization (Earn & Save Cup)

☆ Paid city government ahead of others

☆ Supporter of Green Act League, Capital Thrus.

☆ Hopeful Restitution

☆ Former Alice Twilight, Junior PTA Officer

☆ Conducted NL Parks Commission Committee

☆ Increased client participation in government by maximizing answering city boards

☆ Supported and provided additional public safety training & community-based education

☆ Chaired Local Police Authority for Sound Lab property

☆ Worked with and for collaboration of public/private partnerships, neighborhood groups, city boards & committees and government

☆ Former Mayor, Deputy Mayor, Under-Secretary of State - CPD

☆ Former State Rep. - TV, Rep. of Thompson, CT; of Franklin Center, CT

☆ Educated in NL Public Schools - SMCC, UConn, MLK

☆ Chairman of NL Mayor's Empowerment Program

☆ Commissioned Lay Minister, St. Mary's Church, NL

☆ Long-time resident of New London

CURRENT COMMUNITY SERVICE

☆ Special Olympics

☆ New London Rotary

☆ Senior Fellowship

☆ My Place, Public Schools - Reader

☆ Belleville Neighborhood

KEEP THE MOMENTUM GOING!

Re-Elect PEG CURTIN - 3B

NEW LONDON CITY COUNCILOR

KEEP NEW LONDON MOVING FORWARD!!!

If you wish to continue the RE-Development and RE-Vitalization of New London...

PLEASE help Re-Elect:

1A-Reid Burdick
3A-Rob Perno

Democrats

3B-Peg Curtin
6B-Ernest Hewett

Republicans

Your role to improve your home away from home is to vote!!! My goals to improve our city are:

- We must open our doors to our college community to become the home away from home for students at Conn College, the Academy, and Mitchell.

- We must increase our awareness of all that we have in this marvelous city.

- We must market the dynamic advantages of our downtown.

- We must aggressively pursue neighborhood revitalization in order to enhance our quality of life.

- We must participate in regional approaches to regional problems.

YOUR VOTING DISTRICT IS THE FIRST DISTRICT WHICH IS LOCATED AT WINTHROP SCHOOL. A SHORT WALK DOWN WILLIAMS STREET TURNING LEFT UP THE HILL ONTO CRYSTAL AVENUE. I'LL SEE YOU THERE!!!

Paid by BURDICK 99, Greg Massad, Treasurer.

Paid for by the Committee to Keep New London Moving Forward. A non-partisan, issue-oriented political action committee registered in the State of Connecticut. Larry Duck, Treasurer.

---

paid Political Advertisements

Re-Elect LLOYD BEACHY

Democratic candidate for New London City Council

PULL LEVER 7B

Your voice for reasonable solutions

YOUR ROLE TO IMPROVE YOUR HOME AWAY FROM HOME IS TO VOTE!!! MY GOALS TO IMPROVE OUR CITY ARE:

- We must open our doors to our college community to become the home away from home for students at Conn College, the Academy, and Mitchell.

- We must increase our awareness of all that we have in this marvelous city.

- We must market the dynamic advantages of our downtown.

- We must aggressively pursue neighborhood revitalization in order to enhance our quality of life.

- We must participate in regional approaches to regional problems.

YOUR VOTING DISTRICT IS THE FIRST DISTRICT WHICH IS LOCATED AT WINTHROP SCHOOL. A SHORT WALK DOWN WILLIAMS STREET TURNING LEFT UP THE HILL ONTO CRYSTAL AVENUE. I'LL SEE YOU THERE!!!

Keep New London Moving Forward!!!

If you wish to continue the RE-Development and RE-Vitalization of New London...

PLEASE help RE-Elect:

1A-Reid Burdick
3A-Rob Perno

Democrats

3B-Peg Curtin
6B-Ernest Hewett

Republicans

These four city councilors have put party politics aside and consistently worked together to support our city.

EVEry Vote Counts!

Last election was won by less than 50 votes.

Your decision will make the difference.

"The Committee to Keep New London Moving Forward is a non-political group of citizens who love New London and who want to see its rebirth successfully completed."

Walter V. Baker - Honorary Chairman

Paid for by the Committee to Keep New London Moving Forward. A non-partisan, issue-oriented political action committee registered in the State of Connecticut. Larry Duck, Treasurer.
Local Election Will Impact Redevelopment of the River

Conn's Claytons Run for Board of Ed

Conn's plan is to "have parents directly and indirectly involved in their children's academic process so that children achieve at higher levels". He adds that he is concerned about having more time to teach second-language courses for university privileges. Clayton hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the public policy arena, or continue to serve in the legislative arena. Clayton's campaign has designed her own major in Education, Urban Sociology, and English. She hopes to work in the...
Believe Politics has nothing to do with your life?

Skeptical about government?

Discover the true facts

Intern at the Connecticut State Capitol

Learn about state government and earn academic credit this spring semester as a legislative intern at the State Capitol. Work with a state senator or representative and develop first-hand knowledge of the real world of politics.

Both part-time and full-time internships are available. A major in political science and prior political experience are not required.

Academic credit is granted by most colleges and universities. In addition, a travel stipend is awarded to cover the cost of travel to the State Capitol. To learn more about this program and obtain further information, see your campus career adviser.

---

StarMedia Chairman Fernando Espuelas '88 Bridges Internet and Latin America

By JEAN MILLARD

StarMedia Chairman and CEO of StarMedia Network, the top Internet company in Latin America. He used his background in advertising and telecommunications to launch StarMedia, which now has over 1000 employees and over five million subscribers in nine countries. The company helped to launch the Internet in Latin America and provide Internet access to over 400,000 people and over five million subscribers.

According to Espuelas, the Internet can be a powerful ally against dictatorial governments controlling the dissemination of information. He says, "The Internet is becoming a prime example. When Argentina invaded the Falkland Islands, the government informed its people that it had lost British ships and was winning the war. In reality, the war was going poorly for the Argentine government, it was losing young boys in the war. When the war was fought today, Espuelas thinks that the information available over the Internet would keep governments from convincing their people that they were winning the war.

The major change Espuelas hopes the Internet will bring about in Latin America is to connect and enable people to meet and understand each other. His assistance to various South American countries meets each country over the Internet and realizes that they are not enemies, though they may have differences.

As for what does Con have to say, Espuelas attributes some of his success in his decision to enroll at Connecticut College. "I can tell you, probably the best decision I’ve ever made, other than meeting and marrying my wife," whom he also met at Conn.

---

SGA to Examine Vandalism, Honor Code

By JORDAN WILCOX

Not quite sure what SGA has been doing for you lately? The SGA asked Student Government Association President Minor Myers to speak about their work during the last meeting of the semester, which was held on Wednesday, October 23rd.

"There are three broad issues and concerns that the SGA has been focusing on," said Myers. "Vandalism, community, and the honor code."

Vandalism

"Vandalism," Myers said, "is of course a term of respect and one that is interesting to many. The SGA are currently investigating the potential of being able to use the Internet and implementing design concepts that are of this nature, such as correcting online inappropriate punishments, surveys, and focusing on ways to get students involved in the vandalized area and prevent these instances."

Community

The SGA is in the middle of a campaign to support students in New London. Concrete plans include an increase in student union dollars held in the City in order to possible student commercial discounts, and a campaign to increase student participation in the New London City Council. The SGA also wants to increase their involvement on the local level by holding events for the College Center at Unionville-Wilton extended in order to prevent negative neighborhood impacts.

Honor Code

Another important new development in SGA this year is the formation of an independent Honor Code Review Committee, in response to the work of the Judicial Board last spring and fall, which will be the culmination of the Student Government Association's (SGA) work in the vandalized area and prevention of these instances.

"There’s a lot of other about how we want to increase diversity on campus, and what the strategy, do the trend," said Myers noting that the Strategic Plan is still under consideration.

"Do we have a specific position on it? No," said Myers. SGA is going to hold its own forum on the topic, and the plan is to have a think about what they’re feeling and what they want to do.

Honor Code Review

Another important new development in SGA this year is the formation of an independent Honor Code Review Committee, in response to the work of the Judicial Board last spring and fall, which will be the culmination of the Student Government Association’s (SGA) work in the vandalized area and prevention of these instances. The SGA is focusing on how they can influence the honor code on this topic.

"This is something I’ve never been involved in before," said Peck on his new position as the SGA's Fremont Cardinal. "SGA is a very political position. What I appreciate most about this position is that it’s the student’s representation to the Honor Code. It’s important, in many respects, as an advisor to the student’s, and more so for the students. The most important thing is that I believe the students, and the SGA are in the best position to make this decision.

"I don’t have a lot of experience with the honor code, but I think it’s really critical, when they come into a university and see other people acting in ways that are really different from what they expected, and they go to their senators and say, ‘what are you gonna do about this?’ That’s what we’re going to do:

"We will be working with the administration, trying to increase student participation in this, and that involves working closely with the honor code and the administration to increase the number of students involved in the process."

---

Josh Peck Elected Freshman President

By LAUREN McTHER

Recently-elected freshman President Josh Peck did not consider other with relative ease last week, garnering 199 votes, with 223 votes not knowing that his opponent.

"Our position is really great," he said. "I have a great vision for what we want to do, to get the most out of our school. We want to make sure that we’re all working together, and that we’re all working hard. I want to see more live music at the university."

Josh Peck ‘03 will be representing this fall in his second semester at the University of Connecticut and the Wind Instrument Band on campus. He believes that his music background and his academic involvement as a Freshman President will be a benefit to the university. "I want to see more live music at the university." He also envisions people in various South American countries meeting each other over the Internet and realizing that they are not enemies, though they may have differences.

---

The Res Life FROG Award

This year's recipient is the Office of the Resident Life Coordinator (ORLC). The ORLC works with the freshmen students who have promoted student spirit and gone beyond the call of duty and received their department with the FROG award (For Recognition Of Greatness).

This year, we collected nominations from housefellows and governors and the House of Representatives selected the outstanding students to be recognized for the month of October. The FROG award for the month of October are:

- Elise Danielson ‘03, Jane Addams - for initiating and writing the JA weekly newsletter which has helped to create an awareness of current events.
- Vlad Karan ‘00, Marshall - for being an enthusiastic and effective student housefellow and taking his position seriously.
- Katie Froelich and Lauren Kellerman ‘03, Blackstone - for helping with the freshman BBQ, an open mike night and organizing a dorm door decorating contest for Halloween.
- We would like to congratulate all who were nominated and encourage future nominations for this award from the entire student body. The form is included in the Voice. Please return to Box 4051 or e-mail to ccmillon@connecticut.edu. Please submit entries by the 15th of November.

FROG AWARD PLEASE briefly describe why you believe your nominee should be recognized for the award. Try to include specific examples of outstanding behavior and/or spirit.

Name:

Date:

Dorm:

---

The Voice

FRI, DEC 10, 1999

---

Connecticut College

---

---
Gaudiani wants to remind students that the opening of the downtown dorm, students will look out on State Street instead of Arbo trees. Ten years ago, parents of a student arrives in a conflict of interest. Zack Fellow ’02 agrees, "I feel it is not a race to the lowest of any lawschool in New England – about half of the median income. MSL’s main focus is on teaching you the laws that are desired in business. Andover, Mass. 24,448 $17,986 $19,084 $24,448 School 12 $17,075 $14,850 $1300 London 130 Paris 154 Barcelona 176 Amsterdam 154 From New York with love back to a place that not everyone may tend to "the Academy's Charter—what is a learned society to "cultivate every art, way based on a leading-edge, paradigm, science, global leadership, innovation, through the Academy to "rejuvenate the city by providing more of a young atmosphere. Gaudiani wants to remind students that more businesses are entering downtown and more young professionals are moving in, creating an atmosphere more conducive to students. Council considers the project as experimental, and if it fails, the College for other options. If there is a lack of interest, the apartments will be rented out by the College to faculty or staff. Other faculty and staff members seem to be very optimistic and many students are definitely looking forward to the opportunity to become immersed in the city. With the opening of the downtown dorm, students will look out on State Street instead of Arbo trees.
WHILE WE ALL KNOW THE SOCKS RULE...

Features

WILLOWS Dividend Allocated Among Hall Staff Over Sox-Yankees Fandom

B. COLBY WARD

The Yankees and the Red Sox squared off recently in the American League Championship Series, and fans of both teams turned on their TVs during games to offer their support. Now, however, they’re shifting their attention from real-world baseball to the baseball game of life. Some devoted fans and regular members recently demonstrated that being a Red Sox or Yankees fan isn’t as cut-and-dried as it once was. The teams are no longer just a source of fandom for fans of either team; they’re also a source of fandom for fans of both teams.

A TV during games to offer their support. Now, however, they’re shifting their attention from real-world baseball to the baseball game of life. Some devoted fans and regular members recently demonstrated that being a Red Sox or Yankees fan isn’t as cut-and-dried as it once was. The teams are no longer just a source of fandom for fans of either team; they’re also a source of fandom for fans of both teams.

One can plainly see that the stakes in the series were just a little bit higher for these devoted fans. One of the most regrettable decisions ever, said Red Sox fans, was when they lost the World Series for the New York Yankees. Since that decision, the stakes for Red Sox fans have been even higher. Last year, Red Sox fans were dealt another loss to the Yankees, but they still have hope for the future.

The Yankees, on the other hand, have had a much more successful season. They’ve won the World Series for the past two years and are likely to do so again this year. This has caused some Red Sox fans to feel a bit left out in the cold. The confident streak and “never say die” attitude of a Yankees fan is a thing to behold. Being a fan of the most successful sports franchise in all of time has its own advantages.

Fortunately, even though the series is now over, there are fans of both teams who can still be found rooting for a team that hasn’t won in 10 years. The Yankees and the Red Sox have been a force in baseball for the past century, and they’re likely to remain that way for the foreseeable future. The fans of both teams are a testament to the enduring appeal of baseball.

Despite the high stakes, the rivalry hasn’t caused any friction. Red Sox fans in general are a thoughtful bunch, and they tend to be respectful of the Yankees. However, there is a sense of rivalry that exists between the two teams. It’s a healthy rivalry, but it’s also a friendly one.

The rivalry between the two teams has even inspired some fans to create a new team, the Boston-Yankees. This team is a combination of the two existing teams and is known for its high-scoring games. Fans of both teams can root for this team, and it’s a way to show support for both the Yankees and the Red Sox.

The rivalry between the two teams has even inspired some fans to create a new team, the Boston-Yankees. This team is a combination of the two existing teams and is known for its high-scoring games. Fans of both teams can root for this team, and it’s a way to show support for both the Yankees and the Red Sox.

The rivalry between the two teams has even inspired some fans to create a new team, the Boston-Yankees. This team is a combination of the two existing teams and is known for its high-scoring games. Fans of both teams can root for this team, and it’s a way to show support for both the Yankees and the Red Sox.

The rivalry between the two teams has even inspired some fans to create a new team, the Boston-Yankees. This team is a combination of the two existing teams and is known for its high-scoring games. Fans of both teams can root for this team, and it’s a way to show support for both the Yankees and the Red Sox.

The rivalry between the two teams has even inspired some fans to create a new team, the Boston-Yankees. This team is a combination of the two existing teams and is known for its high-scoring games. Fans of both teams can root for this team, and it’s a way to show support for both the Yankees and the Red Sox.

The rivalry between the two teams has even inspired some fans to create a new team, the Boston-Yankees. This team is a combination of the two existing teams and is known for its high-scoring games. Fans of both teams can root for this team, and it’s a way to show support for both the Yankees and the Red Sox.

The rivalry between the two teams has even inspired some fans to create a new team, the Boston-Yankees. This team is a combination of the two existing teams and is known for its high-scoring games. Fans of both teams can root for this team, and it’s a way to show support for both the Yankees and the Red Sox.
SPORTS

Wet Win for Men’s Soccer

An exciting come-from-behind victory has the team pumped

BY MATT SKESAK

The Colgate soccer team’s season got off to a strong start, surprising Salve Regina on Wednesday to end two straight losses. The Colgate men’s soccer team was nearly shut out by Salve Regina, but a 2-1 comeback win has the team on a roll.

First Water Polo Season a Success

BY CHARLES HASSELL

The Men’s Water Polo team won over 50% of their games this season.

Goose Jumped Out a 10-lead Men

The Colgate College men’s soccer team has a big game against Salve Regina on Wednesday to try to keep their momentum alive. The game will be played at 5pm at the Colgate Soccer Field.

Women’s Volleyball Still Struggles

BY NANCY NIEK}

The women’s volleyball team has struggled to find consistency this season.

Next Week’s Schedule

The Colgate College men’s soccer team will face off against Salve Regina on Wednesday at 5pm at the Colgate Soccer Field. The game will be a key matchup in the conference.

---

Intramural Sports

The Colgate College intramural sports teams are gearing up for the fall season. The intramural sports teams include volleyball, basketball, and soccer.

First Water Polo Season a Success

The Men’s Water Polo team won over 50% of their games this season.

Women’s Volleyball Still Struggles

The women’s volleyball team has struggled to find consistency this season.

---

Intramural Sports

The Colgate College intramural sports teams are gearing up for the fall season. The intramural sports teams include volleyball, basketball, and soccer.

First Water Polo Season a Success

The Men’s Water Polo team won over 50% of their games this season.

Women’s Volleyball Still Struggles

The women’s volleyball team has struggled to find consistency this season.

---

Intramural Sports

The Colgate College intramural sports teams are gearing up for the fall season. The intramural sports teams include volleyball, basketball, and soccer.

First Water Polo Season a Success

The Men’s Water Polo team won over 50% of their games this season.

Women’s Volleyball Still Struggles

The women’s volleyball team has struggled to find consistency this season.
Field Hockey

Still Trucking! 4-8 Camels to Play Bates at HomeComing

By NED DEBARY

October 2nd and 4th, and walked away from the other games, but it was no water polo coach Ken Ralph attended its first few games, and there was no "Conn jumper out to an early lead, and the rest of the game the entire time. The camels finished third in the team's next three races. Conn finished first at the Con-

New Hall of Fame Opens Its Doors

Seven Former Athletes to Be Honored at Opening

By CHARLES HASSELL

On September 17th, the College's cross-country team cracked the Top 10 in the 2003 Cross Country Poll for the first time, finishing fourth out of 34 finishers. The All-New England Championship team was named by the Northeast Region. The winning team in the meet was Maine's Bates. The team was also aided by Emily Thomas’ long jump- ing finish at the Cornfield Track Meet. She placed third in the mile.

Wives' Cross Country Out in Front

By NED DEBARY

On September 20th, the College's Wives' cross-country team was entered in the Labor Day Invitational, finishing fourth out of 34 finishers. The winning team was99-3 record and back-to-back undefeated seasons, and a goalie against Bates. They played well, but they couldn't put it all together, and as a result, the team was defeated 2-1. But, the team was still growing and has shown great offensive potential but needs to improve defensively.

By MATHEW B. KESSLER

The team was held scoreless in its last four games. In those games, they have scored only one goal, although it was the deciding goal in the team's 1-0 victory over Bates.

Conn Women's Soccer Set for Homecoming Game Against Bates

The team's first game of the season was against perennial league power Williams. "People like to think that we did well last year, but we really didn't," said forward Sara Sklarsky '03. "We have to work hard and get ready for every game."..."Conn's defense certainly hasn't scored two goals since the beginning of the season," said Walworth. "The defense has played well, and our goalkeepers have been solid."

Scoring has been a bright spot for the team this season. Eight players have recorded at least one goal, and the team has scored a total of 20 goals. However, the defense has been less successful, with a goal against Bates being the only goal of the season. The defense will need to improve in order to keep the team's league standing.

The College Voice can help you stay informed. For only $40.00, you will receive twenty-five issues of the newspaper covering each week of the academic year. Campus news, sports, arts, entertainment, and opinion will arrive at your mailbox each week.

Imagine calling your son or daughter, and saying, "I'm going to be at the opening game against Colby. Let's plan the surprise look at your student's face when you quiz them about the game!"

A U N I M U N I T E

SUBSCRIBE to the COLLEGE VOICE!

The College Voice is available for purchase at the following locations:

College Park
310 Upland Rd.
New London, CT
06320

Mail Order
Box 4970
Connecticut College
New London, CT 06381

Please call us at (860) 439-2841.

Questions? Problems? Comments?

For $35, find out everything about the College.

ONLY $35 to subscribe for the remainder of the academic year!

A T Y P E R

MAIL AT ONCE to: The College Voice
Box 4970
Connecticut College

For the remaining 14 weeks of the academic year, you will receive 20 issues of the newspaper.

Questions? Problems? Comments?

Please call us at (860) 439-2841.

For $35, find out everything about the College.

ONLY $35 to subscribe for the remainder of the academic year!

A T Y P E R

MAIL AT ONCE to: The College Voice
Box 4970
Connecticut College

For the remaining 14 weeks of the academic year, you will receive 20 issues of the newspaper.

Questions? Problems? Comments?

Please call us at (860) 439-2841.

For $35, find out everything about the College.

ONLY $35 to subscribe for the remainder of the academic year!

A T Y P E R

MAIL AT ONCE to: The College Voice
Box 4970
Connecticut College

For the remaining 14 weeks of the academic year, you will receive 20 issues of the newspaper.

Questions? Problems? Comments?

Please call us at (860) 439-2841.

For $35, find out everything about the College.

ONLY $35 to subscribe for the remainder of the academic year!

A T Y P E R

MAIL AT ONCE to: The College Voice
Box 4970
Connecticut College

For the remaining 14 weeks of the academic year, you will receive 20 issues of the newspaper.

Questions? Problems? Comments?

Please call us at (860) 439-2841.

For $35, find out everything about the College.

ONLY $35 to subscribe for the remainder of the academic year!

A T Y P E R

MAIL AT ONCE to: The College Voice
Box 4970
Connecticut College

For the remaining 14 weeks of the academic year, you will receive 20 issues of the newspaper.

Questions? Problems? Comments?

Please call us at (860) 439-2841.