NEW HONOR COMES TO CONNECTICUT COLLEGE.

Connecticut College was elected Secretary of the Women’s Inter-collegiate Association for Student Government for the year 1926-27 at the annual conference held November 13-15. It will hold the presidential office and Radcliffe the vice-presidency. Its executive committee and will have charge of the program and plans for next year. Connecticut College will have three delegates, two sent by the college, and another, the recording secretary, sent by the Association.

Phi Beta Kappa Meet at Luncheon in Thames.

Twelve Local Members Present.

Phi Beta Kappa members of New London held a luncheon in Thames Hall, November 19th. At this meeting, Dr. Oscar M. Voorhees, Secretary of the Phi Beta Kappa National Association, spoke on matters relating to the founding of the honorary society at Williams and Yale College. Voorhees meeting was to effect some degree of organization among the local members for the promotion of scholarly ideals in the schools of New London.

Connecticut College and New London members of the society who attended the luncheon were the following: Caroline A. Black, Mildred M. Hauser, Edward M. Chapin, Malv Storer, Theodosia Hewlett, Robert E. Holmes, Henry W. Lawrence, Jr., Ethel Smith, Benjamin F. Marshall, Frank E. Morris, George S. Palmer, Hannah S. Roach, John E. Wells, and Jessie Blumen Weiss.

EMINENT PROFESSOR OF PHILOSOPHY TO SPEAK AT CONVOCATION

"Education for Democracy" is Topic

Charles Montague Bakewell, professor of Philosophy at Yale University, will speak at the next convocation, Nov. 25. His subject is "Education for Democracy.

Professor Bakewell is a graduate of the University of California and Bryn Mawr, and now holds that position at Yale. He was a member of the Connecticut State Senate in 1920. He was Chairman of the Committee on Education. He is also very interested in the American Red Cross. In 1918, he was mayor in the Italian Commission of the American Red Cross in Italy. While there he was twice decorated by the Italian Government. In connection with this work Dr. Bakewell wrote the "Story of the American Red Cross in Italy."

Professor Bakewell has done other writing besides this and has edited many. He wrote "Source Book in Ancient Philosophy," and has edited Evensyner’s Edition of "Selected Papers in Philosophy," Emerson’s Poems, "The Education of Ears," "Inanimate Nature," "Philosophy of Goethe’s Faust" by Thomas Davidson.

LUMPS IN THE MASHED POTATOES.

In spite of all jokes, jesting or praction- ing of the solemn art of potatoes, there are lumps in the mashed potatoes of collegiate life. These lumps may come by un- noticed, for it may be girls, or women, or not fall to tally and tabulate such lumps as are present. They seem to wreak the lives of the super-sensitive, and thus indirectly the lives of those who are normal and moderately sensitive. The normal person being sufficiently acute notices or senses presence, but they do not overwhelm her. The case does not parallel David and Goliath. She seems to center in things of no more heat and energy, in both physical and mental life. At times It is inter-

FREE SPEECH.

(The Editors of the Senate do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions expressed in this column.)

During our last issue, "J's" criticism of the bookshop shows that she sees only half of the ques- tion. In fact, I do not believe she sees even half. She seems to have no idea that the bookshop is not a place for attending classes and keeping appointment.

In the first place, she mentions hav- ing the door slam in her face at clo-

DANCE-AS-IT-WERE.

On November 15th, the Sophomore Class of Connecticut College held its oft-heralded "Ceremonial Dance," and the attendance greatly exceeded that of any previous year.

"The necessity for buying the books seems to center in things of no more heat and energy, in both physical and mental life. At times It is inter-

"A COLLEGE MAN'S WAR."
ALUMNAE COLUMN: Although none but the one and only Juline has sent me any notes, I have quite a few notes to get off my chest and so I hereby unburden myself.

Agnes Leahy, who, as you all know, is working at Columbia, informs me that there is now a paid student at the college. She is responsible for getting the news from the field to Alumnae. I hope that everyone will keep the time-worn alibi of "not getting my notes." Perhaps it will be representative to begin this Alumnae column with the Warner family. Juline '19 has been Mrs. Elmo R. Constock since August 13th. Her husband is an artist and writer of children's books and resides in Lansing, N. Y. As Juline so quaintly puts it, "I acquired not only a husband, but a whole family-including house, lot, and two boys, age 15 and 7." Marjorie '29 is an instructor in Chemistry at Colorado College, Colorado Springs, Colorado.

SILENCE in the penalty? The verdict rendered was in the positive. Sanctioning an illegal act hampers approal, and all participants in a crime share the punishment of the guilt.

As to the penalties given by student council, it was advised that they should not be set; should be adjusted to the individual girl in the case. Publicity of the more serious cases should be given, but in a restricted form, so that the student will be warned others of misbehavior and acquaint them with the results warranted form such actions.

During the conference small discussion groups were held and Connecticut College led the gathering of delegates from colleges with less than 500 students. Some topics brought up for discussion were the governing body with its legislative and judicial branches, and the relation of the Dean to the students.

Finally, the general sense of the Conference was an optimistic one; anyone attending the session could not fail to be impressed with the helpful spirit existing between colleges.

The discussions were generalized and problems presented as fundamentally as possible. In order that delegates might return to their respective colleges with a definite foundation as a basis for making their organizations more workable, vital, and constructive part of college life and activity.
