Thanksgiving Subject To Vacation Rulings

Students are reminded that the night before Thanksgiving lies on a Tuesday; if, however, the night of Thanksgiving happens to be a Wednesday, the vacation rule also applies to that holiday.

Drama Class Gives Roman Comedy "Pot Of Gold Tomorrow"

Tomorrow afternoon, November 15 at 4:30 in Palmer auditorium, Artistic Sociology's production class will present "Pot of Gold," a comedy by the Roman dramatist Plautus.

Dr. Morris, the professor, said that the play was written in 200 B.C., it has remained popular, for it contains a humorous allusion to Alcibiades, and a swift-moving plot which the modern audience demands.

The cast is as follows:

Eschbis, the miser, Paul Milligan of Suffield; Eunuch, Frank Faulkner; Slapstick, Eutro's wife, Barbara Zuber; the hero's slave, Harriet Kultur; Eutro, Maria Harkins of New London; a neighbor, Sarah Levenson; 46, Tracy Collins; General Tarsus, Gerry Henny; Syrian, Lillian Scanlon; Paradox, Arus and Canopus, slaves, Nancy Braden '47 and Roberta Jacobson; the housekeeper, Eutro's wife, Barbara Rubenoff; Eutro, Richard Bussentruck.

Patricia Thomas '47 is stage manager for the production.

The student body can obtain tickets in advance for the performance.

Koine of 1919 Is Grandma To Coming Issue

by Helene Suhler '46 and Shirley Armstrong '45

What is Koine? Why does the word come to your mind? Koine is a woman of the Connecticut year who is known for her common language. Originally, it was simple and plump, but now it has sources having a common bond.

From this term, was derived the name of the Connecticut year which is common language or bond among the students.

Koine, first published in 1919, has continued to grow with the college since that date. The version of 1919 was considerably different from the one used today, and was designed for the 1945 yearbook, for it was devoted almost entirely to the seniors.

Koine's past is that of the years when Veronica Lake has been the talk of the town, and the radio stars have been radio stars. It started in 1919 with the purpose of being the voice of the students hung in the dormitories, but it isn't every day that a faculty member is asked to be a nominee for the national assembly.

Most of the yearbook pictures and cartoons have been replaced by neat, white photographs which was not possible in the past; it was not even considered. The first issue of the 1919 Koine that might be representative of the life of the writer. This is the section on which this recall is based. In this issue, there were some words found in 200 B.C., a poem, and a short ten-minute paper.

They say he has only become more efficient since.

Many of the traditions, which have become the pride of Koine, were started in the class of 1919. Among the most prominent, are the monthly Koines, the meeting of the Koine, and the Koine at the Greek House.

The Koine has grown and developed into the yearbook we now have, the yearbook which truly lives up to its name, Koine.

Pledges for Community Chest Payable to Xmas

From approximate figures, the total expected for the Community chest will be approximately $1,582.50, with the Children's Home collecting about $1,390.30. The chest may also be increased by the addition of the $590.00 collected by the Hospital Auxiliary.

The Community Chest committee has asked for the cooperation of the faculty, the administration, the students, and the parents.

During the first world war, he served in France as chaplain, and has been a member of the faculty of Butler University, Indianapolis, for 17 years. In 1941, he was chaplain of the 118th Infantry, 30th Division, and as chaplain of the 30th Division, Connecticut, and at present is chaplain of the Veteran's Home at Rocky Hill, Conn., with the rank of captain.

Bond and Stamp Sale Total Hits $2,181.30

The results of the War Bond and Stamp sale to date are as follows:

Class of 1945 $168.55
Class of 1946 $98.55
 Faculty and Administration $1,882.15

The demand for stamps on the campus is much greater than the stamp sales committee's ability to supply them. However, it is hoped that this situation will be remedied by an increase in the revolving fund.

There is a large goal to reach and it must be remembered that only bonds count towards its attainment. So get a book, collect the bonds and stamps, and purchase your bonds through the committee.

Illustrated Panels On City Designing Are on Display Now

Look at Your Neighborhood, an exhibition on city planning, is now being held at the YWCA of New London. This show was prepared at the request of the University of New England and the YWCA of New London. It is a part of the Educational Training for Women's Unit of the Alumyn museum. This consists of two parts, one with photographs, graphs, and text, which is devoted to city planning, the other with hazard, unplanned building; and the need for development of a truly great post-war world, based on the idea of the individual in his community.

Designed by Rudolph Mock

Designed by the architect, Rudolph Mock, is The Opportunity for Women, which was specially designed by Claire Steine, one of the foremost New England women's leaders of the present day. This show was prepared at the request of the University of New England and the YWCA of New London. It is a part of the Educational Training for Women's Unit of the Alumyn museum.

The speaker at the vesper services on Thursday, November 17, Mr. Mock, will say a few words about International Student Affairs, and the first article of interest to the student body will be a new series of articles which should hold special interest for students of International Student Affairs.

Rev. Daniel R. Kennedy Will Be Vesper Speaker On Sun., November 19

The speaker of the vesper services will be Rev. Daniel R. Kennedy, Jr., of Suffield, Conn. Kennedy, a native of New England, is the head of the local organization of the Student Christian Movement in the World, and serves on the administrative council.

Cross and Lerner To Peace Plans Nov. 17-18

Speeches, Discussion And Coffee Will Mark Weekend's Activities

Friday and Saturday, November 17 and 18, will mark International Week End for the 1944-45 school year.

The purpose of International Week End is to acquaint students with problems of a world nature. A definite period is set aside for discussion, and information is presented which will help the aim of the committee being to give the student thought and activity over a longer period of time.

The first student thought and activity is the student members are invited to attend the meetings scheduled on November 17 and 18.

It is fitting that the first day of the program, Columbus Day should fall on International Students' day, and it is thought that this would have an effect on the students body an opportunity to coordinate all the activities with the foreign economic problems that will be the topic of the week's lectures.

Coffee to Precede Lecture

Dr. Lerner, professor of Romance Languages at Harvard, will speak in 106 Hill hall. His talk will be entitled "Europe After Peace. Dr. Cross will be introduced by Adela Thomsen, a student, who will read a few words about International Students' Week.

There will be an informal discussion after the lectures.

Saturday, November 18, Mr. Max Lerner, assistant to the editor of PM, will be on campus to deliver a lecture in Palmer auditorium on "What About Peace?"

Mr. Lerner will arrive Satur- day, November 17, in New London with members of the Connecticut College Chapter of the International Students' League after which there will be a special meeting of the League at 7:30 p.m. to which fifty members of the International Students' League of New London, Norwich and vicinity, and ninety-five students have been invited.

USSA Paper Notes Campus Activities

The November issue of Assembly Line, an organizational newspaper published by the United States Student, contained two articles which should hold special interest for the students of this college.

The first was a story on the history of USSA on this campus. The Assembly Line staff writes that the local organization of a four student club was founded on campus in the fall of 1938 under the title of the American Student Union and the spirit with which Lucile Lebovich '45 and Nancy Stackleph together cooperated with the activities of the chapter. Special emphasis in the past election year was given to the work of the local organization. The paper played in the past election, the activities of the chapter on campus is the analysis of the November, 1943 election in a special article written by Shirley Armstrong '45. She was the winner of the election, with one vote being set aside as "naive looking" and "doubted to see its modern face when it comes of age."

Dear News,

Having rather expected a flood of student answers to the letter from the Hungry Ones of Chairman, members of the teaching staff did not think they needed to remark upon a communication so flagrantly uninformed—though its authors would not have it flattered to be the centum of large numbers of adults (faculty and student alumni) on campus.

But since no one has arisen to call the attention of the writers to the fact that the problems of buying and distributing food are now such as part, in a large measure, all the ingenuity of experts to bring them, that should perhaps be done. It is even rumored that some foods are difficult to obtain in quantity, and that others have increased in price.

I am reminded of the I-sayer-could in my block who played three saxophones the night of the 1938 hurricane because the Good Humor ice cream man did not make his usual rounds, and who was found, four days later, still sitting on his stoop with his saxophone. The view is, because his mother was dead, and had so imperceptively a notion about the dignity of effort, and his consummate importance in the universe of the universe.

Yours sincerely,

Editorial Staff

President Labels Women Heedless of Duties During War

President Dorothy Schaffer's chapel discussion on Tuesday morning was a frank and revealing address about women who sees during the war. Dean Virginia Gildersleeve of Barnard College, of the first of the article. The president said that there is probably more other women who knows more about the war. Gildersleeve does say, and that she is also "skilled and mature parti- taking in the world of professional news, and making them liable to equal punishment should they pursue. The laboratory students other woman who knows more the benefit of their many varied occupations. Women who enters the central, women from entering the testing of the consequences of the participation which are very significant. The president continued by saying that we will not ask the right to one of these women, because that was "the participation of women would women's political rights." She noted the present attitude of women workers toward this idea. Women workers have been well-informed when the political action of 1919, the women who denied the address the author's conclusion in their families, unchanged and pointed to the need for more access for all who wish to read them. The librarian has an- other group of students who have signed up for this so-called work at the library to borrow for the week. They can get it if you try." Prof. Cleland took his lesson on the revered painting of "Landscape with Trees and Fig- ure," which defines faith as "the simple formula "What was, is, will be,"" he answered any question asked. We are blind because our eyes are only open for the moment, and our minds are only open for the moment. The reason why the world gets into a series of pictures is that it is active; it is active because it is active.

One of CC's Especially Good Neighbors Is Juana Guruceta

by Janice Sorensen '47

Juana Maria ("Juanita aka stu") Guruceta, viva la revolution, featherboated member of the class of '47, comes to Connecticut College with a wonderful background and a supply of charm that raises the term "good neighbor" to a new level.

The Guruceta family comes from a small Basque village in the Pyrenees. Juana was born in 1921 in the Basque province of Guipuzcoa, and spent much of her childhood in the Basque provinces. She was back to Spain to live un- til 1954, then moved to the United States and attended Drew Seminary in Carmel, N.Y. She then went to the University of Paris, France, and has done graduate work in painting.

Juana Maria is a member of the class of '48, and spent the summer of 1944 at the University of London, where she took courses in French. She has decided to major in painting and to continue her studies in the United States.

Juana Maria is the daughter of Manuel and Juana Maria Guruceta. She is the oldest of five children, and has four younger brothers. The family has been in the Basque province for many generations.

MORE FREE SPEECH

Dear Editor:

Last week an article was printed in Free Speech concerning the various projects for morale-builing and the projects for War Service activities, and suggesting that some definite action be taken towards making it compulsory for each girl to give an hour a week to War Service work. In reply, the committee would like first to give the college the definite figures on registration.

Total registration in college 747

Campus students 40

War Service registrants 396

Total not registered for War Services 161

Let us analyze the 161 who are not registered. Of the 161 who are not registered, 46 are commuters. These students are in a rather hard position because many of our courses and activities take place at night, and it is hard for them to go home for dinner and come up to the campus again. Moreover, many of the commuter students are doing regular war activities in New London through the U.S.O. and the Red Cross. However, a special attempt is being made to have those commuters who have some free time during the day, roll bandages, making surgical dressings, and filling and assembling the kit baggage. These activities can be worked in during free periods in the daily schedule.

Forty-four more of the non-signers are girls on probation. By a simple trick of addition and registration many of the commuters are doing regular war activities in New London through the U.S.O. and the Red Cross. However, a special attempt is being made to have those commuters who have some free time during the day, roll bandages, making surgical dressings, and filling and assembling the kit baggage. These activities can be worked in during free periods in the daily schedule.

This article appeared in the contributor's column of the New York Times magazine last week. The letter was written by a woman who expresses disgust for the mud-slinging conduct of men in politics, and declares that "the only outstanding, heart-and-mind arguments of almost all of the campaign speeches were made by two women.

The deciding hockey game of the season was played last Wednesday with the seniors and the sophomores as opponents. The game was a grueling one with sudden trips up and down the field. Sad to say, the "old ladies" didn't seem as young as they used to be, and confidentially the sophomores were rather winded too. Nevertheless, the sophomores won the championship game by a score of 3-1. This victory gave the sophomores first place in the race. The season this year was very good as each team played the hockey team by a score of 3-1. Each team deserves a word of praise.

under way last week having been postponed because of inclement weather. Each section shot half a column round for five days. The sections were divided into advanced and beginners. The scores are posted every day, and the top three rounds will be counted.

Since the competition was concluded this afternoon, the winners will be announced in next week's column.

Penbrooke Hockey Game

This afternoon the C.C. hockey team played the hockey team from Penbrooke. The game began shortly after four. The results can not be printed here as we had already gone to press when the game began, but I'll give you the details next week.

This game was the first played since the start of the war. C.C.'s team is as follows: Roberts, Shields, MacFadyen, Lawrence, Holleith, Paul, Sichel, Warrington, Stanley and Cobb. The subs are Eastburn, Romig, Wilson, Clark, and Campbell.

Speedball

I regret to say that I have forgotten you indirectly about the speedball games. Each section is divided into two teams. The 4:30 section consists of the Politicians and the C.C. Stitlers, and the 2:30 section consists of the Pinks and the Blues. On October 30, the Politicians and the Pinks played a 2-0 game with the Pinks winning, while the C.C. Stitlers and the Blues played a tie game, 5-5. Last Monday, the Politicians and the Blues played a 44 tie. This loss to the C.C. Stitlers by a score of 4-2. This white up the speedball season.
