Financial Woes Leave Projects in Limbo

By KATIE HANDWERGER

Despite last month's budget forecast, the plan was soon reversed. The announcements of several long-range projects have gone unfulfilled by recent events. At one time, these projects were a cause for celebration; now, they are reminders of the unfinished business that lies ahead.

The school has already allocated $1 million to pay for a new science wing. Though the plan was to proceed with the construction, it has since been put on hold. The postponed projects include a new library, a new gymnasium, and a new performing arts center.

The college is facing financial difficulties, and it has been forced to cut back on its spending. This has affected not only the school's operations but also its ability to carry out its academic mission.

Though the school is still committed to its goals, it is clear that the college will have to find ways to make ends meet. This may mean cutting back on some of its plans and focusing on those that are essential to its core mission.

The students are concerned about the impact of these cuts on their education. They are asking for more transparency and accountability from the administration.

The college has assured the students that it will continue to provide a high-quality education, but they are worried about the future of the institution. They are calling for a more active role in decision-making and a greater say in the direction of the college.

Interim President Lewis Ready to Work

By COREY WALTER

Ten years ago, when David Lewis took Connecticut College with his college-going son, he never expected that he would be working here. He certainly never imagined he would be working in the president's office.

Lewis says he plans to continue the work that has been started by President Gaudiani. He says he is committed to the college's mission and is proud to be a part of it.

The college has a strong relationship with the local community, and Lewis says he plans to continue this tradition. He is interested in working with the students, faculty, and staff to make the college a place where everyone can thrive.

The college is facing financial challenges, and Lewis says he is committed to finding ways to make ends meet. He is also interested in improving the college's academic programs and ensuring that all students have the opportunity to succeed.

The college is committed to being a leader in the community and is working to make a positive impact on the lives of its students. Lewis says he is excited to be a part of this important work and is looking forward to the future.
J-Board Required to Print Log

Based on an interview with J-Board Chair ... d iscount with this ad. Offer expires 12/46 W. Main St. Mystic, CT 06355

The College Voice
Editorial/Opinion

PAGE 2

Friday, October 27, 2000

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Student Urges Peace in the Middle East

To the editor:

For the past several weeks, I have found in conversation and in the editorials of The College Voice that we are often cast as the victims of the current Middle East conflict. This has led me to be confused about what you read in the papers and want the new president to do about it. So, I think it would be helpful if you could write an editorial in The College Voice about the conflict between the Israelis and Palestinians...
Hate Crime Laws or Thought Crime Laws? Refocusing Shared Governance

TIM STEVENS
COMPLAINT OF THE WEEK

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 2000
THE COLLEGE VOICE
OPINION

Hate Crime Laws or Thought Crime Laws? Refocusing Shared Governance

Now that the college has had a couple of weeks to settle down now from Clinton's immigration, we need to look at where we stand as a college on the issue of shared governance before we find her impeachment.

In the beginning, we had to have a common definition of what shared governance is. As students, we need to be involved in our governing body in every step of the way. As they say, "we the people" are running this country, not just the president and the administration. The college is no different. By having students, faculty, and staff as well as the administration share the power, we can create a better learning environment for learning.

Administrators, it would appear were more concerned as sort of evil gorls at their power over the college.

In other words, we have a good old fashioned struggle for power. For every group that has their own interests, there's nothing north of Albany. The fact that she cares enough to make it a point to visit us a number of times proves my beliefs as an American. But what is with the food? I actually used to enjoy dining service, but now it seems to do nothing but get worse. I am真的很讨厌现在的饭菜。It's not what I expected when I was a student here. It's not even close to good enough. It seems to be under their new ticketing system, but I don't see the need for it, honestly. I think the food is better now with the old system.

One problem might be the overcrowding of the dining halls. With the new system, it seems to be that people are not using the dining halls. And I do believe that the students should have the last word on how things are going to be. But what is with the food? I actually used to enjoy dining service, but now it seems to do nothing but get worse. I am really disappointed with the way things are going on this campus. I think the food is better now with the old system.

One problem might be the overcrowding of the dining halls. With the new system, it seems to be that people are not using the dining halls. And I do believe that the students should have the last word on how things are going to be. But what is with the food? I actually used to enjoy dining service, but now it seems to do nothing but get worse. I am really disappointed with the way things are going on this campus. I think the food is better now with the old system.

One problem might be the overcrowding of the dining halls. With the new system, it seems to be that people are not using the dining halls. And I do believe that the students should have the last word on how things are going to be. But what is with the food? I actually used to enjoy dining service, but now it seems to do nothing but get worse. I am really disappointed with the way things are going on this campus. I think the food is better now with the old system.

One problem might be the overcrowding of the dining halls. With the new system, it seems to be that people are not using the dining halls. And I do believe that the students should have the last word on how things are going to be. But what is with the food? I actually used to enjoy dining service, but now it seems to do nothing but get worse. I am really disappointed with the way things are going on this campus. I think the food is better now with the old system.

One problem might be the overcrowding of the dining halls. With the new system, it seems to be that people are not using the dining halls. And I do believe that the students should have the last word on how things are going to be. But what is with the food? I actually used to enjoy dining service, but now it seems to do nothing but get worse. I am really disappointed with the way things are going on this campus. I think the food is better now with the old system.

One problem might be the overcrowding of the dining halls. With the new system, it seems to be that people are not using the dining halls. And I do believe that the students should have the last word on how things are going to be. But what is with the food? I actually used to enjoy dining service, but now it seems to do nothing but get worse. I am really disappointed with the way things are going on this campus. I think the food is better now with the old system.

One problem might be the overcrowding of the dining halls. With the new system, it seems to be that people are not using the dining halls. And I do believe that the students should have the last word on how things are going to be. But what is with the food? I actually used to enjoy dining service, but now it seems to do nothing but get worse. I am really disappointed with the way things are going on this campus. I think the food is better now with the old system.
O’Neill’s The Hairy Ape: Flock’s Director Shines

By KATIE WASSEL
staff writer

In the Tellus Black Box Theater, the final play in a series commemorating the work of Eugene O’Neill opened the stage last weekend. Flock Players, Inc. of New London, the company that produced the play, is the only American playwright’s repertory company outside of New York and is affiliated with many of America’s leading playwrights. O’Neill’s The Hairy Ape, from 1920 and set in a Brooklyn dockyard, is the latest installment in the Tellus’ season of O’Neill’s plays.

The Tellus’ version of the play is one of the best and most thought-provoking versions of the text I’ve ever seen. The production’s strengths are its performances, which are all uniformly strong, and the excellent stagecraft. The set design is minimal but effective, with a large, open space that is easily transformed into different scenes. The costumes are also well done, with the actors wearing dark, somber clothing that fits the mood of the play.

The play is about a man named Yank, who is an unskilled laborer on a dockyard. He is a rough, tough, and uneducated man who is often abused by his co-workers. The play is about the struggle of the working class, and the way they are treated by those above them.

Flock’s Director Shines

The director of the play, Ms. Shines, is a talented and creative theatre artist who has directed many productions. She is known for her innovative and imaginative approaches to theatre, and her productions are always thought-provoking and engaging. Ms. Shines has a keen eye for detail, and her attention to the smallest of elements makes her productions memorable.

In addition to the performances, the Tellus’ season of O’Neill’s plays is a great way to experience the work of one of America’s greatest playwrights. The Tellus’ production of The Hairy Ape is a must-see for anyone interested in theatre, and I highly recommend it. The Tellus’ season of O’Neill’s plays continues through the end of the year, so be sure to see it before it’s too late!
Top Ten Reasons to Stay in on Halloween

By JESSE ERDHEIM

Horrors: nothing; either they scare or are simply stupid, such as in the case of Wes Craven’s “The People Under the Stairs,” which was greeted by an industry that had to finance nightmares. However, on occasion, Halloween does grant some honor to gore, which not only Chopin but also Vivaldi work so well in concert. As the weather begins to fall, all gore services can dramatically affect output. Fall’s forecast is even more frighteningly belly-aching with the lights on or scratching some very hot objects in case of a sneak attack from the pesky humpies. At the going rate, “The Scream” is in danger and keeping with that idea, I present one of the most terrifying films that I have ever seen.

1. Meet the Parents (PG-13) – which Some proclaim is scanly stupid, such as in the idea of a trudge through 1017 words that reach a fork in the road. You see, you’ve done all this it’s time to sit down and pound out that paper that you just can’t get rid of the darn it, that is use a paper from their website as “research materials only.” You should face a fork in the road. And at the end of the road is the promise of “inter- subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why the site will not give it away for free. The site is the lack of a proper search tool. The creators must have thought that the price was not worth the use. They should be an added tool. The site does not promise a better search tool in the future. In fact, the creators have boasted that the price is the Internet’s future. But they do promise a better search tool in the future. If you wanted to find a paper on Modern Colonialism in West Africa you’d have as good a chance of finding it with AcaDemon.com would be a great tool to thrust one of your papers into the abyss. AcaDemon.com is basically a re-invention of an old idea. It is the internet version of these companies that run ads in most magnum lists. My college and high school students are however, aware that you’ll need the Internet at such schools as UC Berkeley and Harvard for such purposes. AcaDemon is billed as an “open forum” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s con- tent of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s content of “inter-subjectivity” for students (and professors) to share their ideas. Of course nothing is free and that’s why we invented credit cards. When you go to upload one of your papers after registering with the site you will receive up to $1 to $.50 which ranges from $.10 to $.50 depending on how much you think your professor’s con-
What are You Going to be for Halloween?

"By KRUSWANIE PARASAM

Halloween is just around the corner. Do you know what you are doing? Do you even know what Halloween is? For many people, it is a time to celebrate the dead. It is a time for the spirits of the deceased to return to the living world.

"What are you going to be for Halloween?"

"By JUANITA PARASAM"

Friday, October 27, 2000

The College Voice

News

In celebration of Halloween, the college will be hosting a costume contest. The winners will receive prizes for their creativity and originality. The contest will be held on Friday, October 27, from 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. in the Student Center.

"Mystery of Missing Skunks: Investigating the Disappearance of Conn’s Black and White Menace"

By DANIEL JARROCH

One of the most pressing questions on the Connecticut College campus in the past several weeks is the disappearance of hundreds of skunks that used to inhabit the Common Grounds. The skunks have been absent from the campus for several weeks, raising concerns among campus and community members.

"Somehow, the skunk population, specifically the species Meles meles, has seemingly ceased to exist at Connecticut College. Skunk sightings have dramatically decreased this fall and even by strangers, could result in a skunk's departure to a more suitable environment."

"The College Voice"

Friday, October 27, 2000

"Ecopledge Pushes for Enviro-Friendly Corporations"

continued from page

Financial powerhouse CitiGroup for investing in the Three Gorges Dam in China. According to Ecopledge, the world’s largest hydroelectric project will "cause useful extinctions..." and will "contribute to the destruction of..." various species of birds and wildlife..."

"The College Voice"

Friday, October 27, 2000

"Write for The Voice, ext. 2812"
Women's Sports

Women's Volleyball: Set For NESCAC's Enthusiastic Coach

The team consists of four returning players and seven freshmen, and the team is under the guidance of a new head coach, Mrs. Kathryn A. Hall. The team is currently 3-1 in the NESCAC and is ranked 11th in the nation. The team is looking forward to a challenging season and is determined to improve on last year's record of 1-3 in the NESCAC.

Women's Field Hockey

The women's field hockey team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by senior captains Sarah Bagley and Kim De Silva, who are trusted leaders on and off the field.

Women's Tennis

The tennis team is off to a strong start this season, with a record of 3-1 in the NESCAC. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Soccer

The women's soccer team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Field Hockey

The women's field hockey team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Volleyball

The women's volleyball team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Tennis

The tennis team is off to a strong start this season, with a record of 3-1 in the NESCAC. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Field Hockey

The women's field hockey team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Volleyball

The women's volleyball team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Tennis

The tennis team is off to a strong start this season, with a record of 3-1 in the NESCAC. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Field Hockey

The women's field hockey team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Volleyball

The women's volleyball team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Tennis

The tennis team is off to a strong start this season, with a record of 3-1 in the NESCAC. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Field Hockey

The women's field hockey team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Volleyball

The women's volleyball team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Tennis

The tennis team is off to a strong start this season, with a record of 3-1 in the NESCAC. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Field Hockey

The women's field hockey team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Volleyball

The women's volleyball team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Tennis

The tennis team is off to a strong start this season, with a record of 3-1 in the NESCAC. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Field Hockey

The women's field hockey team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Volleyball

The women's volleyball team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Tennis

The tennis team is off to a strong start this season, with a record of 3-1 in the NESCAC. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Field Hockey

The women's field hockey team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Volleyball

The women's volleyball team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Tennis

The tennis team is off to a strong start this season, with a record of 3-1 in the NESCAC. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Field Hockey

The women's field hockey team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Volleyball

The women's volleyball team is off to a strong start this season, winning their first two games of the season. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.

Women's Tennis

The tennis team is off to a strong start this season, with a record of 3-1 in the NESCAC. The team is led by seniors Sarah Cartoon and Jennifer Yang, who are strong players and team leaders.
Men's Soccer Primed for NESCAC Tournament Berth

By MATTHEW B. KESSLER

After losing two straight NESCAC (New England Small College Athletic Conference) games, men's soccer encountered last Saturday afternoon in the Middlebury College game. The result was a 4-1 loss to the Panthers. The Gamecocks were unable to convert a man advantage into a goal and were outshot 13-1 by Middlebury. This loss marked the end of the season for the College's soccer team, which finished fourth in the NESCAC with a record of 4-4-6. The team did not qualify for the tournament, which will feature the top four teams in the conference.

The rest of the NESCAC games have been highly competitive with each team showing a combination of good play and defensive lapses. It's not easy to keep your leg up after a goal against one of these teams, but they are a good opponent to play against. They have been able to take advantage of the mistakes that we have made, but they will not go out on the field without giving their all.

Frontman Tim Toohey is still playing at less than 100% of his usual form, and we are worried about his health. He definitely did not give of himself on the field, and we had no Walker, no Nyce's season long aggressive style of game in the game against Bates. "We have no satisfaction of scoring a touchdown for the team, and the players are very upset with their performance. We have a lot of work to do to give our fans more of the same."

The men's soccer program has not been successful in recent years, finishing last in the NESCAC in each of the last three seasons. However, the team has shown improvement in recent games, and there are hopes for a better season in the future.

Kessler's Korner

Let's Give These Guys a Hand

By MATTHEW B. KESSLER

The most under-appreciated, overworked members of the squad possibly are offensive linemen and goalkeepers. They are the unsung heroes of the game, and we must recognize their effort and dedication.

Offensive linemen are responsible for protecting the quarterback from the opposing team's defensive line, while also creating openings for running plays and blocking for the running back. They must be strong, quick, and skilled to perform their duties effectively.

Goalkeepers, on the other hand, are responsible for stopping shots from the opposing team's forwards. They must have excellent reflexes, quick reaction times, and the ability to make difficult saves. Without the goalkeepers, the defense would be put at risk.

Therefore, our team should give these guys a hand and express our gratitude for their hard work and dedication.

Field Hockey Falls to Williams in NESCAC's

By ADAM ROODWIN

For the first time in four seasons, the women's field hockey team earned a birth into the post-season. They didn't make it on their own, but they made it into the field hockey tournament as a result of recent wins. The team has been working hard all season to achieve this goal.

The tournament will take place this weekend and will feature the top eight teams in the NESCAC. The women's team, which finished fourth in the conference, will face off against the number one seed, Tufts University, in the first round.

The women's team finished the season with a record of 10-5-2, marking their best season in recent memory. They hope to continue their strong performance and make a run at the championship.

Women's Tennis Satisfied at Transition of Year

By ASHLEY GRIBBIN

The women's tennis team finished their big weekend, unfortunately, behind Bates on Sunday. The team's final match of the year, against Middlebury, ended 1-8. This loss dropped the team's season record to 1-5, but they were still satisfied with the transition of year.

The team ended the season with a 1-5 record, with five losses and one win. The win came against Middlebury in the final match of the season. The team will now shift their focus to next year, where they hope to achieve bigger and better results.

The Gazzette daily

PAGES

Friday, October 27, 2016

The College Voice

CampSweets

Final game vs. Tufts: This Saturday to determine post-season destiny

By MATTHEW B. KESSLER

sports editor

After losing two straight NESCAC (New England Small College Athletic Conference) games, men's soccer encountered last Saturday afternoon in the Middlebury College game. The result was a 4-1 loss to the Panthers. The Gamecocks were unable to convert a man advantage into a goal and were outshot 13-1 by Middlebury. This loss marked the end of the season for the College's soccer team, which finished fourth in the NESCAC with a record of 4-4-6. The team did not qualify for the tournament, which will feature the top four teams in the conference.

The rest of the NESCAC games have been highly competitive with each team showing a combination of good play and defensive lapses. It's not easy to keep your leg up after a goal against one of these teams, but they are a good opponent to play against. They have been able to take advantage of the mistakes that we have made, but they will not go out on the field without giving their all.

Frontman Tim Toohey is still playing at less than 100% of his usual form, and we are worried about his health. He definitely did not give of himself on the field, and we had no Walker, no Nyce's season long aggressive style of game in the game against Bates. "We have no satisfaction of scoring a touchdown for the team, and the players are very upset with their performance. We have a lot of work to do to give our fans more of the same."

The men's soccer program has not been successful in recent years, finishing last in the NESCAC in each of the last three seasons. However, the team has shown improvement in recent games, and there are hopes for a better season in the future.

Kessler's Korner

Let's Give These Guys a Hand

By MATTHEW B. KESSLER

The most under-appreciated, overworked members of the squad possibly are offensive linemen and goalkeepers. They are the unsung heroes of the game, and we must recognize their effort and dedication.

Offensive linemen are responsible for protecting the quarterback from the opposing team's defensive line, while also creating openings for running plays and blocking for the running back. They must be strong, quick, and skilled to perform their duties effectively.

Goalkeepers, on the other hand, are responsible for stopping shots from the opposing team's forwards. They must have excellent reflexes, quick reaction times, and the ability to make difficult saves. Without the goalkeepers, the defense would be put at risk.

Therefore, our team should give these guys a hand and express our gratitude for their hard work and dedication.

Field Hockey Falls to Williams in NESCAC's

By ADAM ROODWIN

For the first time in four seasons, the women's field hockey team earned a birth into the post-season. They didn't make it on their own, but they made it into the field hockey tournament as a result of recent wins. The team has been working hard all season to achieve this goal.

The tournament will take place this weekend and will feature the top eight teams in the NESCAC. The women's team, which finished fourth in the conference, will face off against the number one seed, Tufts University, in the first round.

The women's team finished the season with a record of 10-5-2, marking their best season in recent memory. They hope to continue their strong performance and make a run at the championship.

Women's Tennis Satisfied at Transition of Year

By ASHLEY GRIBBIN

The women's tennis team finished their big weekend, unfortunately, behind Bates on Sunday. The team's final match of the year, against Middlebury, ended 1-8. This loss dropped the team's season record to 1-5, but they were still satisfied with the transition of year.

The team ended the season with a 1-5 record, with five losses and one win. The win came against Middlebury in the final match of the season. The team will now shift their focus to next year, where they hope to achieve bigger and better results.

The Gazzette daily