Cub Reporters Get News Press Cards At Tuesday Party
At a coffee last night in the News office, twenty-four new reporters were accepted on the basis of the report that the university has been successful in meeting the demand for press cards. The girls received their press cards from the editor, Nan-ey Garland.

Staff Change
A change at the staff was also announced at this time. Suzanne Rosenbush '56 will be the new Feature Editor, and Mary Roth '56 will assume the full duties of Copy Editor.

Mr. Fussell of the English Department attended as honorary guest of the construction committee to present a book signed by the editor this year. Mr. Fussell gave a short informal talk on his experiences on a college newspaper.

Elections
The new reporters were congratulated on the interest and ability that they showed during the heating period. The following girls volunteered to work on the Sun: Jeanie Bahr '56, Joan Baumgartner '57, Marye Brines '56, Anna Clifton '57, Darlene Burns '57, Arline Clower '56, Carol Anne Cotton '57, Rosalyn Feldman '57, Sorey Frankel '57, Toni Garson '56, Betty Garvey '57, Joanne Hazard '56, Judi Hecht '57, Debbie Golden '56, Ada Hersh-man '57, Mildred Hildreth '56, Monica Hyde '57, Jackie Jenkins '56, Kanie Mansano '57, Helene Mattox '56, Dottie McGee '57, Joanne Rochelle '56, Cathy Rose '57, Joan Rosen '56, Marianne Soderstrom '57, June Tyler '57 and Margot Zellers '56.

For the benefit of the girls who are divided into three groups so that their time on News could be spaced over the years, it is not thought that one would not be devoting too much of the first few weeks to their work. The new reporters were required to write an article or report to be read at the reading copy. They received an introduction to the college newspaper.

Seymour Criticizes Faculty
Evolution in Investigations

Faculty members who invoke the Fifth Amendment as ground for refusal to answer questions are "unworthy to serve on a university staff," according to Charles Seymour, President Emeritus of Yale University. At the same time, he emphasized that the university must "pronounce to a professor that he will not be tolerated when he holds certain opinions that is supported by adequately evidenced expertise. At the same time, such a professor must realize that there will be no effort to correct his opinions."

The former Yale president strongly criticized any censorship of the university from the outside. "There has always been and there is today a danger of censorship," he said. "Such censorship keeps people from the right and from the left; from those who regard the colleges as agents of advanced liberalism as well as from those who think colleges are institutions dedicated to any conservative influence on a campuses is a mon-gros-relief of an age that is past."

Such pressures of external opinion must be resisted. No type of censorship is necessary or direct to allow the destruction of the free- dom of speech and the right to investigate and carry out its teaching activities along the lines of the highest standards of excellence and capacity of the individual scholar, the member of the teaching faculty. The principle depends the entire educational fabric of the institution and its usefulness to the national interest," he emphasized.

Seymour's Comments on the University's Role

Seymour offered a series of suggestions for improving the university's role in the national interest. He suggested that the university not only tolerate, but in fact, encourage, a diversity of opinion. He also stressed the importance of the university's role in the national interest, particularly in the area of higher education. He emphasized the need for the university to be a source of ideas and information, and to be a force for change and innovation. He also called for the university to be a source of leadership and inspiration, and to be a force for moral and ethical values. He emphasized the need for the university to be a source of inspiration and hope, and to be a source of strength and courage in the face of adversity. He also called for the university to be a source of unity and cohesion, and to be a source of peace and harmony. Church Conference
At Harvard Square
Scheduled for Dec.

More than one thousand students and laymen are expected to take part in the New England Student and Layman's Life of the Church conference.

The regional meeting, slated for December 4-6, will take place in the Harvard Square area, and will use the facilities of Harvard University, and the Harvard Square YMCA.

At the opening meeting on Friday evening, Dr. W. A. Vester Hoyt, General Secretary for the World Council of Churches, will deliver an address entitled "What is the Church? An important leader in the ecumenical movement, Dr. Vester Hoyt is the former General Secretary of the World Student Christian Movement.

Variety of Speakers
Other important speakers include Dr. Ruth Seabury, Education Secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, and Dr. Benjamin May, President of Wheaton College and a prominent ecumenical writer.

Another feature of the conference will be denominational meetings, at which different denominations' leaders who will be present at these meetings will be Russell W. Reed, Methodist; Rev. Henry Smith, Lewis Congregational; Rev. Rappar Blundis, Episcopal; and Dr. Kenneth Renn, Presbyterian.

Meeting Place
The conference banquet will be held on Saturday evening in the Hotel Continental in Cambridge and will feature a speaker on The Faith of the Church.

The closing service on Sunday afternoon will feature the Harvard Glebe Club and the Radcliffe Glee Club, both groups being directed as an address by Dr. Seabury. Mr. Hoyt and the Church.

The cost of the conference is $10, covers housing, Friday night dinner at the Hotel Continental, Saturday breakfast, coffee and lunch, dinner, and registration fee.

Further information and application blanks and more information can be obtained from Sue Lane, campus mall or K313.

It is hoped that the conference will feature a "See Church Conf."-Page 6
Soph Hop Chairman Active in Extra-Curricular Activities

"I feel like President Eisenhower having a grand conference," said Jean Berger, Soph Hop Chairman. "I am the chairman of the sophomore class, and in the same breath I am the chairman of the Soph Hop. When I first canvassed for her, I finally cornered her for an interview, and she answered almost all of the hall outside of the News office, and over cider and doughnuts, I learned the pertinent facts about her past, present, and future history.

The basic facts are that Marie Mcdonald has spent her whole life in New York City. When she was called into membership in the Soph Hop, she was in New York City, where she resides. When I was called into the Soph Hop, she was in St. Louis, Missouri, where she resides. To those who doubt she will sing and Mr. Donald Currier, I will play the piano.

Miss Sylvia is a native of Tunstall, Virginia, and a graduate of Connecticut College in the class of 1953. She has been in New York City, where she resides. When Miss Sylvia was called into membership in the Soph Hop, she was in Tunstall, Virginia, where she resides. A roving photographer will be present.

Soph Hop Tickets

Tickets for the Soph Hop will be sold on Monday, November 23 and Tuesday the 24. On Monday afternoon only, tickets will be sold only to the Sophomore class. Tuesday the 24, tickets will be sold to all classes. Tickets will also be sold on the Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday before Thanksgiving vacation.

Magazine to Award Money for Prophetic Stories

What will life in America be like 100 years from now? That is the question which will be the subject of a fiction contest, and a national science fiction magazine is paying $2,000 for the answers. With substantial prizes also available to undergraduates in the United States and Canada, students will present their prophecies in the form of a 10,000 word novel, depicting their vision of the United States and Canada, students will present their prophecies in the form of a 10,000 word novel, depicting their vision of the next 100 years and their imaginations.

Novelists

The form of a novelists have been selected as a medium by the editors of the magazine in question, sponsor of the contest, because 10,000 words can be handled more easily by the average reader than a long, novel, which requires too much time and effort. The editors believe there are great many young people in colleges who would like to express their ideas through the novel, and, if given the opportunity. Professional writers attending college will not be eligible to enter.

Ideas Important

Ideas imagination and plausibility will count more than actual writing skill. The background and content of the nation is to be a scene in a city, village or the countryside. The initial scenes will be a family, a group of people, or a single character.

First Prize

First prize is $1,000 in cash, with six runners up receiving an additional $1,000 in prizes. Students submitting manuscripts must be members of the sophomore class, and will be announced at the Soph Hop on Friday night, November 30.

Trinity to Attend Dinner Reception

Saturday night, November 21, fifty freshmen will again fulfill their part as hostesses and host at the Soph Hop. The Soph Hop is to be as popular as in the past. Miss Sylvia will sing: Historia by Strauss, Hermit by Brahms, and Metamorphoses, Fargalletta by Handel. She has a very clear, sweet voice and good diction, which resulted in a fine performance. Louise Dieckmann, a sophomore, will sing from the oratorio St. Paul by Mendelssohn. She showed good understanding of the music but her pronunciation left something to be desired.

How the stars got started...
MARGE and GOWER CHAMPION met as shy schoolmates at dancing school. Their paths crisscrossed for years as each worked hard to make a career. Finally, Gower, back from Service, "teamed up" with Marge. After months of strenuous rehearsals, they were a sensation, creating original "dance stories" for TV, movies and stage. They are now Mister and Missus.

CHOICE OF YOUNG AMERICA FOR THE FIFTH STRAIGHT YEAR —

CHESTERFIELD IS THE ONLY CIGARETTE EVER TO GIVE YOU PROOF OF LOW NICOTINE, HIGHEST QUALITY

The country’s six leading brands were analyzed—chemically—and Chesterfield was found low in nicotine—highest in quality.

This scene reproduced from Chesterfield’s famous “center spread” line-up pages in college football programs from coast to coast.
