East Side or West Side... New York's a Wonderful Town

Now that vacation is but a few hours away, thoughts turn to home, Thanksgiving dinner, and in no uncertain terms, to the Big Apple. We love going there in November, take the Bilmore or just a cocktail before dinner at the Stork Club. It's the best of both worlds. In New York you can find standard variations in the restaurant category might give you a little help on discovering the undeniable glamour of any visit to the Big Apple—Wonderful Town.

For those who just want a quick bite before heading there, take the college try—There's always the old stalwart, the Grand Central (Grand Central) and follow the food. If you are a food lover, your Perm Station you'll find a delightful French Restaurant—complete with dishes of mistletoe, and birds and bees.

If you're looking for a dinner in the Continental vein—a few chains on true French, American and European, plating on W. 46th St. for fine food, service, plus atmosphere gazing around the exquisite traditional French diners; and at La Place La Place La Place Paris, you are in the land of hussah. For more exotic flavor—Japonese, Spanish, Orson Wells, 50 W. 56th St., which is not a chain, not a restaurant, good service (seven course dinner), great Sushi, the Chinese restaurants are the Suburbs, and Miyata's, both of which follow traditional Chinese customs, and are delightful.

Conquest—CBS Television's un-failed Public Affairs series of ten full-hour dramatic reports on the world of science premiering Sunday, December 1, 5:00-6:00 EST, will mark a major contribution to American scientific understanding when it offers three different presentations to the public in a factual and entertaining manner as formulated by the scientists themselves.

The chief aim of Conquest will be to bring the story behind today's scientific headlines to the public in an understandable, accurate presentation, with particular emphasis on the men and women behind the scenes whose work, for scientific perfection, has led them to direct success in basic respective fields. CBS's distinguished newsmen Eric Sevareid, the host, heads a team of top-flight CBS reporters who will bring these significantly important scientific advances to the attention of the young and old, the learned and the unlearned.

For the first time, the television audience will be given the facts on science's progress as reporters-on-jet pack in the field—in the field—will report to the viewers personally by means of high-speed瞬间 communications to this week's standard New York Times and New York Post, and others obtained at the railroad station.

Most of the good hotels have their own shade of Greek, Plaza, St. Regis, Waldorf. For a quick bite, Schick's, Schick's, and Schick's and Child's are always available.

A Forum of Opinion From On and Off Campus

The opinions expressed in this column do not necessarily reflect those of the editors.

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank the writer of last week's letter about science, "Science, Secured." The letter was written in great anxiety and worry— but certainly doesn't necessarily guarantee wisdom. Although the letter was written in great anxiety and worry, I feel that it actually gives a more clear and comfortable view of the scientific advancements we are now having. It is an accurate, wise, clear and concise view of the situation at Connecticut College as it is at now.

The writer has an interest in all phases of a person's development— the physical, the mental, and the spiritual. Without spirit-ual growth we are seriously handicapped in our efforts to create a good society. Our church systems endeavors to give the need for growth.

I believe that there are a number of wrong impressions given by the letter.

1. Is religion "compulsory" at Connecticut College?

Under the present system, religious instruction is given, as known and clearly stated that we are a church-related institution.

There are alternatives, for instance, a good way to understand the Wednesday secular gathering in entering Hartford Chapel.

So You Think We Live In That Ivory Tower

by Sue Ryder '66

For many years you've often tried to quiet the town of Woodward, Mississippi, where you can live happily ever after, knowing you're far from Spunk, dog, man, and other extraterrestrial creatures. Reason why? I really can't get out of my system. So, here is the petulant sob from the sheriff: Security pleases the Spunk.

The Spunk craze has even invaded the world of the young. When someone nearby in East Berlin are offering just in three years, the world has changed. From Eng's Spunk toy. Made of aluminum, it's properly emblazoned with a red heart and sickle and run round on its own wire orbit. Just a matter of one more step and wood under the sheriff.

Some brains from Tarrytown, N.Y., may have been watching too little too much Spunk lately. Seems she and her husband de-paired for their honeymoon in a rocket ship. I think it's all the thought a trump. What kind of friends are you going to get from Spunk-like people? I mean, there is enough of that around now. Police in Wyoming were interested last year to see one of their fellows being chased madly down the street by a car.

A quick-thinking driver had the car and driver and asked what all this was. "Has he entered yet?" was the reply. "Has he entered yet?" was the answer. "Was he drunk? No, explained the man with quiet dignity, he was merely a Spunk zealot trying to avoid a policeman."

And finally, the case of a lady in France who became a Spunk cult leader. The lady, well known to all, who decided to do Spunk for a living. Apparently, she had a husband, but she didn't have the situation well. Apparently, she had the control she counted on, because she was trying to get her husband and children. But she was told there were easier ways.

Microcard Reader Recently Acquired by Palmer Library

Palmier Library at Connecticut College has just acquired a microcard reader for the use of the students and faculty, it has been announced by Miss Hazel A. Johnson, librarian.

Microcard publications already exist in the fields of psychology, general science, chemistry, biology, botany, zoology, medicine, history, and English literature, history, geography, etc.

Many books and periodicals, now out of print, are available only on microcards. Because they take up little space, microcards are easy and convenient to store and use.

Similar to micro-film, complete pages of a text are placed on the microcards. Depending on the size of the text, pages may be divided into several pages and yet take up little space.

Special microcards are being used, however, for the works of authors whose vision is so impaired that they cannot read normal text. The microcards carry on the type the same size and in the same manner as the type in the original text.

The Inter Club Council is now engaged in a fund raising campaign with the microcinematograph to finance the purchase of microcards and microfilm.

Dorms compete in Fest Drive

The Service League-sponsored interdorm competition in the realm of charity by dorm raising serves a dual purpose. In addition to raising the level of the college contribution to Community Fund by over six hundred dollars, the rivalry provided a new home each year for the coveted SCHMOP SCENIO.

The dorms have always been a source of enthusiasm, and, according to the fund chairman, have raised considerable sums of money through their annual efforts. On the other hand, dorm rivalry has come to mean more than a friendly competition for the coveted title. It has become a valuable charitable project.

This year, community relations have played a larger role than ever before. A part of the dorm fund drive has been directed toward the raising of funds for the National Institute of Mental Health. The fund chairman, Blackstone's Miss Tracy, emphasized the importance of dorm rivalry as a means of uniting the students. She pointed out that the dorms were an integral part of the college community and that their interests should be considered in planning activities.

The fund drive also serves as a means of raising awareness of the needs of the less fortunate. The students are encouraged to contribute to worthy causes and to become involved in community service. The dorms are expected to organize drives and to contribute to the fund in order to compete against each other.

In addition to the dorm fund drive, the Service League sponsors other events such as the “Shoe Drive” and the “Cookie Drive” to raise money for various charitable causes. These events have become annual traditions and are eagerly awaited by the students.

The Service League encourages participation in these events by providing incentives such as recognition and rewards for the dorms that contribute the most. The dorms are also encouraged to organize their own drives and to compete against each other to see who can raise the most money.

The Service League recognizes the importance of the dorm fund drive as a means of fostering community spirit and raising awareness of the needs of others. It is an opportunity for the students to work together for a common goal and to make a positive impact on the community.

The Service League is proud of the dedication and enthusiasm of the students and welcomes their participation in these events. The Service League looks forward to continuing its support of the dorm fund drive and to seeing the growth and development of this valuable community service project.

Innocents Abroad: Few Cents Abroad: Add Up to Simmons

EUROPE: SUMMER OF 1958!

New, over Thanksgiving vacation, is the time to make your plans for the coming summer. If you are thinking of taking that dream trip to far away places, think about the SIMMONS TOUR!

Here's why. SIMMONS gives you:

I. Low cost travel devoted exclusively to college students.
II. Travel with a small group of girls from your own college.
III. Freedom of planning your own itinerary.
IV. Freedom for your individual plans, no public transportation except where sightseeing is desired.
V. Small informal hotels, especially selected to give you good food, clean rooms, and an atmosphere of the country visited.

VI. A tour price that includes transportation, trans-Atlantic and continental, hotels, meals, sightseeing, entertainment, and tips (taxes to worry about), and TIPS, to provide excellent transportation servants, hotel and station porter.

VII. An entertainment fund to be used for any special entertainment the group desires, opera, play, concert, a party on board ship.

Don't wait! Join the group soon and have that chance! Under way and they are exciting, to say the least. Include yourself on any stop at Brussels for the World's Fair (a definite must), Berne, Switzerland ("One of the few unexplored cities of Europe, charming" Fielding's Guide), Geneva, Cannes (with its famous beaches and casinos ... on the Riviera), Rome (culture, Venice, art), Barcelona (understandable dream”), Salzburg, Austria, for the International Music Festival, London (of course), and Rotterdam.

Don't wait any longer. Talk to your parents over vacation, and then, talk to me. Mrs. Dendy, or Mrs. Dendy and Soph Hop is beginning to a.m.-Silent Meditation.

There certainly was a notable decrease in the population here at Connecticut College, it has been announced by an assistant Rosemary Park.

In addition to teaching classes, Mr. Dendy will give voice instruction and assist Professor Arthur W. Quimby, chairman of the department, as organist.

Renowned in New Carolina, Mr. Dendy is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Henry B. Dendy, D.D., who now reside in Wavernville, N. C. Mr. Dendy received his education from Davidson College in 1945, Mus. B. from Wake University, 1949, and his Mus. M. from Yale in 1957.

He was assistant editor of The Diapason, official publication of the American Guild of Organists, from 1950 to 1956. Mr. Dendy was organist and choirmaster at Grace Episcopal Church, Hiradale, Ill., from 1950 to 1956 and now is organist and choirmaster at Center Church, New Haven.

He is the author of many articles and reviews which have appeared in national music publications. Mr. Dendy is a member of the American Guild of Organ-students.

He is married to the former Suzanne Vollin and they have four children, 5, and daughter, 6, and Mrs. and Mrs. Dendy and Soph Hop is beginning to a.m.-Silent Meditation.

Exchange Student From Tokyo, Japan

In Freshman Class

by Elizabeth Morrisy '61

Kumi Kondo, a Japanese exchange student, entered Connet-cut College as a freshman this fall.

She was born in New York City. When the Second World War began Kumi found it necessary to return to Tokyo, her parents having secured the attended Stacred Heart School, where she studied music, art and sewing. She then attended at Sacred Heart, an active member of the school's music committee and president of her class from seventh grade through the tenth grade.

She went to high school after her sophomore year in Ottawa, Canada.

Kumi's hobbies are drawing and playing the piano. She is at Connecticut College on a one year scholarship. She plans to major in music and after graduation she wish to lead to a career as an interior decorat-
