Very and Currier Will Give Concert Thursday, Dec. 11

Program Will Include A Schubert Fantasia, Brahms, Bach Sonatas

There will be a concert of Sonatas for Violin and Piano by Mozart, Miriam Very and Mr. Donald Currier, both members of the faculty of Connecticut College, at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, December 11, in the Lincoln Hall. The program will include the Bach Sonata No. 1 in G minor, Op. 2 No. 1 by J.S. Bach; the Brahms Sonata in C, Op. 106, and the Brahms D minor Sonata, Op. 108.

Four French Films Need Our Support

The Victory theater is bringing to New London four outstanding French motion pictures this weekend, in an experimental step which demands our enthusiastic support, for the renewal of the venture another year depends on its success.

The four pictures are admirably chosen and have had the luck of showing in French films in New York.

The first movie of the series, The Baker’s Wife (La Femme du Boulanger), will be shown on the victory last Sunday, December 7, and will run through Thursday, December 11, at 8:15 p.m. performances daily, at 2:30, 5:00, 7:30 p.m., and 9:15 p.m.

The French club is financially unable to offer you complimentary tickets; but the high quality of the pictures we have will more than make up for the lack of free tickets. The French spirit was to be echoed by every French picture; and the expected success of that project, so long waited for, will want more of it in the future. The English language has not a perfect French. English listeners lack a knowledge of French, which could never keep you from seeing the pictures.

The second film to be shown, in January or February, is The Pigeon’s Daughters (La Fillette du Pigeon), the third, The Queen’s Necklace (Le Collier du Roi); and the fourth and last for this year, Children of the East (Les Enfants du Paradis), which is now playing in New York.

Library Secures New Volumes On International Relations

by Barbara Earcom

In an increased effort to encourage peace among the nations of the world, many literary and educational organizations have been published this year a large number of volumes on international relations. Many of these are excellent accounts and analyses, and fortunately the college library has been able to secure them for the use and enlightenment of the student body.

Typical of the clear-cut, informative analyses in the series being published by the University of California, entitled the United Nations Series which is dedicated to the task of mutual understanding among the peoples of the world, is the achievement of successful cooperation in the peace. The volumes in the United Nations series are individual studies of a particular country, and countries, and cover the country’s background, political and constitutional development, economic and social, and cultural and political developments.

The latest two books of this series are acquired by the library on the same day, December 7, from the Netherlands, and Belgium.

Choirs and Candlelight Will Highlight Christmas Vespers

TaleUW Speakers To Invade Campus Tomorrow, Dec. 11

The first campaign of "Operation Glamour" has been described for the United Nations in the peace.

Two Services Will Be Held; Laubenstein to Give Address; Litany

Because of the great popularity of Christmas vespers, this year the college choirs will give the first at 3:40 p.m. and the second at 7:30 p.m., on Sunday, December 14, at Harkness chapel. Mr. Paul Laubenstein will give pets for a brief Christmas meditation, and a special Christmas carol entitled Nativity written by Dr. Laubenstein.

In addition, the chancel and sanctuary choirs will perform separately. At the first selections are: Gloriam to God in the Highest by Davis, Cradle See "Xmas Vesprers" — Page 7

Cousins, Einstein Approve Plans of World Federalists

by Phyllis Barshill

Negotiations fell before positivism as the mood in the evening speech stressing the need for immediate action to stop the present world war, and for public. Redlining that we are now going to be on the world government as the only practical solution of the problem of achieving the importance of thinking in terms of actual results, and not in the abstract.

His message received added impetus through a telegram received at that moment from Norman Cousins, who was unable to arrive due to an accident. Cousins pledged his full support to whatever policy he adopted in a full page in the Saturday New York Post for membership. This spirit was to be echoed by every Federalist.
Has Rivalry Undimmed
Competition

Connecticut College has always prided itself on its united spirit. Here on campus, there are no so-called "haves" and "have-nots". We are all united in our pursuit of education.

This year, however, the rivalry between the Columbia and the United States has been heightened. Each class is working hard to prove that they are the best and that they deserve to win.

This year, the Columbia has won a majority of the games. However, the United States is not behind. They have been close in many of their games and have shown great teamwork.

The rivalry between the two classes is intense, but it is healthy and constructive. It is helping us to grow as individuals and as a community.

Competition is a healthy part of any society,
and it is especially important here at Connecticut College. We are all working hard to be the best we can be, and this is reflected in our efforts on and off the field.

Ride the Pink Horse shows merit despite adverse criticism

by Edith Manasevit

Hired in her haphazard psychological study of a cynic whom experience has taught to doubt himself and the existence of God, the protagonist is nonexistent, that which appears as good is only human pretense, and the exercise of various devices to confuse and deceive. But unlike the confirmed atheist, she has accepted the status quo, Mont Peoples seeming to have gone good at the same time that he doubts its existence.

But this suggests an ambiguity: Characterization is conveyed merely by the protagonist's self-assertion, and the ambiguity is lost. Characterization, becomes blurred by undetermined personality.

And it was that the distinct title of the movie had to add to the general confusion.

Cavaillier stressed need for planned economy in talk

Jesse Cavaillier, executive secretary of Connecticut Industrial Democracy, discussed the possibilities of future depressions before a Yale Outing Club meeting last night.

Mr. Cavaillier made two basic assumptions. He stated that all private enterprise systems have been tested, and that no nation, World War II being the most complete recovery from a depression by means of a free enterprise system, had to resort to the methods of planned economies.

The post-war economy in Germany and Italy, and the inability of the effects of the 1929 disaster until the second World War, illustrated this.

All economic values vane point to a depression in the near future, Mr. Cavaillier explained. Just when this crisis will come depends upon the speed with which western Europe can recover and compete with the U.S. for markets. Other factors, he explained, included the length and severity of the depression, which would give a picture of the world as a whole.

Winter Sports Managers
At the AA meeting last Thursday night, the following girls were elected managers of the various winter sports:
- Badminton: Alice Hess '50
- Basketball: Sarah Blaisdell '49
- Country Dance: Ruth Fanjoy '49
- Fencing: Marion Markle '49
- Modern Dance: Mary Jo Mason '50
- Riding: Peggy Duffy '50
- Swimming: Barbara Biddle '50
- Volleyball: Louise Hill '53

Congratulations!

The sports managers are elected by AA council on the basis of responsibility, managerial ability, leadership, interest and proficiency in their respective sports. A sports manager does not necessarily have to be an expert in the sport herself, but she is expected to know thoroughly her sport's rules and regulations and to have a great deal of interest in the sport.

The sports manager schedules all the games and tournaments, is present when they are played and chooses her clubs at the close of the season. The names that are voted on by AA are suggested by the gym department as well as by various members of the council.

Being a sports manager is a hard job, but a good job, and a great way to get to know the other girls at Connecticut.

Ski Movie
As soon as a suitable and uncrowded date can be found by AA and CCC on which to schedule a Rhapsody of Skiing, the ski enthusiasts at Connecticut will be able to see this excellent film. Watch News for further information.

Daffy Definitions

Thrift - obsolete term; dates back to pre-Pepsi-Cola era.

Cooperation - one battle of Pepsi with two straw.

Paying $1 apiece for these is like giving you a license to commit burglary. But - $1 apiece for these we buy.

Are you in a hurry? Get me! We give the stuff away. Folding money, too. Yes sir, Pepsi-Cola Co. pays from $1 to $11 for you send in and we print. Why worry about an honest living? This is easier. Just send your stuff, along with your name, address, school and class, to Easy Money Department, Box R, Pepsi-Cola Co., Long Island City, N.Y. All contributions become the property of Pepsi-Cola Co. We pay only for those we print.

There's nothing to it - as you can see from the sample below. If by coincidence, the words "Pepsi-Cola" turn up somewhere in your stuff, don't worry. We, and they, don't mind. (Matter of fact, we kind of like it.) So start your stuff in now - for Easy Money.

GOOD DEAL ANNEX

Sharpen up those gags, gagsters! At the end of the year (if we haven't lashed out before) we're going to pick the one best item we've bought and award it a fat extra $100.00.

LITTLE MORON CORNER

Our well-known moron-abont-campus, Mucatroyd - now a student in the agriculture course at the University of Florida. He has learned a new theory of sleep-fighting. He makes a daily pilgrimage of the Pebito-Cola plant, part of his diet. "Dismalough, of course," he said unimaginatively, as he guzzled it down. "everybody knows that Pepsi-Cola is the drink for everybody."

He why do you call my date "Pepsi," when her name is Betty?" She was a redhead and noisy.

She: Yes, and by then it was too late.

Three bucks apiece for each of these we print. Let your con- science be your guide.

Saber & Spur Had Tryouts Thursday For New Members

Last Thursday afternoon, twenty-five girls tried out before a group of judges for membership in the Saber and Spur. They were asked to demonstrate their ability by a number of different methods, among which were to walk, trot, and canter without their stirrups. The girls were judged, not only on the fulfillment of these requirements, but also on their control, form, security, hands, and enthusiasm. The club will meet sometime this week to decide upon the candidates, and they will be notified as soon as possible.

Proclamation

Moreover, she looked at the future and selecteth the way where with she shall go forth and uplift the masses for the day of her deliverance is near at hand. Host: Chloypsyll.

Ella: Yea, justify do ye cry out her name with reverence. For verily, she is a senior, and it is right that ye bow down before her and kiss the hem of her garments.

Host: Now tell us, O Roberts our prophet, how may we become the like unto her?

Ella: Know ye that if such be your desire, ye must obey these commandments which I shall give unto ye.

First: Thou shalt be one of the Group. This is the first and greatest commandment.

Second: Thou shalt honor thy president and thy Dean, Burdick. Third: Thou shalt not be a capitalist nor a Republican, nor try to convince thy father of the merits of Socialism.

Fourth: Thou shalt forsake the world of flesh and cling to thy college after 1:30 a.m.

Fifth: Thou shalt not covet meat, nor sheet, nor bowl on forbidden days, for thus shall thy sacrifice be undone.

Sixth: Thou shalt not commit any offense against thine Honor Council.

Seventh: Thou shall speak in class.

Eighth: Thou shalt not envy the Freshmen their New Look. Ninth: Thou shalt use Ponds, and be lovely.

Tenth: Thou shalt pass thy generals. Ella: Thy prophet hath spoken!

NEGRO NEWS AND TENANT MAGAZINE
Lil Smith, as Precious Stream, personified consistently the typical Chinese lady, despite all her fights which she is forced to undergo. Yet she demonstrated a sense of independence which was undoubtedly fostered by her mother, aptly interpreted by Jast Regattiz.

Bernard Rosen, His Excellency Wang Yu, buffeted his way along convincingly in constant juxtaposition with his highly spirited, Harold Shumway, as the versatile Hsieh Ping-Kuel, husband of Precious Stream, carried his male lead to a fittingly successful conclusion, although his receptivity to all demands in distress was not completely convincing at all times.

The two sisters of Precious Stream, Silver Stream and Gold Stream, added color and life to the family picture. Mary Haven Healy's straight-faced remarks were caught beautifully by the audience every time. Marjorie Farnsworth's support was admirable and her ability backstage direction of make-up made her participation two-fold.

The contrast of the Princess of the Western regions, who was played by Fun Tong Farnsworth, and the well-defined and well done. Her manner, voice, and stance directly contradicted the more graceful and sometimes remote settings.

Putnam, as the husband of the two elder daughters of the Yin family, Norman McCoo and John Jobs, were more or less equal match for their wives. Humorous interludes were emphasized by Maxtill Philips as the Maid.

All members of the cast deserve credit for carrying out the many details of this unusual but equal joint." Marlis Shumway, our Honorable Reader, conscientiously set the tone of what was to come to the audience's satisfaction.

Unassumingly the scenery depended solely upon a background and the audience's imagination. The properties, costumes, and make-up bespoke their own effectiveness in creating color and authenticity.
