Group to Give Classic Drama This Evening

On the evening of Wednesday, Jan. 13, at 8:00 p.m., the Play Production group will present Racine's classic drama, "Phaedra." The production is a study of the psychological problems caused by the jealousy of a nobleman concerning his stepson, Hippolytus. The story concerns the psychological problem of Phaedra, wife of Theseus. During one of Theseus's absences, Phaedra fell in love with her stepson, Hippolytus; this situation caused a violent struggle between them and led to a censure of a struggle about which he is for years to come.

This evening, Phaedra's feelings will be the origin of a Greek play which centered around the tragedy of the stepson, Hippolytus. In the 17th century France, the story of the play centers around the tragedy of the stepson, Hippolytus. Itytus, the tragedy of the stepson, Hippolytus. Phaedra, Phylis Shoemaker; Oenone, Dyk; Hippolytus, Jackie Ganem; Phaedra, Helene Bernstein; stage design, Dona McFerrtosh; costumes, Mary Leonard; scenery, the Boston Opera Orchestra and the Boston Esplanade Orchestra.

Student Body Votes Grand Freshmen Increase in Hours

Cabinet Proposal for Membership, Meetings Meets With Approval

Last night's Amalgam was the scene of the passing by the student body of two measures requiring second semester hours for freshmen and club membership and meeting times.

According to this new ruling, freshmen will have permission to hold meetings between 12:00 on week nights with escorts and be 1:30 on Saturday nights with escorts. This measure is indicative of the increasingly liberal attitude of the Board and reflects the students toward freshmen hours. For the present rule is that freshmen have permission until 10:00 on week days and 12:00 on Saturday nights during first semester, and until 12:00 every night during second semester. This new ruling was initiated in 1935.

Period for Reading Arrives: Tempts Many Procracrastinators

Beginning next Monday we will be given an opportunity to show the maturity we have attained as members of the college community. By letting us do a piece of work on our own, the faculty are showing their confidence in our ability to handle the reading itself. We have been taught to never allow ourselves to procrastinate. It is, therefore, a definite temptation, to make use of this period to put off until the weekend all thought of these assignments.

Two Foreign Films Offer Relaxation, Food for Thought

Never Take No for an Answer, an Italian film filmed in Italy with English dubbed in, is due to be shown January 23.

This is a story of a little boy's attempt to take his slogging dentist. "It is a great achievement of the film that it is so real," wrote a movie critic. "It is a grim undertaking that these people push their way through the college year from September to June, except during mid-years and vacations.

Letter to the Editor: Although generally I am a fairly even-tempered person, about 10:00 each morning is the cause of my fury, as you may, at this point, guess, is the post office. I have been moving for several weeks about how even sheep and cattle can be herded through a small space, and have not been able to get the post office, probably thinking that the title, but they insist on pushing all the way out to the street, and all at once. I must include the people in the first half of the boxes who also get on my nerves, it is a little pushed, shoved, jammed up against the wall, and thoroughly frustrated. The thought of the traffic in front of us, the people who are so anxious to save that two minutes they will push you right up to the gate, just as you reach your box are among my pet peeves.

There is a great temptation during this week to procrastinate during the reading periods. Putting off until the weekend all thought of these assignments has reason to be pessimistic about their yearbook which, very probably taking twice the time it would to go out in a reasonable pace as has been pushed, shoved, jammed up against the wall, and thoroughly frustrated the thought of the traffic in front of us, the people who are so anxious to save that two minutes they will push you right up to the gate, just as you reach your box are among my pet peeves.

Campus Sparkles After Christmas Vacation As Several Students Return Wearing Rings

One of the five Freeman residents who became engaged during the Christmas vacation is Mary Clymer '54 who announced her engagement to John M. Gillbert. Mary met John last summer when she attended a wedding in Trenton, New Jersey, her hometown. John graduated from the University of Connecticut in 1953. A member of Sigma Gamma Rho Fraternity, he was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa. At the present time he is studying for his Masters of Science degree in Geology at the University of Wisconsin.

Freeman and KB Seniors Engaged

Another Freemanite, Ann Cross '54, became engaged on December 26 to Kent Frost of East Douglas, Mass. Annie whose home is in Rochester, N. Y., was introduced to Kent by her room mate, Joan Aldrich, who is Kent's cousin. Kent attended Lowell Textile Institute and is now in the Air Force at Camp Stewart, N. Y., which, just by coincidence, happened to be her own alma mater. Wedding plans are set for October 6.

Don Krup '54 of K. B. became engaged on the Thursday before Christmas vacation to Barbara Harper, Lestivalent, JG, at the Sub Base. They met at a student social party held at the Sub Base for the senior class during the first week in October. Bollin is the son of Senator Alfred Bolling of New London, where they plan to live; but as yet wedding plans are undetermined.

Marine, Airman, and Cadet Engaged

Another member of KB, Sue McGregor '54, had a New Year's Eve engagement to Bose K. Warner, of Westfield, Mass., is a Marine, Airman and Cadet at the Coast Guard Academy. Their engagement was made official at her home on December 26.

Bud is a First Classman and the Editor of the Academy newspaper. Sue says they have been dating since Polly's freshman year, but their plans at the moment are indefinite.

Junior Weds Peau Man

After six and a half years of being engaged, Mary Cross '54, has finally set the wedding date for June 30. They met in High School, but until they both spend their summers, Bill will graduate this year from the Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania.

where she has managed both fieldball and volleyball, photography editor of News and Kaine, this year she is co-head of the Bambina team along with Don Flickinger.

This many-sided girl was born in Brooklyn, and remains, to this day, a rabid Dodger fan although she has since moved to Garden City. The youngest of six children, we can see where she gets her knack for community living.

She graduated from The Paddock School in 1950. Other vital statistics house her in Free- man where she has done her assignments in her major. Art.

After Graduation

After graduation, Lois plans to put her art work to an advertising agency, where she will specialize in the advertising of hand-made items such as jewelry. This involves the drawing of human anatomy. Before going to work, however, she is going to indulge in a sum- mer of traveling, one of her yens.

She plans to move to New York, to work for a department store, and to move across the West to California by car.

Since she is leaving us come June, Lois recommends her room to sopho- more who will be burning around soon for 1954-1955 accommoda- tions. She and her room mate, Evans Flickinger, share the distinction of living in Free- man 492, 493. The room with the largest closet on campus, and moreover, the closest room to campus to the Coast Guard Academ- y.

Eddie Sauter and Bill Finegan, leaders of America's most excitingly-different dance band, met in 1939 as struggling young arrangers. Bill had studied trumpet and drum at college, worked up to arranging for "name" bands; Eddie had studied in Paris, won a spot with Tommy Dorsey. After 18 years of pooling new ideas, they formed their own band. It clicked!
