Long-Awaited Sykes Memorial Dedicated by Class of 1919

In the vestibule of the Sykes Alumnae Center is an inscription by Dr. Pres. Sykes, declaring the Center, Dedicated to the Memory of Frederick H. Sykes, 1919. The inscription reads: "To Dr. Frederick H. Sykes, a wise, poetic and scholarly teacher and administrator; to the students and alumnae who loved him; to the alumnae who supported and cooperated with him in the creation of the center. Dedicated by the alumnae who held him in such high esteem, to the memory of Dr. Frederick H. Sykes."

Sykes Supports College

In the last ten years, Dr. Sykes supported the college in a number of ways. He endowed the new Chaucer-Langland Professorship in English, and provided a number of fellowships. He was deeply interested in the college's academic life, and his influence was strongly felt on the campus.

Sykes’ Recital

As he pointed out the coupling of his collaboration with the college’s unique and renowned recital series, Pres. Sykes revealed that “the heart of my recital; seems to be ‘How would it be to look at this way?’ It was ‘Beautiful One’ that got me started. He mentioned poems which had impressed him, and a poem he had written himself. He revealed that the poems were processional, and one of them was ‘Secret of Poetry’, which he had composed for the college’s annual Sykes Pageant. The pageant, which he had directed, was a celebration of the college’s academic life, and featured the recitation of poems by college students. The pageant was a tradition that Sykes had initiated, and it had become a beloved annual event among the students.

The pageant was held on the college’s quad, with students and faculty participating in the recitations of various poems. The event was a highlight of the college’s academic year, and it was a testament to Sykes’ commitment to the college’s literary traditions.

Committee Urges Foresight For Student Library Contest

Each year the Student Library Committee sponsors a book contest for the students at Connecticut College. In order for you to be ready when the date is announced, the committee suggests that you organize your collection during vacation. This does not mean that you should gather all the volumes in your bookcase and arrange to have them sent to the college. On the contrary, the books in any entry should be related to one particular field of interest even if the field is as broad as Natural Science, the Theater, or French painting. The number of volumes accepted is free. The ten most interesting volumes in the collection, according to the student, are to be delivered to the judges. It is permissible to enter paperbacks only. Copy Editoial: Carol Plants.

Open Letter to All Students:
With the increase in cost of textbooks year by year, it becomes obvious that there is a crying need for some type of second-hand book exchange on campus. So many times there are copious omissions not accounted for by rarity or cost. Do the books suggest that the collector has been led off the beaten track of book-buying? Does the bibliography show a perfunctory and functional arrangement? Does the description make a good case for the entry as a satisfying enterprise?

In essence, the chief purpose of this contest is for the student to collect books that mean a great deal to her. Her expression of such worthy selection of reading matter is again, what is her particular selection of reading matter that means a great deal to her and why? We hope that each and every student at Connecticut will submit entries, we must each have a collection of books which we consider very valuable for the information which they contain.

This Exchange will both buy and sell books which you may want to sell or buy. There is a demand for books which you may want to sell or buy. There is a demand for books which you may want to sell and perhaps a few suggestions as to how to find the block, not before, not after, but during meals. This will eliminate all usual problems incurred by doctors. There are sides to the block. How to keep fit is proper exercise. Exercise is, of course, necessary for the mind which might otherwise go stale over the long vacation. There are many games which require brain play in the shape of vacation chess, for instance. It is very likely you have in your mind is in the shape mine is in right now, so fish or mumble you might be insufficient to keep it up. Last, we can suggest several forms of voluntary work to keep your nerves in the same state of relaxation during that time you are in right now. These games are, of course, the ones to set up so that you can't possibly win.

Believe it or not, after all this nonsense, AA do you hope you have a good vacation. See you in January, s.s.
Staff of German Department Complemented by Miss Stohr
by Jo Ann Patnode '63

If you are suffering from over-inflation of the funes of midnight oil, the brisk step and booming "Good Morn- ing!" of Miss Margot Stohr should go far towards reviving you. The formal manner of this Kiel, Germany, native has made her a bright addition to our German Department.

Her spirit not dampened by our New London winter, Miss Stohr, who taught previously in a girls' school near London, England, finds life at CC very interesting. From her observations, Miss Stohr has concluded that "they make you work pretty hard here." (Needless to say, we agree with her!) An incalculable world traveler, she has not many American friends and finds this opportunity of getting to know us better very enlightening. Miss Stohr feels that English as Americans speak it and English as the English speak it are two entirely different languages.
