Freshmen Urged to Attend Series of Talks on Majors

Heads of Departments to Cover Languages in First Talk Feb. 17

The annual series of freshman major talks offered by the college will be given by the heads of the departments. Freshmen are urged to attend all eight talks as the series will help them formulate their ideas about what major to choose as well as what electives to select. The first talk will be on Tuesday, last an hour and are to be held in the auditorium. Freshmen houses after dinner in order to make freshman attendance more convenient.

The first talk, to be held on February 17 at 6:45 p.m., will be given by Miss Marjorie Dilley, chairman of the Nutrition Department. Miss Dilley will talk on the national and world problem of malnutrition due to economic, physiological, and medical reasons. Freshmen are invited to attend the reception for Miss Dilley, chairman of the Nutrition Department.

Students to Train Here This Summer for Work with UAC

By Betty Shank '43

The essay has been more and more frequently - for trained personnel - for trained women in the industries first came the Aircraft-War, a complete engineering department to the United Air Corp as a course. These women are known as the War Ration Books, or as the "Ration Book". A woman who has taken a course in the "Ration Book" may have had a baby in New London and order a baby in the United Air Corp as a course. These women are known as the War Ration Books, or as the "Ration Book". A woman who has taken a course in the "Ration Book" may have had a baby in New London and order a baby in the United Air Corp as a course. These women are known as the War Ration Books, or as the "Ration Book".

The purpose of the War Ration Books is to prevent the wastage of food by giving priority to the purchase of foodstuffs for the armed forces. The book contains a list of items classified by their importance, and the purchase of these items is regulated by the government. The book is required for all service personnel and is used to determine the amount of food that can be purchased.

Dear Editor,

Interfaith month is a time for one to examine himself in relation to religion. It is not enough to belong to the Catholic faith, or the Jewish, or the Protestant. But what do I know about my faith, and even more, what do I know about the faith of others? This sort of self inquiry is necessary, not only for my own self examination but with their constant contact of individuals of various beliefs, but also if we are to be citizens and partners in the life of the whole group, community, nation, where understanding, tolerance are necessary for harmonious and profitable existence. This armor of understanding is essential, for the future of the post-war world. For the post-war world will not only be composed of nations, each with their political, economic, and social variances, but the post-war world will also have in it peoples of different faiths. And what better place to begin than here on campus where speakers have been thrown in our laps! And yet, I think we go even further in our understanding of other faiths than mere intellectual approach and insight. Understanding being tinged with emotional warmth and sincerity, so that when we say, "I understand a bit more why a person is as he is," our hearts will say it along with our heads.

Rabbi Wise Speaks On Post-War World And Jewish Faith

"Judaism will face the postwar era with a new dignity and strength," said Rabbi Stephen Wise in his address to the Congregation 14 in Harkness chapel. He dwelt upon the fact that the Jews have maintained a record of endurance and heroism and have endured the nineteen thousand years of Christian domination. This non-re- sistance is a result of their belief in what Rabbi Wise termed "the called forbearance, enables the Jewish people to enter into post- war conditions, so that the conditions may be.

Rabbi Wise spoke with some concern white dresses with han- the Jews have endured at the hands of the Nazi regime. He claimed that rarely in history has any race been subjected to such inhuman treatment as has been inflicted upon the Jewish people in recent years. Nevertheless, he believes that good may yet be wrought from the suffering of the Jew. The Rabbi feels that the Christians are coming to see that anti-Jewish feeling is simply a manifestation of a feeling against freedom and democracy for which the entire world is to blame.

The speaker claimed that the Jews may help the world toward the peace table for personal gain. He jokingly granted the rights bestowed on all mankind by having gone on to say that Christianity could not deny the many privileges that the Jews supply to the world, nor their help in trying to make a world of peace.

The Rabbi climax, his speech with a question, asking the hearers to think about the hour for which they so longed for in conjunction with the hour for which the Jews? He asked. He explicated the hope that in the postwar era the Jews may have their place among all, and that those who rule the world may determine a history by which we have thus far been isolated, detached, and persecuted.

First of all, is the WAAC really needed?

Emphatically yes! Already the President has authorized the Corps to expand from 25,000 to 150,000. The Air Forces and Signal Corps have asked for thousands of WAAC members to help with vital duties. Both Ground Forces and Services of Supply are asking for thousands more. Members of the WAAC may be assigned to duty with the Army anywhere—some are already in Africa and England.

Can the WAAC really help win the war?

The whole idea of the WAAC is to replace trained soldiers needed at the front. If American women pitch in now to help our Army (as women in Britain, Russia and China do), we can hasten Victory—and peace.

What can my college education contribute?

College training is important equipment for many WAAC duties too long to list. Cryptography, drafting, meteorology, laboratory work, Link trainer and glider instructing, for example. If you are a senior you may enroll at once and be placed on inactive duty until the school year ends. See your WAAC faculty adviser for more details.

How can I live comfortably on WAAC pay?

There are few civilian jobs in which you could earn clear income as a WAAC enrolled member do, of $50 to $130 a month—with all equipment from your toothbrush to clothing, food, quarters, medical and dental care provided. WAAC officers earn from $150 to $333.33 a month.

training course. The students will learn to plot data, to do curve plotting, to do lettering, and to read curves. They will also learn to evaluate formulas using this data and will learn to use slide rules. In addition the course will include a study of the physical concepts basic to aeronautical engineering.

Mr. John G. Lee, assistant director of research at United Aircraft Corporation, and Mrs. William H. Welch, a member of the research division, who have worked with our mathematics department to organize this course, will interview students, preferably seniors, who are interested in this work. They will meet these students on Tuesday, March 2 at 4:30 p.m. in the faculty lounge, Panning 418.

Some questions and answers of interest to every patriotic college woman

The drilling sounds so strenuous—!

Nonsense! The most beautiful women in America today are the girls in khaki! Some calisthenics and drilling are vital to general good health, discipline and tuned-up reflexes. After a few weeks at Fort Des Moines, Daytona Beach or the new Fort Oglethorpe training center you’ll feel better than ever in your life.

Maybe I wouldn’t like the work?

People are happiest doing what they do well. Every effort is made to place you where your service will count most toward final Victory. You may have some latent talent that will fill a particular need for work interesting and new to women—such as repairing the famous secret bombights, rigging parachutes, operating the fascinating new electronic devices—or driving an Army jeep over foreign terrain.

Then I have a chance to learn something new?

Yes, indeed. And the list of WAAC duties grows constantly. The training and experience you get in the WAAC may equip you for many stimulating new careers opening up for women.

What are my chances of promotion?

Excellent. The Corps is expanding rapidly and needs new officers, both commissioned and noncommissioned. Those who join now have the best chances. All new officers now come up through the ranks. If qualified, you may obtain a commission in 12 weeks after beginning basic training.

What is the age range and other requirements?

Very simple. You may join if you are a U. S. citizen, aged 21 to 44, inclusive, at least 5 feet tall and not over 6 feet in good health—regardless of race, color or creed. But the Army needs you now—don’t delay. Total War won’t wait!

Quarterly's Face is Being Lifted; Will Reappear Soon in New guise
by Phyllis Schift

"Said Hanson to Logan this is our slogan—Send it to Quarterly! Have you seen signs like that? Of course you have. Are you wondering what they mean? Of course you are.

Quarterly, the student magazine, is having its face lifted. Last year, Bakos '44, the new editor of Quarterly and her associate, Skip Rosenfield '44, have undertaken a big but interesting job. They are planning to make Quarterly a truly representative campus magazine.

Paintings and New Interiors On Exhibition
by Helen Crawford '41

"A wide range of interest and variety are evident in the three different exhibitions open to the public, from now until February 21 at the Lyman Allyn Museum. The largest exhibition includes paintings by members of the Lyme Art Association; another room displays striking and unusual landscapes by Chinese Tseng H. Chin and a third room contains three-dimensional exhibits and diagrams of modern interior decoration.

The actual composition of the next issue is a secret. It is, however, so that its size and print have been changed to make it easier to handle and read. A special publicity committee has been appointed to keep Quarterly on the mind when it's not on the stand. They are starting off on an all-out "read it, discuss it, and send it to Quarterly" campaign.

The first issue will make its debut within a few weeks.

Applicants must have successfully completed all requirements for graduation with a bachelor's degree from a recognized institution.

Competitors will be rated on a general test, which will consist of questions designed to test their general knowledge and their aptitude for learning and adjusting to the duties of the positions on a scale of 100.

The salaries for junior professional assistants are $2,000 a year plus overtime. For further information about the examination, see Miss Alice Ramsay in the personnel office.

Summer School

President Blunt emphasized that in addition to accomplishing a definite purpose in summer session, students who study here during the summer may have the pleasure of concentrated study on only two courses.

The partial content of the mimeograph distributed to the students is quoted below:

"Although the college reserves the right to withdraw a course for which registrations are too few, other courses may be organized later if demand develops.

Several of the new courses as well as the older ones may be of interest to teachers and alumnae as well as to our students. High school graduates in June 1943 may enter the summer school and obtain 12 points toward their degree.

A regular student will be expected to take two courses, earning 15 points of credit. The three-point courses will be given during the first half of the session. On demand, a three-point course may be repeated the second half.

War Sends Western Union to College to Meet Emergency

by Alice Adams '44

By now, probably everyone on campus is aware of the existence of the Western Union office which is so neatly installed, completely with swinging door, in the first floor of Fanning. Upon our return from Christmas vacation, we wondered what "live wire" had thought up the ingenious idea of having a telegraph station at the college.

We finally got around to asking a few questions of Miss Sallie Lafleury, the telegraph operator who has adjusted herself so well to the educational, crowded, and noisy of Fanning. It seems that the telegraph office was installed as an indirect result of the war situation. The college has always had a rather large percentage of the wires coming into New London, and with the shortage of messengers which has developed since the war began, prompt delivery becomes virtually an impossibility. Thus the telegraph office was installed, and it remains open for business from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Telegrams for the Coast Guard Academy also come through this office and Miss Lafleury delivers the wires to the academy in addition to delivering the wires here on campus. Roughly speaking, there is an average of thirty wires a day for the college and twenty a day for the academy. No longer is it necessary to pay that extra nickel to call Western Union. Students may now just drop by between classes and dispense with their important business matters via Western Union.

Federal, State and Welfare Jobs Now Open to Seniors

The personnel department has received announcements of several job openings in government offices in Washington, D. C.. The United States Civil Service Commission is accepting applications for trainees, scientific and mechanical aides with the technical laboratories; the salary is $1,440 a year plus overtime. Accounting and auditing assistant positions are also open for applications. The deadline is February 23, 1943, for service in Washington.

Caught On Campus

Valentine's day made the hearts beat faster and Cupid scored several hits on the campus as the day drew near. Eleanor Murphy '43 announced her engagement to Jim Calhoun, Lieut. j.g., at the Sub Base.

"Happy" Squires '43 announced her engagement to Ray Heizer Jr. Ray graduated from Yale in December and is now training for ground crew work in the Army Air Corps. Happy hopes to be married in July.

Franny Conover '45 announced her engagement January 2nd to Corporal Richard Tazewell of Fort Meade, Maryland. Dick is doing camouflage work.

Some brilliant junior has been taking six courses all year, and thought nothing unusual about the amount of work she seemed to have. Miss Warner, her advisor, was shocked into questioning when she realized the situation and the junior, we mention no names, thought everything was all right. "How many courses are you taking?" "Five," said the junior. "And naming six. Hats off to the junior—most of us feel we are taking six when we do only five."

Franny Yeames '43 will be married to Ensign Hank Prickett this Saturday, and June Wood '45 will be in the wedding party. Congratulations, Mrs. Prickett to be!"

Connie Haaren '43 will be married to Ensign Hank Prickett this Saturday, and June Wood '45 will be in the wedding party. Congratulations, Mrs. Prickett to be!

Graduated a Radio Operator in Waves

The following notice has been received from the Naval Training school at the University of Wisconsin:

"Anne Jacobs, of Washington, D.C., a former member of the class of '43 at Connecticut col-eges, was graduated recently as a future Navy radio operator, in the first class of the Women's Recruit Air Service (WAVES) of the U. S. Navy, to complete the intensive course of study in the Naval Training school on the campus of the University of Wisconsin.

"As a result of her successful completion of the comprehensive 16-week specialized training, she will shortly be assigned to a Naval shore establishment to relieve a bluejacket for active duty with the fleet.

At the graduation ceremonies, Miss Jacobs was presented with a certificate of proficiency from the University of Wisconsin, and from the Navy Department, and received the congratulations of Commander L. R. Pollard, USN, commanding officer of the school.

"The Navy's school for enlisted women in radio communications opened on October 9th. Training included Navy indoctrination and the identical course of study given to the Navy's men radio operators.
