Connecticut College has had the reputation of being environmentally conscious college for a long time, and this reputation was validated with the college's success in the first week of RecycleMania, a week intermediate competition to see which institution recycles the most per person between January 29 and April 8. This year 93 U.S. col-eges and universities entered in RecycleMania, and it is College's first appearance in the competition, which began on January 29 and ran through the first week of March, with the categories: aluminum, paper, plastic, and glass. The competition aims to increase campus-wide awareness of recycling and to reduce waste. All participating schools are required to report their recycling efforts as pounds. At Conn, Jim Luce deals with the recyclables, which include mixed recyclables, aluminum cans, clean aluminum cans, and mixed recyclables. Students have written to their representatives about the extent to which we already can exceed our baseline -- if students, faculty and staff continue to recycle, we’ll remain in a prominent position," said Amy Cahnman, Connecticut College's Environmental Coordinator.

Some schools are competing in different individual categories such as paper, plastic, aluminum and glass.
The total amount of recyclables they collect is currently leading the category in the top five in all categories. Jayhart and Jones set a table in campus center during the past two weeks to encourage people to sign a pledge promising they would recycle to their best of their ability for the duration of the competition.

Over 175 people signed up and 72 have placed a sign-up sheet. A gift will be set up in the campus center, able to sign up. "Keep an eye out for RecycleMania continues on page 6

Conn Currently In Top Five For RecycleMania

By GOZDE ERDENIZ

Conn will participate in The National Survey
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.

According to the NSSE
Engagement (NSSE) for a fourth consecutive year. Officially
starting in 2000, NSSE is an annual survey
distributed to undergraduates, students at colleges and universities
nationwide to obtain specific information about educational experi-
experiences.
SAC Needs Students To Keep Conn Fun

"Last week, elections for junior I-Board rep and SAC reps took place on Campusweb to fill positions left vacant by students studying abroad this spring. There was a close contest between the two juniors running for I-Board, but unfortunately, no one ran for the SAC position."

With an executive board and a representative from every dorm, why is it such a big deal if two positions aren't filled? Doesn't SAC have enough personnel?

SAC's efforts are based on committees and specialized groups, each one focused on specific events on which students rely throughout the year. There is a great plant that works on florist. Reps slave over Winter Formal preparations. Friday Nights Live has it's own staff.

"SAC's efforts are based on committees and specialized groups, each one focused on specific planning. With no junior class representatives on the committee, other juniors on SAC will be forced to pick up the slack, leading to either burnout for SAC members or fewer well-planned events."

A sophomore on SAC commented, "It's a big deal for the junior class just because they are far from the...planning of class events. It affects SAC in the sense that we don't have those extra people for committees." She continued, "It's nice to have those extra bodies."

SAC works hard and their efforts have placed Conn on the list of Princeton Review's top 20 schools for entertainment on campus. Sometimes students take this for granted, but Conn did not forced to pick up the slack, leading to either burnout for SAC members or fewer well-planned events.

"No juniors running for J-Board, but unfortunately, no one ran for the SAC position. SAC works hard and their efforts have placed Conn on the list of Princeton Review's top 20 schools for entertainment on campus. Sometimes students take this for granted, but Conn did not forced to pick up the slack, leading to either burnout for SAC members or fewer well-planned events."

The members of SAC from the junior class also have activities that they are responsible for. SAC's efforts are based on committees and specialized groups, each one focused on specific planning. It affects SAC in the sense that we don't have those extra people for committees. She continued, "It's nice to have those extra bodies."

SAC works hard and their efforts have placed Conn on the list of Princeton Review's top 20 schools for entertainment on campus. Sometimes students take this for granted, but Conn did not forced to pick up the slack, leading to either burnout for SAC members or fewer well-planned events. SAC works hard and their efforts have placed Conn on the list of Princeton Review's top 20 schools for entertainment on campus. Sometimes students take this for granted, but Conn did not forced to pick up the slack, leading to either burnout for SAC members or fewer well-planned events.
Drew Meyer -

Harris!", here's what I've been up to this week.

I could fix my (lack of) artistic talent.

Old Lady who can't see

I used to an earth-friendly life style was a on and off in fact uses more energy.

For those of you wondering to yourselves "I haven't seen Andrew at all, he wasn't in class, he wasn't at tara's house, he wasn't even in Harris", here's what I've been up to this week.

My Earth House Experience

Can find "Environmental Groups"

I had not been to Earth House before and probably could not have fully understood what one person can do to great uniting force to render the suicide of innocents.

An economic metaphor, I need to do what one person can do to great uniting force to render the house earth

For non-rechargeable batteries, we

The college campus has lately seen the presence of dozens of flyers proclaining that it was time the Iraq war that's needs stopping- the one that's needs stopping- the one we try to forget, the one that's needs stopping- the one we're trying to forget, the one that's needs stopping.

My Earth House columns
to the whiteboard launches an atypical

Terrorism is a tactic and a product of an ideology, not an ideology in itself. What the West needs to do is fight the ideology.

What the West needs to do is fight the ideology. One way of doing this is increasing the buffer between the West and their regimes is necessary.

Democratic low-law making, then, is the greatest enemy of the pro-life movement. Aside from their support for on-demand abortion itself, I can conceive of nothing they could demonstrate so effectively the moral bankruptcy of this movement. America is supposed to be a country in which the people decide how they are to govern themselves, but the pro-abortion crowd wants none of that, at least in terms of the abortion issue, and with Unfounded terrorism, it is unfoundedly true that con-

Two boxes, a bucket of water to fill the toilet tank

The West, particularly the United States, has not focused on fighting this type of terrorism.

Regardless of the end result of this episode, and despite the flares in the bill they have passed, the legislators of the South Dakota House are not motivated by political pressure or public opinion in any way.

We are going to cover this issue in a future print in part, because magic does happen in this building of civil societies in the face of governmental support, must be firmly condi-

Terrorists of the South Dakota House are

A "disassembly" line was set up at the college to produce much nutrition for the soil and exchange news about the environment.

For those of you wondering to yourselves "I haven't seen Andrew at all, he wasn't in class, he wasn't at tara's house, he wasn't even in Harris", here's what I've been up to this week.

These Islamist groups don't only hate the West. They have their list of "hostile" elements of society such as minorities and minorities.

Progressive groups on campus, such as CCLE, need to focus on these issues of human rights in the Muslim and Arab world. They should be talking about ending the war that is not only about people but who lies in dar al-salam states such as Zimbabwe or Turkey, the horrible in the Islamic world impact of the Koran. The truth is that fighting these hostile governments and their regimes is necessary.

Supreme Court nominees put forth by President Bush.

The Supreme Court's ruling on these hostile governments and their regimes is necessary.

My Earth House columns
to the whiteboard launches an atypical

Nuclear Lord of the rings

Furthermore, if all the millions and millions of reformers worldwide were to wage their war on this issue, without a doubt, the world is becoming.

The President and the Supreme Court nominees put forth by President Bush.

Regardless of the end result of this episode, and despite the flares in the bill they have passed, the legislators of the South Dakota House are not motivated by political pressure or public opinion in any way.

These Islamist groups don't only hate the West. They have their list of "hostile" elements of society such as minorities and minorities.

Progressive groups on campus, such as CCLE, need to focus on these issues of human rights in the Muslim and Arab world. They should be talking about ending the war that is not only about people but who lies in dar al-salam states such as Zimbabwe or Turkey, the horrible in the Islamic world impact of the Koran. The truth is that fighting these hostile governments and their regimes is necessary.

Democratic low-law making, then, is the greatest enemy of the pro-life movement. Aside from their support for on-demand abortion itself, I can conceive of nothing they could demonstrate so effectively the moral bankruptcy of this movement. America is supposed to be a country in which the people decide how they are to govern themselves, but the pro-abortion crowd wants none of that, at least in terms of the abortion issue, and with Unfounded terrorism, it is unfoundedly true that con-

Two boxes, a bucket of water to fill the toilet tank

The West, particularly the United States, has not focused on fighting this type of terrorism.

Regardless of the end result of this episode, and despite the flares in the bill they have passed, the legislators of the South Dakota House are not motivated by political pressure or public opinion in any way.

These Islamist groups don't only hate the West. They have their list of "hostile" elements of society such as minorities and minorities.

Progressive groups on campus, such as CCLE, need to focus on these issues of human rights in the Muslim and Arab world. They should be talking about ending the war that is not only about people but who lies in dar al-salam states such as Zimbabwe or Turkey, the horrible in the Islamic world impact of the Koran. The truth is that fighting these hostile governments and their regimes is necessary.

Democratic low-law making, then, is the greatest enemy of the pro-life movement. Aside from their support for on-demand abortion itself, I can conceive of nothing they could demonstrate so effectively the moral bankruptcy of this movement. America is supposed to be a country in which the people decide how they are to govern themselves, but the pro-abortion crowd wants none of that, at least in terms of the abortion issue, and with Unfounded terrorism, it is unfoundedly true that con-
The alternative music scene is a tough one to navigate. Obvious bands are promoted, yet their fifteenth albums disappoint—or maybe worse—they hit the mainstream, and every 14-year-old is voting for them on MTV and acting all punkpunkpunk. The Webster is known for its underground music scene, and though I had seen Scary Kids Scaring Kids before, I hit the show completely unaware of what Me, Kill Me, and Allister sounded like. For a headline to open the show, none better, at least, than a band that promoted their fourth major label release, The City, from Ruiner (New Brunswick). The album is a heavy one, yet the emotional gestalt from suicide to live insertion to night- mares. However, despite the constant presence of, you can’t help but notice the wide range of people who came there. Were we all Students and religious Jews? Mick Agan, and even some Israeli living in the United States. Beirut was heard everywhere and Israeli flags made their way to the Webster.

EBU Rahmel's concert mainly featured some of his best tracks of what everyone knows to be his best in the biz, Pharrell has said on that part of the crowd. One of my favorites was "Bethlehem Man," which interestingly had a lot of English lyrics.

So after 8:00pm, Ehud Banai took the stage. I could not help but notice the wide range of people who came there. Were we all Students and religious Jews? Mick Agan, and even some Israeli living in the United States. Beirut was heard everywhere and Israeli flags made their way to the Webster.

The song talks about how the Hebrew image is an integral part of the world and its future histories (Revelation). It will come back to the forefront, and we will not let him and his lover's love. He was not an outgoing person, but I thought you still go to the concert. He was not an outgoing person, but I thought you still go to the concert. He was not an outgoing person, but I thought you still go to the concert. He was not an outgoing person, but I thought you still go to the concert.

The concert was packed with the many people who came there. The performance, featured at an Israeli fashion show, was fantastic. Ehud Banai's concert mainly featured some of his best tracks of what everyone knows to be his best in the biz, Pharrell has said on that part of the crowd. One of my favorites was "Bethlehem Man," which interestingly had a lot of English lyrics.

By TRISTAN O’DONNELL

Hiphop Producers Jai Dee Dies at 32

Last week brought one of the most tragic events in black music history in the death of Jai Dee (Jay Dustin). Dee, deejay and recording artist, had been working on his latest album, "Black:干部职工 Bolts." The album was due for release in March and was expected to be a major breakthrough for Dee, who was known for his soulful and soulful production style.

Jai Dee’s death has left the music world in shock and mourning. The hip-hop community has been paying tribute to him on social media, with many sharing memories and messages of support.

Jai Dee was born on February 10, 1980, in Brooklyn, New York. He began his career as a deejay and quickly gained recognition for his unique style and energy. He worked with many notable artists, including Jay-Z, Kanye West, and Nas, and was known for his soulful and soulful production style.

Jai Dee’s untimely death has left a void in the hip-hop community. His music and legacy will continue to inspire and influence future generations of artists.
Music Genome Project: Opening Pandora's Box

BY RACHEL GAINES

Pandora.com is a company that has the potential to revolutionize the way we listen to music. It is a music service that uses a unique algorithm called the "Music Genome Project" to analyze and categorize music. This project was launched in 2000, and it has been quite an adventure, according to Tim Westergren, the founder of the project. They used a database of tens of thousands of songs, each of which was analyzed by a team of musicologists to identify the underlying characteristics that define the song. These characteristics are then used by the algorithm to recommend songs that share similar characteristics.

The company now has a database of over one billion songs, and it uses this database to create a personalized playlist for each user. The algorithm takes into account the user's listening history and preferences to create a list of songs that they are likely to enjoy.

Pandora allows you to create stations based on the characteristics of the music you listen to on the web-site. Some of the traits you can select are:

- Genres: From Rock to Country, to Classical, to Jazz, to Hip-Hop.
- Mood: From Happy to Sad, to中otropic, to Energetic.
- Keywords: From "Dance" to "Love" to "Cool".

One of the unique features of Pandora is that it uses a "streaming" model, which means that it doesn't actually download the songs to your computer. Instead, it sends an encoded version of the song to your computer, which plays it back using your own audio software. This allows Pandora to play songs that are not available in your local library, such as songs that are only available on streaming services like Spotify or Apple Music.

Pandora does not put times in your computer. It is a radio station, so it plays each song once and moves on. In defense of the site, each song has a link to the iTunes music store and Amazon.com, so listeners can buy songs or albums without ever navigating away from the site.

It has been quite an adventure, you could say a little eerie,” according to Westergren. “But now that we’ve created this extraordinary collection of music analysis, we think we can help be your guide as you explore your favorite parts of the music universe.” Although “music information” may sound corny, the future of Pandora truly feels infinite, and is a perfect alternative to the same old pop on the radio and the repetitive nature of CDs and iTunes. Since Pandora is free, there is no reason not to check it out. Start exploring at www.pandora.com.
Last Tuesday Judge Patricia Wald, a Connecticut College class of 1948 graduate, sat on a ten member independent commission that examined the recent discussions concerning Coca-Cola's vending machines across campus, in response to that alternatives to Coca-Cola be installed in the near future.

"We internally see it as more positive," Mr. Nugent said. However, the survey was too recent to determine whether the freshmen were slow to act.

The letter, originally written by Eddie Slade during the question and answer section, was amended by SGA, and passed in a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions). The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions).

"I thought the survey was interesting," Mr. Nugent said. "But I wouldn't want to see it repeated."

The letter, originally written by Eddie Slade during the question and answer section, was amended by SGA, and passed in a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions). The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions).

The commission found mistakes within the letter. The letter, originally written by Eddie Slade during the question and answer section, was amended by SGA, and passed in a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions). The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions).

After the issue was brought to attention, SGA began research in order either to validate or disprove the claims made against the multi-billion dollar corporation.

The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions). The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions).

In response to the Connecticut College community's concern over the ongoing controversy, however, SGA submitted the letter, which should allow students who do not wish to support Coca-Cola to enjoy similar products produced by different companies.

Mr. Nugent said. However, the survey was too recent to determine whether the freshmen were slow to act.

The letter, originally written by Eddie Slade during the question and answer section, was amended by SGA, and passed in a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions). The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions).

"I took the Pepsi challenge blindfolded when I was young and quitly, I chose Coca-Cola, then and still support it now," stated student David Kornelak, after hearing about the claims made against the makers of his favorite soda-pop. "I mean, every business has fraud, and if fraud tastes good, then I'm for it!"

The letter, originally written by Eddie Slade during the question and answer section, was amended by SGA, and passed in a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions). The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions).

"We internally see it as more positive," Mr. Nugent said. However, the survey was too recent to determine whether the freshmen were slow to act.

The letter, originally written by Eddie Slade during the question and answer section, was amended by SGA, and passed in a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions). The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions).

The letter, originally written by Eddie Slade during the question and answer section, was amended by SGA, and passed in a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions). The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions).

After the issue was brought to attention, SGA began research in order either to validate or disprove the claims made against the multi-billion dollar corporation.

The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions). The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions).

In response to the Connecticut College community's concern over the ongoing controversy, however, SGA submitted the letter, which should allow students who do not wish to support Coca-Cola to enjoy similar products produced by different companies.

The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions). The letter was amended by SGA, and passed by a 16-8-4 vote (16 for, 8 against, 4 abstentions).

"I took the Pepsi challenge blindfolded when I was young and quitly, I chose Coca-Cola, then and still support it now," stated student David Kornelak, after hearing about the claims made against the makers of his favorite soda-pop. "I mean, every business has fraud, and if fraud tastes good, then I'm for it!"

Mr. Nugent said. However, the survey was too recent to determine whether the freshmen were slow to act.

"I would rather see people to the first or second (option)," Milstone said. "Buying a best is not to my liking. It doesn't change anything for the here."

Considering different ways the vote could change to attract more volunteers, Milstone mentioned the idea of giving students some form of course credit for working on the newspaper. Another proposal he mentioned, which has been brought in only after a controversial up at different points in the past, is to use a faculty advisor to the College.

"I would rather see people to the first or second (option)," Milstone said. "Buying a best is not to my liking. It doesn't change anything for the here."

Considering different ways the vote could change to attract more volunteers, Milstone mentioned the idea of giving students some form of course credit for working on the newspaper. Another proposal he mentioned, which has been brought in only after a controversial up at different points in the past, is to use a faculty advisor to the College.

"I would rather see people to the first or second (option)," Milstone said. "Buying a best is not to my liking. It doesn't change anything for the here."

Considering different ways the vote could change to attract more volunteers, Milstone mentioned the idea of giving students some form of course credit for working on the newspaper. Another proposal he mentioned, which has been brought in only after a controversial up at different points in the past, is to use a faculty advisor to the College.

"I would rather see people to the first or second (option)," Milstone said. "Buying a best is not to my liking. It doesn't change anything for the here."

Considering different ways the vote could change to attract more volunteers, Milstone mentioned the idea of giving students some form of course credit for working on the newspaper. Another proposal he mentioned, which has been brought in only after a controversial up at different points in the past, is to use a faculty advisor to the College.

"I would rather see people to the first or second (option)," Milstone said. "Buying a best is not to my liking. It doesn't change anything for the here."

Considering different ways the vote could change to attract more volunteers, Milstone mentioned the idea of giving students some form of course credit for working on the newspaper. Another proposal he mentioned, which has been brought in only after a controversial up at different points in the past, is to use a faculty advisor to the College.

"I would rather see people to the first or second (option)," Milstone said. "Buying a best is not to my liking. It doesn't change anything for the here."

Considering different ways the vote could change to attract more volunteers, Milstone mentioned the idea of giving students some form of course credit for working on the newspaper. Another proposal he mentioned, which has been brought in only after a controversial up at different points in the past, is to use a faculty advisor to the College.

"I would rather see people to the first or second (option)," Milstone said. "Buying a best is not to my liking. It doesn't change anything for the here."

Considering different ways the vote could change to attract more volunteers, Milstone mentioned the idea of giving students some form of course credit for working on the newspaper. Another proposal he mentioned, which has been brought in only after a controversial up at different points in the past, is to use a faculty advisor to the College.

"I would rather see people to the first or second (option)," Milstone said. "Buying a best is not to my liking. It doesn't change anything for the here."

Considering different ways the vote could change to attract more volunteers, Milstone mentioned the idea of giving students some form of course credit for working on the newspaper. Another proposal he mentioned, which has been brought in only after a controversial up at different points in the past, is to use a faculty advisor to the College.

"I would rather see people to the first or second (option)," Milstone said. "Buying a best is not to my liking. It doesn't change anything for the here."

Considering different ways the vote could change to attract more volunteers, Milstone mentioned the idea of giving students some form of course credit for working on the newspaper. Another proposal he mentioned, which has been brought in only after a controversial up at different points in the past, is to use a faculty advisor to the College.

"I would rather see people to the first or second (option)," Milstone said. " Buying a best is not to my liking. It doesn't change anything for the here."

Considering different ways the vote could change to attract more volunteers, Milstone mentioned the idea of giving students some form of course credit for working on the newspaper. Another proposal he mentioned, which has been brought in only after a controversial up at different points in the past, is to use a faculty advisor to the College.
Final Semester: Yoni Meets The Seniors

Crime Log: February 8-14

SGA Minutes: February 9, 2006

WANT THE VOICE TO EXIST NEXT YEAR?

The Voice is losing a number of editors after this year. Without replacements, the college may lose its one and only student-run newspaper.

Join the Voice Team Now to Gain Experience -- Many editorial positions available for 2006-2007!

Voice: Where are you from, and where were you born?

Eddie: I’m from Amherst, MA, and I was born in New York.

Voice: What is your major?

Eddie: African and Race Relations.

Voice: What has been the most annoying thing about coke?

AG: Raw chicken.

CV: What do you like to cook?

AG: I want sweet potato fries at every meal.

CV: What is something about Conn you want to change?

AG: Matzo ball soup.

CV: Do you have a favorite food in Harris?

AG: Raw chicken.

CV: What do you like to cook?

AG: Move to sweet potato fries.

CV: Do you have anything to say to the rest of the senior class?

AG: Yes, senior class.

CV: See you at graduation!

Voice: Where are you from, and where do you live?

Eddie: I’m from Amherst, MA. And I was born in New York.

Voice: What has been the most memorable or important part of your time here?

Eddie: Rolling down an entire flight of stairs (Harris).

Voice: Where on campus have you hung out the most, apart from being a classroom?

Eddie: My friend Rachel’s room.

Voice: If you go off-campus, where do you usually go?

CV: What has been the most annoying thing about campus so far?

AG: The location – you can’t walk off campus and do something.

CV: What is something about Conn you want to change?

AG: Sweet potato fries.

CV: What is the worst food you have had at Harris’s?

AG: Matzo ball soup.

cv: What is your major?

AG: African and Race Relations.

CV: What is your dream job?

AG: A professional massage chair tester.

CV: What do you think of Conn’s guy’s?

AG: They are extra special.

CV: What has he been the most remembered or important part of your time here?

AG: Eddie Slade talked to Greg Hopkins on the phone today about other coke options. He doesn’t want an exclusive contract. He would like to see a coke ban but he understands the caffeine issue. He would say that we request a cut or a non renewal of the exclusive contract.

AG: The proposed letter. He doesn’t think there is sufficient evidence to ban it completely. He would like to take the ban out of coke. There is no cola beverage that is going to upset a lot of people. We should look into other coke options. He wants coke to be taken off campus.

Eddie: Eddie Slade agrees with the past 2 pony. He doesn’t get a vote so he hopes that someone else does.

CV: What is something about Conn you want to change?

AG: Ban all caffeinated drinks.

CV: Do you have a favorite food in Harris?

AG: Matzo ball soup.

CV: What is something about Conn you want to change?

AG: Move to sweet potato fries.

CV: Do you have anything to say to the rest of the senior class?

AG: Yes, senior class.

CV: See you at graduation!

Voice: Final Semester: Yoni

Voice: Where are you from, and where do you live?

Eddie: I’m from Amherst, MA. And I was born in New York.

Voice: What is your major?

Eddie: African and Race Relations.

Voice: What is your dream job?

Eddie: A professional massage chair tester.

Voice: What do you think of Conn’s guy’s?

Eddie: They are extra special.

Voice: What has he been the most remembered or important part of your time here?

Eddie: Rolling down an entire flight of stairs (Harris).

Voice: Where on campus have you hung out the most, apart from being a classroom?

Eddie: My friend Rachel’s room.

Voice: If you go off-campus, where do you usually go?

CV: What has been the most annoying thing about campus so far?

AG: The location – you can’t walk off campus and do something.

CV: What is something about Conn you want to change?

AG: Sweet potato fries.

CV: What is the worst food you have had at Harris’s?

AG: Matzo ball soup.

CV: What is your major?

AG: African and Race Relations.

CV: What is your dream job?

AG: A professional massage chair tester.

CV: What do you think of Conn’s guy’s?

AG: They are extra special.

CV: What has he been the most remembered or important part of your time here?

AG: Eddie Slade talked to Greg Hopkins on the phone today about other coke options. He doesn’t want an exclusive contract. He would like to see a coke ban but he understands the caffeine issue. He would say that we request a cut or a non renewal of the exclusive contract.

AG: The proposed letter. He doesn’t think there is sufficient evidence to ban it completely. He would like to take the ban out of coke. There is no cola beverage that is going to upset a lot of people. We should look into other coke options. He wants coke to be taken off campus.

AG: Eddie Slade would accept the amendment to the coke ban. Coke is just coke. We don’t really care. He wants new coke machines.

AG: Eddie Slade would accept the amendment.

AG: He doesn’t want an exclusive contract. He wants coke to be taken off campus. He wants coke to be banned.

AG: Eddie Slade would accept the amendment. Coke is just coke. We don’t really care. He wants new coke machines.

AG: Eddie Slade would accept the amendment. Coke is just coke. We don’t really care. He wants new coke machines.

AG: Eddie Slade would accept the amendment. Coke is just coke. We don’t really care. He wants new coke machines.

AG: Eddie Slade would accept the amendment. Coke is just coke. We don’t really care. He wants new coke machines.

AG: Eddie Slade would accept the amendment. Coke is just coke. We don’t really care. He wants new coke machines.
Snake Makes Friends With Its Food

A rat snake and a dwarf hamster have struck up a strange friendship, living side by side at a zoo near Tokyo.

Aochan the snake was offered the rodent to munch on after it turned its nose up at its usual diet of frozen mice. But instead of killing the hamster the snake made friends with it and the two have lived happily together in the same cage since October last year.

The hamster has been named Gohan, which means 'meal' in Japanese. Aochan has gone back to eating frozen mice.

Click here to chat about animals

Gohan appears to be so happy in the presence of his new buddy that keepers say he is regularly seen to fall asleep on top of the reptile.

"I don't think there's any danger. Aochan seems to enjoy Gohan's company very much," zookeeper Kazuya Yamamoto told the Associated Press news agency.

Unusual partnerships

It's not the first time predators have befriended animals they might usually view as a potential meal.

In 2002, a lioness at Samburu National Park adopted a number of baby antelopes.
Women’s Hockey
Continued from page 10
The game opened with Williams out on the floor late and behind the net, and the Camels began their comeback. Consecutive Olympics
Continued from page 10
opener, the World’s Hockey
Continued from page 10
women, and the leader with the first period ended with the Camels trailing 3-2, but out a period. The two losses over the weekend allowed the Camels to 4. There will be one last opportunity in Friday night for the Camels to secure a position in the playoffs.
3-4, in overtime, and the Camels fell to the home team, and the Lord off the Camels record to 6-11-5.

Sosa Retires
Continued from page 9
regardless of what the preceding factors may have done to his image, because of the many great things he did for the game, both on and off the field. His epic home run battle with Matt McGover during the 1998 season will never be forgotten and may have in fact saved baseball from becoming a forgotten pastime. Surely, the straight-ahead game on the right field was always appreciated by the home fans, and who can forget his famous Homer hay after every home run? And can you dare not remember his somber display of affection towards the camera while back in the dugout? All these are trademarks of one of the game’s greatest sluggers, memories that dependently never be tarnished. But one can’t help but feel for the future and the current level of play is a good indica-
Sosa Retires
Continued from page 9
our competitive natures, but I can only be inspired to a certain point by weekender warriors who attempt to win medals in their

Basketball Clinches NESCAC

Ber Gryld Wars

As the Voice reported in her last issue, the Connecti-ct College women’s squash teams have gone through three, fourth and fifth game by wide margins.

Camels advanced to their first NESCAC championship since 1991, setting of a decisive win against Bowdoin College earlier in the month, the CC women’s squash ball team was in place to earn a berth in the upcoming NESCAC Tournament. They achieved this first Saturday by defeating Wesleyan University at home in an exciting exhibition. Conn was already locked in the number one spot, and will play the Lord
Jiffs of Amherst Saturday, February
14th. Ambler won the battle for the number one spot in the NESCAC Tourney with a 9-7 win last week-end, emerging unscathed in first round. Although Conn entered the post season boasting an 8-1 conference record and is 2-2 overall, the Camels are looking healthy and confident, and are currently riding the momentum of back-to-back NESCAC victories, including their triumph over the Cardinals.
Conn brought on the offensive early against Wesleyan, and outclasshed the visitors from the opening tip-off. Running the floor quickly, the Cardinals had little rhythm. The Cardinals had little rhythm. The Cardinals had little deadly, however, and the home team was in for a rough time. The Camels were able to dominate the contest, and Conn jogged into the locker room with acomfortable 35-favor at the 10:29 mark. With 3:16
to play, Wesleyan was down 34-
8, and all seemed to be lost.
As the Camels entered the final minutes ticked away. The Camels were able to dominate the contest,
and Conn jogged into the locker room with acomfortable 35-
favor at the 10:29 mark. With 3:16
to play, Wesleyan was down 34-
8, and all seemed to be lost.
As the Camels entered the final minutes ticked away. The Camels were able to dominate the contest,
and Conn jogged into the locker room with acomfortable 35-
favor at the 10:29 mark. With 3:16
to play, Wesleyan was down 34-
8, and all seemed to be lost.
As the Camels entered the final minutes ticked away. The Camels were able to dominate the contest,
and Conn jogged into the locker room with acomfortable 35-
favor at the 10:29 mark. With 3:16
to play, Wesleyan was down 34-
8, and all seemed to be lost.
Gillick, "made a bunch of huge saves in the second period, which gave us some much needed momentum. Offensively, we started to move the puck well, which gave us great scoring chances."

The Ducks entered the game as the favorite after making the top four seeds in the original bracket, but the Ducks were still an overmatch for the Ducks. The Ducks were able to get the puck past the Ducks in the second period, but they were unable to get the puck past the Ducks in the third period, despite the Ducks' efforts to tie the game. The Ducks were unable to get the puck past the Ducks in the final period, despite several scoring opportunities. The Ducks were defeated by the Ducks, 4-2, in the final game of the tournament.

The Ducks had a strong offensive performance in the game, scoring four goals in the first period and two goals in the second period. The Ducks were able to maintain their lead throughout the game, despite several scoring opportunities by the Ducks. The Ducks were able to get the puck past the Ducks in the final period, despite the Ducks' efforts to tie the game. The Ducks were defeated by the Ducks, 4-2, in the final game of the tournament.

The Ducks had a strong offensive performance in the game, scoring four goals in the first period and two goals in the second period. The Ducks were able to maintain their lead throughout the game, despite several scoring opportunities by the Ducks. The Ducks were able to get the puck past the Ducks in the final period, despite the Ducks' efforts to tie the game. The Ducks were defeated by the Ducks, 4-2, in the final game of the tournament.