Refugee Student Will Attend C. C. After Spring Vacation

Miss Judith Bardos From Budapest, Hungary is to Continue Education Here

Following in the footsteps of many of her sisters-colleges, Connecticut College has been happy to have a refugee student after Spring vacation of this college year.

Born in Budapest, Hungary, Miss Judith Bardos is nineteen years old, and was left abandoned to her own devices when her father was taken by the Nazis in his country. Miss Bardos, a small, pretty girl, is the daughter of a professional work, a musician, and is married to another professional. She is the brother of her four sisters who are all working in the U.S.

In Budapest she attended the International Student Service, outgrowth of the refugee committee. Miss Bardos, who is Jewish, arrived in the United States in the last week of December, and has already been enrolled at the University of British Columbia. She will be a sophomore there next year.

Mr. Fadiman Speaks March 3 For Benefit of Sykes Fund

Noted Literary Figure Tells of Experiences in Field of Radio

Mr. Clifton Fadiman, who is not only an outstanding literary and editorial figure, but also chairman of the famed radio program, "Information, Please," will delight his audience on Friday, March 3, with an account of his personal experiences in the radio world. Proceeds are for the benefit of the Sykes Scholarship Fund.

Mr. Fadiman is possessed with an unexcelled flow of language, a wide literary background, an engaging sense of humor, and an informal style. Clifton Fadiman has for the past three years been book critic of "The New Yorker," where his weekly comments have been translated into English, German, and Latin, and has been widely appreciated by a nation-wide audience.

He was born in New York City and was graduated from Columbia University in 1925. His experience with books has been many-sided. He has been a book-shop. He is a libra-rian, designed books, sold them on the road, edited and published them, translated them from the French and German, reviewed them, and talked about them before the microphone and on the lecture platform.

Recently he decided to abandon book publishing as an active career and is now editorial adviser to Simon and Schuster. During the past decade, however, the general public has known him only as radio critic and lecturer, but as literary critic and lecturer. He has contributed to a large number of magazines and newspapers, and is the author of brilliant literary appraisals in "The Nation" a few years ago that definitely changed the attitude of the critics of the country. His current weekly comment in "The New Yorker" is unusual in its breadth of vision, its intellectual integrity, scholarship and style.

(Continued on Page 4)

New Classroom Building at Connecticut College

Mathematics Club Will Hold Panel Discussion

The Mathematics Club will hold a Panel Discussion in Whidham living room on Wednesday, March 1 at 7:30 p.m. The topic for discussion will be "The Teaching of Mathematics." Among the guests who will speak during the evening are Dr. Robert M. Alexander, Mrs. Ramon, Dr. Leach, Dr. Bower and some of the New London high school mathematics teachers.

The meeting is open to all students and especially to those interested in the possibilities of mathematics in professional work.

Frederic Bill Hall Soon to Be Begun

Building for Science and Fine Arts Promises Gain in Academic Work Here

Frederic Bill Hall for science and fine arts, which promises a great gain in the academic work of Connecticut College, will be started on the campus in the near future.

The new building, made possible by a legacy from the late Mrs. Frederic Bill of Groton, Conn., will provide ample space carefully planned for the fullest use in connection with the members of the faculty in the departments of art to be housed there, and will be properly equipped for the best classroom, laboratory, studio and seminar work, and for individual study and research. It will not only make possible an improvement in the teaching procedure of the departments in that building, but by relieving the crowding in New London and Fanning Halls, the present academic buildings, will also better conditions for work in the departments continuing in them. The departments of physics and astronomy, psychology, and fine arts will go into the newbuilding.

The new hall will include a large lecture room in which there will be good equipment for scientific demonstrations and for visual education, class rooms, laboratories, seminar rooms and studios. The large lecture room for general use and some smaller class rooms will occupy the greater part of the first floor. The second floor will be given over entirely to psychology, arranged to provide good conditions for laboratory work, individual study, group discussion and research. The physics department will have the next floor with one large classroom and laboratory, and several smaller laboratories for

(Continued on Page 5)
CAMPUS CAMERA

Reaction to Nazis In Dodd's Through Embassy Eyes

By far one of the most stirring books on Nazi Germany in a long time is Martha Dodd’s Through Embassy Eyes, which she wrote as our former ambassador to Germany, lived in that country for four years. Her book is an honest record of her reaction against Nazism, particularly commendable in that she entered Germany unbiased and ready to think the best of the Nazi governmental policies. Shortly after her arrival, however, she witnessed the revolting sight of a young woman, her hair completely shaved, being brutally cranked. Around her neck was a placard: “I Have Offered Myself to a Jew.”

Miss Dodd found that Germany was one of the most remarkable countries of her time, in no sense influenced by materialism; the beautiful life of the Germans, the literature and art, and the love of the land which is strictly legitimate.

...I believe that the J. S. C. should take the side of war-torn China.

There IS Information!

In a recent dispatch from the Associated Collegiate Press we are told that “College newspapers and student organizations have been bombarded during the last few months with letters from ‘a Chinese student’ asking for support of the Chinese cause in the current incident.”

Many of us at Connecticut have gone merrily on our way, thinking that we are not aware of the current ‘incident’ in Japan.

These letters are written by students who are asking for support of the Chinese cause in the current ‘incident’.

It is only one of numerous similar incidents.

More information is needed on the current situation.

Through Embassy Eyes gives first-hand accounts of the concentration camps, the Reichstag fire trial, the anti-Semitic movement, the espionage system, and the purge of 1933 during which Hitler caused his rivals to be murdered or imprisoned by trumped up charges of homosexuality or counter-revolutionary action.

To me, however, the importance of this book lies in the intimate portraits of the new history makers in Germany: Hitler, Göring, Goebbels, Schacht, “the wizard of finances.”

Rosenberg, chief of the foreign policy, Ribbentrop, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Diels, former chief of the secret service, are people with whom Miss Dodd frequently went dancing and dining.

No child should be spared in the fight against Nazism, and I believe that the J. S. C. should take the side of war-torn China.

There is a strong movement in Germany to pass laws limiting the number of Jews in Germany, but the Nazi government has not yet acted on these laws.

Calendar...

Wednesday, March 1
7:00 Basketball Gym
7:15 Math Club Meeting Windham
8:00 Home Economics Club Meeting
Commuter’s Room
Thursday, March 2
8:00 Beaux Arts Trio Recital Gym
Friday, March 3
4:45 Sykes Fund Speaker, Clifton Fadiman Gym
7:30 Ragtime and Tango Dance Panorama
8:00 French Movie Coast Guard
Sunday, March 5
7:00 Vespers Knowlton
Monday, March 6
7:00 Dance Gym
Tuesday, March 7
4:30 Phi Beta Kappa Initiation Windham
5:00 House of Rep. Meeting Commuter’s Room
7:00 Basketball Gym

Free Speech

The Editors of the News do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions expressed in this column. We are not in the habit of having our columnists act as an organ for the expression of honest opinion, the editor must know the names of contributors.

Dear Editor:

We have just finished our first semester and our particular stress on intellectual life is over, in so far as concentrated attention on it, for the present. Perhaps it is a pity to turn our eyes to another side of our intellectual life, one which has verily been separated from our perhaps too limited conception of intellectualism, namely, the spiritual side. We have been rather again and again that the hopes of Mrs. Hankins and of the administration in building and in planning the new chapel is that it will alter our way of living.

To alter our way of living—how can this be done? Are we to thank God for the blessings He has bestowed upon us in permitting us to enjoy the advantages of Connecticut College? Personally, I should rather our hours of meditation in the chapel be concerned with the broader meanings of our life at Connecticut. After all, our aim as students is intellectual achievement; if this is not true, then we should not be at college. Therefore, the greatest problem of the day is “What do intellectuals and religion fit together?” In pondering this question we get outside of our little academic shell which does, after all, protect us from the truth. This, then, is the way in which I hope the chapel will alter our lives, that it will, through reflection upon the spiritual, be a reminder of a life which is available through to which we ourselves. Consequently, we will derive from our new building, benefits over and above the purely material ones, the benefits which arise from solitary reflection.

Class of 1940.

Premium vs. Penalty

A person's eighteenth birthday is more than just another milestone in his life. It has an added significance. It marks the year when one usually completes his preparatory school education, and is ready to proceed to an institution of higher learning if it is possible. It also marks the year when one ceases to be an exemption on the income tax of his parents, and the two facts seem to be in direct antithesis to each other. At the very time when the education of a child is beginning to cost him

(Continued on Page 4)

THINGS AND STUFF

Can you imagine an all Negro cast swinging and trucking its way through Gilbert and Sullivan? Well the revolutionized version of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Mikado," opens Wednesday, March first after record performances in Chicago during the last five months. It will be interesting to see how the production is received in New York, particularly in competition with the O'Day-Carte Company, which is strictly legitimate.

...Considering the plays now on run, shouldn’t we be training ourselves to take a stand in Gilbert and Sullivan? Well through the revolutionized version of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Mikado," we have confined ourselves to a record of the plays now on run.

Right Rev. Charles Hall, iOS, was awarded by Ignace Jan Paderewski to be conductor of his famous orchestra. He has, perhaps, the very time when he depends most on his family in the United States.

If the government can’t subsidize education, it is definitely to the advantage of our children.

We were amazed and almost incapable of belief when the government said it could not subsidize education, at least it need not penalize the college, which is strictly legitimate.

...We were amazed and almost incapable of belief when the government said it could not subsidize education, at least it need not penalize the college, which is strictly legitimate.

...Our perhaps too limited conception of intellectualism, namely, the spiritual side. We have been rather again and again that the hopes of Mrs. Hankins and of the administration in building and in planning the new chapel is that it will alter our way of living.

To alter our way of living—how can this be done? Are we to thank God for the blessings He has bestowed upon us in permitting us to enjoy the advantages of Connecticut College? Personally, I should rather our hours of meditation in the chapel be concerned with the broader meanings of our life at Connecticut. After all, our aim as students is intellectual achievement; if this is not true, then we should not be at college. Therefore, the greatest problem of the day is “What do intellectuals and religion fit together?” In pondering this question we get outside of our little academic shell which does, after all, protect us from the truth. This, then, is the way in which I hope the chapel will alter our lives, that it will, through reflection upon the spiritual, be a reminder of a life which is available through to which we ourselves. Consequently, we will derive from our new building, benefits over and above the purely material ones, the benefits which arise from solitary reflection.

We were amazed and almost incapable of belief when the government said it could not subsidize education, at least it need not penalize the college, which is strictly legitimate.

To me, however, the importance of this book lies in the intimate portraits of the new history makers in Germany: Hitler, Göring, Goebbels, Schacht, “the wizard of finances.”

Rosenberg, chief of the foreign policy, Ribbentrop, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Diels, former chief of the secret service, are people with whom Miss Dodd frequently went dancing and dining.

No child should be spared in the fight against Nazism, and I believe that the J. S. C. should take the side of war-torn China.

There is a strong movement in Germany to pass laws limiting the number of Jews in Germany, but the Nazi government has not yet acted on these laws.

Calendar...

Wednesday, March 1
7:00 Basketball Gym
7:15 Math Club Meeting Windham
8:00 Home Economics Club Meeting
Commuter’s Room
Thursday, March 2
8:00 Beaux Arts Trio Recital Gym
Friday, March 3
4:45 Sykes Fund Speaker, Clifton Fadiman Gym
7:30 Ragtime and Tango Dance Panorama
8:00 French Movie Coast Guard
Sunday, March 5
7:00 Vespers Knowlton
Monday, March 6
7:00 Dance Gym
Tuesday, March 7
4:30 Phi Beta Kappa Initiation Windham
5:00 House of Rep. Meeting Commuter’s Room
7:00 Basketball Gym

Free Speech

The Editors of the News do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions expressed in this column. We are not in the habit of having our columnists act as an organ for the expression of honest opinion, the editor must know the names of contributors.

Dear Editor:

We have just finished our first semester and our particular stress on intellectual life is over, in so far as concentrated attention on it, for the present. Perhaps it is a pity to turn our eyes to another side of our intellectual life, one which has verily been separated from our perhaps too limited conception of intellectualism, namely, the spiritual side. We have been rather again and again that the hopes of Mrs. Hankins and of the administration in building and in planning the new chapel is that it will alter our way of living.

To alter our way of living—how can this be done? Are we to thank God for the blessings He has bestowed upon us in permitting us to enjoy the advantages of Connecticut College? Personally, I should rather our hours of meditation in the chapel be concerned with the broader meanings of our life at Connecticut. After all, our aim as students is intellectual achievement; if this is not true, then we should not be at college. Therefore, the greatest problem of the day is “What do intellectuals and religion fit together?” In pondering this question we get outside of our little academic shell which does, after all, protect us from the truth. This, then, is the way in which I hope the chapel will alter our lives, that it will, through reflection upon the spiritual, be a reminder of a life which is available through to which we ourselves. Consequently, we will derive from our new building, benefits over and above the purely material ones, the benefits which arise from solitary reflection.

Class of 1940.

Premium vs. Penalty

A person's eighteenth birthday is more than just another milestone in his life. It has an added significance. It marks the year when one usually completes his preparatory school education, and is ready to proceed to an institution of higher learning if it is possible. It also marks the year when one ceases to be an exemption on the income tax of his parents, and the two facts seem to be in direct antithesis to each other. At the very time when the education of a child is beginning to cost him

(Continued on Page 4)
Wystan Hugh Auden Presents Pleasing Book of Verse

There is a book, which has been written recently which has attracted the favorable criticisms of reviewers. This book is a "Light Verse," by Wystan Hugh Auden, and has combined three kinds of poetry:

1. Poetry, which has been written for performance, to be sung or spoken on before an audience.
2. Poetry intended to be read, but having for its subject-matter the evening. It is a life of the audience.
3. Such nonsense poetry as through its properties and techniques, has a good appeal.

At last people seem to have gotten what they want.

The Decline and Fall of the British Empire by Robert Hugh is a better attack of everything British. The author contends that England is a product of a downfall and that its own ruling class has prepared that doom. It seems that Mr. Brittan and his people are too convincing.

His historical interpretation of English history is too short and too side-tracked to be accurate. But this book is very interesting and is one that should be read.

Struwwelpeter has written one of the most entertaining books, "The River P. M. River rises in central Europe and drains the Powder River grass country. This book describes the history of the country through which the river runs, and the cattlemen, cattlemen, shepherds and Indians who make that history which is interesting to the reader. There is history, legend, and romance of the country in this book.

THURSDAY, MARCH 2
First Telegraphic Meet and Intercollegiate Competitions End Coast Pool.

Rabbi Goldman Calls Religion, Judaism, A Living Thing

"Judaism is a very living thing, not to be confined to anything you read about," stated Rabbi Goldman of Providence, R. I., at Vesper on February 26. Rabbi Goldman is the first of a series of three speakers who are going to talk on Judaism, Catholicism, and Protestantism, respectively.

Rabbi Goldman continued his talk on "What Judaism Means to Me" by saying that this religion was a very living thing—not an heirloom, but an inheritance. He explained Judaism as the heritage of the Jewish people, not only those who were born Jews, but also any who adopt the Jewish law of Israel.

"The literature which records the sources of Judaism is available to all—said the speaker. The Bible, the liturgical record of Judaism over a period of more than one thousand years, the Talmud, the literary explanation of the Jewish people for 700 years, and the works of great philosophers, moralists, poets, and writers down through the ages are the sources of Judaism."

"Certain ideals stand out in all of these sacred writings... the essence of Judaism explained the speaker. Personal life is the first of these ideals because religion is principally concerned with people. Judaism attempts to answer the greatest mystery of the World by saying that every human being is a being at least as much if not more than a physical being."

"The most real thing about a human being, said Rabbi Goldman, and one should look after spiritual well-being as well as physical well-being."

He explained the second ideal, social life, by saying that there are certain spiritual laws operating in society and that if these laws are violated society is broken. The teachers of Judaism call this.

We'll fix those Juniors just the same,
We'll simply drive them all insane.
We'll sneak through hallways, under beds,
We'll have them standing on their heads.

Dr. Hal speaks on Bromine Extraction

"Bromine is the red gold of the ocean," Dr. Hal of the Dow Chemical Co., declared in his address, "and if we don't develop the bromine soon, it will be too late."

A great amount of bromine is required for the manufacture of Ethylene. Dr. Hal continued, so it was important that we learn how to use the bromine. It seems that Mr. Briffault is a great protege of Dr. Hal, and it seems that Dr. Hal has a scholarship for several years with Michel Prona in San Francisco, after which she continued her studies in London.

The program will be as follows: Beethoven Trio—Opus No. 1 Allegro Cantabile Allegro Scherzo Finale Mendelssohn Trio in D Minor Allegro Agitato Andante un Moto

Dr. Hal's speech was on Bromine Extraction.

"Bromine is the red gold of the ocean," Dr. Hal of the Dow Chemical Co., declared in his address, "and if we don't develop the bromine soon, it will be too late."

A great amount of bromine is required for the manufacture of Ethylene. Dr. Hal continued, so it was important that we learn how to use the bromine. It seems that Mr. Briffault is a great protege of Dr. Hal, and it seems that Dr. Hal has a scholarship for several years with Michel Prona in San Francisco, after which she continued her studies in London.

The program will be as follows: Beethoven Trio—Opus No. 1 Allegro Cantabile Allegro Scherzo Finale Mendelssohn Trio in D Minor Allegro Agitato Andante un Moto

Dr. Hal's speech was on Bromine Extraction.

"Bromine is the red gold of the ocean," Dr. Hal of the Dow Chemical Co., declared in his address, "and if we don't develop the bromine soon, it will be too late."

A great amount of bromine is required for the manufacture of Ethylene. Dr. Hal continued, so it was important that we learn how to use the bromine. It seems that Mr. Briffault is a great protege of Dr. Hal, and it seems that Dr. Hal has a scholarship for several years with Michel Prona in San Francisco, after which she continued her studies in London.

The program will be as follows: Beethoven Trio—Opus No. 1 Allegro Cantabile Allegro Scherzo Finale Mendelssohn Trio in D Minor Allegro Agitato Andante un Moto

Dr. Hal's speech was on Bromine Extraction.

"Bromine is the red gold of the ocean," Dr. Hal of the Dow Chemical Co., declared in his address, "and if we don't develop the bromine soon, it will be too late."

A great amount of bromine is required for the manufacture of Ethylene. Dr. Hal continued, so it was important that we learn how to use the bromine. It seems that Mr. Briffault is a great protege of Dr. Hal, and it seems that Dr. Hal has a scholarship for several years with Michel Prona in San Francisco, after which she continued her studies in London.

The program will be as follows: Beethoven Trio—Opus No. 1 Allegro Cantabile Allegro Scherzo Finale Mendelssohn Trio in D Minor Allegro Agitato Andante un Moto

Dr. Hal's speech was on Bromine Extraction.
LOOK MABEL! DO YOU SEE WHAT I SEE?

FLASH! Connecticut College introduces manual labor into curriculum.

Several botany majors were glimpsed recently wielding a shovel.

Energy expended in digging—practically nil.

Energy expended in learning on shovels—monstrous.

Can you girls, you're not on the WPA (not yet anyway).

Wanted—A new greeting to be used after vacations, week-ends, etc., etc., to replace the time-worn, "Dishelhaven?"

The interrogation from even our best friends makes us want to snarl, "Whatstotitoy?"

We don't know if he realized it or not, but a professor was being very quietly but definitely heckled the other afternoon.

He started to speak of a Big Four, which caused the inevitable squawk about just enough for a gout is beginning to give us trouble lately, we sympathize heartily with her, for our ankles are so close to our wrists lately, it seems.

The Big Four, which caused the inevitable squawk about just enough for a she has acquired the most amazing ability crack about just enough for a dynasty.

Mr. Fadiman estimates that in the last ten years he has examined about 25,000 new books.

"Believe it or not" a sketch believed originally with a constantly entertaining flow of wit and a consistent coverage which has not hesitated to assume current literary idols. His articles in "Stage" have recently gained him an entirely new audience.

That kind of black paint was used to mark the gym floor in 1930? Where was it bought?

I've locked my keys in my desk.

Where was it bought?

What do you know about Perry

"It is," says Charles Haxton Towner, "a poet's play. . . . Certain lines still sing in my brain, and I am going again to see it."

Michael Armaugrung, Prop.

Permanent Waves $1.95 to $7.50

Fine Jewelry and Gifts

RUDY & COSTELLO, Inc.

18 Meridian St.

Phone 8072
Pres. Blunt Names New Members of Phi Beta Kappa

President Blunt made two important announcements in chapel Tuesday, February 14. The first was her disclosure of the newly-elected members of Phi Beta Kappa, Delta of Connecticut College, which consists of the four seniors are: Marjorie D. Abrahams, Clarinda Burr, Enice Carmichael, and Malvina Belcher.

The alumna member is Cora Lutz.

President Blunt also said that the contract for Frederick Bill Hall has been signed, and that ground will be broken for the new building next week. A notice of the date and time will be posted as soon as it is definite, and all directors will be expected to be present.

The new building will be "a real pedagogic, intellectual development," in which the Fine Arts and Psychology departments, previously handicapped by lack of space, will have an opportunity for more advancement, President Blunt said. She reminded the students that the new academic building is planned to balance New London hall. It will run vast and west, and from the library will look similar to the picture which has already been published in the "New York Year," which was published in the New London Day and is reproduced in this issue of News, as this is a view of the north and west side.

Phi Beta Kappa Elects Four New Members

(Continued from Page 1)

Any student or alumna who has been outstanding in one field is eligible. Applications for this year's fellowship, together with a plan of study, must be in the hands of the fellowship commitee before April 1. The members of this committee are: Professor John Edwin Wells, president of Phi Beta Kappa, Delta of Connecticut, President Blunt, Katharine Devereau, chairman, and a representative of the New London Association of Phi Beta Kappa.

This fellowship is important not only because it is the first one for graduate work the college has been given, but also because it is to be given to someone who has just recently graduated from college. It is particularly early for young graduates to obtain fellowships, although there is more opportunity for them after they have made more progress.

Last year Winifred Frank was awarded the fellowship. She is now graduate exchange student in France. The Phi Beta Kappa Chapter also elected its officers for the coming year: Professor J. E. Wells is president, Miss Gertrude E. Noyes is vice prestident, and Miss Ethel F. Jullers is secretary-treasurer.

A A NEWS

Basketball

House game began competition Thursday, February 23. North end Winthrop 15-10 and Humphrey took Knowlton 12-6. Houses are to sign on the A. A. Bulletin Board if they are planning play.

BOWLING

New bowling equipment is now available to students in the gym. Ducks and Harbors are kept in the rear of the gym. Three white leather balls are in the bottom of the locker, and all those who wish may serve as a backstop. Students are free to use this equipment at any time that the gym is not being used.

Badminton

Interclass games are being played Tuesday and Friday nights from 7 to 9 o'clock. Spectators are welcome.

Skiing

The Skiing Party which was to have been held February 19 had to be postponed. Provided there is good ice, the A. A. still hopes to have it.

Swimming

The Third Telegraphic Swimming Meet and the interclass competition will be held March 2 in the Coast Guard pool. At this time the swim-cup will be awarded. The qualties the cup require are form, sportsmanship, and achievement. The sec-dond Telegraphic Meet will be held March 9. The best results from the two meets will be sent to the New Jersey College for Women which is supervising the Telegraphic Meets. Marcelle Michaud '42, is making a special trip to New London to officiate at these meets.

Editorial . . .

(Continued from Page 2)

A man was visiting his brother who lives at a state hospital for the insane. He asked what time it was and his brother if the clock were right.

"What's the matter?" I asked.

"The other illustration is not quite like it!" he answered.

"Oh, is that so?" I said.

"Of course I do knot up an iron rod into the shape of a pretzel two when you learn that he can twist it barehanded. Listen to him:"

"Angell don't you hate to see men with hangerwars?"

"Great God! What's the matter with you?"

"Well, that's funny!"

"What's the matter with you?"

"What's the matter with you?"

"Well, I expect it is because you have been kind of soft."

But grace only lasts half a week and she's only pretending to say grace—but how am I to know? Is it too much effort for me to remain respectfully silent for so short a time.

The other illustration is not quite so expressive of its own fifteen minutes and is one of the most important things in life—the mail boxes. There are days when I have so much to do that I don't know that even ninety-six hours would not be adequate. From five to six ten suddenly seems to be my only chance to look for mail—which is one of the things in life. Shall I then stop to consider that the stairs always creak no matter how carefully I creep up? Or is it really a chance, where my neighbor may be contemplating her God so trifling that I may disturb her in her contemplation? Or should I manage to get my mail before chapel and then sit down to read it beside her while she tries to concentrate?

Surely this is a test of a man's virtue. The principle which is so important. It is the principle of placing a penalty rather than a premium on education. The government should be trying to encour-gage, instead of discourage, the education of its citizens.

A man was visiting his brother who lives at a state hospital for the insane. He asked what time it was and his brother if the clock were right.

"If it were, it wouldn't be here," he answered.

"Why not?"

"Because it is late.

"Ah, late!" he said.

"Late what?"

"Late."

"Late?"

"Yes, sir," was the prompt reply.

"Then, what's an abundant supply of spincach?"

"The one that's yours.

"Not at all. My father manufactures asparagus."

"On controversial questions and the dinner hour."

A notice of the date and time will be posted as soon as it is definite, and all directors will be expected to be present.

The new building will be "a real pedagogic, intellectual development" in which the Fine Arts and Psychology departments, previously handicapped by lack of space, will have an opportunity for more advancement, President Blunt said. She reminded the students that the new academic building is planned to balance New London hall. It will run vast and west, and from the library will look similar to the picture which has already been published in the "New York Year," which was published in the New London Day and is reproduced in this issue of News, as this is a view of the north and west side.

The foreman of an electrical repair shop is interested in bringing a bright young man, who was applying for a position.

"Do you know anything about electrical appliances?" asked the foreman.

"Yes, sir," was the prompt reply.

"Then, what's an abundant supply of spincach?"

"The one that's yours."

"Not at all. My father manufactures asparagus."

"On controversial questions and the dinner hour."

"What's the matter with you?"

"Of course I do knot up an iron rod into the shape of a pretzel two when you learn that he can twist it barehanded. Listen to him:

"Angell don't you hate to see men with hangerwars?"

"Great God! What's the matter with you?"

"Well, that's funny!"

"What's the matter with you?"

"What's the matter with you?"

"Well, I expect it is because you have been kind of soft."

But grace only lasts half a week and she's only pretending to say grace—but how am I to know? Is it too much effort for me to remain respectfully silent for so short a time.

The other illustration is not quite so expressive of its own fifteen minutes and is one of the most important things in life—the mail boxes. There are days when I have so much to do that I don't know that even ninety-six hours would not be adequate. From five to six ten suddenly seems to be my only chance to look for mail—which is one of the things in life. Shall I then stop to consider that the stairs always creak no matter how carefully I creep up? Or is it really a chance, where my neighbor may be contemplating her God so trifling that I may disturb her in her contemplation? Or should I manage to get my mail before chapel and then sit down to read it beside her while she tries to concentrate?

Surely this is a test of a man's virtue. The principle which is so important. It is the principle of placing a penalty rather than a premium on education. The government should be trying to encour-
gage, instead of discourage, the education of its citizens.

A man was visiting his brother who lives at a state hospital for the insane. He asked what time it was and his brother if the clock were right.

"If it were, it wouldn't be here," he answered.
Rabbi Goldman Calls Religion, Judaism, A Living Thing

The Jewish religion were the discoverers of some of these social laws: Moses, freedom; Amos, justice; Hosea, love; Isaiah, peace. Said Rabbi Goldman, "The center of the universe—the spiritual universe—is God. The World must revolve around that center."

The third ideal of Judaism applies especially to the Jewish people. The speaker feels that they should "converse of themselves as the champions of God in the World; should teach the religious ideal of mankind." The very word Israel means Champion of God. The Doctrine of the Election of Israel or the Ideal of the Chosen People assumes that the Jews are the propagators of the religious ideal in life. But he went on to explain that they can be teachers only if they live up to the religious ideal. Rabbi Goldman feels that they are better called, "Not chosen, but Choosing People."

The Synagogue, the Mother of the "Green Shadows" - New Home of Hanover, on Route 86 - Sunday Dinner $1.00 - Weekday Dinner - $1.00 - Rooms, Steam Heat - MARGARET BLASWON

Church, is one of the most important institutions of Judaism according to the speaker. It is a house of instruction and of practice. The Sabbath and various festivals are also important in taking abstract ideals and planting them in every-day life.

To Rabbi Goldman it seems that Judaism does four things. First it teaches him how to live, gives him ideals for a personal life, teaches him reverence for spiritual life, teaches him to seek beauty and truth and to practice goodness. Secondly it helps to build a good society, embodying peace, freedom, and social justice. Third, it teaches the ideal of Noblesse Oblige, loyalty to one's people and one's faith, pride in being a Jew. Lastly it teaches respect and reverence for other religions, and love of America. Rabbi Goldman stated that "Ideal America is in many ways a fulfillment of ideal Judaism."

The Unique and Unusual "Stone Room" of the Colonial Inn has opened.

Orchestra Every Saturday Night
$1.00 Minimum Charge
Jam Session Every Sunday Afternoon
You Can't Beat Fun
Coachroom Bar
Sandwiches
Dinners and A La Carte

Get a Shiner Gift of Table Linen

The College Inn
Our steaks, well browned
And succulent,
Are practically
Heaven-sent;
And as for our
Chiffon pies,
They're praised by all
Who're Campus-wise.

Tel. 2-3477

N. J. Gorra & Bro.
STATE STREET
Lovely Brumene
SHETLANDS
FUZZY ANGORA
OTHER SWEATERS
JACKETS
SKIRTS
REVERSIBLES
(Silken and Tweed)
Give a Shower Gift of
TABLE LINEN

BYOLOZ and YOLANDA in their famous "Dance of the Cigarette" with

Chesterfield
THE HAPPY COMBINATION (perfectly balanced blend) of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Chesterfield's can't-be-copied blend of mild ripe American and aromatic Turkish tobaccos gives you all the qualities you like in a smoke... mildness, better taste, and pleasing aroma.

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure... why THEY SATISFY

Copyright 1939, LIEBERT & MESSER TOBACCO CO.