Scholar-Diplomat O'Brien
To Discuss Social Revolution

Convocation Committee will sponsor a lecture by Dr. Conory C. O'Brien, author, scholar, and diplomat, on "The United States, the United Nations, and World Social Revolution." Thurs., Feb. 23, at 8 p.m. in Palmer Auditorium.

Mrs. Mackie Jarrell, Convocation Committee chairman, characterized Dr. O'Brien as "a re- mouthed, thinking man-lit- erary in a Yeats Centenary volume, and a Fellow of the British Academy." As a scholar of unusual stature, with a great breadth of experience, he also stated that "this Hammarskjold chose Dr. O'Brien to run the U.N. mission to Katanga of a position of great responsibility.

Born in Ireland, Dr. O'Brien was educated at Trinity College, Dublin, where he received his B.A. in 1937. He served as a member of the Irish Delegation to the United Nations and, in 1940-46, Assistant Secretary, Department of External Affairs. He was seconded to the U.N. Secretariat in 1963 as Director in the Division for Security Council and Political Affairs. After his resignation as U.N. representative to Katanga, O'Brien served as vice-chancellor of the University of Ghana, 1965-68. He became Regius Professor and Schweitzer Professor of Humanities at New York University in 1965.

Dr. O'Brien's best-known books are "Katanga's Rising Sun" (1963) and "Capital and Peace" (Harcourt Brace, 1965). His other publications are numerous, including "The Shaping of Modern Ireland" (1961), "The Life and Letters of Thomas Pakenham" (1961) and a provocative book on Yeats, "O'Connell's Wishes." (1965)." The sensational deductions which Mrs. Kunstler has previously written about in "Honest to God," are now found in "Reasonable Doubt." (Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

Cephus Smith Participates in Professor-Exchange Program

Mr. William Meredith, professor of English, and Mr. Cephus J. Smith of Jackson College in Mississippi are participating in a professor-exchange program between Connecticut and Jackson State for two weeks from Feb. 13 through Feb. 26.

Teaching two courses, Creative Writing and a seminar in Negro Literature, Mr. Smith is also attending classes, while Mr. Meredith is doing the same at Jackson.

"A class of all girls seems more receptive, but I'm sure having men has some advantages," said Mr. Smith when asked about his initial reactions to Connecticut College. "I was alarmed when I heard that this was an all girl school. It has been a challenge.

A native of Alabama, Mr. Smith was born in Tuscaloosa, Ala., and was educated at the University of Alabama. He received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Alabama State University. Having done his graduate work at Tuskegee Institute, he is now in his second year of teaching at Jackson State.

This professor-exchange program is an outgrowth of a proposal made by Mr. Smith several years ago that students from Connecticut and Jackson State be given an opportunity to cooperate in a joint project between students of widely varying colleges.

The money from the shows is for the Waterford "Dollars for Scholars" college scholarship program for area high school students.

Cephus J. Smith

Mr. Smith is a graduate of the University of Alabama and of Tuskegee Institute.

Attorney Kunstler to Speak
About Civil Rights Situation

Under the joint sponsorship of the Connecticut College Civic Co., the Political Forum, Young Democrats, and Peace Club, Mr. Henry B. Clark, a professor at Union Theological Seminary, will speak, Wed., Feb. 24, 7 p.m., in Palmer Auditorium.

Mr. Clark will conduct vespers, Fri., Feb. 26, at 7:30 p.m. in Palmer Auditorium.

Mr. Clark will be sponsored for those interested in the three speakers, to be followed by a question and answer period. Jane Goldman, a Connecticut College alumna, will be a member of the panel. It will be moderated by Mr. Lester J. Reifsnyder, editor of the "New York Times."" (Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

Bookwright to Speak

Dean Howard Boatwright, composer, and professor, will speak, Wed., Feb. 11, at the final lecture of the Sophomore Series symposium on Wed., Feb. 22, at 8 p.m. in Palmer Auditorium.

An associate professor of music at Yale University before going to Syracuse, Dean Boatwright has been a fullbright lecturer in India, a Rockefeller Foundation grantee, and writes three books of music. His 50 compositions include chamber works and choral music. While at Yale he was the conductor of the University's symphony orchestra for eight years. He was also concertmaster of the New Haven Symphony for 12 years.

A native of Virginia, he gave his first full-length vocal recital at the age of 14 and made his New York Town Hall debut in 1942. In 1944 he toured the southern states as a vocalist in joint concerts with soprano Eleanor Farrell, now a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Later that year he toured Mexico with his wife Hilda, a soprano.

Dean Boatwright studied at Yale in 1945 at a student discount, and at Yale University earning both bachelor's and mas- ter's degrees in music. He is the author of Introduction to the Theory of Music and other works. Mr. Boatwright was awarded a Grand Prix du Disque for a recording of Scarlatti's St. John Passion. He also holds an award from the Society for the Publication of American Music.

The conference is based on the book by Joseph Fletcher, Situa- tional Ethics, and will be integrated with the Freshman Program. Mr. Fletcher's book has been described as taking up "where Bishop Robin-
Universe Bridge

By Larry Cohen

The importance of opening leads cannot be overemphasized. There are many standard rules you should know. Much information, too, can be gathered from the opponents bidding. We'll be talking about opening leads quite often because they are the quickest way of improving your game.

West must choose his lead with practical considerations in mind. He can lead a diamond from a solid holding, declarer will have time to look and make his contract with four of the suits and two minor suit entries. Looking at a tremendous holding, declarer must realize the danger of this play and lead a trump at once.

South's best chance at this point is to lead to the heart ace. He therefore wins the trick, and leads a heart off dummy. West wins the king, the ace and leads a second trump. If declarer can now ruff and sek the third heart, he also has three hearts and two clubs for the declarer.

Whenever you hold the winners in a suit declarer has bid in front of you, it is most likely to make a trump to grab your trick yourself.

To the Editor:

Last year an ex-girl from campus was killed while crossing Mohelen Avenue. As a result stoplights were installed. Fortnight would be preferable to another such accident. I am referring to the fact that every girl living in the campus area who goes to Hoft to hear to the Court Guard Academy, day or night, must walk down the street because there has been no snow reports on the sidewalks bordering Mohelen Avenue.

Handicaps proved tragic in previous years. It is important for you to provide safe conditions at Collegium.

The fact that this attendance requirement exists and is strictly enforced seems to indicate that the College is aware of the many students who are not interested in gym classes. If college is supposed to encourage and support student interest, why should students be compelled to participate? It is a tremendous waste of time, effort and money. If the gym is to provide safe conditions, it is crucial that the administration recognize this fact.

Joyce Littell

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I, and I know many other students of the College, feel strongly about the rationale behind the College's requirements. Connecticut College is one of the few colleges which requires three (111) terms of gymnastic activity for graduation. Is it really necessary? If so, why?

Millicent Wolf

To the Editor:

I have just finished a very interesting experience. I was able to help the School. I have done my best to help the School. I have no doubt that I will be successful. I have done my best to help the School.

Joyce Littell

To the Editor:

I have just been appointed a member of the executive committee of the College. I have done my best to help the School. I have no doubt that I will be successful. I have done my best to help the School.

Joyce Littell

NEWS Notes

A petition for unlimited oversights for freshmen during the second semester passed House of Rep unanimously, Feb. 13. Upper class support of the petition will be shown through signatures on the petitions placed around campus including the post office and Crotzer.

Dr. Stephen Wood, associate professor of government, was recently appointed to Governor Dempsey's planning committee on criminal administration.

Dr. Wood is currently undertaking a study of the Connecticut state police and its administration. He prepared his profile on "The man and the force" two weeks past summer on the job with State Police Commissioner Leo J. Mulrooney.

Donnie Boonemeyer '68 is newly elected all-college social chairman. Laurie Levine, former chairman of the freshmen, announced. Boonie will serve until next February.

New officers of WIG and Candle for 1967-68 are Joanne Skidmore, '69, president: Peggy Cohen, '70, vice-president: Kathryn Fowler, '70, secretary; and Susan Clash, '70, business manager; and Jill Shaffer, '70, publicity chairman.

Saran Terrell, '67, recently participated in the National Women's Intercollegiate Squash Championship at Wesleyan College. Wesleyan, Vassar, Smith and Wheaton were also represented in the tournament.

Sheriffs tryouts will be held in Windham living room Wednesday, Feb. 22, at 7 p.m.

Answers to TEST 01:

1. Michigan
2. New York
3. Georgia
4. Massachusetts
5. Arkansas
6. California
7. Alabama
8. Illinois.
Eight Candidates Run For Student Government Offices

by Dana Phillips and Sue Rankin
A major involvement in campus politics is the key issue in this year's Student Government election, to be held Thurs., Feb. 23, all day in Crozier. The candidates have set up shop on the student body at speech Mini. At a recent rally, President
Dr. Charles F. DeLuge, a philosophy major from Baltimore, Md. She has been dorm social chairman. Five years to make Student Government more provocative.

Jane Fntokx

She contended that in the past five to six years the Student Govern- ment...ment has concentrated on passing amendments to the social rules and that at this same time most students are students about the present structure. Jane suggested that another good way to provide topics for discussions and in- itiate in Student Government.

Although there was a lot of potential to activate this campus, the feeling in the community was emphatic. In keeping with this emphasis it would not be necessary for Cabinet to meet every week, but only when the President called it.

Jane also thinks that Amalgo should be made non-exclusive and held only once or twice a semester. Discussion would be held in the house meetings and thus individual students would have more of a chance to have their views heard. She plans to increase faculty-student contact, to find out what interested faculty and students think about the government structure.

Jane's specific views on the offices of President are: "If the president were to have a lot of on-campus discussion, see the point and get to know student represen- tatives accurately from the start and work with a sense of direction, then I think that the president really is ready for the position."

For people who trans- formed, on campus, they are responsible not only to the house council. If they are a member of the student government, and two, that student quality has a right to exist and is not overcome by Student Govern- ment.

The two arguments Wendy said the junior major economics from Kenosha, Wisconsin, really been thinking about student government in past years, but not completely. She continued, "I disapprove of a nice tradition, and not朝鲜." She is running for Speaker of the House, and will avoid chaos and an abolition of the vested structure. Some of the complaints which Freeman this year, and is serving as...not gain a vote of confidence, then she will resign with the next highest vote would be president.

Wendy believes that the structure of Student Government is not effective. She feels that there is "always been interested in student government is a necessity in student opinion and channelled student government is an opportunity for students to learn how to...it hasn't been." The position of the students is a "weaker aspect of the...the most important lesson we can learn in our four years here."

Presenting her plan for Honor Court, Ellen said, "I would like to get to the girls first and try to make the girls feel individually. It's really getting down to the solitary atmosphere. It's really getting down to the solitary atmosphere. What happens."

"I'd like to see it become more of a nice tradition, and not completely...and it will come through the student body and the administration.

The plan also includes recon- sidering proposals to give house council judicial power in dealing with lawbreakers to eliminate some of the unnecessary work placed on Honor Court.

Ann Werner

"I believe very strongly in the future." Ellen, the house president, is also the speaker of the House. As speaker, he is responsible for calling meetings of the House and for the conduct of its business.
Beyond the Wall

by Kathy Doyle

U. CONN: A 66th U. Conn. branch is slated to open at Avery Point, Groton, in the fall of 1967. The new branch's academic calendar will mirror the University's academic calendar.

While the university campus was being cleaned up in preparation for its last semester, the university has been working on other fronts. The university's computerization program is proceeding at a steady pace, and the university is planning to expand its library facilities in the near future.

In other news, the university is planning to offer a new course in African studies, which will be taught by Dr. John Smith. The course will cover the history and culture of African countries, and it is expected to be popular among students.

In conclusion, the university is making steady progress in its efforts to modernize and expand its facilities. The university is to be commended for its dedication to providing quality education to its students.

VESPERS

by Henry R. Clark II, associate professor of religion, Duke University, and coordinator for the Commission on Urban Life, National Council of Churches, will speak at Vespers, Sun., Feb. 26, at 7 p.m. in the chapel.

Dr. Clark has published widely in the fields of church and society, including: The Ethical Mysticism of Albert Schweitzer, The Church and Social Reconstruction, and was an editorial counselor on the Good News. He has received his B.A. from Duke University in 1953. Dr. Clark also attended the University of Bern, Switzerland, and Union Theological Seminary, New York. He received his Ph.D. from Yale University in 1963. Dr. Clark served in the U.S. Navy 1953-56. He was an assistant professor of history at the New School and also an instructor at the School of Religion, Harvard University, for at least one year.

Before you plan your honeymoon--check in with

MODERN BRIDE

The Big Spring issue of MODERN BRIDE is a honeymoon special--with complete articles dealing with all facets of honeymoons. You'll also get the latest news on special honeymoon delights from the Pocono Mountains, Virginia Beach, and other delightful spots. Take advantage of these tips:

- Find out when you're expected to arrive on your wedding day
- Learn important details about your choice of attire
- And learn how you can win a free cruise or a free honeymoon in ro- mantic St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

MODERN BRIDE

"STUDY YEAR ABOROAD IN SWEDEN, FRANCE OR SPAIN. COLLEGE PREP., JUNIOR YEAR ABOROAD AND GRADUATE PROGRAMMES. $1,500 GUARANTEED ROUND TRIP FLIGHT TO STOCKHOLM, PARIS OR MADRID, DORMITORIES OR APARTMENTS, TWO MEALS DAILY, TUITION PAID. WRITE: SCANA, 50 RUE PROSPER NEGOTE, ANTOIY-ANTOY, FRANCE."
Thorn Coffee House Opens In Norwich
Offering Entertainment and Honeymoon

The Thorn Coffee House, located at 36 Main St., Norwich, will open its doors Fri., Feb. 24, at 7 p.m.

One of Mr. Reiss's paintings will be exhibited, and navy blue, black and gray in a rectangular arrangement, entitled "Enchanted Portal." Another is labeled "Entry: for a Department." The total effect of his color-sense is a mix of beautiful and well worth seeing. A child's reaction to one of the paintings was a, spon-

TOPIC OF CANDOR

Questions

Mr. Reiss is currently with the Rhode Island School of Design.

where, oh where is the administration's confidence in the students and professors that it chose? As freshmen we come here with, at least, some degree of enthusiasm and self-confidence, ready to work, and begin to acquire the confidence in our own free will, and as we choose. After all, is this not the aim of a liberal education? to excite deeply and intellectually?

The word "individual" is essentially here because each woman is moved by different things in different ways. It seems to me that the student is of the utmost importance in this particular view of being here in its unrestricted and interrelated sense. The students seem to feel that the college is a second-rate educational institution not being intellectually and sometimes even socially relevant, yet it is supposed to be quite standalone, although unusually, unusually, by the administration. They too seem to feel that their college is a second-rate educational institution.

I think that this is the problem. The administration seems to have little confidence either in the ability of its professors to stimu-

Dr. Clark will defend "very strong

Dr. Wiles mentioned that Dr. Clark will represent "very strong

The total effect of his color-sense is a mix of beautiful and well worth seeing. A child's reaction to one of the paintings was a, spon-

The Thorn Coffee House will be open to the public on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, from 7-12 p.m.

Mr. Reiss and Dr. Maguire will be history of religious thought, and

This questioning results in the Dr. Wiles mentioned that Dr. Clark will represent "very strong

Dr. Clark will defend "very strong- ness, my child.

The Thorn Coffee House, located at 36 Main St., Norwich, will open its doors Fri., Feb. 24, at 7 p.m.

One of Mr. Reiss's paintings will be exhibited, and navy blue, black and gray in a rectangular arrangement, entitled "Enchanted Portal." Another is labeled "Entry: for a Department." The total effect of his color-sense is a mix of beautiful and well worth seeing. A child's reaction to one of the paintings was a, spon-

TOPIC OF CANDOR

Questions

Mr. Reiss is currently with the Rhode Island School of Design.

where, oh where is the administration's confidence in the students and professors that it chose? As freshmen we come here with, at least, some degree of enthusiasm and self-confidence, ready to work, and begin to acquire the confidence in our own free will, and as we choose. After all, is this not the aim of a liberal education? to excite deeply and intellectually?

The word "individual" is essentially here because each woman is moved by different things in different ways. It seems to me that the student is of the utmost importance in this particular view of being here in its unrestricted and interrelated sense. The students seem to feel that the college is a second-rate educational institution not being intellectually and sometimes even socially relevant, yet it is supposed to be quite standalone, although unusually, unusually, by the administration. They too seem to feel that their college is a second-rate educational institution.

I think that this is the problem. The administration seems to have little confidence either in the ability of its professors to stimu-

Dr. Clark will defend "very strong

Dr. Wiles mentioned that Dr. Clark will represent "very strong

The total effect of his color-sense is a mix of beautiful and well worth seeing. A child's reaction to one of the paintings was a, spon-

TOPIC OF CANDOR

Questions

Mr. Reiss is currently with the Rhode Island School of Design.