HUGHES APPEARS IN TWO-PIANO RECITAL ON THURSDAY NIGHT

To Present Fine Composition of Brahms In Return Engagement to Connecticut

Edwin and Jewel Bithany Hughes will present a-two-piano recital as a feature of the Connecticut College Concert Series Thursday evening, February 25th, in the College Gymnasium. This is not the first appearance here for Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, who are well-known in the music world.

Their program will be as follows:

Brahms
- Sonata, Op. 34
- Allegro non troppo
- Andante
- Scherzo
- Poco Sostenuto — Allegro

(This monumental work is one of the finest compositions for two-piano literature. Brahms' own opinion of its worth is indicated by the fact that he afterwards arranged it for piano and string quartet, in which form it is most frequently heard.)

CASTELLANOS-TEDESCHI
- Al/ Wiem
- Welt
- Nocturne
- (to be played by)

REINICKE
- Impromptu, Op. 66

(On a theme from Schumann's "Manfred")

Dr. H. S. Coffin

To Speak Sunday

Dr. Henry Silas Coffin, President of Union Theological Seminary, New York City, will speak at the Vesper service next Sunday night at 7:00. For many years Dr. Coffin was pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York and was known as one of the country's foremost preachers. While there he also conducted a comprehensive piece of institutional church work.

The selection of Dr. Coffin as President of Union Theological Seminary has been generally recognized, with many hope-filled cheers, for he combines within himself all the necessary qualifications for successfully discharging the duties of such a

EVERYBODY COME!
Have you found a pet extra-curricular economy at .C. C.? Perhaps you'll say you haven't, and one of the junior class has set down as one of the two great commandments, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." With this thought ever before us, it is much easier to tolerate the beliefs of our brethren and to live in peace among them under the guidance of the same Divine Providence.

Pet-Economics

If you have found a pet extra-curricular economy at C. C. Perhaps you have found several, and are troubled as to how to make any of them profitable. You have no need to be troubled, for we have an answer of our own, and one which is practical and easily applied. The experience of the Music Club, Dramatics, science clubs, athletic and the other fields of activity offered here at C. Hanya Holm and Dance Group
Here in Lecture-Demonstration

Sponsored by Athletic Association for Benefit of Scholarship Fund

Hanya Holm, celebrated dancer and teacher, will present her dance group in a lecture-demonstration at Connecticut College on March 4, in the Gymnasium, at 7:45 p.m., under the sponsorship of the Athletic Association. The purpose of the demonstration will be to give interested students an opportunity to see the modern dance in its true, unadulterated form.

The dancers in Miss Holm’s group have been assembled from widely separated parts of the country. The group will present a modern, original modern dance to music by Granville-Barker. The program will include a selection from ‘“The Mother’, by the English modern dance company of the same name.

This program, designed to demonstrate the use of the modern dance as a medium for social change, is part of a world tour which the company is giving in the United States, Canada, and Europe, with a view to demonstrating the effectiveness of the modern dance as an educational and propaganda medium.

Juniors Challenge Snooping (?) Sophs in Mascot Search

One of the things that Juniors look forward to most is the annual Mascot Hunt, held every year to provide a fun and exciting way for students to celebrate the school spirit and foster a sense of community. This year, Juniors are challenging Sophomores to a new level of competition and creativity in their search for the next mascot.

As part of the search, students will need to come up with new ideas for oratory and dance teams, as well as new mascots for the school. This is an opportunity for students to show their talent and contribute to the overall identity of the school.

Juniors are encouraged to submit their ideas to the Mascot Committee, and they will be evaluated based on their creativity, originality, and the impact they would have on the school community. The committee will then select the best ideas, and the winning team will be invited to perform at the school’s annual Mascot Day.

This challenge is not just about having fun, but also about creating a memorable experience for all students. Join the Juniors in making this year’s Mascot Hunt a success and help shape the future of your school!

Sociology Students To Make Field Trip

The classes in Child Welfare will visit the Connecticut School for Boys in Meriden tomorrow afternoon, February 23, in connection with their study of juvenile delinquency. The purpose of the trip is to gain a better understanding of the institution and its operations.

The students will be taken on a tour of the school, and will have the opportunity to observe the daily life of the boys and the staff. This will provide them with a firsthand experience of the challenges faced by juvenile correctional facilities.

The trip is an important part of the course curriculum, and will help students gain a deeper understanding of the issues related to juvenile delinquency and the importance of providing effective care and support to these young people.

Jennie Lee Tells How Women Can Make History

"Women of today have a chance of making history," said Jennie Lee, at a recent lecture at Connecticut College. She went on to explain how women can play a key role in shaping the future of society.

Lee began by discussing the importance of education for women. She emphasized that education is the key to opening up new opportunities for women and enabling them to participate more fully in society.

She also emphasized the need for women to work together to achieve their goals. Lee believed that women have a unique perspective on issues and that their collective efforts can lead to positive change.

Lee concluded by encouraging women to take action and make a difference in the world. She emphasized that women have the power to change the course of history and that it is up to each individual to decide what kind of world they want to live in.

Bird Club Heals

Dr. W. Henderson

Dr. Robert W. Henderson, Associate Dean of the College of Biology, was the guest speaker at the Connecticut College Ornithological Society meeting held Monday evening, February 21, 1937. He spoke on the history and current status of the Connecticut College Ornithological Society, and the society's efforts to promote the protection of birds and their habitats.

Dr. Henderson discussed the society's founding in 1927, and its efforts to raise awareness about bird conservation. He also highlighted the society's work in banding birds and conducting surveys to track bird populations.

He emphasized the importance of conserving bird habitats and protecting birds from habitat destruction and other threats. Dr. Henderson concluded by encouraging students to get involved in bird conservation efforts and to support organizations that work to protect birds.

Dr. H. C. Bell, Dr. Everett Clin- chy, and Rabbi Louis New- man Spoke

Dr. Everett Clinchy, Director of the National Conference of Jews and Christians, opened the evening session. He talked about the importance of understanding and respecting the beliefs of others.

Dr. Bell, a representative of the Catholic faith, spoke about the role of faith in the lives of believers. He emphasized the importance of maintaining a sense of hope and trust in the face of adversity.

Rabbi Spoke about the centrality of community and the importance of working together to achieve common goals.

The evening session continued with a discussion of the importance of interfaith cooperation and the need for greater understanding and respect among different religious communities.
President Blunt Stresses Faculty Accomplishments

President Blunt mentioned just a few of the faculty's attainments and stressed the fact that she could have told of numerous others. In the budget of the college is a small item which helps signify both the research and study of the faculty members. Mention was also made of a study being done continually in the botany department, experiments in the greenhouses, and the laboratory articles published by different groups. The entire department centerfolded the publishing of a valuable scientific book, "Growth Hormones in Plants.

Many Publications

Dr. Margaret Chancey has published a college text book on "Nurture" and Dr. H. M. Sweeney is in the process of publishing a medi eval, twelfth century chronicle which he edited, "Pseudo-Turpin." Dr. E. S. Sanchez is chairman of a distinguished committee which has recently published the sixth supplement of "A Manual of the Writings of Middle English"; Mrs. Chase G. Woodhouse is well-known in her organization of Women's Professional Relations. Dr. Marjorie Dilley has just signed a contract with an English firm for the publication of her book "British Poetry in Kenya Colony.

At Christmas there were many meetings attended by members of the Connecticut faculty. Among those reading papers were Miss Chancey, Miss Clark, Miss Creighton, Miss Moore, Mrs. Joyce, Mrs. Bamberger, Mrs. Sanchez, and Mrs. Woodhouse. Miss Ernst is the President of the Connecticut chapter of the Teachers of French, and Mrs. Sanchez holds vice-presidency of the New England Modern Languages Association.

"I mention the subject," concluded Miss Blunt, "that you may realize the scholarly attainments of this faculty outside of the college."

Vocational Talks on Women's Opportunities

Mrs. Alice L. Williams, of the Executive Placement Division of R. H. Macy and Co., gave vocational talks on "Opportunities for Women in the Department Store Field." These were given in February and in 206 Fanning. They also interview ed several workers who were interested in such type of work.

Freshmen at the University of Michigan have been given permission to live in fraternity houses during the second semester.

President Blunt stresses the faculty's attainments. She holds the responsible position of Speaker of the House of Representatives. She is extremely interested in the school at the time of this summer, where a member of a stock company, the Melodians of Providence, is now at Brown. Elizabeth Murray, of this year's senior class has recently been accepted as an applicant for the degree in chemistry at Mt. Holyoke.

I believe the development of this work is a sign of our scholarly growth. Remember that we will keep the number comparatively small; we do not consider ourselves or people tagged for more.

"I am mentioning the new plan of honors only as a reminder. Read the catalogue; talk with your new advisor. You juniors and seniors in particular think about it. It presents a chance for a little more concentration, a little more insight into scholarly work even in your senior year."

To Speak Sunday

The theme is a deep spirituality, the truth that God is present in our lives, in our personal experience, and in the experience of the church. This is a growing and developing religion. He started his talk by saying that we are all thrown together and it is possible to find a common denominator. We have with us all the time our family background. So much religion comes out of our family life. Rabbi Newman brought the point that the Jewish are in the majority and are always here. The majority looks down on the minority and always has been.

In the general discussion which followed Rabbi Newman was asked why he was not in accord with the Fiedlerick plan. Rabbi Newman stated that he did not believe that it was right to come to non-religious teachings with the public schools of America. Thus the Jews did not wish to be connected with this plan and the outcome which there are many who represent the Catholic religion, gave his viewpoints concerning the good. Dr. Forster, of the Yale College, can indeed prove his teachings in the establishment of this Inter-faith Conference. This Conference is one step toward the recognition and understanding which must come to all people in order to preserve a democracy and a free country.

A faculty party, the third of a series of events sponsored by the faculty club, was given Monday evening in the faculty clubroom. It was a Washington's birthday party, made up of entertainment "Washington would have liked," said Miss McKee. Child Welfare Mrs. Valet Cook's Topic

Mrs. Edith Valet Cook, formerly of the State Legislature, of the Commission on Child Welfare appointed by Governor Cross in 1931, and of the present Special State Commission on Revision of the Pauper Laws, met with Miss Harrison's class Monday afternoon, March 1, to discuss "Local Legislation and Problems of Local and State Responsibility for Relief and for Child Welfare."

The Committee for the Preservation of Tradition at St. Mary's University proclaimed recently that they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they preferred this light smoke. "A little over a year ago I changed to Luckies because I enjoy the flavor of their tobacco. Ever since, my throat has been in fine shape. As my voice and throat mean so much to me in my business, it's plain common sense for me to prefer this light smoke. So I'm strong for Luckies!"

Gary Cooper says:

"It's plain common sense for me to prefer this light smoke"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Cooper verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

Do you ever wonder what was going on here before many of you were even the proverbial "twinkles in your Daddy's eye"? For example, can you tell me that 21 years ago this week the students of C. C. were listening to a lecture on "Simplified Spelling"? Or do you remember the "New York Times" ads that announced the "New Year's Eve Ball?" Or were you even born when "The Olympic" (a college newspaper) was first published in 1889? The reason? C. C. News was born! This week we celebrate a century of newspaper publishing at C. C.

In honor of this occasion, we will present a special feature article on the history of the newspaper. The article will include a brief history of the newspaper, a look at some of the most memorable issues, and a glimpse into the future of the newspaper. The special feature will be published in the issue of C. C. News coming on April 1, 2016.

C. S. Krom, Manager
Reporter Dogs Path of Pal Williams for News On Production of “Dover Road”

Pal Williams collected her mind along with a tooth-brush, green oil, bathrobe, and a cold cream bottle—she was in the midst of packing her suitcase for a weekend in Boston—then she proceeded to tell an inquiring News reporter all the “dope” on Dover Road, past and future Wig and Candle productions. Alternating between “dragging” on a cigarette and combing her hair, she said, “The story has a darling placement—something about a man who has a mania for breaking up divorced couples who are about to be re-married. Sounds fantastic doesn’t it?”

“But the sets are darling! Wesleyan’s doing them, you know. They’re modernistic, in a very subtle shade of purple-brown. We do the props and furniture.”

From the closest floor where Pal was on all fours hunting shoes, the reporter replied, “It’s too bad there can’t be a dance afterwards, but the poor attitude of the audience at Fall Plays—I mean the concentration and shouting—doesn’t seem to warrant one this time.”

Then forcefully, “There, that’s something for you to print—you might put it in the editorial column.”

Putting on her hat and hunting up a missing red suede belt (later she found she’d packed it), Pal went on, “Another reason for our expecting Dover Road to be particularly good is that we are collaborating with Wesleyan. I can’t think of when we’ve ever had men in our cast before, and they will make it so much more realistic.”

Carrying Pal’s suitcase in one hand and her own notebook in the other, the reporter managed (rather inefficiently) to take notes on the bus, “We’re already working on drawing up rules for the Competitive Plays, which come in April. Then Dad’s Day comes in May—I think it’s the fiftieth—so of course, we’re already thinking about them.”

Pal sat on the bus, waved good-bye, and undoubtedly sat down thinking how nice it was to be rid of all bus-body reporters, especially when those reporters are Freshmen.

Washington, D. C. — (ACP) — One out of every fifteen college students is earning part of his expenses through employment in the NYA program.
That is the claim of Aubrey William, administrator of the National Youth Administration. The student aid program has expanded to include 10,317 more students and 84 more colleges and universities, included in the total of 124,815 students and 1,068 institutions.

Undergraduates make up the bulk of the NYA list with 119,583 drawing monthly checks. Graduates number 5,235. Of the $1,869,143 allocation for student aid last December, $1,770,533 was for undergraduates and $98,610 for graduates.

Williams stated that $309,498 more was expended for NYA projects in December 1936 than for the same month of 1935.
Exactly 98 percent of U. S. institutions are participating in the student aid program, said Williams. To be eligible the college or university must be non-profit-making and tax exempt. This embraces practically every degree-granting institution in the country.

In regard to the fears expressed at the time of the NYA’s establishment in the summer of 1933 that it was “an opening wedge” toward ultimate control of the educational system, Williams declared:

“Such fears have been allayed completely as the program has developed. The NYA has not interfered in any way whatever with matters of curricula or administration, and the actual working of the program in each institution has been left entirely in the hands of the institutions’ own authorities.”

“The fact that approximately 98 percent of the accredited colleges and universities in the country have adopted this program as a means of assistance to students of limited means is adequate testimony of its value.”

Given the opportunity of voting for a mythical all-star faculty of ten members from all the history of the world and from any field of knowledge and work, faculty men and women of the University of Penn sylvania selected Dr. Albert Einstein, Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Da Vinci, Shakespeare, Galileo, Newton, Darwin and Pasteur. Dr. Einstein is the only living man included.
