Dance Will Feature Cinderella Theme, Late Permission!

Music by Halprin, D.O., Tigestones, Shiffs; Programs to Be Printed

Cinderella is the theme of the Junior Prom to be held this Saturday, April 13, at 8:00 P.M. in Knowlton Salon. Bob Halprin’s orchestra will provide the third time music for the class of 1952, and two o'clock permission has been granted to freshmen, sophomores, and seniors. Those wishing to attend are to get their permission cards from any of the following junior collectors: Cassie Goforth, Miss Helen Carter, Kate K.B., Margie O Bh, Greco Smith, Shirley Ludlow. Younger students who desire to attend must get their tickets from Show, Comm. Two dollars and ninety cents is the price.

H. L. Hamilton and Ann Ball are writing and printing a program for the weekend consisting of junior’s dates’ names and plans for dinner parties and picnics.

Jo MacManus is the chairman of the Junior Prom Committee, assisted by the following committee chairmen: Reda Longmire, corr. Jane Law, refreshments; Molly Hand, carol chairman; Barbara Deen, tickets; and Corky Fisher, entertainment.

Representative To Interview Seniors

One of the important government agencies is sending a representative to Connecticut College to interview qualified seniors for Washington and overseas jobs on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 17 and 18. Mr. Harford Russell will speak briefly to the seniors at their regular schedule, at 8:00 A.M. on Tuesday, April 17, outlining the opportunities available. These are not Civil Service jobs. For the better jobs secretarial and clerical, it is necessary to have some instances a knowledge of a foreign language or area, plus the ability to type, will suffice. Only one student from each major can be interviewed, so check with the Personnel Bureau to see if you qualify.

PWSC Reports Benefit Earned $408.07

The Post War Service Committee has reported that $408.07 was earned as a result of the sale of War Stamps which took place in Knowlton just before spring vacation. The committee wishes to thank all those who helped to make this amount a success.

Opportunity Knocks Twice

What can YOU gain from NEWS? Aside from obtaining information, you may learn that there’s nothing esoteric about the NEWS office. It is nothing but hard work—rooms of details like fitting copy into the allotted space and distributing the papers. What’s your part in the process? Well, if you are not offering anything even as concrete as a grade, we can offer opportunity—a chance to learn about another aspect of the newspaper business.

A good deal of enjoyment may also be derived from working on NEWS—the fun of cooperating to get something done and that wonderful feeling of accomplishment when the paper is ready to go to bed on Tuesday night. It consumes comparative energy; you know you are doing something quite different from the jobs you are usually called upon to do. And don’t say you lack talent. Copyreading, for example, is relatively simple to learn, but it offers a challenge in making a good copy, and it says exactly what the author intended.

A definite sign that you would enjoy the paper work is if you ever think of that summer and what you are going to do with it. Don’t you ever look forward to the day when you may be able to enjoy this activity? It is true that you may have other plans for the summer, but whenever they are, there are enough other people who would probably be interested in helping out. And you never know—it might work out in your favor. Even if you do enter the paper work, you may find that you enjoy it so much that you may decide to change your plans. And if you are just not interested in any other activity for this summer, you can come back when the school term begins. There are always plenty of other opportunities to get involved with the newspaper.

What are you doing this summer? Seems to be the common question on everyone’s mind, and if in class, and the close of the school year is drawing near. When everyone is beginning to think of this, the tales of summer jobs are numer- ous, and fascinating. Here are a few examples of jobs that stu- dents have participated in last summer, that might give you the key you’re looking for.

Nan Vail, from Brewster, N. Y., ran a small, part-time news- paper for the past year. After coming home from school, she worked for the company and met different people, and told them all about her plans. Then, having gotten enough promises to start out, she began. The school was for the very early morning group, making the morning for five days a week. Their mothers took them in and from the nursery school, and after the school, Nan would complete charge. It ran on a purely traditional basis, with sand boxes, a swimming pool, and num- erous games, and in mid-summer everyone from the area came. The school was run for six weeks, and the whole time was a “work” day per child. If your interests lie in early childhood education, this might be an exciting opportunity.

Alice Von Schrader and Roberta Nunnally, both ‘52, went up into the Naval Reserve Training Unit, at the Great Lakes. The proposition offered is a two-week training course with two consecutive summers while in college, with the pay averaging $100 per summer month, and the possibility of being transferred to the Navy. The training includes classes in gunnery, navigation, signal and radio, and personal administra- tion, and you are sure to keep busy with extra-curricular activities. There’s no better time to gain experience in this field.

If you do not have a newspaper of your own, or your best friend’s picture, in the newspaper, you know how a picture can often portray something more eloquently than words. It is not essential to be an experienced shutter-bug. A desire for more and better pic- tures, ideas for more effective spots, a camera—and there you are.

By now you may have gathered that this is an appeal for new people on the NEWS. It is, but with a difference. We want YOU to come aboard, not for the benefit you can give, but for what you can get from this experience. We can even answer your argument that you can’t possibly take on any more extra-curricular activities. Wasn’t there a story you read in NEWS, oh, a week or so ago, with which you violently disagreed? We bet there was. Now you can write it yourself, and when you have it published, you can watch that board for further no- tice.

Other departments will hold group or individual conferences as many freshmen and for any sophomores majoring in Economics or who wish to enter the field. Either the clip- prize, which amounts to twenty- five dollars, is for the ability to write English, the content is not required to contain the pieces to memory. All those who wish to enter the competition are asked to submit their entries to Mr. Perrier by April 18. Results will be announced at the Prize Chapel to be held near the end of the school year.

Opportunity Knocks Twice...the real opportunity. The pieces chosen by the contest shall be one consisting of prose, on any topic of current interest. Neither of these pieces shall occupy more than two and one-half minutes, which amounts to twenty-five dollars, is for the ability to read English aloud, the content is not required to contain the pieces to memory. Students intending to compete must sign their names on the sheet that will be posted in the News Office, in the room, before the event.

Cady Prize Contest

To Occur on May 15

The contest for the Cady Prize in Reading will be held in Room 203, Palmer Auditorium on Monday, May 15, at 7:30 p.m. Contestants are asked to assemble in Room 203. Each contestant for the prize will be expected to read three pieces, two chosen by herself, and one chosen by the judges.

The pieces chosen by the con- testant shall be one consisting of prose, on any topic of current interest. Neither of these pieces shall occupy more than two and one-half minutes, which amounts to twenty-five dollars, is for the ability to read English aloud, the content is not required to contain the pieces to memory. Students intending to compete must sign their names on the sheet that will be posted in the News Office, in the room, before the event.

The departments of history, art and psychology held conferences on the arts and contents of their majors on Tuesday afternoon at 5:15 in Fanning 335, Bill 694, and Bill 306 respectively. On Thursday of this week the sociology department sponsored a conference in Bill 106, and the music department in Bill 107. These conferences are planned for freshmen and for any sophomores who are interested in the majors or who wish to become more familiar with their electives. Any student may attend the conference.

Other departments will hold group or individual conferences in the next three weeks according to a schedule posted on the academic bulletin board. Please watch that board for further no- tices.

CONNETICUT COLLEGE NEWS

Meet the Class Prexies for Next Year--
Molly Hunt, Dell Stone, Cynnie Linton

Molly Hunt
Freckles and a contagious laugh made Molly Hunt stand out among the ad words of the new class president for the class of '52. Molly Hunt, a zoology major who is from New London, Conn., has been given the job.

The new president was born in New York City and has lived there her entire life. She attended New London High School, in Connecticut, and is a child development major. When it comes to knitting she is a one-man sock factory. Basketball is her favorite sport and this past winter she managed the soccer more class team. As a result of her favorite reading material, it's Milne's Winnie the Pooh.

When asked if she liked Con necticut she replied with her usual at overwhelming enthusiasm.
"Yes, the people are wonderful!"
"Dorm, Winhamp, rhymes high with her, too, especially when the Intercollegiate men.

So that night Cynnie Linton, a freshman in International Living Europe, was able to get her out for such, yet even there the possibilities are endless. True to her campus body is the head of the
as its leader.

As a result of her
as its leader.

In the coming year News will endeavor to follow all cons-nucted suggestions and to produce better and more interesting reading.
For the best paper, how-more student support is needed at your early convocation.
We hope that, now we have clari-
My
fied a few of our policies.

Conn. Theatre Group
Announces Contest

Connecticut community theatre announces "Theatre Group Contest" in honor of the new class president, Molly Hunt. The contest is to be held at Connecticut and the winning group will be announced at the annual banquet.

The contest will be open to all theatre organizations and to college student playwrights who have written a full length one-act play accepted by a Connecticut college.

A prize of $200 will be awarded to the winner and the production of the play will be handled by the Connecticut Theatre Group.

A committee of six judges will be appointed by the Connecticut Theatre Group and the winning play will be produced by the Connecticut Theatre Group.

Publications Reveal Faculty
Doesn't Only Give Quizzes

If anyone wanted to prove that our professors live not for classes but for their research, all he need do is to point to the latest list of faculty publications. For I am afraid that the reputation our faculty has gained as a faculty capable of producing fine works in the journal fields.

Our English department has been well represented in the literary world by Miss Bethurum, Miss Tuve, Mrs. Smyer and Mr. Smyer. Miss Tuve's writings have been in the critical review vein, while Miss Bethurum wrote an Anonymous Old English Odes for the Journal of English and German Philology. Mrs. Smyer's article, "Coloratura's Use of Wordsworth's Juvenilia," appeared in the June, 1950, issue of Publications of the Modern Language Association.

In the language fields, CC professors have been the authors of several college magazines, German, Russian, French, and Spanish magazines respectively. Eugene Guerster's essays on politics and literature have appeared in Neue Rundschau, Kasenaley, and Kammerpresse, while the poet, John City, appeared in The Americans-German Review. Eight of Mr. Kasenaley's articles have appeared in One Church and Now's German magazines. "The Honors System in Australia," was published in the April-June issue of Revue des Hautes Études, and "Los Americanos" has been translated into Spanish and published in the November, 1950, issue of El Reportero Americano.

Both Mr. Cranz and Mr. Deiters have written for the Writer's Digest. A contest has been announced for unpublished stories, 1950 words in length, and there is no restriction as to subject matter, characters, or themes. Two hundred prizes totaling $1,000 will be awarded.

BERKELEY SCHOOL

To Your Advantage
College women specially trained for em- ployment are much needed. It is estimated that 40% of the faculty of the colleges represented at the Springfield, Mass., conference to be held here on Saturday, April 11, 1951, will be women.

The American Historical Re- view and the Journal of Higher Education, so that the history department is also well represented.

In the field of economics we find that Mr. Beebe's articles, which include one on Human Relations in the Armed Services, have appeared in the Social Service Review, and Mr. Hall's work as a senior editor at The American-German Review has been published in the 1950 issue of Taxes-The Tax Magazine.

These are only a few of the faculty publications. There are many more. Mr. Mack has written an Experimental Course in Aesthetics for the April, 1950, Journal of Higher Education, and The Positive Beliefs of the Skeptic was published in the beautiful old English Old English Odes for the Journal of English and German Philology.

It seems that Streaky has attained honor, honor to the American Historical Association, and Mr. Minar has been published in the American Historical Review, the Journal of English and German Philology, the Journal of American History, the Journal of English and German Philology, and the Journal of American History.

Whether you choose to close your story a subscription either now, renewed, or extension to the Writer's Digest. A six months' dollar subscription entitles the writer to enter one story in the contest and no more than two stories may be submitted by anyone person. All rights to the story remain the property of the writer and scripts will be returned as soon as possible.

Officers Will Be Installed Apr. 18

Palmer Auditorium will be the scene of the installation of the officers of student government. Wednesday morning, April 18, at 10:00 A.M. The officers who will be installed are: John Durfee, president of student government; Barbara Groesbeck, vice-president; and Elizabeth Rebolledo, chief justice of the class of '53; and Elizabeth Cleve- land, and three judges in the class of '54.

Others who will take part in the installation are as follows: president of AA, Jane Gerhardt; president of WAC and WAC, Gloria Jones; president of religious fellowship, Margaret Oli; Janet Lindstrom, president of service league; Mary Wallmar, social chairman of service league; and Mary Lee Prentis, chairman of chapel activities.

Prep School Faculty to Hold Conference Sat.

Did you ever wonder what relation the subjects you took in high school have to your college courses? In an effort to clarify the relationship, faculty from forty-two public and private schools in Connecticut have been invited to a conference to be held here on Saturday, April 11, 1951, in Bill Hall. Those faculty will participate in discussion groups with the CC faculty, concerning five general topics: English, languages, science, social science, and math. The principal participants from CC will be the faculty who teach freshmen in the subjects carried on from high school.

In Chicago, Illinois, a favorite gathering spot of students at Loyola University is the Union Lounge because it is a cheerful place—full of university atmosphere. And when the gang gathers around, ice-cold Coca-Cola gets the call. For here, as in university haunts everywhere—Coke belongs.

"Ask it either way... both trade-marks mean the same thing."
Press Board Offers Students Training In Publicity Work

Press Board is one of those small, hard-working organizations on campus of which we hear so little, which accomplishes a tremendous task.

Working with Mrs. Katherine Flood, director of the publicity bureau, Press Board has the most daily job of selling to it that CC students receive recognition for their campus activities in the local press outlets: the home town and secondary school papers. Each member of the board devotes at least one hour a week to writing and mailing short items to the effect that "Louise Durfee, '38, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wentworth Durfee of Tiverton, R. I., was recently chosen by members of the student body at Connecticut College, New London, to serve as president of their student government for the year 1951-52." Or that "Susan Manley, '38, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Manley of Long Meadow, Mass., has been elected president of the Home Economics Club at Connecticut College, etc.

Several members of the board act as paid correspondents, for professional newspapers and college campus news of general interest, as well as those "with a local slant," in their columns within which appear weekly. Pay is usually on the "per inch" basis according to the rates set by the respective papers for which they work. These jobs are awarded by Press Board to its more experienced members, subject to the approval of the newspaper, which after all, does print the story.

First of all, there is a chance for a student to find a part-time job on a Monday, Wednesday, or Friday afternoon, or on a Tuesday, Thursday, or Saturday morning. As many as eight academic credits you may remember, were sponsored by Art Club in coordination with the S. S. Washington. We will present the winner of the first prize clay piece under the directorship of T. Weiss, assistant professor of English at Bard, editor of The Quarterly Review of Literature, and contributor to several well-known literary periodicals.

Visiting lecturers who will participate in the projects include: Allen Tate, William Carlos Williams, and Richard Elliston, accordingly to Bard, as history; a great academic credits may be earned by those attending. The inclusive fee is $500. Further information may be obtained by writing the Director of Admissions, Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y.

Applications for Phi Beta Kappa Graduate Scholarship is Urged

The New London and Connecticut College Delta chapters of Phi Beta Kappa which annually sponsor a scholarship for graduate study are now receiving applications. Any senior contemplating further study and in need of financial assistance should apply immediately. The scholarship will amount to at least $150, and blanks may be secured in the offices of Dean Bauder or Miss Richardson, New London.

The Students' Travel Club of New York and the Danish International Student Committee is providing a new car and a European student guide for two, three, or four American students and permit them to follow an itinerary that has been tailor-made according to their own wishes and interests. One fee covers all transportation expenses. Any further information desired will be supplied on request from this organization.

Beonne Beronda Speaks To Art Club April 26

Art Club is sponsoring a speaker, Beonne Beronda, Thursday, April 26, in Jane Adams living room. Members of Art Club are major students, and those who turned in especially good sculptures for the five Arts Clay portion, are cordially invited. These parties, as you may remember, were sponsored by Art Club in coordination with the S. S. Washington. We will present the winner of the first prize clay piece under the directorship of T. Weiss, assistant professor of English at Bard, editor of The Quarterly Review of Literature, and contributor to several well-known literary periodicals.

Visiting lecturers who will participate in the projects include: Allen Tate, William Carlos Williams, and Richard Elliston, accordingly to Bard, as history; a great academic credits may be earned by those attending. The inclusive fee is $500. Further information may be obtained by writing the Director of Admissions, Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y.

Applications for Phi Beta Kappa Graduate Scholarship is Urged

The New London and Connecticut College Delta chapters of Phi Beta Kappa which annually sponsor a scholarship for graduate study are now receiving applications. Any senior contemplating further study and in need of financial assistance should apply immediately. The scholarship will amount to at least $150, and blanks may be secured in the offices of Dean Bauder or Miss Richardson, New London.

First of all we have another addition to the list of blushing brides at our fair institution which is rapidly turning into the "School for Brides" it seems is Sallie Stewart Mahan, who acquired her new name on April 7. After their wedding in Cleveland, the newly-weds drove back east, where Sallie proceeded to set the campus on its ear when she walked in with her brand-new husband, Alvan Stedman. They went to Sal and Steve, who plan to make their home in California after they graduate from Yale Law School in June.

When Connecticut College students return from a vacation, there are usually a few more enganged girls within the ranks. This spring vacation was no exception, because here we have five more engagements to announce.

Judy Whittal, a sophomore in Windham House, became engaged to Bill Clinger, a native of Warren, Pa. Bill is a second-classman at the University of Pennsylvania.

Also Ella Raines, Bruce Bennett in New London, Conn., have acquired a new name.

When the audience was treated in all to a fine musical achievement. The Elijah is not performed very often, and it is gratifying that in this instance it was done so well. Without Mr. Quimby's musicianship in guiding the group of performers it could not have achieved this excellence; and it is to him that the principal credit is due.

The engagement was also announced of Emmy Speare, another sophomore in Windham. Her fiancé is Frank Coolidge, a native of Milton, Mass. Bill is working for the investment firm of Scudder, Stevens, and Company in Boston. Bill and Emmy met on a boat trip to Europe last summer. They plan to marry in September, and Emmy may continue her college education in Boston.

Freeman House is proud to announce the engagement of one of its inhabitants, Janet Schmitz. The gals in the dorm have been watching the progress of Bill McCuskey's courtship of Janet for many a Wednesday afternoon.

Nancy Beth, an East senior, and her fiancé Bob Doyle, are planning a September wedding according to the official report made public on March 24. Nancy has known Bob who's an undergraduate at the Wharton School of Finance in the University of Pennsylvania's, ever since she was born. He's from Shrewsbury, Mass., (so is she) but the Doyle's will be making Philadelphia their home.
