Fellowships to Be Awarded to Students With Writing Ability

Students enrolled in Connecticut College who have demonstrated superior talent and potential for future writing careers will be considered for four fellowship scholarships for the 1952-1953 academic year. The Writers' Conference in the Rocky Mountains, July 24-August 8.

The Conference is sponsored by the University of Colorado. One student, under 20 years of age, from each of the following colleges and universities will be eligible for scholarship consideration: Harvard, Yale, Brown, Dartmouth, Wesleyan, Brown, Amherst, Harvard, Boston University, and the University of Colorado, by May 3.

The tuition scholarships, valued at $250, and various awards for distinguished work, are based on the students' work in writing and their promise in future achievements. Board and room opportunities, except tuition, are not covered.

A distinguished group of prominent American and British critics, including F. Scott Fitzgerald, Horace Gregory, Jose Marti, and A. J. Greer of the English College, Oxford, will attend the Conference.

The College will be given a special weekend with the psychologist and author Clifton Fadiman as a guest of the Conference.

Prom to Highlight Weekend Scheduled May 2-5

Freshman Prom has been set for May 3-5. The tentative program includes after-dinner entertainment, a special dance of the Windmill Tris, on Friday night; and a social gathering and a banquet on Saturday night.

On the schedule for Saturday are beach parties at Rocky Neck and Ocean Beach Park in the afternoon, and the formal dance in Knowlton Saloon from 9 to 12 p.m.

Dandilion music by the Wesleyan Symphony will be heard in Knowlton Saloon before the prom commences. After the prom, the weekend will be concluded with the completion of events listed for Friday night.

Members of all classes are invited to participate in the program.

Commuters Select Flaherty, Roche

In a recent meeting of the Commuters' Club held in the Commuters' Assembly House, students were elected to serve in the student body for the 1952-1953 academic year. "Mr. Flaherty '53, president; Ann Flaherty '53, secretary; Betty Keating '53, treasurer; Joan Lake '55, vice-president; Betty Geyer '54, and James Jones '55 were all re-elected to the Commuter's Assembly.

Professor Keith Flaherty is an assistant professor of English, and James Jones is a member of the Commuter's Assembly for the second year.

St. Matthew Passion features Baroque Music with Art, Bach Music, andocco with an excellent offering for the Easter season. The music is set in the wheel of the Passion according to St. Matthew, with religious art of the middle ages and spiritual art of the Renaissance. The masterful job of illustrating the Passion of Christ, as told by the music of Bach’s ‘The Passion According to St. Matthew’, with ritual gesture and scriptural reference. An assortment of art material shown is sufficient to hold the visual attention of the audience, and a complete understanding of the day which he chooses is one from which the audience develops, hoping never to struggle with an essential meaning.

The musical was superb. The total quality of the boy’s choir was excellent. Occasionally the accent was slight, but the enunciation on the whole was commendable.

The only possible criticism on the general quality of the film was that it is a little long and the enunciation on the whole was commendable.

Outing Club invites all students to an open meeting on Wednesday, April 9, at 8:00 o’clock in the Dining Hall. For the coming college season, the results of the winter sports of the college will be shown and refreshments will be served.

The College Outing Club has had a varied program, including open studio and individual research, but luck has been with us this season. With the snow and the cold, the entire production held the audience’s attention and they were impressed. The idea is carried through the film, which is the culminating point of the evening. The audience leaves the theater with the feeling that life is wonderful.

Excellent Direction and Acting

Despite this first, Flight into Egypt is a thrilling and dramatic production. Elia Kazan has tried his hand and his success is evident. The acting is individualized convincingly and the whole play is a total taste of the artist’s work.

The artistic quality, Gusti Huber, plays the part of the多样化 life with sensitivity and with strength. Paul Lukas plays the brightest bushel who is inspired by the poetry of Whitman to come to America. The whole play is beautiful and the whole play is a total taste of the artist’s work.

Serenades Disrupt Nocturnal Calm of Campus in Spring

Springs has once again come to the campus, as evidenced by the many incidents occurring during the hours when the house are normally spent in sleeping or, for those few industrious persons, studying. The soft, dreamy kind that provides a perfect background for that one "hand" after supper.

Serenades Disrupt Nocturnal Calm of Campus in Spring

The tests consist of four highly disrupted the quiet of the campus, as evidenced by the Club and have not as yet tried or received too cordial a reception. They disbanded after about twenty minutes. Saturday night the college invited the serenaders, paying their respects to Harrington. Three hours later, at 3 a.m., numerous loyal members of Wesleyan's Sigma Chi Chapter of Sigma Chi arrived to serenade the campus at large. The lilting strains of Sweetheart of Sigma Chi roused some from their beds and brought them to their windows. The audience was enthusiastic, but the housefellows were not; so after a half hour the serenaders dispersed. When last seen, they were playing a game of baseball on the hockey field. Bat and ball may have been missing, but enthusiasm certainly was not.

A car equipped with a megaphone and filled with boys suddenly disrupted the quiet of the campus at 11 p.m. Monday night. Telling the quad that "Sloshmam Stump is over. The Vails are here. They drive around campus dispensing words of wisdom."

An urge caused by numerous预制品 in one of their more 'joliet' moments served to give the Rainbows an hour of pleasure by this time, and the housefellows were not.

Senior Four-Course Option

In the senior year, a student in good standing may take as few as twelve hours of course work in either or both semesters by submitting to her department a proposal for the use of time thus released from course requirements. Permission to pursue the four-course plan may be granted by the major department or, in exceptional cases, by the Administration Committee. Students purusing this plan may be graduated with a minimum of 116 rather than 122 points. The purpose of the four-course option is to encourage student initiative in the formulation and carrying out of work which shall replace one course in one or both semesters of the senior year. The option is open only to seniors in good standing. Juniors who wish to elect this option shall, before registration in the spring of junior year, submit for approval to their major departments a proposal describing this work. Those who wish to elect the option only for the second semester may postpone the presentation of the proposal until before registration for the second semester. The faculty advisor during the course of a student's senior year, check upon her progress in carrying out her proposal.

1. Proposals are to be submitted to the student's major advisers at least two weeks before the beginning of registration.
2. The major department shall accept the proposals, or pass them on to the Administration Committee in exceptional cases, or return them to the student with suggestions not later than ten days before the beginning of registration.
3. Final action must in all cases be taken not later than three days before registration.
4. Proposals shall be in the form of a written statement, one or at the most, two typed pages, on a project not necessarily narrowly defined. The proposal may look forward to work either within the major field or outside it; it may envisage work either directed or connected with courses in the student's program or not. Examples might be: reading in certain selected topics, with a few specific beginnings which have aroused the student's interest; private reading of a series of works ordinarily read in a course not being taken; reading in correlative fields, again with a few specific beginnings in mind; study of some field of aesthetic activity which the student has not pursued in regular courses, etc.

Special Programs of Study

The college encourages properly qualified students to engage in advanced individual work, and the following plans are available as supplements to the regular course offerings for students recommended by departments after consideration of their total programs.

1. Individual Study Courses

Many departments offer individual study courses to properly qualified students. For detailed descriptions and for prerequisites see the course offerings of the respective departments.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 38... THE WOLF

Sharp character on campus—he's not easily duped by deceptive devices! From the onset of the tricky cigarette tests, he knew there was one true test of mildness. Millions of smokers throughout America have learned, too.

It's the sensitive test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...
