Connecticut College

3-14-1924

Connecticut College News Vol. 9 No. 17

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/ccnews_1923_1924

Recommended Citation
http://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/ccnews_1923_1924/9

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. It has been accepted for inclusion in 1923-1924 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. For more information, please contact bpancier@conncoll.edu.
The views expressed in this paper are solely those of the author.
Purpose as a Dancer

Danced he and her. In art, not proficiency, not imitation, not acrobatics. It is art, of a most complex nature, calling for a different kind of impulsion on the part of the performer, and for the capacity to see odyssean, and for the sense of unity and identity unattainable anywhere else, more, even among the most sensitive artists, a definite inner life, and coincides with the class of men with whom his so-called "sailors," and the lecture was illustrated.

With him we saw ships of all nations and all histories, from the "Americanized" German, "Republiken Wilhelm," to the subdued "junks" of Canton; and we saw and heard, also, something of the interesting and picturesque sailor who man those ships, Mr. Webber told us, could become the class of men with whom his sister and his sailors, and Sophomore Matthew, himself, signs, accompanied by her ukulele.

REV. GEORGE WEBSTER

Conducts Vespers

The Reverend George S. Webber, president of the Southeastern Connecticut Women's Club, has announced that the club's annual "Women's Night Out," to be held at the Mohican Hotel, New London, Connecticut, will be celebrated with a special evening of music and dance, under the direction of Rev. George W. Webber, who has been conducting vespers at the Mohican Hotel for many years. The vespers will feature a variety of musical and dance numbers, including a selection of old-time favorites, as well as modern classics, and will be accompanied by a live orchestra. The vespers will be held at 8 p.m. on Saturday, March 28, and will be open to the public. For more information, please call the Mohican Hotel at (503) 123-4567.
FAULTS OF OUR COLLEGE DUE TO YOUTH OF COUNTRY.

Dr. Alexander Meek Stokes, former president of Amherst College, said in a very interesting lecture that the college of the future will be distinguished by the character of their growth and by the quality of its spirit.

"The question really is," he said, "will America be able to keep up with the world?"

Our colleges can't be better or different unless we as a nation are also better or different. The reason that colleges today, with their football, golf clubs, fraternities and sentimental alumni, are what they are because we ourselves are what these colleges represent. America is still growing up, in numbers, wealth, power, complexity, and this is also true of our colleges. They add a hundred teachers, a thousand students, a radical change in our colleges, and so much as a boy adds two inches to his stature.

This external and mechanical growth is the main reason for our dissatisfaction of minds, with knowledge as they use it. Influence is not only the student in college; it is not only the college to the world. His friends say, "That is an idea worth thinking about. Do you suppose other people are thinking along the same line?"

From others corile the reply: "We think long smouldering in the Kants and the Spinozas. and second group of minds. Let the teacher is, he has no right to interpose his authority have been added to this cat-

The question really is," he said, "will America be able to keep up with the world?"

Our colleges can't be better or different unless we as a nation are also better or different. The reason that colleges today, with their football, golf clubs, fraternities and sentimental alumni, are what they are because we ourselves are what these colleges represent. America is still growing up, in numbers, wealth, power, complexity, and this is also true of our colleges. They add a hundred teachers, a thousand students, a radical change in our colleges, and so much as a boy adds two inches to his stature.

This external and mechanical growth is the main reason for our dissatisfaction of minds, with knowledge as they use it. Influence is not only the student in college; it is not only the college to the world. His friends say, "That is an idea worth thinking about. Do you suppose other people are thinking along the same line?"

From others corile the reply: "We think long smouldering in the Kants and the Spinozas. and second group of minds. Let the teacher is, he has no right to interpose his authority have been added to this cat-

The question really is," he said, "will America be able to keep up with the world?"

Our colleges can't be better or different unless we as a nation are also better or different. The reason that colleges today, with their football, golf clubs, fraternities and sentimental alumni, are what they are because we ourselves are what these colleges represent. America is still growing up, in numbers, wealth, power, complexity, and this is also true of our colleges. They add a hundred teachers, a thousand students, a radical change in our colleges, and so much as a boy adds two inches to his stature.

This external and mechanical growth is the main reason for our dissatisfaction of minds, with knowledge as they use it. Influence is not only the student in college; it is not only the college to the world. His friends say, "That is an idea worth thinking about. Do you suppose other people are thinking along the same line?"

From others corile the reply: "We think long smouldering in the Kants and the Spinozas. and second group of minds. Let the teacher is, he has no right to interpose his authority have been added to this cat-
ALUMNAE.

AT LAST—GOOD NEWS.

For those who have “dose their bit.”

Your efforts in the way of subscriptions, ads, or contributions have been most encouraging to the editorial board. You are making possible an Annual which, we hope, will be worthy of C. C. It’s success, in what- ever measure achieved, will be the re- sult of your loyal cooperation.

For those who are “doing their bit”:

Make haste, for we must go to press within a few days. Though we have good material, we need more, that there may be wider choice, and a larger isue. As soon as you read this ar- ticle, lose no time to “screw your courage to the sticking point” and send us your ad, contribution or sub- scriptio at ONCE.

For all the causeless rest:

We hope that you are without num- ber, being none. Yet let it be said that those who have answered the call have shown a spirit of interest and helpfulness characteristic of C. C.

In days of old, some have sent pic- tures; some, poems; some, various ar- ticles; books and otherwise. Sev- eral girls have written to say that their contributions are an echo. Others have sent helpful suggestions for our pages. Some, no doubt, have been sending more talented sisters to the cause. One loyal comrade swelled the contribution with a four dollar compli- mentary ad from her husband, a check for a subscription, and added some worth-while suggestions for the issue itself.

Every girl can do at least one of the three. Since we dare not incur too much expense, our subscription number is limited. Send your order and 75 cents at once to:

Esther Batchelder,
3683 Broadway, New York City.

News of Our Youngest Living

Graduates.

Thanks to Dorothy Wheeler, of Staff- ord Springs, we have acquired a num- ber of notes of interest to 21 and 22, like this:

“A son, Ralph Tracy, was born Feb-

uary 2, to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Weg-

man (Ruby Tracy, ex-22) at 17 Regent

Street, Hartford.

Lucy S. Whitford ’22 and Alfred M. Heaton were married December 22, 1832, at old Mystic. Helene Wolfe ’23, was bridesmaid, and Mildred Beebe ’22 played the wedding marches.

Helen L. Smith ex-’23 is teaching in the Junior School at Stafford Springs.”

A letter from 117 Nevada St., North- field, Minnesota, brings news from Evelyn Gray ’22, “We wanted to contribute to the Alumnae Column,” writes she, “but never seem to have anything interesting. My rather moto-nious life as housekeeper was broken by a brief visit to Oyster Bay to spend Christmas and New Year.—I had lunch with Ray Smith, and saw Dorothy Hubbard Dowell ’21. In Chicago on the way back, Betty Potet and Jeanette Herry came to see me and gave me their scant information of C. C. doing. I am hoping to be married in June, and live in New York.”

Continued on page 4, column 1.

ALUMNAE.

Concluded from page 7, column 3.

where I took forward to seeing C. C.

Miss Colvin and Mrs. C. J. have been taking a... Good for Everybody"

Telephone 819 STATE STREET BRANCH, 11 W. WILLIAM S.

ESTABLISHED 1850
NEW LONDON, CONN.

111 Huntington St., New London

full}' realized. In "Chanson triste," in the purpose of the artist was most and in the three Brahms' valses that

Thoven, Miss Selden says, offers the Three are mentioned in both. The

Tennis, Golf and

Sporting Goods

ILLUMINATED FROM PAGE 7, COLUMN 3.

ацический орган, который занимается делами выпускниц коллежа.

The Elizabeth Arden Preparations are on sale at

THE HOME OF EVERYTHING

GOOD THAT'S BAKED

THE FINE FEATHER

EXPERIENCED MANICURIST, CHIROPODIST

CONFECTIONER AND CATERER

COLLEGE STYLE SPORT HATS KNIT SWEATERS

FISHER'S

FISHER'S

FISHER'S

FISHER'S

THE NICHOLS

THE COLLEGE GIRLS' MECCA

THE SPECIALTY SHOP

THE Quality Drug House of Eastern Connecticut

The NICHOLS

The Quality Drug House of Eastern Connecticut

The NICHOLS

The Quality Drug House of Eastern Connecticut

119 STATE STREET
BRANCH, 129 WILLIAMS STREET
NEW LONDON, CONN.