SGA President Poisoned, In Stable Condition At L&M Hospital

By RON BUSYFINGERS

editor in chief

As efforts to break Conn's long-standing senior giving record reach a fever pitch, SGA President Evan Piekara, cited by many as the moral center behind the senior giving campaign, has been poisoned. He is in critical, yet stable condition. The apparent assassination was unsuccessful, yet the "face" of the senior giving campaign has suddenly marred. While Piekara's term as SGA President has been rife with controversy, with major discounting being the College, they're once room-lighting face has suffered permanent disfigurement (see photo). Though Piekara is expected to make a full recovery, he is in critical condition, still monitoring his vital signs very closely and confirming that his facial damage is irreparable.

The overwhelming popularity of President-elect Yuschenko's aptitude for serving the college in this new capacity indeed. Yuschenko's reassurance--this departure from the sans of scholarship--warrants some concern. While his academic credentials are spectacular, the lack of "street" work has raised more than a few eyebrows. Pal blithely, people want to know if our President Emeritus has the gumption to serve as a first president to a notably floppy student popular.

Yuschenko's new boss, Campus Safety Chief Jim Miner, has sought to quell all fears associated with the new hire. When contacted, Miner gave a clear word of confidence. He noted, "I've known Norm for six years, and have never seen him pushed around, not by a faculty member, a student, a...trustee...nothing. This man used to lead the entire organization, and I can tell you he knows how to take charge. The passion in his delivery has a lot more vicious when he's speaking. People want to know if our President Emeritus has the gumption to serve as a first president to a notably floppy student popular.

Miner also noted that he's like to utilize Yuschenko's academic background by creating a special role for the former professor on our campus safety force. Specifically, Yuschenko's background in urban sociology regarding Marshall and Hamilton. Those dorms need a lot of help, and I think Norman's vast experience in urban sociology and development can really turn things around."

Miner added, "Additionally, his experience at Vassar College makes him a perfect fit for the job."
The Joke Issue

This issue is a joke. No sections - unless otherwise stated - are to be taken seriously. And even then, we might not be serious. Seriously though, we hope you like it.

The editors.

A Reminder:
The Voice appreciates honest, thoughtful student opinion. However, if possible, please keep Letters to the Editor to 300 words or less. See below policies for additional details. Thank you.

Please write for us. Email Pete at paste@conncoll.edu

A Note:
Editorials are the viewpoints of student editors, and are not to be confused with the official opinions of Connecticut College. The Opinion and Editorial section is comprised of independent student opinions, which are also not to be confused with the Connecticut College or the College Voice. All content and editorial decisions are made by student staff members.

2 for 1 Mexican Entrees!
With a valid college ID

Experience the food, culture and décor of Mexico, without getting on a plane.

MARGARITAS
Mexican Restaurant & Watering Hole

12 Water Street
Downtown Mystic
(860) 536-4589

Open for dinner daily at 4pm

For more information about Margaritas visit us at www.margs.com
RAVE REVIEWS FOR OUR MBA
The Quinnipiac University School of Business MBA program continues to prepare business professionals for the realities of management in global, technology-driven work environments in specializations such as:

- MBA WITH CONCENTRATIONS IN ACCOUNTING, CIS, FINANCE, INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS, MANAGEMENT, MARKETING
- MBA - CHARTERED FINANCIAL ANALYST® TRACK
- MBA IN HEALTHCARE MANAGEMENT

OUR TOP 10 GRADUATE MAJORS:
MBA, Physician Assistant, Interactive Communications, Teaching, Biomedical Sciences, Molecular/Cell Biology, Journalism, Nursing, Computer Information Systems, Accounting

MASTERING THE ART OF TEACHING
Sheila Wyczynowski, Director of Curriculum and Staff Development at Amity High School, explains, "Basically we look to hire Quinnipiac students. They have a clear understanding of lesson planning and classroom management and the balance between them." She also characterizes Quinnipiac students as articulate, creative, able to encourage higher-level thinking in students, and able to incorporate technology into their teaching.

YOUR NEXT MOVE
Quinnipiac University offers graduate programs in 17 distinct disciplines. Whether you are interested in our AACSB nationally accredited business program, the master of arts in teaching (MAT) program or one of the Northeast's most highly regarded journalism and interactive communications programs, all have been designed to thoroughly prepare you for a professional career. For more information, call 1-800-462-1944 or visit www.quinnipiac.edu.
The College Voice • March 10, 2007
ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Good Charlotte Release The Album of the Year

BY CAROLYN SERBASY

On March 27, 2007, Good Charlotte returned from a three-year break to release their newest effort, Sour Patch Kids Lose Lawsuit, Go Sour-less.

The first thing that catches your eye is the cover—a collection of perky, catchy, and essentially epic songs. Tracks such as “Keep Your Hands Off My Girl” and “feetIy catchy, innovative, and essentially epic songs. For the rest of us, rehab is so fre~ hot right now. AA? Yes. Pronti Fah-u-lous.

On March 27, 2007, Good Charlotte returned from a three-year break to release their newest effort, Sour Patch Kids Lose Lawsuit, Go Sour-less.

The first thing that catches your eye is the cover—a collection of perky, catchy, and essentially epic songs. Tracks such as “Keep Your Hands Off My Girl” and “feetIy catchy, innovative, and essentially epic songs. For the rest of us, rehab is so fre~
hot right now. AA? Yes. Pronti Fah-u-lous.

Although 2007 has already sign ified the year to graduate from college for me, maybe it should have meant the year for super comebacks. The Police, Rage Against the Machine, the list goes on. But when I started getting the calls, from supposed “blind auditions,” I knew this year would be special. The first came from the one and only, Brian Newell.

“Hey man, just thought I would let you know that I’ve decided to re-turn to "Underwater Till We Rise." The coke and the coke in the after-life just hasn’t been doing it for me anymore. The girls are staring to hit the brakes in Seaf, the waves are much more ready than ever and that crusty boy, Bandit, is getting too big for their own good. I bought it time to be here down on the real world and get the max dance style back in motion. Hope you can make it back to a show. That was a great reunion performance!”

The Rights of Spring

BY ARIEL A. SAKELLARIS

Have you spoken to a man with lipstick? I’m completely comfortable with his masculinity, but we don’t even know if he’s gay. Bozo Bismuth in Aladdin Madagascar wore a certain pink tuxedo, so he might always be stylish.

MONEY IN THE BANK

Mary-Kay’s loosing big, so save for the trip to the mall. She can spend cash on pants, a Place SLW ‘N SLIDE.

In April, the Police will come back to California, sending an e-mail to the fans. He will be the only one couple can make adop!J

SPRING IS HERE. Ten ways to stay cool.

Shoe strings, legions of

For the rest of us, what is so breathtaking that fusion has already hap-pened. It’s called cool. And right.

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disregard old trends such as,

You can disreg
Brad and Angelina to Adopt Britney Spears' Children

BY SOPHIE FITZGERALD

Just this week, the publicists of Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie have confirmed that the couple will adopt Sean Preston and Jordan Marie Federline, Britney Spears' children. This is stunning news in a couple who, up until recently, was a Nanny Nanny Boo Boo 2. On their recent Hollywood jaunt, Angelina and Brad were often seen with Sean Preston and Jordan Marie, and it seemed that they were the Pitlies in the city. So, when the news of their adoption was confirmed, it was met with surprise and delight by fans of the couple.

Angelina Jolie and Brad Pitt have already adopted two children, Pax Thien Jolie-Pitt and Maddox Jolie-Pitt. With Sean and Jayden, the Pitt-Jolie family will have six children, all under the age of 10. According to their publicists, Kevin Federline and Britney Spears' wife, he wanted to come to the conclusion that the children would be in better hands if they were to live with Brad and Angelina.

The couple's publicist reported, "Brad and Angelina are overjoyed to adopt two new children. They really love the chance to rescue children from third world countries and have already made arrangements for their adoption."

Angelina Jolie's publicist confirmed that he was initially reluctant to give up his two children. Yet, when he planned March 24th birthday bash in Las Vegas, Nevada, it was called off due to lack of both interest and sponsorship the boys' father had demonstrated. He said, "I'm not in the right place in my life to care for my children. I really need to focus on my film career and make my name back in the major business."

Angelina Jolie and Brad Pitt need to go back to dancing for real, now that they're married and have adopted their new children. Although she initially offered to care for the boys herself, Lynne agreed that Brad and Angelina's intervention would prove more effective and publicly rally Britney's fans to support her. Britney Spears could not reach her comfort, but her publicist only confirmed her approval of the adoption. In light of her recent behavior, since she was neither seen with an umbrella nor a monochrome, one can assume that she is content with the new arrangement. It is unclear whether or not the adoption will be permanent.

Kevin Federline was publicly revealed. "Federline plans on visiting his sons frequently. It's not something that I'm happy about, but he has big plans for the boys."

Britney Spears' and the Jolie-Pitt family are to move into the Jolie-Pitt household by the end of April.

THE COLLEGE VOICE· MAaCH30, 2007 • 5
Conn To Phase Out Co-Ed Admissions

BY RACHEL TYPRINT

President Higdon announced this week that Connecticut College will begin the transition back to an all-female college over the course of the next few years. The decision is part of her designed Strategic Plan for Connecticut College, in order to "bring the most out of running a liberal arts college," President Higdon and the Board of Trustees decided that returning to the female foundation of Conn would be the best course of action. The class of 2013 will be the first all-female class since 1969.

President Higdon stated, "This change only seems like a drastic move, but Conn has always been, at heart, a women’s college. Conn’s future relies on creative alternations, such as forging a co-ed status, by eliminating the male student, Conn will have a more flexible budget to support and facilitate the liberal arts education of the contemporary woman. I am confident that this will bring in a great new era for Connecticut College."

Despite President Higdon’s enthusiasm for returning back to an all-women’s college, Dean of Admission Martha Merrill conveyed an announcement Monday that beginning next year, serving much the same role as a pilot would for an individual show. When students fill out their television survey this coming spring, they will have an additional option asking to pick and choose admission opportunities. "Conn appli-

Campus Safety

continued from page 1

ior that she did in a fit of rage, breaking Windham’s night time silence with bloodstaining screams regarding the senior giving campaign. Rejection of the former student class president’s reasons reveals a man obsessed. Notes and SGA crop up and are piled high in camouflaging fashion, creating a bevy of certain fire hazards. There are multiple Piekara effigies, all mutilated, and violent scumbagging on all the walls, reminiscent of Ray Finkel from Ace Ventura: Pet Detective. While it is too late for a drug test to be set up, the round the clock national search for Bohler continues.

The senior giving campaign has been one of SGA’s most glamorous topics, sparking envy and hatred among strong class of 2007 efforts in the SGA. Bohler, apparently, has been a nothing more than third stool, adhering to his own struggle.

Would you like a $100 gift card to the Crystal Mall?

You can win one by answering an online survey about problem gambling. Help us determine if gambling is a problem in our community.

Go to the address below to complete the survey. When you are done, print out the last page and drop it in the “Survey Box” located in CRO.

www.surveymonkey.com/s/?s=497343416854

 Continued from page 1

student can make the most creative culinary creation?

Conn Gladiators- Can you

pick Coach Wuyke off a very high pedestal in a duel with giant Q-Tips?

Positive academic climate.

Outstanding faculty.

Rigorous academic programs.

Six concentrations.

Extensive experiential learning opportunities.

Student faculty ratio 15:1.

Quinnipiac University

School of Law

Handan, Connecticut
The College Voice Photo Contest
YOU COULD WIN $100!!!

Each week there will be a different theme in which Connecticut College students, faculty and staff may submit up to three digital black and white images. The editorial and photography editing staff will judge and pick a weekly winner, which will be printed in The Voice each week. The winners of each weekly contest will be put into a pool for the "semester's best" photo contest, which will be judged by The Voice staff, Photography Professor Ted Henderickson, Alumni Magazine Editor Susan Lindberg, and Slide Librarian Mark Brownstein.

HOW TO ENTER:
Submit up to 3 (black and white only) digital photographs to camelphoto@gmail.com. The deadline is Wednesday by 11:59 pm. "It is possible for The Voice to change color submissions to black and white before judging."

Attach information--name, e-mail, campus box #, and title of each photograph.
Optional: Include a one or two sentence description of photo

"Stay Tuned For More College Voice Photo Contest Information Following Spring Break"

Congratulations to Maia Monteagudo for winning last week’s theme: “Movement.”

“This is a photo of the sculpture outside of Cummings. When thinking about motion, I wanted a photograph that represented my interpretation of beauty, something simple. The spinning cube and the sunlight represent the beauty of not only the Conn campus, but also the simplicity that can be found in the little things in life.” - Maia Monteagudo

Joke Issue.

Four Day Forecast
“Usually Never Wrong”

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Day</th>
<th>Forecast</th>
<th>High</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Saturday</td>
<td>Sunny</td>
<td>51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sunday</td>
<td>Partly Cloudy</td>
<td>49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monday</td>
<td>Partly Cloudy</td>
<td>50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tuesday</td>
<td>Partly Cloudy</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Guess the Breed

Hint: It's not a comet.

Last Issue: Rhodesian Ridgeback (Lion hunter)

Word Search:

Across:
1. Mutt's mate
5. Palindromic pop quartet
9. Aboveboard
14. Tail of "After Hours"
19. Hooters
21. Mini ___
20. Region of Nicaragua
23. Phone beginner
24. Phone
25. "Koa Zapatista" star
26. It may be hard to swallow
29. Yahoo!
32. Julie in "Dr. Zhivago"
33. Hint: It's not a comet.
36. West of Gotham City?
37. Real Guel blit
38. Slave of opera
39. "Romper Room" urging
40. Mint
43. Phone beginner
44. "The Namey" has three

Across:
1. Bender
3. Casino game
4. Bob, Ted, Carol, or Alice
5. In conflict with
6. He was a knife guy
7. Big swig
8. Marx, to Engels
9. UC-San Diego site
10. One, to one
11. Hoedown honeys
12. "A likely story!"
13. Beer barrel poker
15. Montgomery and Rommel
16. Jordan's only seaport
17. Terri of "Merilious"
18. Hooters
19. Montgomery and Rommel
20. Region of Nicaragua
21. Proof letters
22. Unflappable
23. Phone beginner
24. Phone
25. "Viva Zapata!" star
26. It may be hard to swallow
27. Gaza Strippers
28. It may be hard to swallow
29. Yahoo!
30. Chair on poles
31. Genesis
32. Julie in "Dr. Zhivago"
33. Hint: It's not a comet.
34. Words of admiration
35. Hailie Selassie, to some
36. West of Gotham City?
37. Real Guel blit
38. Slave of opera
39. "Romper Room" urging
40. Mint
41. ___ Butler (voice of Huckleberry Hound, Chilly Willy, et al)
42. Comes out of hiding
43. Phone beginner
44. "The Namey" has three
45. Deadly shark
46. Like certain teenage turtles
47. All-purpose truck, for short
48. Poker concession
49. "To Kill a Mockingbird" lawyer Abacus
50. Number of prime interest
51. Voice of America org.
52. Phyllis Diller's "husband"
53. Neeson of "Nell"
54. 1978 Village People hit
55. Bowe blow
56. Pope's residence
57. Laxatives
58. Safe or fair follower
59. Inclined
60. Grimm beginning
61. "Charlots of Hava" finale
62. Droplets
63. Sounds of disgust
64. Film format for tall tales?

Down:
1. Bender
2. Jack who played Jake in "Big Bad John"
3. "Big Bad John"
4. "The Music Man" setting
5. "Duck Soup"
6. Love and Death on Long Island"
7. Half a Chinese circle
8. Love and Death on Long Island"
9. UC-San Diego site
10. One, to one
11. Hoedown honeys
12. "A likely story!"
13. Beer barrel poker
14. Love and Death on Long Island"
15. Montgomery and Rommel
16. Jordan's only seaport
17. Terri of "Merilious"
18. Hooters
19. Montgomery and Rommel
20. Region of Nicaragua
21. Proof letters
22. Unflappable
23. Phone beginner
24. Phone
25. "Viva Zapata!" star
26. It may be hard to swallow
27. Gaza Strippers
28. It may be hard to swallow
29. Yahoo!
30. Chair on poles
31. Genesis
32. Julie in "Dr. Zhivago"
33. Hint: It's not a comet.
34. Words of admiration
35. Hailie Selassie, to some
36. West of Gotham City?
37. Real Guel blit
38. Slave of opera
39. "Romper Room" urging
40. Mint
41. ___ Butler (voice of Huckleberry Hound, Chilly Willy, et al)
42. Comes out of hiding
43. Phone beginner
44. "The Namey" has three
45. Deadly shark
46. Like certain teenage turtles
47. All-purpose truck, for short
48. Poker concession
49. "To Kill a Mockingbird" lawyer Abacus
50. Number of prime interest
51. Voice of America org.
52. Phyllis Diller's "husband"
53. Neeson of "Nell"
54. 1978 Village People hit
55. Bowe blow
56. Pope's residence
57. Laxatives
58. Safe or fair follower
59. Inclined
60. Grimm beginning
61. "Charlots of Hava" finale
62. Droplets
63. Sounds of disgust
64. Film format for tall tales?

Sudoku

Fill the grid so that every row, every column and every 3X3 box contains the digits 1-9.
After finally breaking up with the trend of falling to the boy, a young woman is trying to become college-sports star. The girl in which CC is sure will now have more than 10 students from Connecticut College, the student body and the athletic department have come up with a solution. The goal sport in which CC is sure is sure to have more students join the competitive involvement in terms of varsity athletics. The belief is that this new sport in which CC is sure to be a coed program and is sure to offer to Sox fans is this: we still have the Wild Card.

Bolton likes The Voice.
You like Bolton.
You like The Voice.

Coming Out: A Vegetarian's Story

By Matt Sierra

The Connecticut college community was in shock this week after the day of the NCAA tournament when one of the team's stars, Rodriguez, revealed to his teammates that he is a vegetarian. The reaction to his coming out was immediate; the entire team celebrated and showed their support for this brave and brave move.

Reactions from Michaels' teammates were mixed, but most players felt that this news could help them in their upcoming games. "We had a few guys trying out for the starting lineup and we're excited for this news," said the team's star player, Rodriguez. "We know this guy has the potential to be a great leader and we're excited for him to bring that energy to the team." "Rodriguez is a great addition to our team," said the team's coach, Mike. "He brings a different perspective and we're excited for the season to get started." The team has a strong lineup with Rodriguez and his teammates, and they are ready to take on the challenges ahead.

Big Game

continued from page 10

The University of Wisconsin boasts a strong team this season, but they can't overlook the strength of the team at the University of Nebraska. Both teams have proven to be strong in different ways, and their battles over the past few years have been some of the most exciting in college football history. The interstate rivalry between these two teams is one that fans of college football cannot wait for.

Dyker as one possibly can. The favorite for this event is the king' of the night, racking up more kills in a single session than any other contestant. The "Tuna" does not seem worried about the competition, even if he is facing off against the "Cheetah hunter and Thulani "Aza" Arria (the powerful and intimidating nickname only adds to his mystic and brutality at the table).

When it comes to the plays, there is no shortage of excitement. Whether it's a key tackle in the middle of the field or a breathtaking touchdown pass, the players have proven to be skilled and athletic. Their victories over the years have proven that they are not easy to beat, and their fans are always there to support them. It will be interesting to see how the College of Arts and Sciences team will fare against the University of Wisconsin in this exciting match.

Final Four

continued from page 10

Not to mention the story fans that have been following the story of the "Fishing for Home" tournament. Florida is looking to secure the trophy again, as they returned all their key players from last year's squad. O'Connor has proved himself as a leader, and his presence on the court has been missed.

"We had a few guys trying out for the starting lineup and we're excited for this news," said the team's star player, Rodriguez. "We know this guy has the potential to be a great leader and we're excited for him to bring that energy to the team." "Rodriguez is a great addition to our team," said the team's coach, Mike. "He brings a different perspective and we're excited for the season to get started." The team has a strong lineup with Rodriguez and his teammates, and they are ready to take on the challenges ahead.

Big Game

continued from page 10

The University of Wisconsin boasts a strong team this season, but they can't overlook the strength of the team at the University of Nebraska. Both teams have proven to be strong in different ways, and their battles over the past few years have been some of the most exciting in college football history. The interstate rivalry between these two teams is one that fans of college football cannot wait for.

Dyker as one possibly can. The favorite for this event is the king' of the night, racking up more kills in a single session than any other contestant. The "Tuna" does not seem worried about the competition, even if he is facing off against the "Cheetah hunter and Thulani "Aza" Arria (the powerful and intimidating nickname only adds to his mystic and brutality at the table).
Eric DeBear

VIEWPOINT

As part of a momentous new initiative in the Connecticut College athletics program, Athletic Director Lars Stromsen formed a committee of students who are an incredible source of influence that the media has come to regard as untouchable. This committee's recent efforts have had a notable effect on the college's athletic programs, notably resulting in the establishment of a new student-athlete advisory board. This board has been instrumental in shaping the direction of the athletics department and ensuring that student voices are heard in decision-making processes.

The committee's initial meeting took place in late February, with representatives from both the men's and women's basketball teams in attendance. At that meeting, the group discussed the ideals of fair play, teamwork, and sportsmanship, and established a set of core values that would guide their work.

These values include the commitment to excellence in all aspects of athletics, the promotion of a positive image of the college through athletic success, and the encouragement of participation by all students. The committee has also vowed to work closely with the coaching staff to ensure that the needs of student-athletes are met.

As a result of this meeting, the committee has already begun to make changes that will benefit the entire athletic program. They have implemented a new system for recognizing and rewarding academic achievement among student-athletes, and have also worked to improve the facilities available to the teams.

In conclusion, the establishment of this student-athlete advisory board represents an important step forward for Connecticut College athletics. By involving student-athletes in decision-making processes, the college is better able to ensure that its programs meet the needs of all students, and to create a positive and inclusive environment for everyone involved. We look forward to seeing the continued success of this committee in shaping the future of athletics at Connecticut College.

Camel Scoreboard

Camel Sports

Conn To Get Football Team In Fall '07

By Eric DeBear

Sports Editor

As part of a momentous new initiative in the Connecticut College athletics program, Athletic Director Lars Stromsen formed a committee of students who are an incredible source of influence that the media has come to regard as untouchable. This committee's recent efforts have had a notable effect on the college's athletic programs, notably resulting in the establishment of a new student-athlete advisory board. This board has been instrumental in shaping the direction of the athletics department and ensuring that student voices are heard in decision-making processes.

The committee's initial meeting took place in late February, with representatives from both the men's and women's basketball teams in attendance. At that meeting, the group discussed the ideals of fair play, teamwork, and sportsmanship, and established a set of core values that would guide their work.

These values include the commitment to excellence in all aspects of athletics, the promotion of a positive image of the college through athletic success, and the encouragement of participation by all students. The committee has also vowed to work closely with the coaching staff to ensure that the needs of student-athletes are met.

As a result of this meeting, the committee has already begun to make changes that will benefit the entire athletic program. They have implemented a new system for recognizing and rewarding academic achievement among student-athletes, and have also worked to improve the facilities available to the teams.

In conclusion, the establishment of this student-athlete advisory board represents an important step forward for Connecticut College athletics. By involving student-athletes in decision-making processes, the college is better able to ensure that its programs meet the needs of all students, and to create a positive and inclusive environment for everyone involved. We look forward to seeing the continued success of this committee in shaping the future of athletics at Connecticut College.

Camel Scoreboard

Camel Sports

Conn To Get Football Team In Fall '07

By Eric DeBear

Sports Editor

As part of a momentous new initiative in the Connecticut College athletics program, Athletic Director Lars Stromsen formed a committee of students who are an incredible source of influence that the media has come to regard as untouchable. This committee's recent efforts have had a notable effect on the college's athletic programs, notably resulting in the establishment of a new student-athlete advisory board. This board has been instrumental in shaping the direction of the athletics department and ensuring that student voices are heard in decision-making processes.

The committee's initial meeting took place in late February, with representatives from both the men's and women's basketball teams in attendance. At that meeting, the group discussed the ideals of fair play, teamwork, and sportsmanship, and established a set of core values that would guide their work.

These values include the commitment to excellence in all aspects of athletics, the promotion of a positive image of the college through athletic success, and the encouragement of participation by all students. The committee has also vowed to work closely with the coaching staff to ensure that the needs of student-athletes are met.

As a result of this meeting, the committee has already begun to make changes that will benefit the entire athletic program. They have implemented a new system for recognizing and rewarding academic achievement among student-athletes, and have also worked to improve the facilities available to the teams.

In conclusion, the establishment of this student-athlete advisory board represents an important step forward for Connecticut College athletics. By involving student-athletes in decision-making processes, the college is better able to ensure that its programs meet the needs of all students, and to create a positive and inclusive environment for everyone involved. We look forward to seeing the continued success of this committee in shaping the future of athletics at Connecticut College.

Camel Scoreboard

Camel Sports

Conn To Get Football Team In Fall '07

By Eric DeBear

Sports Editor

As part of a momentous new initiative in the Connecticut College athletics program, Athletic Director Lars Stromsen formed a committee of students who are an incredible source of influence that the media has come to regard as untouchable. This committee's recent efforts have had a notable effect on the college's athletic programs, notably resulting in the establishment of a new student-athlete advisory board. This board has been instrumental in shaping the direction of the athletics department and ensuring that student voices are heard in decision-making processes.

The committee's initial meeting took place in late February, with representatives from both the men's and women's basketball teams in attendance. At that meeting, the group discussed the ideals of fair play, teamwork, and sportsmanship, and established a set of core values that would guide their work.

These values include the commitment to excellence in all aspects of athletics, the promotion of a positive image of the college through athletic success, and the encouragement of participation by all students. The committee has also vowed to work closely with the coaching staff to ensure that the needs of student-athletes are met.

As a result of this meeting, the committee has already begun to make changes that will benefit the entire athletic program. They have implemented a new system for recognizing and rewarding academic achievement among student-athletes, and have also worked to improve the facilities available to the teams.

In conclusion, the establishment of this student-athlete advisory board represents an important step forward for Connecticut College athletics. By involving student-athletes in decision-making processes, the college is better able to ensure that its programs meet the needs of all students, and to create a positive and inclusive environment for everyone involved. We look forward to seeing the continued success of this committee in shaping the future of athletics at Connecticut College.

Camel Scoreboard

Camel Sports

Conn To Get Football Team In Fall '07

By Eric DeBear

Sports Editor

As part of a momentous new initiative in the Connecticut College athletics program, Athletic Director Lars Stromsen formed a committee of students who are an incredible source of influence that the media has come to regard as untouchable. This committee's recent efforts have had a notable effect on the college's athletic programs, notably resulting in the establishment of a new student-athlete advisory board. This board has been instrumental in shaping the direction of the athletics department and ensuring that student voices are heard in decision-making processes.

The committee's initial meeting took place in late February, with representatives from both the men's and women's basketball teams in attendance. At that meeting, the group discussed the ideals of fair play, teamwork, and sportsmanship, and established a set of core values that would guide their work.

These values include the commitment to excellence in all aspects of athletics, the promotion of a positive image of the college through athletic success, and the encouragement of participation by all students. The committee has also vowed to work closely with the coaching staff to ensure that the needs of student-athletes are met.

As a result of this meeting, the committee has already begun to make changes that will benefit the entire athletic program. They have implemented a new system for recognizing and rewarding academic achievement among student-athletes, and have also worked to improve the facilities available to the teams.

In conclusion, the establishment of this student-athlete advisory board represents an important step forward for Connecticut College athletics. By involving student-athletes in decision-making processes, the college is better able to ensure that its programs meet the needs of all students, and to create a positive and inclusive environment for everyone involved. We look forward to seeing the continued success of this committee in shaping the future of athletics at Connecticut College.

Camel Scoreboard

Camel Sports

Conn To Get Football Team In Fall '07

By Eric DeBear

Sports Editor

As part of a momentous new initiative in the Connecticut College athletics program, Athletic Director Lars Stromsen formed a committee of students who are an incredible source of influence that the media has come to regard as untouchable. This committee's recent efforts have had a notable effect on the college's athletic programs, notably resulting in the establishment of a new student-athlete advisory board. This board has been instrumental in shaping the direction of the athletics department and ensuring that student voices are heard in decision-making processes.

The committee's initial meeting took place in late February, with representatives from both the men's and women's basketball teams in attendance. At that meeting, the group discussed the ideals of fair play, teamwork, and sportsmanship, and established a set of core values that would guide their work.

These values include the commitment to excellence in all aspects of athletics, the promotion of a positive image of the college through athletic success, and the encouragement of participation by all students. The committee has also vowed to work closely with the coaching staff to ensure that the needs of student-athletes are met.

As a result of this meeting, the committee has already begun to make changes that will benefit the entire athletic program. They have implemented a new system for recognizing and rewarding academic achievement among student-athletes, and have also worked to improve the facilities available to the teams.

In conclusion, the establishment of this student-athlete advisory board represents an important step forward for Connecticut College athletics. By involving student-athletes in decision-making processes, the college is better able to ensure that its programs meet the needs of all students, and to create a positive and inclusive environment for everyone involved. We look forward to seeing the continued success of this committee in shaping the future of athletics at Connecticut College.