1929 COMPETITIVE PLAY WINS TROPHY CUP

Successful Farce "Post Office"

On Friday evening, April 9th, the auditorium was again packed with enthuziasts who wished to see the last of the competitive class plays. These were the ones presented by the Seniors and Freshmen. These performances, although not perfect, showed a great deal of work was put into the production. The casts, costumes, and settings, which were so skillfully worked out, produced a highly pleasing effect.

The Senior play was "The Game of Chess". In the case of a game which is paid for something different was a high one. The play was suited to actors and audiences of experience and training. The situation could be grasped, but the depth and tenesness was out of the powers of college actors. However, the "Game of Chess" was by no means uninteresting or unenjoyable. The play was simple, but had the effect of magnificence. The scene was lovely, and will not easily be surpassed by other class producers.

The Freshmen play, which was accepted by Phyllis Heintz, coach, President of the Dramatic Club.

May Service impersonated Miss Budd, an employee of decisive purpose, but of unintentionally wandering characters, each one a distinct pose, but of unintentionally wandering characters, each one a distinct figure. It was here that Anthony van Leuvenhooik was the recipient of the Phi Mu fellowship of one thousand dollars, offered by the Chemistry Department, who last year had the effect of magnificence. A series of special lectures, social events and sight seeing expeditions, which has been arranged by the University for the purpose of familiarizing American students with Dutch life and letters, after the manner of the "Netherlands Week for American Students" which was observed at Leyden.

Free board and room are offered to a limited number of American students by the Netherlands America Foundation, 17 East 42nd Street, New York. The lectures are offered free of charge by the University to all who may wish to attend.

The idea was considered last year but Trustees decided to change the name in honor of the donor, the late Charles Clark Knowlton, of Ashford, Conn. Frank T. Knowlton, of the class of '27, will be Speaker of the House. She was secretary of The Students' which was observed at Leyden.

With a new system to be set in motion, the whole meeting of the Student Government to be worked out, the college welcomes as Student Government President one who will be fully capable of putting the new system across, Florence Hunt was president of her class, 1927, both Freshman and Junior years. She was the recipient of the Phi Mu fellowship of one thousand dollars, offered through the American Association of University Women for graduate study and research, has recently been elected for the next year. She also played a large part in reorganizing Student Government. Jane is a History Major with a keen, legislative mind.

The other officers elected so far are: Senior President, Harris Taylor; Vice President, Student Government, Lois Penney; Editor-in-Chief of News, Barbara Tracy '27; President of Dramatic Club, Eleanor Wood '28; President of Athletic Association, Esther Hunt '27.

COLONIAL TO BE CALLED KNOWLTON

At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees decided to change the name of Colonial House to Knowlton House. The idea was considered last year, but was not acted on definitely at that time. The new name for the dormitory is thought to be more appropriate since the College commonly commemorates on the campus the name of the donor; the late Charles Clark Knowlton, of Ashford, Conn. Knowlton's building was previously called Colonial House because the plans and also the furnishings are Colonial in design.

STUDENTS VISIT PEABODY MUSEUM AT YALE

On Saturday morning, April tenth, two bus loads of girls interested in biology went to New Haven to visit the Peabody Museum at Yale. They were accompanied by Dr. Doeler, Miss Williams, Miss Hurlburt and Miss Aull from the Peabody Museum opened last December. It is pronounced by experts to be exceptionally well planned.

For an hour before lunch, the girls studied the exhibits on the main floor. Here Evolution is portrayed. One room shows vertebrate evolution, the other invertebrate. Miss Parmalee, educational director of the museum, was their guide. After a lunch at Yale Commons, and a promenade among the buildings of the university, the girls returned to see the rest of the museum. They saw the various collections of birds, and minerals on the second floor. As a special privilege, they were shown the mummiform, the delicate instrument for taking an automatic record of an earthquake shock.

PSYCHIATRIC SOCIAL WORKER SPEAKS TO CLUB

The Psychology Club held a very interesting and entertaining meeting in Winnubut's living room April 12. Miss Hester B. Crutchiver, Executive Secretary of the Connecticut Society of Mental Hygiene, was the speaker. Miss Crutchiver, who has traveled extensively in the interests of her work, gave a very interesting talk on opportunity in "Psychology and Psychiatric Social Work for Women." Miss Crutchiver stressed the opportunity for intensive study in this work at Smith College and at the New York school. She spoke of three great principles in choosing one's vocation—financial aid, challenge to one's powers, and equipment. A new open meeting afterwards at which many of the club were present, offered an opportunity to ask questions concerning the subject.

TEN MILLION YEARS AGO

The British Society for the Advance- ment of Science has placed the discovery of Roy Chapman Andrews of ten million-year-old dinosaur eggs in Mongolia as the second in importance of all scientific achievements since 1923. Einsteins was given first place for his discovery of the theory of relativity. The Intercollegiate World.
