McKenzie Ousted, Ettelt resigns in protest

By Katie Paine

President Shan announced this week that Mary McKenzie, College Librarian has resigned. In a statement sent to the faculty he also stated that Ms. McKenzie will be temporarily replaced by Thelma Gilkes, the current catalogue librarian.

In a Pundit interview Tuesday Mr. E. Harold Ettely, Reference and Documents Librarian, stated that Ms. McKenzie was given the choice to resign or be fired. Mr. Ettely has also resigned in protest. (See statement). Both reactions came as a result of the Special Committee on the Library's report and the conflict ensuing from it.

Though instigated by the firing in December of Circulation Librarian Marjorie Cheatham, the committee's investigation centered on more fundamental dissatisfaction with Library policies. The faculty feel that as major users of the Library they should have a major say in the decision making process.

As stated both in Ms. McKenzie's response to the Special Committee's report and Mr. Ettely's letter to Pundit, members of the Library Staff feel that the administration of the Library should lie in the hands of "professionals.

In her twelve page report Ms. McKenzie condensed the mammoth investigation was conducted, calling it "superficial and impressionistic". She explains that "the faculty have all experienced a feeling of being aroused controversy within the past three years.

These include the changeover to the Library of Congress classification and an anonymous complaint about the librarian from a staff member, two staff terminations, and other personnel conflicts.

Conflict with the faculty have arisen over the weeding of government documents, the tone of communications between the Librarian and the faculty, and finally faculty involvement in Library policy. She states firmly that "(the faculty) contributions... have been ignored."

The response also questions the advisability of appointing a committee with a chairperson who was one of the original faculty members who had "lost confidence in the Librarian to such an extent that they thought no questioning would be useful."

Finally the response urges a rapid conclusion of the "investigation and reconstructions studying it."

All reports have been turned over to the Student-Faculty Committee in an attempt to find a solution. The Committee held their first meeting before vacationing. This meeting was both public and press but meetings in the future will be open to students and faculty for suggestions.

Pedestrian Mall to begin Parents' Day

The Pedestrian Mall Committee received $500 last Friday to expand and finish the Pedestrian Mall Project which now is expected open on Parents' Weekend.

According to John Zeller, chairman of the committee, the Mall is becoming a much larger and more unique project than originally expected. If all can be realized, the mall will represent one of Connecticut's first efforts at creating a complete outdoor environment.

Kidwell death determined accidental

by Bill Looney

An extensive coroner's report detailing the circumstances surrounding the death of Eric Kidwell is reported pending at the State Pathology Lab in Hartford; unofficial yet unattributed reports indicate Eric's death was "agonizing."

Apparently, Mr. Kidwell's death, which occurred in Lambdin sometime during Spring vacation, was "completely accidental."

There is some question that Kidwell had been "drinking heavily" when last seen, but such a conjecture will not be substantiated until release of the medical investigation.

Reportedly, eight residents of Kidwell's floor in Lambdin were present during the vacation period; all presumed he had left the residence.

On Saturday evening April 6, members of the Security Force were called to investigate "strange odors and smells."

After entering his room, campus police immediately called a physician who pronounced Kidwell dead; some reports indicate he had been dead six days.

His death was said, regrettable and tragic," said Ms. Margaret Watson, Dean of Faculty. "We lost an excellent young man."

"I doubt if any of us will ever be the same," she also remarked.

Close friends indicated an attempt was made to see him during the week; they also remarked to Pundit editor Katie Paine that they "considered Eric's privacy most highly."

An all-college memorial service for Mr. Kidwell will be held on Friday, April 12. Funeral services were private.

On the inside....

Text of response to library report p.3

Phi Beta Kappa's announced p.3

Parents Day Calendar p.4

Harlem Renaissance arrives p.5

Great Gatsby reviewed p.8

Election platforms p.8 & 9

Connecticut College APRIL 18, 1974 VOLUME 35 NO. 8

Housefellow applications decreasing

By Bill Looney

Applications for the position of Housefellow for the academic year 1974-75 have decreased in comparison to past years, and represent a decline in interest due in part to "questions of individual priorities." It is also reported by the Housing Office that results of the Housing Committee Questionnaire have rendered the operation of more than one woman's dormitory in 1973-74 "unfeasible.

To date 53 applications for 21 Housefellowships have been processed, and the number must be regarded as final due to the fact that the applications deadline has now passed. Over 80 applications were processed last year; in previous years one hundred plus was the norm. "I have no speculation as to why, but the Housefellow positions have become increasingly time-consuming with a great amount of paperwork involved," remarked Ms. Margaret Watson, Dean of Student Affairs.

In addition, she continued, the stipend for Housefellows has been steadily decreasing to the anticipated sum of $200 next year.

Decisions of the Housefellow Committee will be announced on April 24; housing selection and four procedures will follow on April 26. "I must add that we are very pleased with this years crop of applicants; the sum total may have decreased, but quality remains steady," said Ms. Watson.

Results of the Housing Questionnaire indicate that there is "much interest for the institution of a co-ed quiet dorm."

Reportedly, applications for residence in the projected quiet dorm closed yesterday; students must have been up to be considered.

If a sufficient number of students do not apply, the quiet dorm concept may "fail at least for the time being. In addition, a decrease in preference for all female housing has occurred, but the number of male freshmen next fall will preclude any feasible proportional representation of the present four all-female dorms. Rather, only one dorm will be available; it is not known which one it might be.

New stereo for Cro-Bar

by Walter Palmer

The Cro-Bar now has a new stereo system and has plans to install an air-conditioning system in May, pending Mr. Knight's approval.

The stereo system, purchased by the bar committee, consists of a Teac cassette tape deck, a Pioneer receiver and four speakers (not installed at this time) to be located in the four corners of the bar.

"The dividers, which permit Regolo, the bill for the stereo has not yet been presented, but it is estimated to be provided in the original budget of the bar committee.

The main purpose of the ventilation system is to provide exhaust for the smoke, and to increase the air circulation.

The cost of the system is $1200. Mr. Regolo commented that the system, is "a necessity and, considering the approaching hot weather, the sooner it is installed, the better."

Concern, the bar also has a television, which could be installed, pending permission from the State Liquor Commission. Concern was expressed about installing the TV, because it would conflict with the larger number of male freshman next fall will preclude any feasible main- tain ability of the present four all-female dorms. Rather, only one dorm will be available; it is not known which one it might be.

The stereo system, purchased by the bar committee, consists of a Teac cassette tape deck, a Pioneer receiver and four speakers (not installed at this time) to be located in the four corners of the bar.

Regolo commented that the system is "a necessity and, considering the approaching hot weather, the sooner it is installed, the better."

Concern, the bar also has a television, which could be installed, pending permission from the State Liquor Commission. Concern was expressed about installing the TV, because it would conflict with the larger number of male freshman next fall will preclude any feasible main- tain ability of the present four all-female dorms. Rather, only one dorm will be available; it is not known which one it might be.

The stereo system, purchased by the bar committee, consists of a Teac cassette tape deck, a Pioneer receiver and four speakers (not installed at this time) to be located in the four corners of the bar.

Regolo commented that the system is "a necessity and, considering the approaching hot weather, the sooner it is installed, the better."

Concern, the bar also has a television, which could be installed, pending permission from the State Liquor Commission. Concern was expressed about installing the TV, because it would conflict with the larger number of male freshman next fall will preclude any feasible main- tain ability of the present four all-female dorms. Rather, only one dorm will be available; it is not known which one it might be.

The stereo system, purchased by the bar committee, consists of a Teac cassette tape deck, a Pioneer receiver and four speakers (not installed at this time) to be located in the four corners of the bar.

Regolo commented that the system is "a necessity and, considering the approaching hot weather, the sooner it is installed, the better."

Concern, the bar also has a television, which could be installed, pending permission from the State Liquor Commission. Concern was expressed about installing the TV, because it would conflict with the larger number of male freshman next fall will preclude any feasible main- tain ability of the present four all-female dorms. Rather, only one dorm will be available; it is not known which one it might be.
Letters to the Editor

Nothing is free
To the Editor:

Everything has a price tag. Nothing is free. If you want a can of beans, you pay 29 cents. If you want 20 cent to buy beans with, the price is that you work or steal or whatever to get it.

This is fine if you have obvious prices. But other things have price tags too. If you want to learn you have to work at it. If you work at it less in order to have more fun, the price is that you learn less. If you work at it more, the price is having less fun.

If you want the security and constant companionship of marriage, you have to stop fooling around. Some may call these prerequisites rather than price tags but I call them to the same thing: It's what you have to ante up to get what you want. And you choose daily, and hourly, and always. You choose unconsciously or consciously but you choose when you sit back and let the world drift by or when you grab it and try to shake it by the tail. You choose when you follow the crowd or when you go it alone. And every choice has a price tag. Some of the most expensive things are the areas of personal freedom and integrity.

You cannot avoid choosing, and paying the price. You can only choose well or ill. Some of the best choices have the most expensive price tags and others are quite inexpensive. Some of the choices are glittering only at first glance and pale quickly later. Some are choices for a day and some will be paid for all your life, and maybe your children's lives too. And all choices take some of your allotted time before you no longer make choices.

There are no consumer groups to help you make the choices, except when you get down to the level of beans. The rest of the choices are yours.

HAROLD J. ETTETT—REF-LIB.

Call for leadership
To the Editor:

Having attended the recent elections for the Class of 1974, I was disturbed by the lack of both interest and respect for the part of the candidates and the audience. The office of Senior Class President is of a small and vital nature and the person elected must be not only enthusiastic, but also responsible and attuned to class and community needs. He or she must be interested and willing to take the initiative necessary to insure the success of class and community functions. In the past year, Class of 1975 has lacked such leadership.

It is my hope that the class will carefully consider the candidates and avidly support them during the upcoming year.

NORMA K. DARRAGH President, Class of '74

Vinal neglected
To the Editor:

In reference to Joan Mccusky's article "Crop Iving: Success or Failure" Pundit, March 28, it appears to me that the gist of this article was the pros and cons of small, close living. Mr. Mc cusky, however, neglected to investigate the pros and cons of the smallest and closest living experience—Vinal.

Had she probed further, I think Mrs. Mc Cuskey would have added a new and pleasant aspect to her article—Imagination. When size is a criteria, leaving out the smallest component, I am disappointed.

Sincerely,

SHARON MARTIN Housecaller, Vinal

Pundit demise inevitable?
As a result of the failure of a compromise, PUNDIT now stands leaderless. College Council, in hopes of attaining a strong, cohesive paper under the guidance of a powerful Editor-in-Chief, submitted this hard-won compromise to the Editorial Board. The Board wishes to thank the Council, particularly Richard Lichtenstein and Bernie McMullan, for their patient mediation during the last few days. However, the Board reacted unfavorably to the compromise because of its apparent illegality and because it rendered virtually useless the four strenuous weeks in which we attempted to prove that we could publish effectively. Bernie Zelitch and Garin Gordon have rejected the compromise because they feel that they cannot work with the present Editorial Board nor within the atmosphere it has created. Apparently, endeavors to suppress past reactions and prejudices are no longer feasible.

PUNDIT now sees no prospects of obtaining an Editor-in-Chief. Whether this lack is due to academic pressure, apathy, or active disgust is impossible to ascertain. Nevertheless, PUNDIT still faces the increasingly eminent possibility of dissolution. The decision will rest largely in the hands of the college community. PUNDIT believes that its abolition would comprise an act of object irresponsibility to its readers.

If Board have Cro.
If be
To the Edll9r:

Some may call these Things like that have obvious everything bas a price tag. Nothing is free.

KARL CHRIStOFFERS

Walter Palmer

Andrea Stoner

Ms. McCluskey would have neglected to investigate the pros and cons of the smallest and closest living experience—Vinal. Had she probed further, I think Mrs. McCuskey would have added a new and pleasant aspect to her article—Imagination. When size is a criteria, leaving out the smallest component, I am disappointed.

Sincerely,

SHARON MARTIN Housecaller, Vinal

Tragedy emphasizes lack of awareness
Though the death of Eric Kidwell was not the fault of the administration, the Dean of Students, Housefellows, or the students themselves, it should not go unnoticed or be quickly hidden in the past because of its unpreventable, though embarrassing nature. The blame for Mr. Kidwell's death can be placed on none, however, and it is our responsibility to prevent the recurrence of such an event. However, this tragedy should make every member of the College community stop and take an immediate and close look at the relationships we have with one another. It is shocking that a student, who is by no means anonymous, can lay dead in his room for six days before being found. No one is responsible for this. We, as students, must make a greater effort in looking after one another. We should take care to realize that no student should ever be forgotten. It is true that Eric Kidwell died and that his death went unnoticed for so long, but it is not too late to take not of the implications his death has for every one of us.

Ettelt Explains Resignation
When Mrs. McKenzie interviewed me for this position I had several job offers in my pocket. We paid more than this one. Indeed, by coming here I took a cut in salary of about 20 per cent.

I came here to work under a really competent librarian and help her build her fine professional staff. I am more interested in a student-centered undergraduate library.

Unfortunately, however, what is desired here is a faculty-centered, staffed, professional library. We must do favors for faculty, buy books, and all faculty will 'use, arrange things for faculty convenience. We must even forget the students are here, as it is far more important to have expert in librarianship than faculty, and run the library as the faculty desires.

Because Mrs. McKenzie tried to change this situation, she stirred the ire of some of the faculty. Eventually her dismissal was demanded in a petition signed by a majority of faculty and sent to the College President. President then appointed a committee to make an unbiased investigation of the administration of the library. As Chairman of the committee he appointed one of the signers of the petition. That same man is now Chairman of the student-faculty committee reviewing the work of the first committee.

As a professional my integrity will not allow me to work in a library in which the professionalism is treated as a clerical job and where the student is a second-class citizen. As a man, my integrity will not allow me to work in a college in which the President can appoint such a committee chairman and not be intimidated by protest.

I like myself. I think of myself as a member ("an upright man with a backbone you can't put your hand through"). It is important that I continue to feel that way about myself.

Library jobs are tight now and it is probable that I will be unemployed in the near future. This statement will not help my chances. But I would rather be unemployed than work at Connecticut College and remain silent. I have resigned effective June 30, 1974, in order to allow the college ample time to replace me.

HAROLD J. ETTETT REF-Docs Libr.

Class of '74 to elect Trustee
The following candidates have been nominated as candidates for the position of Trustee for the Class of 1974. The elections will be held this Thursday, April 18, 1974 and will be conducted by the dorm reps.

BLOODMOBILE returns
The Red Cross bloodmobile will be up and running in Cro on Monday, April 22 from 1 to 3:30 p.m. The mobile will again be offered to the dorm with the largest percentage of dorm visitors to donors. The facilities available will be increased, so that the long waiting period of last semester should be avoided. Please come!
New London briefs

By Nina George

Under the Denison Pequotsepos Nature Center “Rent-a-Duck” program, 200 mallard ducklings will be made available April 13 to those interested in giving them a temporary home. The cost is $2.50 per duck, and all ducks must be returned to the center where they are available Aprir13 to those interested.

Complaints ofichtet or damage to limbs from felled trees resulting in death, were reported in the state between March 11 and March 14. After six weeks the ducks are to be returned to the center where they are available.

“Three nuclear power plants here,” said Lawrence Altenburg, Lawrence Memorial Hospital. A law professor, Altenburg is a specialist in nuclear law.

A representative of the Boston architectural firm, after examining the renovation of the New London Savings Bank, outlined some of the proposals. He said the building’s exterior would be restored and a first-floor office space. A cultural and tourist exhibition with material from Mystic Seaport, the Lyman Allyn Museum and the Eugene O’Neill Memorial theatre would be set up in the basement. The total project was estimated at $750,000.

Proposed Calendar for 1974-75

| Fri. 7, Feb. 75, Change of Course Period ends. |
| Fri. 10, Feb. 75, Period for filing Pass-Fail option begins. |
| Fri. 17, Feb. 75, Period for filing Pass-Fail option ends. |
| Fri. 24, Feb. 75, Period for filing Pass-Fail option begins. |
| Fri. 1, Mar. 75, Spring recess begins 5:00 p.m. |
| Sun. 23, Mar. 75, Spring recess begins 11:30 a.m. |
| Mon. 1, Apr. 75, Last day for filing senior honors theses 4:00 p.m. |
| Fri. 1, May 75, Classes begin; 7:00 a.m. |
| Fri. 15, Aug. 75, Change of Period begins. |
| Fri. 1, Sep. 75, Change of Period begins. Sixtieth Opening Assembly, Palmer Autumn Dance. |
| Fri. 10, Sep. 75, Charge of Course Period begins. |

Energy Reporter Lectures

by Sue Maudens

Stephen J. Lawrence, an environmental energy reporter, visited Corn last Monday and Tuesday to lecture on various environmental issues. He visited the college to react to a visiting speakers program that is being planned for next year.

Wilson Senior Fellows Program, a specially endowed program to continue academic studies to almost sixty liberal arts colleges across the country. According to Bruce Hunter, chairman of the College’s Committee, the organization responsible for the program, the Wilson Program will increase student contact with and abroad.

Although not a Wilson Fellow himself, Com’t’s “first” speaker, Mr. Stephen Lawrence represented the possible type of speaker and lecturers coming to the campus. The most recent example of this program is the Environmental-energy reporter for the New York Post, spoke at the College’s Monday night dinner over an informal discussion at College House. In a Pundit interview, Mr. Lawrence explained to students the importance of environmental studies in guidelines for students.

The Connecticut Human Rights and Opportunities Commission is investigating complaints of racial discrimination in state contracts. Complaints of discrimination have arisen from 200 in 1963 to 2,000 in 1973. Commissioner Theodore Hogan believes these figures show race relations are deteriorating rather than improving.

The ferry service from New London to Orient Point, Long Island will begin May 1, with two ferries operating seven round trips daily. The cost will be $30 for a round-trip excursion on weekdays, $36 and $46 on Sundays and holidays.

Last week about three million gallons a day of untreated sewage were being emptied into the city sewage treatment plant. The plant’s sewage clarifiers have since been repaired. Other repairs under way will cost approximately $30,000.

Financial Aid Committee reviews policy Statements

PUNDIT APRIL 18, 1974 PAGE THREE

A financial aid director suggested that the committee’s time was best spent on other policy issues.

Fond of discussing the reasons behind the college’s financial aid policies, Mr. Lawrence added that the college’s financial aid policies are concerned with the students’ education to the extent that they are capable of living off aid. The student’s aid policies concern four areas:

1. Marriage: Students: All undergraduate students receiving financial aid from the College will not lose their eligibility for aid. The level of support is still dependent on the parents’ financial situation (the spouse’s income is also considered). The student must also provide for the financial obligations of marriage indissorption, if any.
2. Independence: Students: The rule here is similar to that of marriage. Any student who is self-supporting, to be independent of his parents (Continued on Page 12)

33 Named to Phi Beta Kappa

PHI BETA KAPPA

The Delta of Connecticut Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa is happy to announce the selection of its 16 seniors and 8 alumni to membership in the chapter.

Senior

Junior

Honorary

+Winthrop Scholars.

Alumni

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

Alumni

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.

+Winthrop Scholars.
Calendar of Parents’ Weekend activities

FRIDAY, APRIL 26
Organ Recital
Harwicke Chapel
3:30 p.m.

John F. Anthony, College Organist
Books of Parental Interest: J. S. Bach, Charles Ives, Louis Vierne

“The Melkite” by Don Johnson
Dance Studio, Crozier Williams
4:30 p.m.

Fred Griswold, Director
(performance repeated 9:30 p.m., Saturday)

Swim Show by “G” Synchro
Crozier Williams
8:30 p.m.

(performance repeated 9:00 p.m., Saturday)

Coo Bar Open
7:00 p.m.-1:00 a.m.

Saturday, April 27
Coffee House
Main Lobby, Crozier Williams
9:00 p.m.-12 midnight

Entertainment by:
Shuffle
Com Chords
Gamut
11:15 p.m.

SUNDAY, APRIL 28
Coffee and Registration
Dormitories
8:00-11:00 a.m.

Horse Show
Mountford Field in Salem and Sport Riding Ring, Williams Street
9:00 a.m.

College Bookshop Open
9:00-10:15 a.m.

College Chapel Open
1:00-3:00 p.m.

Sale of Prints by Students
Campus Arts Center
9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.

Guests are invited to visit
College buildings
9:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.

Recreational Activities
Crozier Williams

- Ice Cream*, pool, pool, pool, all day
- squash courts*, tennis courts*, all day
- bowling
10:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m.
- squash
3:00-5:30 p.m.

Faculty Symposium
10:00-11:00 a.m.

Topics:
The American Political Scene
Comparative Contemporary Political Systems
American Constitutionalism
Contemporary Movements in World Literature
The Arts of an Age
Trends in Contemporary Education
The Ecological Crisis and Human Survival
Language and Critical Analysis
Participants and classrooms to be listed in the Communications

President’s Assembly
Palmer Auditorium
11:15 a.m.

Bus leaves for Crew Races
Coo Bar
12 noon

Takes up at Crozier Williams by 10:30 a.m. if transportation needed

Lunch for Parents and Students
Dormitories
12:15 p.m.

Crew Races
Beal Basin
12:30 p.m.

Connecticut College Rowers in Worcester
Polytechnic Institute and University of Rhode Island

Connecticut College Meet in American International College and Clark University

Elizabethtown Fair
Quad Courts
1:00-5:00 p.m.

Outdoor entertainment in the Elizabethtown market
Singing crafts by students and faculty, authentic food and drink, games, snacks, coffee, food vending

Performances by the Indian Consort, Cambridge Grant Tanners, Recorder Consort of the Finchwood Morris Men (performance times to be listed in the Communications)

Thames Hall in case of rain

Coo Bar Open
2:00-5:30 p.m.

International Folk Dance Group
Gymnatorium, Crozier Williams
1:15 p.m.

Gymnastics Exhibition
Gymnatorium, Crozier Williams
2:15 p.m.

Presentation by the Dance Department
Gymnatorium
3:00 p.m.

Stance Ensemble
Palmer Auditorium
3:00 p.m.

Sheets
Dana Hall
3:30 p.m.

Jazz Rock Group
Palmer Auditorium
3:45 p.m.

Phi Beta Kappa honors Connecticut College alumnae

...Delta of Connecticut chapter of Phi Beta Kappa has recognized the achievements of six Connecticut College alumnae by electing them to membership in the national honorary fraternity. Graduates of the college are considered for the honor at five year intervals and are selected for their significant accomplishments in various career fields. Prof. Marion E. Dor, president of the Connecticut College PBK chapter, has announced that the following women will be initiated April 25 along with the 42 new members chosen from the Class of 1974. They are:

Barbara Henry, of Wellesley, Mass., associate professor of political science at Clark University. She earned her doctorate at the University of California, Berkeley, has conducted research in Malaysia on a Fulbright grant, received a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, and holds a Fulbright Foreign Lectureship at the University of Guyana. She has published two books and several articles on the politics of developing countries.

Barbara Negri Opper, of West Hartford, research economist for The Travelers Insurance Companies, Hartford, and former consultant for the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System. Mrs. Opper holds the B.A. in economics from University of Michigan and has published studies on consumer savings, housing, and mortgage.

Marcia Silverman Tucker of New York City, curator of the Whitney Museum of American Art. Mrs. Tucker earned a master’s degree at the Institute of Fine Arts of New York University and is the author of two books and numerous articles and essays published in major American art journals.

Dr. Cynthia E. Elee of Wellesley, Mass., associate professor of political science at Clark University. She earned her doctorate at Columbia University, has received four post-doctoral research grants, and was awarded a prize for the finest article published in American Quarterly in 1971.

Marcia Bernstein Siegel of Brooklyn, New York, critic and contributing editor for The Hudson Review. Mrs. Siegel is also a contributing editor of Arts and Society and an advisor in dance to the New York State Council on the Arts. Her book of critical essays and sketches, At the Vanishing Point, was published in 1972 by Saturday Review Press.

Dr. Carroll Smith-Rosenberg of Philadelphia, associate professor of history at University of Pennsylvania, has published works on mametanetics and astronomy.

The woman who has lived it all now writes about

Philosophy and Revolution

From Hegel to Sartre and from Marx to Mao

by Raya Dunayevskaya

A lifelong Marxist, writer, and former secretary to Leon Trotsky, Raya Dunayevskaya offers a philosophy of liberation—a theory of revolution grounded in practice and by which, in turn, practice can be guided.

“An extraordinary work...of great theoretical and political importance”

—Erich Fromm

A Delta Paperback $2.95

Available at your local bookstore

Securities

Numerous incidents of thefts, vandalism and “general mischief” have been reported, and immediately after the Spring break, according to Francis O’Grady, chief of campus security.

A few minor cases of student vandalism are presently pending before the judiciary Board.

Last week, a "foolish perpetrator," identity unknown, allegedly tampered with the sculpture “Winged Victory” placed between Hardness and Jane Addams dorms, and chipped off portions of the wings.

“Just don’t know why anyone would do such a thing,” commented O’Grady, “it’s so irresponsible.”

In Cummings, three thefts were reported during Spring Break. A number of “valuable tools” were stolen, along with purses and handbags. “I must warn all those who carry money and valuables around with them to keep them well hidden in a safe, secure place. Don’t leave them laying around in the open; that’s just a temptation for the thief,” Mr. O’Grady warned.

The mens’ locker has also been hard hit, with money and personal items taken directly from the lockers. In addition, broken doors and windows were reported at Bucks Lodge in the Arboretum; 3 glass doors in five dorms were also reported to have been "rendered inoperable."
Harlem Renaissance comes to Conn

Designed to promote a full understanding of black aesthetic contributions to the "roaring twenties," "Harlem Renaissance Weekend" is the theme of an interrelated series of events to be held and sponsored on campus this weekend.

"Harlem Renaissance" is intended to present a program of black music, film, literature and art pertinent to the period, while at the same time exploring the persistent cultural themes of the twenties in general. "These topics and themes will be presented in a creative, entertaining fashion," remarked Dean Alice Johnson, unofficial coordinator of the program. A wide range of "informative activities" are planned. Tonight, Nathan Huggins, a Columbia University historian and authority on black contributions to the decade will speak on the "Historical Perspective of Harlem Renaissance," which is intended to introduce the concept and themes to be presented in greater depth as the weekend progresses.

On Friday, "Harlem Heyday", musical featuring Voices Incorporated, will feature "the sound of ragtime, a precursor of jazz and ribald comedy routines that still make people laugh." Music and lyrics for this program were penned by many black figures who first became prominent in the twenties, including Duke Ellington, Sheldon Brooks and Eubie Blake.

Saturday's events are to include a lecture on "Implications for Contemporary Black Writers," by Gayl Jones, a recent Conn alumnas. In the afternoon, an Art Sculpture and Slide presentation of the nineteen-twenties will be given by Hale Woodruff, professor emeritus at NYU; after a short interval, poet Robert Hayden will read and comment on the poets of the Harlem Renaissance among others.

According to Dean Johnson, a "delicious" soul food dinner will be served in Harris refectory on Saturday night. Immediately afterward, a dance "Cotton Club Style" will be held in Cro, and participants are encouraged to "appear in original twenties style costume." The weekend will conclude with a worship service on Sunday.

A one thousand dollar gift from the Sikes Fund, plus smaller contributions from the College and the Junior Class made the Harlem Renaissance concept a "viable reality." Conn students will be admitted to all events without charge, but must pick up tickets for the musical at the Cro desk. "I must stress that this is not solely a black weekend. Rather, it is meant to be a recognition and analysis of one of America's most turbulent and creative decades," commented Dean Johnson. Further details can be found on the bulletin board in Cro; all proceeds will go to the general scholarship fund.
by Anita Guerrini

"Day for Night" is filmmakers' jargon for shooting a night scene by day with the use of a special filter over the camera lens. This is an apt symbol for the relatable-irreal world of filmmaking which is the subject of François Truffaut's latest movie, which recently won an Academy Award for Best Foreign Film.

The film begins with a film-within-a-film, "Meet Pamela," whose melodramatic plot (which he is writing as the film progresses) becomes pale in comparison to what is going on during its shooting. The insipid, oversexed leading man, Alphonse (played by Jean-Pierre Leaud, the in-sipid, oversexed Claude of "Two English Girls" but considerably less insipid), Alphonse is in bed with the beautiful actress Julie Baker (played by Valentina Cortese), who has just had a nervous breakdown and is married to her doctor. Meanwhile, there is the former screen idol Alexandre (played by Pierre Aumont) who once had a nervous breakdown and is married to her doctor. The director of the movie, entitled "Meet Pamela," whose melodramatic plot (which he is writing as the film progresses) becomes paler in comparison to what is going on during its shooting. The insipid, oversexed leading man, Alphonse (played by Jean-Pierre Leaud, the insipid, oversexed Claude of "Two English Girls") changes after a script girl who runs off with the star man (equal in oversexed, but considerably less insipid). This somehow or other lands him in bed with the beautiful actress Julie Baker (Jacqueline Bisset) who has just had a nervous breakdown and is married to her doctor. Meanwhile, there is the former screen idol Alexandre (played by the former screen idol Jean-Pierre Aumont) who once had an affair with the actress who is now playing his wife (Valentina Cortese). She is now continually drunk and cannot remember her lines; as she forgets the same lines again and again a scene which begins comically becomes tragic as she desperately tries to regain the ability she once had.

Truffaut chronicles this chaotic world with both love and irony. He leads us, tongue-in-cheek, behind the elaborate facade of special effects - special effects show, mechanical rain, a copy fire turned on and off at will by someone in the chimney who periodically pokes his head down to see if it's all right. The director contends with unstable actors, a nervous producer, a shaky budget, and the suspicious wife or the production manager who must always watch her husband to protect him from his own surroundings. The structure is utterly fascinating, and at times even a little frightening as we think of how the "reality" of the film itself - and any film - is being manipulated for us in the same way as it is in "Meet Pamela.

"Day for Night" is a funny, clever tribute to a business which inspires fantastic dedication from its workers despite, or perhaps because, of its exorbitant turbulence (as the director notes: "Shooting a film is like taking a stagecoach ride in the old West. First you hope to have a nice trip. Then you just hope to reach your destination.". This is perhaps most effectively shown by a recurrent dream which the director has through the course of the film: it shows him (Truffaut too?) as a young boy stealing stills of "Citizen Kane" from outside a theater.

Although quite different from his earlier films, "Day for Night" shows Truffaut at his best.
They tried so hard

by Judy Iloland

ana presence of mind rnaRoss, .the next guest 'host': IIlOnolonyby pasitimiJll ... Joe Saucer Assistant Professor of Practical Theology at Union Theological Seminary
who will speak in Chapel on Sunday.

The Academy Awards Presen-oceans of effete and vicious tastefulness so readily apparent

the marvelous humor and Therefore,

Christian duty to applaud all of
in

hilarious Spiro Agnew. His sophisticated aplomb of the relaxed atmosphere to

Raquel's legendary intelligence was presenting, only emphasized prevail throughout the evening.

Newport villas. Pretend thatit's plausibility is the narrator, Nick Surround them with magnificent compassionate go·between, and also that it's the 1920's. Sensitive, deep, Nick is the Gatsby (Robert Redford) meets speaks through Nick when he staggeringly nouveau-riche Jay the Buchanans. Fitzgerald has a torrid love affair with an thorough in researching the supremacist, rotten.rich husband Paramount has certainly been

and
in

yet sweet husband and dashes Yet when Myrtle rejects her dumb impeccably faithful to the period.

into a car driven by Daisy when seem to accentuate the husband mistakes the driver as and Datsy, lymg on a blanket on

The green light
winkS from Daisy'S house te Gatsby's across the watel

goya parties and wonderfu1Ydescnbes which .are

Character we meet in the movie,
the

The Academy Institution. We
to travel to and fro to receive welcome of the Harlem Renalll888:

Mr. Mr. from the

Rabbi Sally Priesand Assistant Rabbi, Stephen Wise Free Congregation, New York City, another
speaker at the Harlem Renaissance Gospel Service.

Gatsby slick

but lacking

by Sally Abrahms

Take Jay Gatsby and the Buchanans and settle them into Newport villas. Pretend that it’s West and East Egg Long Island, and also that it’s the 1920’s. Surround them with magnificent horse-powered buggies staggeringly nouveau-riche Jay Gatsby (a fast-talking rich boy) meets again the sweetness of his youthful past, Daisy Buchanan (Mia Farrow), and renew their relationship. Tom Buchanan (Bruce Dern), Daisy’s white superacist, rotten-rich husband has a love affair with an earty, poor garage owner’s wife, Myrtle (Karen Black).
Action and tragedy abound when Myrtle rejects her dumb but sweet husband and dashes into a car driven by Daisy when she tries to escape from him. Beside himself with grief, her husband mistakes the driver as

Perhaps the only character who seems to have any real duality in the narrator, Nick Carroway (Sam Waterston).
Sensitive, deep, Nick is the compassionate go-between, linking the lives of Gatsby and the Buchanans. Fitzgerald speaks through Nick when he says of Gatsby: “What foul dust flated in the wake of his dreams.” Perhaps this can be extended to embrace most of the characters we meet.

Paramount has certainly been thorough in the rearranging of Gatsby’s era—the tales of the fantastic, wild, white dresses, and suits, and coiffed hairdos are impeccably faithful to the period. Yet the close-up scenes of nature seem to accentuate the corrupted, empty lives of those whose lives they share. Gatsby and Daisy, lying on a blanket on the lush estate, champagne perched in hand, seem shockingly contrasted, like something out of Manet’s “Dejeuner Sur L’Herbe.”
Many of the love scenes between Gatsby and Daisy do seem highly staged and stilted. But more than this, it is the subtle nuances of personality that Fitzgerald so wonderfully describes which are lost in a cinematic rendition.
People will be either inarticulately weary or hopelessly in love with people they are not, or cannot, be married to.

Paramount has stuck too faithfully to the original text. Because due to their rigidity, they

The Rev. Bobby Joe Saucer Assistant Professor of Practical Theology at Union Theological Seminary
who will speak in Chapel on Sunday.

Two outstanding young professional speakers at separate services in Harkness Chapel this coming Sunday, April 21, will be Bobby Joe Saucer, Assistant Professor of Practical Theology at Union Theological Seminary,
and Jack Daniels, Professor of

The morning worship service beginning at 11:00 a.m. will be the form of a Gospel service and will be the culmination of the Harlem Renaissance weekend.
Participants in the service will include the William Chandler Singers of the Shiloh Baptist Church in New London, and the Connecticut College

Woman Rabbi and black Seminary

Professor to speak

Gospel Choir, both led by Mrs.
Elaine Johnson, a Connecticut
College special student.

In addition, Gospel singer Mrs.
Emma Gibson, a soloist and member of the Concord Baptist Church, Brooklyn, New York. Dr.
Gardner C. Taylor, pastor will be the guest soloist.

The guest preacher, the Rev.
Bobby Joe Saucer, is a native of Monroe Louisiana and a graduate of Monroe Louisiana University.
He prepared for the ministry at the Colgate Rochester Divinity School, Rochester, New York, and was ordained a Baptist minister in Rochester in 1969.

He has served as Assistant to the Director of the Peace Corps at Southern University, and Project Director for the Urban League in Rochester. Before joining the Union Theological Seminary, Mr. Saucer served as Director of the Black Field Education and Recruitment program of the Boston Theological Institute, and Minister of the Black Church of brands University.

Coffee and doughnuts are available in the vestibule of Harkness Chapel beginning at 10:30 a.m. Child care is available in the Children’s School immediately behind the Chapel on Williams Street.

Anyone interested in registering to vote contact Tom
Mitchell in Burdick
Richard
Lichtenstein in K B
CLASS OF 1975 - PRESIDENT

The role of the President of the Senior Class is twofold. First, the President must function politically as a member of the Executive Council of the Student Organization. There must be enough balance of the interests of the class, while setting an example for the underclass to follow. In addition to his role, the senior class president must assume another role: he must function in a social context in order to plan the activities associated with graduation, in cooperation with the other class officers.

Let me elaborate on these points. One of the major tasks of the senior class president is the search for a suitable speaker for graduation. As chairman of the committee which is attempting to find a speaker, I am already closely linked with this project. We have already encountered some problems. Since the college has just this past Monday issued a definite calendar, we could not seriously begin to contact possible speakers. I would like to strongly support the consideration of the three-year calendar proposal for review, in order to avoid future scheduling problems such as we have known this year. In making plans for graduation, we must also consider the class finances. The movies which our class have sponsored this year have been financially successful. I am presently making plans for more movies next year. We should also consider the possible financial gain from an all-campus wine-crafts fair, a major fund-raising event. I plan to re-plan this artistic and artistic perception. It is my intention to expend my energies as an organizer since it is my opinion that any group which is organized, rather than one that meanders from project to project, can accomplish any goals, whatever they may be. From organization I anticipate that we will be able to develop a greater sense of unity and class pride, a sense of individuality which we have thus far dispensed.

My ideas include a sufficient number of fund-raising projects to provide funds for senior activities. Some of these ideas include movies that previously have not been shown on campus, a car wash, the possibility of an auction, and my chief money-making venture, a carnival to be held in the fall. With this money, the class will be able to replenish its depleted treasury so that we can pay for our obligations and enjoy class social functions. As president, I would endeavor to have all interested people included in every project rather than to allow a few individuals to act on behalf of all of us.

Senior activities are for each and every one of us to participate in; your vote will help decide the activities for our final year. I hope I will be given the opportunity to work with you as president to translate my plans and your ideas into reality. I know we have the potential to make our mark as a strong senior class.

Charles Curkin, President, class of 1975

asset in acquainting the new President with some of Connecticut's long standing traditions, especially with respect to the Senior Class. I would welcome this opportunity to work with Mr. Armstrong.

I would like to mention two additional items which are currently being discussed on campus. The first is the possibility of a new student group of faculty members who are more than 40 percent of last year's graduating class graduated with Latin Honors. The same faculty members are proposed to raise the standards of President Armstrong. This group is indicative of a lack of faith in the existing educational system. I do support this group. However, the requirements for the Connecticut College degree have become less stringent, and the stiffening of the requirements for Latin Honors would imply. Rather, with the recent academic year, there are responsibilities for Latin Honors that were previously held. This is placed upon the student the determination of his program, instead of by dictated course requirements. The student in now a curriculum suited to his interests, in which he can perform well. Isn't this a more feasible solution for the larger number of people graduating with Latin Honors in recent years? After all, doesn't Radcliffe College graduate approximately 85 percent of her graduates receiving Latin Honors.

The students here also have been given a greater role in the determination of their own social lives. We are no longer bound by the strict code of behavior that used to be a tradition here. You have now the freedom to choose your own life style and discipline. The presence of a bar on campus highlights the development that has occurred between the administration and the student body with respect to their philosophies towards a more responsible social atmosphere. This forces the student to use a more mature sense of judgement that will be with him long after he leaves Connecticut College.

CLASS OF 1977 - JB

I wish to be elected to the Judiciary Board because I realize its importance. For students living together in a community, high effectiveness and seriousness of the board must be maintained. The Judiciary Board must establish itself as the means of upholding and preserving the honor system of Conn. College.

The students must be made aware of this importance. During orientation week, the freshmen should be made conscious of the functions of the Judiciary Board. Pamphlets should be handed out illustrating its purpose and meetings open to all those wishing to attend must be encouraged in order to establish a closeness between the Board and the student body.

William Fisher, J.B., class of 1977

CLASS OF 1977 - JB

The Judiciary Board serves importantly as a board where students are judged by peers. The Board has grown tremendously during the past three years that I have been on it. It has expanded so as to now review social, as well as academic infractions. The Board has tried to educate students about cheating and plagiarism, to offer suggestions to improve morale on campus, and to encourage house councils and dormitories to handle their own problems, in an effort to prevent infractions from becoming cases. I will work with the Board to continue these projects. I have always dealt fairly with all students brought before the Board. The Judiciary Board needs continuity.

Carol M. Gordon

I note that self-scheduled final exams are evidence of the existence of the Judiciary Board. If you consider these exams important, then you must realize the significance of the Board. This Board must function well if self-scheduled exams are to continue on campus.

What can possibly be done to minimize the violations of the Honor Code? A partial solution might be in publicizing the decisions reached by the Judiciary Board in the Pundit. This would increase student awareness concerning the entire process of the Board. Besides, don't we the students have a right to be informed? These violations are being made which affect our basic rights and privileges?

Are cases of vandalism being handled properly? Rather than "cracking the whip" on students, the Judiciary Board must work with the student government to find the causes of vandalism.
CLASS OF 1976 & 1977 - PRESIDENT

CLASS OF 1976 - JB

David Korobkin, President, class of 1976

My name is David Korobkin and I am running for president of the class of 1976. I wish to run for this office in order to rectify the flaws in the faculty-student committee system which shield the administration from accepting its responsibilities. Usually these organizations seem to be little more than cronies for the administration. In fact, in most instances these committees hamper the efforts of "concerned" students by adding to the bureaucratic red tape which can make it all but impossible to initiate any action. Also, as most students realize, the members of the various committees often do not adequately represent the student body; this can clearly be seen in the lack of enthusiasm for the elections. It is therefore in the best interest of the student body to rethink the roles of the various committees. That is, while these committees give students the potential to have some say in the running of the school, in reality they only obscure the dominant role that the administration plays. For this reason I think it will be wise to sincerely reevaluate the merits of the various committees.

CLASS OF 1977 - JB

Kenneth Kabel, J.B., class of 1976

Kenneth Kabel, J.B., class of 1976.

I am running for president of the class of 1976.

My name is David Korobkin and I am running for president of the class of 1976. I wish to run for this office in order to rectify the flaws in the faculty-student committee system which shield the administration from accepting its responsibilities. Usually these organizations seem to be little more than cronies for the administration. In fact, in most instances these committees hamper the efforts of "concerned" students by adding to the bureaucratic red tape which can make it all but impossible to initiate any action. Also, as most students realize, the members of the various committees often do not adequately represent the student body; this can clearly be seen in the lack of enthusiasm for the elections. It is therefore in the best interest of the student body to rethink the roles of the various committees. That is, while these committees give students the potential to have some say in the running of the school, in reality they only obscure the dominant role that the administration plays. For this reason I think it will be wise to sincerely reevaluate the merits of the various committees.

CLASS OF 1977 - JB

The students at Connecticut College have maintained high standards of academic and social responsibility. In order to continue this responsibility, an effective Judiciary Board is a necessity. For this reason, I would like to become a member of the Judiciary Board. The increase in vandalism is one of the problems with which I am concerned. During the present academic year, the unnecessary destruction of college property has put a strain not only on the college budget, but also on the feeling of security and well-being of the students here. As a community, we must work toward a better utilization of the self-government which exists here.

This self-government relies not only on one's sense of responsibility toward property, but also on one's obligation to maintain the tenets of the academic honor code. Although the violations of this code may be few, they were substantial enough last semester that there was consideration of abolishing self-scheduled examinations—a measure that would limit academic freedom. As a member of the Judiciary Board, I will seek to reaffirm the high academic responsibilities incumbent upon each student here.

The Judiciary Board is an important and necessary body at Connecticut College, and it is imperative that it be effective as a tool of the community. If elected, I will work toward this end.

CLASS OF 1977 - JB

Lynda Battier, J.B., class of 1976

Traditionally, the judiciary board has functioned as a punitive body, hearing and then eiclding cases of social or academic indictment against students of the community. Its reputation has been of a court cloaked in secrecy; one seldom is aware of the actual facts involved. Punishments do not always fit the infractions; they are often overly severe as a response to administrative urgency for harsher standards. Vague rumors float about of vandalism and cheating; the two most obvious infractions.

As a result of this secretive and slightly sinister image, the judiciary board is not held in high regard by the students of Connecticut College. It is not necessary for this to be the case. The C Book gives the judiciary board a wide berth for jurisdictional assertion; it is empowered to uphold the social and academic honor of the college. The possibilities here are awesome and should not be taken lightly or irresponsibly. The judiciary board should not become stagnant in its policy. It can and should assert itself as much more active body, concerned with both the inward and outward demeanor of the college community. There is no reason why the C Book could not assert itself as a force which represents student interests in social and academic policy-making on campus. If a student or students feels that some decision made by the students, faculty, and/or administration violates the academic or social honor of the school, it should be possible for him or her to have ready access to the judiciary board for a hearing of complaint. The J.B., upon consideration, might offer its opinion as to the propriety of the decision in light of established college policy. Now, this might be scoffed at as being too easily ignored. But the responsibility of the J.B. to assert itself as an active and concerned representative body of student interests on campus.

The judiciary board must realize that it is answerable most immediately, and most importantly, to the students. It must not create between itself and the students any credibility gap. Student governments are now too easily guilty of this; the judiciary board must resurrect the ever-present importance of student opinion. Jointly, the student governments must finally abandon their luxurious seats of apathy. As smug as one feels laughing in the face of an issue, large or small, it is ultimately the case that this smugness serves only to slight the students involved. If the judiciary board is to be recognized and respected as a proper representative of student interests, it must be willing to assert itself in defense of their concerns. The administration and faculty, the first to realize that students are rightly their own representatives. It is up to the students, who must realize that our own happiness at Connecticut College is contingent on our active efforts to strive toward.

Lynda Battier 76

Ken Crezar, Platform for Sophomore Class President 77

The coming year at Connecticut College will be a decisive one for all members of the college community in determining the future of the school.

At Connecticut College, the lack of class identity has a positive effect toward creating a cohesive community. To facilitate this, the advantage that the four classes work together in making decisions is well known. See Sophomore Class President as a member of a unified body, making decisions for the entire community, not merely for a particular element of the community.

I see a definite need for a general restructuring of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Classes. This restructuring would be similar to the revised Freshman Class Structure: a Freshman Representative Assembly, as proposed by the Commission on Freshman Year Governmental Alternatives, chaired by myself. There must be a greater degree of communication between all elements in the college community but especially between students and their own leaders. Restructuring can produce this effect.

Vandalism and a general disrespect for college property is not being dealt effectively with by the college administration. Connecticut College is now a co-ed institution and a large number of vandalism has proven that there is a need for more social and intellectual activities on campus. The Connecticut College administration must assume financial responsibility. There is indeed a financial crunch on this campus, but 75,000 dollars is being wasted on vandalism. If part of this wasted money was given to the Student Organization Fund, earmarked for increased activities, I feel that vandalism of money would clearly decrease and the overall effect would be profitable for the school.

With the new college administration, there hopefully will be a new spirit on campus, which will bring a concerned community together to deal with the problems facing it. This election is important and I feel this coming year is important to the future of Connecticut College.

Ann Rumage, J.B., class of 1977

In a small community like Connecticut College, one cannot choose a political candidate on the basis of platform statements of qualifications and proposed accomplishments. The voters, red school and the increase cases worth as a trustworthy person, one capable of handling a responsible activity among students, faculty, administration and staff. Unfortunately, the only way to determine the candidate in this manner is to elect him and then decide, or look at what he has accomplished in the past.
President

Robert Hoffman '76
As a candidate for the office of the President of the Class of 1976, I do not plan to publish a specific platform upon which I am running. I have reached this conclusion after recognizing the fact that I do not truly know the general goals and objectives of the members of the Class of 1976. However, as President of the Class of 1976, I plan to learn of these goals and objectives immediately. I will do this by speaking to class representatives and issuing a questionnaire to the members of the class. Thus, my platform will be, in all reality, the platform of the members of the Class of 1976.

Wm. Fisher - con't.

rather than concerning itself solely with punishment. The Board must be preventative as well as punitive.

Motives for vandalism might lie in the fact that students are simply bored and their apathy. As a community, we must try to make ourselves a more constructive and relevant forms of censure. One method I would like to see tried in the future is an assignment of work pertinent to the offense; however, I am equally receptive to other possible means of ensuring a constructive rather than an arbitrary punitive system.

The Student Government system here at Co is, for the most part, excellent. Yet, as we have seen by the minimal turnout of candidates for this election, it is dangerously falling prey to apathy. As a community, we cannot and must not allow this to happen. I ask for your support with the confidence that, if elected, I will not only be a thoughtful member of the Judiciary Board, but also a catalyst toward revitalizing Student Government.

Chinese Dept. Sponsorship

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 12
The American Association of University Women, New London branch, has made an $800 scholarship grant to Connecticut College to be used next year to provide tuition assistance to women students who are residents of Southeastern Connecticut.

The money represents a portion of the funds raised by the local AAUW group through its sponsorship of February of Swiss Family Robinson, a production for children staged at Palmer Auditorium of Connecticut College.

The gift was presented this week to Mrs. Marcia Pond, college student financial aid officer, by Mrs. Ann Demouy of Old Lyme and Mrs. Cindy Larson of Waterford., chairman of the scholarship benefit.

Mrs. Pond stated that the scholarships will be divided between fully matriculated undergraduates and those studying part-time for bachelor's degrees under the Return to College (RTC) program.

Wednesday's slide lecture, which is open to the public without charge, will focus on Mayan classic and post-classic sites as well as medical anthropology with emphasis on Mexico below is to miss a unique opportunity to engage in these activities. Northern New will focus on the Yucatan (Mexico, British of post-classic sites as well as medical anthropology with emphasis on Mexico below is to miss a unique opportunity to engage in these activities. Northern New will focus on the Yucatan (Mexico, British

Spectrum India

Old Mystic Village
Mystic, Conn.
F.26-3102

L. Bancala - con't.

Equitable fashion, regardless of the time or energy involved.

At present, I disagree with the social punitive scale implemented by the Board and am interested in reforming and finding alternatives to the three disciplinary letters that may be sent to report a social fracas to mere constructive and relevant forms of censure. One such possibility would be the assignment of work pertinent to the offense; however, I am equally receptive to other possible means of ensuring a constructive rather than an arbitrary punitive system.

The Student Government system here at Co is, for the most part, excellent. Yet, as we have seen by the minimal turnout of candidates for this election, it is dangerously falling prey to apathy. As a community, we cannot and must not allow this to happen. I ask for your support with the confidence that, if elected, I will not only be a thoughtful member of the Judiciary Board, but also a catalyst toward revitalizing Student Government.

Chinese Dept. Sponsorship

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 12
The American Association of University Women, New London branch, has made an $800 scholarship grant to Connecticut College to be used next year to provide tuition assistance to women students who are residents of Southeastern Connecticut.

The money represents a portion of the funds raised by the local AAUW group through its sponsorship of February of Swiss Family Robinson, a production for children staged at Palmer Auditorium of Connecticut College.

The gift was presented this week to Mrs. Marcia Pond, college student financial aid officer, by Mrs. Ann Demouy of Old Lyme and Mrs. Cindy Larson of Waterford., chairman of the scholarship benefit.

Mrs. Pond stated that the scholarships will be divided between fully matriculated undergraduates and those studying part-time for bachelor's degrees under the Return to College (RTC) program.

Wednesday's slide lecture, which is open to the public without charge, will focus on Mayan classic and post-classic sites as well as medical anthropology with emphasis on Mexico below is to miss a unique opportunity to engage in these activities. Northern New will focus on the Yucatan (Mexico, British

Spectrum India

Old Mystic Village
Mystic, Conn.
F.26-3102

L. Bancala - con't.

Equitable fashion, regardless of the time or energy involved.

At present, I disagree with the social punitive scale implemented by the Board and am interested in reforming and finding alternatives to the three disciplinary letters that may be sent to report a social fracas to mere constructive and relevant forms of censure. One such possibility would be the assignment of work pertinent to the offense; however, I am equally receptive to other possible means of ensuring a constructive rather than an arbitrary punitive system.

The Student Government system here at Co is, for the most part, excellent. Yet, as we have seen by the minimal turnout of candidates for this election, it is dangerously falling prey to apathy. As a community, we cannot and must not allow this to happen. I ask for your support with the confidence that, if elected, I will not only be a thoughtful member of the Judiciary Board, but also a catalyst toward revitalizing Student Government.

Chinese Dept. Sponsorship

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 12
The American Association of University Women, New London branch, has made an $800 scholarship grant to Connecticut College to be used next year to provide tuition assistance to women students who are residents of Southeastern Connecticut.

The money represents a portion of the funds raised by the local AAUW group through its sponsorship of February of Swiss Family Robinson, a production for children staged at Palmer Auditorium of Connecticut College.

The gift was presented this week to Mrs. Marcia Pond, college student financial aid officer, by Mrs. Ann Demouy of Old Lyme and Mrs. Cindy Larson of Waterford., chairman of the scholarship benefit.

Mrs. Pond stated that the scholarships will be divided between fully matriculated undergraduates and those studying part-time for bachelor's degrees under the Return to College (RTC) program.

Wednesday's slide lecture, which is open to the public without charge, will focus on Mayan classic and post-classic sites as well as medical anthropology with emphasis on Mexico below is to miss a unique opportunity to engage in these activities. Northern New will focus on the Yucatan (Mexico, British

Spectrum India

Old Mystic Village
Mystic, Conn.
F.26-3102

L. Bancala - con't.

Equitable fashion, regardless of the time or energy involved.

At present, I disagree with the social punitive scale implemented by the Board and am interested in reforming and finding alternatives to the three disciplinary letters that may be sent to report a social fracas to mere constructive and relevant forms of censure. One such possibility would be the assignment of work pertinent to the offense; however, I am equally receptive to other possible means of ensuring a constructive rather than an arbitrary punitive system.

The Student Government system here at Co is, for the most part, excellent. Yet, as we have seen by the minimal turnout of candidates for this election, it is dangerously falling prey to apathy. As a community, we cannot and must not allow this to happen. I ask for your support with the confidence that, if elected, I will not only be a thoughtful member of the Judiciary Board, but also a catalyst toward revitalizing Student Government.

Chinese Dept. Sponsorship

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 12
The American Association of University Women, New London branch, has made an $800 scholarship grant to Connecticut College to be used next year to provide tuition assistance to women students who are residents of Southeastern Connecticut.

The money represents a portion of the funds raised by the local AAUW group through its sponsorship of February of Swiss Family Robinson, a production for children staged at Palmer Auditorium of Connecticut College.

The gift was presented this week to Mrs. Marcia Pond, college student financial aid officer, by Mrs. Ann Demouy of Old Lyme and Mrs. Cindy Larson of Waterford., chairman of the scholarship benefit.

Mrs. Pond stated that the scholarships will be divided between fully matriculated undergraduates and those studying part-time for bachelor's degrees under the Return to College (RTC) program.

Wednesday's slide lecture, which is open to the public without charge, will focus on Mayan classic and post-classic sites as well as medical anthropology with emphasis on Mexico below is to miss a unique opportunity to engage in these activities. Northern New will focus on the Yucatan (Mexico, British

Spectrum India

Old Mystic Village
Mystic, Conn.
F.26-3102

L. Bancala - con't.

Equitable fashion, regardless of the time or energy involved.

At present, I disagree with the social punitive scale implemented by the Board and am interested in reforming and finding alternatives to the three disciplinary letters that may be sent to report a social fracas to mere constructive and relevant forms of censure. One such possibility would be the assignment of work pertinent to the offense; however, I am equally receptive to other possible means of ensuring a constructive rather than an arbitrary punitive system.

The Student Government system here at Co is, for the most part, excellent. Yet, as we have seen by the minimal turnout of candidates for this election, it is dangerously falling prey to apathy. As a community, we cannot and must not allow this to happen. I ask for your support with the confidence that, if elected, I will not only be a thoughtful member of the Judiciary Board, but also a catalyst toward revitalizing Student Government.

Chinese Dept. Sponsorship

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 12
The American Association of University Women, New London branch, has made an $800 scholarship grant to Connecticut College to be used next year to provide tuition assistance to women students who are residents of Southeastern Connecticut.

The money represents a portion of the funds raised by the local AAUW group through its sponsorship of February of Swiss Family Robinson, a production for children staged at Palmer Auditorium of Connecticut College.

The gift was presented this week to Mrs. Marcia Pond, college student financial aid officer, by Mrs. Ann Demouy of Old Lyme and Mrs. Cindy Larson of Waterford., chairman of the scholarship benefit.

Mrs. Pond stated that the scholarships will be divided between fully matriculated undergraduates and those studying part-time for bachelor's degrees under the Return to College (RTC) program.

Wednesday's slide lecture, which is open to the public without charge, will focus on Mayan classic and post-classic sites as well as medical anthropology with emphasis on Mexico below is to miss a unique opportunity to engage in these activities. Northern New will focus on the Yucatan (Mexico, British

Spectrum India

Old Mystic Village
Mystic, Conn.
F.26-3102

L. Bancala - con't.

Equitable fashion, regardless of the time or energy involved.

At present, I disagree with the social punitive scale implemented by the Board and am interested in reforming and finding alternatives to the three disciplinary letters that may be sent to report a social fracas to mere constructive and relevant forms of censure. One such possibility would be the assignment of work pertinent to the offense; however, I am equally receptive to other possible means of ensuring a constructive rather than an arbitrary punitive system.

The Student Government system here at Co is, for the most part, excellent. Yet, as we have seen by the minimal turnout of candidates for this election, it is dangerously falling prey to apathy. As a community, we cannot and must not allow this to happen. I ask for your support with the confidence that, if elected, I will not only be a thoughtful member of the Judiciary Board, but also a catalyst toward revitalizing Student Government.
ConnPIRG promotes relevance

Several members of the faculty whom questioned in a recent interview offered their opinions on the educational value of Conn PIRG to students. Assistant Professor of Economics Gerald Gisligio
comments that "if the approach to educational policy incorporation the inclusion of social and corporate costs is a proper economic model, then it is important and would be valuable to any econometrics student.
Chairperson of the Student Development Department Professor Eivelyn Washal feels that the research involved in ConnPIRG is designed to meet problems within the local community
by the problems of society rather than to pay.
Designed to meet problems in
local and statewide situations,
ConnPIRG as providing excellent
practical experience for
government oriented projects.

ConnPIRG challenges Big Brother

By William Bligham

Because of the growing awareness of students of the problems which face us as members of this society, it is easy to understand the need for a Public Interest Research Group
(PORG) on the Conn College campus. In an age when the students are no longer shielded from the harsh realities of the world, a "Big Brother" watching over everyone, it is readily seen that the problems we "be" are growing more and more unfair methods and customs to keep the "little guy down." ConnPIRG sought to address this need. The Public Interest Research Groups in Connecticut and throughout the country work to solve this goal in many ways, and the paths and directions which ConnPIRG has taken are endless.

Certainly, consumer problems of today that ConnPIRG is presently evaluating small claims courts and making infomation for convenience of the consumer. ConnPIRG is also working on comparative price

interest rates, public utilities prices and the problem of disposable

Already across the country
PIRGs have established the following projects:

OREGON-OPRIG staff and students have drawn up the Clear Air Implementation Plan which was accepted by the Portland
City Council. In addition, students at Southern Oregon College are working on legal credit for research into reforestation problem in the Pacific NW.

MINNESOTA- MinnPIRG initiated legal actions for research into the need for

in 1979 Public Interest Research Groups were founded in Minnesota and Oregon by groups of students and Ralph Nader as an innovative type of student effort that would be a rational attempt to use the resources and knowledge that students have at their disposal.

The St.lence of the PI RGs

Several of the faculty who questioned in a recent interview offered their opinions on
the educational value of Conn
PIRG to students. Assistant
Professor of Economics Gerald Gisligio
comments that "if the approach to educational policy
inclusion of social corporate costs is a proper model, then it is important and would be valuable to
any econometrics student.
Chairperson of the Student Development
Department Professor Eivelyn Washal
feels that the research involved in ConnPIRG is designed to meet
problems in the local community
by the problems of society rather than to pay.
Designed to meet problems in
local and statewide situations,
ConnPIRG provides excellent
practical experience for
government oriented projects.

ConnPIRG promotes relevance

Several members of the faculty
who questioned in a recent interview offered their opinions on
the educational value of Conn
PIRG to students. Assistant
Professor of Economics Gerald Gisligio
comments that "if the approach to educational policy
inclusion of social
corporate costs is a proper
economic model, then it is important
and would be valuable to
any econometrics student.
Chairperson of the Student Development
Department Professor Eivelyn Washal
feels that the research involved in ConnPIRG is designed to meet
problems in the local community
by the problems of society rather than to pay.
Designed to meet problems in
local and statewide situations,
ConnPIRG provides excellent
practical experience for
government oriented projects.

ConnPIRG promotes relevance

Several members of the faculty
who questioned in a recent interview offered their opinions on
the educational value of Conn
PIRG to students. Assistant
Professor of Economics Gerald Gisligio
comments that "if the approach to educational policy
inclusion of social
corporate costs is a proper
economic model, then it is important
and would be valuable to
any econometrics student.
Chairperson of the Student Development
Department Professor Eivelyn Washal
feels that the research involved in ConnPIRG is designed to meet
problems in the local community
by the problems of society rather than to pay.
Designed to meet problems in
local and statewide situations,
ConnPIRG provides excellent
practical experience for
government oriented projects.

ConnPIRG promotes relevance

Several members of the faculty
who questioned in a recent interview offered their opinions on
the educational value of Conn
PIRG to students. Assistant
Professor of Economics Gerald Gisligio
comments that "if the approach to educational policy
inclusion of social
corporate costs is a proper
economic model, then it is important
and would be valuable to
any econometrics student.
Chairperson of the Student Development
Department Professor Eivelyn Washal
feels that the research involved in ConnPIRG is designed to meet
problems in the local community
by the problems of society rather than to pay.
Designed to meet problems in
local and statewide situations,
ConnPIRG provides excellent
practical experience for
government oriented projects.

ConnPIRG promotes relevance

Several members of the faculty
who questioned in a recent interview offered their opinions on
the educational value of Conn
PIRG to students. Assistant
Professor of Economics Gerald Gisligio
comments that "if the approach to educational policy
inclusion of social
corporate costs is a proper
economic model, then it is important
and would be valuable to
any econometrics student.
Chairperson of the Student Development
Department Professor Eivelyn Washal
feels that the research involved in ConnPIRG is designed to meet
problems in the local community
by the problems of society rather than to pay.
Designed to meet problems in
local and statewide situations,
ConnPIRG provides excellent
practical experience for
government oriented projects.
girls!
put this in your purse before they get in your hair!

The earth-shattering noise from this purse-fitting horn gives you the protection you've been looking for against muggers and rapists. Just snap two pennight batteries into this amazing new Vigilant Alarm and you're ready to worry required. Complete package includes ear plugs and instructions showing how the Alarm can also be easily installed on windows or doors. GET VIGILANT BEFORE THEY GET YOU.

[Advertisement]

Scholarships
(Continued from Page 3)

must assume the responsibility of repaying the expected parental contribution." With the eighteen-year-old age of majority, this rule has been subjected to some controversy. Mr. Pond responded that if independence were recognized, "who would suffer?"
Probably students in the lowest income bracket.

—Study at Other Institutions:
Frequently the rule here is that students who are on leave of absences for study at other schools must raise its own financial aid during that period of leave. There are two exceptions:
dance majors who attend the summer dance program, and theater majors who attend the Eugene O'Neill Theater. However, unlike schools with larger endowments, Conn students on scholarship cannot participate in the Twelve-College Exchange. According to Ms.
Pond, this rule is due to two reasons: the extent of the college's endowment, and the uncertainty of filling the vacancy. It is much more expensive for a student to attend a term at another college than here at Conn. If scholarship students are allowed to do so, there is no guarantee that vacancy would be filled by a full-paying student,
which is the only way the exchange would be financially feasible to the college. The school does not have sufficient funds to cover the loss that would result if the student filling the vacancy were also on financial aid. In fact, it should be mentioned that Conn also uses bond funds in addition to gifts and endowments
in health insurance practices.

MassPIRG is currently fighting
the proposed rate hikes by the Public Utility Commission which has no public support.

Lobby Power
(Continued from Page 11)

Then, Connecticut College
students resources of ConnPIRG.
Full access to staff and resources would not suffer because of Connecticut College's physical distance from the main office in Hartford.

The benefits that would derive from your $2 a year investment are many. Aside from hiring a full-time staff to represent your Student interests, becoming a PIRG member provides ample opportunity to engage in research, whether it be academic or part of a state-wide project proposed by ConnPIRG.

ConnPIRG feels strongly that the potential for change and progress is great. In the coming weeks petitioners will be asking your support for ConnPIRG.
ConnPIRG would be your organization, completely student funded, student organized, student directed.

neec money and aren't receiving aid would be offended if they knew of a scholarship student who owned a car. Previously in Pundit, I have argued strongly that owning a car does not necessarily disqualify one from receiving financial aid. Since most scholarship students could not afford a car anyway, it's doubtful whether the student body would express resentment to the few, probably receiving very limited aid, who could.

A NATIONAL BESTSELLER AT $12.95
Now only $4.95

The Joy of Sex
(Continued from Page 1)

through the economics of paperback publishing, The Joy of Sex is now available in the same large format as the $12.95 hardbound edition. complete and unabridged, with all the original full-color illustrations—at only $4.95!

SIMON AND SCHUSTER
FIREDIDE PAPERBACK
According to Bayer's little blue book, the makers of Bayer don't make any sense.

Lately, Bayer Aspirin's advertising has featured a blue book that contains some of the findings of a recent American Medical Association drug evaluation.

Bayer's blue book reports there is "no sound basis" for taking combination pain relievers or buffered preparations instead of plain aspirin.

The obvious implication here is that remedies like Cope (a combination of aspirin, caffeine, a buffer, and an antihistamine) and Vanquish (a combination of pain relievers) don't make sense.

Why then, you might ask, do the makers of Bayer also make Cope and Vanquish. If you'd like to know, write the president of Sterling Drug. You'll find his address in your medicine chest.

Hundreds of American students placed in recognized overseas medical schools through Euromed!

For the session starting July, 1974, Euromed will assist qualified American students in gaining admission to recognized overseas medical schools. And that's just the beginning. Since the language barrier constitutes the predominant difficulty in succeeding at a foreign school, the Euromed program also includes an intensive 12-16 week medical and conversational language course, mandatory for all students. Five hours daily, 5 days per week (12-16 weeks) the course is given in the country where the student will attend medical school.

In addition, Euromed provides students with a 12-16 week intensive cultural orientation program, with American students now studying medicine in that particular country serving as counselors.

Senior or graduate students currently enrolled in an American university are eligible to participate in the Euromed program.

For application and further information, phone toll free: (800) 645-1234. In New York State phone: (516) 746-2380.

Mail to: BEHIND THE CUE BALL
Post Office Box 10308
Dallas, Texas 75207

□ Please send me ___ copies of BEHIND THE CUE BALL at $24.95 each. I enclose check or money order.

□ Please send me ___ copies of BEHIND THE CUE BALL at $24.95 each. I am interested in being a distributor in the ___ area.

Please indicate the city, town, county or state. A representative of BEHIND THE CUE BALL will contact you within 15 days after we receive your order to explain how you as a distributor can increase your income and have fun while doing it, with no investment except for the course you purchase for yourself.

Behind the Cue Ball

If you like pool you will love this course. It will work miracles for you. It is designed to teach you how to become an expert at this fascinating game. It will improve your game 200% or more. This course is designed for the beginner and the experienced players. It's designed for those of you who has a pool table and those who don't. The course is in eight (8) sessions all with illustrations and easy to follow instructions. The eight (8) sessions are selecting your cue, proper stance, stroke, straight lines, angles, rail shots, bank shots, how to use English, drawing a ball, how to break, patience, sportsmanship and much much more... To my knowledge there has never been a complete course offered in this ever growing fascinating game called pool. The complete course in yours for only $24.95.
Classified Ads

FOR SALE: 4 string Appalachian Dulcimer made in Arkansas. Very good condition $55.00. Contact Larry Albee, Marshall-Box no.2.

WANTED: Housing for this summer and possibly next school year. Must be within a couple miles of campus. Contact Larry Albee, Marshall-Box no.2.

FOR SALE: 9' x 14' Flacardi Rug (natural long hair-lamb). Originally $450; now slightly used $150. Contact Eric Wasserman, Box 1818 or 443-5039.

STOOGES
&
ELVIS

Hey Girls. It’s Elvis the Pelvis in ‘Viva Las Vegas’ and the extra special treat: The Three STOOGES AT THE JA CULTURAL FESTIVAL Saturday, April 20th 9 and 12 o’clock still only 50 cents BY-O-B.

Liberal Arts Majors can groove on the music and drama and Science Majors on the Stooges.

Southern New England Telephone
When we hired these researchers, we invited them to raise more questions than they answered.

Making your mark in business used to mean carving a comfortable niche for yourself and staying there. Promotion was simply a matter of time, provided you could spend 20 years in the process. But, today, business depends on technology. Technology that can't wait a moment if it's going to keep pace with what's happening.

That's why, at Kodak, our basic reliance on scientific research makes the need for creative young minds more demanding than ever. We must have people with drive and ambition, impatient to put what they've learned into practice. People who get all the freedom and responsibility they can handle, and tackle our problems with their ideas.

Which, we're happy to say, has helped many of our scientists yield important discoveries. For example:

The woman on the left has devised new and improved photographic materials for specialized scientific applications in fields such as astronomy and holography. The young man is an expert on surface analysis. His work in photoelectron spectroscopy helps to identify unknown substances. The woman on the right has a dual background in gas chromatography and trace metal analysis, which she's applied to analyzing pollution in rivers and streams.

They came up with new problems while solving some of our old ones. But they've uncovered some promising answers, too. As they continue their research, you may read about them again. The oldest is just over 30.

Why do we give young men and women so much room to test their ideas? Because good ideas often lead to better products. Which are good for business. And we're in business to make a profit. But in furthering our own business interests, we also further society's interests. Which makes good sense.

After all, our business depends on society. So we care what happens to it.

Kodak
More than a business.
Sports

Tennis vs. versus Yale, Mitchell

Scores were as follows: Lisa Rosenblum (Y) over Wendy Mack (C) 6-1, 4-6, 4-6, Margaret Mercer (Y) over Bambi Fickinger (C) 6-4, 7-6, 6-2; Linden Mowry (Y) over Sarah Berchinal (C) 6-1, 6-4, 6-3; Margie Yates (Y) over Karen Mavee (C) 6-4, 6-4, 6-4; Kim Llewellyn (Y) over Kim Llewellyn in three sets; Marshla Kodis (C) over Jami Bachelson (Y) 7-5, 4-6, 5-1. In doubles, Roberts-Flickinger (Y) defeated Himmel-yahia (C) 6-1, 6-2; Cross-Pullinger defeated Himmel-yahia (C) over Jay Madigan (Y) 6-1, 6-4; Dave Schonburger (C) over Fred Leonard (M) 6-1, 6-4. In doubles Roberts-Yeates (C) defeated Emmanuell-Rose (M) 6-2, 6-4; Himmel-Yahia (C) defeated Jackson-Graybott (M) 6-2, 6-3; Abel-Buzz Heinrich (C) defeated Madigan-Whitmore (M) 6-1, 6-1.

The women's squad was not as successful in its first encounter, losing to Yale 7-2. However, the score is the best the Conn girls have ever posted against the very strong Yale team. More than once, Yale was threatened with the state and New England titles. In addition, in three of the matches Connecticut girls pushed their opponents to three sets, suggesting a closer contest than the final score shows.

TENNIS

Captains for the men's squad this year are Robbie Roberts and Greg Yahia, while Bambi Fickinger captains the women's squad.

Lesser-Warren win Bridge Tourney

by Pam Alipaloplos

Cro Bar, last Monday night, housed a surprisingly sober crowd, for it was the setting of the Connecticut College Bridge Tournament. Under the able and knowledgeable supervision of Mrs. Tony Wagner, a member of the Croquet Committee, twenty two students (eleven teams) participated in a Contract Duplicate Bridge competition. This time in addition of other such competitive games, including poker and backgammon, team.

To resolve this problem, the highest scoring team of the three, Laurie Lesser and Mark Warren, were given a bye. The two remaining teams, comprised of Paul Lantis and Peter Johnson, and Pam Caverly and Steve Carlson, played a six game match in order to obtain an opponent to enter the finals. In the finals were the Lesser-Warren team and the Caverly-Carlson team. Of the victorious in the tournament were Lesser and Warren by doubling a club bid and thus setting the opponents of the preceding tricks. A trophy is being awarded to the winners. In the consolation round, the Caverly-Carlson team again took part. A duplicate Bridge Tourney will be held in two weeks on Wednesday, April 20, 1971 at 8:30 P.M. in Cro Bar. All those interested should sign up with a partner in Croquet Williams.

Golf amongst the Elites

by TIM REYNOLDS

Have you ever tried hitting a golf ball on a lurching sea vessel! Well, throw in some driving rains, a stiff breeze and an occasional goose-cropping and you have the first-ever Conn. College vs Yale J.V. golf match last Friday.

The par-70 Yale course; 6620 yards of watered and wooded beauty. The score was 353 and 345, both of which have so far been reserved for Yale Students and alumni.

The Yalies turned up tanned and free-floating after a 3-week Florida golfathon to tackle the home links. They did so ably with their 6 men peppering their totals around and below 80. The heroes for Conn. were limited to a scrape off 80 by Stuart with a lot of ship and roll that forgot to roll in the swamps.

Although little was hopeful about Conn.'s scores, it was heartening that when the call went out for players on a day that could have easily been spent groveling in front of the tube, Conn. could field 6 hearty lads. They eagerly await a rematch in sunny, more apple-like times.

Crew season gets into the Swing

by Barwell

Last Friday the Conn men's crew team raced Holy Cross and Williams in their second outing of the season. In two close and well- rowed races, both boats lost to Holy Cross. After all, it was Good Friday. The races took place on Lake Quinsigamond, a major rowing centre in New England.

Since it was yet early in the season, the docks were not in the water making the launching and landing of the shells a bit of an ordeal. The lake was smooth despite a headwind from the southwest. Temperature was in the 60's with a thin overcast blotting out the sun.

SUN.

For this race the C.C. heavy weight boat rowed as Junior Varsity against Holy Cross. Conn. took the start with 12 men on deck coming back even at the end of 20 strokes. Conn. had a lead of an overlap of 500 M. However, conditions were not what they had been in Worcester the previous day; a gentle but steady rain fell, making spectators and participants, but smoothed out the normally choppy Thames. Our course was arranged so that races go up river. The tide was with the boats, but a headwind cancelled the flow of the water.

Wellesley arrived late, which made the first race, the women's four, just Yale and Conn. Conn. took the start and led by about one length most of the race. Both boats sprinted with 250 Meters to go. Conn. still a length in the lead until the last two strokes where the Conn. boat caught two vicious crabs, (a crab, n crew jargon for being unable to get the oar out of the water at the end of the stroke, wherein the oar handler knocks the oarsman flat in his seat). sliding over the line 1-3 of a length in front of Yale.

Wellesley and Yale were in the women's Varsity race. In this race Wellesley was outclassed, losing by two lengths of open water. The Super-8 Playoff; Lammib Lemons, Larrabee Beavers, Harkness Aardvarks, Smith-Burdics, Aristocrates, Freeman, Frenmadonnas, Larrabee Bots, and Harkness's Mary's Menagerie.

All team captains are urged to check the bulletin board in Cro for dates and times of matches. Since the conclusion tournament just gotten underway, no team has yet been completely eliminated.

Volleyball Update

In the interdorm mixed volleyball tournament a total of thirty matches have been played, the following eight teams have advanced to the Super-8 Playoff: Lammib Lemons, Larrabee Beavers, Harkness Aardvarks, Smith-Burdics, Aristocrates, Freeman, Frenmadonnas, Larrabee Bots, and Harkness's Mary's Menagerie.

Leading the way — Conn. out front vs. Washington College, Chestertown, Maryland. (photo by parkman)