EASTER SERVICE HELD OUT-OF-DOORS.

Sunday morning at nine-thirty, the college gathered on the south side of New London Hall for a brief Easter morning service under a gray sky. Even the few drops of rain on Easter bonnets could not detract from the beauty of the hymns led by the choir and accompanied by the little organ, or of the resurrection story, or the lemon drizzle from the balcony. The elections for next year's officers are not too much to ask. Is it not too much to ask that a girl in office have executive ability and a sense of responsibility; nor is it too much to expect her to exercise sympathy and tact in meeting the inevitably annoying problems of campus life. When the Silver Bay test is applied to a girl, personalities are fortunately left out. It is so easy to recognize in another girl one's own faults and to condemn others. The proposed standard excludes judgment on all the petty personal faults for which we all suffer. It is sufficiently broad to include all the major requisites of character. The little things are left out. The emphasis of qualities being judged by the office holder.

A student body which elects its leaders with these qualities in mind has no cause for unjust criticism of its officers when they assume their positions. The sympathy, tact, and perseverance cannot all be on one side. The individual members of any organization must assume their share of the responsibility for carrying on the work. The shifting of responsibility for a failure on her part by a member of the association to the chief officer is not only a futile form of defense mechanism, but it is not true sportmanship. A smoothly running organization, responsibility is properly divided between officers and members.

FREE SPEECH.

[The Editors of the News do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions appearing in this column.]

To the Editor:

The first news the majority of us heard was that World War II was coming. We were all really disappointed and and crushed in the bud of existence. That was the plan, at least. Good luck to any dreamer who has even bigger, for this was so perfectly possible, was not the biggest. Whether it was a figment of the mind of one or one hundred million. But the plan was unanimously approved by the college, or whether the dissenting voice had been raised to block the line beyond the campus limits, it is not at all clear. If it was the latter, it has probably been some atonement on the part of some member of the college to create that thought. Would it not be well to consider our actions and our words when they can be used as we have witnessed to our own disadvantage and disappointment? People are judging us when we do not know it, and one unforseeable act might cast its shadow to darken the whole college.

A student council has been unable to enter the Miller's Pond during the last three years. Last week-end the work of a new hut reeked with the bliss of potential use. The hut having been stimulated college interest in the Gloucester Little Theatre is offering a prize of ten dollars, a free scholarship and a production of the best one-act play of the season in the Gloucester Little Theatre. The education of Europe is in a state of transition. At the first Congress held at Prague in 1918, an association of Student's Unions, formed for the purpose of developing international bonds of fellowship between nations and to coordinate their international activities, and promoting their common educational and social interests. It is an association of Students without national or racial distinction.

The students of 20 European countries, affiliated with the C. I. E., and those of the British Dominions are meeting in England this week-end with the view to participation.

The international aims of the C. I. E. and its more general purpose of promoting international understanding have been looked after during the last three years by various practical activities, carried out through the head offices of the various National Committees going out to give assistance in arranging their own meetings and furnishing introductions to Students with common interests in the countries they represent. Correspondence exchanges, visits and tours are arranged. Students of different countries are brought together intimately by athletic and other meetings. It will be remem- bered that Paddock successfully took part in the Students' Olympic Games organized by the C. I. E. at Paris in 1923. A closer relationship with the students of Europe must be an essential part of our college life if this country is to fulfill the challenge of the leading position among the nations of the world which it is destined to take.

The second Triennial Congress or General Assembly of the C. I. E. will be held this summer in Warsaw. At this Congress all the activities of the C. I. E. will be reviewed, and its future policy will be determined. The direction of the Officers and the Congress Committee for the next three years will be left in their charge. The members and athletic meets held in connection with the convention during the C. I. E. attract large numbers of students and provide opportunities for fellowship.

At the first Congress held at Prague in 1921, a desire for American co-operation was expressed by Students of all countries represented. At the present time the C. I. E. has to face in its own sphere the same problems that confront the official European diplomats and there is an opportunity for statesmanship action on the part of American Students in helping to make effective the ideals of goodwill and justice on which the federation was founded.

ALUMNAE.
Our Own Scandal.
Now that the exporation of crime in the press has become quite the thing, we reluctantly submit some startling reactions of the Crime Wave upon our own number.

According to advice from Bristol, Conn., more than ONE-HALF of the Alumnae Body are utterly in poteazzion of property that does not belong to them. Only one hundred and thirty out of three hundred and nine hold a spotless record upon the books of the Alumnae treasurer! Do you belong to the One Hundred Thirty?

Or to the guilty "Compact Majority"?

If the words reach our alumnae, we shall already have closed the period of our Lenten observances, and we shall have started upon springtime duties with much-concealed consciousness of our duty to our fellows, and high resolve to fulfill that duty. Shall we fail our association only in its fifth year—while we are still linked by the bond of recent memory and the potent inspiration of college days?

We are deeply ashamed that this confession must come thus publicly to the ears of the world. But it is our conviction that the fault lies not in purposeful neglect, but rather in the carelessness attendant upon a busy life that is lived apart from college walls.

Then let your Easter gladness be not dimmed by the consciousness of a duty not performed, but rather by the realization of having stood by, as in college days, at the call of one's college mates.

Dues, via remit, at $2.50 a year, are payable to Grace Cockings,
336 Main Street,
Bristol, Conn.

Checks are considered receipts, as well as money orders. If additional remittance is required, the treasurer should be notified.

Alumnae: You Are in Danger of not renewing the Annual unless you send your subscription money (seventy-five cents) of cash to ESTHER BACHTELDEN,
3095 Broadway,
New York, N.Y.

We have not ordered enough Annals to go around. Last we incur unnecessary expense, we have limited the number. Do not wait until June, though we may have some left for sale at Reunion. Remember, too, that there are faculty ex-members, and undergraduates who will want buying this, our first Annual publication.

Features of the Annual.
Pictures of the four class babies. Poetry from our gifted poets. A page of cartoons of early days. Stories of our married sisters, our nieces and nephews, our classmates with higher degrees. Humorous, serious, thrilling experiences of travel, and of service in various parts of the world, from Mexico, Florida, and Georgia to France and Syria.

A "Comedy of Terror," revealing many of the traditional experiences of early days, as remissed by the first resident student of Connecticut College, Ruth Morrices MacCollom, better known as "Texas Tommy.

C. C. in Politics.
Ever widening in the field of opinion which is appealing to C. C. Alumnae. At the recent Democratic Women's Rally held in Hartford, during the city election campaign, one of the speakers was Mrs. Louis G. B. Abner, formerly Doris Schwartz '20. Mrs. Abner, incidentally, has the distinction of being the mother of 1929's class baby, Edith Sykes Abner.

C. C. at the White House.
Minnie Pulliard ex-22, spent the first two weeks of April at the White House, as the guest of her cousin, President and Mrs. Coolidge.

OBITUARY.

Ruth Burnham, ex-22, of East Hartford, passed away on March 24, after an illness of a week with blood poisoning, resulting from infection of the face.

News of '20.
Writes Leah Pick '20, from Chicago: "I am planning to be East in time for 'Fanchons' (Hurtman's) wedding, and then hope to visit at college. It will be the first time since graduation, and this from Sarah Lewis, accompanied by a generous contribution to the Annual fund.

I live here in California, especially San Francisco, it is such a live place I am afraid that even though New London is my home, I can never be content to live there again. I hope to go back sometime soon and see everybody once more.

Vacation time will soon be here. I intend spending mine in Seattle and Vancouver, but maybe I should hold my hopes in reserve until after next week, when I take my first aeroplane ride. I guess good old ferris will look mighty good to me, although people say that the air is as safe as the land, and I don't know but they may be right for we had a slight earthquake here only last week."

JUNIOR MONTH REPRESENTATIVE CHOSEN.
Miss Emily Warner, '20, has been appointed to represent Connecticut at the Charity Organization Society, in New York, during Junior month. There, from July 4th to August 2nd, a group of girls, each representing a college, will have the opportunity to become acquainted with various phases of social work. Under expert supervision they will visit such points of social interest as Ellis Island, Sing Sing, and homes for the mentally deficient.
