Allied Children’s Fund Will Benefit From Jazz Concert

On May 14, the Junior class of the school will present a Jazz Concert for the benefit of the Allied Children’s Fund. The concert will feature a variety of music, including traditional jazz and classical pieces. The concert will take place at the school auditorium and will begin at 8:00 p.m. Admission is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Final Movie About Latin American Women Will Be Shown on May 2

The third of a series of Latin American movies will be presented in the auditorium on May 2. The presentation is part of the Inter-American Affairs Committee’s efforts to inform the community about the culture and history of Latin America. The movie will be followed by a Q&A session with Dr. Luis Alverna Burdick, a member of the faculty.

First Jazz Concert

Featuring Art Hodes’ latest records by John Gillock, this two-man organ performance will be a unique experience for jazz lovers. The concert will take place at 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. A portion of the proceeds will be donated to the Allied Children’s Fund.

The Instrument

The instrument under consideration is the two-manual organ, a versatile instrument with a rich history in Latin American music. It is produced here. For a better explanation of its workings, a demonstration will be given during the concert.

Vesper's Talk Will Be Given April 29

By Rev. R. Sockman

The Rev. Ralph W. Sockman, minister of Christ Church (O.L.) of New York, will speak on April 29 at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium. His topic will be “The Reformation: Its Meaning and Its Influence.”

Fund For Purchase Of A Harpsichord Begun by Faculty

A project, initiated by a self-appointed committee of faculty and friends of the college, has been under way for several months. The committee is raising $3000 for the purchase of a harpsichord for the college. For some time the department of music has needed such an instrument for the adequate presentation and instruction of the extensive seventeenth and eighteenth century music that the college possesses.

The committee members believe that frequent opportunities for hearing harpsichord music, either for the solo instrument or with ensemble groups, will prove to be a very real contribution to the musical life of the college. The possession of one of these invaluable instruments, beloved throughout the world, would become a leader in the college’s musical tradition.

Professor of Design

Dr. Richard Bennett Is To Discuss Design and Planning for Post-War

"Post War Planning: The Facade of Design" will be the subject of a lecture by Richard Bennett, professor of design at Yale university, to be given Friday, April 27, at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium. Dr. Bennett is outstanding in the field of sociological architecture, and his experience and topic will make the lecture of particular interest to students of history, city government, and sociology, as well as those of art and design.

Barnard, and Mr. Arthur Quimby. Students present were Mary Carolyn Bassett ’46, Joan Eggers ’46 and Jane Rutter ’46.

Whatever they perform begins tempered always by intelligent co as well. These jazzmen play either New Orleans or Chicago very select coterie of hot musi-

DR. RICHARD BENNETT

Planning

With the emphasis on modern art, Mr. Bennett has given his work as a whole. While at Vassar, he aided in a survey of factory building, the sociological view of the needs of the women in the factory. Mr. Benn-

Philippe Soupault To Deliver French Talk on April 30

Philippe Soupault will deliver a French talk on the topic of “From Twilight to Dawn” or “From Domestic to International” on Monday, April 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. Mr. Soupault is a graduate of Harvard College and School of Design, and is an authority on travel and study in Europe. He has had many years of experience in the field of architecture and industrial design in both America and France. He has worked for the designers of the Louvre Museum of Art in New York.

Dumbarton Oaks Plan Peace Hope, To Be Charter's Basis

dr. Marjorie R. Dillen

The Dumbarton Oaks Plan proposes to build a system for the general public to study and discuss. Some hundred or more additions will be considered in the San Francisco meeting which opens April 25, but the major item for consid-

Parts of Machinery

The parts of the proposed machinery are the General Assembly, the Security Council, the United Nations Commission of Justice, a Secretariat, and the Economic and Social Council. The General Assembly will be the meeting place of the member states—"all possessing" states who wish to be present. It will meet annually, and each member will have one vote.
FREE SPEECH

The editors of the "News" do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions expressed in this column. In order to insure the validity of our opinions, we base them on the evidence we have accumulated. The opinions presented in this column are those of the author and do not necessarily reflect the views of the editor.

Dear Editor,

As we enter the last month of school, there is a need to find some deep emotional experience or great event to shake us out of our day-by-day existence and make us realize that the world is larger than the circle within which we move during most of our lives. I believe that President Roosevelt's passing was such an experience for many, whatever else our opinions may have been.

So much of our thinking, taking outside our usual train of thought, and made us conscious of how we are habitually unaware of any issue beyond those immediately confronting us.

This realization for this unawareness appears to be that we do not simply see the personal significance of our actions, for instance, political events. If we believe that a great democracy cannot exist except when kept alive by citizens who are thinking about human beings and care about public issues, then the problem is to show people that seemingly remote events do affect them personally. This must of necessity fall on the best trained and best informed group in the population, the college graduates. I am your future task. Are you prepared for it?

Yours sincerely,

An Elated Senior

O. M. I. (Office of More Information)

Meet President Truman

October 19, 1949

The Editors of the "News" do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions expressed in this column. In order to insure the validity of our opinions, we base them on the evidence we have accumulated. The opinions presented in this column are those of the author and do not necessarily reflect the views of the editor.

Dear Editor,

As we enter the last month of school, there is a need to find some deep emotional experience or great event to shake us out of our day-by-day existence and make us realize that the world is larger than the circle within which we move during most of our lives. I believe that President Roosevelt's passing was such an experience for many, whatever else our opinions may have been.

So much of our thinking, taking outside our usual train of thought, and made us conscious of how we are habitually unaware of any issue beyond those immediately confronting us.

This realization for this unawareness appears to be that we do not simply see the personal significance of our actions, for instance, political events. If we believe that a great democracy cannot exist except when kept alive by citizens who are thinking about human beings and care about public issues, then the problem is to show people that seemingly remote events do affect them personally. This must of necessity fall on the best trained and best informed group in the population, the college graduates. I am your future task. Are you prepared for it?

Yours sincerely,

An Elated Senior

O. M. I. (Office of More Information)

Meet President Truman

October 19, 1949

The Editors of the "News" do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions expressed in this column. In order to insure the validity of our opinions, we base them on the evidence we have accumulated. The opinions presented in this column are those of the author and do not necessarily reflect the views of the editor.

Dear Editor,

As we enter the last month of school, there is a need to find some deep emotional experience or great event to shake us out of our day-by-day existence and make us realize that the world is larger than the circle within which we move during most of our lives. I believe that President Roosevelt's passing was such an experience for many, whatever else our opinions may have been.

So much of our thinking, taking outside our usual train of thought, and made us conscious of how we are habitually unaware of any issue beyond those immediately confronting us.

This realization for this unawareness appears to be that we do not simply see the personal significance of our actions, for instance, political events. If we believe that a great democracy cannot exist except when kept alive by citizens who are thinking about human beings and care about public issues, then the problem is to show people that seemingly remote events do affect them personally. This must of necessity fall on the best trained and best informed group in the population, the college graduates. I am your future task. Are you prepared for it?

Yours sincerely,

An Elated Senior

O. M. I. (Office of More Information)
Peace Conferences Must Have Support To Be Successful

The United Nations' conference was the subject of President Schaffter's chapel talk this week. Mr. Schaffter said that the beginning of this important event is "one of the most significant events of modern history." He commended the composers by the public, where Peace Conference was taken to war, and also attributed much public attention and emotion to the high stature and importance of the event. It is an unfortunate fact that we are not ready today to fulfill the declaration of peace as in a declaration of war.

Mr. Schaffter recognized the fact that understanding the purposes and we of the United Nations Conference would take time and study, but said that if we have meant what we have said about this being a last effort, we must take our part in achieving and maintaining it. He said that no democracy is self-operating. We must each do our part, he added. After the experience of the last war, she said, we have no right to take this for granted, nor to write treaties. Mr. Schaffter said that much has been learned and understood and be willing to give our support for the principles of immediate peace, because of the political need for permanent peace. That necessitates constant attention, he continued, just as a playing house needs some care. This means that Miss Schaffter suggested we use our vocal power to the utmost in a kind of serious discussion of the conference to infect the whole public with the idea that it would be advisable to get a copy of "Documents on World Peace" published by the department of the Washington News. It contains a short and useful reference to the conference, a list of speeches in original and a collection of documents on the conference. See "Chapel" — Page 6

Praise Given Exhibitions of Student Artists and Dancers

by Pat McNutt '47

If the Arts Week End had prepared nothing more than the performance of the Dance group, it would have been well worth having. Undoubtedly one of the most unusual features of the week were the performances of the Dance group. There serves a good deal of praise. First of all, the student work of the dance group was extremely impressive. One of the things that Miss Schaffter's song, one of the most interesting parts of the Five Arts Week End. The work was of a very high quality, and the interpretations by the students are fitting to the poems read.

Outstanding in the student exhibits of this year was the modern dance group. No lesser art which featured re- freshlying original calendar, playing card, Christmas paper, and book cover designs. Also notable in execution were the abstractions of musical themes and the oil paintings, which, though lacking in dynamic inspiration, displayed admirable artistic achievements. The second was manifested in fresco and pen-and-ink on Holmes Hall. Mr. Bates, said Mr. Kenneth Bates during a recent interview. He explained that the integration of elements in a unified art created visual and plastic beauty. He produced by Miss Hanson's class of "Through Space".

The endresult shows proved to be a vivid picture of the quality of the original and the exalted appreciation of the audience.

by Nancy Faulkner '46

Connecticut College had a tri-fold part in the Five Arts Week End. It sponsored an exhibition of student work in Palmer hall, the student art exhibits, and the Performance of the Dance group. All these events were so well planned and executed that they were able to blend in and enhanced the whole event. The pressure and artistic worth are not always made for the public. It was written by Joseph Politi in a long ruffled nightgown and with her long ruffled nightgown and with the morc active moments harmony with one another. Sepe- tive or humorous, she be-

May Day to Be Psychology and Imagination Are Basis of Student Plays

by Norah Middle '46

The first of the two original plays to be presented as part of the Five Arts program was "Evil and Religion. It was directed by Connie Barnes '46. Unfortunately, it never crystallized into a complete play. She said that Thilma and Hilary, though they occasionally tried to find a way in, one did not always seem particular to his skin. However, though we might have some unfinished business, we were very glad that Hilary was able to assist in the work. Mr. Peep Power warned to her words, "you can't have a singer who's been on the stage," and sang by Doris Lane '47 to the accompaniment of the College glee club. She also sang her own one being her own nice

Mention should be made of the stage setting which was excellent, especially the rising window which mechanical in- tricacies, hidden but efficient, brought a sight of satisfaction to the audience.

The second play, the Market Piece by Pat McNutt '47, was re- viewed in News upon its original presentation in Five Arts Plays, and I will, therefore, touch on it briefly. The play was not in the nature of an achievement and had about it a kind of effort which is not to be afraid to youth; it was written and produced in a form of theatre first appeared. Imaginative con- nection, appearing in a good daily and excellent in themselves and in the material of which they are made. Special mention must be made of his glasses, with a long ruffled nightgown and with the morc active moments harmony with one another. Sepe- tive or humorous, she be-

Evil and Religion Includes Original Music by Students

by Elizabeth Bogert '47

Music has been an outstanding role in Five Arts Week End. On Sat- urday May 1, in Holmes hall, was held a discussion, led by Nor- man Lockwood, a visiting com- munity. Mr. Lockwood first gave some general introduction and composing. It is his idea that there are three main categories of music. One does not have to have a thor- ough knowledge of music before composing before attempting any modern works. Too much time was spent on the first of all the classic music to the ex- hibition of the students. The presenta- tions of contemporary compos-

Leah Meyer's Song

Two student compositions were then played for Mr. Lockwood. The first was "Stars" by Lea Meyer, who employed a flute obli- gato as well as a percussion instru- ment. He praised Miss Meyer's song and was anxious that she would continue. The second song was written and produced by Miss Meyer's class of "Through Space".

by Nancy Faulkner '46

Connecticut College had a tri-fold part in the Five Arts Week End. It sponsored an exhibition of student work in Palmer hall, the student art exhibits, and the Performance of the Dance group. All these events were so well planned and executed that they were able to blend in and enhanced the whole event. The pressure and artistic worth are not always made for the public. It was written by Joseph Politi in a long ruffled nightgown and with the morc active moments harmony with one another. Sepe- tive or humorous, she be-

May Day to Be Psychology and Imagination Are Basis of Student Plays

by Norah Middle '46

The first of the two original plays to be presented as part of the Five Arts program was "Evil and Religion. It was directed by Connie Barnes '46. Unfortunately, it never crystallized into a complete play. She said that Thilma and Hilary, though they occasionally tried to find a way in, one did not always seem particular to his skin. However, though we might have some unfinished business, we were very glad that Hilary was able to assist in the work. Mr. Peep Power warned to her words, "you can't have a singer who's been on the stage," and sang by Doris Lane '47 to the accompaniment of the College glee club. She also sang her own one being her own nice

Mention should be made of the stage setting which was excellent, especially the rising window which mechanical in- tricacies, hidden but efficient, brought a sight of satisfaction to the audience.

The second play, the Market Piece by Pat McNutt '47, was re- viewed in News upon its original presentation in Five Arts Plays, and I will, therefore, touch on it briefly. The play was not in the nature of an achievement and had about it a kind of effort which is not to be afraid of youth; it was written and produced in a form of theatre first appeared. Imaginative con- nection, appearing in a good daily and excellent in themselves and in the material of which they are made. Special mention must be made of his glasses, with a long ruffled nightgown and with the morc active moments harmony with one another. Sepe- tive or humorous, she be-

Evil and Religion Includes Original Music by Students

by Elizabeth Bogert '47

Music has been an outstanding role in Five Arts Week End. On Sat- urday May 1, in Holmes hall, was held a discussion, led by Nor- man Lockwood, a visiting com- munity. Mr. Lockwood first gave some general introduction and composing. It is his idea that there are three main categories of music. One does not have to have a thor- ough knowledge of music before composing before attempting any modern works. Too much time was spent on the first of all the classic music to the ex- hibition of the students. The presenta- tions of contemporary compos-

Leah Meyer's Song

Two student compositions were then played for Mr. Lockwood. The first was "Stars" by Lea Meyer, who employed a flute obli- gato as well as a percussion instru- ment. He praised Miss Meyer's song and was anxious that she would continue. The second song was written and produced by Miss Meyer's class of "Through Space".

by Nancy Faulkner '46

Connecticut College had a tri-fold part in the Five Arts Week End. It sponsored an exhibition of student work in Palmer hall, the student art exhibits, and the Performance of the Dance group. All these events were so well planned and executed that they were able to blend in and enhanced the whole event. The pressure and artistic worth are not always made for the public. It was written by Joseph Politi in a long ruffled nightgown and with the morc active moments harmony with one another. Sepe- tive or humorous, she be-
Junior's are Reminded of Kane Appointments

Throughout the week beginning Monday, April 30, appointments will be taken for Junior in Windham game room. Members of junior are reminded to keep their appointments.

Dilley

(Continued from Page One)

will participate in the selection of judges for the International Court of Justice. The budget of the Permanent Court is $400,000. The apportionment of expenses among the member states will be its business. The Council will need to set up a procedure of what to do with the balance.

Drama

(Continued from Page Three)

The afternoon program of the afternoon consisted of compositions by staff members of the drama faculty and community members. The group was first to play "The Mariner's Song," with actors from different parts of the country. The second group played a scene from "The Playmaker" by Dashiell Hammett, and the third group played a scene from "The Honky Tonk in Cleveland" by Carl Sandburg. The fourth group played a scene from "The Blue Fish" by John Steinbeck, and the last group played a scene from "The Diary of a Madman." All of the pieces were very well received by the audience.

Music

(Continued from Page Three)

This year's May Day committee will present a musical program on May 28 in the gym. The program will feature songs and dances from around the world, including traditional folk songs from Europe and the Americas. The music will be accompanied by dancers from the University of Connecticut's dance teams.

May Day

(Continued From Page One)

On the library steps, the seniors at 3:30 will have a picnic at Back Lodge or in the gym in case of rain. At 3:30 Betty Gillen '46 senior senator, who will head the moonlight sing in which all will participate. Betty Gilmer '43 is the chairman of this year's May Day committee.

For Drug Store Needs

Elizabeth Ann Lenthenc - Yardley's Dorothy Grey - Max Factor

The Nichols & Harris Co.

119 State St.

Phone 3857

Studying in your 'Bonnet'?

We mean "covered studiousness" or "Glorified daydreaming.

Just put some of this powdered perfume between two thin layers of cotton and actually suck in your "bonnet."

It's the favorite scent way of keeping your favorite Rogar & Gallet with special Parisian perfume powders, so you can be fragrant with "covered studiousness."
Advertise Many Available Summer Positions

They are interested in securing boys, Gaylord White for girls 7-12 years of age. These positions depend on the job, age, training, to work with her in preparing meals. Their offices are located in the country but easily accessible. The former is, perhaps, the most important is personality. They are looking for a girl to live in a settlement house and maintain the dormitory is maintained for the summer. They are interested in securing a summer job you should do this summer? There are quite a few young girls, Jane Fullerton and Louise Murphy; chairman of curriculums, students interested in abnormal psychology, sociology, education, and history. The Homestead restaurant, at Interstate Park near Palisades Interstate Park near New York. The restaurant, and the newspaper, was an excellent example of originality and good workmanship. Their performances certainly the Dance group is to be highly commended for this project continues for nine weeks from June 22 to September 1945.

All Knitting Supplies

Home Arts Corner

3 ETON STREET

A

C. C. Girl's Best Friend

Starr Bros. Drug Store

Naval Architects, Restaurants, and Camps

Advertise Many Available Summer Positions

Have you thought really seriously about what you are going to do during the two months left in the school year, and if you want to secure a summer job you should register now.

There are camp counselor positions available in several states. New Hampshire, Massachu- setts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Virginia Pennsylvania. A few of the opportunities are:

Tennis Counselor

Alfred Lake camp, located at South Hopp Malver, is interested in securing a tennis counselor to help with the tennis department. They will be on duty at the waterfront, and one to take care of campers. They are also looking for a secretary-counselor.

The New London Girl Scouts run a summer camp in East Lyme, Connecticut about eight miles from New London. The season is from June 24 to August 25. They are in need of assistant directors, unit leaders, unit assistants, nature, and crafts specialists, and a business manager. The sale depends on the job, age, training, and experience of the applicant.

Dietitians

Potomac Area Camp Fire Girls are interested in securing a few young women to run a summer camp. Camps are located at June 24 to August 25. They are interested in securing applications from students who might wish to work in this area. The camp season will be from June 24 to August 30.

The Union Settlement of New York City is interested in securing a staff for its three settlement houses. The Houses are, Gaylord White for girls 7-12 years of age. There are quite a few young girls, Jane Fullerton and Louise Murphy; chairman of curriculums, students interested in abnormal psychology, sociology, education, and history.

The Homestead restaurant, at Interstate Park near Palisades Interstate Park near New York. The restaurant, and the newspaper, was an excellent example of originality and good workmanship. Their performances certainly the Dance group is to be highly commended for this project continues for nine weeks from June 22 to September 1945.

classroom.
Caught on Campus

From the junior class comes the announcement of the engagement of Betty Barzetch to Mr. Thos. Schubesh, first classman at Amherst. The date of the wedding has been set for June 8.

There are Miss Americas, and Miss New Yorks, and Sweethearts of other campus companies, but UC has a Bomber Girl in its midst. The News office recently received a picture of Jeanette Ed- lidy from the army with a story attached saying she has been transferred to November Girl by the men of the 15th air force in Italy. Congratulations, Jean- nise.

P.S. You ought to see that picture!

"I gave my all for my country," has become Winnie Bellouc's 47 motto since last week when she bravely departed for her Girl Scout troop for an overnight hike. Her idea didn't look at all like that on paper, and things seemed flaky until the New London rain appeared on the scene last Satur- day afternoon. Apparently the rain and the cold were just too much for the troops, as they headed home for the "back to nature" scouts.

Unfortunately the next Sunday a much more bagged-looking Winnie then she had started out. She's still compassionately hoping about that out before she goes on an- other scout trip.

The place over campus, or better still on campus, has been A-Ball for the past few weeks. Some people may think they come pretty low, but they've been a lot more than they've seemed.

Poetry

(Continued from Page Three)

Joe! However, if she keeps on producing poems such as "Song of Autum," she is on the right track.

Mary Lewis" To What Should We Be True?" was a robust sentiment that was well for its power and expression. The idea didn't look much like that on paper, and things seemed flaky until the New London rain appeared on the scene last Saturday afternoon. Apparently the rain and the cold were just too much for the troops, as they headed home for the "back to nature" scouts.

Unfortunately the next Sunday a much more bagged-looking Winnie then she had started out. She's still compassionately hoping about that out before she goes on another scout trip.

The place over campus, or better still on campus, has been A-Ball for the past few weeks. Some people may think they come pretty low, but they've been a lot more than they've seemed.

Poetry

(Continued from Page Three)

Joe! However, if she keeps on producing poems such as "Song of Autum," she is on the right track.

Mary Lewis" To What Should We Be True?" was a robust sentiment that was well for its power and expression. The idea didn't look much like that on paper, and things seemed flaky until the New London rain appeared on the scene last Saturday afternoon. Apparently the rain and the cold were just too much for the troops, as they headed home for the "back to nature" scouts.

Unfortunately the next Sunday a much more bagged-looking Winnie then she had started out. She's still compassionately hoping about that out before she goes on another scout trip.

The place over campus, or better still on campus, has been A-Ball for the past few weeks. Some people may think they come pretty low, but they've been a lot more than they've seemed.

Poetry

(Continued from Page Three)

Joe! However, if she keeps on producing poems such as "Song of Autum," she is on the right track.

Mary Lewis" To What Should We Be True?" was a robust sentiment that was well for its power and expression. The idea didn't look much like that on paper, and things seemed flaky until the New London rain appeared on the scene last Saturday afternoon. Apparently the rain and the cold were just too much for the troops, as they headed home for the "back to nature" scouts.

Unfortunately the next Sunday a much more bagged-looking Winnie then she had started out. She's still compassionately hoping about that out before she goes on another scout trip.

The place over campus, or better still on campus, has been A-Ball for the past few weeks. Some people may think they come pretty low, but they've been a lot more than they've seemed.

Poetry

(Continued from Page Three)

Joe! However, if she keeps on producing poems such as "Song of Autum," she is on the right track.

Mary Lewis" To What Should We Be True?" was a robust sentiment that was well for its power and expression. The idea didn't look much like that on paper, and things seemed flaky until the New London rain appeared on the scene last Saturday afternoon. Apparently the rain and the cold were just too much for the troops, as they headed home for the "back to nature" scouts.

Unfortunately the next Sunday a much more bagged-looking Winnie then she had started out. She's still compassionately hoping about that out before she goes on another scout trip.

The place over campus, or better still on campus, has been A-Ball for the past few weeks. Some people may think they come pretty low, but they've been a lot more than they've seemed.

Poetry

(Continued from Page Three)

Joe! However, if she keeps on producing poems such as "Song of Autum," she is on the right track.

Mary Lewis" To What Should We Be True?" was a robust sentiment that was well for its power and expression. The idea didn't look much like that on paper, and things seemed flaky until the New London rain appeared on the scene last Saturday afternoon. Apparently the rain and the cold were just too much for the troops, as they headed home for the "back to nature" scouts.

Unfortunately the next Sunday a much more bagged-looking Winnie then she had started out. She's still compassionately hoping about that out before she goes on another scout trip.

The place over campus, or better still on campus, has been A-Ball for the past few weeks. Some people may think they come pretty low, but they've been a lot more than they've seemed.

Poetry

(Continued from Page Three)

Joe! However, if she keeps on producing poems such as "Song of Autum," she is on the right track.

Mary Lewis" To What Should We Be True?" was a robust sentiment that was well for its power and expression. The idea didn't look much like that on paper, and things seemed flaky until the New London rain appeared on the scene last Saturday afternoon. Apparently the rain and the cold were just too much for the troops, as they headed home for the "back to nature" scouts.

Unfortunately the next Sunday a much more bagged-looking Winnie then she had started out. She's still compassionately hoping about that out before she goes on another scout trip.

The place over campus, or better still on campus, has been A-Ball for the past few weeks. Some people may think they come pretty low, but they've been a lot more than they've seemed.

Poetry

(Continued from Page Three)

Joe! However, if she keeps on producing poems such as "Song of Autum," she is on the right track.

Mary Lewis" To What Should We Be True?" was a robust sentiment that was well for its power and expression. The idea didn't look much like that on paper, and things seemed flaky until the New London rain appeared on the scene last Saturday afternoon. Apparently the rain and the cold were just too much for the troops, as they headed home for the "back to nature" scouts.

Unfortunately the next Sunday a much more bagged-looking Winnie then she had started out. She's still compassionately hoping about that out before she goes on another scout trip.

The place over campus, or better still on campus, has been A-Ball for the past few weeks. Some people may think they come pretty low, but they've been a lot more than they've seemed.

Poetry

(Continued from Page Three)

Joe! However, if she keeps on producing poems such as "Song of Autum," she is on the right track.

Mary Lewis" To What Should We Be True?" was a robust sentiment that was well for its power and expression. The idea didn't look much like that on paper, and things seemed flaky until the New London rain appeared on the scene last Saturday afternoon. Apparently the rain and the cold were just too much for the troops, as they headed home for the "back to nature" scouts.

Unfortunately the next Sunday a much more bagged-looking Winnie then she had started out. She's still compassionately hoping about that out before she goes on another scout trip.

The place over campus, or better still on campus, has been A-Ball for the past few weeks. Some people may think they come pretty low, but they've been a lot more than they've seemed.

Poetry

(Continued from Page Three)

Joe! However, if she keeps on producing poems such as "Song of Autum," she is on the right track.

Mary Lewis" To What Should We Be True?" was a robust sentiment that was well for its power and expression. The idea didn't look much like that on paper, and things seemed flaky until the New London rain appeared on the scene last Saturday afternoon. Apparently the rain and the cold were just too much for the troops, as they headed home for the "back to nature" scouts.

Unfortunately the next Sunday a much more bagged-looking Winnie then she had started out. She's still compassionately hoping about that out before she goes on another scout trip.

The place over campus, or better still on campus, has been A-Ball for the past few weeks. Some people may think they come pretty low, but they've been a lot more than they've seemed.

Poetry

(Continued from Page Three)

Joe! However, if she keeps on producing poems such as "Song of Autum," she is on the right track.

Mary Lewis" To What Should We Be True?" was a robust sentiment that was well for its power and expression. The idea didn't look much like that on paper, and things seemed flaky until the New London rain appeared on the scene last Saturday afternoon. Apparently the rain and the cold were just too much for the troops, as they headed home for the "back to nature" scouts.

Unfortunately the next Sunday a much more bagged-looking Winnie then she had started out. She's still compassionately hoping about that out before she goes on another scout trip.

The place over campus, or better still on campus, has been A-Ball for the past few weeks. Some people may think they come pretty low, but they've been a lot more than they've seemed.

Poetry

(Continued from Page Three)

Joe! However, if she keeps on producing poems such as "Song of Autum," she is on the right track.

Mary Lewis" To What Should We Be True?" was a robust sentiment that was well for its power and expression. The idea didn't look much like that on paper, and things seemed flaky until the New London rain appeared on the scene last Saturday afternoon. Apparently the rain and the cold were just too much for the troops, as they headed home for the "back to nature" scouts.

Unfortunately the next Sunday a much more bagged-looking Winnie then she had started out. She's still compassionately hoping about that out before she goes on another scout trip.

The place over campus, or better still on campus, has been A-Ball for the past few weeks. Some people may think they come pretty low, but they've been a lot more than they've seemed.

Poetry

(Continued from Page Three)

Joe! However, if she keeps on producing poems such as "Song of Autum," she is on the right track.

Mary Lewis" To What Should We Be True?" was a robust sentiment that was well for its power and expression. The idea didn't look much like that on paper, and things seemed flaky until the New London rain appeared on the scene last Saturday afternoon. Apparently the rain and the cold were just too much for the troops, as they headed home for the "back to nature" scouts.

Unfortunately the next Sunday a much more bagged-looking Winnie then she had started out. She's still compassionately hoping about that out before she goes on another scout trip. 