Mr. Kinsey Points Out the Contributions a Liberal Education Should Give Us

We are often asked just what of a permanent and stable character an education in the college contributes or should contribute to our lives. Certainly we do not retain all of the facts that we learn in the college classroom and I doubt whether a few years in our college would do more than naively recognize the major- ity of the facts that have been asked to learn. Neither are the skills and arts that we learn so large as to represent the whole contribution of this system. Answers to this question have included the argument that education frees one from the petty preoccupations and prejudices of a provincial and petulant mind, cultivates a deeper and broader vision of the whole of the living universe, makes one more sensitive of its deeper and more profound beauty, and creates a more cosmopolitan and world-mindedness in the recipient.

I agree. A liberal education should contribute all these things, and I would like to add that it should help us to find one more college from its first years, and to whom the beauty of its spirit, as well as its physical beauty meant a great deal. President Blunt spoke also of the inspiration of May Day and the significance of May Day outdoor chapel was one of the most impressive services of the year. President Blunt spoke briefly of the traditional college May Day and of the definite sense of "continuity" which May brings.

"Today we celebrate the 50th May Day anniversary at Connecticut College. Counting from the very beginning, it is perhaps one of the best loved of our college traditions.... Today we feel its poignancy particularly because of the losses we have suffered in the deaths of Mr. Palmer, Mr. Selden, and Mr. Baer, all of whom were associated with the college from its first years, and to whom the beauty of its spirit, as well as its physical beauty meant a great deal."
That shriek coming from the Garde last Tuesday night was not merely by a Frosh when she discovered that the man seated next to her, who insisted upon blocking her view, was her best beau who had come from Princeton to surprise her. The comedy was excellent and I love love scenes unique.

But the real surprise of the day came when her roommate pounced on her in roommate.

What attentive young man rushed his date to a doctor in tenancy, sure that she had caught pneumonia from the rumble seat? And what was his surprise to discover that she had a millstone "pinch in the neck."

Connecticut was well represented at the last Coast Guard Dance. And a short, dark-haired Lacey-it, who can find only good in this world, was disenchanted.

Did Don Marin have the dining room cheer? Don't pity the man, for (to be vulgar) "she can take it." We couldn't help but laugh hearing the story of her encounter with two ditzy girls, and then blushing when the tables were turned on them.

It is suggested that Rollewood's and love appropriately named. We stumbled across Lovers' Lane quite by accident, but then every campus has one.

The circus came to town for five C, E girls who traveled miles to see it. To hear them tell about it, the circus had nothing on them. To it, the circus had nothing on them. To hear them tell about it, the circus had nothing on them. The very best young people that are apparent. The chief objection, obviously, relates chiefly to the lack of a factor for office, particularly as regards the three chief officers—President of Student Government, Vice-president of Student Government and Chief Justice of Honor Court.

Under our present system, when one of the nominees for president of Student Government is left, she is able to be put in for either of the two other offices. This practice is objectionable in at least as much a different quality as requirements for different offices. Just because a girl is outstanding and appears capable in one field, is no reason to believe that she will be in another field. Under our present system, nominees for these three offices will be unable to run for either of the other two. However, the offices of Class President and Honor Court Judges are open.

Thus we see that in reality this objection is an advantage in that girls who are outstanding and are really suited to their respective offices. Under our present system, there is no set time of elections. Amalgamation Meetings are called rather unexpectedly by the President of Student Government and as a whole are the norm, have very little chance to think of suitable candidates. Under the proposed plan, one definite date for elections each year will be set. Plenty of time will be given to line up nominees. There will be no need for an Amalgamation Meeting as compared with the five held now.

One other advantage is that unnecessary eligibility requirements for nominees will be done away with. Instead one speaker will represent each nominee, and her qualifications as effectively as a number of speakers could.

It is our duty to read carefully the new system as proposed. Let us intelligently consider the merits of both systems and if we have any definite ideas on the subject, present them at Student Government Meeting.

FACULTY NOTES
Dr. Frances M. Clark, assistant professor of English at Connecticut College, is the author of an article called "On an Anonymou-

essay on flights published in 1714, which appears in Scripta Mathematica, a quarterly journal devoted to the philosophy, history and expository treatment of Mathematics.

Dr. David D. Leif, professor of Mathematics and director of admissions at Connecticut College, will be the first one to present the college at the Conference on Secondary Education at New Jersey College for Women during the week end.

Dr. Erb has an article called "How Music is Creeping into the College Curriculum" in the April issue of the Musician. The article describes the current trends that are leading to wider recognition of music as an integral part of our major educational institutions.

An article on May Day by Emily Benedict, '34, president of Press Club, appeared in the Sunday issue of the Hartford Times.

SCHUBERT QUARTET TO BE HERE
On Tuesday, May 9th, the Schubert Quartet of Hartford will give a choral recital in the Gym at eight o'clock as the last of the recital series of the year. The quartet includes Virginia MacCracken, First Soprano; Helen Hubard, First Alto; Ruth Samson, Second Soprano; and Virginia Warner, Second Alto. Margarette Fishborne, '31, will be the accompanist. The program will also include solos, among which will be a piano solo, by Miss Fishborne.

Vassar students marched this afternoon in a demonstration for peace. The faculty, headed by Dr. H. N. McCracken, joined in the movement, which was the students' own doing. Although there has been a similar demonstration on the part of the students.

That shriek coming from the Garde last Tuesday night was not merely by a Frosh when she discovered that the man seated next to her, who insisted upon blocking her view, was her best beau who had come from Princeton to surprise her. The comedy was excellent and I love love scenes unique.

But the real surprise of the day came when her roommate pounced on her in roommate.

What attentive young man rushed his date to a doctor in tenancy, sure that she had caught pneumonia from the rumble seat? And what was his surprise to discover that she had a millstone "pinch in the neck."

Connecticut was well represented at the last Coast Guard Dance. And a short, dark-haired Lacey-it, who can find only good in this world, was disenchanted.

Did Don Marin have the dining room cheer? Don't pity the man, for (to be vulgar) "she can take it." We couldn't help but laugh hearing the story of her encounter with two ditzy girls, and then blushing when the tables were turned on them.

It is suggested that Rollewood's and love appropriately named. We stumbled across Lovers' Lane quite by accident, but then every campus has one.

The circus came to town for five C, E girls who traveled miles to see it. To hear them tell about it, the circus had nothing on them. To hear them tell about it, the circus had nothing on them. To hear them tell about it, the circus had nothing on them.

The very best young people that are apparent. The chief objection, obviously, relates chiefly to the lack of a factor for office, particularly as regards the three chief officers—President of Student Government, Vice-president of Student Government and Chief Justice of Honor Court.

Under our present system, when one of the nominees for president of Student Government is left, she is able to be put in for either of the two other offices. This practice is objectionable in at least as much a different quality as requirements for different offices. Just because a girl is outstanding and appears capable in one field, is no reason to believe that she will be in another field. Under our present system, nominees for these three offices will be unable to run for either of the other two. However, the offices of Class President and Honor Court Judges are open.

Thus we see that in reality this objection is an advantage in that girls who are outstanding and are really suited to their respective offices. Under our present system, there is no set time of elections. Amalgamation Meetings are called rather unexpectedly by the President of Student Government and as a whole are the norm, have very little chance to think of suitable candidates. Under the proposed plan, one definite date for elections each year will be set. Plenty of time will be given to line up nominees. There will be no need for an Amalgamation Meeting as compared with the five held now.

One other advantage is that unnecessary eligibility requirements for nominees will be done away with. Instead one speaker will represent each nominee, and her qualifications as effectively as a number of speakers could.

It is our duty to read carefully the new system as proposed. Let us intelligently consider the merits of both systems and if we have any definite ideas on the subject, present them at Student Government Meeting.

FACULTY NOTES
Dr. Frances M. Clark, assistant professor of English at Connecticut College, is the author of an article called "On an Anonymou-

essay on flights published in 1714, which appears in Scripta Mathematica, a quarterly journal devoted to the philosophy, history and expository treatment of Mathematics.

Dr. David D. Leif, professor of Mathematics and director of admissions at Connecticut College, will be the first one to present the college at the Conference on Secondary Education at New Jersey College for Women during the week end.

Dr. Erb has an article called "How Music is Creeping into the College Curriculum" in the April issue of the Musician. The article describes the current trends that are leading to wider recognition of music as an integral part of our major educational institutions.

An article on May Day by Emily Benedict, '34, president of Press Club, appeared in the Sunday issue of the Hartford Times.

SCHUBERT QUARTET TO BE HERE
On Tuesday, May 9th, the Schubert Quartet of Hartford will give a choral recital in the Gym at eight o'clock as the last of the recital series of the year. The quartet includes Virginia MacCracken, First Soprano; Helen Hubard, First Alto; Ruth Samson, Second Soprano; and Virginia Warner, Second Alto. Margarette Fishborne, '31, will be the accompanist. The program will also include solos, among which will be a piano solo, by Miss Fishborne.

Vassar students marched this afternoon in a demonstration for peace. The faculty, headed by Dr. H. N. McCracken, joined in the movement, which was the students' own doing. Although there has been a similar demonstration on the part of the students.

That shriek coming from the Garde last Tuesday night was not merely by a Frosh when she discovered that the man seated next to her, who insisted upon blocking her view, was her best beau who had come from Princeton to surprise her. The comedy was excellent and I love love scenes unique.

But the real surprise of the day came when her roommate pounced on her in roommate.

What attentive young man rushed his date to a doctor in tenancy, sure that she had caught pneumonia from the rumble seat? And what was his surprise to discover that she had a millstone "pinch in the neck."

Connecticut was well represented at the last Coast Guard Dance. And a short, dark-haired Lacey-it, who can find only good in this world, was disenchanted.

Did Don Marin have the dining room cheer? Don't pity the man, for (to be vulgar) "she can take it." We couldn't help but laugh hearing the story of her encounter with two ditzy girls, and then blushing when the tables were turned on them.

It is suggested that Rollewood's and love appropriately named. We stumbled across Lovers' Lane quite by accident, but then every campus has one.

The circus came to town for five C, E girls who traveled miles to see it. To hear them tell about it, the circus had nothing on them. To hear them tell about it, the circus had nothing on them. To hear them tell about it, the circus had nothing on them.

The very best young people that are apparent. The chief objection, obviously, relates chiefly to the lack of a factor for office, particularly as regards the three chief officers—President of Student Government, Vice-president of Student Government and Chief Justice of Honor Court.

Under our present system, when one of the nominees for president of Student Government is left, she is able to be put in for either of the two other offices. This practice is objectionable in at least as much different qualities as requirements for different offices. Just because a girl is outstanding and appears capable in one field, is no reason to believe that she will be in another field. Under our present system, nominees for these three offices will be unable to run for either of the other two. However, the offices of Class President and Honor Court Judges are open.

Thus we see that in reality this objection is an advantage in that girls will be in another field. Under our present system, nominees for these three offices will be unable to run for either of the other two. However, the offices of Class President and Honor Court Judges are open.

Thus we see that in reality this objection is an advantage in that girls will be in another field. Under our present system, nominees for these three offices will be unable to run for either of the other two. However, the offices of Class President and Honor Court Judges are open.

Thus we see that in reality this objection is an advantage in that girls will be in another field. Under our present system, nominees for these three offices will be unable to run for either of the other two. However, the offices of Class President and Honor Court Judges are open.
PLAYS OF THREE DISTINCT TYPES WERE PRODUCED

CONNETICUT COLLEGE NEWS

The speaker at Vespers on Sunday will be the Rev. Thomas L. Harris, minister-in-charge of the Church of St. Luke and the Epiphany in New London. Mr. Harris is a native of Chingford, England, was educated at King's College, Ely and Cambridge University. In 1923 he was honored with the English fellowship in Union Theological Seminary. He returned to England in 1930, where he accepted a call as assistant rector at St. Andrew's Church, Ann Arbor, Mich., working especially with students. In 1939 he was called to Harvard University as adviser in religion, and three years later accepted the call to his present position at St. Luke's and the Epiphany in Philadelphia, one of the most important parishes in the city.

Mr. Harris is the author of Religion for a Scanty Band, which appeared in Harper's Magazine, August, 1933. His talk on Sunday will be “The Challenge of Communism to Christianity.”

REFRESH YOURSELF!

Specializing in Vogue, Marcel and Perpetual Wave, Micro-milling, Facials and Hair Staining

Mary Elizabeth Beauty Salons
311 State St., New London, Conn.

PLAYS OF THREE DISTINCT TYPES WERE PRODUCED

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE NEWS

The speaker at Vespers on Sunday will be the Rev. Thomas L. Harris, minister-in-charge of the Church of St. Luke and the Epiphany in New London. Mr. Harris is a native of Chingford, England, was educated at King's College, Ely and Cambridge University. In 1923 he was honored with the English fellowship in Union Theological Seminary. He returned to England in 1930, where he accepted a call as assistant rector at St. Andrew's Church, Ann Arbor, Mich., working especially with students. In 1939 he was called to Harvard University as adviser in religion, and three years later accepted the call to his present position at St. Luke's and the Epiphany in Philadelphia, one of the most important parishes in the city.

Mr. Harris is the author of Religion for a Scanty Band, which appeared in Harper's Magazine, August, 1933. His talk on Sunday will be “The Challenge of Communism to Christianity.”

REFRESH YOURSELF!

Specializing in Vogue, Marcel and Perpetual Wave, Micro-milling, Facials and Hair Staining

Mary Elizabeth Beauty Salons
311 State St., New London, Conn.

RELIGION IS FRIENDSHIP
SAYS RAYMOND CALKINS

Vesper Speaker Shows
That “Religion is Friendship”

“Religion is friendship” said Reverend Raymond Calkins of the Second Congregational Church of Cambridge, at Vespers on Sunday. April 29. Although there are many conflicting definitions of religion, Dr. Calkins believes that “religion is being on intimate terms of fellowship and friendship with God.”

It has been said that one should believe in God as a formula if one is no friend of God’s, and this sentence can’t be based on a formula. Some people believe in God as a Creator, that is good theology, but how can one be intimate or friendly terms with the omnipotent?

The reason that there is so much religion in the Bible is that there is so much friendship. Friendship has been defined as “feeling safe with a person,” not having to weigh our words, being able to blurt out whatever we think without restraint, and knowing that the friend “will be able to bear his or her head up and the breath of kindness will blow the chaff away.” We should feel ourselves on such terms with God.

We won’t ever arrive at religion by a purely intellectual process. Friendship is that intellectualizing can create is a probability, a hope that a person such as God is there. If we want to know God as a friend, we must treat Him as the person we wish He was. All we need for religion is friendship, trust, confidence, familiarity with God.

If there is anything about Christianity we can’t believe, scratch it off the list. We have the life and death of Jesus, the grandest soul that ever walked this planet, a man of perfectly superb heroism who never compromised his ideals. “Jesus asks us to be his friends and comrades. He needs us and all that we can give us for his own ends.” A person is a friend who believes in us when no one else does.

If we want to practice every-day religion, practice friendship. Religion, then, is unconsciously performing acts of kindness, “being on terms of friendship and intimacy with God, and good friends with Jesus Christ.”

There is an increasing demand for mechanical engineers to fill important posts in industry, the graduates of Pennsylvania State College reported recently.

To maintain and strengthen the bond which exists between Drexel Institute and its alumni, special courses in Alumni Education have been established at the Philadelphia institution.
The clean Center Leaves are the mildest leaves

They Taste Better!

WHEREVER the finest tobaccos grow—in our own Southland, in Turkey, in Greece—all over the world, we gather the very Cream of the tobacco Crops for Lucky Strike. And that means only the clean center leaves. The center leaves are the mildest leaves—they taste better and farmers are paid higher prices for them. These clean center leaves are the only ones used in making Luckies. Then "It's toasted"—for throat protection. And every Lucky is fully packed with these choice tobaccos—made round and firm, free from loose ends—that's why Luckies "keep in condition"—why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker. Naturally, Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.

 Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

"It's toasted"
✓ Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

Only the Center Leaves—these are the Mildest Leaves

They Taste Better
KINSEY TALKS ON LIBERAL EDUCATION (Concluded from page 1, column 2)

value or ideal which they are striving for...because the realization of intellectual honesty and on the other hand personal deceit are not always clear in our consciousness. The very difficulty that the student experiences in being intellectually honest comes as a result of unfortunate inconsistencies and predetermined ideas passed upon him by certain aspects of the educational system itself. The educational system is not limited to the school or college; it includes the home, the neighborhood and community, the church, and the nation. All in addition to those institutions which are referred to formally as educational. All too often each and all of these institutions in their ways clear in our consciousness.

I am not writing this to criticize the sincerity and sincerity of our local student body, because perhaps, if one were to look at the student body as a general thing, but one is forced to a position of skepticism with regard to some individuals of the student body. This vitreous outburst comes because of certain observations I made at the time. In view of this fact, it does not seem too much to ask that such an issue be kept as clean as on-campus houses; that every house be supplied with a laundry upstairs; that there be a kitchenette for the exclusive use of the students; that the house telephone be enclosed in a booth; that in addition to the sitting room on the ground floor, one of the upstairs rooms be turned into a lounge for the use of the girls alone. Quite a few of the off-campus houses will be used for some years. In view of this fact, it does not seem too much to ask that such an issue be kept as clean as on-campus houses; that every house be supplied with a laundry upstairs; that there be a kitchenette for the exclusive use of the students; that the house telephone be enclosed in a booth; that in addition to the sitting room on the ground floor, one of the upstairs rooms be turned into a lounge for the use of the girls alone. Quite a few of the off-campus houses will be used for some years. In view of this fact, it does not seem too much to ask that such an issue be kept as clean as on-campus houses; that every house be supplied with a laundry upstairs; that there be a kitchenette for the exclusive use of the students; that the house telephone be enclosed in a booth; that in addition to the sitting room on the ground floor, one of the upstairs rooms be turned into a lounge for the use of the girls alone. Quite a few of the off-campus houses will be used for some years. In view of this fact, it does not seem too much to ask that such an issue be kept as clean as on-campus houses; that every house be supplied with a laundry upstairs; that there be a kitchenette for the exclusive use of the students; that the house telephone be enclosed in a booth; that in addition to the sitting room on the ground floor, one of the upstairs rooms be turned into a lounge for the use of the girls alone. Quite a few of the off-campus houses will be used for some years. In view of this fact, it does not seem too much to ask that such an issue be kept as clean as on-campus houses; that every house be supplied with a laundry upstairs; that there be a kitchenette for the exclusive use of the students; that the house telephone be enclosed in a booth; that in addition to the sitting room on the ground floor, one of the upstairs rooms be turned into a lounge for the use of the girls alone. Quite a few of the off-campus houses will be used for some years. In view of this fact, it does not seem too much to ask that such an issue be kept as clean as on-campus houses; that every house be supplied with a laundry upstairs; that there be a kitchenette for the exclusive use of the students; that the house telephone be enclosed in a booth; that in addition to the sitting room on the ground floor, one of the upstairs rooms be turned into a lounge for the use of the girls alone. Quite a few of the off-campus houses will be used for some years. In view of this fact, it does not seem too much to ask that such an issue be kept as clean as on-campus houses; that every house be supplied with a laundry upstairs; that there be a kitchenette for the exclusive use of the students; that the house telephone be enclosed in a booth; that in addition to the sitting room on the ground floor, one of the upstairs rooms be turned into a lounge for the use of the girls alone. Quite a few of the off-campus houses will be used for some years. In view of this fact, it does not seem too much to ask that such an issue be kept as clean as on-campus houses; that every house be supplied with a laundry upstairs; that there be a kitchenette for the exclusive use of the students; that the house telephone be enclosed in a booth; that in addition to the sitting room on the ground floor, one of the upstairs rooms be turned into a lounge for the use of the girls alone. Quite a few of the off-campus houses will be used for some years. In view of this fact, it does not seem too much to ask that such an issue be kept as clean as

TATE AND NEILAN
Mark Cross Gloves
Merryweather Hats
Gifts for Men
Neckwear
Street
State and Green Streets

Katharine Gibbs School
SPECIAL COURSE FOR COLLEGE WOMEN
Secretarial and Executive Training
Courses begin July 3 and September 21
For catalog address College Secretary
39 Marborough St.
547 Park Avenue
155 Angell Street
Boston New York Providence

FREE SPEECH (Concluded from page 2, column 5)

We all say nothing else.

ENNIS SHOP
250 State St.
Next to Woman's Shop

May Sale
Lamps - Stationery Prints
Rety Special for May —the best yet!

COLLEGE BOOKSHOP

THE CROCKER HOUSE
NEW LONDON, CONN.

SCHOOL OF NURSING AT YALE UNIVERSITY
A Profession for the College Woman
The thirty months’ course, providing an intensive and varied experience through the case study method, leads to the degree of Master of Nursing.

A Bachelor’s degree in arts, science or philosophy from a college of approved standing is re- quired. Prerequisite to enrollment in this program are available to students with advanced qualifications.

For catalogue and information write.

THE DEAN
YALE SCHOOL OF NURSING
New Haven, Connecticut
The youth is thus forestalled in his incentive, if such there be to begin with, to possess himself honestly in his thoughts about his world and himself. He dare not think freely, nor judge ideas in a temperate, rational balance, or if he dare, he cannot, as a result of inhibiting emotional forces that have been so thoroughly cultivated as to act discount and equate for them to their skin.

5.

KINSEY TALKS ON LIBERAL EDUCATION

(Concluded from page 5, column 1)

thrown into confusion and conflict as a result of believing in it. Either this is painfully true or else the mind of youth must be deadened to any further revelations.

The youth is thus forestalled in his incentive, if such there be to begin with, to possess himself honestly in his thoughts about his world and himself. He dare not think freely, nor judge ideas in a temperate, rational balance, or if he dare, he cannot, as a result of inhibiting emotional forces that have been so thoroughly cultivated as to act discount and equate for them to their skin.