Connecticut College

Digital Commons @ Connecticut College

1963-1964 Student Newspapers

3-19-1964

Conn Census Vol. 49 No. 18

Connecticut College

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/ccnews_1963_1964

Recommended Citation

Connecticut College, "Conn Census Vol. 49 No. 18" (1964). 1963-1964. 3. https://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/ccnews_1963_1964/3

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. It has been accepted for inclusion in 1963-1964 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. For more information, please contact bpancier@conncoll.edu. The views expressed in this paper are solely those of the author.

CONN CENSUS

CONNECTICUT

Vol. 49-No. 18

New London, Connecticut, Thursday, March 19, 1964

Price 10 Cents

Secretary-General for NATO Gives U.S. Press Conference

General of NATO, held his first Indonesia should look to its do-U.S. press conference at Tufts mestic problems before it creates University on Monday, March 16. The Dutch banker and businessman turned diplomat met with members of the press, radio, television and representatives of schools and colleges to answer their questions on everything from the function of NATO to the chances of nuclear war.

When asked whether the Western bloc or the Soviet bloc is stronger, Dr. Stikker replied, "The West by far." He said, Since defense planning into the "There is very little chance of all-out nuclear or conventional is unlikely that any country will war in the near future." He claimed that nuclear plenty is a kind of guarantee of peace, and that no country is likely to run the risk of annihilating the world population. But, he warned, the West should remain united, "with forces to react to anything that might happen." A scientific breakthrough, he added, would be dangerous because it would upset the present "balance of terror."

Dr. Stikker said that NATO is becoming a diplomatic force. Its members meet weekly to discuss the political issues of the world. This consultation can influence thus NATO can mitigate conflicts in ways short of sending in

Of the strained relations between Indonesia and Malaysia, ment."

Dr. Dirk Stikker, Secretary-the Secretary-General said that something in the character of Sukarno, with whom Dr. Stikker has a longstanding personal acquaintance, that "just can't help

> When told by a member of the press that DeGaulle would like to see a reorganization of NATO, Dr. Stikker replied mildly that there had never been an official request for a new organization. seventies is being carried on, it

> In response to a question about what NATO could do about the Cypress situation, Dr. Stikker said that the United Kingdom, Greece and Turkey should be protecting Cypress, and that this can only be done through the U.N. NATO has no standing contribution of forces and takes no active part in any war. There is no official relationship of mutual aid exists between them.

Dr. Stikker was charming, informative and quietly humorous. When a high school student the attitudes of the countries, and ventured to ask if the Soviet Union would join NATO, the head of that organization answered mildly, "Not at the present mo-

Peace Corps officials announce that college seniors still have time to apply for the Peace Corps and enter training this summer. Appli-cations filed as late as June 1st could still be processed in time for entrance into one of the training programs be-ginning in middle and late

College Grants Class of 1964 24 Gold Keys

Delta chapter of Phi Beta Kap pa announced this week that it has elected to membership the largest single group of seniors ever accorded this high academic honor since the chapter was established at Connecticut College

On March 24, twenty-four members of the class of 1964 will be awarded the coveted gold keys by Professor Julia Bower, president of Delta chapter. Dinner will follow the initiation ceremonies in Crozier-Williams Center.

The College's newest "Phi Betes" include two Woodrow Wilson Fellows-elect, three honorable mention winners in the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation competition, a former editor of ConnCensus, the 1964 editor of Koine, and the former president of Student Government.

The seniors and their fields of academic concentration are: Susan Allan, history; Patricia Arnold, English; Jennette Campbell, chemistry; Judith Canciani, classics; Jocelyn Coburn, economics; Linda Cohen, history; Mrs. Sandra Burger Constantine, zoology; Judy Cosler, mathematics; Vir-ginia Draper, English; Carol Fairfax, religion; Deane Fischer, philosophy; Jean H. Goldberg, history; Muriel Harman, Rus-sian; Judith Kreiger, psychology; Susan Lates, English: Carol Mc-Susan Lates, English; Carol Mc-Neary, philosophy; Carolyn May, art; Judith Milstein, psychology; Rebecca Owens, history; Marcia Phillips, English; Susan Roessner, Spanish; Fay Shutsky, zoology; Michelle Veysey, zoology; and Joanna Warner, French.

Tabulated by departments, the Tabulated by departments, the lion's share of academic laurels is divided between English and history, each of which produced four new Phi Beta Kappas. Zoology is next highest with three majors; two others come from the philosophy department. The balance is divided between 11 academic departments with one major each. Board of Trustees ed her mother into an acting ca-Names Mr. Centeno Professor Emeritus lege, has been awarded the rank lege's Board of Trustees. Failing health necessitated Mr. Centeno's resignation from the faculty last summer.

During World War II Mr. Centeno served as instructor, interpreter, and translator for the In-

Before joining the Connecticut ing the first woman to stage op-College faculty in 1952, he had era at "The Met." pletely unaccompanied except, of course, for the clapping of hands.

Tickets for the Sunday afternoon performance will be on sale lecturer at Middlebury, Smith, briefly at the Phi Beta Kappa honors project in classics is de-

W. W. Scholarship winners: Arnold, Schanz, and Krieger

Foundation Grants 3 Seniors Woodrow Wilson Fellowships

son Fellowships to support their National Fellowship Foundation first year of graduate study. They plan to do graduate study leading to the Ph.D. and to enter Krieger and Holly Lee Schanz were among 1,507 U.S. and Canadian college seniors selected of $1,800 plus dependency allowances. Candidates are nominated by faculty members of their Only twenty-seven percent of this year's winners are women.

Another three Connecticut College seniors were accorded honorable mention awards in the 1964 competition. They are Linda Cohen, Muriel Harman and Marcia Winning a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship is one of the most prized academic distinctions that can be achieved by a college sen-ior. Established in 1957 and sup-

Margaret Webster To Address College Honor Convocation

Margaret Webster, noted as one of the most versatile fig-ures of the contemporary American theater, will address the Honors Convocation Tuesday, March 24.

Miss Webster, daughter of England's beloved Dame May Whitty who is still remembered for her roles on stage and screen, will speak on "Classics for Moderns" at 8 p.m. in Palmer Auditorium.

Although Miss Webster followreer and made her theatrical debut in London in John Barrymore's Hamlet, she is undoubtedly most widely known for her talents as a dramatic director. Many New York and London critics regard her as the finest liv-

She directed Maurice Evans in Richard II and Hamlet, Helen of professor emeritus by the Col- Hayes in Twelfth Night and Robeson-Ferrer in Othello. She also was the director for the Old Vic's recent production of Measure for Measure and for Stratford-on-Avon's The Merchant of Venice. With Eva LeGalliene, Miss Webster was a co-founder of the ter-American Defense Board American Repertory Theatre and has the added distinction of be-

Three Connecticut College sen-jors have received Woodrow Wil-Foundation, the Woodrow Wilson is dedicated to developing college teachers for tomorrow.

In addition to receiving full tuition and fees for the first year careers in college teaching.

Patricia Arnold, Judith Ann of study at the graduate school of his choice, a Woodrow Wilson Fellow also is awarded a stipend by faculty members of their home institutions and are screened by regional and national selection committees composed of college presidents, deans, and professors.

All three of the College's new Woodrow Wilson Fellows are doing honors research in the areas of their major academic concentration and each has ranked consistently high on dean's list. All did their college preparatory work at public high schools.

Patricia Arnold is an English major who has done honors research on the influence of evolutionary thought on Tennyson, Meredith and Hardy. During her junior and senior years she has been editor of Insight. As a sen-ior she has carried additional responsibility as housefellow for Plant.

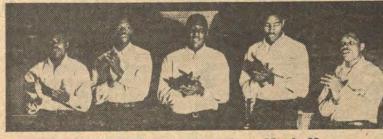

Judy Krieger is preparing an honors thesis based on her research on the psychological determiners of academic under-andover-achievement. She is also doing individual study within the department of philosophy on Suzanne Langer's aesthetic.

As a senior Judy is serving as an undergraduate teaching assistant in psychology and is a member of the editorial board of Connecticut College Psychology Journal.

Holly Schanz, a classics major, will complete her requirements for the bachelor's degree in three years. She entered Connecticut College with twelve points of credit from the C.E.E.B. advanced placement tests and earned another sixteen points on the College's achievement tests administered at the beginning of her freshman year.

At Harvard last summer, Holly completed a year's course in German in eight weeks, finishing among the top eleven in a class of 60. She was one of only two students elected to Phi Beta Kappa at the end of her junior year, an honor which carries with it membership in the Society of Winthrop Scholars.

voted to an analysis of "Intensity as Reflected in the Style of Catullus."

Freedom Singers will perform March 22

Freedom Singers to Perform At Palmer Auditorium Sunday

at Palmer Auditorium. Admission to the concert will be a $1.00 contribution to SNCC the state of the song state of the s tribution to SNCC, the student James Peacock, 28, of Charlesgroup which is largely responsible for the progress of the integration movement in the areas of transportation, voting, education, and public accommoda-

The five boys who make up the singing groups are widely exprienced in the integration struggle and are certainly the "battle scarred youngsters" that Howard Zinn has written of.

Marshall Jones of Knoxville, Tenn., joined SNCC after graduating from Florida A and M. He Nashville during demonstrations bination of folk singing and gosto desegregate facilities in that pel. They sing blues, mostly concity. Chuck Neblett, 22, of Car- cerned with the agonies and horbondale, Illinois, became active in rors of the freedom struggle and the integration movement while the Negro fight for equality. Ofthe was studying at Southern Illinois University. He left school by changing the words and the to work for SNCC in Mississippi harmony. Their singing is com-Freedom Singers who sang, course, for the clapping of hands. among numerous other places, at Carnegie Hall and the Newport

On Sunday, March 22, at 4:00 with SNCC while he was a stup.m., the Freedom Singers, five dent at Tennessee State in Nashformer field workers for the Stu- ville. A former school teacher, dent Non-Violent Coordinating Matthew lost his job because of Committee (SNCC) will perform his civil rights activity. He has in voter registration work in South Carolina and Greenwood, Jackson and Vicksburg, Missis-

Emery Harris is a native of Albany, Georgia, one of the southern cities that has seen the greatest of SNCC activities. He has been very active in civil rights Professor Augusto Centeno, for ics regard her as the finest activities. Emery is following in 11 years chairman of the Spanish ing Shakespearean director. been very active in civil rights the footsteps of his brother who department at Connecticut Colwas a member of the original Freedom Singers.

The Freedom Singers sing songs and Negro spirituals adaptwas arrested seventeen times in ed by them. Their style is a comen they adapt traditional songs harmony. Their singing is comand was a member of the original pletely unaccompanied except, of taught at the University of Colo-

Folk Festival.

Matthew Jones, a veteran of twenty arrests, became involved in Falmer Auditorium.

Folk Festival.

In Fanning on Thursday and Friday and Wellesley Colleges and at dinner in honor of the 24 seniors of twenty arrests, became involved concert in Palmer Auditorium.

Folk Festival.

In Fanning on Thursday and Friday and Wellesley Colleges and at dinner in honor of the 24 seniors of twenty arrests, became involved concert in Palmer Auditorium.

ConnCensus

Established 1916

Published by the students of Connecticut College every Thursday throughout the college year from September to June, except during mid-years and vacations.

Second class entry authorized at New London, Connecticut.

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY National Advertising Service, Inc. College Publishers Representative 18 East 50 St. New York, N. Y. Member

Associated Collegiate Press Intercollegiate Press

Editor-in-Chief Gerry Oliva

Managing Editor Milanne Rehor

	Editorial Staff
Copy Editor Assistant Copy Editor Makeup Editors Advertising Manager Business Manager Circulation Exchange Editors	Janet Matthews '66 Barbara Brush '67 Virginia Chambers '65 Tessa Miller '66, Cynthia Miller '66 Martha Williams '65 Janet Sandberg '66 Wendy Casman '67, Betsy Rawson '67 Judy Bailen '65 Barbara Slotnik '65 Carol Davis '65 Nancy Herrick '66, Carolyn Shimkus '63
Photographer

Nancy Baum '65, Sally Higgins '65, Karen Kunstler '65, Joan Ross '64, Marge Tupling '65.

Kate Curtis, Rae Downes, Lizzie Dean, Marcia Geyer, Bridget Donahue Carolyn Lewis, Emily Littman, Mary Miller, Merry Usher, Anne Keer, Marianna Kaufman, Alice Daghlian, Kathy Moon, Jane Gnutti, Joan Kowal Kathy Ritchell, Margaret Alton, Lillian Morales.

Editorial

In view of Joanna Warner's farewell address it seems appropriate that Conn Census make a serious evaluation of this year's events and draw together those phases of campus activity which have commanded our attention and criticism in the past months. In both looking over these events as a whole and demonstrating a trend for the future we must express satisfaction and optimism. Rather than wait until May 1 we think this review is more valuable at the present time, since it is at this time that plans are being made for next year's programs and it is now that changes which will affect campus life are being considered.

We have echoed many times in the past the condemnation of apathy and the cry for student commitment. Our efforts have not gone unheard. We see around us a new and lively student body making plans and finding meaning in its actions. The campus has reflected the dynamism and enthusiasm of its inhabitants. This semester there has been endless opportunity for association and discussion with experts in many fields who have been invited by campus organizations. Hardly a day passes without some lecture or program.

The fact that we had two impressive conferences within a two-week period is indicative of the new attitude prevalent. Conn Quest and the IRC weekends both gave broader scope to the education which we receive. We could look beyond the the laws of mauvaise for pages of Professor Lukacs' book to the diplomatic world revealed by the consul generals, to the practical applications of the economic theories to which we have been exposed. The conference idea has been something of a phenomenon on this campus. From having one small conference last year we have expanded to three large ones this year and plans are being made for at least four next year.

Along with this outward expansion there has been serious interest demonstrated in making real changes in student government and many of the suggestions presented are beformulated into concrete proposals. A reorganization is of the human being to rebel To the Editor: underway by which the House of Representatives will take on against unjust laws. I had hoped its true legislative functions as defined in the constitution. The honor system is being seriously questioned for the first

The faculty is bursting with new projects involving com-munity activity. A number have received sizable research grants. They have given noticeable support to student-faculty programs and have attended many of the recent events. Their enthusiasm surely was most evident in the Faculty Show to which they devoted much effort and which was received with put into focus the unbelievable equal enthusiasm by the students.

Our pages have been filled with an amusing number of new and different student and faculty endeavors ranging from experimental theater to our bond drive. We have grown from a four page biweekly to an overflowing six page weekly which is exceeding any expectations of a year ago. This is part of the growing student support.

Commitment and involvement have been made meaningful words on this campus. They can no longer be satirically or flipantly used to characterize the ramblings of snack shop philosophers. We are offended at such implications. The student body has proven beyond a doubt that it can and will act on its principles and that it can see further than Williams deed, the concept of race as a legal criterion (shared in today's legal criterion (shared in today's S.E.H. '65' Continued on Page 6

Beyond the Wall

Next year, on a trial basis, Brown University will institute a two week reading period at the end of each semester. This new plan will serve to eliminate the useless week of classes immediately following Christmas vaca-

Robert W. Morse, dean of the College, announced that these reading periods are to be a "period in which students are encouraged to bring things together and work on their own." Departments will probably hold two-week study periods for courses that require a great deal of reading, such as humanities and advanced science courses. Introductory courses will probably continue to hold class-

Roy Schafer, the Yale psychologist who testified that Ruby suffered from an organic brain disease, reported surprise at the 'speed and flatness" of the jury's decision. The jury apparently disregarded his testimony that Ruby is a victim of psychomotor epi lepsy, a condition characterized by states in which the person acts impulsively with no subsequent memory of his actions. Mr. Scha-

Letters to Editor

To the Editor:

Karen Stothert's answer to of clarification.

It seems to be characteristic of social bodies that are unwilling to grant full civil rights to all their members to display an excessive concern for questions of legality. Certainly the Germany of the National Socialists as well as that of today's communists has never lacked provisions of legality and civil order while many of her citizens were subject to punishment and persecution, yet this order was built on ideas that lacked the principle of justice. Is the legal process in Southern state and municipal courts by contrast based on unadulterated justice?

Karen Stothert's optimism in this respect is, I am afraid, more than a little unfounded if we may judge the state of civil liberty in the United States by the results of its judicial system during the last 100 years. She might let her conscience speak in answer to the question whether the continued disrespect to the human rights of a racial minority in Southern states is consist ent with constitutionally granted justice, as it may perhaps be with

To the Editor:

Both Cynthia Miller and Karen Stothert are such fine musicians that I don't particularly relish the obligation to reply to Miss Stothert's answer to my letter. However, her use of the word fallacy does not leave me an alternative.

Kurt Opitz

What was and is at stake is the fundamental question of the right that it was unnecessary to be even more explicit when addressing Connecticut College students. It seems necessary to spell out the difference between law in a democracy and "law" in the sovereign states of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, and Louisiana. For the value of Mardi Walker's act, criticized by Miss Miller, is to condition of Negroes in the state of Georgia. Even the notorious racist judge Pye could indict Mardi of nothing more than a "trespassing" offense. The sentence he imposed is all the more shocking: 18 months plus $1,000 is what one would expect to see leveled at a common criminal.

Therefore, my comparing conditions in the South with Colonial days or with Nazi rule can be called a fallacy only if we delibfer, a clinical psychologist Yale's Department of University Health, had based his testimony on a series of tests administered to Ruby in late December.

Professor Revilo Oliver, pro-fessor of classics at the University of Illinois, charged in the John Birch Society magazine, American Opinion, that President Kennedy was assassinated be-cause he had not been able to turn the United States over to the Kremlin by the 1963 deadline. Oliver admits that he is expressing personal opinion, not that of the University. Nevertheless, many citizens have demanded that he be removed from his post as professor. His statement has raised many questions concerning professional responsibility.

There seems little chance that Oliver will be fired as was Professor Leo Koch, who condoned sexual intercourse between mature students in a letter to the University's student paper. Three weeks after the letter appeared in 1961 Koch was dismissed, ostensibly for his inadequacy as an instructor.

world only by South Africa) is the most exact equivalent to Nazi law. In the U.S. Senate, less than a week ago, a Senator from the South, on filibustering duty, had to admit publicly that the minority keeps the majority from exercising its right to vote. Professor Bieber's letter (issue of Senator Ellender of Louisiana March 5) suggests a few words said so, to the surprise only of his own confederates.

Since Miss Stothert impugns the validity of my comparisons, I will give her one more example where "laws" have been broken for the sake of mankind in general and of women in particular. Those Suffragettes that were trampled underfoot by mounted police did indeed break the 'law," with the result that today women enjoy equal rights to men in our democracy.

K. Bieber

To the Editor:

It is a known fact as the "conservative" Misses Livingston and Bennett stated in their letter last week, that only 566 of the 1300 students enrolled in this institution of the liberal arts took part in last Wednesday's FREEDOM FAST. This is a deplorable fact. To know that 3/5 of the studentbody could not give up one meal for fellow country-men who are starving is astounding and disgusting. When the fact is brought home to us that others in our country are starving to death, for any reason whatever, it is our To the Editor: privilege, as well-fed ones, to immediately come to their aid with feelings of concern and love-not withholding of succor. The fact are not allowed to vote and starve as a consequence of their atstudents did not give one meal to quet, March 12, 1964. their brothers is infamous.

Joan Ross '64

tolerance and liberality, if anything deserves full condemnation, it is a supposedly gentlemanly brotherhood in New Haven. Last Saturday, March 14, the majority of the young men of this respected organization PLANNED for Connecticut College undergrads a filth and barbarism, offensive to person, regardless of his sex. My disgust is more than lady-like, so I will not run on into hackneyed terms of indignation. But, if your inclination is to smile indulgently and twitter, "Boys will be boys," take a moment to consider before train-time some weekend this spring this less than huloved brothers in academic baterately close our eyes to the fact upon themselves uniformly to inthat Southern "Justice" in no sult us, certainly it is only the Theard we are going to pick our gyman major next with we are to limit our selves to only one Sport. This year. is exactly what is The aim is to be proficient in the one sport while having cars abilities in minor fields. This is a wonderThis is a wo necessarily to one profession after we graduate.

And too, it is possible to change the major up to senior year, until we "find ourselves" any way, which affords along time to decide along time to decides well as tasting / everything offered of course the curriculum will be enlarged and class time decreased do so that we can de - = vote smore time on concentration.

Se nior year is for individual

for individual

with the faculty and applying our skills to every day life.

In And to continue Connecticut's Hegemony in Athletics, comps will be oral and practical with one small part essay. Diplomas will be distributed by the Dean of Athletics.

Fis And the Connigirl Will step into life as the toughest muscleheaded woman in the American Intelligentsia.

SOF

I write this letter as a last resort in dealing with a situation that has arisen and which eviwith judgment and the vindictive dently cannot be coped with in any other manner—the inordithat people starve in our country nate abuse of the kitchen and our is appalling; the fact that people kitchen facilities on this campus, particularly in the North Complex. As a point of reference may tempts to vote is horrorful; the I cite the events that occurred fact that 740 Connecticut College on the night of the Honors Ban-

The kitchen staff had gone to considerable time and expense to prepare and give a beautiful banquet. My concern is not the Even in our college environ- banquet itself-for it truly was ment of bending-over-backward beautiful-but the absolute bedlam that was created because of Point one: Due to the banquet, students from Park, Marshall, and Lambdin were reassigned to specified dining rooms so that the respective kitchens could handle the evening's meal. What ensued performance of unprecedented was a disgrace! Students in filth and barbarism, offensive to plain disregard came either to the sensibilities of any civilized dinner with the waitresses or ate in dining rooms other than the ones to which they had been requested to go. The result was that a serious shortage threatened.

Point two: When the non-banqueters completed their meals, they were asked to leave the hallway-what ensued seems preposmanly considerate side of our be- terous for a college community! Groups of people continued to tle. And reflect: as they took it upon themselves uniformly to in"picked" and tried to sample that Southern "Justice" in no way excels Colonial justice, and is barely above Nazi legality. Indeed, the concept of race as a legality was entired to sample anything that was edible. Not only were they a hazard to overload deed, the concept of race as a legality was edible. Not only were they a hazard to overload deed, the concept of race as a legality was edible. Not only were they a hazard to overload deed, the concept of race as a legality was edible. Not only were they a hazard to overload deed, the concept of race as a legality was edible.

Topic: U.S. and European Econom

Lukacs Opens IRC Weekend; Emphasizes 'Idea of Europe'

The International Relations racy. In his vivid and realistic Club Conference, "The United description, Professor Lukacs described postwar Europe as a by Professor Lukacs' lecture,
"The Development of a European Consciousness." In a historical context, Professor Lukacs discussed the development of the "idea of Europe," with an emphasis on the spirit and mores and the deeper aspects of European political life.

Professor Lukacs stressed that the concept of Europe as a geo-

the concept of Europe as a geo-graphical and cultural unit is a eral. comparatively recent one, and Professor Lukacs described the was not commonly recognized unsearch for a European conscioustil the eighteenth century enlightenment, During this period

two developments in the nineteenth century which blurred or arrested the "idea of Europe": the rise of the United States and other republics and the rise of nationalism and the development of homogeneous countries.

Professor Lukac's discussion of twentieth century Europe included vivid descriptions of postwar Eastern Europe and the western cities. World War II, he said, left a "dazed, weakened continental spirit" which caused Europe to pay "surprisingly little atten-tion to the atomic bomb." The World War II aftermath, however, was a "strange, positive contrast" to that of World War I. This contrast was characterized by a "turning inward of the spirit of the European people" amid the apathy and the bitterness. Lukacs asserted that "only "The prevailing spirit . . . was through the existence of a Euronot revolutionary." The dominant pean consciousness will there idea was that of Christian democ- ever be a united Europe."

ness as a consequence of the "decline of the European state systhe significant concept of the "rights of the individual" emerged, in opposition to the total despotism of Asia.

Continuing his chronological cline of the European state system on the one hand, and the rise of a European consciousness on the other." As a primary cause of this search he cited the European consciousness on the other." As a primary cause of this search he cited the European consciousness on the other. Continuing his chronological pean predicament of identifying survey, Professor Lukacs cited with neither Russia nor the United States.

> In focusing upon Europe and the United States, Professor Lukacs discussed the unification of the European states on the Swiss system of confederation rather than on the United States federal system. The Swiss system successfully preserves the diversity of its people, while the United States emphasizes the homogeneity of its people.

Professor Lukacs ended his formal lecture with a strong emphasis on the peculiar demands of a European consciousness. His final quotation from de Toqueville stressed that liberty is not at-tainable merely through the American system.

In the question period which followed the lecture, Professor Lukacs asserted that "only members, representing England, France, and Germany, expressed the views of their respective countries on the Common Market. As this discussion was intended to broaden the scope of the conference, the representa-tives devoted a large part of their talk to an analysis of the internal factors which characterized their views. Noting the eminent qualithe value of their discussion was due to the authoritative comments made by the delegates. The panel discussion was a rare and invaluable opportunity to hear a first-hand report of a matter of such international concern.

IRS panelists, left to right: Auchincloss, Lukacs, Legendre, Holbern, Schmidt-Schlegel and Williams

French, English, German Consuls Give Views on Market; Reflect Nations' Diverse Attitudes Toward European Unity

However, it is in the latent consequences of those speeches, viewed as a whole, that the real value of the conference lies. The diverse character of their views emphasizes the existence of conflicting interests which have hindered the attempts at economic and political unity in Europe. The audience came to the somber realization that such conflicts, though not deep, are still of very broad dimensions.

In his opening remarks, M. Mi-chel Legendre, Consul General of France, stressed the political and a startling but effective contrast conomic changes which have after the polished but humorless fected Europe in the last five rhetoric of the French Consul. years. "Such changes have caused" Sir Alan stressed the special A pessimistic attitude, though it may have flourished in the minds of United States economists, was not noticed across the Atlantic. The nations of the EEC were at this time undergoing a period of great industrial expansion. There was a sense of accomplishment gained because of their surplus in balance of payments.

Despite this great economic boom, however, the EEC was faced with the serious problems of consolidating its many varied serious problems are problems of united though the may have flourished in the temporary and superficial misunderstandings of which we must realize factors which have influenced themporary and superficial misunders factor for this opening remarks were indicative of the tenor of the rest of his comments. "We have been rewarding a welfare two of the comments. "We have been reproached with being a welfare two of the comments. "We have been reproached with being a welfare the discussion was not especially that the past." He went on to illustrate the effect of these changes. In the political sphere, the interval of the space and atomic age has caused a change in the importance of alliances. Although the strength of such alliances is like the past. The fixing of a grain price factors which have influenced themporary and superficial misunders which have influenced themporary and superficial misunders that the political sphere this present trade policies. His opening remarks were indicative of the tenor of the rest of his comments. "We have been reproached with being a welfare two of the comming the discussion and a welfare the effect of these changes. The questions of the discussion and rather superficial answers. The views expressed by the panel was devoted to a dispassionate analysis of the conditions under the factors which have influenced themporatry againts for the tenor of the rest of hi of consolidating its many varied the 'new question' of annihilainterests. During the vulnerable tion. France believes, therefore, that she must provide her own on our doorstep we would feel nuclear force. In consequence, as strongly about it as you do. she must be considered an equal However, a trade boycott is not partner in the Atlantic alliance. The economic change has been even more far-reaching, and it has been caused by the European Miracle'-its recovery since the war. The result is the Common Market, "the greatest and boldest achievement of modern times . . an indestructible reality." M. Legendre then spoke of the vast increase in imports of the Common Market from the United the loss of all her empire, "in-States and England, which he cluding Rurma Ireland South said "illustrates its goal of wider markets and better foreign relations." Obviously, the Common

The panel discussion which concluded the International Relations Club Conference on Saturday policy.' He also mentioned the proved to be one of the most enlightening debates we have wit-nessed on this campus. The panel to preserve and strengthen its original character. In due time, of course, other nations would be admitted.

He concluded his talk with a short review of the present state of France. He spoke of her tremendous progress in the political, economic and educational areas. M. Legendre was optimis tic toward the future as were the other delegates. It would appear fications of the speakers, part of in view of his remarks and the present policies of his country, that he had every reason to be so. In fact, his very positive at-titude conveyed the impression that France is 'quite' satisfied with the progress she has made and is continuing to make. In this world of unstable governments and recruiting crises, such Germany's relations with the an attitude is refreshing albeit United States, indicating that his somewhat 'disconcerting.

English Opinion Differs

It is often said that the Eng-lish Channel has effected far greater separations than its original geographical purpose intended. The truth of this statement was proved once more in the person of Sir Alan Williams, Consul-General of Great Britain. His style of speech characterized by a dry and subtle humor provided don't trade, we don't eat." Sir Alan agreed that "If we had Cuba really admissible in peacetime." He again admitted, "We depend on trade . . ." On the subject of imports, he noted, "If we can't buy abroad, we can't sell."

He followed the example of M. Legendre in discussing the nature of alliances, and England's attitude toward them. He spoke of the great changes in England's history which have resulted in cluding Burma, Ireland, South Africa and several more. Such losses must be compensated, and therefore England relies on alliances for security. This is quite a different attitude from that of M. Legendre.

He turned to a consideration of the Common Market, noting that "England is the thorn between two Common Market roses." His comments were obviously brief. England does want to join the Common Market although, "That won't happen just Sir Alan concluded his speech with a few predictions of the future. The main question will be the problem of underdeveloped countries. To raise their standard of living, the prosperous nations must buy their simple products, which will be severely damaging to domestic industry.

Sir Alan was quite realistic toward the present internal and foreign trade problems. The tone of his remarks was so forceful and direct that they were a vivid contrast to the atmosphere of confidence and optimism inspired by M. Legendre's typical French policy statement.

Divided Germany Relies More on Alliances

The third and final speaker was Dr. Philip Schmidt-Schlegel, Consul of the United German Republic in Boston. In his speech he emphasized the importance of country's entry into the Common Market had made no difference in these relations. Since Germany is divided, she depends entirely on alliances for her secur-

He believed that a possible solution to the problem of England's admission to the Common Market may be found when France discovers that the maintenance of a nuclear force is an expensive proposition.

He concluded his discussion by speaking of the all-important problem of agriculture in Germany. The fixing of a grain price will be an improvement factor for opinions expressed per se, but in a comparison of these views.

Students planning to make application in the fall of 1964 for admission to medical schools in the fall of 1965 should take the Medical College Admission Test on Sat., April 25, 1964. Application form and examination fee are due by April 11 at the very latest. A limited number of announcement booklets and application blanks are available from Mr. Kent in the zoology department; students planning to take the examination should obtain these at once to allow time for writing for blanks if the supply on hand is exhausted.

Students are also advised that application forms should be obtained from medical schools during the spring and should be submitted on the earliest date permitted by any given school (this is usually, but not always, July 1.

K. Auchincloss, IRC Speaker, Discusses Trade Negotiations The influence of the European new determination to do someEconomic Community on world thing about this "lopsided" and trade negotiations was the topic of discussion at the Saturday sage of his far-reaching and unmeeting of the International Relations Club's Annual Conference on World Affairs. Mr. Kenneth Auchincloss, Executive Assistant to Christian Herter for the White House Trade Office, gave an extensive and comprehensive summary of the events leading up to the Kennedy Round trade negotiations to be held this May 4 at Geneva. This world trade conference, which will hopefully last a year, will attempt to work out a mutual lowering of tariffs to assist trade expansion. The primary participants will be the United States, Great Britain, and the EEC (Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Luxembourg, and the Netherlands), though other nations will have a substantial say in the negotiations, if they can make themselves heard over the boom of these big powers.

Mr. Auchincloss' speech dealt lem confronting the EEC, therewith the events leading up to the fore, was not only one of exter-European Economic Community nal expansion, as was the case in and the United States' awareness of the necessity of having a ternal consolidation. world trade conference. Towards the end of the Eisenhower admin-istration, the United States be-which will be encountered this came faced with a serious threat summer. Past trade negotiations, to its economy—the newly created Common Market. One ques have shown the futility of lowertion was to be heard again and again: How were United States ucts. Lack of agreement in this businessmen to compete on an equal par with this economic ferences in the productivity of community which was pledged to eliminate tariffs between the member nations and to create a common external tariff against an interesting look at the Kennon-members? At this same time, nedy Round. Because of his inthe United States was faced with effective speaking style, however, a balance of payments deficit and Mr. Auchincloss unfortunately a drain on its gold supply. The lost much of the impact of a year 1960 brought with it not well-prepared and intelligently only a new administration, but a structured speech.

precedented Trade Expansion Act of 1962, President Kennedy launched a new era in United States-Europe trade relations.

period of its early existence, the EEC had to first perfect its internal organization, and then work on coordinating its trade patterns The most interesting part of with the outside world. The probthe United States, but one of in-

Mr. Auchincloss' talk also dealt including the Dillman attempt, ing tariffs on agricultural prodfield has resulted from the difeach nation.

Mr. Auchincloss' speech was explanatory and enlightening-

Herr von Schlippe of the faculty of the University of Connecticut at Stamford will speak on "Impressionism and Expressionism in German Art" on Sunday. March 22, at 2:00 p.m. in Bill 106. The talk is sponsored by the German Club.

Mr. D. Mickiewicz Reviews Inquisitor In Dostoevski Novel

Wed. night, March 11, Mr. Dennis Mickiewicz informally examined questions raised by Dostoevski in "The Grand Inquisi-tor." Mr. Mickiewicz briefly filled in the background of the socialist movement in Russia and Dostoevski's battle against it, then moved on to discuss the themes of planned society as they are presented by the Grand Inquisitor in his argument with Christ.

The essential argument of the Grand Inquisitor, representing the Roman Catholic Church, is that Christ overestimated human nature. Christ asked man to choose; he gave man freedom tions largely unanswered. Raththat demanded moral responsibility far beyond the individual's

The Inquisitor asserts that the Church improves and amends Christ's teachings by supplying the ultimate spiritual and moral authority on earth that man's authority and personal happiness. nature requires. It supplies a plan for society and a clearly defined purpose; thus man ex-changes intolerable individual freedom for the psychological comfort of external authority.

Mr. Mickiewicz noted that the Inquisitor's planned society sur-passes most logical systems of socialism because it encompasses the irrational in man through its mystical basis. It provides the human being with a spiritual

6 Students Exhibit Work at Norwich Amateur Art Show

The artistic talents of faculty and students at Connecticut College are currently represented in an exhibition of works by Connecticut artists now on display at Converse Art Gallery, Norwich.

Sculpture, paintings, prints, drawings, and collages by six undergraduates have been selected for inclusion in the 21st Annual Exhibit of the Norwich Art Association. The student contributors are Wendy Bolton '64, Oxford, Mass.; Karen Cornell '64, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Kathleen Hudson '64, Memphis, Tenn.; Renate Linder '64, Spring Valley, N. Y.; Carolyn May '64, New York City; and Sandra Saunders '64, Gales Ferry, Conn.

Also on display are works by Marguerite Hanson, professor of art; Prof. William McCloy, chairman of the art department; Prof. Ruby Turner Morris, chairman of the economics department; and Ruth H. Wood, assistant professor of physical education. Mrs. Nancy E. Curtler, director of cooperative dormitories at Connecticut College, has contributed two paintings to the show.

The exhibition is open to the public through Easter Sunday, piano keys."

Dostoevski asks are to what degree the Inquisitor's argument might be condemned or justified. Perhaps Christ didn't love humanity if he asked too much of man. Perhaps it was wrong of Christ to refuse, as he did when denied the devil's propositions, to operate through miracle and authority. And maybe it is necessary for the Church to supply the psychological comfort that man requires though its basis denies the essence of real freedom, Christianity.

While Dostoevski ultimately condemns the legalistic basis of the Inquisitor's concept of the Roman Church, Mr. Mickiewicz said "The Grand Inquisitor" is essentially a mental exercise in which Dostoevski leaves queser, the story presents the posi-tions of Christ and the Inquisitor and asks the reader to examine a problem which Dostoevski clearly recognized: the dichotomy of individual freedom and moral versus universal responsibility Sally Higgins

A. A. to Give Winter Athletes Sports Awards

Coffee-The Athletic Association will hold its annual Winter Awards Coffee Tuesday, March 24, in the Main Lounge of Crozier-Williams at 7:30 p.m. The all-star line-up will include all winners of winter sports awards, the presidents of the classes winning the class and basketball cups, all affiliated with A.A., and the en-tire physical education department. Refreshments will be serv ed, and the affair will be crowned with a performance by the modern dance club.

Connecticut Col-Sportsday lege participated in an exciting Sportsday held at Mount Holyoke College on Saturday, March 14. In competition with eight colleges, we came away with a second place in basketball and a third place in swimming. Congratulations to all C.C. participants for a good showing!

Reprinted from Goodman Ace's column in the Saturday

Review, March 21, 1964: A friend and I were in a movie theater one night. In the middle of the picture he rose and asked in a loud voice: "Is there a Christian Scientist in the house?" A woman from across the theater stood up and said, I'm a Christian Scientist." And my friend said, "Would you mind changing seats with me? I'm sitting in a draft."

significance that makes him more than one note in a "system of Funds from Fast to Purchase The ultimate questions that represent the lost of the dents, for many personal reasons, by all of us—for it we are to live, "did something about it." By we cannot let others starve. K.K. 'fasting' for one meal, almost half of the student body sent $325.00 to purchase food for Negroes in Mississippi who, because of conditions which deny them their equality-social and political as well as economic—, are unable to provide themselves with the food needed to keep themselves

We can assume that no girl who fasted knew what real hunger is. I doubt that any of us can remember a day or even an hour of hunger. Nor can most of us imagine what it means to be hungry. The only thing we can do is feel the urgency of a problem which demands the attention of all Americans.

Certainly each girl who "fast-ed" was moved by her personal motives. Discussion has made it evident that these motives varied greatly. It would be ideal if all who gave up their dinner were motivated by the urgency of the problem and a great desire to solve it. This, however, was not the case. Nor was it the exception. Principles did move many girls. Other reasons moved oth-

What is important is not that Connecticut College contributed $325 to the Fast for Freedom Fund (though this sum is not to be sneered at). The importance lies in what we did to send the money to those who were very much in need of it. It is up to each of us to examine the reasons for our fast, and this examination can be no simple one. It will be for some a

Several weeks ago a young ous, deep introspection. For oth-child starved to death in Missis-ers it will be less profound. But sippi. It is very hard to imagine for all of us the examination that such a tragedy could occur should be in light of the fact that in the United States in 1964. But an American youngster starved it did occur and in many areas of to death in 1964 and that we can this country starvation has become a reality and it will not end tive means that will assure the until the country becomes aware elimination of conditions which of it and makes an effort to do caused such a tragedy. We can something about it. act now. Some of us have. 577 of us have. This is important and act now. Some of us have. 577 of dred Connecticut College stu- this importance must be realized

> Ann Partlow regrets that she cannot appear this week; she is engaged in writing a thesis upon the evolution of the Liberal tradition in the United States.

> Thursday, April 16, at 6:00 p.m. the United Protestant Group will sponsor a dinner followed by discussion of the following: church conference work, migrant ministry, inter-city work, camps for underprivileged children, hospital work, and voter registration. Names of the speakers will be announced next week. Everyone is welcome. Register immediately following Spring Vacation.

20% Off Regular Rates for College Girls ROCCO'S BEAUTY SALON 443-2138

House of Cards

50 State Street Cards for Every Occasion

gifts tokens troll dolls

Success comes early to college women who supplement their education with Gibbs training -who obtain marketable skills that gain them quick entry into the fields of their choice.

SPECIAL COURSE FOR COLLEGE WOMEN - 81/2 MONTHS

> Write College Dean for GIBBS GIRLS AT WORK

KATHARINE GIBBS

SECRETARIAL

BOSTON 16, MASS., 21 Marlborough Street NEW YORK 17, N. Y., 200 Park Avenue MONTCLAIR, N. J., 33 Plymouth Street PROVIDENCE 6, R. I., 155 Angell Street

SKI KILLINGTON SKI BUNK

Stay at Killington, Vermont

66 just about the most wonderful new convenience for intimate feminine care?

the "petite bath" in a packette

...so refreshing, so easy and economical to use and so reassuring to know you can feel "all-over dainty" all day, wherever you are! Bidette is that wonderfully soft, lint-free cloth (not harsh paper) ... premoistened with a mildly medicated lotion that quickly cleanses and helps remove the common causes of odor, itching and discomfort from the most sensitive feminine areas...safely, soothingly and oh, so refreshingly!

Much more convenient than soap and water, and disposable as a tissue, Bidette is the ultimate in intimate care...ideal at bedtime, indispensable when travelling, so handy to have at work, really welcome whenever weather, activity or stress suggest a need for extra caution, helpful le ill or confined and just perfect during menstruation. Buy Bidette today and discover for yourself! One dozen 85¢, two-dozen economy box $1.50 (you save 20¢) at your drugstore.

For this lovely re-fillable Purse-Pack

Connecticut Yankee Motor Inn & Restaurant

50 Rooms Restaurant and Lounge Dancing Nightly except Sundays Meeting and Banquet Rooms

(Special Winter Student Guest Rates) Exit 74 Conn. Turnpike, Niantic, Conn. Telephone: 739-5483

FOR ALL YOUR TRAVEL NEEDS!

★ Hotel Reservations * Air Tickets * Holiday Reservations * European Tours * Steamship Tickets

KLINGERMAN Travel, Inc.

11 Bank St., New London Phone GI 3-2855 For the Best in Travel Service

House of Imports 247 State Street

Fife & Mondo's

HOLLY HOUSE

92 Huntington Street

Place Where the College Girls

Meet and Eat!

Delivery to the Dorms

Delicious Meals Friendly Service

Mannequins

Mademoiselle

Sandler

CARWIN'S

Fashions in Footwear 115 State St. 442-8870

Adores

Pappagallo Bass Weejuns

'Blood Knot' Play Portrays Brothers With Racial Conflict

To say that Atholl Fugard's play, The Blood Knot, a parable of South African life, is absorbing would be to underplay its deeper significance; the strained relationship lying below the apparent peaceful settlement of two brothers, sons of the same mother, but of different fathers, one black and the other white. Yet to emphasize the political and social ramifications of the drama would be to detract from the emotional appeal of the brothers as well as from the delightful moments of comradeship which are underrun by the strain of their relationship. Zachariah and Morris Pieterson live in forced harmony in a cruel corrugated shed on the outskirts of Port Elizabeth, South Africa. Every day the Negro brother, Zachariah, goes to work for endless hours in the sun while his white brother stays home, making plans for the fu-ture (built on Zachariah's earnings) and preparing a meager supper and footbath for his brother's return home. While Morris is the apparent boss of the two he is internally racked by fear, a capsule of the white man's fear of the black man. We see that his fear is not without cause, for although Zachariah is ostensibly a lovable innocent who longs only for the simple joys of comradeship, he is not in-ternally complaisant about his existence. Thus Zachariah is also a capsule of the South African; we love him as we meet him but learn that in his moments of passion and extreme tension he is to be feared. Beneath the apparent simplicity of their existence to-gether is the threat of a deep and passionate racial conflict into which the brothers are threatened to fall.

The plot of the play is only instrumental in expressing the deep significance of the relationship of black and white brothers living side by side. The immediate action of the play centers around Zachariah's interest in the frivolous joys he has found with his old friend, Minnie. Morris, his mind on the future and interested in protecting his control over Zach, proposes that Zach take on a pen pal. The situation becomes involved when the unseen pal, Ethel, understands Zachariah to be a white man. This misunderstanding brings to the surface all "the symposium at Yale must be the underlying strains of the peace between the brothers. As the brothers try to reconcile their differences and recapture the joy they knew together by playing the games they played as children, the basic conflicts of their existence come to the surface of the computation of their existence come to the surface of the computation of their existence come to the surface of the computation of the computation of the symposium an "attempt to establish a National Touth of ganization, which although not officially connected to the Communist Party, will in reality be directed by it." E. J. McCaulsen, the Chairman of this group called the symposium an "attempt to establish a National Touth of ganization, which although not officially connected to the Communist Party, will in reality be directed by it." E. J. McCaulsen, the Chairman of this group called the symposium an "attempt to the provide the party of the connected to the Communist Party, will in reality be directed by it." E. J. McCaulsen, the Chairman of this ganization, which although not officially connected to the Communist Party, will in reality be directed by it." E. J. McCaulsen, the Chairman of this group called the symposium an "attempt to the connected to the Communist Party, will in reality be directed by it." E. J. McCaulsen, the Chairman of this group called the symposium and the connected to the connected to the connected to the Communist Party, will be connected to the Communist Party, will b with sudden and terrifying pow-forces the racial issue he is describing, but, rather, presents the problem with simplicity and compassion. The demanding roles in tendencies in American socialist the two-character drama are skill-approaches to radical political orfully met by J. D. Cannon as ganization in the coming election.

Morris and James Earl Jones as The panel members included Zachariah. The warmth of Mr. Clifton DeBerry, Presidential can-Jones' Zachariah charms us, but didate of the Socialist Worker's we are also aware of the full Party, and representatives from significance of his role. Mr. Cannon gives the proper force to the a socialist youth organization internal conflict suffered by Mor- and a communist. The panel ris. John Berry's direction meets members were concerned about the strains of a small stage and only two characters, for we at no time feel any more pressured by the small area of the brothers' existence than they do themselves.

The Blood Knot is playing at the Cricket Theater on 10th Street and Second Avenue. It is a compelling, enjoyable and important play.

CinemaScoop

(Cast in order of appeal) Campus

"Viridiana" Capitol

Friday through Wednesday— Bob Hope in "A Global Affair" Garde

Friday through Wednesday-"Captain Newman, M.D."
Gregory Peck and Tony Curtis

M. Harrington Discusses Socialism at Conference

"If socialism is to exist it must be democratic: if democracy is to continue it must become socialistic." These were the opening words of Michael Harrington's address on "Waste and Poverty in America," the opening speech of last weekend's conference at Yale on Socialism in America. As a conservative socialist Mr. Har-rington cited the inevitable tendency toward collectivism in the United States today and suggested that the socialist thinker of today may feasibly become politically effective in our present two-party system.

Mr. Harrington suggested that we can see examples of capitalism destroying itself in the form of the corporation as a sign of "emerging collectivism within capitalism." He said that the individual entrepreneur is being choked out by the much more powerful corporation. He said that the only way for the fruits of capitalism to reach the thirty or forty million poverty stricken Americans is through government acceptance of its social responsibility. This, he said, can only be accomplished through a socialist democracy. Socialist leaders must therefore meet the challenge of our time by realize challenge of our time by realigning existing factions among American socialists and by organizing within the two party sys-tem. He suggested in particular the activating of the Negro, Labor and smaller factions on college campuses and within religious organizations to become active agents in the struggle between the left and right wings of the Democratic Party. The intent of such a realignment would be to create a democratic platform which would include the basic socialist philosophy of democratic collectivism.

The great diversity in socialist thinking in the United States today was evident in the variation urday afternoon program and in the publications distributed by various left and right wing groups before the panel discussion. Participants, for example, were given copies of the National Guardian, the news weekly of the Progressive Labor movement, a group which supports student travel to Cuba. Literature was also passed out by the Citizens Anti-Communist Committee of Connecticut, which charged that by the Communists to use Yale's Mr. Fugard's book at no time communist doctrine."

The afternoon's panel discussion was focused on the major the Socialist Party of America, the view expressed by Mr. Harrington and one felt to be a growing tendency among socialists of alignment of the socialist cause with the democratic party. They called for socialists to unite and form a strong socialist party and support those candidates forwarded by the socialist party.

COURTESY DRUG STORE 119 State St. 442-5857 Checks Cashed Free Delivery Charge Accounts

Photo Developing

Giant Book Sale!

$1.00 $19.95

POETICA EROTICA: A Collection of Rare and Curious Amatory Verse. Ed. by T. R. Smith. The famous collection of 650 amatory poems and ballads—lovely, charming, passionate and ribald taken unexpurgated from best available translations, privately-printed editions and rare volumes. Pub. at $7.50.

GREAT FRENCH PAINTING IN THE HERMITAGE. By Charles Sterling. 233 reproductions, 77 in full color. Handsome volume, 10% x13%, in effect an admirable short history of French painting from the 16th century to today. Included in the profusion of beautiful color plates and gravure black-and-whites, are such painters as Poussin, Lorrain, Matteau, Chardin, Boucher, David, Ingres, Delacroix and the other greats,—Manet, Picasso, Degas, Renoir, Matisse, etc. Pub. at $25.00.

ARMENIAN MINIATURES. By L. POETICA EROTICA: A Collection

Only $14.95

ARMENIAN MINIATURES. By L.

A. Dournovo, Preface by S. Der Nersesslan. With 99 reproductions, including 97 hand-tipped, full color plates, many in gold. Charming book, 9½x12, a real "find," as most of the material in this book has never been before reproduced.
The masterful technique, the astonishing richness of ornamentation are exquisitely reproduced.
Pub. at $25.00 Only $14.95

Pub. at $25.00 ——Only $14.95

JACQUES LIPCHITZ: His Sculpture. By A. M. Hammacher. Intro. by Jacques Lipchitz. Illus. with 161 drawings & sculptures. 9x11%. The career of the great sculptor whose diverse work has provided inspiration for world sculpture. Pub. at $15.00 — Only $8.95

RUSSIAN ART: 1863-1922. By Camilla Gray. 257 illus, 24 in full color. 10x11. The first book to examine the Russian contribution to the modern movement in art and milla Gray. 257 lilus., 24 lin luin color. 10x11. The first book to examine the Russian contribution to the modern movement in art and architecture. Exciting, important volume with such artists as: Malevich, Tatlin, Rodchenko and others depicted in full stature. Pub. at $25.00 Only $14.95

PASCIN. By Alfred Werner. 87 lilus., including 34 hand-tipped full color plates. Beautiful volume, 11x14, depicting the work of Jules Pascin, who focused mainly on one theme—women. Here is the master's beautiful lines moving over the contours, with lovely tones of colored mist and evenescent washes that can lift his subjects even from sordidness to heights of poetic vision. Pub. at $17.50 Only $10.95

GULLIVER'S TRAVELS. By Jonathan Swift. Illus. by Louis Quintanilla. The great classic, complete and unexpurgated, with 184 prints made from plates etched by the artist himself. Orig. pub. at $5.00

Only $2.98

ROUND THE WORLD IN EIGHTY DISHES. By Lesley Blanch. Illus. A fascinating collection of recipes from all over the world; The Shah's Pliaff, Indonesia's Rosy Dawn Dish, Sicily's Frangipani, Fondue from Switzerland, Goulash from Hungary, etc. Orig. pub. at $3.00 Only $1.69

COCKTAIL -SUPPER COOKBOOK.
By Marion W. Flexner. 320 recipes

$3.00 Only $1.69
COCKTAIL - SUPPER COOKBOOK.
By Marion W. Flexner, 320 recipes and 50 menus for planned-ahead and cooked-ahead food for buffet suppers with many unusual dishes and drinks for every occasion.
Orig. pub. at $3.95 Only $1.69

WORLD HISTORY OF THE DANCE. By Curt Sachs. Illus. The famous, standard work on the dance from the Stone Age, through classical antiquity, the Middle Ages up to the 20th Century every form of the art: solo, group, tribal, couple and ballet. Orig. pub. at $7.50 Only $3.69

BEAUTIFUL BUTTERFLYS. 56 magnificent realistic paintings in full color highlight this informative volume on the most resplendant species. Size 8½x10½
Special, $2.98

BIRDS OF FIELD AND FOREST. By O. Stepanek. Illus. with 55 plates in full color, by E. Demartini. Over 60 birds described with beautiful, detailed paintings, and general information on how to attract birds to your garden. Size 8½x10½. Pub. at $7.50. Only $2.98

OPEN HOUSE IN NEW ENGLAND. By Samuel Chamberlain. 280 photographs and text depicting the architecture, furnishings and interiors of Colonial days in New England in chronological arrangement. Orig. pub. at $5.00 Only $2.98

THE BALLAD BOOK OF JOHN
JACOB NILES. Illus. More than 100 of the best American ballads from English and Scottish sources collected in the Appalachian mountains by America's greatest authority; with words and music simply arranged for piano and guitar. Size 8%x11%. Orig. pub. at $10.00 Only $3.95

tar. Size 8%x11%. Orig. pub. at $10.00 Only $3.95
Frank Lloyd Wright's A TESTAMENT. With 210 magnificent illustrations in photos, drawings and plans. The great autobiography containing the work and philosophy of the master architect, stimulating and inspiring. Handsome volume, size 9½x12½. Pub. at $12.50 Only $5.95

S-2169—COLLECTOR'S LIBRARY OF THE WORLD'S MUSICAL MASTERPIECES. Basic Library of over 40 complete selections brillantly performed by the world's greatest soloists, orchestras and conductors including Stokowsk, Steinberg, Dixon, Krips, Goossens, etc. Selections include Beethoven: SYMPH. NO. 5, CHAMBER WORKS: Tchaikovsky: PATHET-IQUE SYMPH. NUTCRACKER SUITE, WALTZES; Bach: COMPLETE VIOLIN CONCERTOS, CHAMBER MUSIC; Straus: WALTZES: Stravinsky: RITE OF SPRING; Mozart: JUPITER & SYMPH. NO. 40, CHAMBER WORKS: Schubert: UNFINISHED SYMPH. NOS. 3 & 4; Dvorak: NEW WORLD SYMPH., etc. All works are performed in their entirety and arranged in sequence for automatic record changers. These 16 Stereo records have sold separately for over $80.00. The 16 record set complete S-2169 Only $14.95

The above in Monaural Hi-Fi M-2170 Only $14.95

THE LIVING CITY. By Frank Lloyd Wright. With 57 illus. The creative genius of Wright is contained in this work describing his plans for the building of the modern, coordinated city design for its best use with an illustrated section on the great model "Broadacre City" including a magnificent foldout, 8 pages square, in full color. Orig. pub. at $7.50.

PORTRAIT: The Emergence of JOHN F. KENNEDY. By Jacques Lowe. A large pictorial intimate chronicle of the late President and his family—his childhood, student days, service in the Navy, politics and public office, his marriage and inauguration to the Presidency. A book of superb photographs to treasure through the years. Size 8%x11½. Orig. pub. at $8.95 ——Only $2.98

CLASSICS OF THE FOREIGN FILM. A Pictorial Treasury. By Parker Tyler. Hundreds of photographs highlight this presentation of the great films from abroad from "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari" to the present. Size 8½x11. Pub. at $8.50 —Only $3.95

REMBRANDT: ETCHINGS AND

REMBRANDT: ETCHINGS AND DRAWINGS. A large (9½ x12½) deluxe volume containing 55 superb reproductions tipped in by hand so that they may be removed for framing. The genius of the artist is made evident by the pictures accompanying text. Pub. at $20.00 Only $9.95

SHIPS AND SEAMEN: A Pictorial History of the Vikings to the Present Day. By Christopher Lloyd. More than 400 photos, drawings, sketches, maps and diagrams in this magnificent volume with stirring accounts of historic events, seamanship and details of the ships from the longships of the Vikings to the nuclear-powered submarines. Size 9x11. Pub. at $12.50 Only $4.95

A HISTORY OF ROME AND THE
ROMANS. By Robt. Laffont. Lavishly illustrated with 700 photos & 32 four-color plates, this magnificent volume printed in rich gravure shows the great panorama of the politics, religions, and arts of Rome from Ramulus to the present. 9½ x12. Pub. at $15.00
Only $7.95

THE STORY OF WORLD BALLET.
By K. V. Burian. With 300 Illus., 12 in full color. The development of the dance from primitive ritual to modern ballet. All of the major directors, producers, many lesser known, with a wealth of fine pho-tographic records of productions from all over the world. Orig. pub. at $15.00 Only $7.95

COMPOSERS OF MUSIC: From Palestrian to Copland. Ed. by Sam Morgenstern. A comprehensive anthology of writings by composers on the art of music. Berlioz, Schubert, Debussy, Mozart, Rossini, and 85 others are represented in 584 pages of essays, dlaries, letters, conversations, and books. Pub. at $7.50 — Only $3.49

VETERAN AND VINTAGE CARS.

By Peter Roberts. 300 large photos, with 32 pages in full color. A lively history of automobiles from earliest days, the inventors, drivers, contests, fads, changing models, etc. Pub. at $7.50. Only $2.98

THE YEARS BETWEEN: A Dramatic View of the Twenties and Thirties. By Marvin Barrett. Over 200 photos in this stunning volume with dynamic narrative covering the period between the peace treaty at Versailles and the invasion of Poland. It takes us to Paris, Berlin, Rome, Hollywood, the Dust Bowl, the romance of Waly and the Prince, etc. Pub. at $6.95 _____ Only $2.98

TO A YOUNG ACTRESS: The Letters of Bernard Shaw to Molly Tompkins. Illus. with photographs. Ed. with an Introd. by Peter Tompkins. The correspondence between G. B. S. and an American artist from 1921 through 1949 a handsome 94x124 volume v many interesting pictures. Pub $8.50.

Only $2.50

Town Hall Tonight: Intimate Memories of the Grassroots Days of the American Theatre. By Harlowe R. Hoyt. Profusely illus. A gay, nostalgic, colorful record of entertainment in the elegant 80's and naughty 90's of lurid melodramas, minstrel shows, P. T. Barnum, Town Hall extravaganzas, dances and masquerades. Orig. pub. at $7.50 ______ Only $2.98

pub. at $7.50 ______Only $2.98

THE WIZARD OF OZ, read by Marvin Miller and Jane Webb. The whole family will enjoy listening to and reading this jolly classic. 4 12" hi-fi long-playing records plus facsimile first edition copy of the book with original Denslow illustration in full color. Beautifully gift-boxed _____Only $5.95

THE BEST OF MARK TWAIN, read by Marvin Miller. You'll find hilarious comedy and delightful new meanings as you hear the stories of America's greatest humorist "acted out." 4 12" hi-fi long-playing records plus deluxe soft-bound book. Beautifully gift-boxed _____Only $5.95

THE COMPLETE SONNETS OF WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE, read by Ronald Colman. With the exciting dimensions of sound Ronald Colman brings new life and meaning to Shakespeare's lovely lyrics—the most widely read and best-loved poetry in any literature. 4 12" hl-fi long-playing records plus soft-bound book. Beautifully gift-boxed—Only $5.95

boxed Only $5.95

TREASURY OF THE WORLD'S BEST LOVED POEMS, read by Marvin Miller. The spoken word adds new richness and beauty to well-loved poems. Read and hear the complete RUBATYAT OF
OMAR KHAYYAM as well as selections from Browning, Milton, Shelley, Tennyson, Keats, Longfellow and many other stirring favorites. 4 12" hi-fi long-playing records plus handsome companion volume. Beautifully
Only $5.95

WALT WHITMAN'S LEAVES OF GRASS, selections read by Dan O'Herlihy. One of the most important works published in this country. Ringing words of America as it was in the 1800's — the power of the young industrial nation . . the tragedy of our Civil War. Also Whitman's intimate messages of love—pure and unashamed. 4 12" hi-fi long-playing records plus illustrated book. Beautifully gift-boxed Only $5.95

Beautifully gift-boxed Only $5.95
Krips' COMPLETE BEETHOVEN
SYMPHONIES. The famous Beethoven Festival Recordings by London Symphony Orch. conducted by Joseph Krips. The outstanding presentation of all 9 masterpleces, recorded with extraordinary skill, on 8 magnificent 12"
Long Plays. Handsome 2-color soft-cover book presents Pictorial History of Composer's Life, extensive notes, over 30 illus. Sumptuous gift case.
Monaural. Orig. $39.50 Only $14.95
Stero. Orig. $48.00 — Only $14.95

Stero. Orig. $48.00 — Only $14.95

PORTRATURES OF HORSES. By George Ford Morris. Beautiful, fascinating book, 13 % x10 %. More than 500 reproductions of the artist-author's works in oil, water color, pastel, crayon, charcoal, pen & pencil — as well as his lithographs, etchings, silhouette cutouts and sculpture—many in vibrant full color. Almost every type and breed of horse and dog existing is depicted. Also many portraits of prominent personages. A treasure to give and to own reduced in price only because of very slight bindery imperfections. Pub. at $35.00 — Only $17.49

THE MASTERY OF OIL PAINT-ING. By Frederic Taubes. With 96 illus., including 6 in full color. A practical guide to materials and techniques for the artist including an extensive analysis of how the old masters worked. Orig. pub. at $6.95 _______ Only $3.49

VANITY FAIR. Ed. by Cleveland Amory & Frederic Bradlee. The great best-selling cavalcade of the 1920's and 1930's containing 141 stories, articles, poems and features with 544 pictures in black & white and full color by and about the greats in literature, the theatre. Hollywood, art, music, sports, public life and society high and low. A mammoth 9½x12½ volume. Pub. at $10.00 ___ Only $4.69

Now at The Bookshop

Alvin Ailey Group To Feature Blues, Jazz in Program

Tonight at 8:30 the Alvin Ailey Dance Theater is performing at Palmer Auditorium. Mr. Ailey in the dining rooms was wellhas choreographed pieces which nigh impossible. put the spirit of jazz, blues, and traditional Negro spirituals into movement. These will form the core of the program.

musical scores and the American contemporary dance idiom. Music of Schiffren and Ellington will pursued by a member of the be featured.

longing, lost-love, anger, social walk out. discontent. In "The Blues Roll May I i convey feeling of an era which we stinctive understanding.

In "Revelations" one can see personnel of our staff.
the motivations and emotions of As members of an academic Negro religious music being ex-world, we are inclined to be enplored in the dance medium. This couraged in the leading of a selfmusic, like its heir, the blues, centered life, but this academic takes many forms-true spirit- self-centering must not and canuals with sustained melodies, not extend into the social world. song sermons, and gospel songs. Such familiar songs as "I Been ment with those around us—if Buked" and "Sinner Man" takes this were true tonight's episode on new levels of meaning with would never have taken place.

Ashes," was recently performed in Leningrad, Moscow and in other Russian cities by the Robert Performed in Leningrad, Moscow and in other Russian cities by the Robert Performed in Leningrad, Moscow and in other Russian cities by the Robert Performed in Leningrad, Moscow and in other Russian cities by the Robert Performed in Leningrad, Moscow and in hibit continual disregard may as of the Confidence of Scandinavian and the obligations of a college community.

SHAMED into respect for rules been adapted and prepared for use in the Connecticut College affraction in the Soviet Union. attraction in the Soviet Union.

Don't wait until you have to go to Russia-see Ailey now! Tickets will be on sale at the box office from 7:30. You are invited to join the dancers for coffee and talk after the performance.

Letters to Editor

(Continued from Page Two)

The peak of the evening was reached when, after repeated refusal in a request for dessert to which she was not entitled, one "Three for No" is composed of the interrelationship between jazz found it necessary to pick up a plate of brownies and RUN from the dining rooms. While she was staff, another student out of From the fields, levees, and sheer spite and contempt pro-barrelhouses of the southern Ne ceeded to pick up a second plate gro sprang the blues-songs of of brownies and attempted to

May I remark that this entire On" these songs are danced to situation should never, NEVER have occurred. Furthermore, this think of as the past. However, is only one instance of many the blues spirit is living today and such thoughtless and flagrant can never be expressed more violations—removal of dishes and beautifully than in Ailey's cho-silverware from the dining rooms, reography. One does not have to accumulation of disgusting dirty be a dancer or a dance critic to dishes in our commons rooms, appreciate Ailey; he inspires in and an amazing degree of flip and inconsiderate griping to the

We must remember our involve-Mr. Ailey's ballet 'Feast of newspaper and the awareness of Ashes," was recently perform, the student bally the factors and the student bally the student ba

Philosophy Professor of Yale To Deliver Vespers Services

Protestants to Hold Interdenominational Communion Service

An Interdenominational service of Holy Communion will be observed in the chapel on Tuesday March 24, at 5:05 p.m. The service will be sponsored by the the United Protestant Group. The officiant will be the Rev. James D. Purvis, Acting Director of the chapel. He will be assisted by the Rev. Richard Van Deusan and the officers of the United Protestant Group. The order of service will be upon the ancient Apostolic Tradition of St. Hippolytus. Hippolytus was a presbyter of the Christian community in Rome at the beginning of the third century. He died a martyr's death in the year 236. Sometime around 200, Hippolytus wrote a manual of church order called the Apostolic Tradition. In this work he described the order of the Eucharist or Holy Communion as it was observed in his day.

The service of Holy Communion after the order of Hippolytus has been chosen as the basis of an interdenominational service for several reasons. First, because it is an ancient service going back to the early Christian church. Secondly, because it is a service acceptable to Protestants Barbara Griffith '66 Chapel by Mr. Purvis.

Dr. John E. Smith, Chairman of Yale's Philosophy Department, will be guest speaker at Vesper services this Sunday, March 22, at 7 p.m. in Harkness Chapel. He was scheduled to speak last month, but was unable to come because of illness.

Dr. Smith received his Bachelor of Arts degree at Columbia University in 1942, a Bachelor of Divinity degree from the Union Theological Seminary in 1945, and his Ph.D. degree from Columbia in 1948.

Dr. Smith is the author of several leading books and articles including Royce's Social Infinite (1950) and the translation of R. Kroner's Kant's Weltanschaung. In 1959 the Yale University Press published his critical text and introduction of Jonathan Edwards Treatise Concerning Religious Affections as Volume II in its Yale Editions of the Works of the Great 18th Century Clergymen.

The Bodenwein Prize offers $25.00 for the best piece of writing in the field of newspaper articles. Editorials, feature articles, or news articles may be submitted to Dean Johnson before noon on Friday, April 17, 1964. Each piece must be printed or typewritten, and contestants must certify that none of her entries has been prepared as a part of work for a course here, or in any other institution, or has received any criticism from any person other than the writer.

443-7395

OTTO AIMETTI

Ladies' and Gentlemen's Custom Tailoring 86 State St.

THE ELEANOR SHOP

Yarns and Rental Library Telephone 442-3723 9 Union Street

Imported & Domestic Yarns Free Knitting Instructions

Fridays 1 - 4 Saturdays 9:30 - 12:30

FAR EAST HOUSE

— ORIENTAL GIFTS — 22 Green Street New London, Conn.

$ Publisher's Close-Out $

Clothbound Editions at Paperback Prices 99c - $2.98

Opium World—MARIE BONNARD, by Alice Ekert-Rotholz. Dazzling, dramatic novel, set in Paris, Lon-don and the Orient. Pub. at $4.95. Sale .99

Bally Graham to Reinhold Niebuhr—LAND IN SEARCH OF GOD. By
S. J. Rowland, Jr. America's current religious revival—roots, manifestations, meaning in all major faiths. Sa.95

VENUS DE MILO—THE SPINNER. By Elmer G. Suhr. Brilliant scholarly detection, linking a famous art mystery with ancient fertility symbols. 28 illus. Pub. at $4.00.

Sale .99

GARIBALDI — The Man and the Legend. By P. de Polnay. Unconventional biography of swashbuckling hero of the Italian Risorgimento—violent archetype of modern dictators. Orig. $4.00. Sale .99

South Sea Bubble: THE GREAT

South Sea Bubble: THE GREAT SWINDLE. By V. Cowles. Spar-kling account of 18th Century England's unparalleled orgy in speculation. Illus. Pub. at $3.95. Sale .99

Samuel Hopkins Adams' TENDER-LOIN. Big, colorful novel about a minister's crusade against vice and corruption in the New York of the gay Nineties. Pub. at $4.95. Sale .99

Our Threatened Rights — THE PRICE OF LIBERTY. By Alan Barth. Provocative study, with a wealth of examples from recent court cases, of the abuses of law enforcement agencies. Pub. at $4.50 Sale .99

Sale .99
THE DE GAULLE NOBODY
RNOWS, by Alden Hatch. Intimate, fascinating biography of Charles de Gaulle, filled with hitherto unknown details of his childhood, schooling, military career, years of obscurity, amazing comeback during the Algerian crists.
Pub. at $5.00 Sale .99

ALBERT SCHWEITZER—His Philosophy of Life. By Gabriel Langfeldt. The most objective study of Schweitzer available. Pub. at $3.00 Sale .99

Thomas Mann: THE STORY OF A NOVEL. A rare treat—not only the story of how "Dr. Faustus" came to be written but a veritable autobiography of the great novelist's later years. Pub. at $4.00. Sale .99 Cornella Otis Skinner's ELEGANT WITS AND GRAND HORIZON-TALS. Sparkling panorama of Paris in the "tres gai" '90's—its gilded society, irrepressible wits and splendid courtesans. Many illustrations of the period. Pub. at $5.00 Sale .99 $5.00 Sale .99
John O'Hara's OURSELVES TO KNOW. Our most accomplished novelist at the top of his form.
Pub. at $4.95 Sale .99 Pub. at $4.95 Sale .99

THE BLUE OF CAPRICORN. By Eugene Burdick. Fascinating history, myths, and customs of the Maoiri, Polynesian, and Micronesian peoples of the South Pacific Illus. Pub. at $4.95. Sale .99

THE RISE OF MERITOCRACY. By Michael Young. A scathing satire on life in the 21st century when status is determined entirely by I. Q. tests. $3.50 Sale .99

THE CATHOLICS IN AMERICA. By status is determined entirely by
I. Q. tests. $3.50 — Sale .99
THE CATHOLICS IN AMERICA. By
A. I. Marino. Fact-filled, namestudded account from the 16th century to the present, in fields ranging from literature to sports.
Pub. at $3.75 — Sale .99
KIDNAP—The Story of the Lindbergh Case. By George Waller. Suspense-filled best-seller about the "crime of the century." 597 pages, photos. Pub. at $6.95. — Sale .99
LITTLE ME—The Intimate Memoirs of Belle Poitrine, as told to Patrick Dennis. The Hollywood autobiography to end all Hollywood biographies. Pub. at $5.95.

Sale .99
EARNEST VICTORIANS. By R. A.

Sale .99
EARNEST VICTORIANS. By R. A.
Rosenbaum. Superb portraits of Cardinal Newman, Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Charles Darwin and others—and of the fabulous era itself. $7.50 Sale .99

John Gunther: INSIDE EUROPE TODAY. One of America's great-est reporters takes a penetrating look at Europe in the 1960's. Pub. at $4.95 ______Sale $1.98

THE KEY TO HANDWRITING ANALYSIS. By Irene Marcuse, Ph.D. Leading graphologist reveals why basic personality cannot be disguised; how to analyze handwriting, how to use graphology in marriage counseling, vocational guidance, etc. 175 illustrations. Pub. at $3.95 _____ Sale $1.98

WILLIAM SAROYAN'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY — Here Comes There Goes You Know Who. Unlike any life story you've ever read—honest, funny, sad, moving—15 pages of photos. Pub. at $5.95. Sale $1.98

James Thurber — THE YEARS WITH ROSS. Turbulent and affectionate account of Harold W. Ross, the "irascible genius" who founded the "New Yorker" and was its editor for 25 years. Pub. at $5.00.

Sale $1.98

The "Sun King" & His Court—
SAINT-SIMON AT VERSAILLES.
The famous Memoirs of M. le Duc de Saint-Simon. No-holds-barred, eve-witness record of the politics,
plots, gossip, love affairs of Louis
XIV and his courtiers — pref. by Nancy Mitford. Illus. Pub. at $6.00
Sale $1.98

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF MURDER. By Colin Wilson. Over 350 narrative accounts of unusual murders, ranging over four centuries and five continents — Lizzle Borden, Leopold and Loeb, Landru, hundreds of lesser-known but equally intriguing cases of homicide. 70 illus. Pub. at $5.75. — Sale $1.98

THE FIRST FIVE LIVES OF ANNIE BESANT. By A. H. Nethercot. Freethinking, feminist, occultist, intimate of Shaw, Gandhi, Mme Blavatsky, others—an exhilarating biography of the most spectacular and fascinating woman of the late 19th century. Illus. Pub. at $7.50.

Sale $1.98 ub. at $7.50.

$1.98 Each

VIRGINITY: PRE-NUPTIAL RITES & RITUALS. By O. Nemecek. Scholarly study of the concepts, practices and changing psychology of mankind's mating behavior—in both primitive and modern societies. Illus. Pub. at $4.75.

Sale $1.98

NEHRU ON WORLD HISTORY. Ed. by Saul K. Padover. One-vol-ume condensation of the monu-mental "Glimpses of World His-tory." John Chamberlain. Pub. at $5.00 Sale $1.98

THE THIRD ROSE — Gertrude Stein & Her World. By John Malcolm Brinnin. A warm and knowledgable portrait of Hemingway's mentor, from Radcliffe days to her final years in France. Illus. Pub. at $6.00 Sale $1.98

"The American Titian": WILLIAM PAGE. By J. C. Taylor. Hailed as one of the outstanding portraitists of his generation, Page has been stirring new admiration in recent exhibits of 19th century American art. 57 reproductions. 8½"x11". Pub. at $8.50 Sale $1.98

THE MARVELOUS LIFE OF THE BUDDHA. By Maurice Percheron. Definitive study of the life and teachings of the Perfect One adroitly interwoven with legend, folklore, and parable. Explains why, for more than 20 centuries, over a billion Asians have remained passionately devoted to his message. Pub. at $5.75. Sale $1.98 WOMEN OF THE SEA. By Edward Rowe Snow. Exciting true stories of the unique experiences of women in a man's world, by the writer the New York Times calls "just about the best chronicler of the days of sails alive today." Illus. Orig. $4.00 Sale $1.98

Brantome's LIVES OF FAIR AND GALLANT LADIES. Fascinating, intimate, impudent and bawdy chronicle of the love-life of the courts of 16th century France from Francois I to Henry III, by a worthy contemporary of Ronsard and Rabelais. 563 pages. Illus. Pub. at $3.95 Sale $1.98

$2.98 Each

FRANK LLOYD WRIGHT. By Finis Farr. First full-length biography of the genius who worked a revolution in American and world architecture. Countless anecdotes reveal the master's unique personality and his philosophy of life and art. 49 illustrations. Pub. at $5.95 _______ Sale $2.98

$5.95 Sale $2.98

NATURE AND MAN'S FATE. By Garrett Hardin. Here, in vivid, dramatic terms, a distinguished biologist explores the crucial social, political and ethical problems of our time in light of what is now known about evolution and heredity. Illus. "A triumph . . .
extraordinarily well - written"

Ashley Montagu. Pub. at $6.00.

Sale $2.98

Lafayette's Wife—ADRIENNE. By Andre Maurois. Vividly recreates the life and times of one of his-tory's most appealing and remark-able heroines. Pub. at $7.95. Sale $2.98

THE SEXUAL RELATIONS OF MANKIND. By P. Mantegazza. The great Italian anthropologist's definitive account of strange and curious sexual customs. First complete and unexpurgated English edition. Orig. pub. at $6.00 Only $2.98

GEORGES BRAQUE: His Graphic Work. Intro. by Werner Hofmann. Illus. with 174 reproductions, 9 in color. 10%x12%. The great revolutionary's fine graphic works, showing them in all their clarity and elegance. The commentary follows development of Braque's style and brings one to a greater admiration of this master of 20th century art. Pub. at $18.50 Only $10.95

$3.98 and Up

ITALIAN PAINTING — From The Byzantine Masters to the Renaissance, by Galienne Francastel. 60 tipped-in plates in exquisite full color, a fascinating historical and critical text. Superbly printed in France by Editions Pierre Tisne.

Special Import $5.95

PAUL KLEE—His Life and Work, by Felix Klee. An intimate portrait, by the artists' son, drawing upon Klee's own unpublished diaries and letters and including 162 excellent reproductions of his paintings, drawings and documents. Pub. at $7.50. — Sale $3.98

EGYPTIAN ART, by Boris de Rachewitz. A lucidiy-written, handsomely illustrated introduction to the life and ideas that produced Egyptian painting, sculpture and architecture. 102 reproductions, 10 in full color. Pub. at $6.95.

Sale $3.98

COMPLETE WORKS OF WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE. The famous Shakespeare Head Edition of the Oxford University Press, prepared by Arthur Henry Bullin, 1,280 pages in all, handsomely printed and bound ______Only $4.95

CHARLES SUMNER AND THE COMING OF THE CIVIL WAR. By David Donald. Biography of the Senator from Massachusetts, powerful anti-slavery spokesman, chief of the Radical Republicans during the Civil War. Pub. at $6.75 ______ Sale $3.98

The Bookshop Now at