PRESIDENT MARSHALL GIVES BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

President Marshall eloquently delivered a very fine baccalaureate address. He took, as his text, Romans 12: 2, "Be not fashioned according to this age, but ye be transformed by the renewal of your mind." Dr. Marshall first took, as an example, the Apostle Paul, "who was a keen observer of all conditions wherever he went, who was an advocate of the new and living way, the builder within the Roman Empire of a new Society". St. Paul emphasized the fact that no change for the better can be effective or made permanent except it be by changed mind and constant will.

Although this age is far in advance of the time in which Paul lived, yet we have evils which are to be denounced. We also have truths to be proclaimed. "This is a day," said Dr. Marshall, "for the proclamation and practice of world brotherhood; a day to call and summon the world to high and serious living; a day to ask men to steep their minds in the great and worthy thought of all the ages as recorded in great literature, as demonstrated in great lives, and as seriously required by the great need of the time for worthy leadership."

So, for the renewal of our mind we should look to the work and product of the minds of the past, and of their peers in all the centuries, to find not only food for thought, but standards for our art, and canons for our literature, and guidance for our tastes, and ideals for our living.

For the renewal of our mind we must have a mind and a life given to righteousness, for such a mind is a living mind, "fast rising into the qualifications for immortality." The renewal of life follows giving oneself to the practice of goodness, and goodness gives approval in right conduct and no other. "This modern age is an age to learn, and not to reason— but not to be fashioned by," Service said.

1982 SETS

Here's just a little bit of farewell, oh class of 1982. We cannot let you go without telling you how much we think of each other, how much we are going to miss you, how much we are going to have you leave us. You have been told that dozens of times, no doubt, but repetition will only make it more emphatic.

Yes, we do know you are small in numbers. But what you lack in quantity, you make up in quality, for you have the spirit, the right kind of spirit—loyalty to Alma Mater, loyalty to friendships, loyalty to class. And enthusiasm...why, you're bubbling over with it!

As for ideas—never ones—you take the lead! We will look at your.crop-

High Hill with Singing Wind and Silver River. Where all the fairies of the woods and streams, Where all the shy young moon of haunting whiteness

To shower upon the earth its softer beauty. Oh, trees with lapping arms and pleading branches. Oh, wandering woods where timid flowers spring, Enchanted place of sunshine's flaming light. Over thee the song of youth will ever ring. Oh, Alma Mater, home of great endeavor.

SENIOR YEAR.

And now, many, many moons have passed, and the tribe of 1922 is far matter in number than in earlier days. In the last year of its history as a battle of the two tribes, the Seniors did win, a feat which no other tribe could claim.

But one day when spring did delight the earth with her beauty, beauty shone, and sank again, washed and dressed and gone.

And now the tribe must leave its home, and sink down amid a heap of wept tears. Here I paint Grecian borders on little canvas face. And lost, sank down amid a heap of sad souls.

PROLOGUE.

So thinking, wandered oft the road; and there sat Helen Crofoot in a circle of the Foolish Virgins, or Those without name, and yet Helen also, with nature cold and still. With which time at times crept flames through which at times crept flames through which at times crept flames.

Up to the edge of the high disdain beheld, that Madam Crows feet is my angel. By a little tidy vampire, — It isn't a strain.

And there sat Helen Crofoot in a circle of the Foolish Virgins, or Those without name, and yet Helen also, with nature cold and still. With which time at times crept flames through which at times crept flames.

And when they had returned to the hill-top, they gave to the tribe of 1923 the right to own and sing on the stonewall which had been theirs. Sads was this ceremony, because it meant to the tribe of 1923 the beginning of that end which was to come.

And now the tribe must leave its happy hill-top to seek a broader hunting ground, where it may carry on its work in the field of high endeavor. Read by RIch BACON.

Dr. Deeder will spend the summer at Wood's Hole doing further research in Artificial Intelligence. A paper on the subject was presented by Miss Deeder last November in the Journal of the Marine Biological Laboratory. Dorothy Stevens, Mary Bristol, Dorothy Hubbard and Faith Vanderburg will also be at Wood's Hole.

Miss Robinson is to have a cottage for the summer near Portland, Maine. Miss Crawford and the Misses Wright will spend part of the summer there.

Mrs. Wesel will attend the National Conference of Social Work to be held in Providence. She will also do research work at Columbia during the summer.

MISS CONSTANCE HILL.
Vice-President of her Freshman year, Chairman of Decoration Committee Sophomore year, Treasurer of Student Government, Junior year, Class President Senior year—Constance Hill. And did ever a person fill so many offices so quietly, so efficiently, so unobtrusively? We hardly think so. Besides her official duties and her active part in social life, Miss Hill has been prominent in the art classes. She has filled her office as Senior President with becoming dignity and grace.

OUR SERVICE LEADER.
A quiet, steady, efficient worker is Mildred Duncan, President of Service League during her last year. She has always been active in the League and as President she worked faithfully and effectively. A proof of this is the fact that Miss Duncan was awarded a prize for doing the most for the college. What higher honor could be given anyone? And this same Service worker has starred in athletics too, and has done many other things besides. For is she not an all-round girl?

WITH OUR ATHLETICS.
If there is one thing we admit it is versatility, and certainly Catherine McCarthy is a most excellent example—the English prizes—as exemplifying her scholastic ability, and President of the Athletic Association, as the height of her attainment in athletics. Very naturally, upon such a star would the college confer the highest honor it could in her particular field, for the year 1928-29. She was Vice-President of A. A. and for the last year its President.

OUR EDITOR.
M. P. Taylor—what things M. P. has done for 22! For three years—Freshman, Junior, and Senior—she has been cheer leader and who wonders—for could anyone instill more enthusiasm into a cheer than she, in her red and white costume, with her graceful, whole-hearted leading? Also her Sophomore year she was Vice-President of her class, the next year, she managed the business side of the Mandolin Club, as well as holding the presidency of the Dramatic Club. During most of her college career M. P. has been on the Vass staff becoming its Editor-in-Chief in her Senior year—and surely none could have been a more conscientious, loyal, enthusiastic leader.

OUR "SPERRY.
When we think of Jeannette Sperry it is not of the offices that she has held—President, Junior year, Student Government President, Senior year—but of Jeannette Sperry herself. Her ability to see all sides of a question, her absolute justice, her steadfastness to the ideals of the college have characterized her tenure of office as Student Government President. How much easier it is to confess our sins to so broadminded a person who generously showed us the error of our ways! Certainly we will miss the "Sperry" of clever speeches, original thoughts, loyalty to college, broadminded, progressive attitude in her dealing with the students!

ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION MEETS.
The annual meeting of the Connecticut College Alumnae Association was held on Monday, June 12, at a thirty ninth picnic in the gymnasium. Esther Batchelder '19, the president, conducted the meeting. Those of '19, '20, and '21, who were present were delighted to greet '22 as new members of the Association.

In order that the Association members may have an authorized Alumnae officer on campus the Association voted to pay one hundred and fifty dollars toward the salary of the Graduate Secretary.

The improved college pin was shown and accepted. Orders may be sent to Helen Collins '28.

Amendments were made to the constitution which provided for one Secretary and a Publicity Manager, in place of two secretaries, and an Athletic Committee to have charge of all Alumnae Athletics.

The following officers were elected by the Association:
President—Marenada E. Prentice '19,
First Vice-President—Esther Batchelder '19,
Secretary—Constance Hill '22,
Treasurer—Grace Cooking '19,
Publicity Manager—Julie Hatch '19

Councillors—Agnes Looby '21; Ethel Lindholt '20; Jessie Menace '20; Nominating Committee—Laura Batchelder '21; Julie Hatch '19; Marion Warner '20.

MEMBERS OF 1890 BANQUET AT MOHICAN.
The banquet, of 1890, held on the evening of Monday, June 12, was a very delightful affair. President and Mrs. Marshall, Miss Howe, Dean Nye and Dr. Cooner, the honorary members of the class, were present.

During the evening a large birthday cake bearing two blue candles was brought in by the "littlest" member of the class and was cut by the tail-senior ("Proxy", of course) and divided among the members, some of whom found their fortune awaiting them in the cake. Each of the honorary members had a greeting and a word of inspiration for the class, and the evening closed with the singing of class and college songs.

CLASS OF 1921 HOLDS BANQUET.
Under the personal supervision of the good fairy, twenty-four members of the class of 1921 met at the Mohican for their class banquet on Monday Evening, June 12. The class entertained its honorary members, Dr. Marshall, Miss Nye, Dean Nye, and two guests, Mrs. Marshall and Dr. Walls.

There were speeches from the guests and the toastmaster, Dorothy Gregson, as well as a very impromptu speech by members of the class. Just as Rachel Smith concluded a reading of the class history, 1920 secreted the bouquets, bringing back a touch of old time memories.

At nine-thirty the party was over and the class reluctantly separated until next year.

SENIORS PLANT IVY.
For several days we watched a man cleverly chiseling 1922 on Branford House just to the left of the front door—we watched and we wondered. But on Monday morning at eleven-thirty, of June 12th, we learned the reason why. For Helen Peale, as Ivy Mistress, announced to the expectant audience that the Seniors were computing the custom of having a short ceremony accompanying the planting of the ivy, and of placing the class initials on one of the college buildings.

Miss Peale then presented the trowel to Emily Maymaker, vice-president of the class of 1922, that she may observe the tradition next year.

272 placed was closed with appropriate songs by the Seniors.

Engagement Announced.
Mr. and Mrs. H. Ray Hotchkiss announce the engagement of their daughter, Arrilla Dayton, to Raymond Jones Titterington of Unpton, Penn.
