Chapel Exercises Mark Opening of Academic Year

Eight New Faculty And 227 Freshmen Welcomed at Opening Exercises

Connecticut College opened its twenty-second academic year last Wednesday with chapel exercises, welcoming eight new faculty members, 227 Freshmen, and 460 Upper Classmen.

After the invocation by the Rev. Paul F. Laubenstein, Dr. Leib, College Registrar, gave the statistics of the new Freshman class and the Upper Classmen, which revealed the largest Freshman Class ever to enter, and a greater proportion of the Upper Classmen than any previous year.

After a word of welcome, President Blunt spoke of the new developments on the Campus, both intellectual and physical, uniting them with the Harvard Tercentenary in its advancement in the search for true honors which is given to all higher educational institutions. Eight new faculty appointments were announced.

Among the additions to the physical plant as stated by Miss Blunt, are the new quarters of the Music department in Holmes Hall, a new dormitory, Jane Addams House, and more improvements in the basements of Branford and Plant. Announcement was made of the new auditorium to be erected, the gift of the late (Continued to Page 2, Column 2)

Dr. Chamberlain Vesper Speaker October 6th

Author of "Winners" Well Known Here; Exceptionally Well Liked

Rev. Roy B. Chamberlain, chapel director and fellow in Religion at Dartmouth College, will be the speaker at the Vesper Service on October 4th. Graduated from Wesleyan University, Mr. Chamberlain pursued his studies at Union Theological Seminary in New York. Later he spent over a year with the French troops at the Verdun front. Since then his time has been divided between several campuses.

Having thus spent many years on a school or college campus, Dr. Chamberlain is thoroughly familiar with students and their problems. He has been a speaker much in demand at conferences throughout the country. His travels have also carried him to Europe, the Caribbean and the Near East. His book, "Winners", is a record of personal experience, picturing men and boys with whom the author has lived.

It will be recalled by the upper-classmen that Dr. Chamberlain addressed the college in the Fall of 1934 and was so well liked that the Student Council asked him for a return engagement and during this time conferences were held. It is hoped that a large representative group will attend the service.

Dean's List Reveals Five Students With "A" Average

The Dean's List each semester is composed of the highest fifteen per cent (approximately) of the student body, including the upper group of each class.

For the second semester of the college year, 1935-36 the list is as follows:

Class of 1936

Eight New Members Added To Connecticut Faculty

New Auditorium Made Possible by Palmer Bequest

Half Million Left For Building In Will of the Late Miss Virginia Palmer

Although definite plans have not yet been completed for the building, Connecticut College is finally to have an auditorium. By the will of the late Miss Virginia Palmer of New London, five hundred thousand dollars was left to the college, not more than three hundred thousand of which is to be used for the building, and not less than two hundred thousand for its maintenance.

Miss Palmer, member of an old New London family, was the niece of Mr. George Palmer who gave the library to the college. In addition to the fund for the auditorium, the will left a sizeable sum to the Lawrence Memorial Hospital of New London and to the Lyman Allyn Museum for a wing to house the donor's furniture, pictures and so forth. It was Miss Palmer's hope that this addition to the museum would more closely tie up associations between the college and the museum. The remainder of the estate was left in a fund to be administered by a Hartford Bank toward philanthropic enterprises in New London.

Plans are now being formulated for the new auditorium, but President Blunt states that the construction will be a slow process; the senior class and possibly the junior class will not graduate there.

Varied Program Acquaints Frosh With C. C. Life

The weather man smiled on the Freshman class this year and there was no steady downpour of rain during the week. The House Juniors who met and guided the incoming class throughout the week, were Katherine Walbridge, Betty Butler, Margaret Ball, Betty Fairbank, Jeanette Dawless, Frances Walker, Ruth Hollingshed, and Marjorie Beaudette. A reception and dinner were given in Thames Hall on Thursday evening, September 17, the day of arrival, followed by brief addresses of welcome by President Blunt, Dean Nye, Dr. Leib, Dean Burdick, Margaret McConnell, and Katherine Walbridge.

It was necessary to substitute a picnic supper on campus for the customary Freshman boat ride around New London Harbor and Long Island Sound. Saturday night was the stunt night, which was extremely successful. The new class exhibited much talent and much genuine spirit and enthusiasm.

One event followed quickly upon another to keep the girls busy and to introduce them to Connecticut College. There were "sings", Advisers teas, and lastly President Blunt's teas, which were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Miss Grace Leslie and Dr. William Hale, Nationally-known Figures, Head Our New Additions

Eight new members have been added to the Connecticut College faculty, some replacing former members and others added to meet the expanding needs in some of the departments. The new faculty members are Dr. William Jay Hale, visiting professor of chemistry; Grace Leslie, assistant professor of music; Dr. Harold H. Hutcheson, instructor in history and political science; Miss Frances Keene, instructor in Italian; Miss Jacqueline Fouré, instructor in French; Miss Martha Denny, assistant in zoology; and Mrs. Sarah Pfeifer, assistant in home economics.

Grace Leslie

Miss Leslie is a concert singer of distinction. She has been soloist with the New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Cleveland and other major symphony orchestras and has appeared with the country's leading music clubs and choral organizations. She is well known to radio audiences having sung on many important programs over the foremost coast to coast networks. Miss Leslie's reputation as a concert and opera singer is not confined to this country. In Berlin, where she made her European debut she scored a sen-

Dr. Moritz Bonn Noted Economist Here Three Days

Dr. Moritz J. Bonn, economist, author, and lecturer will make a three day visit to Connecticut College through the Institute of International Education beginning October fifth. Dr. Bonn has been expert advisor at Versailles, Professor of Political Economy at Berlin and associated with many universities throughout the United States and Europe. His Convocation subject will be "Changes in Social and Economic Conceptions Since the War".

Dr. Bonn will be a guest of the International Relations Club at a coffee on Tuesday, October 6, at seven o'clock in Windham. He will speak on the "Disintegration of the World Economic System". Faculty and students are cordially invited and freshmen are especially urged to attend.

D. Whipple Heads Class of 1938

Dorothy Whipple was elected president of the sophomore class at the class meeting last Monday night. Mary Ellen Chrisman, who was elected last spring did not return to college. Elizabeth Patton was elected secretary to fill the position vacated by the incoming president.

Welcome Freshmen!

A most hearty welcome to you, the Class of 1940. You have the distinction of being the largest class ever to enter Connecticut College and we hope that your numbers will stay intact. We know already from the enthusiasm and earnestness which you have displayed that you will take your place in our hours of work and fun and make your years here ones to be remembered by you and by all with whom you associate.

We sincerely seek your continued, whole-hearted cooperation in Student Government and its undertaking.

Forward Connecticut

The academic procession and chapel exercises opening the current college year last Wednesday marked the passing of another milestone in the progress of Connecticut College, a small but rapidly growing institution. Taking into consideration the economic conditions of the past several years, it is remarkable that our campus has seen the rise of three new dormitories in the short period of three years and that our enrollment, unlike that of many other well-known colleges, has been constantly increasing.

It is the clear insight of the administration and the kind interest of friends that has made possible such continuous advance. Nor is there now a lull in this forward movement which regained vigor in 1933 with the appearance of Windham House, for this year marked the opening of another dormitory, Jane Adams House, which has greatly helped student housing.

Plans are now being formulated for the construction of an auditorium, the splendid gift of the late Miss Virginia Palmer of New London. The gymnasium has always been a distracting substitute for an auditorium, and with the rapid growth of the college in recent years, it has become extremely inadequate. It is indeed with deep appreciation that we students regard the thoughtful gift of the late donor.

Connecticut College gains in beauty and competence each year and it is the sincere wish of all that this progress continue without interruption.

A Box Is A Mail Box— At Least to the Freshmen

Boxes, boxes everywhere! You have been witness to more than the usual number this past week or so. Some are large, mysterious packages, carefully sealed with fishy-tasting glue paper; others are sturdy wooden affairs, usually too clumsy to be handled by any of the fair sex. Then again you've seen an occasional one of the glorified type—long, narrow, green cardboard ones which proudly flaunt a small white card at envious onlookers.

But, alas, the special box which has been the source of all this much-speaking can by no means be classed as any of the here-mentioned varieties. It hangs just below one of the bulletin boards in Fanning Hall. You many not have even noticed it at all; but this much is certain—a few Freshmen certainly have! We all realize how very complicated and confusing Freshman Week was, and we are prepared to forgive the little dears who so carefully deposited letters to their anxiously awaiting parents and friends in this box! Maybe the sign which reads "News Box" was misunderstood. At any rate, it was a source of great consternation to those of us who learned of the fact, and we sincerely hope that from now on the "news" you send home will reach there before too long a time has passed since you deposited it!

Incidentally, though, if you do have any real news you'd like to have get into your College paper, there's no safer or better method than to deposit it in the NEWS box in Fanning.

Dr. Laubenstein Conducts First Chapel Service

The first Sunday vesper service of the school year was conducted by the college chaplain, Reverend Paul F. Laubenstein. The choir, augmented by a large number of new voices, added to the occasion by singing two anthems.

The address was given primarily for the freshmen, stressing the need for building, during the four years of college, a world which should be beyond the effects of time and change. As an example the Reverend Laubenstein pointed to St. Paul, who had the ability to rise above trying situations because he was able to create from them real opportunities. Paul's world was not built on things which do not endure; rather, his foundation lay in the reality of God.

The building material for our individual worlds should likewise be of worthwhile, lasting stuff which can prove adequate not only in our college life, but also in later years.

Miss Virginia Palmer, of New London. Plans are now being formulated for it.

In closing, President Blunt expressed the hope that students would become more conscious of the wide opportunities open in the field of individual study and honor work and would take advantage of this direct message in the search for truth.

Tea, Fashion Show Given In Honor of the Freshman Class

A tea in honor of the Freshmen class was given on Saturday afternoon by the Juniors. It was held on the sunny terrace of Windham House. While the girls sat chatting, models appeared wearing attractive clothes suitable for the gamut of activities in college life. Miss Betty Butler, chairman of entertainment for the Junior class, was in charge of arrangements.

The models were: Freshman Week, Judith Waterhouse; Typical college girl, Jean Pierce; Service League dance, Carol Moore; Initiation, Jeanette Dawless; Suit, Frances Walker; Formal, Betty Brewer; Suit, Betty Fairbank; Dinner Dress, Jane Austin; Velvet afternoon dress, Katharine Andrus; Lounging pajamas, Selma Kingsdale; Soph Hop tea dance, Grace Smythe; Dressy suit, Alice Scarritt; Formal, Charlotte Caldwell; Tailored wool, Margaret Muloch; Velveteen, Beryl Campbell; Mid-winter Formal, Ruth Hollingshead; Outfit for Izzy's, Betty Gilbert; Riding Habit, Anne Crowell; Tennis, Carman Palmer; Informal musicale, Jean Howard; Junior Prom, Virginia Ewers.

POSTER GUILD

The officers of Poster Guild this year are Mary C. Jenks '38, chairman and Muriel Beyea '38, treasurer. Anyone interested in making posters please see the chairman.

Clubs and associations are urgently requested to order posters far enough in advance to allow time for the work to be done carefully.

sational success which was followed by offers of concert and operatic engagements not only in Germany but elsewhere on the continent. She is at the present time soloist of the Community Church in New York and is director of the Community Choral group. Miss Leslie is also a splendid teacher of voice.

Dr. William Jay Hale

Dr. Hale is a nationally known chemist. He was for many years a member of the faculty in chemistry at the University of Michigan and was formerly chairman of the division of chemistry and chemical technology of the National Research Council, Washington, D. C. He is a member of the Farm Chemurgic Council, the purpose of which is to further the industrial use of agricultural products through applied science. Dr. Hale has written many important papers dealing with phases of this subject and other topics of scientific interest. He is also the author of several authoritative books on chemistry.

Dr. Harold Hutcheson

Dr. Hutcheson is a graduate of the University of Richmond and of the John Hopkins University where he received his doctorate in political economy last June. While an undergraduate he was awarded the junior year abroad scholarship of the Institute of International Education of New York. He took the year at the University of Edinburgh in Scotland and during the following summer studied at the University of Berlin. Dr. Hutcheson was an instructor in economics at College Center, Baltimore, in 1934-35 and was a student assistant in economics at Johns Hopkins University last year.

Dr. Elizabeth Grier

Dr. Grier comes to Connecticut College from Barnard College, Columbia University, where she was a member of the history department. She is a graduate of Wellesley and did graduate work at the American Academy in Rome and at Columbia University. Dr. Grier is the author of several articles dealing with classical subjects. She is a member of the New England Classical Association, the American Philological Association and the Archeological Institute of America.

Frances E. Keene

Miss Keene graduated from Smith in 1934 and did graduate work at the Casa Italiana of Columbia University, receiving her degree of Master of Arts in Italian this year. She was honored with a Columbia fellowship to the University of Perugia because of the excellence of her work in Italian. She has written travel articles and reviews for Italo-American weeklies.

Jacqueline Fouré

Miss Fouré is of English birth but received a great part of her education in this country and in France. She graduated from Ohio State University in 1934 and continuing her studies in France received the Certificate d'Etudes Françaises at the University of Grenoble in 1935. She has been doing graduate work at the University of Wisconsin during the past year.

Dr. Martha Denny

Dr. Denny graduated from Smith College in 1930. She continued her studies at Radcliffe College where she received her degree of Master of Arts in 1932 and her degree of Doctor of Philosophy in 1936. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Mrs. Sarah Pfeifer

Mrs. Pfeifer received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Drexel Institute in 1929 and is now working for her Master of Arts degree at Columbia. Last year she was critic teacher in Wayne, Pa., the practice teaching center for Drexel. She also had teaching experience at Drexel, at Bethlehem, Pa., and at Pittsburgh. In addition to her work as an assistant in home economics, Mrs. Pfeifer will be house fellow of Mosier house, the cooperative dormitory.

EXCHANGE NOTES

The Mississippi Collegian offers several amusing anecdotes this week. One—

Registrar: "Well, what do you want?"

Freshman: "I want a vote; I registered here last week."

Among the freshmen definitions we chose some especially brilliant ones:

Epistle: A pop-gun.

Adam: The smallest thing in Chemistry.

Propaganda: A daddy goose.

Il Duce: A low card.

Debit: A girl's first appearance in society.

New Quarters for Music Department In Holmes Hall

At last realizing a long felt need for adequate housing, the music department is now established in its new quarters made possible by the gift of the class of 1936. The large recreation room at Holmes Hall has been converted into a music office, a class room, a voice studio, a piano studio, and several practice rooms, all of which are sound proof.

Miss Grace Leslie, newly appointed instructor in voice, is a concert singer of distinction. She has met with great success in Europe as well as this country, and has done much radio work. At present she is soloist of the Community Church in New York and director of the Community Choral group.

Since Mr. Weld's retirement, the choir and glee club are now a single organization under the direction of Dr. Erb, and to be known as the College Choir. Meeting twice a week, the organization will study both sacred and secular music. Although there are already about fifty girls registered, there are still a few vacancies.

The 1936-37 recital series will be opened about the middle of October by Miss Ray Ballard, instructor in piano. These recitals are under the auspices of the music department and they present outstanding artists throughout the year. Announcements of the concerts will be posted on the bulletin boards.

College Rings Are New Fad

How come the swanky new college rings with the official seal and everything, being disported of late by the gals on the Connecticut campus? Our Inquiring Reporter (who keeps up on such things by always having one ear to the ground) reports as follows after due investigation:

The official University (college) rings are blossoming out all over the campus for the simple reason that The Parker Pen Company is offering one to each student at the unheard-of low price of 25¢ and the top from a carton of their new quick-drying ink, Parker Quink. The ring is a certified $2 value and, if you have been paying attention in Math class, you can readily figure out that you can save $1.75 by taking advantage of Parker's offer.

We predict that official school rings, like the automobile, are here to stay. Heretofore, many students regarded the college ring as an expensive luxury, to be possessed only by the idle rich. But now that Santa Claus has arrived (in the guise of The Parker Pen Company) there is no reason why every student on the campus shouldn't have one.

Any retailer selling Parker Quink can tell you what size you need.

Nationwide Essay Based On Movie Is Launched

As the first step in the most comprehensive educational campaign ever planned in connection with a motion picture, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will launch tomorrow a nationwide illustrated essay competition based on its enormously successful movie version of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," now playing special engagements throughout the country.

The attractive grand prizes, two trips to Shakespeare's birthplace, Stratford-on-Avon, and the attention and praise received by the picture "Romeo and Juliet" is expected to interest millions of theatregoers in the contest. The number of inquiries already submitted indicates that a record number of contestants will be entered in the contest.

A trip to Stratford-on-Avon on the French Line Steamer, Ile de France, and return on the Normandie, will be awarded to the best illustrated essay submitted in each of the two classes which make up competition.

Classes are—

1. All students in junior and senior high schools, parochial and private schools from the seventh grade up, and all college students. They may enter in groups of twenty-five or over, under the sponsorship of a teacher or some adult.

2. Open to adults, members of clubs, drama study groups, movie study groups, musical clubs, Shakespeare societies, etc., sponsored by leaders of the organizations. Adult groups will also be formed by local theatre managers.

The winning essay in these local competitions will be eligible for the two national grand prizes.

The winning essay in the national competition will be selected by a group of three nationally known Shakespearean authorities who will act as judges. Their names will be announced shortly.

To facilitate the entry of the many thousands who have already inquired about the competition, and the many who will want to enter, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has prepared a contest guide which will be distributed throughout the country within a week. This contains all necessary information, and will include a sheet of miniature photographs taken from the production of "Romeo and Juliet", on which the contest will be based.

It seems that everyone is talking about this certain freshman who thought Western Union was cowboys' underwear.

Any girl who thinks no man is good enough for her may be right, but more often she is left.

Student Government Holds First Meeting

The first amalgamation meeting of the year was held last evening in the gymnasium with Margaret McConnell, President of Student Government, presiding. She introduced the Chief Justice of Honor Court, Virginia Deul, the Speaker of the House, Barbara Lawrence, and the President of Service League, Eliza Bissell. Each of these officers explained the functions of her organization.

President McConnell outlined briefly the various problems now confronting Student Government. The student body was asked to consider the problems of shortening the election time, the drinking rule, vespers attendance, student forums and better fire drills. Action will be taken on these several problems at future amalgamation meetings.

After the meeting, the Dramatic Club presented two short sketches.

Chesterfield's Fall Radio Programs

The popular Andre Kostelanetz dance programs sponsored by Chesterfield Cigarettes over the Columbia network will open their Fall season on September 30th with the return of Nino Martini as star of the Wednesday evening broadcasts. Kay Thompson, Ray Heatherton and the Rhythm Singers will continue to hold the spotlight on Fridays, with a new broadcasting time of 8:30 p. m., E. S. T. and a re-broadcast of the entire show from New York at 11:30 for listeners in the West.

The Martini programs on Wednesday evenings will also feature a new Chesterfield chorus of 18 mixed voices which Kostelanetz has spent many weeks selecting and rehearsing. Insiders on radio row who have heard the new ensemble are lavish in their praises, and some claim that it is the finest singing aggregation Chesterfield has yet put on the air. They plan to vary the brilliant dance arrangements of Kostelanetz with the pick of light music from musical comedies, operettas and popular movies.

With the same background of Kostelanetz dance music on Friday evenings, the Kay Thompson-Ray Heatherton combination, accompanied by the Rhythm Singers will continue to present their interpretation of popular songs and vocal novelties. This program was one of the outstanding hits of the summer season, twice being honored by nationally prominent magazines in the form of medal awards as a dance program "refreshingly different". No doubt Chesterfield's new time periods on Friday, which include the later broadcast from New York for the Columbia Stations in the Western half of the country, were arranged so that more listeners could enjoy these popular entertainments.

CLUB NEWS

The Dramatic Club will hold its first open meeting on Monday, October 12th. Miss Oakes will be the guest speaker at this meeting. A second open meeting is planned on November 2nd. The club hopes to have a well-known scene designer and painter as a guest speaker.

The date of Fall Play has been set for November 20th.

Ohio State Girls Have Mathematical Dog

Columbus, Ohio — (ACP) — Ella and Janet Jordan, Ohio State students, have what they hope will prove to be a valuable asset in "Brownie", a pet dog they have trained to give answers to mathematical problems.

"Brownie" can bark the answer to any problem, whether it calls for addition or subtraction, multiplication or division, so long as it's between one and nine. Thus, if asked the results of 35 divided by 5, she will bark seven times. Skeptics may write their problems on a blackboard as well as offer it orally, say the Jordan sisters.

And that isn't all. "Brownie" can balance a ball on the end of her nose for five minutes or longer.

New York Boy is Fast Worker

Chicago, Ill. — (ACP) — A. B. A. degree in eight months!

That was the record of Donald MacMurray, sensational New York prodigy, when he graduated from the University of Chicago in May according to schedule.

MacMurray, who graduated from a Bronx high school at 15, is the fastest of the prodigies attracted by Chicago's new plan, allowing graduation as soon as candidates can pass examinations.

MacMurray studied 14 hours a day (with the aid of coffee and chocolate bars) then took two days off and went hiking. He has bored through 200 books since entrance.

College Students Not Radicals

Chicago — (ACP) — Frequent charges of campus radicalism made throughout the country are strikingly belied by the average college student's utter unconcern about social and economic matters, according to Dean William F. Zimmerman of Midland College, Fremont, Nebraska.

"The students of today are incapable of entertaining radical ideas because of their utter disinterest in the problems which Communists and Socialists do all the shouting about," Dean Zimmerman told a group of educators here recently, adding that it was his opinion college students cannot even understand these problems.

Dean Zimmerman gathered data on "spontaneous student conversations from many campuses, derived not by questionnaire, but by listening in when young persons were unaware of being studied.

The college girl's first interest, as inferred from the frequency with which she chats about it, is in the doings of her college friends, while the male student gives first place to his studies. Public affairs attracted only seven-tenths of one per cent of the concern of men and two-tenths of one per cent of the girls' remarks.

With the Pen That Students Rate Highest

BY ACTUAL VOTE

Invented by a College Professor to Bring You Higher Grades

A college professor noticed that poor grades are often due not to brains running low but to pens running dry!

So he worked out an utterly different and basically better pen principle — and Geo. S. Parker engineered it to perfection.

Thus came the revolutionary Parker sacless Vacumatic that has superseded every old-style pen — both sac-type and sacless.

Recently the student editors of 30 college papers asked 4,699 of their readers, "Which make of pen do you own? Which pen do you prefer?"

To both questions more students answered "Parker," than any other two makes of pens COMBINED!

One reason is that the Vacumatic ink supply is EVER-VISIBLE, the ENTIRE length of the barrel. It isn't merely last-drop visibility — doesn't merely show when your pen is empty. It shows days ahead WHEN IT'S RUNNING LOW, so it can't run dry against your will.

The Vacumatic's working parts are sealed in the top WHERE INK CAN NEVER TOUCH THEM — can never decompose them. That's why this miracle pen is GUARANTEED mechanically perfect.

And the Parker Vacumatic has no rubber ink sac or lever filler — hence

Junior, $5; Over-Size, $10; Pencils, $2.50, $3.50 and $5 has room for 102% more ink without increase in size!

Its luminous, laminated Pearl style has won every pen Beauty Contest by 2 to 1. Go and see it today at any good store selling pens. The Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wis.

To Make Any Pen Clean Itself — Try this utterly different writing ink — Parker Quink — an ink that dissolves deposits left in pens by ordinary inks. Quink cleanses a pen as it writes — a Parker or any other pen. Ends pen-clogging. Get Quink at any store selling ink, 15c and 25c.

New Rules For Gym Announced By Department

The physical education department has changed its regulations concerning gym requirements and excuses. The new ruling is as follows:

1. We are discontinuing the system of self-explanation of absences from gym classes.

2. Acceptable excuses are those granted by Dr. Scoville or someone authorized by her, covered by the Infirmary List, or granted by Dean Burdick covering such cases as absence due to illness or death at home, attendance at student conferences, etc.

3. Students whose work and attendance at class is satisfactory will receive the grade of "Passed". Students whose work is unsatisfactory or who, except for acceptable excuses noted above, have missed more than one-third of the planned meetings of their classes, will receive the grade of "Not Passed". In case of prolonged illness, of which Dr. Scoville has known the details, a student's requirement may be waived by a joint recommendation of Dr. Scoville and the Department of Physical Education.

4. If a student is graded "Not Passed" because of unsatisfactory work, she shall take a minimum of 12 extra hours to make it up.

5. If a student is "Not Passed" because of exceeding the limit of the one-third rule, she shall make it up by taking an extra hour each week until she has attended twice as many times as she is absent over the one-third.

6. A student whose quality of work is satisfactory will be exempt from physical education in the spring of her junior year, if she has not more than 10 absences in each semester of her freshman and sophomore year, and not more than 14 in her junior year up to spring vacation.

Note: Whereas in determining whether a student is passed or not passed in her required work, absences excused by Dr. Scoville, the Infirmary List, or Dean Burdick, are disregarded. In determining exemption, all absences are counted.

7. A senior whose quality of work is satisfactory will be exempt from physical education in the spring season if she has not had more than 14 absences during her senior year up to spring vacation.

Note: Same as 6.

8. Senior transfers and students re-entering their senior year will be eligible for senior exemption. Junior transfers will be eligible for exemption in senior year only. Sophomore transfers and students re-entering their junior year will be eligible for junior and senior exemption disregarding the year not spent at Connecticut College.

CCOC

A weekend trip to a cottage at Niantic will be made on October 3rd under the direction of the Connecticut College Outing Club. It is the first of organized overnight trips to be made this fall. The cottage, which is near Crescent Beach, is located right on the Sound and affords ample opportunity for swimming, cooking over a campfire, hiking, and other amusements. Arrangements and details of the trip will be posted on the CCOC bulletin board. Everybody is welcome.

Besides the weekend trips, the usual boat rides, trips to Lantern Hill, and picnics are planned by the CCOC for the year.

Rush Prize For Senior Libraries

How many Seniors would like to have fifty dollars next June to spend for books? That happened last year to Sally Jumper, the winner of the Rush Prize for Senior Libraries. Mr. Charles E. Rush, Associate Librarian at Yale University and one of our trustees, is the donor. For the last two years in May, the competing collections have been on display in Windham east reception room.

The terms of the contest in the donor's own words which follow should be of interest to all four classes of the college.

Prize Award for Best Personal Library

Knowing that no greater delight and benefit can come to one who experiences the joy of forming a collection of one's own books, and hoping that an increasing interest may be stimulated in the appreciation and continuing use of good books, the donor offers an award of $50 in books to be given in May to the senior who during her college years has

- (a) Acquired the best personal library.
- (b) Given evidence of discriminating judgment in the selection of titles supplementing her interests while in college and forming the nucleus of an interesting library for future years.

All books shall be the personal property of the contestant, show evidence that they have been used profitably, and bear a suitable bookplate or other ownership inscription; neither the total number of books nor their money value shall be a determining factor; titles of a distinctly textbook character shall be excluded; rare editions and fine bindings are desirable luxuries, but they shall not be of importance in this contest; consideration instead shall be given to well edited and effectively printed books however modest in cost; particular attention shall be given to the personal taste used in selection and to the care with which a special interest has been followed.

Other indications of genuine interest and enthusiasm shown in the choice of subject matter will be discovered during the interview with the judges in their effort to select the library of the greatest interest, collected and used with the highest intelligence.

Following the first eliminations, the President and judges may arrange for a public exhibition of those entries selected for the final decision.
