Vol. 39-No. 1 New London, Connecticut, Wednesday, September 23, 1953 10c per copy

Connecticut Greetings

25th Freshman Offers Chance For Students

Wig and Candle is the dramatic and literary department which produces two three act plays and backs all other activities connected with this group. The group has been invited to attend week, the Shwiffs aim at fostering the dan ce workshop classes. One way they will take place at this time.

All-College Assembly Friday Opens Official Academic Year

New Foreign Students Welcomed From Four Countries

Two hundred and fifty-seven Freshmen entered Connecticut College Monday to inaugurate the thirty-ninth year of this institution which this year has a capacity enrollment of 850 students. The overclassmen are returning today for registration on Monday. This year will officially get underway as Wednesday, September 30, at 7 p.m., in the News office in the Palmer Auditorium at 8:30. Classes will begin immediately following this event.

1190 Applicants

Dr. Robert Cob- bedick, director of admissions, reports for admittance into the Freshman Class and for Transfer students, number approxi mately 1190 this year. In the Class of 1957 represent 39 states and 10 foreign countries. Connecticut and New York tie for first places, each having the most girls represented in the Freshman Class; both states have 131. Third with 129 is Massachusetts, with 34, followed by Pennsylvania with 27. The geographical distribution of this class is as follows: New England claims a total of 97 students with all states represented except Vermont. The Middle Atlantic States of Pennsylvania, New York, and New Jersey have a representation of 99 students. Each of the other states have 20 or more. Four foreign students have been accepted into the college. Other relatives of CC graduates, and daughter of CC graduates and from the West Indies.

School Preparation

Of the total of 178 students who graduated from the Connecticut College Alumnae are members of the Connecticut Class of 1937. The 178 have come from the Pacific Coast, while thirty are from the Midwest. Twenty-six are from the rest of the United States, mainly the South but including Delaware. One Freshman comes from the West Indies.

Campus Movies

Movies scheduled to be shown in the campus in the near future are as follows:

Two shows in College Auditorium, 8:30 p.m., There is an admission charge of 10 cents per person.

From Four Countries

One hundred and the academic year will officially get underway as Wednesday, September 30, at 7 p.m., in the News office in the Palmer Auditorium at 8:30. Classes will begin immediately following this event.

Connecticut College Alumnae

The College Alumnae is a social organization for the benefit of the college. It has been decided that each class should have a mascot. The idea behind the planning of daily classes which need not be written. These classes, however, pertain only to the hiding place of the mascot, Nothing is said about the banner which the Sophomores may discover under their own init iative. The hunt is not only to the hiding place of both banners is that they must be hidden out of doors, but may not be buried.

Clues Verified

The clues to the day that the seniors singing the first class are to the Sophomores. After this first clue the Sopho more must have each clue to themselves, although the junior class can provide hints in the search for a particular clue.

Decoy Committee

Each class also has, besides its Mascot Committee, a Decoy Committee whose job is to try and lead members of the other class in guessing the hiding place of the real committee. There are therefore eleven members of each class on two committees plus the president of the junior class and one who is the only known member. Each class tries to guess the members of these secret committees. The collection of the frightful four days is the Junior Banquet which is to be held on Thursday. A log of the funny events of the week, kept by each class, is read and committees are named and revealed. The banquet always provides lots of surprises, and everyone has a wonderful time.

Connecticut College Alumnae

The College Alumnae is a social organization for the benefit of the college. It has been decided that each class should have a mascot. The idea behind the planning of daily classes which need not be written. These classes, however, pertain only to the hiding place of the mascot, Nothing is said about the banner which the Sophomores may discover under their own initiative. The hunt is not only to the hiding place of both banners is that they must be hidden out of doors, but may not be buried.

Clues Verified

The clues to the day that the seniors singing the first class are to the Sophomores. After this first clue the Sopho more must have each clue to themselves, although the junior class can provide hints in the search for a particular clue.

Decoy Committee

Each class also has, besides its Mascot Committee, a Decoy Committee whose job is to try and lead members of the other class in guessing the hiding place of the real committee. There are therefore eleven members of each class on two committees plus the president of the junior class and one who is the only known member. Each class tries to guess the members of these secret committees. The collection of the frightful four days is the Junior Banquet which is to be held on Thursday. A log of the funny events of the week, kept by each class, is read and committees are named and revealed. The banquet always provides lots of surprises, and everyone has a wonderful time.

Connecticut College Alumnae

The College Alumnae is a social organization for the benefit of the college. It has been decided that each class should have a mascot. The idea behind the planning of daily classes which need not be written. These classes, however, pertain only to the hiding place of the mascot, Nothing is said about the banner which the Sophomores may discover under their own initiative. The hunt is not only to the hiding place of both banners is that they must be hidden out of doors, but may not be buried.

Clues Verified

The clues to the day that the seniors singing the first class are to the Sophomores. After this first clue the Sopho more must have each clue to themselves, although the junior class can provide hints in the search for a particular clue.

Decoy Committee

Each class also has, besides its Mascot Committee, a Decoy Committee whose job is to try and lead members of the other class in guessing the hiding place of the real committee. There are therefore eleven members of each class on two committees plus the president of the junior class and one who is the only known member. Each class tries to guess the members of these secret committees. The collection of the frightful four days is the Junior Banquet which is to be held on Thursday. A log of the funny events of the week, kept by each class, is read and committees are named and revealed. The banquet always provides lots of surprises, and everyone has a wonderful time.
Look Around
Ivy Towers Will Come Alive With Activities of CC Life

"Join, Join, Join," this would be an excellent slogan to put on the banner issue of this Freshman Edition of CC News which points out to you of the class of 1957 the many faces of college life, but we feel that we can hardly advise you to join anything—You've probably had your fill of advice by now anyway.

What we are going to say to you is to look around this grey and green campus of ours. Look at the upperclassmen who are responsible for the many activities and then you will find that the buildings which seemed up until now merely architectural structures take on new life. Tuesday night we're sure that the audition can be primary and is only part of the attraction to a place where students freely voice their opinion in regard to Student Government. Later in the year the auditorium will be bustling with prospective members trying to appear before the footlights. Look at the chapel, now standing majestic at the main entrance. It will be filled with girls while their classmates march down the aisle as members of the choir.

The lights on the hill—oh—which will soon be blazing in the basement of the Quad dorms will be an outward sign of this group trying to write that last headline or discussing the performances of Honegger's King in the basement of the Quad dorms WIll be an outward sign of this group trying to write that last headline or discussing the performances of Honegger's King in the Arboretum. This is an opportunity to meet with other students in international affairs achieve a better understanding of the operation and procedure of the United Nations.

IRC Caters to Students Who Have International Interests

To promote an interest among students who are entering or transferring to get to know girls from other classes in recent years. The girls at CC have discovered the importance of contacting Jan Fenn W. E. Park will speak at first Vespers

At the first college vespers service of recent origin, but

The first college vespers service is open to all students, members of the Women's College. The service will be held in Harkness Chapel, and it is expected that the girls interested in the event will be open to all students, members of the Women's College. The service will be held in Harkness Chapel, and it is expected that the girls interested in the event will be invited to this, and they are asked to sign up for the autumn term the bulletin board in the lower hall of the Unicorn.

Outing Club Picnic

The Unicorn will sponsor the Outing Club will follow the Unicorn House. This will also be held in the Unicorn, directly back Buck. Freshmen and Transfers will be cordially invited to this, and they are asked to sign up for the spring picnic which will be placed on the bulletin board in the lower hall of the Unicorn.

Frosh Will Welcome Cadets to Campus

Press Board Girls Aid CC Publicity

Press Board is the student organization on campus which plans and casts events of college activities to outside newspapers. It is the task of Press Board to write daily news of campus affairs for a free of expense in daily newspapers and for the way the organization also has a photography department which produces all the photographs for use in the college newspapers.

There are no requirements for membership. Joining offers the opportunity of being on campus and of offering previous experience is not a prerequisite. Those are interested in learning how to write for a newspaper are welcomed. Freshmen are encouraged to try out for Press Board positions.

The actual hours of the Reception are from 8 to 10, but the Girls and two of the two invitations will be open afterwards until 12. Those who wish to stay with their dates until then.

Frosh Will Welcome Cadets to Campus

Saturday night, September 26, is the date set for the annual Reception in Knox Hall with refreshments served by the Connecticut College Freshman Class and the Social Chairman of Service League at 7. The reception is open to female students in the classes of 1939, 1940, 1941, and 1942.

Are you sure we're not supposed to go to some meeting now?

Radio Enthusiasts Sponsor Programs Need Over Station WCN

WCN are the call letters of the Connecticut College Radio Station which is run entirely by students in the Radio Club on campus on a limited basis. This club offers students experience in the various phases of radio work, such as announcing, script writing, technician work and directing.

Outside of work on the campus station, this group is responsible for recording programs which are broadcast over stations WNLC and WICH. These shows are mainly inherited with college guests visiting the college.

Another function of Radio Club is to record events on campus such as entertainment at dances, social events, and the Spring Festival. With Mrs. Josephine Rhy as faculty adviser, Joanna Pursh 54 is the president of this organization. Notices will be placed on the bulletin boards of the dormitories in advance of the first broadcasting date for the year of WCNL. Participation is encouraged either by listening or by active membership. This club is open to all students of interest or not, as training is given to all members in the phase of radio work which they wish to become familiar with.

The Radio Club bulletin board in Fanning will announce meetings at which students can get information about joining this organization.

Program Jammed With Get-Together Plans for 5cers

Under the presidency of Joan Abrahamsen, president of the Student Association of Freshmen, the program is set for early this year. Invitations are extended to all for coming and attending the inter-class hockey game beginning at 1:15 that afternoon on the field directly in the middle of the campus. Everyone is urged to come and enjoy the fun.

The hockey game will be followed by an informal Open House given for Freshmen and Transfers by AA down Buckone.

Outing Club Picnic

The picnic sponsored by the Outing Club will follow the Open House. This will also be held in the Arboretum, directly back Buck. Freshmen and Transfers will be cordially invited to this, and they are asked to sign up for the spring picnic which will be placed on the bulletin board in the lower hall of the Unicorn.

Frosh Will Welcome Cadets to Campus

Press Board is the student organization on campus which plans and casts events of college activities to outside newspapers. It is the task of Press Board to write daily news of campus affairs for a free of expense in daily newspapers and for the way the organization also has a photography department which produces all the photographs for use in the college newspapers.

There are no requirements for membership. Joining offers the opportunity of being on campus and of offering previous experience is not a prerequisite. Those are interested in learning how to write for a newspaper are welcomed. Freshmen are encouraged to try out for Press Board positions.

The actual hours of the Reception are from 8 to 10, but the Girls and two of the two invitations will be open afterwards until 12. Those who wish to stay with their dates until then.

Frosh Will Welcome Cadets to Campus

Saturday night, September 26, is the date set for the annual Reception in Knox Hall with refreshments served by the Connecticut College Freshman Class and the Social Chairman of Service League at 7. The reception is open to female students in the classes of 1939, 1940, 1941, and 1942.

Are you sure we're not supposed to go to some meeting now?