Forum in Hartford Will Welcome All Foreign Students

More than 350 foreign students and exchange teachers have been invited to Hartford to give the first official Christmas holiday welcome to Connecticut for foreign students in Connecticut universities and hospitals which will be held Saturday, October 18, in Central Hill Hall, G. Fox and Company, Hartford.

Educator to Speak

This program, an outgrowth of last year's successful foreign student forum attended by 220 foreign students representing 39 foreign countries, is supported by the Beatrix Fox Auerbach Foundation and represents the cooperative efforts of 18 major community groups in the state.

The keynote speaker, William G. Covert, Director of the Office of International Peace, is former Education Editor of the New York Times. He has been working abroad for 27 years as educator and journalist to gain support for American public education and universities by publishing their achievements and needs. In 1947 he was given an award for Distinguished Service in the Interpretation of Higher Education by the American College Public Relations Association.

Social Meeting Follows

Following the opening address and talks by a three-member panel selected by the Institute of International Education, New York, and including two foreign students and an American student with whom each has studied abroad, foreign students will gather under the flags of their countries to meet each other, to talk with Americans who have studied abroad, and with representation of the foreign-language-speaking organizations in the state, which have been invited to attend the reception. Foreign students will be shown to their native tongue.

Contest Questions Academic Freedom

Cash awards totaling $5000 are now being offered by the National Council of Jewish Women for the best essay on the subject of American college on the topic. The Meaning of Academic Freedom. Essays must be not more than 2500 words, and must be submitted by December 15.

Aspects of the subject suggested for the essay include the significance of academic freedom, its purpose and meaning for the student extracurricular activities. Essays must be typewritten, double-spaced, on one side of the page. The contestant's name and address must not appear on the manuscript itself, but in an envelope. A self-addressed stamped envelope of authorization must be enclosed with each manuscript. Manuscripts may be obtained from Miss MacBain, 202 Fanning Hall, Middlebury, or by writing to the National Council of Jewish Women, 3210 Selby Avenue, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Apologies to Be Held October 7 at 6:45

Apologies will be held on Thursday, October 7, at 6:45 P.M. This first animation performance is scheduled at an earlier time than the original music recital later in the evening.

Numerous Schools Represented by 25 Transfer Students

Many of you have probably noticed the dark blue tags being worn on campus this year and the numerous students wearing them. These tags single out our 25 transfer students who are distributed among four of the University's student groups and junior classes. These students come from many other universities, both in and out of state, and it is interesting to note the wide selection of schools covered.

There are two students here at Connecticut from Colorado College and Bates College, and one from Michigan, and one student there is invited to study from the following schools: Wilfrid Laurier, University of Hamilton, Ontario; Northern Illinois University; Brooklyn College; Montana State University; Brandeis College; Notre Dame College; Rhode Island College; Catholic University of America; University of Wisconsin; New York University; Temple College; and Wesleyan College.

The keynote speaker, William G. Covert, Director of the Office of International Peace, is former Education Editor of the New York Times. He has been working abroad for 27 years as educator and journalist to gain support for American public education and universities by publishing their achievements and needs. No Place for Indifference

"When you see a shoe blown from some G.I.'s foot—or a helmet with a couple of holes in it, you wonder if he got new blood—in time."

The common affairs of men exclude so hideous a spectacle as those mentioned above. Our tendency on the whole is to avoid death, its immediate presence, its mere image, and to seek escape in the most glorified "pursuit of happiness."

The soldier who wrote the above quotation was forced to cope with the inevitability of death in its most tormenting form. We, who are far from the scenes of wholesale slaughter cannot touch on the subject of human potential entailed in a bloody conflict. Our obligations to those of our-own species become obscure at long range.

Yet we realize that obligations exist. In the end, there is little we can do. We cannot decide the issues at stake; we can only hope that we are not part of the "inconsequential" when life itself is involved.

Giving blood is one of those limited devices we possess to serve embattled humanity. To us, it is small. To the soldier who wrote the quoted letter, it meant a buddy's life. Can you cope with the inevitability of death in its most tormenting form? Can you look forward to seeing more of the same spirit throughout the year.

Rev. Francis McPeek To Conduct Vesper Service

October 5

Spending his first year as chaplain in Harwood Chapel on Sunday, Oct. 5, at 7 p.m. will be the Rev. Francis W. McPeek, chairman of the Industrial relations section of the Social Action Committee of the Congregational Christian Churches.

A native of Ohio, Dr. McPeek studied at Ohio State University, Princeton and McCormick Theological Seminary, and did graduate work at the University of Chicago. His home quarters are now in Chicago.

As an ordained Congregationalist, he has been associated with the actual pastorate and has been active in the drafting of social legislation for over five years. He has also served as director of social welfare for the Washington federation of churches for an entire period, and has been in his present position for about two years.

For four years, he was assistant director of the summer session of alcohol studies, and as he writes, he is "a member of a lot of folks interested in social problems."

Dr. McPeek's topic will be Suitable Placement, and will involve a consideration of the problem as one of making the best adjustment by an individual to an industrial work environment, the bigger picture of work, both in their bearing on religious vocation.

OSG Open to Students

Prixes of $50, $30 and $20 are offered for winning designs in a poster competition for student tours to Europe.

This competition has just been announced by the Travel & Promotion Department of New York, New York, and is open to all undergraduates and graduate students. The closing date of the competition is Oct. 25.

Designs should illustrate or suggest student interest for Europe and should be centered around a slogan of not more than six words. Last year's prize-winning poster carried the caption: "You can't hitchhike to Europe." Poster designs will not be accepted or returned. Announcements of the competition will be made in the campus newspapers and via other means.

Students who are interested in earning part or the whole of a trip to Europe next summer, or who happen to have extra earnings either in their pockets or savings accounts, may be interested in going to Europe with a group of classmates. Questions about participating in the trip should be directed to the Travel & Promotion Department of New York, New York.

doing their work in the editorial office of the New York Daily News. The poster is to announce may be any size, but not larger than 13x10 inches. Designs should be sent to the Connecticut College News, 112 East 57th Street, New York 22, N. Y.

Questions about participation in the trip should be addressed to the Travel & Promotion Department of New York, New York.

Radio Club Meeting Will Include Group Talks and Demonstration Program

CC Summer Social Events Include Weddings, Travel

Each new college year brings news of weddings, travel, and other social news on campus. And the lapse of vacation time always brings back news of developments in the personal lives of our old friends. This fall we have several engagements, summer travel, and some news of births and deaths to tell you about.

Four of last year's engaged students may be seen proudly returning this year. Lela Lewis and Alice Osborn '55 were married this summer in Bridgeport, Conn.

In other engagements, Pauline C. Thomas '54 was also married this summer. Her wedding to George M. Lewis took place on July 5. Ellen, a day student, will bring him her greetings in his room every day, get in touch with your campus representative:

A summer social event that many of us are looking forward to is the tennis tournament and the all-college "bad luck." Not the freshmen-transfer tennis tournament, of course, but the freshmen-transfer tennis tournament that has been going on for years. We all know how much fun it is to be outdone, and the freshmen are looking forward to it with excitement.

The freshmen choir will be presented at Holmes Hall this year. The music season will open with the Connchords. A band's name and sign "Mrs. Robert Randolph, Chicago, Ill." The Q. When a married woman is engaged to a foreign man, is she considered a visitor in the United States?

Mary Kay Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Nelson, spent the summer in the United States.

The Music Department is sponsoring a concert by the New Musical String Quartet in Palmer Auditorium on Sunday, October 5 at 5:30 p.m. The program will include chamber music by Mozart and Schumann. This is the first of a series of concerts sponsored by the department, which includes recitals by members of the faculty as well as by visiting professional artists. Tickets for this concert will be $1.50.

As a result of recent tryouts, several new members have been added to the college choir.

Give yourself this "Beginning-of-the-Term Quiz"

... to help you get better grades on your end-of-the-term quizzes

Sharpen your pencil and scratch your head for a few moments. This "quickie" quiz will save you a lot of head-scratching, hand-pulling, and sleepless nights when those all-important final exams come up at the end of the term.

True or False

1. The New York Times brings you more news than any other newspaper.
2. The New York Times has the biggest staff of reporters and correspondents of any newspaper.
3. The New York Times has 100 correspondents overseas in all important world capitals.
4. The New York Times has the biggest wire service in the world.
5. The New York Times has the biggest staff of sports writers of any newspaper.
6. The New York Times prints more of the news you need to help you in your career.
7. Faculty members in colleges all over the U.S. read The New York Times and recommend it to their students.
8. Reading The New York Times every day can help you get better grades, and keep you interestingly informed.

Answers: If you answered "true" to all the questions, you got 100%. And you'll get a lot closer to 100% on the exam that really counts, if you read The New York Times every day and keep up with the news that will help you in your class work. You'll enjoy reading The Times, too... in colorful sports pages, the movie, stage and book reviews, the food and fashion pages, the daily crossword puzzle. So The Times delivered right to your room every day, get in touch with your Times campus representative.

First Aid Courses to Begin
As Part of Civilian Defense

Questionnaires have been left in all dormitories for those interested in taking Red Cross First Aid courses. These forms must be filled in and returned to the housefellows by Thursday, October 2.

The courses, open to faculty members and students, deal with the prevention and prompt treatment of accidents, and are scheduled to last from October through December. They are a part of the whole Civilian Defense program, which also includes air raid drills, and which emphasizes preparedness and planning in the event of an actual disaster.

Both a standard and an advanced First Aid course will be given, with members of the CC faculty as instructors. Some of these will be people who took the Instructors' course when First Aid courses were last given on campus in the year 1930-31. The courses will be in the form of a lecture, with division into smaller groups for practical work.

These extra-curricular courses will meet once a week from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday or Wednesday. The standard course will continue for 9 weeks; the advanced course, for which the standard is prerequisite, for 5 weeks.

Architecture to Be Topic of W. Gropius

On Thursday, October 5, at 7:30 p.m., Walter Gropius, Chairman of the Department of Architecture at the Graduate School of Design, Harvard University, will give an illustrated lecture on Architecture and Planning in the Century of Science. Professor Gropius was formerly the director of the Bauhaus in Germany.

CHESTERFIELD
FIRST PREMIUM
QUALITY CIGARETTE
TO OFFER BOTH REGULAR & KING-SIZE

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR CHESTERFIELD - EITHER WAY YOU LIKE 'EM
CONTAINS TOBACCO OF BETTER QUALITY AND HIGHER PRICE THAN ANY OTHER KING-SIZE CIGARETTE

BOTH regular and king-size Chesterfields are premium quality cigarettes and come in the smart white pack.

BOTH contain only those proven ingredients that make Chesterfields the best possible smoke: the world's best tobaccos, pure, more costly moistening agents (to keep them tasty and fresh), the best cigarette paper that money can buy - nothing else.

BOTH are much milder with an extremely good taste and, from the report of a well-known research organization - no unpleasant after-taste.

BOTH are exactly the same in all respects. There is absolutely no difference except that king-size Chesterfield is larger - contains considerably more of the same tobaccos - enough more to give you a 21% longer smoke, yet costs very little more.

Class of 54 Elects Gurney Song Leader

At their class meeting on Tuesday afternoon, the juniors elected Anita Gurney as song leader. She wrote the music to both the class song and the composite song freshman year, and has been quite active in music.
