Tornadoes and earthquakes the past year again the great need for blood. The Red Cross Mobile is coming again to raise money; but there is still a very great demand for blood. A number of classes have been held which emphasize the need and methods of getting blood. There is always need in hospitals. The Red Cross has continued operating classes in cases where there have been accidents, for example in accidents or cases of serious burns.

Dr. Wamsler
As Dr. Wamsler pointed out in a recent address: "We are not less and take a very short time. All the students made return of Wamsler's permission. Students who are under twenty-one years of age at the time of donating the blood must have a permission card signed by their parents. These cards may be obtained from the hospital, president, and includes a special card and schedule cards (necessary for everyone) must be completed and given to the informed by the Red Cross. The blood will be in the Knowlton Salon on Wednesday at 9:30 a.m.

The only restrictions against giving blood are as follows: Infectious diseases, heart disease, rheumatic fever, any blood disease, any blood disease under the age of 20 years; a cold should pass 48 hours before the time of donation; menstruating women are not allowed to give blood under 18 years; blood transfusion, and within six months; illness within one month.

Begin Senior-Sophomore House Presidents
Copies of the specific regulations of the student body are distributed at the beginning of the semester and may also be obtained from the house presidents. It is recommended that every student read the regulations. Please see Jeanne Gehmeyer or Sally Lindhaupt in Freeman House.

News Tryouts Offer Six Weeks Healing Time for 28 Girls
The month-long tryouts have come up to be just for tryouts for the News during the six-week period before the end of the fall semester. One by one the names of the six weeks, there will be a series of opportunities for the house staff to have successfully completed the tryouts.

New System
Newly selected ad hoc committees are selecting this year in order to lighten the load on those going into them. There are four of them: the Girls’ Committee, the Boy’s Committee, the Glee Singers, and the Junior Girls’ Committee.

The girls trying out have been divided into three groups: those who have been on the Girls’ Committee, those who have been on the Junior Girls’ Committee, and those who have been on the Glee Singers.

Junior Honors
In the past six weeks eight members achieved a standing of 3.3. These are: Alana Allen, Peter S. Brown, Doreen Butterfield, Janet Clineus, Ann Fishman, Janet Fishman, Jane Frey, Jeanne Gehmeyer, Nancy Houtch, Joan Parnell, Judy Palmer, Jane Palmer, Ann Pollard, Jane Pollard, Virginia Rogers, Louise Rubin, Winnie Smith, Constance Stahnke, and Trudy Winick.

Northrop to Begin Lecture Series on India October 8th
Professor F. S. Northrop will offer several lectures on India starting October 8th. His topic will be "The Cultural Heritage of India." Two lectures will be held during the week of October 8th.

Senior-Sophomore Traditional Fire Will Amuse Frosh
Friday, October 9th, the seniors and sophomores will be having their freshmen sisters at the traditional fire. The Bonfire will be held in the parking lot beside Palmer Auditorium.

Joint Efforts
This outing has been planned by the co-operative efforts of the East Campus 54, and Carolyn Pfeifer '57, the group that plans the social events of the junior class. All sophomores who are able to attend will be attending the bonfire with their freshmen sisters, and the seniors will meet at the site of the bonfire and bring the freshmen who are sophomores sisters cannot.

At the informal gathering it is suggested that everyone is comfortable, warm clothing be worn. There will be group singing and possibly a few selections by the Shuffels. Cider and donuts will also be served.

Forum to Resume Open Discussions
Political Forum will hold its first meeting this year on Wednesday, October 14, at 7:00 p.m. in the Newman Center. The meeting will be held in the Newman Center.

Senior-Sophomore Sophomore Group
Senior-Sophomore Sophomore Group is now being organized for the first time. It is open to any senior or sophomore who wishes to attend.

Many Writings
Professor F. S. Northrop is best known as author of the "Encyclopedia of the East," and "The Future of the East," which are widely read in the East and West. He has written "The Future of the East," which is expected to be published soon. In the meantime, Dr. Northrop will be available to the public at the Northeast College for Social Action, located in the Newman Center.

Kenneth Underwood
Kenneth Underwood, assistant professor of social ethics, holds the vacant position. He will be the speaker at the 7 p.m. vespers service, Sunday at the Connecticut College Chapel.

Many Activities
Professor Underwood is author of "The Social Ethics of the Christian Church," which is widely read in the church. He has been invited to speak at various meetings around the country and is expected to be a frequent guest speaker on radio and television.

Office Hours
Burnett's Office at the College, Monday and Thursday, from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. Thursday, 3:00 to 5:50 p.m. Friday, 9:00 to 10:00 a.m. and 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. Saturday, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.
Make Friendships In Foreign Lands

The benefits of participating in make hunt seems to include getting to know your class. It seems to me that one gets to "getting to know your class." Of the students with work to do, but to students with work to do, but also to instructors who are asked to shift dates for papers and tests.

The amount of which varies from about five to about ten. This is a waste of time. No one has very much time, and a waste of time.

It is much evidence of it.

The story is that of the yellow lights on the Groton Bridge spark... pondence between the United States and other countnies. Let us hope that having food and ink in living rooms is very serious, even in private life.

Let's we hope that having food and ink in living rooms is very serious, even in private life.

The 38-page booklet presents a brief survey of America's foreign student population, who they are, where they come from, what they study, where they study, and where they live. Tables and charts point up this basic data and individual examples highlight the statistics.

The story is about people who are not in the headlines: the 26,717 young men and women... 15,000 college students are seeking individuals who are interested in international friendship.

Let us hope that having food and ink in living rooms is very serious, even in private life.

The story is about people who are not in the headlines: the 26,717 young men and women who left both us and about us in the classrooms of American colleges during the past academic year.

For the census, students co... students comes from the United States and other countries, field of study, academic achievement, and clubs. Of the 272,000 colleges, universities, and professional schools surveyed, at least one foreign student enrolled.

The report defines a "foreign student" as a citizen of a country other than the United States who is studying or training in a higher education institution in the United States and who plans to return to his home country when his studies are completed.

There were 33,671 foreign students from 127 different independent nations, dependent areas, and trust territories studying in the United States last year. It is the largest number of foreign students ever in the U.S. at one time. This fact is reported in Education for One World, the census of foreign students, published by the Institute of International Education.

The 38-page booklet presents a brief survey of America's foreign student population, who they are, where they come from, what they study, where they study, and where they live. Tables and charts point up this basic data and individual examples highlight the statistics.

The story is about people who are not in the headlines: the 26,717 young men and women who left both us and about us in the classrooms of American colleges during the past academic year.

For the census, students come from about 160 countries, field of study, academic achievement, and clubs. Of the 272,000 colleges, universities, and professional schools surveyed, at least one foreign student enrolled.

The report defines a "foreign student" as a citizen of a country other than the United States who is studying or training in a higher education institution in the United States and who plans to return to his home country when his studies are completed.

There were 33,671 foreign students from 127 different independent nations, dependent areas, and trust territories studying in the United States last year. It is the largest number of foreign students ever in the U.S. at one time. This fact is reported in Education for One World, the census of foreign students, published by the Institute of International Education.

The 38-page booklet presents a brief survey of America's foreign student population, who they are, where they come from, what they study, where they study, and where they live. Tables and charts point up this basic data and individual examples highlight the statistics.

The story is about people who are not in the headlines: the 26,717 young men and women who left both us and about us in the classrooms of American colleges during the past academic year.

For the census, students come from about 160 countries, field of study, academic achievement, and clubs. Of the 272,000 colleges, universities, and professional schools surveyed, at least one foreign student enrolled.

The report defines a "foreign student" as a citizen of a country other than the United States who is studying or training in a higher education institution in the United States and who plans to return to his home country when his studies are completed.

There were 33,671 foreign students from 127 different independent nations, dependent areas, and trust territories studying in the United States last year. It is the largest number of foreign students ever in the U.S. at one time. This fact is reported in Education for One World, the census of foreign students, published by the Institute of International Education.

The 38-page booklet presents a brief survey of America's foreign student population, who they are, where they come from, what they study, where they study, and where they live. Tables and charts point up this basic data and individual examples highlight the statistics.

The story is about people who are not in the headlines: the 26,717 young men and women who left both us and about us in the classrooms of American colleges during the past academic year.

For the census, students come from about 160 countries, field of study, academic achievement, and clubs. Of the 272,000 colleges, universities, and professional schools surveyed, at least one foreign student enrolled.

The report defines a "foreign student" as a citizen of a country other than the United States who is studying or training in a higher education institution in the United States and who plans to return to his home country when his studies are completed.

There were 33,671 foreign students from 127 different independent nations, dependent areas, and trust territories studying in the United States last year. It is the largest number of foreign students ever in the U.S. at one time. This fact is reported in Education for One World, the census of foreign students, published by the Institute of International Education.

The 38-page booklet presents a brief survey of America's foreign student population, who they are, where they come from, what they study, where they study, and where they live. Tables and charts point up this basic data and individual examples highlight the statistics.

The story is about people who are not in the headlines: the 26,717 young men and women who left both us and about us in the classrooms of American colleges during the past academic year.

For the census, students come from about 160 countries, field of study, academic achievement, and clubs. Of the 272,000 colleges, universities, and professional schools surveyed, at least one foreign student enrolled.

The report defines a "foreign student" as a citizen of a country other than the United States who is studying or training in a higher education institution in the United States and who plans to return to his home country when his studies are completed.

There were 33,671 foreign students from 127 different independent nations, dependent areas, and trust territories studying in the United States last year. It is the largest number of foreign students ever in the U.S. at one time. This fact is reported in Education for One World, the census of foreign students, published by the Institute of International Education.

The 38-page booklet presents a brief survey of America's foreign student population, who they are, where they come from, what they study, where they study, and where they live. Tables and charts point up this basic data and individual examples highlight the statistics.

The story is about people who are not in the headlines: the 26,717 young men and women who left both us and about us in the classrooms of American colleges during the past academic year.

For the census, students come from about 160 countries, field of study, academic achievement, and clubs. Of the 272,000 colleges, universities, and professional schools surveyed, at least one foreign student enrolled.

The report defines a "foreign student" as a citizen of a country other than the United States who is studying or training in a higher education institution in the United States and who plans to return to his home country when his studies are completed.

There were 33,671 foreign students from 127 different independent nations, dependent areas, and trust territories studying in the United States last year. It is the largest number of foreign students ever in the U.S. at one time. This fact is reported in Education for One World, the census of foreign students, published by the Institute of International Education.

The 38-page booklet presents a brief survey of America's foreign student population, who they are, where they come from, what they study, where they study, and where they live. Tables and charts point up this basic data and individual examples highlight the statistics.

The story is about people who are not in the headlines: the 26,717 young men and women who left both us and about us in the classrooms of American colleges during the past academic year.

For the census, students come from about 160 countries, field of study, academic achievement, and clubs. Of the 272,000 colleges, universities, and professional schools surveyed, at least one foreign student enrolled.

The report defines a "foreign student" as a citizen of a country other than the United States who is studying or training in a higher education institution in the United States and who plans to return to his home country when his studies are completed.

There were 33,671 foreign students from 127 different independent nations, dependent areas, and trust territories studying in the United States last year. It is the largest number of foreign students ever in the U.S. at one time. This fact is reported in Education for One World, the census of foreign students, published by the Institute of International Education.

The 38-page booklet presents a brief survey of America's foreign student population, who they are, where they come from, what they study, where they study, and where they live. Tables and charts point up this basic data and individual examples highlight the statistics.

The story is about people who are not in the headlines: the 26,717 young men and women who left both us and about us in the classrooms of American colleges during the past academic year.
Along with finding sunburns and hands calloosed from sailing, Bill and Polly Haebler are who are announcing their engagement. Bill is a midshipman and a few who were married over the summer. The makers in K. B. are making plans for their weddings. Jane Minchell has chosen the twenty-sixth of June for her marriage to Lieutenant Frank (Bud) Huffman of the U.S. Navy, and the announcement was made at a cocktail party, a graduate of Cornell University where he was an Engineering Major.

June Wedding

Another June wedding will occur when B. J. Kent marries Kaffer Ficheno from Rochester, Minnesota. Kaffer, who is now in Yale Medical School is a graduate of Lafayette College. This is another happy outcome of a blind date.

Nancy Evans who announced her engagement to Bill Lafayette last summer has moved in Austria in the occupation forces. Bill, who attended the University of Virginia, is coming back to the States this week to complete his studies. He will now station himself at Port Devers, Austria.

On July 11, Barbara Hubbert '54 became the bride of Jack Newhuijsen. The couple has been stationed at the University of Stockholm in Sweden. They have been married since July 11, and now in the army stationed for the next two and a half years in Baden, Bavaria. Barbara plans to join him there after her graduation this June.

Jane Nolte has become engaged to Samuel Thorpe. Now working for the New York Times Corporation (in Boston, Connecticut, and San Francisco), she announced her engagement to a businessman in Connecticut where he was a member of Theta Chi.

Brittenian's Engagement

Beg Brittain's engagement to Van Hilton Allen was announced during the piano recital, given by Van last year at a Christmas party, last week. Van was graduated from Colorado College in the spring of this year, and is working in business at Dundee, Illinois. The wedding will take place on October 26.

Just before the close of the college last May, Berstein became engaged to Jules Seigel. Jules graduated from the University of Vermont last June. He is now working as an engineer for the General Electric Company, and is working for his M.E.E. degree at Cornell. In Vermont, Jules was a member of the T.E.P fraternity.

Joan Brown '54 of Glenview, Chicago, engaged Arthur J. Johnson of Chicago, Illinois announced their engagement this summer. Joan was a graduate of Glenview High School in New London. She became the bride of Jack Newhuijsen, now in the army stationed for the next two and a half years in Baden, Bavaria. Joan plans to join him there after her graduation this June.

Ethereal Recital

Another summer engagement was that of Carol Bernstien '54 and Bill Van Dyke, a graduate of Michigan State University. Carol is a member of the Tiger Glee Club and was a college debutante. The couple has set a probable wedding date of June 28 and expects to attend their marriage in New York City.

A sister at Brown is the fiance of Van Hilton Allen. He is now stationed in England, but will return to New York City for his post of duty.

Call Rothchild has announced plans for a June wedding to Daisy Yeo of Chicago, Illinois. Daisy is a graduate of the U.S. Army.

Guests and Honor Guests

The guests of honor included the sponsors of the Association, Frances S. Brett, Ruth Thomas, and Ruth S. Ferguson. Of special interest to all was E. Alverna Burdick, imported especially for the reception from the confines of Presbyterian Hall.

Lloy Koontz and Jane Lyon were chosen to preside at the wedding reception, which was a surprise to many of the guests. The reception was held in the confines of the newly remodeled auditorium. The receptionists were: Jane Lyon, Joan Neely, and Jane Dorgan. Several of the Council members had a few words to say; several more had a few more thoughts. After the entertaining speeches, the guests were shown how the new auditorium was used.

Tori Robinson was chosen to announce the names of the women who were guests. Each guest who was present was given a miniature program which included the name of the guest, her background, and her present occupation.

The reception was held in the confines of the newly remodeled auditorium. The receptionists were: Jane Lyon, Joan Neely, and Jane Dorgan. Several of the Council members had a few words to say; several more had a few more thoughts. After the entertaining speeches, the guests were shown how the new auditorium was used.

Tori Robinson was chosen to announce the names of the women who were guests. Each guest who was present was given a miniature program which included the name of the guest, her background, and her present occupation.

The reception was held in the confines of the newly remodeled auditorium. The receptionists were: Jane Lyon, Joan Neely, and Jane Dorgan. Several of the Council members had a few words to say; several more had a few more thoughts. After the entertaining speeches, the guests were shown how the new auditorium was used.

Tori Robinson was chosen to announce the names of the women who were guests. Each guest who was present was given a miniature program which included the name of the guest, her background, and her present occupation.
One World

Fulbright Competitions for Grants to Close October 31

October 31, 1953, is the closing date of the competitions for Fulbright Foreign Student Grants and Fulbright Foreigner Exchange Grants. It was announced today by Kenneth Holland, President of the Institute of International Education, 1 East 63rd St., New York City. This month marks the first in which to apply for awards under the Fulbright and Anerican Foreign Service Programs for the 1954-55 academic year.

Application Blank

Scholarship application blanks are available at the Institute or from Miss Biaggi. A brochure describing the overseas studies award may be obtained from the Institute.

The programs under the Fulbright Act and the Buenos Aires Convention for the Promotion of Inter-American Cultural Relations (SAAR) are part of the International Educational Exchange Act, appropriations for which are made in the annual appropriation for the Department of State. They give0000-00 American citizens the chance to study, for a limited period, in another country. As of the above date, there have been over 25000 American students who have studied abroad since its auspices, and 974 have accepted grants for study abroad. It was announced last November that the older Buenos Aires Convention Program sixteen Latin American countries since 1947. The purpose and aims of the Fulbright programs is to bring the people of the world together.

Award Information

Fulbright awards are made en bloc in the countries of participating countries. The Fulbright Act authorizes the use of certain monies in the State Department's budget and credits acquired through the sale of American foreign policy and cultural materials. The awards cover transportation, expenses of language instruction, orientation course abroad, tuition, books and maintenance for an academic year. Awards under the Fulbright Act will be made according to the qualifications of the candidates for the different countries.

Countries

Countries where U. S. graduate students may study under the Fulbright Act and where foreign students may study in the United States are Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Egypt, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, India, Israel, Japan, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan, the Philippines, Thailand, the Union of South Africa, and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. The Special provisions for study in the program for Germany, switzerland, and the Federal Republic of Germany are made in the program for Germany, Switzerland, and the Federal Republic of Germany.

LAUNDER-QUIK
6 Hour Laundry Service

CLOTHES WASHED, IRONED & FOLDED UP TO 9 LBS. 75¢

Pick up Days
Wednesday, Thursday & Friday

CALL 2-3830

HARTFORD NATIONAL BANK AND TRUST COMPANY

Two Convenient Offices in New London
Ready to Serve Conn. College Students

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation
Grad. School Examinations Will Be Held

Princeton, N. J. — The Graduate Record Examination Board, continued receipt of applications for admission to a number of graduate schools will be administered at examination centers throughout the coming year.

This fall candidates may take the GRE on Saturday, November 14, 1953, the dates are January 26, May 3, and July 10. ETS advises each applicant to inquire of the graduate school of his choice which of the examinations he should take and on which dates. Applicants for graduate school fellowships should ordinarily take the designated examinations in the fall administration.

The GRE tests offered in these nationwide programs include a test of general scholastic ability and a graduate level test of achievement. In seventeen different subject matter fields. According to ETS, candidates are permitted to take the Aptitude Test and/or one of the Advanced Tests.

Information

Application forms and a Bulletin of information with details of registration and administration as well as sample questions, may be obtained from college administrators or directly from Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 522, Princeton, N. J., or P. O. Box 9860, Los Feliz Station, Los Angeles 27, California. A completed application must reach the ETS office at least fifteen days before the date of the administration for which the candidate is applying.

Miss O'Neill's Shop

for your

Katherine Evans
43 Green St.

Restaurant and Caterers

Windham Special
Hot Food Bar-B-Q Shop
State Street

COURTESY DRUG STORE

119 State St., New London

DAILY FREE DELIVERY
Tel. 2-5857

"Your Patronage Is Our Pleasure"

Shop "COURTESY" for all your drug store needs and be convinced 100%. We have over 600 students and faculty for satisfied customers!

What better proof is there of quality, service and good-will?

FOR MILADY:

Our cosmetic and perfumes are the finest lines, to wit:

PHOTO NEEDS:

Kodak and Ansco Film . . . Cameras . . Flashbulbs . . Attachments
Film Developing, etc.

Prescriptions

Candy

"COURTESY" Is Your Complete Drug Store

FREE DELIVERY
Dial 2-5857

NO FINER STARTING POINT FOR A CAMPUS WARDROBE

No Finer Starting Point for a Campus Wardrobe

N. J. GORRA & BRO.

State Street
New London, Conn.

Classic
Cashmeres by Hadley
Braemar

Short Sleeved Pullovers
from 17.95

Long Sleeved Pullovers
from 21.95

Cardigans
from 24.95

Colors Galore

AND THEN THE FOLLOW THROUGH!

BERMUDA SHORTS

Wool flannel in oxford gray, light gray, camel or brown.

Wood plaids in your favorite tartan
From 8.95
tweed in pleasing blends.

Cotton khaki
From 4.95

BLOUSES & SHIRTS

Brooks Bros. broadcloth button down shirts. Cotton check with rounded collars. Watters checks in cotton flannel. And many more . . .
From 4.95

SKIRTS

Wood flannel, tweeds, worsteds, plaids pleated, unpleated, straight or a-line, colors to match anything.

This best describes our skirt selection . From 8.95

COURTESY DRUG STORE
119 State St., New London

DAILY FREE DELIVERY
Tel. 2-5857

"Your Patronage Is Our Pleasure"

Shop "COURTESY" for all your drug store needs and be convinced 100%. We have over 600 students and faculty for satisfied customers!

What better proof is there of quality, service and good-will?

FOR MILADY:

Our cosmetic and perfumes are the finest lines, to wit:

PHOTO NEEDS:

Kodak and Ansco Film . . . Cameras . . Flashbulbs . . Attachments
Film Developing, etc.

Prescriptions

Candy

"COURTESY" Is Your Complete Drug Store

FREE DELIVERY
Dial 2-5857

NO FINER STARTING POINT FOR A CAMPUS WARDROBE

No Finer Starting Point for a Campus Wardrobe

N. J. GORRA & BRO.

State Street
New London, Conn.

Classic
Cashmeres by Hadley
Braemar

Short Sleeved Pullovers
from 17.95

Long Sleeved Pullovers
from 21.95

Cardigans
from 24.95

Colors Galore

AND THEN THE FOLLOW THROUGH!

BERMUDA SHORTS

Wool flannel in oxford gray, light gray, camel or brown.

Wood plaids in your favorite tartan
From 8.95
tweed in pleasing blends.

Cotton khaki
From 4.95

BLOUSES & SHIRTS

Brooks Bros. broadcloth button down shirts. Cotton check with rounded collars. Watters checks in cotton flannel. And many more . . .
From 4.95

SKIRTS

Wood flannel, tweeds, worsteds, plaids pleated, unpleated, straight or a-line, colors to match anything.

This best describes our skirt selection . From 8.95
Views of News From Other U.S. Colleges

"You must expect to study at least 25 hours a week," freshmen at Illinois Institute of Technology were warned as they entered college this year. The 25-hour minimum study figure was set, on the basis of an average college student's class load, by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Simpson, director of reading service at De Paul's Psychological Services.

"If you don't read as rapidly as the average college student, you'll have to put in more than 25 hours," according to her statement. In a way, in the idea of the "more study is the cure for academical failure," note, "If students study no more than poor students they just use their time more effectively." She also gave the following specific pointers on how to study:

1. Besides taking notes on lectures, students are urged to take notes to summarize each textbook assignment. Practice every assignment in your quick text before you mark it, as street to questions. List the headings and summaries that give you a preview comprehension of the assignment. Quiz yourself; orally or silently, on every assignment before your instructor's quiz. It will not be the first you have faced. Review your accumulated notes in each subject once a week and a "read through" for finals will not be necessary.

Dartmouth College's "Great Isues" course, introduced in 1947, has been declared a success by the College's Committee on Educational Policy. Professor James P. Pool, writing in a recent issue of The Dartmouth Alumni Magazine, reported that "Great Issues" is certainly a successful course and that more than 75 percent of the students felt that the course had contributed more to their college education than any other.

2. Major Areas

Compulsory for seniors, the Dartmouth course deals with the major issues of today's world and uses newspapers as textbooks. Additionally, addresses by visiting lecturers supplement the reading. Its course work, largely due to the efforts of President Daniel H. Wickwire, extends into the third objectives: 1. to provide transition from the classroom to the real world, and to familiarize the forms and sources of a continuing adult education; 2. to give all seniors a common intellectual experience; 3. to develop among all Dartmouth seniors a more acute awareness of the issues involved in the great issues of today.-

New York

Weekends

Convenient to theaters, night clubs and all other points of interest, you have only to offer, the Roosevelt is the ideal headquarters for your social and entertaining pleasure.

SPECIAL STUDENT RATES

for weekends and holidays:

Two in a room $4.50 per person per day
Two in a room $5.50 per person per day
Two in a room $6.50 per person per day
All rooms with shower and bath
For information write or wire Miss Anne Hillman, College Representatives

HOTEL

ROOSEVELT

Madison Avenue at 45th Street
New York

24 Hour Film Service
A B C
Film Co. 74 Bank St.
For Processing and Supplies
Stanley S. Shapiro, Representative
Lois Keating—Freeman

MALLOVE'S

75 State St. Tel. 7519
Jewelry
Cameras
Gifts
Complete Selection of Classical and Popular Records

For Courtesies and Prompt Service Call
"YELL OW CAB"
4321
LIMOUSINES FOR ALL OCCASIONS

ELMORE SHOE SHOP

11 Bank St.
Shoes by "Sandler of Boston"
"As You Like Them"

Sawyer's "Rain Fashion" Socks
Bass Weejuns
White W. Wool Socks
Compact W. Woolen Clothes Dryers
No-Nail Picture Hangers

THE G. M. WILLIAMS CO.
Phone 3-5631

For admission to law school to be given for 1953-54
Law School Admission Test, required of applicants for admission to any leading American law schools, will be given at more than 100 centers throughout the United States on the mornings of November 14, 1953, February 6, April 3, and August 7, 1954. During 1953-54 some 1700 applicants took this test and their scores were sent to over 1900 law schools. A candidate must make separate application for admission to each school of his choice and should inquire of each whether it wishes him to take the Law School Admission Test and when. Since many law schools select their freshman classes in the spring preceding their entrance, candidates for admissions to next year's classes are advised ordinarily to take either the November or the February test, if possible. The Law School Admission Test, prepared and administered by Educational Testing Service, features objective questions measuring verbal aptitudes and reasoning ability rather than acquired information. It cannot be "crammed" for. Sample questions and information regarding registration of the test are given in a Bulletin of Information.
Alcohol Center at Yale Publishes Report; First Book Entitled “Drinking in College”

At Yale a group of physical and social scientists have worked for years on a reconverted mansion at the edge of the University's campus in making a pioneer study of alcoholism in the United States. This research program is head by Selden D. Bacon, director of Yale’s Center of Alcohol Studies. Its findings so far have challenged many of the preconceived theories about alcoholism and have thrown new light on American drinking habits.

College Alcohol Reports

The first of a series of reports from the Alcohol Center is the widely-discussed “Drinking in College,” published by the Yale University Press. This report based on a study of 18,000 men and women students in 27 colleges and universities throughout the United States, is the first ever study made of the drinking habits of college students.

Among the conclusions reached in the book is the fact that the drinking patterns of most students are formed before they enter college.

Extraversion Not Important

“While we’re hoping to learn the basic facts about the ordinary drinker, and for the purpose of this project, we’re not interested in the ‘dry boy,’” said Mr. Bacon. “We want to learn the effects on the body and emotions of a small amount of alcohol in the hope that this knowledge will help us in the treatment of the drinker.”

Yale’s Center of Alcohol Studies started as a laboratory of applied physiology. Initially, its only interest in alcohol was as a chemical factor in physiology, but as information from the newly gained currency, the laboratory began to receive a growing flood of questions related to the subject of alcoholism from teachers, ministers, doctors, policemen, and social workers.

Alcoholism Has Wide Impact

By 1937, it was decided to extend the entire field of investigations. A sociologist, an economist, a jurist, a statistician, a biologist, and a doctor were added to the staff. The number of different fields represented reflects the wide impact of alcoholism in the community.

Drinking in college, based on a six-year study, is the first major report of the Alcohol Center. Apart from what the book tells about college drinking in America, the study is important because it establishes the foundation for a long-range study of a whole group of people containing a small proportion to become alcoholics.

College Students Less Inhibited

When the Alcohol Center was first set up, it was feared that students of the University's campus, living in a reconverted mansion at the edge of the campus, might be more inhibited than adults, and also because they were available in groups on the campus.

“Also,” he said, “we knew college students were old enough so that we were sure a large number would have started drinking, but not so long ago that they would have forgotten when and under what circumstances they started.”

Students Volunteer Information

“Until recently,” Mr. Bacon explained, “all data on drinking habits were concerned with abnormal drinking and its relationship to divorce, crime and the like. We felt it essential to gain a picture of the normal drinking customs of the American people.

Mr. Bacon said that it will be possible to conduct follow-up studies of students interviewed in this college-age because 77 per cent of them voluntarily gave their names for future references.

Students Response Gratifying

“Each questionnaire filled out by the student,” he explained, “had a number on it, although there was no place on it for the respondent’s name. We inserted a clip into each questionnaire with the number on it, asking the student if he would sign his name to the code number so we could go back in later years to check. Over 12,000 of the students—76 per cent of the men and 81 per cent of the women—signed their code number slip.”

This response was gratifying to the researchers. However, college authorities had to be promised that the names of the institutions where the studies were made would never be released.

However, college authorities had to be promised that the names of the institutions where the studies were made would never be released.

FOR THOSE MIDNIGHT “FEEDS”

[Ad for Mill-End Shop]

The Savings Bank of New London

New London, Conn.

A Mutual Savings Bank—Organized in 1827

A Good Place to Deposit Your Savings

First Aid Classes Begin October 14

Beginning Wednesday evening, October 14th, a course in Standard First Aid will be given in Panning Hall, room 315. The course will take nine Wednesday evenings from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. and will be taught by Miss Burrill. The text will cost sixty cents. An American Red Cross Certificate will be awarded for successful completion of the course. Be sure to sign up now on the sign-up sheets posted on every dorm bulletin board.
Foreign Students
(Continued from Page Two)
How old are they? The average age at which foreign students enter American universities is younger than that of their American counterpart. He often has several years of practical experience behind him when he undertakes American study. The exception is the Latin American student; he often comes north for his undergraduate training.

Do many foreign women study here? One out of every four students polled in the census was a woman. The largest percentage of women students was found among Europeans. The smallest was among the Africans, where the few existing educational opportunities are likely to be filled by men.

Where do they study? Every region of the United States plays host to foreign students. In general, their distribution follows the general population pattern, with large numbers of the visitors on the West Coast and in the Northeast. Over half of the educational institutions surveyed reported some foreign students enrolled.

How long do they stay? Foreign students often stay in the United States longer than a single year. If finances, visa requirements, and study plans are low, many students stay until a degree or special project is finished. Of those polled, forty-six per cent arrived in 1952. Over one quarter, twenty-eight per cent, began American studies at some time before 1950. Twenty-six per cent did not answer this question.

Who pays the bill? Schools and campus groups, private organizations, business corporations, the U. S. and foreign governments all contribute to the financial support of foreign students in the United States. Although sixty per cent of the students listed their own or their families’ funds as one source of income, many of them reported support from more than one source. Twenty-six per cent were fully or partially supported by private organizations or fellowships. Eighteen per cent received funds from their own or the U. S. Government. A large proportion of this public or government support has been granted to students from Africa and Europe. While private agencies have assisted more students than have public, it is probable that the financial value of government support has been greater.

The last section of the census discusses the foreign student in the community. The large “incoming” exchange movement is a potent educational force whereby people can learn about other people directly. Many communities have coordinated programs for foreign students, while others arrange informal contacts.

The Institute of International Education is the central private agency in the U. S. in the exchange of students, teachers, and specialists; in cooperation with its Committee on Friendly Relations, Foreign Students, New York City, it has conducted a census of foreign students every year since 1921. This is the fifth annual issue of Education for the World. Copies of the census report may be obtained from the Institute’s New York or regional offices.

Psych Club Elects Officers for 53-54
Future plans and election of officers were the main order of business at the first psychology club meeting on Tuesday night. Janet Gross ’54, the president, presided over the discussion of ideas. Del Diefendorf ’53, was elected to the dual positions of vice president and secretary and Joan Parsells ’53, was elected treasurer and social chairman.

New CC Students To Take “C” Quiz
Freshmen, transfers, and foreign students will take the “C” Quiz Monday, October 12, at 7:00 p.m. Those who fail to pass this test will be approached by Honor Court and must show them that they really do know the rules of the college government. Transfers and foreign students will take the quiz in Bill 211. Freshman in Bill 121, 104, 106.

Exchanges (Continued from Page Six)

Free Speech
(Continued from Page Two)
smallest hunt seems to be a senseless get-acquainted party.
Sincerely,
A Sophomore

The Editors of News would be interested in opinions of various other students in the school concerning their views on Mascot Hunt—pro or con.

SMOKERS BY THE THOUSANDS

NOW CHANGING TO CHESTERFIELD

the ONLY cigarette ever to give you...

1 PROOF of LOW NICOTINE
HIGHEST QUALITY

The country’s six leading cigarette brands were analyzed—chemically—and Chesterfield was found low in nicotine—highest in quality.

2 A PROVEN RECORD
with smokers

Again and again, over a full year and a half a group of Chesterfield smokers have been given thorough medical examinations... the doctor’s reports are a matter of record, “No adverse effects to the nose, throat and sinuses from smoking Chesterfields.” A responsible independent research laboratory supervises this continuing program.

GARDE

Plume & Pol. Oct. 8-9
Elled Washington — John Harris
THE MURDER OF THE WEDDING

Sat. thru Tues., Oct. 19-13
Gary Cooper — Barbara Stanwyck
Ruth Husson — Anthony Quayle
BLOWING FIELD
plus DANGEROUS ASSIGNMENT

Copyright 1932, Lent & Howes Tobacco Co.