Red Cross Appeals to Conn. Students

For Needed Blood

On Wednesday, October 23, the League will sponsor a Visit from the Red Blood Mobile of Connecticut College. All students under twenty-one years of age must have permission from their parents before they will be allowed to donate blood. Information slips may be obtained from President Rosemary Hall and will be addressed by President Rosemary Hall and will be available in the Admissions Office staff for prospective students.

After the meeting these girls will have booths in the Connecticut College Center, where they will be guest of student hostesses. Alumnae and other guests will attend a special luncheon in Thames Hall on Sunday, October 5, to meet the new faculty members of the Department of Religion as well as other members of the faculty and administration.

Mr. Wiles, College Chaplain, To Speak at Sunday Vespers

The Reverend Gordon Pitts Wiles, the new Chaplain at Connecticut College, will speak at Sunday Vespers on October 6 at 7:00 p.m. in Hartland Chapel.

Mr. Wiles, who comes to Connecticut College this year from the Presbyterian Church in New Jersey, was born in Kimberly, South Africa, of English parents. He was educated in South Africa, England, and the United States. He has a Master of Arts degree from the University of Cambridge, England, where he studied history and special emphasis on the New Testament. He is now on a three-year seminar course at Westminster Theological College in Cambridge, and he spent a year as a graduate student at Princeton Theological Seminary.

Reverend Wiles began his ministry in the Church of England at Manchester. Then he returned to South Africa where he became active in the Student Christian Movement. For three years he held the position of Secretary in this association. The Church of England and the Presbyterian Church of South Africa merged in 1910.

During the Second World War Reverend Wiles was a Chaplain with the South African army. He was wounded and captured in North Africa, and spent two years in a German labor camp. After his escape from prison camp he hid for nearly a year behind the lines. He returned to South Africa three years after his capture that he has been awarded the military cross. He was awarded two military decorations -- the Member of the Order of the British Empire.

On Wednesday evening, October 23, Flo Potter, a German student, will be invited to come as guests of the Morrisson, secretary of the Board of Trustees, and Miss Ruth Stanwyck, secretary of the Student-Alumnae Center. Completely functional, the new building is torn down. An occasion of which the alumnae and their guests will be a part.

In the afternoon the visitors will meet in the lecture room of Hall and receive greetings from the Student-Alumnae Center, an occasion of which the alumnae and their guests will be a part.

Sophs' and Juniors' Temperatures Rise In Mascot Epidemic

Mascot, Banner, Fun Hunting Season Opens

On Monday, October 7

That time of year is fast approaching where the students are in search of a new mascot. Sophomores are wilder, sophomores are greeted by students who are hungry and ready to be fed. It's the perfect time of year for the search for a new mascot. The students are in search of someone who can fill the void left by the graduation of the previous mascot. The new mascot will need to be someone who can fit in with the student body and be a source of pride for the students.

Senior Class

The senior class will hold an informal get-together for the new students on Friday, October 4, at 3:00 p.m. in the Panther Room. The new students are invited to come and meet the seniors and learn more about the college.

The entertainment will include musical excerpts from last year's Senior Show, "Devil's Dilemma," which was the theme of the direction of Sydney Wrightson. The program begins at 8:30 p.m. and all the new students are cordially invited to come as guests of the senior class. It is a wonderful opportunity for an hour of music, refreshments and fun.
Watch the Roofops!

Twas the seventh of October, And all through Cono College, Many gall were sitting, And abandoning knowledge.

The juniors were scouring around in great care, In hopes that the Sophomores would not be there. The clues to the mystery were smuggled in place, The banner was hidden, leave no trace.

And Sophomores in trench coats, Junior in masks, Had started about to finish their tasks. When out on the hockey field I heard such a clatter, I sprang from my books to see what was the matter.

When suddenly it hit me, quick as a flash: 'Mascot Hunt had begun at last.' The fun continued for three short days. Books were forgotten and men were a haze. Notes were passed, masks were found.

And peculiar costumes that hung to the ground. And during the fun, I heard a voice say— "Happy Hunting to all—and to all a good day!"

Colorado Abets Education Efforts for Seaside Girls

Each week at 2:15 on Tuesday afternoon, CC girls go over to the Seaside School to teach a group of children for a half hour. The girls see guided tours of Filme states and, with the stories varying according to the age of the class, make up the classes. A party is held for Christmas and flowers are sent to the children at Easter.

This custom of having College students teach at Seaside has grown through the years. Many of the children are either too young or not able to travel to Seaside, which is a tuberculosis sanitarium, and so we can bring to them an important part of life which they otherwise might not be able to obtain.

Classes will begin again at Seaside on October 23. We are looking forward to another successful school year in which not only the Seaside children but also the CC girls will profit, for the girls learn by teaching and so gain a feeling of reward and satisfaction by helping these children. Anyone wishing to help at Seaside this year; contact Anne Warner.

and the Military Cross. At the end of the war he was selected as the representative chaplain of all the South African forces.

Following the second World War Royal Wiles became the pastor of one of the largest Presbyterian churches in South Africa. This church was located at Pietermaritzburg which is the capital of Natal Province. His next church was St. John's Wood Presbyterian in London. Reverend Wiles, who settled in America in 1964, has traveled extensively on the African Continent, in Europe, Britain, and the Middle East.

Mrs. Wiles is an American citizen from Indianapolis. She is a graduate of DePauw University in Indiana, and studied in London. They have two sons who are eleven and nine years old.

from Northwestern, closed the program with a contemporary set of pieces for the piano, Pintor's Scenes Infantas. Miss von Ehren read the poems that accompanied the scenes. Her ease at reading was won over into her ease at the piano. She possesses a finesse at the piano that is rarely seen in Manhattan's Central Park. There is a lot of new hatch, and only one army—a brainy mist, which caused a Mitchell boat to quit the first race.

The whole day couldn't have been more fun, and the merriment was added to by a very colorful committee boat on which Ann Fransel '39 and Ann Collier '39 helped out. Two more meets with Mitchell have been tentatively planned for Oct. 13 and 20. Sounds more like "forbidding". There is a lot of new hatch in the frontman class. Looks like a good sailing season ahead!

Sure. It's a brain. But what's it doing? If you're normal, it spends a lot of time figuring new ways to make you more attractive.

As you know, feminine fashions are shaping now along slender lines. But men look for more masculine combinations. They want girls who share their interests.

You can know more about male and female interests by reading The New York Times every day.

The Times gives you more on sports, theatre, books, TV, politics, world affairs, food and fashion. Its colorful articles make the news fun to know and exciting to read.

The Times is much more interesting...and you will be, too...on dates, in class, in sub-sessions. See your campus Times representative today — for delivery to your door every day.
