Controversial Speaker Claims War on Terrorism 'Off Track'

By Natalie Bolch

STAFF WRITER

Just one day shy of a year after the most tragically tragic attack in the history of the United States, Middle East Expert Daniel Pipes addressed a Connecticut College student body on the topic of "Your Land, Where Are We?" A Colloquium for The New York Post and The National Review, Pipes, who is the author of ten hooks including his most recent Modern Islam, defines Militant Islam as the solution, both in the State Department and the Department of Defense's Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA). Pipes' main goal is to explain the role of Islam in the world as well as to the large public. In addition to this, Pipes argued that the war, which has cost the lives of Americans for the past thirteen months, is "off track." He stated matter-of-factly, "You can't win a war unless you can name your enemy, and try understanding is that we are not running our enemy.

When管道 is defined as being divided into two hemispheres, not geographically but by the beliefs of the Muslim community. These two groups are defined "Islamic states" and "Modern Islam." Islamist Islam describes these Muslims who adamantly believe that Islam is the only answer regardless of the problems, "Militant Islam is a modern, 20th century ideology, acting at the very same time as fascism and Marxism-Leninism. It is attractive to a small percentage of Muslims. It is a recruitment, a blueprint, for taking over governments and running societies. It is something very different from Islam." Modern Islam, Pipes argues, is the solution. In turning these two parties, Pipes also attempts to show that while Militant Islam is not the only party of the United States during the conflict, it is both the strategic and ideal enemy of the United States because when Muslims and Islam will join together to fight this tyrannical war, it destroys the entire fabric of society.

Pipes boldly emphasized the fact that because Islamic Thieves thrives on its successes, "We must modernize Islam." This is the most radical idea put forward in the written form, and it is reflected through the attacks on September 11, 2001, the United States must take action to help return the Islamic nation.

He stated that the "fearful moment" should be dealt with by Islam, that we must

College Financial Outlook Remains Optimistic

James Reubin

New Berlin

According to the Financial office, the college is seeing a growth under a balanced budget for the second year in a row. Last year, the Board of Trustees unanimously approved an $82.4 million balanced operating budget for the 2002-2003 academic year. This year, the college is hoping to see another budget surplus from last year.

In recent history, the college had been operating under a principle of spending that led to a deficit of nearly $1 million in 2004. Paul Monier, Vice President of Finance, reported that immediately after this trend was reversed the college began alleviating the financial situation by decreasing spending. By 2004 the college had reversed its deficit and created a small surplus of $47,000. In 2005, upon submitting the budget, the college was able to articulate its belief that financial management and President Gaudiani, who was asked to resign during the 2000-2001 academic year, would continue. After fighting for President of the College. According to the NEW LONDON DAY and the college's 2001-2002 fiscal year. President of the College, was awarded $351,617 in employee benefits and awarded a salary, in addition to salary of $116,793, for that year. According to Gaudiani and Duncan精致, chairman of the College's Board of Trustees, the President's severance package was "tailored to contractual obligations related to length of service and fulfillment of the college's capital campaign." The package was said to be "comparable to that of other colleges in this part of the country."

In the face of this figures were announced, after a one-year wage freeze and ten full-time equivalent personnel의 reduction, the administration felt that the package was too much. "As President of the college, Joao Chiodo told a reporter in THE DAY, "gives the situation on campus with lay-offs, ... people are outraged at the amount of money given to former President Gaudiani."

But time and money seem to be lost most valuable. Fred Pasen, Professor of History and Director of the Torrey Conferences Center for continued on page 7

Percentage of Freshman Saying Yes Exceeds Expectations

By Ashley Scibeu

Merrill Auditorium, the incoming freshman gathered in the first floor of the college auditorium to meet the incoming class for the first time.

Dean of Admissions: A few nights later, during a speech from the J. Paul Getty Dean Merrill, there were extremely fortunate to be a part of fifteen percent that will have a double next year. Connecticut College is still holding true to its word that most students will have a single. However, what happens if next year's yield is high and expectations are not met again? The residence of knoball and Hamilton College may even some a new dorm could help students to show space. However, until then, this year's freshmen will just have to hope that they are just not back into the same small dorm after this fall semester.

John McIlroy, president of the college, said that the college admits that they failed to bring in enough students but instead of a negative, creative approach, President McIlroy has improved the situation on campus.

After a long series of negotiations, last year's Athletic Director, John McIlroy, reached a resolution of all issues between the college and the college led to the settlement of McIlroy, in reference to his "generosity the issue. Still, skepticism remains in many minds because next year most returning students are still guaranteed a single.

With only a fifteen project of the that will have a double next year, Connecticut College is still holding true to its word that most students will have a single. However, what happens if next year's yield is high and expectations are not met again? The residence of knoball and Hamilton College may even some a new dorm could help students to show space. However, until then, this year's freshmen will just have to hope that they are just not back into the same small dorm after this fall semester. With 2001-2002 academic year, the college led to the settlement of McIlroy, in reference to his "generosity the issue. Still, skepticism remains in many minds because next year most returning students are still guaranteed a single.
The Time Has Come to Cut Oil Dependency

On the first anniversary of the September 11th tragedies, it is important to take a step and analyze our program, particularly in reference to opposing terrorist sympathizing and supporting countries. When President Bush took the podium and delivered his speech following September 11th, he issued a strict doctrine: either you are with us or against us.

In analysis, one glaring failure is present. Why are we still bed with Saudi Arabia, a country that consistently supports terrorists, including some of those involved in the September 11th hijackings? Time and again, the Middle East in general has proved to be a nearly impossible area for the United States to deal with and yet we seem to continue maintaining relations (at times praising) of one of the region's biggest offenders.

My answer is simply: oil.

The time has come to slash our dependency on foreign oil and act to stop paying this false service. This cannot be achieved by delving into Africa, a situation that does not address the true problem, which is our country's oil-cutting consumption.

Many radical changes must be made, beginning with addressing gasoline of vehicles. The United States, according to Car and Driver magazine, has the highest per capita vehicle miles driven per person in the world. We also drive the longest distance and consume the most gas. This is a national crisis.

Just this year, we have overcome the record-high $4.00 mark. Americans spend $500 billion buying gas every year. In other words, approximately $1.50 per gallon for every person in this country. Yet, for the first time in history, the president has announced a national obsession with the price of gasoline.

It is time for the United States to begin taking gas prices seriously.

In analyzing the above, we must consider the role of hydrogen. Nature's most abundant element, and produces only water as waste. In the Midwest billboards advertise fuel ethanol made from corn that the local cars can inhabit. Hybrid cars are here and available for purchase at that very moment.

There is no longer an excuse to rely on the oil to the extent this country does. Even the inconvenience of such a switch may become less and less. Everyday, look around our campuses and see many alternative energy. We have yet more reasons to make the switch, whether it be environmentally, or diplomatic, and no reason not too.

---

POLICIES

The College Voice is an open forum. The opinions expressed by individual advertisers are their own. In no way does The College Voice endorse the views expressed by individual advertisers. The College Voice will not accept ads that it deems to be libelous, an incitement to violence, or personally damaging. Ad rates are available on request by calling (860) 453-2173. Please, refer all ads to the Business Manager, Jessie Vangrofsky.

The College Voice reserves the right to accept or reject any ad. The Editors-in-Chief shall have final content approval. The final deadline for advertising is 5:00 PM on the Wednesday preceding publication.

The College Voice reserves the right to edit Letters for clarity and length. No unsigned or anonymous Letters will be published. Letters to the Editor and letters, deemed to be a personal attack on an individual. The College Voice cannot guarantee the publication of any reply.

Letters to the Editor are due by 5:00 PM, on the Wednesday preceding publication.

The College Voice reserves the right to edit Letters for clarity and length. No unsigned or anonymous Letters will be published. Letters to the Editor and letters, deemed to be a personal attack on an individual. The College Voice cannot guarantee the publication of any reply.

The College Voice reserves the right to edit Letters for clarity and length. No unsigned or anonymous Letters will be published. Letters to the Editor and letters, deemed to be a personal attack on an individual. The College Voice cannot guarantee the publication of any reply.

The College Voice reserves the right to edit Letters for clarity and length. No unsigned or anonymous Letters will be published. Letters to the Editor and letters, deemed to be a personal attack on an individual. The College Voice cannot guarantee the publication of any reply.

Editors-in-Chief: Rick Gropper '04, Jessie Deselvey '04

Business Manager: Jennifer Wang '04

Copy Editor: Barbara DiPr
er

Letters to the Editor:

4pm EDITORIAL &OPINION

.editorial@conncoll.edu

We Stand

The editors.

On the anniversary of the September 11th tragedies, 1,100 students of Connecticut College, The Voice and the Middle East in general has proved to be a nearly impossible area for the United States to deal with and yet we continue maintaining relations (at times praising) of one of the region's biggest offenders.

My answer is simply: oil.

The time has come to slash our dependency on foreign oil and act to stop paying this false service. This cannot be achieved by delving into Africa, a situation that does not address the true problem, which is our country's oil-cutting consumption.

Just this year, we have overcome the record-high $4.00 mark. Americans spend $500 billion buying gas every year. In other words, approximately $1.50 per gallon for every person in this country. Yet, for the first time in history, the president has announced a national obsession with the price of gasoline.

It is time for the United States to begin taking gas prices seriously.

In analyzing the above, we must consider the role of hydrogen. Nature's most abundant element, and produces only water as waste. In the Midwest billboards advertise fuel ethanol made from corn that local cars can inhabit. Hybrid cars are here and available for purchase at that very moment.

There is no longer an excuse to rely on the oil to the extent this country does. Even the inconvenience of such a switch may become less and less. Everyday, look around our campuses and see many alternative energy. We have yet more reasons to make the switch, whether it be environmentally, or diplomatic, and no reason not too.

---

THE COLLEGE VOICE

Box 4970 - Office (860) 459-2812
E-mail: cvoice@conncoll.edu

EDITOR- IN-CHIEF

JAMIE RODGERS

TOM STEVEN

LINDA ROSS

DEBORAH ROCK

BRANDON STERN

LYNN KILE

SOUTH EDITOR

MAT PRESTON

Copy Editor

Barbara DiPr
er

PHOTO EDITOR

JENNIFER MARIE

GRANT GODFREY

United We Stood

In the editors.

On the anniversary of the September 11th tragedies, 1,100 students of Connecticut College, The Voice and the Middle East in general has proved to be a nearly impossible area for the United States to deal with and yet we continue maintaining relations (at times praising) of one of the region's biggest offenders.

My answer is simply: oil.

The time has come to slash our dependency on foreign oil and act to stop paying this false service. This cannot be achieved by delving into Africa, a situation that does not address the true problem, which is our country's oil-cutting consumption.

Just this year, we have overcome the record-high $4.00 mark. Americans spend $500 billion buying gas every year. In other words, approximately $1.50 per gallon for every person in this country. Yet, for the first time in history, the president has announced a national obsession with the price of gasoline.

It is time for the United States to begin taking gas prices seriously.

In analyzing the above, we must consider the role of hydrogen. Nature's most abundant element, and produces only water as waste. In the Midwest billboards advertise fuel ethanol made from corn that local cars can inhabit. Hybrid cars are here and available for purchase at that very moment.

There is no longer an excuse to rely on the oil to the extent this country does. Even the inconvenience of such a switch may become less and less. Everyday, look around our campuses and see many alternative energy. We have yet more reasons to make the switch, whether it be environmentally, or diplomatic, and no reason not too.
Beep, beep, beep...the sound of an unfamiliar alarm clock echoes throughout the darkness. My eyes instinctively roll in their sockets. As the clock ticks away, I feel the droplets of sweat begin to form on my forehead. I groan, my body convulsing with each breath I take. I feel the cool night air kiss my skin, urging me to rise and face the day ahead.

Counterpart to popular opinion, Connecticut College students are indeed capable of having fulfilling and interesting lives outside of the classroom. Single life can be a wonderful experience, providing an opportunity to understand one's own personal preferences and to grow as an individual. Many students, like myself, find that the freedom to become one's own boss is a liberating experience. However, as the summer winds down and the academic year begins, it is crucial to remember that the single life is not without its challenges. For those who are not prepared, the transition from one to two can be difficult and overwhelming.

The problem with this ideal is that it oversimplifies the complexities of human relationships. While it is true that many couples enjoy a happy and fulfilling life together, it is also true that many experience challenges and setbacks along the way. It is important to remember that no relationship is without its ups and downs, and that it is through these experiences that we learn and grow as individuals.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, the single life is a unique and valuable experience that can provide many opportunities for personal growth and exploration. It is important to approach this time with an open mind, willing to learn from both successes and failures. With these principles in mind, the single life can be an enriching and enjoyable experience.
A Vacation Sacrificed...

Another summer movie season has come and gone, and one that was not short of disappointments. This was a summer movie season that actually produced intelligent well-made films in several instances. In contrast with last summer where I only gave four movies four or more stars (including a collector's item put that rating for "Lion King" and "Silent Bob"), this summer, the movies were much more uneven. However, despite the occasional pairing of successful events (Kung Fu Panda and Monsters vs. Aliens), the movie industry had a summer season that was more than hit or miss. For every "Road to Perdition," there was a "Mr. Deeds." Not everything that happens to a family while the world is seemingly ending around them is lost in some more than "far-fetched" film. For instance, a family that was entirely devoted to their daughter, her family that is entirely devoted to her, her outsider boyfriend who the family does not want to have anything to do with (not even as he plays the kindly grandfather to Michael's children. The story hinges on the premise that anyone who takes on fate does seem to contravene the laws of nature. As you have already been told a dozen times or so, there exists two Tom Cruise: Tom Cruise the movie star who we see as "Lamont Lasky," and Tom Lillard does not merely play Shaggy, but is much too fat to be "Clerkkin" (a bad, bad movie). Tommy, you'll be too busy being entertained to notice anything. Moving to the end, let's take a look at this. Perhaps you'll notice something about "Hound Dog" that you've never noticed before. I never ever hear "Hound Dog" again, I will not even as "Happy" or "Billy" for the next 30 years. My Big Fat Greek Wedding. As you have already been told a dozen times or so, there exists two Tom Cruise: Tom Cruise the movie star who we see as "Lamont Lasky," and Tom Lillard does not merely play Shaggy, but is much too fat to be "Clerkkin" (a bad, bad movie). Tommy, you'll be too busy being entertained to notice anything. Perhaps you'll notice something about "Hound Dog" that you've never noticed before. I never ever hear "Hound Dog" again, I will not even as "Happy" or "Billy" for the next 30 years. My Big Fat Greek Wedding. As you have already been told a dozen times or so, there exists two Tom Cruise: Tom Cruise the movie star who we see as "Lamont Lasky," and Tom Lillard does not merely play Shaggy, but is much too fat to be "Clerkkin" (a bad, bad movie). Tommy, you'll be too busy being entertained to notice anything. Perhaps you'll notice something about "Hound Dog" that you've never noticed before. I never ever hear "Hound Dog" again, I will not even as "Happy" or "Billy" for the next 30 years. My Big Fat Greek Wedding. As you have already been told a dozen times or so, there exists two Tom Cruise: Tom Cruise the movie star who we see as "Lamont Lasky," and Tom Lillard does not merely play Shaggy, but is much too fat to be "Clerkkin" (a bad, bad movie). Tommy, you'll be too busy being entertained to notice anything. Perhaps you'll notice something about "Hound Dog" that you've never noticed before. I never ever hear "Hound Dog" again, I will not even as "Happy" or "Billy" for the next 30 years.
Summer 2002 Movies

Summer 2002 Movies

The first movie that I have pounced on is the return of the Star Wars franchise in the form of "Star Wars: Episode II - Attack of the Clones." The movie, directed by George Lucas and written by him and Jonathan Hales, was a letdown after the critically acclaimed "Star Wars: Episode I - The Phantom Menace." The sequel, released in 2002, was met with mixed reviews. The story follows the adventures of the characters from the previous film, focusing on the young couple from the first movie, Anakin Skywalker (portrayed by Hayden Christensen) and Padmé Amidala (portrayed by Natalie Portman). The main plot revolves around Anakin's turn to the dark side and the rise of the Sith. The movie was criticized for its pacing, dialogue, and special effects. However, it was a huge box office success, grossing over $450 million worldwide. The film was followed by "Star Wars: Episode III - Revenge of the Sith" in 2005, which concluded the trilogy. The film was directed by George Lucas and featured the return of many original actors, including Ewan McGregor as Obi-Wan Kenobi, who was played by Owen Wilson in the previous film. The film was praised for its action sequences and special effects, but was criticized for its length and pacing. It was a commercial success, grossing over $865 million worldwide. The Star Wars franchise remains a cultural phenomenon and has spawned many spin-offs and adaptations. The future of the franchise remains uncertain as recent attempts to revive the series have been met with mixed reviews. The franchise's legacy continues to be felt in many aspects of popular culture, with fans eagerly awaiting the next installment.
A benefit concert to raise funds for a Nicaraguan university that was established to help the indigenous popula- tion of the country's Atlantic coast region will feature performances by well-known musicians and actors.

Named "The Samples," Saturday, Performance is at 8 p.m. in the Track Auditorium. The benefit concert is organized and managed by the Connecticut College Student Council (CSC). The "Samples" have appeared on NBC's "Tonight Show" and, most recently, in Las Vegas. The group is currently on tour performing and recording their new CD titled "Anthology in Motion, Volume 1."

The Samples were a popular neo-bop jazz-pop, hip-hop group that built its name in every town they appeared.

Sneak Peak

with a new semester comes a new season of the Connecticut College College has many events to offer, ranging from performances in all artistic disciplines scheduled to take place from these dates: November 24 to December 24, 2002. These events are organized annually by members of the Alpha Epsilon Pi Entertainment Committee, begun in the 1990s, is the first known for interdisciplinary studies, and nary a parent to be seen (they all live at college now.)

The Theatre de la Jeune Lune is a group of two problems with "Swimfan ... it would not bother me nearly as much as I imagined doing anything with Madison except possibly sympathize with Ben because you cannot believe Ben would want to have any contact with his new wife. Additionally, Madison is way too creepy way too quickly. Even before Ben and her make with Amy Miller (Shiri Appleby) than there goes another problem. Length: 84 Minutes

Rated: R

Barbershop (PG-13) Fri 3:45 7:10 9:35, Sat-Sun 3:45 7:10 9:35

Serving Sara (PG-13) Fri 6:45, Sat-Sun 1:25 6:45 9:40

City by the Sea (PG-13) Fri 7:30 10:30, Sat-Sun 7:30 10:30

XXX (PG-13) Fri 1:45 4:25 7:10 9:45, Sat-Sun 1:45 4:25 7:10 9:45

Swimfan (PG-13) Fri 4:10 7:15 9:40, Sat-Sun 4:10 7:15 9:40

Stashing (PG-13) Fri 7:10 9:40, Sat-Sun 7:10 9:40

Signs (PG-13) Fri-Sun 3:40 6:40 9:10, Sat-Sun 3:40 6:40 9:10

City for The Sea (PG-13) Fri 7:30 10:30, Sat-Sun 7:30 10:30

Far from Home (PG-13) Fri-Sun 4:00 9:10

Scrooged (PG-13) Fri-Sun 1:40 5:00 9:30, Sat-Sun 1:40 5:00 9:30

Hoyts Mystic 4:30 7:30 10:00

Hoyts Groton 6:30 9:30

Hoyts New London 3:00 6:00 9:00

Hoyts Norwich 1:30 4:30 7:30

Hoyts Waterford 1:30 4:30 7:30

Hoyts West Hartford 1:30 4:30 7:30

Sneak Peek

On October 24, piano virtuoso Emmanuel Ax will perform in Palmer Auditorium. He is one of the most well-known pianists of our time. Emmanuel Ax began to study piano at age six and was educated at the Juilliard School under the instruction of Mieczyslaw Malczewski. A Grammy-nominated winning pianist, he is demanded throughout the country and regularly per- forms in major cities including Boston, New York, and Chicago. On October 30, the Theatre de la Jeune Lune will stage their acclaimed production of the Shakespearean play, "Hamlet." The story of Shakespeare's play is a familiar one to most people, but it continues to fascinate audi- ences around the world with its intricate story that contains love, jealousy, murder, and betrayal. The Theatre de la Jeune Lune is a group of college students who are dedicated to the Virginia Rep. More information about all of these events can be obtained at http://www.conn.edu or by calling the Box Office at (860) 439-3787.

Sneak Peak

On October 24, piano virtuoso Emmanuel Ax will perform in Palmer Auditorium. He is one of the most well-known pianists of our time. Emmanuel Ax began to study piano at age six and was educated at the Juilliard School under the instruction of Mieczyslaw Malczewski. A Grammy-nominated winning pianist, he is demanded throughout the country and regularly per- forms in major cities including Boston, New York, and Chicago. On October 30, the Theatre de la Jeune Lune will stage their acclaimed production of the Shakespearean play, "Hamlet." The story of Shakespeare's play is a familiar one to most people, but it continues to fascinate audi- ences around the world with its intricate story that contains love, jealousy, murder, and betrayal. The Theatre de la Jeune Lune is a group of college students who are dedicated to the Virginia Rep. More information about all of these events can be obtained at http://www.conn.edu or by calling the Box Office at (860) 439-3787.

Sneak Peak

On October 24, piano virtuoso Emmanuel Ax will perform in Palmer Auditorium. He is one of the most well-known pianists of our time. Emmanuel Ax began to study piano at age six and was educated at the Juilliard School under the instruction of Mieczyslaw Malczewski. A Grammy-nominated winning pianist, he is demanded throughout the country and regularly per- forms in major cities including Boston, New York, and Chicago. On October 30, the Theatre de la Jeune Lune will stage their acclaimed production of the Shakespearean play, "Hamlet." The story of Shakespeare's play is a familiar one to most people, but it continues to fascinate audi- ences around the world with its intricate story that contains love, jealousy, murder, and betrayal. The Theatre de la Jeune Lune is a group of college students who are dedicated to the Virginia Rep. More information about all of these events can be obtained at http://www.conn.edu or by calling the Box Office at (860) 439-3787.
Professor Kirmse Speaks at 88th Convention

By John Brothers

Most students remember not too long ago the days of orientation, when they stepped into unfamiliar hallways and classrooms, to begin four days of orientation, being introduced to discussions groups by experienced students. And then, several days later, after a brush from their peers on the way to the next page of their schedules, they were told according to their last names. It seemed to be the culmination of a year's work in the beginning of life. Many students had not been oriented. But with the days of orientation, the Dutch woman who_schema's gone gone gone. And Ruby College is a place where both teachers and students are in a continual effort by the office of the Professor of History Bruce reflected in Reverend Carolyn on and introduction to the Corm Nisbet Rash Faculty Research many by Father Laurence LaPointe, that he is ready for any challenge.

David Milstone Named New Dean of Student Life

By Beatrice Gons

With over 17 years of working in his field, David Milstone is the new Dean of Student Life David Milstone is the new Dean of Student Life at Connecticut College. His accomplishments include but are not limited to being a former Housing at Clark University in Massachusetts, and serving as an Associate Dean of Student Life also in his current position. And three years as Dean of Student Life at the University of Massachusetts. Having served as a Dean for 14 years, Milstone is early in his career at Connecticut College. His passion for working with students and the community comes from his own experience as a student at Clark University.

To Be or Not to Be: The Overlooked E-portfolio Possibilities

By Patricia Gons

It is perfect. No, really. You go online, log into your e-portfolio, and consider all the work you have done or will do towards your college degree. It is your own personal record of your accomplishments and achievements. You can view your work at any time, from any location. And you can share your portfolio with anyone you choose.

The Connecticut College Career and Leadership Center (CCCLC) offers several resources to help you get started on your e-portfolio. First, they recommend that you choose a domain that is specific to your career goals. Then, they suggest that you begin by writing about your experiences and accomplishments in that field. You can also upload your best papers or projects to your portfolio.

Quiet Disagreement: The Downfall of United States Basketball

continued from page 10

ted, and other goals along the way. You have done or will do towards your college degree. It is your own personal record of your accomplishments and achievements. You can view your work at any time, from any location. And you can share your portfolio with anyone you choose.

The Connecticut College Career and Leadership Center (CCCLC) offers several resources to help you get started on your e-portfolio. First, they recommend that you choose a domain that is specific to your career goals. Then, they suggest that you begin by writing about your experiences and accomplishments in that field. You can also upload your best papers or projects to your portfolio.

Quiet Disagreement: The Downfall of United States Basketball

continued from page 10

ted, and other goals along the way. You have done or will do towards your college degree. It is your own personal record of your accomplishments and achievements. You can view your work at any time, from any location. And you can share your portfolio with anyone you choose.

The Connecticut College Career and Leadership Center (CCCLC) offers several resources to help you get started on your e-portfolio. First, they recommend that you choose a domain that is specific to your career goals. Then, they suggest that you begin by writing about your experiences and accomplishments in that field. You can also upload your best papers or projects to your portfolio.
Bush Demands That U.N. Confront Iraq

By BARRY SIEGEL
AP MEDICAL EDITOR

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — (In a single casket, remains that symbolic and emotional) remains that represents the unknown of past wars even as we pursue the future. (In n quiet postscript to the nation's Sept. 11 observances, Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld] endorsed the decision to put the remains of the hijackers in a special section of a national cemetery. The hijackers' remains were turned over to the FBI in February. Any remains of victims who were identified after a victim had been buried, and were included in the shared grave at the family's request. "It's good to see it now."

In a single casket, remains that symbolic and emotional remains that represents the unknown of past wars even as we pursue the future. (In n quiet postscript to the nation's Sept. 11 observances, Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld] endorsed the decision to put the remains of the hijackers in a special section of a national cemetery. The hijackers' remains were turned over to the FBI in February. Any remains of victims who were identified after a victim had been buried, and were included in the shared grave at the family's request. "It's good to see it now.

Annan urged caution.

"I am here to do is read the book," Bush said. "I am here to do is read the book," Bush said. The address was Bush's answer to deep reluctance among a lot of bad options," said Norwegian Foreign Minister Jan Pettersen.

Addressing the General Assembly just before Bush, U.N. Secretary General Kofi Annan urged caution.

"When states decide to use force, they should treat threats to international peace and security, and there is no other institutional alternative provided by the United Nations," he said.

But he also seemed to back Bush's charges against Saddam and新世纪的"Annin in Iraq, which was for Iraq, to attend weapons inspections.

"If Iraq's defense continues, the Security Council must face its responsibilities," Annan said.

Debate at Home Mailed Bag

"I chose to do the world and all our people not the longest by the longest list of fabrications that have ever been put together," wrote Michael Lindeman, a member of a group that promotes nuclear disarmament.

In Washington, Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle of South Dakota said, "I don't think that the situation is so dire, but I think it is quite clear that we must be prepared to confront Saddam Hussein in the very near future."

"The purpose of the United States should not be doubted: The Security Council must be prepared to take action," the resolution author said. An American Airlines Flight 77.

"It's the late recovery that is so extensive," said Ley, "I can't help but feel the movement was the start of a slow rebirth of the body. At least three-quarters of the nerves in the spine to carry signals and control that he says has changed a "heelchair."

All but one honr a day, he uses a wheelchair. All but one honr a day, he uses a wheelchair.

Over the years, as muscle eses

Reeve can tell hot from cold. He can feel about two-thirds of the normal sensation of being able."

"We are taking an unprecedented step in many ways. Our nation's most prestigious cemetery, which is limited to active duty personnel, from victims, because they did not have a place anywhere else."

"If the Iraqis choose peace and war, they must choose war, but if they choose peace, it will be immediately.

And a regime that has lost its legitimacy..."

"Spinal cord injury. Later, more normal. "I can't help but feel the movement was the start of a slow rebirth of the body. At least three-quarters of the nerves in the spine to carry signals and control that he says has changed a "heelchair."

Reeve, who turns 50 on Sept. 25, still uses speech therapy. All but one honr a day, he uses a wheelchair.

"The most recent neck injury..."

"It’s the late recovery that is so extensive," said Ley, "I can’t help but feel the movement was the start of a slow rebirth of the body. At least three-quarters of the nerves in the spine to carry signals and control that he says has changed a "heelchair."

All but one honr a day, he uses a wheelchair.

Over the years, as muscle eses

Reece, who turns 50 on Sept. 25, still uses speech therapy. All but one honr a day, he uses a wheelchair.

"The channel of change occurred one early morning day about two years ago, when Reeves switched his left leg from being his primary to his secondary leg and was now trying to use his right leg."

"We are taking an unprecedented step in many ways. Our nation's most prestigious cemetery, which is limited to active duty personnel, from victims, because they did not have a place anywhere else."

"If the Iraqis choose peace and war, they must choose war, but if they choose peace, it will be immediately."

A granite monument with five sides, like the Pentagon, will be placed..."he said. "I don't think that the situation is so dire, but I think it is quite clear that we must be prepared to confront Saddam Hussein in the very near future."

"The purpose of the United States should not be doubted: The Security Council must be prepared to take action," the resolution author said.

"The most recent neck injury..."

"It’s the late recovery that is so extensive," said Ley, "I can’t help but feel the movement was the start of a slow rebirth of the body. At least three-quarters of the nerves in the spine to carry signals and control that he says has changed a "heelchair."

All but one honr a day, he uses a wheelchair.

Over the years, as muscle eses

Reece, who turns 50 on Sept. 25, still uses speech therapy. All but one honr a day, he uses a wheelchair.

"The channel of change occurred one early morning day about two years ago, when Reeves switched his left leg from being his primary to his secondary leg and was now trying to use his right leg."

"We are taking an unprecedented step in many ways. Our nation's most prestigious cemetery, which is limited to active duty personnel, from victims, because they did not have a place anywhere else."

"If the Iraqis choose peace and war, they must choose war, but if they choose peace, it will be immediately."

A granite monument with five sides, like the Pentagon, will be placed..."he said. "I don't think that the situation is so dire, but I think it is quite clear that we must be prepared to confront Saddam Hussein in the very near future."

"The purpose of the United States should not be doubted: The Security Council must be prepared to take action," the resolution author said.

"The most recent neck injury..."

"It’s the late recovery that is so extensive," said Ley, "I can’t help but feel the movement was the start of a slow rebirth of the body. At least three-quarters of the nerves in the spine to carry signals and control that he says has changed a "heelchair."

All but one honr a day, he uses a wheelchair.

Over the years, as muscle eses

Reece, who turns 50 on Sept. 25, still uses speech therapy. All but one honr a day, he uses a wheelchair.

"The channel of change occurred one early morning day about two years ago, when Reeves switched his left leg from being his primary to his secondary leg and was now trying to use his right leg."

"We are taking an unprecedented step in many ways. Our nation's most prestigious cemetery, which is limited to active duty personnel, from victims, because they did not have a place anywhere else."

"If the Iraqis choose peace and war, they must choose war, but if they choose peace, it will be immediately."

A granite monument with five sides, like the Pentagon, will be placed..."he said. "I don't think that the situation is so dire, but I think it is quite clear that we must be prepared to confront Saddam Hussein in the very near future."

"The purpose of the United States should not be doubted: The Security Council must be prepared to take action," the resolution author said.

"The most recent neck injury..."

"It’s the late recovery that is so extensive," said Ley, "I can’t help but feel the movement was the start of a slow rebirth of the body. At least three-quarters of the nerves in the spine to carry signals and control that he says has changed a "heelchair."

All but one honr a day, he uses a wheelchair.

Over the years, as muscle eses

Reece, who turns 50 on Sept. 25, still uses speech therapy. All but one honr a day, he uses a wheelchair.

"The channel of change occurred one early morning day about two years ago, when Reeves switched his left leg from being his primary to his secondary leg and was now trying to use his right leg."

"We are taking an unprecedented step in many ways. Our nation's most prestigious cemetery, which is limited to active duty personnel, from victims, because they did not have a place anywhere else."

"If the Iraqis choose peace and war, they must choose war, but if they choose peace, it will be immediately."

A granite monument with five sides, like the Pentagon, will be placed..."he said. "I don't think that the situation is so dire, but I think it is quite clear that we must be prepared to confront Saddam Hussein in the very near future."

"The purpose of the United States should not be doubted: The Security Council must be prepared to take action," the resolution author said.
For me, the transition of coming to college was...
Sports

Quiet Disgrace

By Matthew Kessler

America's sport on the track, which was won by a last-second anchor in the relay, much to the delight of Spain (whose players were just too tall to play soccer). The U.S. had no Kobe Bryant, Allen Iverson, or Steve Nash to fall back on. Europe's basketball style of leadership, however, is incomprehensible. Spain (whose players were just too tall to play soccer). It's a mess, and so I jumped at it.

For the men's team, our opening when I was looking for a job in the NBA, which would be helpful in basketball and the tournament was held in the basketball capital of our country, Indianapolis, Indiana. After going 58-0 in previous international competition while using NBA players, including 5-0 to start the tournament, the U.S. was embarrassed on three consecutive occasions. One reason is that our basketball players have been drilled on since the time they could walk straight.

Further adding insult to injury, the tournament was held in the basketball capital of our country, Indianapolis, Indiana. After going 58-0 in previous international competition while using NBA players, including 5-0 to start the tournament, the U.S. was embarrassed on three consecutive occasions. One reason is that our basketball players have been drilled on since the time they could walk straight.

Many more troubling than that, however, is the fact that basketball has been rated the number one sport in the world by the National Basketball Association. Among the reasons for this: basketball is the only American sport that is played around the world, and the most popular sport in the United States.

The U.S. was embarrassed on three consecutive occasions. One reason is that our basketball players have been drilled on since the time they could walk straight.

Further adding insult to injury, the tournament was held in the basketball capital of our country, Indianapolis, Indiana. After going 58-0 in previous international competition while using NBA players, including 5-0 to start the tournament, the U.S. was embarrassed on three consecutive occasions. One reason is that our basketball players have been drilled on since the time they could walk straight.

Many more troubling than that, however, is the fact that basketball has been rated the number one sport in the world by the National Basketball Association. Among the reasons for this: basketball is the only American sport that is played around the world, and the most popular sport in the United States.

The U.S. was embarrassed on three consecutive occasions. One reason is that our basketball players have been drilled on since the time they could walk straight.

Further adding insult to injury, the tournament was held in the basketball capital of our country, Indianapolis, Indiana. After going 58-0 in previous international competition while using NBA players, including 5-0 to start the tournament, the U.S. was embarrassed on three consecutive occasions. One reason is that our basketball players have been drilled on since the time they could walk straight.

Many more troubling than that, however, is the fact that basketball has been rated the number one sport in the world by the National Basketball Association. Among the reasons for this: basketball is the only American sport that is played around the world, and the most popular sport in the United States.