Varied Activities

The care of the sick course opens due to the many people who wish to complete the enrollment. A registered nurse, or any other professional nurse, will give more practical than theoretical.

Registration For

In addition to college students, there are many others who have registered for the course for personal reasons and to be able to give adequate treatment for minor ailments and astor a drugstore. Interested students should see Miss Warner immediately.

Mexican Artistry

Mexico is the focal point of emerging Mexican artists. The Mexican exibit is being featured in the Palmier library until the end of November.

Mrs. Berta Gamboa de Castro has offered a major portion of the artists on display, and several members of the faculty who have made trips to Mexico have contributed to the exhibit.

Mrs. Gamboa has lent a gift, which makes of various kinds of fine wood produced in the state of Campeche, a small hand turned bowl in Mexico City, various pieces of silver and turquoise curtains, and a splendid rug of chamois, made by the natives of the state of Michoacan by a secret method known only to them.

Among various members of the faculty are displaying woven tapestries, embroidered lace, and many other beautiful objects. Mexican dolls of wood, leather, and many other materials, are used in typical cases can be seen.

Among the Mexican artists two are drawn flax, a vegetable from which is drawn the flax, and a straw hat, the object of which as the neck of a four leaf.

With each item on display is a note which indicates the contributor and an explanation of the item itself.

String Quartet Is Scheduled To Play On Music Program

A new music program each quarter is announced by the Library in order to bring books on the reserve room over the week end.

Under the new plan, books may be out of the reserve from 9:00 a.m. on Saturday until 5:00 p.m. Sunday afternoon, and these may be kept for 3 days.

Thus, no book may be taken out on Sunday morning. A new plan will be kept for the entire week end.

All books are subject to immediate recall after the close of the Reserve room each Saturday afternoon.

Since 1928, he has been associated with the New Testament Union, and has been a scholar and professor in theology at Union Theological Seminary.

Contemporary Philosopher

Dr. Tillich's philosophical interest lies in both history and religion, and he has been acknowledged as the ablest contemporary philosopher. Since coming to America, he has been associated with the New Testament Union, and has been a scholar and professor in theology at Union Theological Seminary.

In a response that was larger than expected, 28 people attended the first hour of the two hour session which was held last Thursday night. Meetings are to be held on a weekly basis.

Among those enrolled are Miss Grace Leake of the music department, Miss Doris Peterson of the French department, Miss Martha Barstow, who is in charge of the French house, and Miss Katherine Moess, associate secretary. The group also includes some Spars, navy wives and men from various professions and businesses in town.

While in Scotland she picked up a lot of coffee. The library staff reports that such is the life of a Phi Beta, and is always looking for students who wish to help her in a little class vocal harmony.

To the Editor:

Governor Dewey, as each new class reaches its sophomore standing, there is the flurry of modernization, the desire for a change, is shown in the design of the present ring. We have all tried it, none of us can stand aside with a holler that we have never had the idea. However, up until now, all of us have re-acted to tradition, and discarded that tradition had its points.

As we, the first thought, when contemplating redesigning the ring, is to put a seal or monogram on top of the stone. What is more important, I would not attempt to say. I object to it strenuously for the simple reason that it is not a "class" ring whose design may be changed at will from year to year. It is a school ring whose design belongs, not only to you, but to all who have passed through the school, and to whom it will follow always. The ring is designed to mark you, not as a graduate of the year of 1945, or of any other year, but as a graduate of Connecticut College of any year. Twenty years from now, the year of your graduation may be a deeply guarded secret, but you will never wish the fact you graduated from Connecticut.

Let us take the trouble to choose a monogram that marks you with a date line? Or one that marks you got in high school? Do you want a ring that was designed to mark you, not as a graduate of Connecticut College, but as a graduate of your alma mater? Or, one that belongs, not only to you, but to all who have graduated from your school? A ring that is dear to tradition, and discarded that tradition had its points.

I am a strong believer in the fact, that it is unusual. Today what happens to a Negro, Indian or Japanese may be the same as if you had a hand in it. Subjugated areas watch our moves carefully, won.

The Athletic association sponsors inter-class competition as well as competitive games with other schools. At the end of each year, an inter-collegiate competition is held. The girls who have contributed the most to athletics that year by their skill, good sportsmanship, and general constructive attitude receive trophies. It is always the best athlete who receives this recognition, but rather the person who is out standing for her sense of fair play and friendly rivalry.

Exciting Epistles Are Steps To CC for Spanish Sophomore

by Mary Bath '47

The life history of Spanish sophomores, Paquita Reynoso, an honest-togoodness Cinderella.

When your reporter entered three flights of Blackstone stairs to interview Paquita, her greeting was anything but Spanish."Well, said Paquita, 'Come in, and we'll have to make a transition from the sky girl who couldn't speak a sentence of English when she arrived here last February to a person who can now speak four or five foreign languages.'

And so through a friend on the Connecticut college faculty, we obtained a string of grand things from Washington, and a charge of others, in order to get a visa, Paquita was able to go to school only a few times. 'I was so scared,' she said, "Paquita, 'I did not speak a word of English when she arrived here last February, and I did not speak a word of English when she arrived here last February, and I had a hard time establishing myself with the smoking rule. But I just managed to get along, and the smoking rule would be conquered one by one.'

Paquita arrived at North cot- tage last night. A very tired and frightened girl, without the brightest idea of what the thirty- over-friendly freshmen who greeted her en masse were saying. She could get out of the way, she said, her answer was in the numerous questions.

Paquita wasn't a stranger very long for, before this girl was out of the sky, she was right at home, and at the end of her first confusion, she was the best, or worst, of her new friends.

The strange phenomena of American life to Paquita were the mayonnaise on fruit salad, and the fine old institution of the blind date. She found English andählenheit her toughest subjects, but her hard work and her desire to get a visa, she was able to go to school only a few times. 'I was so scared,' she said, "Paquita, 'I did not speak a word of English when she arrived here last February, and I had a hard time establishing myself with the smoking rule. Seniors Greet the Non-Existing Moon During First Sing

by Betty Biette '47

Old Miss Weather couldn't have done better by us yet his did us in Thursday evening, the night of the moonlight sing outside of getting to primp life. this being the bright and shining darkness evening. This slight oversight didn’t have the group that finally took place at the occasion from giving out with its sentiments.

The sky was a black dome above the little group of dark figures that gathered at the steps in the middle of campus singing. The air was very cold and brisk, and when the band quietly down, the black-robed seniors began to harmonize on “Good Eve-ing, Mr. Moon” from the steps.

Riding Wind Sweeps Campus

A game between the sophomores and the freshmen was played last Friday. The junior and freshmen also played a game. This game is going to be officially under way Monday afternoon and the freshmen will play each other. The results will be known later, the following Wednesday the sophomores and the junior will play.

Saturday

The soccer tournament will be officially under way Monday as the two classes would be split up into two teams, playing a round robin. The senior and junior teams will be playing on Monday the second game will be played.

Speedball

Next Monday, the first game of the speedball classes will be played. It has been decided that the two classes would be split up into two teams, playing a round robin. The senior and junior classes will compare Monday the second game will be played.

Tennis

Last Thursday, the first team matches were played. The sophomores and the seniors were opponents with the juniors winning both matches.

only a small doll, a picture book, and some hard candies, but that sort of contribution wrapped in bright colored paper can mean more than a hundred dollar check.

The Connecticut College newspaper, is about half the size of our Connecticut college paper, is done by an excellent job of reporting school events and keeps an eye on what is going on, as well as expressing student opinion. Problems and events of all varieties range from discussions of political and social problems to why is it not necessary to smoke in the school's wooden buildings.

Roses and Marigolds, the dramatic association, has a distinguished alumni in Dorothy Guelke, who had the leading role in New York in "Clanadess." While every member of Marigolds, and Marigolds will never achieve this distinction, they all have opportunity to act in plays and prove their ability in back stage production. Three plays are presented each year, one of which is done jointly with the Harvard dramatic club.

Outstanding Success

Last year the outstanding success was the production of "Ladies in Retirement," which was presented with such skill as to make the school proud of students who had "retired.

Pipe Manor, was honored to be the first college Red Cross unit recognized by the National Red Cross. There is a blood donor committee which organizes the girls who have offered to give blood, and also those girls who wish to do clerical work at the Central Blood Bank in Boston. There is also, a sixteen person group in class first aid, nurses aide work, and the musical, but needed, bandage rolling.

IBC and Choir

Finally, there is an International Relations club and a choir. IBC holds monthly meetings where current events are discussed and member speakers talk on some aspect of current importance.

Outside speakers lecture on the second floor of the building. Another group is the chorale platoon for that specific school year. Last year that topic was Russia.

Much can be mentioned about the choir except that it is, as here at Connecticut, an essential part of the vegera services. The choir does, however, at the end of the year, give a short concert for the school as does the Senior Music Chorus, which is a larger and less specialized group.

Most Significant Organization

And last, but far from least, Student Government should be mentioned. Though it can not be classified as an extra-curricular activity, it is about the most significant organization in the entire school. Its structure is very much the same as ours, and, like our student government, it is founded on the belief that college women are capable and willing to assume some of the democratic responsibility. Thus it is an education in itself.

If, as here, a training ground looking toward a future of good national and international citizenship on the part of its members.

Thus one can see that Pipe Manor, though a two-year college, and very much smaller than Connecticut, offers her students the variety of opportunities which here, as there, the individual can make of it what she will.

The library has long been a place of refuge for those who wish to get more of a help than a hinderance and chatter of dorm life for those sailors was Joan Alling '46's date. The library has long been a much place of refuge for those sailors, and he proved himself to be a good.

It's ghosts' night to howl, so don't let the more than 500 guests who will attend the college's Halloween party on Monday, October 30, between 7 and 9:30 in the gym. Satisfy that desire to travel incognito, and exercise that ghoulish laugh, anything can happen, so don't miss the fun. The dance doesn't begin, there will be a costume parade and refreshments.

was agreed that the Negroes were to be shipped back to Africa. Among those who protested that decision were President Vu and the Spanish ambassador. The case was then taken to the supreme court of the United States where it was defended by the noted American, John Quincy Adams. He had given up his law practice five years before at the age of 68, but he felt it was his duty to fight for a cause which he had supported in soul and for which he had struggled his entire life. He prayed to God to give him strength to plead the case.

In his defense, Adams stressed how, if we were going to follow the principles of the Declaration of Independence, we should have personal liberty for all. He won the case and it was agreed that Negroes should be sent back to Africa.

Double Heritage in United States

Dr. Bainton reminded us that we have a double heritage here in the United States. We have the heritage of people such as the Spanish ambassador and Presi dent Van Buren who were in favor of the maintenance of state rights in the world, he said. But, he continued, we also have the heritage of such men as Webster, Calhoun and John Quincy Adams who constantly fought for the Negro and the Negroes so that they might stand on an equal footing with other fellow men.

"Americans, choose ye today which one you will serve," Dr. Bainton declared.

produced into the legislature by Rep. Wicks and were pigeon-holed until pressure forced Mr. Dewey to act. He asked the Legislature to create a temporary state commission to study the problem of Negroes in New York. Most concede this to be a campaign move, but Mr. Dewey shortly promised that he would not run for re-election.

The southern congressmen had to be re persuaded and after all the talk Nat

Negroes in New York carried little weight. But the Negroes formed a press, those bills would have meant a decrease in discrimination in their state, and jobs in the search of Jews and other minorities. The Negro also presented Dewey's stand on the soldier vote for his state, right point meant the inability of southern servicemen to vote. They resented his reduction of state aid to education too. Consequently, part of the Negro press mobilized to oppose the nomina tion of Dewey and if this failed his election.

The high Mr. Dewey's record is not entirely clear, Mr. Roosevelt is only a little better. The War department banned the pamphlet, "Blues of Mankind" which pre sents the thesis that no one or ethnic group is superior. Why he did not strike his fellows, he believes that the Nazi way of life will not stand, and that the supremacy of the Northerns, is a most urgent question. Until last Thursday, the WAPES refused to accept Negroes. If the president makes the present plans for the use of Jim Crows as centers for battle weary Ne
