Announcing the formation of the Centrifugal Bumble-Puppy League of the Class of '59.

The first-5 of its kind! The Bumble-Puppy is a 4 lb. ball, with the object of throwing it, called a “round” and a “round high Bumble-Puppy,” against a fixed goal.

This League was recently organized by Louis K. Laubenstein at College. He has predicted that the Bumble-Puppy will be the next big thing in college recreation. He has had several months of news of the game spread through many English magazines, and several will be available.

The names of the positions, and the functions in the ensemble right after the function is as follows:

Manager: - a non-playing person who manages the team.

The Centrifugal Bumble-puppy machine authorized by the league will be on exhibit for about $50.00 each. The league is looking forward to the actual publication of the game.

Ann Parinholt, a botany major, worked at the college for the botany department, mapping the salt marsh at Mamacoke Island and studying the vegetation, trying to explain why certain species grow in certain zones. They also studied deer mice in the Arboretum by live trapping.

Ann Lamborn applied her physics by working at the Erie Resistor Corporation developing a ceramic material for making transformers. She found, as many of the others did, that she was able to develop new ideas and techniques of her own, and to try them out. Finally, June Bradlaw, president of the Science Club and a botany major, worked in agronomy at the University of Connecticut, developing tests, especially for molybdenum on various soils.

The speakers all thought that anyone interested in science should try to get a summer job in her field, for it is a very rewarding and exciting experience.
