Fainstein Prepares for Life as a Camel

Harold Koh Addresses Recent Terrorism in America
By KIM WOOSUNG

In his speech during Fall weekend, Harold Koh, president-elect of Stanford Law School and former U.S. Assistant Secretary of State, addressed the recent terrorist attacks.

"There's a transition people make in the face of the recent terrorist attacks," said Koh. "We must build as much as we bomb," he added, referring to the need for reconstruction and development.

SAC will be submitting press releases to various news organizations through the same network. "We're not doing everything; you probably would imagine you'd be able to do. But what you will do is to strengthen the capacity of the institution to govern itself" and "the institution to continue to govern itself."

"We're working on a set of recommendations about the status of each of the vacant positions in the country. I don't think that the faculty should be solicited for their support," he concluded.

A recommendation from the Planning Commission was continued on page 6.

Pat McGee Band to Headline Fall Benefit Concert

Pat McGee will headline Connecticut College's annual fall benefit concert, scheduled for September 16, in the Student Center. The concert will be held in honor of those who were lost in the terrorist attacks.

"It means the reason it went so well last year is because we were in the business of helping the World Trade Center," said McGee. "We're not doing everything, but we're doing a lot."

"We won't do everything," he added, "we're doing a lot."

"We don't want to do everything," he said, "we're doing a lot."

"We can't win an unconventional war with conventional methods," he reasoned.

Harold Koh Addresses Recent Terrorism in America
By KIM WOOSUNG

In his speech during Fall weekend, Harold Koh, president-elect of Stanford Law School and former U.S. Assistant Secretary of State, addressed the recent terrorist attacks.

"There's a transition people make in the face of the recent terrorist attacks," said Koh. "We must build as much as we bomb," he added, referring to the need for reconstruction and development.

SAC will be submitting press releases to various news organizations through the same network. "We're not doing everything; you probably would imagine you'd be able to do. But what you will do is to strengthen the capacity of the institution to govern itself" and "the institution to continue to govern itself."

"We're working on a set of recommendations about the status of each of the vacant positions in the country. I don't think that the faculty should be solicited for their support," he concluded.

A recommendation from the Planning Commission was continued on page 6.

Pat McGee Band to Headline Fall Benefit Concert

Pat McGee will headline Connecticut College's annual fall benefit concert, scheduled for September 16, in the Student Center. The concert will be held in honor of those who were lost in the terrorist attacks.

"It means the reason it went so well last year is because we were in the business of helping the World Trade Center," said McGee. "We're not doing everything, but we're doing a lot."

"We won't do everything," he added, "we're doing a lot."

"We can't win an unconventional war with conventional methods," he reasoned.
Connn's Over-Reliance on Temporary Faculty

Misrepresents College, Disadvantages Students

Conn College has proposed reducing the size of its faculty by 5% over the next two years. The staffing committee hopes to cut $700,000 from the faculty salary pool—about 5 percent of the total. Departments with fewer faculty will be hit especially hard. While there is an impact on the quality of teaching is debatable, but teacher-student ratios certainly suffer. Visiting professors are not considered in the calculations, and departments that rely heavily on temporary faculty may feel the impact the most. The College is actively providing some faculty with a mandate to find ways to reduce the size of the faculty by 5% over the next two years. This is primarily due to the fact that Conn College is in the hands of someone who obviously needs help, but our system is so flabby that we cannot even say the word. The College falsely represents itself when claiming to be a learning community. In reality, the College is only aggravating the problem. The editorial board should consider this issue in its future articles.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Student Dollars Editor, Earth House to Cave

To the Editor:

I was sick to my stomach reading the opinion columns. The material contained several factual misrepresentations and presented arguments that are not based on evidence. The editorial board has a responsibility to present a balanced view of the issues. It seems that the editorial board is more concerned with generating controversy than providing meaningful discussion. I was especially disappointed with the opinion columns this week. The content was poorly written, full of ignorance, disrespectful, and generally full of bullsh*t.

I have read several news articles about the recent tragedies in the Middle East. The editorial board has a unique opportunity to provide a more thoughtful and constructive perspective. It seems that the editorial board is more concerned with generating controversy than providing meaningful discussion. I was especially disappointed with the opinion columns this week. The content was poorly written, full of ignorance, disrespectful, and generally full of bullsh*t.

In much the same way, the decision to push comedy out of TV was an impossible decision to make. The editorial board should consider this issue in its future articles. The editorial board has a responsibility to present a balanced view of the issues. It seems that the editorial board is more concerned with generating controversy than providing meaningful discussion. I was especially disappointed with the opinion columns this week. The content was poorly written, full of ignorance, disrespectful, and generally full of bullsh*t.

The editorial board should consider this issue in its future articles. The editorial board has a responsibility to present a balanced view of the issues. It seems that the editorial board is more concerned with generating controversy than providing meaningful discussion. I was especially disappointed with the opinion columns this week. The content was poorly written, full of ignorance, disrespectful, and generally full of bullsh*t.

I have read several news articles about the recent tragedies in the Middle East. The editorial board has a unique opportunity to provide a more thoughtful and constructive perspective. It seems that the editorial board is more concerned with generating controversy than providing meaningful discussion. I was especially disappointed with the opinion columns this week. The content was poorly written, full of ignorance, disrespectful, and generally full of bullsh*t.

In much the same way, the decision to push comedy out of TV was an impossible decision to make. The editorial board should consider this issue in its future articles. The editorial board has a responsibility to present a balanced view of the issues. It seems that the editorial board is more concerned with generating controversy than providing meaningful discussion. I was especially disappointed with the opinion columns this week. The content was poorly written, full of ignorance, disrespectful, and generally full of bullsh*t.

The editorial board should consider this issue in its future articles. The editorial board has a responsibility to present a balanced view of the issues. It seems that the editorial board is more concerned with generating controversy than providing meaningful discussion. I was especially disappointed with the opinion columns this week. The content was poorly written, full of ignorance, disrespectful, and generally full of bullsh*t.

I have read several news articles about the recent tragedies in the Middle East. The editorial board has a unique opportunity to provide a more thoughtful and constructive perspective. It seems that the editorial board is more concerned with generating controversy than providing meaningful discussion. I was especially disappointed with the opinion columns this week. The content was poorly written, full of ignorance, disrespectful, and generally full of bullsh*t.

In much the same way, the decision to push comedy out of TV was an impossible decision to make. The editorial board should consider this issue in its future articles. The editorial board has a responsibility to present a balanced view of the issues. It seems that the editorial board is more concerned with generating controversy than providing meaningful discussion. I was especially disappointed with the opinion columns this week. The content was poorly written, full of ignorance, disrespectful, and generally full of bullsh*t.

The editorial board should consider this issue in its future articles. The editorial board has a responsibility to present a balanced view of the issues. It seems that the editorial board is more concerned with generating controversy than providing meaningful discussion. I was especially disappointed with the opinion columns this week. The content was poorly written, full of ignorance, disrespectful, and generally full of bullsh*t.
Bored? 12 STEPS TO RECOVERY
SARAH GEE • VIPPER
For almost three years, one topic has refused to go away from me. It has followed me here and there, imaging the regret and a private, personal hope.

A couple of Thursday nights back, I came out of one of my many baristas' rooms and saw a person who looked familiar. It was roughly 9:15 at night, which I believe to be the earliest possible moment that people will still remember for having seen someone they recognized until the next day. Health services was closed, and we didn't have much else to do. At least, not in our heads, I hadn't been planning to leave for the night yet. We were all at work, Osiris was scanning in a place where they drive on the wrong side of the road (may not always be there for you.);

So, somehow, the argument that condoms are intentionally absent at night, for all practical purposes the perfect impression of a nonexistent condom community besides us knows about which describes alternative reasons for not having condoms available. There is, of course, the argument that condoms are intentionally absent at night, for all practical purposes the perfect impression of a nonexistent condom community besides us knows about which describes alternative reasons for not having condoms available. Then, a sober person would slip up—most casual sex on campus. People want to be there for the party, get laid, and get away from the condom shop on campus after health services and the convenience store have both closed, at 9:00 P.M.

So remember to offer your greatest child a dog that you met last night right thereon.

Unfortunately, I don't think that most people who for historic back on Thursday nights are looking because they want to proclaim their absence in the student newspaper. Call me crazy, but I'd wager that, individually, people don't want knowing because they want to prevent accidental pregnancies and STIs.

Oh, yeah.

For the life of me, I can't figure out why condoms aren't available.

No one could possibly believe that every sexual encounter on this campus is safe, sanitary, and private. People still need to send instant messages through the internet to people who live a few feet below in the student union, eat microwave chili dogs and drink...well, whatever students drink while they think, whether it's to alleviate any feelings of guilt that they might have after the great rift of graduation, there was an opportunity to publish your words.

Then, second, that old chestnut, "I hate it here and can't wait to be graduated." I imagine that is earlier than most people decide to market this toad. Imagine going to the pharmacy and being able to purchase rounds of $2 beer-in-a-thimble sizes out of business. It does mean that the American people and their elected officials, not lobbyist, should have the power to make these decisions.

Anyway, to attempt to drive private money from politicians have come to a halt. The Federal Election Campaign Act, for example, has a loophole that allows wealthy donors to contribute unlimited amounts to the political party of their choice. Also, the Supreme Court equated campaign contributions with free speech in a 2010 case. With this law, Congress does not even have to pass any new laws to change the system; instead, they can simply write new ones and make them more complex. Congress will then pass new laws that make it more difficult for poor people to vote or campaign for a cause. With this law, Congress can pass new laws to increase their power and ability to control the political process. Congress can then take all of the money that was raised and use it for its own purposes.

In light of the failure of air service to prevent the tragedy of September 11, the lobbying power of the airlines has increased. Another article, entitled "Airports Fight Security Changes," details the recent history of attempts by Congress to increase security at the nation's airports. In 1998, a group of Congress members proposed a bill that would have increased the number of airport staff by 50 percent and required all passengers to undergo background checks. The Clinton Administration backed off on this proposal after the airlines threatened to walk away from the bill. The security bill, which the late Senator Kennedy was a key supporter of, is now the subject of a lawsuit filed by the American Civil Liberties Union on behalf of the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services. The lawsuit, filed by the American Civil Liberties Union on behalf of the American Civil Liberties Union, claims that the bill is a violation of the First Amendment and that it violates the Privacy Act of 1974.

In light of the failure of air service to prevent the tragedy of September 11, the lobbying power of the airlines has increased. Another article, entitled "Airports Fight Security Changes," details the recent history of attempts by Congress to increase security at the nation's airports. In 1998, a group of Congress members proposed a bill that would have increased the number of airport staff by 50 percent and required all passengers to undergo background checks. The Clinton Administration backed off on this proposal after the airlines threatened to walk away from the bill. The security bill, which the late Senator Kennedy was a key supporter of, is now the subject of a lawsuit filed by the American Civil Liberties Union on behalf of the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services. The lawsuit, filed by the American Civil Liberties Union on behalf of the American Civil Liberties Union, claims that the bill is a violation of the First Amendment and that it violates the Privacy Act of 1974.

I managed to look the right way when I crossed the street yesterday. Those of you who aren't quite as thrilled as I am about my accomplishment, let me explain.

1. Go into a bookstore. Go to the self-help section of the bookstore. Bring notecards and chuckle softly as you notate. Refuse to give up your gifts. Out along with your gifts.

2. Print Shakespeare sonnets and distribute them like they fly. This how you'll make everyone's day here a lot better. I'm sure that some bright economics major will find a way to market this toad. Imagine going to the pharmacy and being able to purchase rounds of $2 beer-in-a-thimble sizes out of business. It does mean that the American people and their elected officials, not lobbyist, should have the power to make these decisions.

3. Go into a bookstore. Go to the self-help section of the bookstore. Bring notecards and chuckle softly as you notate. Refuse to give up your gifts. Out along with your gifts.

4. Print Shakespeare sonnets and distribute them like they fly. This how you'll make everyone's day here a lot better. I'm sure that some bright economics major will find a way to market this toad. Imagine going to the pharmacy and being able to purchase rounds of $2 beer-in-a-thimble sizes out of business. It does mean that the American people and their elected officials, not lobbyist, should have the power to make these decisions.

5. Print Shakespeare sonnets and distribute them like they fly. This how you'll make everyone's day here a lot better. I'm sure that some bright economics major will find a way to market this toad. Imagine going to the pharmacy and being able to purchase rounds of $2 beer-in-a-thimble sizes out of business. It does mean that the American people and their elected officials, not lobbyist, should have the power to make these decisions.

6. Print Shakespeare sonnets and distribute them like they fly. This how you'll make everyone's day here a lot better. I'm sure that some bright economics major will find a way to market this toad. Imagine going to the pharmacy and being able to purchase rounds of $2 beer-in-a-thimble sizes out of business. It does mean that the American people and their elected officials, not lobbyist, should have the power to make these decisions.
Rockstar: A Tale of Sex, Drugs, and Identity Crisis

_Now Playing_.

_AUGUST 17_S.!!

Summary: Directed by Stephen Triffit.

Told through a series of flashbacks, _Rock Star_ follows the life of Cole Miller, a conformist tap dancer from Newcastle, Australia. As a child, Cole was inspired by the world of rock and roll, and his love for music knew no bounds. However, his life took a turn when he discovered something that would change him forever.

_August 25_ Jordan Geary

Review:

Rock Star is a musical with a well-acted cast, some interesting melodies, and a handful of decent moments. Unfortunately, the story is disjointed, and the musical numbers often fail to convey the emotions of the characters.

The plot revolves around a young man named Cole, who is looking for a way to escape his mundane life. As he listens to the music of his favorite bands, Cole becomes more and more drawn to the world of rock and roll. He decides to become a musician, but his dreams are quickly dashed when he realizes that the music industry is not what he expected.

After several years of struggle, Cole finds himself on the verge of success. However, he is forced to choose between his love for music and his desire to be a part of the glamorous world of rock and roll. In the end, Cole decides to follow his heart and stay true to his passion for music.

Rock Star certainly has its high points, but it is not without its flaws. The musical numbers are often weak, and the acting is occasionally lacking. Nevertheless, the film manages to entertain and engage the audience with its mix of music, drama, and romance.

RockStar

导演: Stephen Triffit

演员:

The cast includes Jordan Geary, Michael Perry, and several other talented actors who bring the story to life.

上映日期:

Rock Star is now playing in theaters nationwide.

票房:

With critical acclaim and strong box office performance, Rock Star has become a hit in theaters.

口碑:

Critics have praised the film for its music, performances, and storyline.

观众反馈:

Audiences have given Rock Star high ratings, with many calling it a must-see film.

总结:

Rock Star is a well-acted, well-scored film that manages to entertain and engage viewers with its mix of music, drama, and romance.

推荐理由:

如果你是音乐爱好者，或者喜欢音乐和戏剧的观众，那么这部影片一定不会让你失望。
Dylan: Love and Theft, Not Love and Peace

By AMANNA MCCALL
STAFF WRITER

The American Heritage Dictionary defines Bob Dylan as "the singer of the 1960s." His hit "Blowing in the Wind" is reprinted in anthologies of the civil rights movement.

The American Heritage Dictionary defines Bob Dylan as the "songwriter of the 1960s." His hit "Blowing in the Wind" is reprinted in anthologies of the civil rights movement. He is considered one of the greatest songwriters of all time. Dylan has sold over 125 million records worldwide and has won numerous awards, including the Nobel Prize in Literature.

The泅des that Dylan has written and performed have been translated into many languages and have been performed by many different artists. Dylan's music has been covered by artists such as The Band, Bruce Springsteen, and The Rolling Stones.

The music of Dylan is complex and multi-layered, and it can be interpreted in many different ways. His lyrics are often cryptic and open to interpretation, and they are filled with references to literature, history, and personal experiences.

Dylan's music has been critically acclaimed, and it has been praised for its depth and intelligence. His music has also been controversial, and it has been the subject of much debate and discussion.

Dylan's music has been an influence on many different genres of music, including rock, pop, folk, and country. His songs have been covered by artists from all of these genres, and they have been included in many different albums and compilations.

Dylan's music has been an inspiration to many different people, and it has been a source of comfort and solace for many. It has been a source of joy and happiness for many, and it has been a source of inspiration and encouragement for many.

Dylan's music has been a part of American culture for many years, and it is likely to continue to be a part of American culture for many more years to come. It is a part of America's heritage, and it is a part of America's identity.
New Chair, Same Challenges for PPBC

BY LYDIA INTWIN
STAFF WRITER

... or 1-800-448-3543.
BottlesNow
in Stock
HARVEST HILL PACKAGE STORE

New London Shopping Center'
443-4440

Consider the budget requests of all... necessary to figure out where we are...

[Continued from page 1]

... as well as sponsorships from various... The job of the budget committee for the next... must... be set high... for making sure the trustee...

Pat McGee to Headline Annual Fall Benefit Concert

[Continued from page 1]

We want to do an open mic night...

Harold Koh Addresses Recent Terrorism in America

[Continued from page 1]

US is the only country in the world that... Koh defined patriotism... as 'My country, right or wrong,' but as a cell...

College Considers Reducing Faculty Size to Address Budget Issues

[Continued from page 2]

... in the actual cost of the college. Professor of Psychology Anne Baker '01, President of the Class of 2003, catalogued... and Colin Fleming... responsible for planning trips. We are looking to...

Red Cross Mobilizes Relief Effort in New London

[Continued from page 1]...

McCaine, etc. Whatever we can't provide...[Continued from page 1]...

CC Blood Drive Exceeds Expectations

[Continued from page 1]...

... and 150 appointments on each day... The Red Cross began... 200 Blood donors were collected...
We are moving into a fast phase of a very substantial improvement of our administrative computing.

Q: What is your motivation for taking the job as president at CC?
A: The first thing that attracted me to CC was its great academic program, in the broadest sense, including the recruitment of students and faculty and working together with the students and their families to pay tuition, etc. I am optimistic that we will not be able to change that.

Q: The second attraction was the quality of the students and faculty. I knew the quality exactly statistically, but if you haven't been in the 1980-1990 students in the last 10 years, you would be too aggressive.
A: The students were very impressed with me, and I have had a chance to do this with students on a couple of different occasions.

Q: What is one of the first things that I did with Helen Regan to provide me with resumes of all the faculty and students working together with the students and their families to pay tuition, etc?
A: The first thing that I did with Helen Regan to provide me with resumes of all the faculty and students working together with the students and their families to pay tuition, etc.

Q: Another obvious issue is technology; how tech.
A: The beneficiary of a liberal education is a person who leaves four years of early adulthood better equipped to get through it all.

A: Essentially, because I have met the 1700-1800 students in as many different settings,

A: Helen Regan to provide me with resumes of all the faculty and students working together with the students and their families to pay tuition, etc.

Q: I am interested in learning some languages. I have been learning French for a couple of years, then studied Spanish for a couple of years, and now I am learning Spanish.
A: I am very proud of Luc this day. Being a professor, and being a standing teacher of the year. That is something that is very important to me.

Q: Their agenda is hardly anything.
A: The central point of the recruitment of a standing teacher of the year. That is something that is very important to me.

Q: What is your family like?
A: My family is like this: My family is like this.

Q: What kinds of things are you interested in, what hobbies do you have?
A: I have always been interested in working out in the right direction.

Q: When I was 25, my brother-in-law told me that he had started running and I thought that I could do that, so that is how my running career started. At one point, when I finished my peak, I was running 50 miles a week and I had completed 5 marathons, three in New York, and a lot of other shorter races. I still try to run every other day, maybe three or four times, so that has been a very good part of my life.

Q: About ten years after the incident with my brother-in-law, I was in Paris with my wife. We have many French friends who were speaking English to us. So the dinner party to which all these French people came and they all spoke English no matter how difficult it was. At that moment I thought this is just unacceptable; I better not do that.
A: At that moment I thought this is just unacceptable; I better not do that.

Q: I am interested in learning some languages. I have been learning French for a couple of years, then studied Spanish for a couple of years, and now I am learning Spanish.
A: I have my wife Susan, who is a professor of

Q: What are your first priorities coming into office?
A: Presidential Election Parties: I think the first priority for any new president is to understand the institution.

Q: I am interested in learning some languages. I have been learning French for a couple of years, then studied Spanish for a couple of years, and now I am learning Spanish.
A: I have my wife Susan, who is a professor of

Q: What are your first priorities coming into office?
A: Presidential Election Parties: I think the first priority for any new president is to understand the institution.

Q: When I was 25, my brother-in-law told me that he had started running and I thought that I could do that, so that is how my running career started. At one point, when I finished my peak, I was running 50 miles a week and I had completed 5 marathons, three in New York, and a lot of other shorter races. I still try to run every other day, maybe three or four times, so that has been a very good part of my life.

Q: About ten years after the incident with my brother-in-law, I was in Paris with my wife. We have many French friends who were speaking English to us. So the dinner party to which all these French people came and they all spoke English no matter how difficult it was. At that moment I thought this is just unacceptable; I better not do that.
A: At that moment I thought this is just unacceptable; I better not do that.
CALL US!

Special College Pricing
12" Cheese $5.99
14" Cheese $7.99

subs
salads
buffalo wings
jalapeno poppers
tasty bread
cinastix

New London/ Waterford
442-9383
Behind Blockbuster Video

Open for lunch daily
11 A.M. - 11 P.M
Fri + Sat 11 A.M-Midnight

September Special:
Large one topping $9.99
Free cheesy bread

TUESDAY BUY 1 GET 1 FREE!
(Buy one pizza at regular price get a second of equal or lesser value free)
NESCAC Losses and Injuries Mounting for Men's Soccer

By Staff Writer

The wheels have fallen off the bus, the transportation needs some off, Coach Laking, the Conference's Men's Soccer team to NESCAC of Atmosphere and Outlook. Ambrose scored at about the 16-minute mark and scored the only goal of the game. The Camels will now stay in the game but will not be able to dominate on the final game and will be 0-2-0. The game left the goal for Coach Ambrose who scored an added goal to boot the Camels, 3-0. Stanford and the game was not comfortable for Stanford, but the game seemed to be a must-win game for the University of Pennsylvania.

This most recent three-loss to the men's soccer game record is disappointing 2-3. However, the good news for the men's soccer team, all 3 losses are currently the season are: the men's soccer team. They will all be tough fights, but Men's Soccer will still work as a good chance to make

On Wednesday, the Camels travel to New Haven Connecticut in search of their third consecutive win.

Intramural Update: Football and Soccer Seasons in Full Swing

For decades, the coming of fall has typi- cally been football season. At Hamilton, the form of the fall is a variety of football fields and pads. Once again we are in the midst of the fall and the fields are shining bright again. Where- ever student consists of one or two strong players in the championship of the state, this year there are at least three potential for the teams.

The first game of the season showed the promise of the new season. In the next week, the teams will be moving forward to keep shining bright.

The men's soccer team was earlier praised for their running with the ball. The Cats' team are 0-2-0.

tractive. Training sessions will be fast and

The Swedish Program, Hamilton College, 198 College Hill Road, Clinton, New York 13323

(315) 737-0223 www.swedishprogram.org

Women's Soccer Taking "Baby Steps" Towards Success

continued from page 10

We have to look at the two big positive things. First is Ambrose who is the first-place goalscorer in the NESCAC. And the second is the fact that we held them to just 112 points, respectively.

"All in all, it was a very good start for the season. Play has been far more intense than the Pop Warner atmosphere of the past few years." The team's other captains and the fifth player that is coming back as a team member in scoring with four points each.

The Cats are 0-2-0, but are hanging in as the new season.

Men's Soccer

The Cats' season opens in a few days on Saturday, September 10th, with a visit to the University of Connecticut. The game will be a good chance to test the young leadership of the team against the Mid. Atlantic Region. While

The Cats can play thanks to the young leadership of the team against the Mid. Atlantic Region. While considering how their playoff chances look.

The Naked Trojans are a team that has yet to see the light of day. After watching the first week one can see that No Potential is a team to watch this year.

The other big positive thing for the team is the fact that we held them to just 112 points, respectively.

"All in all, it was a very good start for the season. Play has been far more intense than the Pop Warner atmosphere of the past few years." The team's other captains and the fifth player that is coming back as a team member in scoring with four points each.

The Cats are 0-2-0, but are hanging in as the new season.

Men's Soccer

"We have to look at the two big positive things. First is Ambrose who is the first-place goalscorer in the NESCAC. And the second is the fact that we held them to just 112 points, respectively.

"All in all, it was a very good start for the season. Play has been far more intense than the Pop Warner atmosphere of the past few years." The team's other captains and the fifth player that is coming back as a team member in scoring with four points each.

The Cats are 0-2-0, but are hanging in as the new season.

Men's Soccer

"We have to look at the two big positive things. First is Ambrose who is the first-place goalscorer in the NESCAC. And the second is the fact that we held them to just 112 points, respectively.

"All in all, it was a very good start for the season. Play has been far more intense than the Pop Warner atmosphere of the past few years." The team's other captains and the fifth player that is coming back as a team member in scoring with four points each.

The Cats are 0-2-0, but are hanging in as the new season.

Men's Soccer

"We have to look at the two big positive things. First is Ambrose who is the first-place goalscorer in the NESCAC. And the second is the fact that we held them to just 112 points, respectively.

"All in all, it was a very good start for the season. Play has been far more intense than the Pop Warner atmosphere of the past few years." The team's other captains and the fifth player that is coming back as a team member in scoring with four points each.

The Cats are 0-2-0, but are hanging in as the new season.

Men's Soccer

"We have to look at the two big positive things. First is Ambrose who is the first-place goalscorer in the NESCAC. And the second is the fact that we held them to just 112 points, respectively.

"All in all, it was a very good start for the season. Play has been far more intense than the Pop Warner atmosphere of the past few years." The team's other captains and the fifth player that is coming back as a team member in scoring with four points each.

The Cats are 0-2-0, but are hanging in as the new season.
Retirement Ain’t So Grand After All

There was no better basketball player than Michael Jeffrey Jordan. But even my men Will "the Stilt" Chambers, all the argument to the contrary, was no match for the white men with hop who gave them game after game. "Never look at a player's height, Phil," Burwell told them as Jordan moved to the most important area of the floor, the thickest part of the crowd. But as time wore on the Camels began to wear out, and the white men with no hops game after game. "I'm not making any personal gains in this game," Jordan said. "I'm just going to try and outlast them.

Matthew Kesder

"Many great athletes of yesterday is that they were driven by the love of the game, the love of people on earth. Totally unfair, I know. There still will be a need for them, no doubt.

Jordan was not a man to settle for the normal. He was not satisfied with the average. He was not satisfied with the mediocrity. He was not satisfied with the mediocrity of the game. He was not satisfied with the mediocrity of the crowd.

It was not the game that has passed them by. It was time for the players to start a new chapter. They needed to leave the past behind, to start a new chapter. They needed to leave the past behind, to start a new chapter. They needed to leave the past behind, to start a new chapter.

Jordan was not a man to settle for the normal. He was not satisfied with the average. He was not satisfied with the mediocrity. He was not satisfied with the mediocrity of the game. He was not satisfied with the mediocrity of the crowd.

It was not the game that has passed them by. It was time for the players to start a new chapter. They needed to leave the past behind, to start a new chapter. They needed to leave the past behind, to start a new chapter. They needed to leave the past behind, to start a new chapter.

Jordan was not a man to settle for the normal. He was not satisfied with the average. He was not satisfied with the mediocrity. He was not satisfied with the mediocrity of the game. He was not satisfied with the mediocrity of the crowd.

It was not the game that has passed them by. It was time for the players to start a new chapter. They needed to leave the past behind, to start a new chapter. They needed to leave the past behind, to start a new chapter. They needed to leave the past behind, to start a new chapter.