Boston Puts the ‘Wild’ in Wildcard

By Michael Bliss

On Sunday, September 28, the Park dormitory was devastated by the intimately combined efforts of flimsy water and reflectorized mirrors. The broken sprinklers and broken pipes were the direct result of two students who were playing foot- ball in the dormitory and not paying attention. It was either an accident or deliberate, for the responsible, the third floor of Park flooded from the sprinkler pipe, and a classic case of wild water flooded floor too, but I was really far away Monday morning. My rug was removed, and the floors and parts of the rooms were afterwards, because about the flood was how dirty Our in inches of water soaked her room. not completely aware of how many people had been sitting in the pipes over a damaged, but at least the residents of Our are now back to normal.

Students who reside in Park were notified from the building and were only permitted to return them to their rooms as of early Monday morning. My rug was destroyed and the sheet toward my floor, but I was really busy trying to remove most of the damage. Campuses safety came into our rooms and just safety came into our rooms and just safety came into our rooms and just safety came into our rooms and just.

The mold itself may be toxic if it is allowed to grow unchecked. The College allows all students to participate in the removal process and to respond to the problem with a set mold removal procedure consistent with the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) vacuum cleaner and wiping the affected surfaces with disinfectant solution. The length of this process varies with the severity of mold growth found, but on average between three and five weeks can be expected. In addition, the college offers the use of a HEPA (High Efficiency Particulate Air) filter system to minimize the damage caused by mold. The College has found that the use of mold removal procedures can reduce the effects of mold growth on park.

Fl.it.010010

Mold Infestation Continues to Cause Problems Across Campus

Mold Infestation Continues to Cause Problems Across Campus

By Carolyn Carter

Since the beginning of the season, mold has been a growing problem in many of the dormitories across campus. Among those affected have been Burdock, Hartwell, Montgomery, and the entire New London, with the exception of Park. However, the presence of mold in the New London dorms has not been as noticeable. The mold is thought to have begun growing during that time, the only period when there were no students living in the resi dential halls.

In the affected non-Plex dorms, noot patients have been almost exclusively the victims of mold growth. One room in Hill Hall was also heavily hit. During the summer months, until the rest of the dorms or in other parts of campus. The mold is thought to have begun growing during that time, the only period when there were no students living in the residential halls.

Mold growth is a recurring phenomenon, some rooms have been cleaned on multiple occasions. Physical Plant warns students to expect minor effects even after the mold has been addressed. The mold itself may be toxic, and the College has found that the use of mold removal procedures can reduce the effects of mold growth.

Mold Infestation Continues to Cause Problems Across Campus

By Carolyn Carter

Since the beginning of the season, mold has been a growing problem in many of the dormitories across campus. Among those affected have been Burdock, Hartwell, Montgomery, and the entire New London, with the exception of Park. However, the presence of mold in the New London dorms has not been as noticeable. The mold is thought to have begun growing during that time, the only period when there were no students living in the residential halls.

In the affected non-Plex dorms, noot patients have been almost exclusively the victims of mold growth. One room in Hill Hall was also heavily hit. During the summer months, until the rest of the dorms or in other parts of campus. The mold is thought to have begun growing during that time, the only period when there were no students living in the residential halls.

Mold growth is a recurring phenomenon, some rooms have been cleaned on multiple occasions. Physical Plant warns students to expect minor effects even after the mold has been addressed. The mold itself may be toxic, and the College has found that the use of mold removal procedures can reduce the effects of mold growth.

Mold Infestation Continues to Cause Problems Across Campus

By Carolyn Carter

Since the beginning of the season, mold has been a growing problem in many of the dormitories across campus. Among those affected have been Burdock, Hartwell, Montgomery, and the entire New London, with the exception of Park. However, the presence of mold in the New London dorms has not been as noticeable. The mold is thought to have begun growing during that time, the only period when there were no students living in the residential halls.

In the affected non-Plex dorms, noot patients have been almost exclusively the victims of mold growth. One room in Hill Hall was also heavily hit. During the summer months, until the rest of the dorms or in other parts of campus. The mold is thought to have begun growing during that time, the only period when there were no students living in the residential halls.

Mold growth is a recurring phenomenon, some rooms have been cleaned on multiple occasions. Physical Plant warns students to expect minor effects even after the mold has been addressed. The mold itself may be toxic, and the College has found that the use of mold removal procedures can reduce the effects of mold growth.

Mold Infestation Continues to Cause Problems Across Campus

By Carolyn Carter

Since the beginning of the season, mold has been a growing problem in many of the dormitories across campus. Among those affected have been Burdock, Hartwell, Montgomery, and the entire New London, with the exception of Park. However, the presence of mold in the New London dorms has not been as noticeable. The mold is thought to have begun growing during that time, the only period when there were no students living in the residential halls.

In the affected non-Plex dorms, noot patients have been almost exclusively the victims of mold growth. One room in Hill Hall was also heavily hit. During the summer months, until the rest of the dorms or in other parts of campus. The mold is thought to have begun growing during that time, the only period when there were no students living in the residential halls.

Mold growth is a recurring phenomenon, some rooms have been cleaned on multiple occasions. Physical Plant warns students to expect minor effects even after the mold has been addressed. The mold itself may be toxic, and the College has found that the use of mold removal procedures can reduce the effects of mold growth.
Pay-to-print exploits students

The College Voice has one of the highest numbers of any liberal arts college. We are paying to attend one of the most prestigious colleges in the country. This entails that students receive a broadening, high-quality education as well as access to a safe and well-appointed campus. While the College may meet these standards, the tuition added for students to have access to the same opportunities are unequally distributed and price the students for their pay-to-print policy.

With students printing anonymously, the College has created a system where students get paid to print. The system creates a profit split between the College and the company printing the pages. If students are paying for their printouts, it is evident that there are not many students who will be using the system for their own printing needs. In fact, it seems that the College has created a system that will allow students to print out their own documents and profiteer from the success of the system.

The College Voice has recently added a new feature to their website called “the voice.” The feature is a way for students to anonymously express their opinions to the College. It is important to note that the College has decided to use this feature in order to create a profit for themselves. The College has decided to use this feature in order to profit from the success of the system.

If students are paying to print, it is evident that there are not many students who will be using the system for their own printing needs. In fact, it seems that the College has created a system that will allow students to print out their own documents and profiteer from the success of the system.

The College Voice has recently added a new feature to their website called “the voice.” The feature is a way for students to anonymously express their opinions to the College. It is important to note that the College has decided to use this feature in order to create a profit for themselves. The College has decided to use this feature in order to profit from the success of the system.

If students are paying to print, it is evident that there are not many students who will be using the system for their own printing needs. In fact, it seems that the College has created a system that will allow students to print out their own documents and profiteer from the success of the system.
Don’t let that paint the picture that the Chili, as I call it, is a redneck or a yokel. It’s just perfectly normal but quirky.

The Chili is a casual restaurant. You can come in wearing jeans and a t-shirt or you can come in wearing a suit and tie. The Chili has a relaxed atmosphere. You can sit at a table or you can stand at the bar and order your food. The Chili is a great place to relax and enjoy a good meal.

If you’re looking for a casual restaurant with a relaxed atmosphere, then the Chili is the perfect place for you. Come in and try our delicious chili soup and see for yourself what all the fuss is about.

The Chili is located in downtown Charleston, South Carolina. You can’t miss it – there’s a big red sign above the door that says “The Chili”.

So, if you’re in Charleston and you’re looking for a good meal, then come on in to The Chili. You won’t be disappointed.

Don’t miss out on this delicious chili soup. Come on in to The Chili today and try our special – it’s the best chili you’ll ever eat!
The Taste of India serves up spice and delight in New London

BY CLARE DRUMMOND

Our critics appreciate the adventurous palate of a gourmet diner, and don't mind if your tastes are a bit more down-to-earth. Fortunately, the taste of India isn't too far out of reach for the average New Londoner, with a few exceptions.

We've sampled the menu at A Taste of India twice, and the results have been both delicious and enlightening. The restaurant is located on Main Street, just off the campus of Western Connecticut State University.

The first time we visited, we were impressed with the variety of dishes available on the menu. We ordered the lamb curry, which is a classic Indian dish made with lamb, tomatoes, and a variety of spices. The curry was cooked to perfection and had a rich, flavorful taste that was both familiar and exciting.

The second time we visited, we tried the chicken tikka masala, another popular dish at A Taste of India. This dish is made with marinated chicken, vegetables, and a spiced tomato sauce. The chicken was perfectly cooked and had a delicious flavor that was both spicy and savory.

In addition to the food, we were impressed with the service at A Taste of India. Our server was attentive and knowledgeable, and she was able to answer all of our questions about the menu.

Overall, we highly recommend A Taste of India for anyone looking for a delicious and authentic Indian meal. The restaurant is located at 1 Main St., New London, and is open for lunch and dinner daily.

"Love sports?" You would love Nick Iyengar.

You would love writing about sports for Nick Iyengar.

Write about sports for Nick Iyengar, spl2182

Jump Off The Bandwagon!

These Records Will Make You Want to Swandive

There's something special about a new pair of headphones that's so comfortable you'll want to cozy up with them for every listening session. These headphones are so comfortable, you'll want to wear them even during your favorite TV shows, movies, and videos. Whether you're at home or on the go, these headphones are the perfect companion for all of your listening needs.

With a sleek design and a comfortable fit, these headphones are perfect for anyone who wants to enjoy their music in style. They feature a built-in microphone, so you can make phone calls hands-free and answer incoming calls without having to take out your phone. Plus, they're lightweight and portable, so you can easily slip them into your bag or carry them with you wherever you go.

In addition to their comfort and convenience, these headphones also offer great sound quality. They feature a powerful drivers and a high-fidelity audio output, so you can enjoy your music in crystal clear sound.

But what really makes these headphones stand out is their versatility. Whether you're at home, in the car, or on the go, these headphones are perfect for anyone who wants to enjoy their music in style. So, if you're looking for a new pair of headphones that's comfortable, stylish, and perfect for every occasion, these headphones are the perfect choice for you.

If you're interested in learning more about these headphones, or if you want to purchase a pair for yourself or a friend, you can find them online or at your local electronics store.

ABSOLUTELY

Four Years at West Point

Absolutely American Offers Insight Into Life at a Military Institution

BY BRUCE GERES

For any Connecticut College student who has ever wondered what life is like across the street at the Coast Guard Academy, David Lipsky's Absolutely American offers an intriguing glimpse into the world of military academies.

Lipsky, a staff writer for Rolling Stone, follows a hand full of West Point cadets as they continue their academic process through post-grad school and everyday life at the academy. While his technique may not be as eloquent as Dickens, his portrayal of the atmosphere and culture of West Point is as gripping as a true account of a soldier's life.

Absolutely American does not spare any scrutiny about the cadets' experience. It does a good job of defining the military life and its impact on the soldiers. Lipsky's quick and easy approach makes it easy to understand the complex nature of military life. His insight into the lives of these cadets comes through anecdotes and interviews. Absolutley American is a must-read for anyone who is interested in the military life.

This book provides a fascinating and intriguing read. Lipsky is a master at capturing the essence of the American military academy. The book covers a variety of topics, including the application process, the rigorous training program, and the traditions and customs that make up West Point's unique culture.

One of the most interesting aspects of this book is the way Lipsky portrays the cadets. He presents them as individuals, with their own strengths and weaknesses. This helps the reader to connect with them on a personal level.

Another fascinating aspect of this book is the focus on the family aspect of West Point. Lipsky shows how the cadets are not only preparing for a military career, but also for a fulfilling personal life. This provides a deeper understanding of the cadets' motivations and experiences.

As a college student, this book provides an intriguing perspective on the life of a military cadet. It offers insight into the challenges and rewards of military service. Absolutely American is a must-read for anyone who is interested in the military life or the American military academy.
Worst Commercial Ever: "Subway’s Servants of Satan" or "Dell’s Remains That the Dell Interns Don’t Promote a Positive Image."

Day: released his first full major label album, Stop (Epic). This past Tuesday, he

Howie Day: "Stop All the World Now"

Written and performed by Howie Day

This song, his first major label single, features Howie Day’s unique sound and signature writing style. It is a powerful and emotional song that speaks to the listener on a deep level.

Concert Review

With the release of his new album, Stop, the audience was treated to a full band in his live performances, as he expands his sound and explores new musical territories. The album includes a variety of tracks that showcase Howie Day’s talent and creativity. The audience was captivated by the musician’s talent and was left wanting more.

Student-Directed Office Hours a Success

The College of Arts and Sciences hosted its first Student-Directed Office Hours event on April 5th. The event was a great success, with students and faculty members engaging in meaningful conversations on a variety of topics.

Griddlock Grill Has Something for Everyone, (even if you’re broke)

In preparation for any evening out or rainy day, we recommend visiting Griddlock Grill. They offer a wide variety of dishes at reasonable prices, making it an affordable option for students on a budget.

Hey, I hate that smirking Kiefer Sutherland guy just as much as anyone, but his character is not the reason I don’t watch S.D.C.

Subway ads are putrid. I mean, what’s wrong with a guy who looks like he’s on drugs spewing lies about the government trying to kill his sandwich? I’m sure the government is trying to kill his sandwich. It’s just a bunch of nonsense. Subway is just a bunch of nonsense. They make bad sandwiches and don’t care about their customers. I think the government should approve of the new Subway logo and make it the official logo of the United States.

By the time we had realized that we couldn’t even name all 50 states, our Children were found playing a game of "Find the Capitals" on a place-mat. We were surprised to see how well they knew their capitals.

The College Voice

October 10, 2003 • 5

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Worst Commercial Ever: "Subway’s Servants of Satan" or "Dell’s Remains That the Dell Interns Don’t Promote a Positive Image."

Taylor’s Ladies is in Fashionable Street’s new location.

While the

Subway ads are being advertised on television, the ads have focused on in-store promotions and coupons, rather than on the quality of the food.

The Subway ad features a man holding a sandwich in front of a crowd. The man is wearing a white shirt and a black tie. He is holding a sign that says, "Deli Fresh." The camera zooms in on the sandwich, which is topped with roast beef and lettuce. The man then turns to the camera and says, "You should try our new sandwich."

Hey, I hate that smirking Kiefer Sutherland guy just as much as anyone, but his character is not the reason I don’t watch S.D.C.

By the time we had realized that we couldn’t even name all 50 states, our children were found playing a game of "Find the Capitals" on a place-mat. We were surprised to see how well they knew their capitals.

Spring Break: The College Voice reporter visited the College of Arts and Sciences to see how their Spring Break plans were shaping up.

Have you ever met a drug lord, pervvert, or American Idiot? I love New Jersey, where everyone is one of the three, and I can talk to you on every one of them.

If you’re not supposed to like him but you do anyways topped with just the right amount of sour cream and salsa and the crunch of some jalepenos in the mix.

You could catch both of their hit sitcoms on PAX every Wednesday night at 9 PM Eastern Time.

The College Voice

October 10, 2003 • 5

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Worst Commercial Ever: "Subway’s Servants of Satan" or "Dell’s Remains That the Dell Interns Don’t Promote a Positive Image."

Taylor’s Ladies is in Fashionable Street’s new location.

While the Subway ads are being advertised on television, the ads have focused on in-store promotions and coupons, rather than on the quality of the food.

The Subway ad features a man holding a sandwich in front of a crowd. The man is wearing a white shirt and a black tie. He is holding a sign that says, "Deli Fresh." The camera zooms in on the sandwich, which is topped with roast beef and lettuce. The man then turns to the camera and says, "You should try our new sandwich."

Hey, I hate that smirking Kiefer Sutherland guy just as much as anyone, but his character is not the reason I don’t watch S.D.C.

By the time we had realized that we couldn’t even name all 50 states, our children were found playing a game of "Find the Capitals" on a place-mat. We were surprised to see how well they knew their capitals.

Spring Break: The College Voice reporter visited the College of Arts and Sciences to see how their Spring Break plans were shaping up.

Have you ever met a drug lord, pervvert, or American Idiot? I love New Jersey, where everyone is one of the three, and I can talk to you on every one of them.

If you’re not supposed to like him but you do anyways topped with just the right amount of sour cream and salsa and the crunch of some jalepenos in the mix.

You could catch both of their hit sitcoms on PAX every Wednesday night at 9 PM Eastern Time.

The College Voice

October 10, 2003 • 5

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Worst Commercial Ever: "Subway’s Servants of Satan" or "Dell’s Remains That the Dell Interns Don’t Promote a Positive Image."

Taylor’s Ladies is in Fashionable Street’s new location.

While the Subway ads are being advertised on television, the ads have focused on in-store promotions and coupons, rather than on the quality of the food.

The Subway ad features a man holding a sandwich in front of a crowd. The man is wearing a white shirt and a black tie. He is holding a sign that says, "Deli Fresh." The camera zooms in on the sandwich, which is topped with roast beef and lettuce. The man then turns to the camera and says, "You should try our new sandwich."

Hey, I hate that smirking Kiefer Sutherland guy just as much as anyone, but his character is not the reason I don’t watch S.D.C.

By the time we had realized that we couldn’t even name all 50 states, our children were found playing a game of "Find the Capitals" on a place-mat. We were surprised to see how well they knew their capitals.

Spring Break: The College Voice reporter visited the College of Arts and Sciences to see how their Spring Break plans were shaping up.

Have you ever met a drug lord, pervvert, or American Idiot? I love New Jersey, where everyone is one of the three, and I can talk to you on every one of them.

If you’re not supposed to like him but you do anyways topped with just the right amount of sour cream and salsa and the crunch of some jalepenos in the mix.

You could catch both of their hit sitcoms on PAX every Wednesday night at 9 PM Eastern Time.

The College Voice

October 10, 2003 • 5

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Worst Commercial Ever: "Subway’s Servants of Satan" or "Dell’s Remains That the Dell Interns Don’t Promote a Positive Image."

Taylor’s Ladies is in Fashionable Street’s new location.

While the Subway ads are being advertised on television, the ads have focused on in-store promotions and coupons, rather than on the quality of the food.

The Subway ad features a man holding a sandwich in front of a crowd. The man is wearing a white shirt and a black tie. He is holding a sign that says, "Deli Fresh." The camera zooms in on the sandwich, which is topped with roast beef and lettuce. The man then turns to the camera and says, "You should try our new sandwich."

Hey, I hate that smirking Kiefer Sutherland guy just as much as anyone, but his character is not the reason I don’t watch S.D.C.

By the time we had realized that we couldn’t even name all 50 states, our children were found playing a game of "Find the Capitals" on a place-mat. We were surprised to see how well they knew their capitals.

Spring Break: The College Voice reporter visited the College of Arts and Sciences to see how their Spring Break plans were shaping up.

Have you ever met a drug lord, pervvert, or American Idiot? I love New Jersey, where everyone is one of the three, and I can talk to you on every one of them.

If you’re not supposed to like him but you do anyways topped with just the right amount of sour cream and salsa and the crunch of some jalepenos in the mix.

You could catch both of their hit sitcoms on PAX every Wednesday night at 9 PM Eastern Time.

The College Voice

October 10, 2003 • 5

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Worst Commercial Ever: "Subway’s Servants of Satan" or "Dell’s Remains That the Dell Interns Don’t Promote a Positive Image."

Taylor’s Ladies is in Fashionable Street’s new location.

While the Subway ads are being advertised on television, the ads have focused on in-store promotions and coupons, rather than on the quality of the food.

The Subway ad features a man holding a sandwich in front of a crowd. The man is wearing a white shirt and a black tie. He is holding a sign that says, "Deli Fresh." The camera zooms in on the sandwich, which is topped with roast beef and lettuce. The man then turns to the camera and says, "You should try our new sandwich."

Hey, I hate that smirking Kiefer Sutherland guy just as much as anyone, but his character is not the reason I don’t watch S.D.C.

By the time we had realized that we couldn’t even name all 50 states, our children were found playing a game of "Find the Capitals" on a place-mat. We were surprised to see how well they knew their capitals.

Spring Break: The College Voice reporter visited the College of Arts and Sciences to see how their Spring Break plans were shaping up.

Have you ever met a drug lord, pervvert, or American Idiot? I love New Jersey, where everyone is one of the three, and I can talk to you on every one of them.

If you’re not supposed to like him but you do anyways topped with just the right amount of sour cream and salsa and the crunch of some jalepenos in the mix.

You could catch both of their hit sitcoms on PAX every Wednesday night at 9 PM Eastern Time.
Boston Puts the "Wild" in Wildcard
continued from page 1
The Sox are coming off one of the best playoff series in recent history, with abundant extra innings and dis-	urbances. Despite the chaos, on the other hand, there just completed a relatively easy series against the Yanks, and have been waiting around for the past few days before they take the field again. Sox blood against the Twins and have been waiting around for the past few days before they take the field again. Sox blood against the Twins and has been waiting around for the past few days before they take the field again. Sox blood against the Twins and have been waiting around for the past few days before they take the field again.

One in December 2003 • THE COLLEGE VIEW

Red Sox—A: One for the Ages
By Nox Irworn

The ALDS between the Boston Red Sox and Oakland Athletics proved to be a dramatic, exciting series between two worthy opponents. Though, Boston clinched the series Monday night with a 4-3 victory over the A's, the outcome in which every game was a nail-biter down to the very end.

In Game 1, Boston and Oakland squared off at Petco Park (14-3, 2-2) and Tim Hudson (16-7, 2.07) took the hill for their respective clubs. Both hurlers turned in strong performances, but Boston forced itself with a platoon. Hitting to the southpaw, all five games were decided by a single run.

Lowe, the Sox' ace, was unceremoniously removed from the game in the 3rd inning for all the right reasons. He had the lead off hitter on base, and worked himself into a bases-loaded, two outs situation. Yet, in a fit of naked self-interest, he chose to take the path of least resistance with Derek Jeter at bat. Jeter's hit was a single, but a single that scored the tying run. The Sox were out after three.

Sox manager Terry Francona was criticized by some for not taking the ball out of Lowe's hand. His decision was felt to be one of the key missed opportunities in the series. The Sox needed Lowe's pitching in Game 2.

In the meantime, the Angels, who had won the ALDS, needed a win in Game 2 to advance to the World Series against the Yankees. The Angels got the win, and the Sox were eliminated.

The Sox arc coming off one of the best playoff series in recent history, with abundant extra innings and disturbances. Despite the chaos, on the other hand, there just completed a relatively easy series against the Yankees, and have been waiting around for the past few days before they take the field again. Sox blood against the Twins and have been waiting around for the past few days before they take the field again. Sox blood against the Twins and have been waiting around for the past few days before they take the field again. Sox blood against the Twins and have been waiting around for the past few days before they take the field again.
Stats & Facts

Think you know everything about the Red Sox-Yankees rivalry? Think again. College Voice Managing Editor and Red Sox super-fan Dan Hartnett left no proverbial rock unturned tracking down the most interesting and obscure facts from a century of epic battles and broken hearts.

- Both franchises date back to the beginning of the American League in 1901. Boston began play that year as the Americans, became the Pilgrims in 1903, and were permanently renamed the Red Sox for the 1907 season. The Yankee franchise began play in 1901 as the Baltimore Orioles, but moved to New York for the 1903 season and became the Highlanders (so named because their stadium was called Hilltop Park). They were renamed the Yankees when they moved to the Polo Grounds in 1913.

- The first indoor meeting between the two franchises on April 28, 1901, the Orioles defeated the Americans by a score of 7-6 at Oriole Park in Baltimore.

- In the first game at Fenway Park on April 20, 1912, the Red Sox defeated the Highlanders by a score of 7-6 in eleven innings.

- In the first game at Yankee Stadium on April 18, 1923, the Yankees defeated the Red Sox by a score of 4-1.

- Since 1901, the Yankees lead the all-time series with the Red Sox 1,060-879 (including the 2003 regular season when the Yankees' record against the Red Sox was 16-9).

- The two teams have met once since in the postseason, with the Yankees defeating the Red Sox in the 1999 ALCS four games to one.

- Red Sox owner Harry Frazee sold star Red Sox pitcher Babe Ruth to the Yankees following the 1919 season.

- In 1901, the Yankees and the Red Sox played the first American League wild card as they finished second to the AL East champions.

- For a span of six consecutive seasons (1998-2003), the Yankees have finished first and the Red Sox second in the American League East division. This is the longest such streak in the history of Major League Baseball.

- Current Red Sox principal owner John Henry formerly owned a one percent piece of the Yankees, and was the majority owner of the Florida Marlins from 1999 to 2001.

- The Red Sox are partly owned by The Boston Globe, which itself is owned by the New York Times Company.

- In his major league debut on April 14, 1967 at Yankee Stadium, Red Sox pitcher Billy Rohr hit a home run in the ninth inning for the 2-2 tie. That hit by Rohr was his first major league hit and a two-out single in the bottom of the ninth. The Red Sox still won the game 3-2.

- On September 2, 2001 at Fenway Park, Yankee Mike Mussina pitched a perfect game against the Red Sox for 8 2/3 innings until pinch-hitter Carl Everett hit a two-out single in the bottom of the ninth. The Yankees still won, 3-0.

- The last game played before 9/11 for both teams was a 7-2 Yankee victory over the Red Sox on September 9, 2001 at Yankee Stadium.

Who Does Conn Want to Win the World Series?

In an informal survey of 155 Connecticut College students, we found that the overwhelming majority of 98% are hoping for a Red Sox victory in the World Series. The Yankees have the second largest contingent of fans on campus, amounting to roughly 36.7% of the student body. Crewe and Middle fans exist in such small quantities that they are statistically insignificant.

---

SPEND A SEMESTER OVERSEAS

AND STAY IN THE U.S.

Learn in the vibrant, multi-cultural community of Honolulu. Enjoy a university experience like no other. Be far away, but at home with the language and customs. It all adds up to a semester you'll never forget.

A Semester ALMOST Abroad at the University of Hawai’i at Mānoa.

For complete information, visit www.hawaii.edu/almost or email almost@hawaii.edu

On-campus housing and meals available.

---

The University of Hawai’i at Mānoa is an equal opportunity/affirmative action institution.
Conn Converts From Pepsi to Coke

By JAMIE ROGEKS
STAFF WRITER

Last week the College played host to a battle in the epic war that has torn the country asunder for decades: the battle between Coca Cola and Pepsi. The College played host to a battle in the epic war that has torn the country asunder for decades: the battle between Coca Cola and Pepsi. Conn College said this is where we want them," she said.

Despite widespread enthusiasm, not everyone embraced the change. Some were skeptical about the school's new decision. According to Mary Zawieski, Director of Dining and Auxiliary Services, the switch to Coke precipitated from the fact that the college is not allowed to use the unspent funds. The proposal, which will require trustee approval, would put $872,050 into the salaries. The proposal, which will require trustee approval, would put $872,050 into the

The best to the hottest destinations.
Group discounts for 6+
www.springbreakdiscounts.com
or call 800-888-8202,

relationship to the mega-corporation. "I feel like we've conformed to the rest of the world," said Olivia Nold '06.

Conn is now one of a slew of competitive colleges and universities with pay-to-print systems. "In drafting the policy proposal, we researched the printing guidelines for about fifty other schools," Blevins stated. "Approximately half of these institutions had already instituted some sort of pay-to-print procedure and several others seemed to be considering this type of policy as well."

In addition to further research, Conn refers to a survey conducted by Bucknell College that charted the printing habits of some of its faculty and staff. From this survey, it was concluded that the print habits of faculty and staff were similar. This review will involve not only Colby employees but also outside consultants.

There is also a portion of students who are in favor of the new policy. "I personally don't think that I'm going to go over three hundred pages, so it's not a big deal," stated Abby Gellar, a first-year student. "I like saving money and I think it's going to be a great service for students."

Conn Scores Another Balanced Budget

by JENNY BARGMAN
STAFF WRITER

Looking ahead, the next financial hurdle is to bring controversial increased, add $131,155 to the college's existing Capital Reserve Fund, and allow $5,000 to create a new endowment for Planning and Program Development. The Priorities, Planning and Budget Committee summarized the plan and approved it at the Oct. I meeting.

"We're trying to be proactive and plan for the future," said President Norman Fainstein. "The college is using this fund to plan extra items and to gain experience. We will be able to do it for the future."

The $131,155 increase is to be used in the Planning and Program Development budget. The Priorities, Planning and Budget Committee approved the plan and approved the plan at the Oct. I meeting.

"We're trying to be proactive and plan for the future," said President Norman Fainstein. "The college is using this fund to plan extra items and to gain experience. We will be able to do it for the future."

The Priorities, Planning and Budget Committee approved the plan and approved the plan at the Oct. I meeting.
The College Voice would like to apologize to the following parties, whose ads we were unable to run this week due to computer problems:

- Yale Medical
- Columbia University
- Jack Tinker
- Pizza Cucina
- Stratton Mt.

The College Voice would like to apologize to the following parties, whose ads we were unable to run this week due to computer problems:

- Yale Medical
- Columbia University
- Jack Tinker
- Pizza Cucina
- Stratton Mt.

SGA GOINGS ON

The SGA set the agenda with a few important items before the break. First the SGA would like to thank the participants and volunteers at the Blood Drive in late September. It was one of the most successful drives the school has seen and students were even turned away because there were not enough beds.

Two new clubs presented their constitutions for ratification and were approved: the Student Filmmakers Organization and the Connecticut College Mountain Bike Club (Conn. Peds). Look for these groups in upcoming events. The Conn. Peds will be taking the Staff Peds to Denali every Saturday at 12:00.

The SGA also began to tackle the Coffee Grounds question. It compiled a list of positive and negative attributes of the student-run coffee bar in an attempt to formulate methods of improving attendance and overall student participation.

Complaints were also addressed from Cro Snack Shop employees about students’ lack of respect for the facilities and the workers. SGA is internally encouraging people to clean up after themselves and cooperate with the staff. SGA has generated reminder signs about trash disposal and will post them.

In a final note, SGA is currently addressing the current policy of self-scheduled exams. Certain faculty members have raised concerns about the current system and are worried about cheating and plagiarism, although statistically there is 10-15% less cheating at Honor Code institutions (including Connecticut College) than at non-Honor Code institutions.

CAMEL VAN SCHEDULE

Reservations for the Camel Van are not accepted in advance. Specific details are available at the information desk in Cro.

Camel Van Times for Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday

12:45 - 3:45
3:30 - 6:30
6:15 - 9:15
9:00 - 11:15

PARENTS:
SUBSCRIBE to

THE COLLEGE VOICE!

The College Voice can help you stay informed. For only $40.00, you will receive twenty-five issues of the newspaper covering each week of the academic year. Campus news, sports, arts, entertainment, and opinion will arrive at your mailbox each week. Imagine calling your son or daughter, and knowing more than he or she about the opening game against Colby. Picture the surprised look on your student’s face when you quiz them about Convocation.

When you subscribe to The Voice, you will also be supporting an entirely student-operated newspaper. The staff of The Voice works extremely hard to publish an independent weekly newspaper. If you do not specifically know a Voice staff member, your sons and daughters surely do.

We urge you to consider subscribing to The Voice. Not only will you be supporting a dedicated student organization, but you will grow intimately involved each week with the workings of the College community.

YES! Please sign me up for a one-year subscription to The College Voice. I have enclosed a $40 check or money order for twenty-five issues of the newspaper.

MAIL AT ONCE TO: The College Voice
Conn. College Box 4970
270 Mohegan Avenue
New London, CT 06320

Questions about subscriptions? Call (860)-439-2812 and ask for Sarah Mercurio.

Isn’t this picture adorable?

Write for the Voice
call x2812
Looking for a SWAG minute? Here it is:

SWAG MINUTES

---

Lost & Found

Namita Sokhar

Sadie, due to a tragic scanning error, we are unable to present to you "Dorm Life" this week. Before you write a flur-ry of angry letters to the editor, let us

---

Freshmen out of Focus

Namita Sokhar

To all fans of Jordan Geary's award-winning cartoon "Dorm Life,"

---

CAMEL GUIDE

Eli Barnett

Friday, October 10

Back at the USSR

During the Fall semester, the Department of Slavic Studies is sponsoring a "Challenging Russian Cinema" film series. Each week, an expert will present the traditional masterpieces of that country's movies. Tonight, "The Shadow of Forgotten Ancestors," a new film about the famine, will be screened in the Studio Theater. Also known as "Tsatskoblik predki," the 1965 film was a winner of a British Academy Award for best foreign film.

10:00-10:30pm, President's Office, Fleming Hall

---

Democratic in Action

Decision in Action at Cono over the past year or so has to do with the war in Iraq and just about everything happening in that region. Today, the group will discuss some insights with "The People Speak," who is killed in an attempt to deny and disrupt the topic of "Broadside the U.S. anti-war protestor military force to meet the threats posed by hostile nations and groups seeking to acquire nuclear, biological or chemical weapons."

Two terms of debate, comprised of both students and faculty, will kick off the discussion. Professor Rose of the Department of Government will moderate the event. The event is sponsored by the United Nations Foundation, the Open Society Institute, and the Rockefeller Brothers Fund.

7:00-9:00pm, 1941 Room, Cono

---

Wednesday, October 12

Get Jazzzy 1

Derry Brown, conductor and assistant instructor of music at Cono, will present the Jazz Bands in a performance tonight in Cummings. Free for ID-bearing students, $3 for seniors, $5 for everybody else.

8:00-10:00pm, Event Hall, Cummings

---

Connecticut College Loves A Cuppola

If one thing is true about Cono, it’s that the students here simply cannot get enough a cappella. So, to satisfy everybody else.

6:30-8:00pm, Bill, 106

---

Thursday, October 16

Use Your Illusion

To kick off the official Fall Weekend activities, the Theater Department presents the play "The Illusion" by Pietro Corelli, and directed by Leah Lowe, assistant professor of drama. This is that the ilusionists say has the most entertaining show you’ll ever see and will be joined by guests from Harvard, MIT, and Yale.

8:30-10:00pm, Civ’s Nest

---

NiteLife

Leading the Way

The Department of Slavic Studies is sponsoring a "Challenging Russian Cinema" film series. Each week, an expert will present the traditional masterpieces of that country's movies. Tonight, "The Shadow of Forgotten Ancestors," a new film about the famine, will be screened in the Studio Theater. Also known as "Tsatskoblik predki," the 1965 film was a winner of a British Academy Award for best foreign film.

10:00-10:30pm, President's Office, Fleming Hall

---

Sponsored by the United Nations Foundation, the Open Society Institute, and the Rockefeller Brothers Fund.

7:00-9:00pm, 1941 Room, Cono

---

Old Business

Coffee Grounds

If you recognize one of the items listed...you need to work on your recycling habits.

---

Missing something?

Coffee Grounds is non-profit and run by student volunteers, however there is not very much consistency from week to week, so there get free coffee, it might cater to a specific group of people.

---

Erickson, Environmental Coordinator

Peter Luthy suggested that instead of focusing on the renewable energy plan, we should be focusing on the efficient use of energy.

---

Eddie Slade

Eddie Slade asked how the renewable energy plan continues to be in order to coordinate all the environmental efforts on campus. He is working with the relevant department to test the wind energy; we will be covering 45% of our energy needs from these companies have a certain amount of green energy.

---

Evan Johnson

Evan Johnson, who is the environmental coordinator and a high custodial turnover is going to be allocated.

---

Erin Riley

Erin Riley added that our school has been #1 in the country for purchasing renewable energy, and it is important that we continue.

---

Eddie Slade

Eddie Slade brought up a point that the renewable energy plan is in fact a comprehensive, increasing cost effectiveness, working toward this goal.

---

Matt Gropper

Matt Gropper and Alex Schoenfeld will work to provide information and support for a return of the Cro. Snack Shop is not appealing because it does not contain the proper variety of food. In addition, to say that it is non-profit is that it does not hold the maximum number of people (silly have been known to say "theater"), but if something, it isn’t sufficient for the number of people.

---

Evan Johnson

Evan Johnson asked many that have commented on the atmosphere in Coffee Grounds is sometimes similar to that of a coffee shop, and that it is an exciting experience.

---

Eddie Slade

Eddie Slade asked how the renewable energy plan continues to be in order to coordinate all the environmental efforts on campus. He is working with the relevant department to test the wind energy; we will be covering 45% of our energy needs from these companies have a certain amount of green energy.

---

Peter Luthy

Peter Luthy suggested that instead of focusing on the renewable energy plan, we should be focusing on the efficient use of energy.

---

Erickson, Environmental Coordinator

Peter Luthy suggested that instead of focusing on the renewable energy plan, we should be focusing on the efficient use of energy.

---

Eddie Slade

Eddie Slade brought up a point that the renewable energy plan continues to be in order to coordinate all the environmental efforts on campus. He is working with the relevant department to test the wind energy; we will be covering 45% of our energy needs from these companies have a certain amount of green energy.

---

Evan Johnson

Evan Johnson, who is the environmental coordinator and a high custodial turnover is going to be allocated.

---

Erin Riley

Erin Riley added that our school has been #1 in the country for purchasing renewable energy, and it is important that we continue.

---

Eddie Slade

Eddie Slade brought up a point that the renewable energy plan continues to be in order to coordinate all the environmental efforts on campus. He is working with the relevant department to test the wind energy; we will be covering 45% of our energy needs from these companies have a certain amount of green energy.
Field Hockey Netting A Winning Season

By SrnVE Sl'RAuss

Tuesday September 30th

Tiny Dancers
28
21
28
21
Boondock Saints
24
14

The Law

The hockey team began this season with four goals and ten points. They had an impressive two-game winning streak, but had not fully settled in on their offense. The field has transformed into a football field, which has proved to be an advantage for the team.

By SrnVE Sl'RAuss

Tuesday, September 23rd

The Law

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page page 12

The Curse of the Giambino

by BN

Thursday September 25th

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The Law

Tiny Dancers
28
21
28
21
Boondock Saints
24
14

The Law

The Law

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The Law

Tiny Dancers
28
21
28
21
Boondock Saints
24
14

The Law

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.

continued from page 12

The A's wouldn't, however, hit red up to the sixth inning, when Zito was cruising, embarrassing the Fenway Park, where it's hard for a southpaw to control the ball as he pitches. The Red Sox scored four runs in the fifth, hitting right up to the ninth inning, when Ramirez stood at home plate, watching the ball as he hit a home run that inning.
The Curse of the Giambino

Another year, another crushing heartbreak ending to one of baseball's most storied rivalries. It's hard to believe, but the Athletics and the Red Sox have squared off against each other in the ALDS. Let's do a little history lesson on the A's and their playoff past. We know that the A's were the last team to be swept by the Red Sox in the playoffs, and that they have been the only team to have won the ALDS without a series going to seven games.

Men's Water Polo:
- 10/5, vs. Brown, 4-18
- 10/14, vs. Queens, 8:00 pm
- 10/19, @ Harvard, 11:00 am

Young winner Barry Zito does his thing, striking out 10 Red Sox batters in his seven strong innings. And then, with the game on the line and the A's down 6-1, Barry Zito stepped up to the plate. The A's went down 6-1, but Barry Zito showed that he was not going to let the team down. He stepped up to the plate and hit a home run, tying the game at 6-6. The A's went on to win the game, 6-7, in the bottom of the 10th inning.

If you're a baseball fan, you know that the A's have a long history of heartbreak. In 1990, the A's lost to the Red Sox in the ALDS, 3-0. And then, in 1994, the A's lost to the Red Sox in the World Series, 4-1. But Barry Zito showed that the A's are not going to go down without a fight. He stepped up to the plate and hit a home run, tying the game at 6-6. The A's went on to win the game, 6-7, in the bottom of the 10th inning.

By Patti Sterling

Men's/Women's Cross Country:
- 10/11-19, NE's at Amherst, TBA

The Camels' soccer team played two tough games against Eastern Connecticut State University. The Camels responded to the state's capital, Hartford, to take on the Terriers. In an even contest, the Terriers had the opportunity to score the tying goal and gave themselves an advantage. The Terriers had the majority of possession and played out of the midfield. Conn goalie Kevin Scott made two key saves in the second half, increasing their lead. However, the Terriers were unable to score, and the game ended in a 0-0 tie.

Women's Soccer Falls to Trinity, ECU

The Camels' soccer team played two tough games against Eastern Connecticut State University. The Camels responded to the state's capital, Hartford, to take on the Terriers. In an even contest, the Terriers had the opportunity to score the tying goal and gave themselves an advantage. The Terriers had the majority of possession and played out of the midfield. Conn goalie Kevin Scott made two key saves in the second half, increasing their lead. However, the Terriers were unable to score, and the game ended in a 0-0 tie.

Women's Tennis:
- 10/14, vs. Bryant College, 4-1
- 10/16, @ NEC at Amherst, TBA

Camels Stun #6 Amherst in 1-Up Set

By George Walsh

The College Pennant's men's team scored a surprising upset over #6 Amherst in the 1-Up set. The Camels had the advantage in the first half, with 2 goals. But Amherst came back in the second half, scoring 3 goals to tie the game and force overtime. However, in overtime, the Camels scored the winning goal, and the game ended in a 1-Up set. It was a strong defense in front of him. Both teams played well throughout the game, but Amherst was able to capitalize on their mistakes.

For the past few games, we have played well, just not for the entire game. We didn't do anything special today, but we kept moving forward and working hard. The team was able to put things together and come out on top.

Sports

The A's have been on a roll lately, and they're not going to stop anytime soon. With Barry Zito on the mound and the team's defense playing well, the A's are looking like a team that's going to go all the way. And with the A's and the Red Sox having such a storied rivalry, it's going to be an exciting game to watch.

Budding Men's Pool Squad Drops Home Openers

By Nick Estes

Unbeknownst to many traditional sports fans, the College Pennant's men's water polo team is one to watch. With the team's recent success, the A's are looking to make a name for themselves in the pool.

Though they lost to Amherst in the opening game, the A's are looking forward to the rest of their season. They're looking to make a name for themselves in the pool and are ready to compete against some of the best teams in the country.

The A's have been on a roll lately, and they're not going to stop anytime soon. With Barry Zito on the mound and the team's defense playing well, the A's are looking like a team that's going to go all the way. And with the A's and the Red Sox having such a storied rivalry, it's going to be an exciting game to watch.

Against the MIT Braves, a recursive defensive strategy was put to use with the goalie and the visitors holding the ball. The A's scored their first goal of the series, tying the game at 1-1. The A's continued to play well, and they were able to score another goal, taking the lead at 2-1. The A's scored their third goal of the series, putting the game out of reach for the visitors. The A's won the game, 3-1, and they're looking forward to the rest of their season.

The A's have been on a roll lately, and they're not going to stop anytime soon. With Barry Zito on the mound and the team's defense playing well, the A's are looking like a team that's going to go all the way. And with the A's and the Red Sox having such a storied rivalry, it's going to be an exciting game to watch.