Four Help McCarthy
With N.H. Campaign

"I think the reason we went to New Hampshire to campaign for McCarthy is a pretty peculiar one: our support of his anti-Vietnam stance." - Conn Cens, May 1968

"McCarthy wants the U.S. to get out of Vietnam and concentrate on the urgent domestic problems facing us. This is the course I've always favored." - Pat Adams, rally organizer, May 1968

"We want to see McCarthy elected. That's why we went to campaign for him," said Ann Kibbey of the John F. Kennedy Club. May 1968

The four worked with about 75 other students from the New England area: students from Smith, Yale, Amherst and other colleges.

Six Clubs To Sponsor
Dellinger On Campus

Chairman of the National Mobilization to End the War in Vietnam, David Dellinger, will speak in Palmer Auditorium at Conn Weekend quest frid., Feb. 23 at 8 p.m. The event last October, Dellinger was a 32-year-old Yale graduate, class of '38.

Lubasz to Lecture

"Revolution and the Modern State", a new series of lectures sponsored by the History Department, will commence Feb. 13 when Professor Heinz Lubasz will speak on "The Bourgeois Republic" at 4:30 p.m. in Palmer Auditorium.

The general topic of the series is intended to cut across the three concentrations: American, Asian, and European—within the history major, and thus the series will be used both as public lectures and as part of the history honors program.

Subsequent Lectures

Professor Lubasz, chairman of the History of Ideas Program at Brandeis University, will deliver the first two lectures in the three part series. The second lecture, to be given Feb. 27, will be "The Totalitarian Revolutions". The third will be announced at a later date.

Speakers to Appeal
For Urban Reforms

The explosive and complex urban situation challenges us to act. What kind of action can we take—to deal with what already exists, or should we rethink, raise the old and start a new movement?

Father Daniel Bergren, S.J., and Professor William Mishul are two men immersed in the urban crisis. They will address themselves to the problem of how to respond to the urban crisis that faces us, their methods of change: Reform or Revolution?

Revisiting The Draft

In 1939, he enlisted in Union Theological Seminary in New York, to be, as he puts it, "the study of the man in Christ." At the beginning of his second year, he was called for selective service.

Dellinger was born in Wakefield, Mass., on Aug. 2, 1915. His father, Rev. Peter Dellinger, was a lawyer and a graduate of the Yale Law School in 1911.

He and his wife, who met between jail sentences, made their home in Glen Gardner, N.J.
Letters to the Editor

On Requirements:
At present if a student enters Connecticut College and is not exempt from any required courses, she would be obliged to fill seventeen of her thirty-two possible courses with just requirements. She would also have to allow that seven to thirteen of her remaining fifteen courses to be electives from courses only of her major field of study. This rigidly defined curriculum considerably does not provide for a liberal arts education. Ideally, the four years spent at the university level should provide us with the tools to cope with the complex world of today. It is self-sufficient enough to accept responsibilities and to formulate judgments. Before we can be self-sufficient, we must be given the independence to attend to our own concerns. I propose that more independence for the student body as a whole could be set aside, if the nature and the number of required courses could be altered. As there are certain mandatory requirement courses as part of the academic curriculum in high school, I think I can safely say that most of us have been delayed by the “required” courses in our high school curriculum. At the college reserve the right to change any course which had never before been included in the college’s policy on student requirements.

No Choice
Morrison was right in saying there is no choice in the matter. The way they could have made sure we would have been interested in the course was to make sure we had the chance to remove every article over room week, and replace them after inspection. They must have known certain obvious items which had to be replaced. Take the record player, letters, jewelry, every item that had to be found favorably. This was hanging on the wall to be sold.

However, had nothing happened, and had no one ever taken a look at the items we had, and had no one ever found us viable, we would have been oblivious to the fact that the students had no choice as to whether they could have chosen their own room contents could be included.

Renting A Room
The implications of such a policy are great. Do we or do not pay for these rooms before each semester, and does this or does this not, in fact, mean renting a room? If not, then exactly how does the college regard this payment for residence?

On the contrary, if we do in fact pay for the room, then the college reserve the right to arbitrarily take over the room for housing and not do the student any favor. As someone considers the use of Morrison rooms whether or not students like it opens up the possibility that we could sustain the student body as a whole.

Laura Nash ’70

What gives a damn? Who cares about our informal courses beyond the faculty in the follow system? Who cares about parents? How are parents informed? A Course Critique? What’s going on? Seminars? Campus wide involvement in both the academic and the social aspects of the college? Who cares about student involvement in college decision making? Supposedly those anonymous students and their parents who so loudly call for “student control” of the college and the government care, at least by definition, that we have been working for a futile cause.

We don’t think so. Last year the very existence of Student Government was threatened with the possibility of extinction. It was charged that Student Government was ineffec tive and virtually powerless, and therefore should be abolished. Our efforts have been to prove it otherwise, but innumerable changes in the academic and the non-academic structure. One year ago you voted to elect a student government to be responsive itself. One is supposed to know both the why and the purpose of the student’s actions. For those very cynical people who may be inclined to think the student government cares only “got” courses, I would like to point out that virtually every course at Connecticut College is subject to a demanding course. If students voluntarily sign a petition, obviously they are ready to face the challenge of a demanding course. In addition, since each student would have a responsibility to herself, her decision would be carefully considered.

The four years we spend in an academic institution must be unencumbered years. We should be allowed to explore for ourselves, and it must be responsibly self-sufficient. One is supposed to know both the why and the purpose of the student’s actions. For those very cynical people who may be inclined to think the student government cares only “got” courses, I would like to point out that virtually every course at Connecticut College is subject to a demanding course. If students voluntarily sign a petition, obviously they are ready to face the challenge of a demanding course. In addition, since each student would have a responsibility to herself, her decision would be carefully considered.

The four years we spend in an academic institution must be unencumbered years. We should be allowed to explore for ourselves, and it must be responsibly self-sufficient. One is supposed to know both the why and the purpose of the student’s actions. For those very cynical people who may be inclined to think the student government cares only “got” courses, I would like to point out that virtually every course at Connecticut College is subject to a demanding course. If students voluntarily sign a petition, obviously they are ready to face the challenge of a demanding course. In addition, since each student would have a responsibility to herself, her decision would be carefully considered.

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)
Six New Instructors Join Conn Faculty

The Connecticut College faculty has expanded to include six new instructors or lecturers.

The internationally eminent child psychologist, Dr. Mary Essex, will be visiting professor of child development during second semester. She received her A.B. from Vassar College and her M.A. and Ph.D. from Columbia.

Assistant Professor Robert Dennis has been named a permanent member of the zoology department. The invertebrate zoology specialist was awarded his B.A. from Tufts University and his Ph.D. from Columbia.

The author of numerous publications, Dr. John A. Small, will be appointed visiting professor on a sabbatical leave. Dr. Small was granted both his M.S. and Ph.D. by Rutgers University.

Dr. Schum Peiferberger will be visiting lecturer in the art department. She received her M.A. from New York University and her B.F.A. from Bryn Mawr College.

Mr. Jermaine Bodine has been appointed part-time visiting lecturer in the religion department. He received his B.A. from St. John's College and his B.D. from the Hartford Seminary Foundation.

Mrs. Nan Y. Stalaker, who taught at Yale University the past two years, will be visiting instructor in the philosophy department. She was granted her M.A. by Yale University in 1965.

In addition to the six faculty members Dr. John B. Schoonmaker has been appointed college psychologist. He received his B.A. from New York University and his M.D. from Albany Medical College in 1961.

Faculty To Pursue The Quest For Zest

Mr. Desiderato: "Come with me to the Cazbaah, you raving, delectable dish.

Mrs. Ruby Morris: "You must! I won't go anywhere with you.

Mr. Desiderato: "My heart pines for you. You are the sun, the moon, and the stars for me. I cannot live without you.

Mrs. Morris: "Oh no! Merciful Minerva save me!

Would you believe this is 'The Quest For Zest'? Surely you Jest! Have the members of our faculty really surrounded themselves with such a sophisticated piece of equipment.

The EM will be used for four general purposes, the most important of which will be student research. The scope is presently accommodating three student honors projects as well as various faculty research. It is hoped that student research will ultimately take up 40 per cent of the total.

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 2)

ConmCensus

Page Three

Conn Takes 36 For Early Decision

College Takes 36 For Early Decision

Connecticut College has accepted 36 high school seniors for enrollment in the Class of 1972 under the Early Decision Plan.

Conn Purchase EM For Research

Connecticut College finally has its electron microscope. It is located in New London Hall. The College is now seeking the scope and the special equipment that must accompany it. However, neither the grant nor general college funds were available.

Dr. Kent, professor of zoology, stated that Conn can be a pioneer instead of just a follower in the area of student research. The scope is presently accommodating three student honors projects as well as various faculty research. It is hoped that student research will ultimately take up 40 per cent of the total.

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 2)

CONVERSATIONS

Military Policy

He attacked policy-making by the military establishment. Criticizing General Wheeler's political speeches, Mr. Mccarthy commented the growing "military-industrial complex." He was asked about his past political orientation and his present position. He replied, "I'm not being politically oriented in this way."

Later on Friday, the girls went to Manchester with Mr. Mccarthy where he greeted the millworkers as they left their factories. They went to about 18 different picket lines of various campaign headquarters.

Friday night was the highlight of their work. Karen, Naomi, Ann, and Lee heard and watched Mr. Mccarthy as he delivered a few short speeches at St. Anselm's College in Manchester, and held a press conference afterward.

According to Lee, his speech gave them a real insight into his political ideas and his character as a man.

The Senator stressed that the U.S. must change its policy of militarization and must halt its "retailing," his term for the mass selling of "foreign" products. "We lound that McCarthy had a personality that made him rare. An intellectual, he fit around me as a person." Said Ann, "McCarthy is a scholar, a personality, and slapping, shrewd politician." Un~ fortunately, this may hurt him.

More Volunteers Needed

When Senator McCarthy is in New Hampshire Feb. 6-8.

Mr. Desiderato: "Come with me to the Cazbaah, you raving, delectable dish.

Mrs. Ruby Morris: "You must! I can't go anywhere with you.

Mr. Desiderato: "My heart pines for you. You are the sun, the moon, and the stars for me. I cannot live without you.

Mrs. Morris: "Oh no! Merciful Minerva save me!

Would you believe this is 'The Quest For Zest'? Surely you jest! Have the members of our faculty really surrounded themselves with such a sophisticated piece of equipment.

The EM will be used for four general purposes, the most important of which will be student research. The scope is presently accommodating three student honors projects as well as various faculty research. It is hoped that student research will ultimately take up 40 per cent of the total.

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 2)

Curious? The two showdowns of "The Quest For Zest," Thurs., Feb. 8-9:30 p.m. in Palmer Auditorium, directed by Mr. Robert Hale, will benefit the Student Development Committee. The college will go toward the purchase of equipment for the new Music and Arts Center.

Tickets are a mere $1.50, and all seats are reserved. Tickets will be sold Thurs., Thurs., and Fri. in Fanning from 9:30-10:30 a.m. and 1-3:30 p.m. as well as in Cro from 11-12:30 p.m.

LETTERS TO ED

(Continued from Page 2, Col. 5)

the D.A.R. I guess that shows a long history of patriotism for independence in our family.

N.J., and have five children: Patricia, 23, at Harvard Medical School, Raymon, 21, at Yale; Tabitha, 18, who is married, Danny, 15, and Michele, 11.

Describing his spirit of resistance he said, "My grand mother was active in the D.A.R. I guess that shows a long history of patriotism for independence in our family."

would have to go toward the purchase of equipment for the new Music and Arts Center.

Tickets are a mere $1.50, and all seats are reserved. Tickets will be sold Thurs., Thurs., and Fri. in Fanning from 9:30-10:30 a.m. and 1-3:30 p.m. as well as in Cro from 11-12:30 p.m.

LETTERS TO ED

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5)

would have to go toward the purchase of equipment for the new Music and Arts Center.

Tickets are a mere $1.50, and all seats are reserved. Tickets will be sold Thurs., Thurs., and Fri. in Fanning from 9:30-10:30 a.m. and 1-3:30 p.m. as well as in Cro from 11-12:30 p.m.
Beyond the Wall
by Jane Rafal

Yale, Conn Radio Clubs
Plan Valentine Merger

by Barb Krasnow

The air waves are buzzing about CON's and Yale's latest plans for peaceful coexistence. WNUI, Conn's radio station, and Yale's WYBC are planning to affiliate in the near future—probably, sigh, on Valentine's Day. Donna Johnston V66, president of WNUI Radio Station, is optimistic about the possibilities of this cooperative endeavor. She said that, with Campus Life's grant of $800.00 in addition to the standard allotment of $100.00, the station will be able to purchase eight new transistors. This will insure the station 100 per cent campus coverage. WYBC will broadcast daily on campus for about 4.5 hours in the early afternoon. When they sign off, Yale's WYBC will be transmitted from New Haven via direct telephone line. WYBC, broadcasting from 7-9 a.m. and 2 p.m.-4 a.m., devotes its programs exclusively to rock. WNUI will mix rock with jazz, classical, popular and folk.

New Feature
Another new feature of the station will be short commercials. The telephone line from New Haven will cost $800.00 per month. This cost will be met by advertisers from the New London area.

Dona stressed the unlimited possibilities for the station, "It's all very exciting. . . The administration gave us a few pieces of equipment to play with—and now we're really going to do something!"

The plans for WNUI Programming include: news analysis, interviews with campus personalities, foreign language shows, and play readings. Faculty, as well as students, will eventually participate on the shows. "Heel!" A "heel," or membership training program, is currently in progress under the guidance of WYBC. This training will improve the caliber of the broadcaster. All interested students are urged to attend a meeting at 7:30 p.m., Wed., Feb. 7, at the radio station.

Once the standards have been sufficiently raised new programs will be planned with WYBC. Perhaps an exchange of jocks can be arranged: broadcasters from both unwise and an unjust policy.

Students Release
Tensions on Walls

by Barb Krasnow

The underground members of the faculty and administration of Wesleyan University wish to register their emphatic disapproval of your statement . . . with respect to the drafting of persons engaged in illegal protest activities.

"For Selective Service officials and local draft boards to be asked to procure blood from persons who would be testamont to positive action against these persons is both untrue and an unjust policy—i.e., one that poses a serious threat to the right of freedom of speech. We therefore urge you to reconsider and revoke your statement."

Hershay replied to the letter stating, that WNUI stated nothing new and that military service is not a punishment. He also said that another justification for his action is that the court system is too slow-moving to maintain current quotas.

Skidmore The results of the New England Universities Referendum on Vietnam administered to 454 students at Skidmore are, in part, as follows:

Sixty-five per cent doubted that the war is justified.

Sixty-seven per cent expressed lack of confidence in President Johnson's handling of the war.

Seventy-one percent favored stronger attempts at peace negotiations.

Eighty-one per cent blamed both the U.S. and Hanoi with impeding peace negotiations.

No student approved violent civil disobedience, such as sabotage or as gesture of disapproval of governmental policies. Ninety-one percent stated that the legal measures of voting and elections is the best means of expressing disapproval.

Union College: Concluded with Jan. 25 that a group of Housees will come to Union to present a program of music and modern dance. Rev. Donald Seaton of Washington, D. C. "discouraged at their tendency to do nothing but sit around, attempt to get them to do something creative."

Bevan Seaton has called this program a radical, but nevertheless, a religious service. The Collegiate Compendium, newspaper composed of articles from colleges all over the U. S., published a rating of the nation's colleges composed by an independent study agency called the College-Rater. The ratings place Conn, eleventh, after the seven sisters, Welles, Scripps, and Pembroke.

The College-Rater, which disclosed that a college which ranked ahead of another was necessarily better, used as criteria SAT scores; the number of graduates entering graduate school with fellowships; the percentage of the faculty with doctorates; faculty salaries; library collections, and other "objective" data.

Among private men's and coeducational institutions, Harvard University was rated first. Yale University second, then Swarthmore, Chicago, Princeton, Harvard, Wesleyan, Rice, Johns Hopkins, Columbia, and so on, covering over 750 institutions.

MICROSCOPE (Continued from Page 3, Col. 3)

scope time.
The second major use ofThis is for class use.
Faculty research and the collection of teaching photographs will also consume scope time.

"We've chosen the ideal institution for student research," Dr. Mildred Gordon, assistant professor of zoology stated.

"Though it is a major research instrument, it is one of the few electron microscopes that is easily adaptable for student use," she continued.

HARRYS MUSIC STORE
17 Bank Street 442-4815
RECORDS — PHONOS
(Phonos Repaired)
GUITARS —
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS —
"Everything in Music"

GRADUATING SENIORS!

Want in with a going concern?

Pan American Stewardess Interviews Feb. 15
Career Counseling & Placement Office

Pan Am makes the going great the urban crises and the role of religious institutions in these crises. The coming collogium signifies both the culmination of this theoretical discussion and the beginning of positive, personal participation in the form of second semester field trips.

WASHINGTON (CPS) - The Peace Corps, once the Mecca of many student idealists, is on the threshold of what could be the most crucial period in its seven-year history. Few will deny that the Peace Corps has been one of the most successful and popular of the New Frontier programs initiated during the Kennedy Administration. But the Peace Corps now faces many new and delicate problems, most of them a direct result of the war in Vietnam. Can It Survive? The tactfulness with which these problems are solved within the next few years may well determine whether or not the Peace Corps can survive on a large scale, and if it can, how effective it will be in accomplishing its original mission.

Peace Corps officials—who in the past have had little trouble convincing young people to give up two years of their life to work in an underdeveloped country—find themselves on the defensive for the first time. The major problem is the Peace Corps’ close alliance with the federal government at a time when the government is unpopular among young people. Peace Corps officials, including Agency Director Jack Vaughn, are not ready to admit the Corps high-ranking government officials have confirmed privately that the Corps may be in trouble. Less and Less Appeal Recruiting figures alone indicate the Peace Corps has less appeal now than it had a year ago. In November, 1966, the Peace Corps received 7,907 applications from college seniors. Last November, applications were filled by only 3,789 seniors, nearly a 50 per cent reduction. But on the Peace Corps received 9,961 applications last November, compared with 12,411 in November of 1966. Recruiting also was down in December, with the Corps receiving 7,907 applications last December, compared with 8,289 in 1966. Peace Corps officials, however, claim these figures should not be interpreted as meaning the Corps is losing its appeal to students. ‘The decrease is attributable to the style of recruiting in the fall of 1966 compared to that in 1967,” one official explained. “In late 1966, we put on a major recruiting drive which bit its peak in November. In 1967, however, we visited 25 per cent fewer schools that fell. During the current academic year, we will have our major recruiting effort in the spring.” Drive On Since many Peace Corps volunteers come directly from the campus, the Corps’ recruiting figures are based on the academic year. So far, applications this year are running about 4,000 behind last year. “But with our major recruiting drive still ahead of us, we expect at least equal last year’s figures,” Vaughn says. Despite efforts by Corps officials to convince the public that it is not losing its appeal, officials admit the Corps’ standing is controversial on the campus today than at any other time in its history.

The main reason for this, Vaughn says, “is a feeling that we are an official part of the Establishment.” One government official explained, “Before the United States became deeply involved in Vietnam, young people did not mind so much being associated with the government, but now they do.” The Concerned However, Vaughn says the expanding group of student radicals who want to be completely dis-associated with the government is not affecting the Peace Corps. “We don’t in any sense, or ever have, tried to tailor a message for the activist. Our message is more to the concerned, and the concerned can be of almost any political stripe,” he said in an interview. But Vaughn admits Peace Corps recruiting on campuses is more difficult now than it was several years ago. “Most campuses are driving us,” he said. “There is more noise and confusion which makes it much harder for us to get our message through.” A few years ago it was easy for a recruiter to talk with students, he said. “But now there’s a lot of noise and it’s harder to get that conversation for a half hour.” Vaughn says Peace Corps is associated with the “Establishment,” but he has problems with recruiters and student radicals, Vaughn said. “I know they’ve been exchanged on occasion, but nothing to consider a confrontation.” Just Exposure The major problem for Corps recruiters comes when a college or university gives them space in their physically most important open area on campus, such as in the Student Union Building. Vaughn says, “We don’t seek responsibility. All we seek is a chance to talk, and if nobody knows where you are, your exposure is so limited you don’t have a chance to talk.” When Vaughn talks about the present status of the Peace Corps, he emphasizes that the total number of volunteers overseas—now about 15,000—is higher than ever (Continued on Page 6, Col. 2)
Conn Receives Grant Of Half Million Dollars

Connecticut College has received an anonymous gift of one-half million dollars. The gift is to be used to name some portion of the new Music and Art Center, named Misako Park, former president of the College.

President Charles E. Shaia

---

Services Abroad Greatly Extended

Lynda Dannenberg recently announced that the services of the Travel Board for students in Europe this summer have been greatly extended.

In addition to the group flight from New York to London for $245.00, the Board will reserve rooms for groups of up to 20 at the approximately $32 a night in the following cities: Amsterdam; London; Paris; Bilbao, Spain (a Mediterranean Island); Blanes, Spain; Rome; and Bressanone, Italy.

For the first time in its existence, the Travel Board can book girls on student half-fare flights while in Europe.

Flights can be arranged between London and Rotterdam for $12.50; between Amsterdam and London, Dublin, Milan, Athens, Tel Aviv, Barcelona and Copenhagen all for relatively low prices.

Reservations on student trains are offered by the Travel Board to and from every major city in Europe.

Jamaica Trip

The Jamaica trip this spring leaves March 23 to April 2 and will cost the student $205.00, including lodging and transportation.

Reservations have been made at the Carlyle Beach Hotel, across from Doctor's Cave Beach, and the students will fly Pan American Airlines. A $200.00 deposit must be made by Feb. 10.

For information and reservations, the Travel Bureau will hold office hours at the main desk on campus daily from 4:15-4:45 p.m.

Alumnus Sets Up A "Pleasure Fund"

Spartanburg, S.C. (CPS) - A new student loan program has been started at Wofford College here, but students have to guarantee that the money they borrow won't be used for school fees, room and board, or books.

The loan program is called the "Pleasure Fund." It was set up by an anonymous alumna who wanted to make sure that no one goes through Wofford College without having any fun.

Under the terms of the program, students can borrow up to $50 interest-free for almost anything that gives them enjoyment, such as fraternity weekends, hi-fi equipment and the like. Loans must be repaid within four months, along with a 1% charge for administrative expenses.

The alumna who started the program said she got the idea when, as a student, she did not have enough money to rent a tuxedo and buy his girl a corsage for a school dance.

Peace Corps

(Continued from Page 5, Col. 5)

Whether this expansion can continue or not, however, is uncertain. "In the past," Vaughn adds, "the only things holding back has been the lack of enough candidates to serve as ambassadors and the Corps now must appeal to young people who as a group are becoming more anti-war and anti-government, the problem may not be just beginning.

Mr. G.'s RESTAURANT

HELLING FOODS

452 Williams Street
New London, Conn.
Telephone 447-0400

---

Personnel Posters

16"x 24" Create Your Own VALENTINES POSTER

Posters Made From Photograph
Negative
Drawing
Collage
Label

Only $3.75

Plus $.25 handling

Psychedelic Photo Co.
P.O. Box 3071
St. Louis, Mo. 63130

Name
School
Address
City
State
Zip

---

NEWS NOTES

---

A new in-depth study of migrant workers, written by Adrienne L. Bergman '68 has been published in a pamphlet series Facts It Isses by the League of Women Voters. Adrienne wrote "The Migrant Workers" as part of her summer job as the Morrison Intern.

Edgar deN. Mayhew, associate professor of art, was recently elected treasurer of the Connecticut Commission on the Arts.

Any student interested in serving as a campus guide, please contact Judi Beards, Box 1713, or Judy Coburn, Box 1780.

Conn Census congratulates the former Miss Marcella Harzer, on her December marriage to Robert Beattie Congdon.

---

Despite fiendish torture dynamic BIC Duo writes first time every time!

we're rugged pair of stick pens were again in scuffling war against ball-point slip, clog and smear. Despite horrific punishment by real scientists, we still write first time, every time. And to wonder why our "Drumline" Ball is the hardest metal made, enameled in a solid black case.

Will not skip, clog or smear no matter what devilish abuse is dealt by fiendish students. Get the dynamic first time every time campus store now.

---

---

---

---