

Connecticut College

Digital Commons @ Connecticut College

1937-1938

Student Newspapers

3-9-1938

Connecticut College News Vol. 23 No. 16

Connecticut College

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/ccnews_1937_1938

Recommended Citation

Connecticut College, "Connecticut College News Vol. 23 No. 16" (1938). 1937-1938. 10.
https://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/ccnews_1937_1938/10

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. It has been accepted for inclusion in 1937-1938 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. For more information, please contact bpancier@conncoll.edu.
The views expressed in this paper are solely those of the author.

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE NEWS

Z86

VOL. 23, No. 16

NEW LONDON, CONNECTICUT, MARCH 9, 1938

Subscription price, 5¢ per copy

Mary-Elaine DeWolfe '39 Chosen New Editor

Juniors Proud As Sophomores Stand Defeated In Mascot Hunt

By MARY-ELAINE DeWOLFE '39

Junior banquet—the Class of '39 in gala dress, the sophomores with anxious, yet knowing looks, the freshmen full of awe for the occasion. Long white tables, a brilliantly lighted room and at the speakers' table President Blunt in gold-flecked black velvet, Dean Burdick in black with white starched lace, Betsy Parcells, always poised, but now wearing an expression of anxiety, and Drs. Jensen and Smyser occupying places of honor. Scurrying waiters in white jackets and a full-throated singing of the college hymn.

And then silence, as Betsy sorts a stack of telegrams and reads the sophomores' guess—a flag pole. Relief and satisfaction on the faces of juniors, disappointment and, in some cases, incredulity for the sophomores. Lights out, a spotlight shining on the green and gray of the junior banner as Betsy unveils the mascot, a miniature fireplace, replica of the two which the class presented for the "Hut" in Bolleswood. Proud voices raised in the mascot song and proud faces raised eagerly to hear Jane De Olloqui, mascot chairman, explain clues.

Freshmen singing and freshmen reciting — poems in praise, not of "practically nothing", but of the class of '39.

Festive food and then speeches. Pride at President Blunt's appreciation of the mascot. Laughter as Dean Burdick audibly refused potatoes, appreciation of her tribute to the mascot hunt, and more laughter. (Continued to Page 6, Column 1)

Prof. H. Luccock Of Yale Will Be at College Vespers

The speaker at the seven o'clock vesper service on Sunday night will be Halford E. Luccock, professor of practical theology at Yale Divinity school. Dr. Luccock has been a frequent and welcome visitor to town and college audiences. In 1935 he preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class. After having spent several years in the active ministry, Dr. Luccock served as professor of homiletics in Hartford and Drew theological seminaries. Thence he was called to be contributing editor to all the Methodist Advocates.

He has also been editorial secretary of the Methodist Board of Foreign Missions. Since 1928 he has held his present professorship in the Yale Divinity School. He is the author of Preaching Values in the New Translations of the New Testament and of various other volumes relating to the art of preaching. He is especially noted for his ability to recognize spiritual voices in modern literature and is one of the most widely read men of our times, as well as being one of America's outstanding preachers.

Especial interest is attached to his coming in view of the fact that he is the father of a Connecticut College student.

By JEAN M. SINCERE '40

It is a nasty, rainy afternoon. Outside Fanning a group of girls are gathered. They are a bedraggled, sad looking bunch, and they show all the symptoms of desperation. A few more stray from the building and join their friends. They are holding a deep conversation, and an onlooker could hear such remarks as "No, it can't be that," or, "But none of the clues point to a Bible." Mary Giese tears her hair and bemoans the fact that the replica hasn't been found. Why wasn't it found? The Sophomores tore Fanning apart. Chairs were overturned, pictures were torn from the wall, there wasn't a place left unturned. Even the fireplace in the Faculty room was searched by four different people, and it just would not be found.

From the distance comes a shriek. On the steps of the library another group is gathered. The girls in front of Fanning turn to see five wild maniacs running toward them. Polly Brown is waving a piece of paper — almost in tears. "Giese, look—look what I've found." It's bedlam. There are more shrieks and happy tears. The last conclusive bit of evidence has been proved from the Funk and Wagnall clue in News. The words seem to spell "Flagpole" — a girl looks at her watch. It is quarter to five, and the wire to the Juniors must be sent in fifteen minutes. Giese runs to Brantford with Heedy to borrow a skirt. The committee follows in a frenzy, and the rest of us trudge home, happy. (Continued to Page 5, Column 1)

Dr. Bryant To Give Bird Lecture

The Ornithology Club is happy to announce that Dr. H. C. Bryant, the assistant director of the National Park Service, will be here Thursday night, March 10. He will speak on "Bird Study and Conservation Work in the National Parks" at 7 o'clock in Knowlton. The Ornithology Club considers itself most fortunate in being able to present Dr. Bryant, and hopes that a great many will make the most of this opportunity to hear him. His lecture will be illustrated with slides of Yosemite National Park and other parks.

Premedical Students Hear Dr. Ingleby

Thursday afternoon, March 10, Dr. Helen Ingleby, professor of pathology, and Dr. Marion Fay, professor of physiological chemistry, Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania, will visit the campus. At four o'clock, room 301 New London Hall, Dr. Fay will speak briefly on Anesthetics; after her talk there will be time for discussion. Premedical students, especially, are invited and the entire college community will find this meeting interesting.

NEW EDITORS

MARY-ELAINE DeWOLFE

LOUISE NEWMAN

RETIRING EDITORS

D. HAZEL SUNDT '38

BETTY BARTON '38

L. Newman, '39 and M. Dautrich, '39, Have Key Posts

M. Kelsey, E. Frey, A. Henry Replace Business Staff

Mary-Elaine DeWolfe '39 has been appointed Editor-in-Chief of the Connecticut College News for the coming year according to an announcement made today by Hazel Sundt '38, retiring editor. Because of her three years' experience on News as Feature Editor, Associate Editor, and Managing Editor, Mary Elaine is well qualified to take over the duties that will be her responsibility in this office. In addition to her journalistic ability the incoming editor has taken part in several other college activities. She served as a member of Press Board in her Freshman year, and at present is Secretary-Treasurer of the Music Club as well as song leader of the Class of '39. Majoring in Music has enabled her to contribute valuable criticisms to the News throughout her college career.

Louise Newman '39 has been elected News Editor to replace Betty Barton '38. She too has been a member of the News staff since her Freshman year. During the past year Louise has been a Department Editor assigning all straight news articles. She has proved an able student, evidenced by being named for the Dean's List last year. Aside from the interest in the newspaper she has taken an active interest in dramatics, participating in Competitive and Fall Plays.

Martha Dautrich '39 will assume the duties of the Managing Editor recently held by Mary-Elaine DeWolfe '39. Although Martha has only been affiliated with News for the past year she has proved to be capable of the task. She has served as Club Editor since September, 1937.

Of equal importance are those appointments of the Circulation and Business staffs. Mary Kelsey succeeds Anne Chazen '38 as Business Manager. Anne Henry '41 has been promoted to the position held by Marjorie Mintz '38, Advertising Manager. Edith Frey '39 replaces Elsie Schwenck '38 as Circulation Manager.

The complete new Editorial staff for the coming year is as follows:

Editor-in-Chief Mary-Elaine DeWolfe '39
News Editor Louise Newman '39
Managing Editor Martha Dautrich '39
(Continued on Page 6, Column 2)

Dr. Schattschneider Addresses Last Convocation

Dr. Elmer E. Schattschneider, professor of government at Wesleyan University, lectured in the gymnasium yesterday on the subject of current interest today: "The State in War and Peace."

There has been a transition from a post-war to a pre-war period; we have passed from one depression to another; and, due to the decline in world trade, peace and prosperity have gone out together. Domestic and foreign politics, generally thought to be separated, are in reality closely related. In these times of violent conflicts, war is the most conspicuous violence in the world, and the most unique since it is both legitimate and public, said Dr. Schattschneider. War is the principal business of governments, and can only be carried on by rich, well-organized, large States. "Who says war, says government." Man is forced to choose between a warlike government, or no government at all.

Nearly all men believe that government is necessary, but that is the only point about government on which they do agree. No single government is universal and, although they are in constant contact, governments are all separate units. "Sixty-seven sovereignties have divided the world among themselves, and enclosed each division by their (Continued to Page 4, Column 2)

General Exams Serve As Topic for Open Forum Tonight

Proceeding on the assumption that the student body is interested in ways and means of preparing for the General Examination and that students want help in preliminary study for these Generals, an open, college-wide Student-Faculty Forum will be held tonight at 7 p. m. in Knowlton Salon to discuss this subject.

Several suggestions have already been advanced in the previous Forum meetings, as possible corollaries to the General Examinations. These proposals include: 1. Maintenance of the present system of mid-year and final examinations. 2. Elimination of the mid-year examination, elimination of the mid-year reading period, thus having the final exam cover the entire year's work. 3. Elimination of the mid-year examination, substitution of a two-week reading period, with a final exam covering the year's work. 4. Continuance of the mid-year exam, but extending the final exam to cover the year's work.

One student will present the advantages and disadvantages of each of these suggested ideas. Additional proposals and criticisms will be welcomed from the floor.

This is a problem which should vitally concern every undergraduate and students are urged to come to this Forum to present their viewpoint.

Notice For News Staff

The retiring News staff will meet tonight in Windham at eight o'clock. Senior awards will be made, the incoming staff will be inaugurated. Refreshments. All members of the editorial and business staffs are invited to attend.

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE NEWS

ESTABLISHED 1916

Published by the students of Connecticut College every Wednesday throughout the college year from September to June, except during mid-years and vacations. Entered as second class matter August 5, 1919, at the Post Office at New London, Connecticut, under the act of March 3, 1879.

1937 Member 1938
Associated Collegiate Press

Distributor of Collegiate Digest

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - LOS ANGELES - SAN FRANCISCO

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-in-Chief

D. HAZEL SUNDT '38

News Editor

Betty Barton '38

Managing Editor

Mary-Elaine DeWolfe '39

Associate Editor

Winifred Frank '38

Department Editors

Gertrude Backes '38

Mary Caroline Jenks '38

Anne Darling '38

Janet Marsh '40

Martha Dautrich '39

Louise Newman '39

Betsey Hunnicke '39

Barbara Shepler '39

Selma Silverman '38

Jane Wiggins '40

Reporters

Eldreda Lowe '39, Mary-Elizabeth Baldwin '39, Jean Sincere '40, Shirley Dichter '40, Evelyn Gilbert '40, Dorothy Rowand '40, Lois Altschul '41, Helen Canty '41, Mary Capps '38, Ruth Chazen '40, Martha Dautrich '39, Thea Dutcher '41, A. Carla Eakin '41, Rosalie Harrison '41, Harriet Ellen Lieb '41, Janet Peto '41, Katharine Potter '40, Miriam Rubin '41, Lucia Sellers '41, Phyllis Sheriffs '41, Harriet Smart '38, Clare deK Thompson '41, Martha Taylor '41, Edythe Van Rees '41, Phyllis Walters '41, Sylvia Lubow '40.

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager — Ann Chazen '38

Advertising Manager

Marjorie Mintz '38

Circulation Manager

Elsie Schwenk '38

Assistant Advertising Managers

Margaret Bear '40

Anne Henry '41

Assistant Circulation Managers

Beatrice Enequist '38

Helen Weeks '38

Edith Frey '39

Barbara Burroughs '40

Circulation Staff

M. L. Kirkman '40, M. Stoecker '41, M. J. Kerr '41, M.

Whittaker '40, H. Burnham '40, Carol Thompson '40,

M. J. Heft '41.

"Off With The Old . . ."

With this issue of News the retiring staff members who have worked on the paper throughout the past year give over their duties to a new and enthusiastic group. Under the leadership of Mary-Elaine DeWolfe, as editor, they will replace their forerunners in ideas, methods; they will work to improve the newspaper which represents the college in many parts of the country, the newspaper which attempts to reflect your student opinion in every column.

During the past year members of the outgoing staff have tried to build upon the foundation stones laid by preceding News staffs. The high standard set last year has been a continuous challenge, a goal toward which all its efforts have been set. Whether or not this standard has been attained must be decided by the students who read it each week; the editors hope that it has advanced in some respects over papers of former years. The encouragement of many students and members of the faculty, of people not connected in any way with the college, has more than repaid the effort spent in putting out the paper.

Thus, with a slight feeling of satisfaction which we hope is justified, we hand over our responsible and sometimes taxing jobs to the newcomers. We feel certain that they have it in them to give you what you ask of your newspaper, and with this fact certain in our minds, we retire to watch from the outside ranks the work as it goes along . . . to see things from a not too distant perspective.

:o:

Need For Maturity of Action

All during college, professors and visiting lecturers stress the need for intellectual growth. Naturally, it is important—perhaps even the most significant aspect of college study. Maturity of emotion, judgment, thought, and learning are sought for eagerly and usually found by the student who earnestly wishes to find it.

Yet with all this emphasis on intellectual growth, too often we forget that not only must we mature in our work, but also in the way we conform to college rules. How many of us forget to sign out, come in a few minutes late at night, check Chapel when we don't attend, and break other rules? Too often it is the people who talk most about "growing up" who

(Continued on Page 3, Column 1)

CAMPUS CAMERA

Reviewer Points to New Book as One Of Best of Age

by Mary-Elizabeth Baldwin '39

I hardly know where to begin in writing on this new novel of Mary Ellen Chase with one of the most poetic titles that has appeared in the fiction lists. The reason I put such emphasis on this title is that it is entirely suited to the story it tells. That title is "Dawn in Lyonesse".

Here is one of the truly beautiful short works that crosses the horizon once in a very long time. This novel may be considered as fine as Edith Wharton's "Ethan Frome" if it is not actually better than the latter book, perhaps on the grounds of its more beautiful and suggestive setting. The scene is laid in the impressive country of Cornwall, the country that produced one of the truly great stories of all time, "Tristan and Isolde". Not only is the scene concerned with such a magnificent past, but the tale is laid against the background of the legend.

Ellen Pascoe and Susan Pengilly are two servant women, born of Cornish fisher people and reared among the hardships and ancient superstitions of a timeless land. In their characters they have that imposing nobility which often arises from such an environment. Their story compresses into forty-eight hours the sorrows and happinesses and the true grandeur of spirit that only such a heritage could produce, and both perspective and strength are given the characters by means of the legend against which they appear, and, indeed, the legend is the motivating force to the main character when she is faced by sorrow and tragedy.

Miss Chase's familiarity with Cornwall is as great as her familiarity with the Maine coast, the scene of her former works. She has touched with a delicate tracery the simple and moving story of a people whose lives always have been overclouded by superstition and tragedy. Needless to say, the Cornish scene in consequence has produced some of the greatest tragedies in literature.

I wish there was some way I could insure the reading of this book, by

Students Are Urged To Patronize Union Beauty Shops

By MIRIAM KENIGSBURG '38

During the past several months the beauty shops of New London have been forming a union. The purpose of this organization is twofold. It would ensure a standard high grade of work in all shops by 1. Regular inspection; 2. Minimum prices. Inspection is a feature which is extremely important in maintaining a high sanitary level in beauty shops. Directly, of course, the union would ensure greater security for the operators.

To be effective, all shops must join the union. Several, however, have persistently refused to unionize. The reason for their resistance is obvious. By offering cheap specials, these shops can undersell their competitors. Cheap specials are made possible necessarily by cheap materials and unskilled labor. The union is firmly against such inferior work, and so these shops are loathe to lose a fertile source of income.

We at the college with our some seven hundred girls are a substantial beauty buying public in New London. If the word union is distasteful to you, concern for your own personal welfare should prompt you to patronize union shops. Don't forget, non-unionized shops are often responsible for shoddy work and the unemployment of other beauty shop operators. Names of union shops may be obtained from M. Kenigsberg, Jane Addams house.

every person with any degree of sensitivity, and love for the fine and beautiful. Even if the story were not superb, the book would be more than worth reading for the fine description of the rugged and beautiful country. The more familiar I become with this small portrait and realize its great significance, the more sure I am that this book, above all others, will be one of the great books of the age, possibly one of the great books of all time.

This book may be purchased at the Connecticut College Bookshop.

FREE SPEECH

(The Editors of the News do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions expressed in this column. In order to insure the validity of this column as an organ for the expression of honest opinion, the editor must know the names of contributors.)

Dinny Sundt is happy that things are going so well on the Campus as she retires that there is no need for Free Speech

CALENDAR . . .

for Week of March 9 to March 16

Wednesday, March 9

Student-Faculty Forum Knowlton, 7:00
Basketball Practice 7:00-8:30
Final Telegraphic Swimming Meet Coast Guard Pool, 7:30

Thursday, March 10

Lecture, "Anaesthetics", Dr. Helen Ingleby and Dr. Marion Fay of Women's College of Pennsylvania 301 New London, 4:00
Badminton Tournament Gym, 4:00-5:00
Bird Club Lecture, "Birds and Conservation in National Parks", Dr. H. C. Bryant of National Park Service Knowlton, 7:00
Piano Recital, Jerold Frederic Gym, 8:00

Friday, March 11

Dr. Williams Haynes, "The Business of Chemistry", 206 Fanning, 7:00
Basketball Game 7:00-8:30

Saturday, March 12

Informal Basketball Gym, 1:30-2:30
Badminton Tournament Gym, 3:00-5:00

Sunday, March 13

Vespers, Halford E. Luccock Gym, 7:00

Monday, March 14

Freshman Class Meeting 206 Fanning, 6:45
Basketball Practice 7:00-8:30

Tuesday, March 15

Badminton Tournament Gym, 4:00
Basketball Game Gym, 7:00-8:30

Wednesday, March 16

Lecture, Mr. James D. Henderson Palmer Room, 7:00
Basketball Practice 7:00-8:30

Margaret Goldsmith Wins Swimming Cup at Meet

Marcella Brown Presents Trophy; Sophomores Win Meet

The Sophomores led the Juniors 18 points to 17 in a close race for first place in the college swimming meet last Thursday, March 3. It was decided that the time results of the winners of each event would be kept as college records. All of the events were closely contested, but the high light of the evening was the 100 yard free style race. Polly Frank '40 seemed to have a definite lead over Patricia Hubbard '39 until the final sprint when Pat pulled herself up to Polly only to be defeated by three-tenths of a second.

As a climax to a very fine meet Marcella Brown '38 presented the Swimmer's Trophy, given anonymously to the college last fall to be presented to the girl judged the best all-around swimmer of the college. Margaret Goldsmith '40 was selected the winner for this year. She will keep the cup until it is again awarded next year.

RESULTS

40 yard Breast Stroke

1. Straus, Augusta '38, 34.0"
2. Klippel, Gladys '38
3. Frank, Polly '40

40 yard Free Style

1. Goldsmith, Margaret '40, 24.5"
2. Hubbard, Patricia '39
3. Curtis, Barbara '39

Diving

1. Curtis, Barbara '39
2. Sherman, Natalie '41
3. Titcomb, Eunice '39

40 yard Back Stroke

1. Bull, Grace '41, 31.8"
2. Ashley, Jessie '41
3. Johnson, Eleanor '38

100 yard Free Style

1. Frank, Polly '40, 1:19.1"
2. Hubbard, Patricia '39
3. Titcomb, Eunice '39

The first part of Connecticut's participation in the National Inter-collegiate Telegraphic Meet was held simultaneously with the college meet. Peg Goldsmith's time in the 40 yard free style and the time of the relay team was very good, but it is hoped that tonight, March 9, when the second and last part of the telegraphic meet is held even better times will be recorded.

:o:

Editorial

(Continued from Page 2, Column 1) fail to do just that when it comes to applying it to rules and regulations. It is not because we find these rules too hard to remember—a child of ten could easily retain them—but because we just don't feel the necessity of doing so.

Maturity then, in the true sense of the word, must consist not only in intellectual growth, but also in the recognition and conformation of certain rules which the college, as a society, deems necessary to have.

:o:

A Senior at Union College wanted an organ when he was a Freshman but figured it would take him a lifetime to save the $25,000 necessary to buy one. He set about building one, and now owns an instrument that has three manuals, a full set of foot pedals and seven ranks of free reeds. He has rebuilt it three times.

:o:

The University of Arizona recently enrolled four new "students" from Africa. They are rhesus monkeys who will be used to study tooth decay.

Jessie Anne Foley Finds French School Work Taxing

Jessie Anne Foley '37 who is now studying in France on a fellowship, has written back of the interesting work she is doing. An excerpt from a recent letter follows:

"I don't remember whether when I last wrote you my program was definite. After going to the classes in literature here for several weeks, I found them too specialized and technical for my purposes. They are courses for French girls, perfectly at home in the language, who will teach it to French students capable as well to understand as they themselves now are. For example, they spend one semester studying one act of Racine. I could easily understand, but felt not sufficiently advanced to afford to mark time, as it were, when there was so much of the general and fundamental that still remained unacquired. I am now approaching examinations after one semester at the Sorbonne taking the "Cours de Civilisation pour les Etrangers." I have taken a course on seventeenth century literature, history of ideas (philosophy from the Middle Ages to modern times), history of art in general, history of architecture and monumental sculpture at Paris, a sociological study of the French family and institutions, and a course on French history. I am taking two of the four examinations required for the degree . . . I am being examined for the dégré supérieur with a three-hour composition and an oral recitation . . .

JESSIE ANNE FOLEY '37

"In my work on Pascal I have had in mind the future possibility of writing my thesis, though at my stage in the game, even getting myself oriented in the century is task enough. The reading has been rather difficult because I have digressed into by-paths—Montaigne, Descartes—and progressed rather slowly, though the interest never slackens."

:o:

Music Majors Have Selections Played

The college orchestra is at present rehearsing compositions written and orchestrated by two music majors in connection with Dr. Erb's composition and instrumentation course. They are "Waltz" by Marie Schwenk '38, and "Minuet" by Mary-Elaine DeWolfe '39.

Dr. Erb hopes to have the orchestra play the two selections in the annual spring concert given by the choir and orchestra.

:o:

Dr. Durrell Lectures

The Education Club presented the second of its talks by prominent members in the field of progressive education yesterday. The speaker was Dr. D. D. Durrell, Professor of Education and Director of the Education Clinic at Boston University. Dr. Durrell spoke on "Reading in the Elementary School".

Student Chapel

Marilyn Maxted of the class of 1940 will speak on the North-field Conference on Friday, March 11, at Student Chapel.

'Personal Religion' Is Topic to Begin Retreat Here

Rev. Richard Carter Of Suffield Leads Discussions, Holds Interviews

Richard P. Carter, pastor of the First Church of Christ, of Suffield, Connecticut, opened the annual mid-winter retreat when he spoke on "Personal Religion at Vespers", on Sunday evening, in the gymnasium. Using as his text "The Kingdom of God is Within You", Mr. Carter showed that in society it is the individual who counts. That this is true is proved by the fact that Jesus always spoke to individuals, not to groups.

The Kingdom of God, when dwelling in an individual's heart is Christianity, according to Reverend Mr. Carter. Christianity means different things to different people; unlike Fascism and Socialism, it has no set definition. If Christianity is to be a religion it must compel the individual to aspire to higher values and act according to those values. When the "Kingdom of God" became known to Paul, the Apostle, he was compelled to act.

An individual can tell whether or not "The Kingdom of God" has come to work within him when he feels that he is no longer making the mistakes he previously did. As the trivialities which are clues to life's pattern work out a design, Mr. Carter pointed out that "The Kingdom of God comes to work in the individual".

:o:

Chapel Talk Monday

In the first of his morning chapel services, Rev. Mr. Carter spoke about the value of getting a perspective of the relationship of various events and incidents in life. He suggested that the best means of getting this view of things as they really are is by retreating to a height; he compared this with the act of actual physical climbing a mountain from the top of which one may look out over the surrounding valley, and come to see things as they are in proportion to the rest of the landscape.

From the mountain tops, one gains a sense of stability and patience which makes the process of living more related, more meaningful.

:o:

Mr. Haynes To Speak

Mr. William Haynes, author of Chemical Economics, and of Men, Money and Molecules, will speak at seven o'clock, Friday evening, March eleventh, in Room 206 Fanning, on Chemistry in Industry. All are invited.

Concert Series Will Present Recital By J. Frederic

The Connecticut College Concert series will present Jerold Frederic in a piano recital on Thursday, March 10, at 8:00 p. m. in the college gymnasium. Mr. Frederic has been called a pianist destined to become an eminent figure in the annals of pianistic greatness. His parents, of French-German descent, early recognized the child's marked musical temperament and surrounded him with every advantage in the way of education and artistic environment. He traveled extensively throughout Europe and the Levant. His were experiences in old London and Paris; in the scenic Alps; at the Lake of Geneva; in the cathedral at Milan; among the art treasures of Florence; in the majestic Coliseum and in the dark caverns of the catacombs at Rome. Remington, in the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Press speaks of him as "a spectacular pianist. Vividly imaginative and poetic. Brilliant technique and a musical tone. He put sound and fury into Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody, which brought forth thunderous applause."

J. FREDERIC

Mr. Frederic's program will be as follows:

Symphonic Etudes, Op. 12	Schumann
Grandes Variations	Bach-Liszt
Variations
Chorale
Three Etudes	Chopin
C-sharp minor
E-major
G-sharp minor
Nocturne	Chopin
Valse Badinage (Music-Box)	Liadow
Cuban Dance (No hables mas)	Lechuone
Impromptu, A-flat	Schubert
Hungarian Rhapsody	Liszt

:o:

Dean Burdick Speaks To Alumnae Group

Great interest in Connecticut College was shown by the Girls' Club of Montclair, N. J., to whom Dean E. A. Burdick spoke in February. Miss Burdick's talk before this organization, whose members are young girls of preparatory school age in the community, was sponsored and arranged by the Connecticut College Alumnae Association of Montclair. The colored movies of the college campus were shown at the lecture, and again at the dinner given that evening in Miss Burdick's honor by the Association.

From Montclair, Dean Burdick traveled to Atlantic City, where she attended conferences of the National Association of Deans of Women's Colleges.

Wellesley Is Scene Of New England Institute

Summer Session Will Be One Of 11 Of Kind In The Nation

Will Czechoslovakia be the Belgium of the next World War? Where is our foreign policy heading today? What should America do in the Orient? Crucial problems such as these will be the subject matter of the seventh annual New England Institute of International Relations, to be held June 28 to July 8 on the Wellesley College campus.

Rev. John Schroeder of 409 Prospect Street, New Haven, professor at Yale and chairman of the Congregational Council for Social Action, and Jerome Davis of West Haven, national president of the American Federation of Teachers, are among the many prominent sponsors of the Institute.

Important Leaders

Dr. Vera Micheles Dean, editor of the research department of the Foreign Policy Association, and Dr. Alvin H. Hansen, professor of political economy in the graduate school of public administration at Harvard University and president of the American Economics Association, are two of the leaders of the Institute. Other lecturers will be Grover Clark, editor and authority on Far Eastern affairs; William Arnold-Forster, British political writer; William T. Stone, vice-president of the Foreign Policy Association; Irwin M. Tobin, executive secretary of the Rhode Island Peace Action, and Rev. A. J. Muste, minister of the Labor Temple, New York City. Other leaders will be announced later.

Cooperates with Other Groups

The 1938 New England Institute is one of eleven similar institutes to be held under the auspices of the American Friends Service Committee in cooperation with the Council for Social Action of the Congregational-Christian churches. It is open to all interested in international relations, but is particularly planned for community leaders, as teachers, students, business men, ministers, social workers and members of women's organizations.

Lectures and round tables will be scheduled during the mornings of the eleven-day Institute, while the afternoons will be left free for informal discussion, recreation and reading. Special lectures and panels are planned for the evenings. Further information may be obtained from George A. Selleck, director of the Institute, 5 Longfellow Park, Cambridge, Mass.

:o:

French Club Gives Play

L'Etincelle, a one-act comedy by Edouard Pailleron, will be presented by the French Club on Wednesday evening, March 23, in the gymnasium. The cast of characters has been chosen as follows: Raoul de Geran, Ursula Dibbern; Leonie de Renal, Mary Anne Scott '40; Antoinette, Nancy Pequignot '41.

:o:

Mathematic Club Meeting

A meeting of the Mathematics Club was held at 7 o'clock on Thursday, March 3. The Sophomores were in charge of the meeting. They spoke on the lives of the famous mathematicians whose pictures are in Room 313, Fanning.

Greta Anderson '38 was the presiding officer. After the meeting, coffee and cookies were served.

What Freshman had her Yale lad visit her unexpectedly three times in four days—at the expense of her Spanish idioms?

Eddie Headly was heard to moan at the mailbox—letter unopened in hand—"Oh, what can he have done now?"

Dinner at Dr. and Mrs. Logan's proved especially entertaining the other evening when Sue Getler in the midst of an exciting story exclaimed "I was waiting with bated breath—" and Marcia Engel interrupted, "Did you catch anything?"

Flo McKemie is engaged to a roving geologist in Oklahoma (as though you didn't know!). Recently Dean Nye presented her with a map, on which Flo follows her lad's trails with a pin.

We sympathize with Helen Scott's yielding to temptation. Upon her wall hangs the following notice, "I Helen Scott, do solemnly swear not to eat candy, between meals, and to eat no dessert." At the bottom is added—"Broken, 2:30 the same day."

The large number of Seniors who plan to attend the Yale Prom is beginning to convince us that this "poor old senior" stuff is just so much hokum.

Anahid Berberian is reported suffering from the seven-year itch as a result of her encounter with a cactus plant.

We would like to praise all those who participated in the swimming meet last week. In Winchell fashion may we present dozens of orchids to Peg Goldsmith for running away with the cup, and to Bobbie Curtis for her exceptional diving.

What girl in the 1937 Dorm has nine pictures of a Yale Senior in her room? We're told they're signed, "To Lizze with Love, Cream-Puff!"

You, Freshmen, who are doing a bit of research in the library these days will appreciate Mr. Seamster's efforts when he looked through newspapers at the Yale library and found that no less than forty-two papers made mention of Connecticut College's Dean's List.

You may not believe in telepathy, but Betty Talbot was more than a little surprised when she deposited her nickel to call her Ollie on one phone in Mary Harkness only to find that Ollie was calling her on the other phone at the same moment.

Coke bottles may become very dangerous weapons, asserts Bets Wagner who made a left-handed throw Friday night in the direction of the bed, only to find that somehow Betty Vanderbilt got in the way

Harper Method Beauty Shop
Shampoo — Manicuring
Scalp Treatments — Permanent Wave
Fredrich's Zotos Machines
Finger Waving a Specialty
310 Dewart Bldg. Tel. 3503

thereof, and result—a lump which couldn't be coaxed down, even in view of Betty V.'s weekend at Princeton.

Caught slightly off campus—only twenty-five freshmen at the Junior banquet. Where's the spirit of '41?

Dean Burdick's dream came true when Lib Sawyer and Mary Cutts really played cards in Knowlton's dining room.

Priscilla Duxbury '41, entertained Mosierites the other night with her unique imitation of a trolley car. At least that's what Ducky says it was!

Dr. Schattschneider Addresses Last Convocation

(Continued from Page 1, Column 3)

own political frontiers," said Dr. Schattschneider.

Governments are necessary as a means of protection and liberty. The most remarkable thing about them is that they are possible at all. The obedience and unity of the people against outside threat is the cause of their submission to such control. Some countries of today have governments supported by people on behalf of the nation as a whole, with no thought of individual gain.

It is possible for a group to have a government controlling them even though they live in no special territory. As yet, however, territorial government is supreme, because people are tied too securely to one place by property, jobs, etc., to emigrate to other territories. This type of government is also superior in that it offers protection as well as various public services to the inhabitants of its territory. Although the territorial government is set apart from other such governments, they are interdependent on each other for the necessary resources which are spread all over the world. In times of war, the State neglects domestic problems, but in times of peace it devotes itself to its own affairs. "The tragedy of the modern State is that it is good and evil, gentle and violent," concluded Dr. Schattschneider.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Basketball Games

The Freshmen opened the basketball season by out-shooting the Juniors 35-12 in a game which marked the debut of the Freshman banner. Jean Moore '41 and Dorothy Cushing '41, forwards, combined with center Mary-Jane Tracy to net many spectacular baskets. The close guarding of the Freshmen guards robbed the Juniors of many chances to add to their score.

The second team game between the Seniors and Sophomores was won by the latter team. Pat Alvord's accurate shooting netted ten baskets which, added to the three baskets shot by Janice Thralls, made the final score 26-16.

First Team

Junior		Freshman
J. Judd	rg	K. Ord
R. Kellogg	lg	N. Greene
C. Lehman	c	M. Tracy
		(S. Shaw)
M. Robison	rf	J. Moore
C. Ekirch	lf	D. Cushing
		(B. Boyle)

Second Team

Senior		Sophomore
A. Mansur	rg	P. Alvord
G. Backes	lg	J. Thralls
		(D. Hart)
H. Daglian	c	V. Koerner
(M. Hanson)
B. Moorehouse	rf	M. Copeland
A. Scarritt	lf	N. Badger
(H. Pearson)

The Seniors defeated the Juniors 25-21 in a close game Friday night, March 4. Peg Nelson '38 was outstanding, but the guarding on both sides was so close that the forwards had little chance to score. The game was almost too fast, but excitement ran high as the Sophomores struggled to even the score. Several times the difference in score was only one point, nevertheless the Senior defense held firm and their opponents could not get ahead.

In the second team game the Freshmen defeated the Juniors 52-1

First Team

Seniors		Sophomores
Nelson, M. E.	rf	Gerhardt, D.
Earle, Ruth	lf	Mass, N.
Maxwell, H.	c	Rice, S.
McGourty, M.	rg	Brooks, M.
Anderson, B.	lg	Wilson, M.

Second Team

Freshmen		Juniors
Hall, M.	rf	Jenks, H.
Shaw, S.	lf	Mortimer, M.
(Stoeker)
Hickey, B.	c	Ake, C.
Sharpless, M.	rg	Abrahams, M.
McNicol, E.	lg	Warner, K.
		(Harding)

Thirty-two students at the University of Nebraska are working their way through school by scraping bones of prehistoric animals for the university museum.

This Collegiate World

By Associated Collegiate Press

A giant microscope, weighing nearly one ton, built on a new slow-motion focusing principle, was described recently at Harvard University.

It works somewhat like the world's largest telescope in reverse. It focuses by remote, electric control. It magnifies distinctly 6,000 diameters, which is four times more than the theoretical limit of clear definition.

The Harvard giant will magnify 50,000 diameters, which would be like making an exclamation point about as tall as the Washington monument.

The slow-motion focusing is done with a screw which moves the microscope lens so slowly it is impracticable to work by hand. In focus, several hundred screws are available for adjusting to extreme sharpness.

Clarity of objects is what the liberal arts college needs most, President Dixon Ryan Fox of Union College told a group of Union College alumni.

"It cannot be a simple objective such as would be found in Germany or Italy or Russia, for we are training personalities to make the most of themselves and personalities differ. We would not regiment them if we could, for our national ideal is one of mutual contribution, each according to his peculiar strength."

Patronize Our Advertisers

Stop To Eat . . .

at the
OLYMPIA TEA ROOM AND ANNEX
State Street

SCHOOL OF NURSING OF YALE UNIVERSITY

A Profession for the College Woman

The thirty-two months' course, providing an intensive and varied experience through the case study method, leads to the degree of Master of Nursing.

A Bachelor's degree in arts, science or philosophy from a college of approved standing is required for admission.

For catalogue and information, address:

THE DEAN,
YALE SCHOOL OF NURSING
New Haven, Connecticut

MILLINERY
of Distinction
Phoenix Hosiery

ENNIS SHOP
230 State St.

L. LEWIS & CO.

Established 1860

China, Glass, Silver

Lamps and Novelties

State and Green Streets

New London, Conn.

Perry & Stone

Jewelers Since 1865

Stationery Leather Goods

Novelties

296 State Street

Katharine Gibbs secretarial training offers college women a practical way to ride their hobby, or pet interest, right into a well-paid position. Over 2600 calls last year, many specifying candidates primarily interested in writing, dramatics, sports, science, travel, or comparable activities.

Ask College Course Secretary for "RESULTS," a booklet of placement information, and illustrated catalog.

Special Course for College Women opens in New York and Boston September 20, 1938.

AT NEW YORK SCHOOL ONLY—same course may be started July 11, preparing for early placement.

Also One and Two Year Courses for preparatory and high school graduates.

BOSTON . . . 90 Marlborough Street
NEW YORK . . . 230 Park Avenue

KATHARINE GIBBS
School

B. ALTMAN & CO.

FIFTH AVENUE

NEW YORK

cordially invites you to attend

a showing of exciting new fashions

for Spring and cruise wear

on Monday and Tuesday, March

14th and 15th at the College Inn

DUTCHLAND FARMS

Just Across the Thames River Bridge in Groton

Kaplan's Luggage Shop & Travel Bureau

We are now located in our new store

123 STATE STREET

We have added a very fine department of costume jewelry, ladies' belts, moccasins, 'kerchiefs, also a very large variety of new bags.

Call and See Our Cruise Department

First Sign Of College Growth Began With Grant Of Mrs. Vinal

By BARBARA L. FAWCETT '37

(Reprinted from News, October 14, 1936)

Just thirteen years ago was held the first Alumnae weekend at Connecticut College. The school was then less than half as old as it is now, and the eighty alumnae who returned for this momentous occasion were able to relate many exciting stories about the infancy of the college.

Since that time, Connecticut College has progressed by great strides, and we who revel in its many comforts and advantages are apt to forget that, when the college opened for the first time in 1915, there were only six buildings on the campus. Its 101 students resided in Plant, Blackstone, and Thames Halls; and all school functions and classes were limited to New London Hall and the gymnasium, the Boiler House being the sixth building of the group. The only other feature of which the college could boast was a set of 2,000 books donated by Mrs. Thomas Harland as the foundation for a library.

New Improvements

Now these earlier students may return to find the college's present 715 members occupying the beautiful new dormitories, which until just a few years ago, were mere hopes and possibilities. The many thousands of library books are likewise housed in their new place of abode, and many other steps have been taken toward greater mental stimuli and physical comforts for the student group.

One of the first signs of growth on the campus began with a grant given by Mrs. Vinal in 1921 for a house to be used by the Household Economics Department on a co-operative basis. This was soon followed by a bequest made by Mr. Palmer for the new library which was begun in 1922. Two years later the college was recognized by the Association of American Universities as a first rate college. From then on rapid progress in both material and intellectual growth was quite noticeable.

In 1927 the announcement of an Observatory for the school was made. This same year the gymnasium was enlarged, and the building of a new dormitory was started. This dormitory was completed within a year, and was dedicated as Knowlton House, after first bearing the name of Colonial House. At the same time plans were made for a new administration building, which was to be completed in 1930. The building of Windham House, Mary Harkness, Jane Addams and the recently completed new 1937 Dormitory followed in rapid succession.

History of Bolleswood

In addition to the buildings, one needs only to look at the Arboretum to realize the surrounding beauties of Connecticut College. It is true that the history of Bolleswood dates back to 1693 when Owaneco, a Mohegan Indian Chief, deeded the property to Thomas Bolles. In 1911 this land was given to the college by Miss Anna Hempstead Branch, a Bolles descendant, but it was not until 1932 that the Arboretum's natural beauty was improved upon for real use and the open air theatre presented to the college by Frances Buck '32.

We, as students, should be proud of our college, and the alumnae should be proud that they have been instrumental in its great progress.

There is more silence, and a smile of relief passes her face. Well, it's not a flagpole—what is it? Betts walks around the table and lifts the class banner. There are screams and cries. There on the table is the cutest little fireplace you have ever seen. It is five by eight by two.

The Mascot Hunt is over. We are glad in a way that the tradition has been kept, and we are terribly proud of everyone, but especially the Juniors, and our own swell committee.

Result of certain students' lack of knowledge about chemistry at Stanford University is a purple dog.

The dog, a pet of the Sigma Epsilon fraternity house, was the victim of a few students who thought their house needed a platinum blond. Accordingly, they dumped the animal into a tub of platinum dye.

But instead of turning a golden white, the dog's brown coat took on a royal purple hue.

Smith's Hostels Save Hikers Money

Fifty new youth hostels, 15,000 hostellers and a capacity load in all the hostels is expected this summer, according to Monroe Smith, National Director of the American Youth Hostels. "Monroe," as he is known to the 7,166 hostellers of last year, has just completed a 9,000 mile coast to coast trip during which he visited regions where hostels have been established and laid plans for hostels to be set up in others. Meeting with hostel committees and hostel enthusiasts all across the country, Monroe reports a nation-wide interest in hosteling which is indicative that the plan to network the country with hostels is materializing in an orderly and gratifying manner.

When Monroe Smith started his speaking tour in the East, plans had already been formed for a Salt-Water hostel chain along the Rhode Island and Connecticut coast. These will connect with the original 70 New England hostels the first of which was established in Northfield, Mass., where the National Headquarters of the American Youth Hostels, Inc., is now located.

A 500 mile loop which will connect with the New England hostels is the plan to extend the present chain of a dozen hostels in Pennsylvania started last spring along the Horse-Shoe Trail, which extends 118 miles from Valley Forge to Manada Gap. According to Monroe Smith the present southern Michigan chain established last year at bicycling distance from Lansing to Benton Harbor will have additional links to facilitate hiking, and will be continued along Lake Michigan. Region Four will be opened with hostels in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin. Plans are being formed for the first part of a chain which will stretch along the Mississippi to the Gulf of Mexico.

Hostels are being established in the State of Washington for the first time. Monroe assisted by the regional committee and field worker, mapped out a loop of some 25-30 hostels. These are to be opened before the beginning of the coming season to take care of the local hostellers as well as the several hundred Easterners some of whom will arrive by Rolling Youth Hostel.

Hostels are inexpensive lodges supervised by house parents where all those traveling by foot, bicycle, horseback or canoe can stay for 25c an overnight. The badge of entrance is a hostel pass, $1 a year for those under 21, $2 for those 21 and over. In addition a hosteller is recognized by his knapsack, sheet sleeping sack and sport clothes. The hostels provide beds and bedding, cooking facilities and a recreation room where the hostellers can gather in the evening and sing, dance folk dances or spin yarns of their hostelling adventures.

The spring Knapsack, quarterly magazine of the AYH has just been issued. It contains plans for twenty different kinds of organized hostel trips this summer through America, Canada, Mexico, the British Isles and Europe. Considered important in the development of international friendship and understanding so necessary for a permanent world peace, these trips are sponsored each year by the American Youth Hostels.

In a week or two the latest little booklet on "charm" will probably be entitled "How To Be Charming Though Chewing".

The dean of women at Marquette University has given her girls rules on the niceties of chewing gum.

1. Chew with the mouth closed.
2. Chew without gusto, except when alone or on occasions deemed fitting.

Coeds figured gum chewing would be in good taste while studying; while dressing; before breakfast and after meals; at athletic contests; and before a hard quiz—to relieve nervous tension.

Patronize Our Advertisers

YELLOW CAB

4321

Confectioners — Caterers

247 State St.

SHERRY RUM ICE CREAM

is a favorite here

Have YOU Tried It?

We make 8 sundaes with it too — 20c

Katharine Hepburn, when she visited the campus of Randolph-Macon College, was well-nigh mobbed by the college boys.

MISS O'NEILL'S SHOP

Corner Green and Golden Street

Attractive line of Buttons, Yarns, Stamped Linens and Needlepoint. Hemstitching, Knitting Needles, etc.

COLLEGE SENIORS

Have You Chosen A Career?

College graduates who expect to seek employment in business, will find the Intensive Secretarial Course at The Packard School a practical stepping stone to the security of a good income in the modern business world.

DAY AND EVENING SESSIONS

Write or telephone for Catalogue

THE PACKARD SCHOOL

(Founded 1858)

253 Lexington Avenue (at 35th St.)

New York City

Registered by the Regents of the University of the State of New York

BOSTON SCHOOL OF OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

Opportunity for service in a new branch of the medical profession. Course of study includes biological, social, clinical sciences, and the creative arts. Advanced standing given college graduates.

MRS. MARJORIE B. GREENE, Director

7 Harcourt St. Boston, Mass.

Only school in New England recognized by the American Medical Association for the training of Occupational Therapists.

The College Inn

specializes in CATERING for TEAS AND PARTIES

Tea Sandwiches 75c a dozen

Assorted Fancy Cakes 60c a dozen

Decorated Birthday Cakes $1.25 and $1.50

TEL. 2-3477

Juniors Proud as Sophs Stand Defeated In Mascot Hunt

(Continued from Page 1, Column 2) py and expectant. The rain takes on a much brighter appearance.

Down at the Mohican Hotel the Sophomores are gathered en masse about the door to the dining room. Betts Parcells is standing up to read the wire. There seems to be three or four, and she laughs nervously, opening all of them. Out where we are, the air is so tense with excitement one wants to scream. The Sophomores are all over the piano, the chairs, each other. Somehow we know that we have guessed wrong. No one told us, but the feeling we had in front of Fanning has disappeared, and we are having an awful letdown. Betts reads the committee's wire aloud. There is dead silence. She figures out the key and says "The mascot, according to the Sophomore Class, is a flagpole."

When you are planning a

DANCE PARTY

BANQUET

OR OTHER SOCIAL EVENT

Call on the

NORWICH INN

Telephone Norwich 3180

The MOHICAN HOTEL

New London, Conn.

260 Rooms and Baths

A la Carte Restaurant famed for Excellent Cuisine

Lobster Dinner $1.75

COCKTAIL LOUNGE AND TAP ROOM

Dancing Saturdays 9 p. m. until Midnight

PARKING SPACE

Schiaparelli Foundations

By FORMFIT

SO THAT YOU MAY OWN THE NEWEST SILHOUETTES IN ADVANCE OF THE PARIS OPENINGS

This is the first time this world-famous Parisian designer has lent her genius to the creation of under-fashions—and Victoria Shoppe is proud to be first in New London to offer them; foundations which combine the very essence of chic with the sensible principles upon which American women insist! Formfit has fashioned them of beautiful rayons, silk satins, and fine elastics, many hand-loomed in France. And our expert corsetieres are prepared to fit them to YOUR figure—to bring you a NEW EXPERIENCE IN CORSETRY!

Priced from $7.50 to $18.50

(Also Schiaparelli Brassieres, $2.50 and $3.50)

VICTORIA SHOPPE

The Modern Corsetry

243 STATE ST.

NEW LONDON

Juniors Proud as Sophs Stand Defeated In Mascot Hunt

(Continued from Page 1, Column 1)

ter as she ended with one of her inimitable stories. More food, and more speeches; awe at Dr. Smyser's extemporaneous speech on the symbolism of each year's gift, for that class, and laughter at Dr. Jensen's confession of inability to keep a secret as an excuse for not wishing to know the mascot beforehand.

And then—telegrams; a loyal and thoughtful wire from Shirley Bryan, still ill in Cleveland but hoping to be back in April. A reminiscent message from the seniors, and one from an interested freshman, to say nothing of the note, "Next year we're going to give a bust!" from the sophomore mascot committee!

Little cakes . . . and the Alma Mater, flowers replaced in boxes . . . after the Junior Banquet!

Mary-Elaine DeWolfe '39 Chosen New Editor

(Continued from Page 1, Column 5)

Department Editors

Feature Editor

Elizabeth Hunicke '39

Exchange Editor

Shirley Dichter '40

Literary Editor

Mary Elizabeth Baldwin '39

Social Editor

Jean Sincere '40

Faculty and Department Editor

Thea Dutcher '41

Club Editor

Dorothy Rowand '40

Art Editor

Jane Guilford '39

Dramatic Editor

Janet Marsh '40

FRESH FLOWERS DAILY

Our Corsages Speak for Themselves

FELLMAN & CLARK

Tel. 5588

CROCKER HOUSE BLOCK

Reporters
Barbara Shepler '39, Clarissa Weeks '40, Jane Wiggins '40, Evelyn Gilbert '40, Lois Altschul '41, Ruth Chazen '40, Rosalie Harrison '41, Harriet Ellen Lieb '41, Janet Peto '41, Katherine Potter '40, Miriam Rubin '41, Lucia Sellers '41, Phyllis Sheriffs '41, Clare DeK Thompson '41, Martha Taylor '41, Edythe Van Rees '41, Phyllis Walters '41, and Sylvia Lubow '40.

GET IT AT . . .

STARR'S

Drug Store

2 Deliveries to Dorms Daily

1792

1937

The Union Bank & Trust Co.

of New London, Conn.

Trust and Commercial Departments

145 Years of Service

Football is the most dangerous sport but it is more dangerous to drive a car to the stadium than it is to play in the game, according to a professor at Yale University.

When thinking of

SHOES

See

ELMORE'S

Next to Whelans

Luncheon Daily — 35c

HOMEPART

Phone 2-2980

Delivery up to -10

Give Your Room that "Homey" Look
One or two of our small potted plants will do the trick!

FISHER, Florist

We Telegraph Flowers Everywhere
104 New London Tel. 3358
State

Compliments of

WILLOW RESTAURANT

24 BANK STREET

Compliments of

BOSTON

CANDY KITCHEN

MILADY BEAUTY SHOPPE

Jane M. Armstrong, Prop.

Excellent Work done by experienced operators with up-to-date equipment, under the most sanitary conditions.

Permanent Waves $1.95 to $7.50

Finger Waves .25

Arch .25

Manicuring .50

Shampoo (short) .25

Shampoo (long) .50

Specializing in

Machineless Permanents — $3.95

18 Meridian St.

Phone 9572

With you every Friday.. with Chesterfields all the time

CBS

Weekly Radio Features
PAUL WHITEMAN
LAWRENCE TIBBETT
ANDRE KOSTELANETZ
DEEMS TAYLOR
PAUL DOUGLAS

Chesterfield CIGARETTES
LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Paul Whiteman

...getting and giving more pleasure

"Rhapsody in Blue"—it's Chesterfield Time—light up and enjoy that refreshing mildness, that Chesterfield better taste that smokers like.

Chesterfields have the best ingredients a cigarette can have—mild ripe tobaccos, home-grown and aromatic Turkish, and pure cigarette paper. They Satisfy . . . millions.

Chesterfield

..you'll find MORE PLEASURE in Chesterfield's milder better taste