College Voice Vol. 22 No. 16

Connecticut College

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/ccnews_1998_1999

Recommended Citation

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. It has been accepted for inclusion in 1998-1999 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. For more information, please contact bpancier@conncoll.edu. The views expressed in this paper are solely those of the author.
Mothers March for Freedom
Sarah Schoellkopf ’97 Discusses Argentinian Dissenters

By NICOLE MANCEVICE

The March for Las Madres, a demonstration of the mothers of disappeared and murdered Argentinians, took place on the campus in front of the International Center last Thursday from 3:30 to 4:00 in the afternoon. The location of the Patagonian Argentinians in the United States is unknown to American mothers. The March is in protest of the disappearances of women in Argentina. The mothers have been prevented from doing so out of the fear of violence. People from all over different cities, including New York City, are among the demonstrators.

By LAUREN HARTMAN

The students are tired of classes. The police appear at the demonstration that the protesters are trying to set up on a platform at the front of the International Center. The students want to get local restaurants involved in providing events for the students and the public, and the restaurant wants to increase their profits.

By MARIA GONZALEZ

The march that was participated in was definitely chaotic. It started off in the International Center and ended up at DeLorme. The police appeared and withheld from violence. The police officer reported on the demonstrators in full gear in an attempt to provoke violence. The police believed that they can cause it to end and ultimately will create public disturbance.

By MAUREEN MIYASAKI

The faculty members who were attending the march have been prevented from doing so out of the fear of violence. People from all over different cities, including New York City, are among the demonstrators.

By MICHAEL KELLER

The police appear at the demonstration that the protesters are trying to set up on a platform at the front of the International Center.

By JOE SWANSON

This incident of last week, in which a student was arrested, was an isolated event. This includes "inappropriate verbal actions," which are "rude, impolite, and offensive" and prevent both students and professors from working. The incident of last week, in which a student was arrested, was an isolated event.

By MAUREEN MIESMER

Professor of Government Wayne Kunz is concerned that the police can cause it to end and ultimately will create public disturbance.

By ELWOOD DELEON

The police appear at the demonstration that the protesters are trying to set up on a platform at the front of the International Center.

By MAUREEN MIYASAKI

The police appear at the demonstration that the protesters are trying to set up on a platform at the front of the International Center.

By JOE SWANSON

This incident of last week, in which a student was arrested, was an isolated event. This includes "inappropriate verbal actions," which are "rude, impolite, and offensive" and prevent both students and professors from working. The incident of last week, in which a student was arrested, was an isolated event.
Students Play Critical Role in Tenure Evaluation

By the time we have our college tenure process underway, we have, in effect, judged the effectiveness of the professional staff of the College. Unfairly, there are exceptions to this rule. As individuals, we may not always be immediately able to recognize professional ability. Students, however, with a lifetime of contact, should be able to tell the story of every teacher every day.

Of course, teaching is only one part of the tenure evaluation process. Professors also must prove their dedication to student welfare. As Laura Kaiser, Earth House Staff Columnist, wrote in her most recent column, professors must play a critical role in the evaluation process. Professors going up for tenure are individuals; we may be biased towards particular educators. Teaching ability is the most important factor for us, the students, in the evaluation process. Professors going up for tenure are individuals; we may be biased towards particular educators. Teaching ability is the most important factor for us, the students, in the evaluation process.

Let My Freeman Go

Ben Munson

His views do not necessarily reflect those of the College Voice.

A Millstone Around our Necks

The other day in "The Connecticut" letter column, a citizen expressed his concern about the millstone around the College Voice. He said that the College Voice has become, in essence, a "Millstone around our Necks," and the College Voice is nothing but a millstone around our necks. I thought about it and realized that the millstone around our necks is not necessarily a bad thing. The College Voice can serve as a constant reminder and a constant inspiration to all of us. Without the Millstone around our necks, we would be more likely to forget about the importance of our responsibilities to our community.

Moving to Another Brand of Everything

We are releasing high amounts of carbon dioxide into the atmosphere. This is causing global warming, which is leading to rising ocean temperatures and melting of ice shelves. The College Voice has recently been shut down due to this controversy over safety violations and an attempt at self-protection in the part of NU. We cannot continue to ignore this problem. It is not necessary to ASK your neighbors to be quiet. Thank you, my dear, and keep in mind that we exercise our combined expertise as a college. Professors going up for tenure are individuals and we must be able to list them.

Biethiels Misses the Point

The College Voice, as a non-profit student-produced newspaper, offers an opinion column for students to pen opinions. Opinions expressed in the College Voice are those of The College Voice, its staff and its writers and do not necessarily reflect the views of the organization.

Students Play Critical Role in Tenure Evaluation

By the time we have our college tenure process underway, we have, in effect, judged the effectiveness of the professional staff of the College. Unfairly, there are exceptions to this rule. As individuals, we may not always be immediately able to recognize professional ability. Students, however, with a lifetime of contact, should be able to tell the story of every teacher every day.

Of course, teaching is only one part of the tenure evaluation process. Professors also must prove their dedication to student welfare. As Laura Kaiser, Earth House Staff Columnist, wrote in her most recent column, professors must play a critical role in the evaluation process. Professors going up for tenure are individuals; we may be biased towards particular educators. Teaching ability is the most important factor for us, the students, in the evaluation process. Professors going up for tenure are individuals; we may be biased towards particular educators. Teaching ability is the most important factor for us, the students, in the evaluation process.

Let My Freeman Go

Ben Munson

His views do not necessarily reflect those of the College Voice.

A Millstone Around our Necks

The other day in "The Connecticut" letter column, a citizen expressed his concern about the millstone around the College Voice. He said that the College Voice has become, in essence, a "Millstone around our Necks," and the College Voice is nothing but a millstone around our necks. I thought about it and realized that the millstone around our necks is not necessarily a bad thing. The College Voice can serve as a constant reminder and a constant inspiration to all of us. Without the Millstone around our necks, we would be more likely to forget about the importance of our responsibilities to our community.

Moving to Another Brand of Everything

We are releasing high amounts of carbon dioxide into the atmosphere. This is causing global warming, which is leading to rising ocean temperatures and melting of ice shelves. The College Voice has recently been shut down due to this controversy over safety violations and an attempt at self-protection in the part of NU. We cannot continue to ignore this problem. It is not necessary to ASK your neighbors to be quiet. Thank you, my dear, and keep in mind that we exercise our combined expertise as a college. Professors going up for tenure are individuals and we must be able to list them.
Connecticut College Magazine

Magazine

Students Participate in Government Survey

By LAURA STRONG

Connecticut’s Freedom of Information Commission (FOIC), located in a Connecticut College class to participate in surveys of public compliance with the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), the study will be conducted during the first week of March.

Students from Professor Blanche Boyd’s Journalism-English class will travel to various public offices in the College’s Municipal Clerk and the Police Department in Waterford. The students get up the courage to approach the employees, who may file an appeal to the FOIC within 30 days of the notice of the “right to receive this deal.)

EXTRA INCOME FOR ’99

Visit our website - www.collegetours.com

FREE RADIO + $1250!

$250,000 Offer

Every historical controversy can be debated on national television across the Jewish holocaust, according to Lisa Brownell, CC magazine editor, has encountered hostile reactions in publications in the past, both on the national and international scene. She states that she has been subjected to a "suspicious silence" when a sister organization encourages violence and bigots, who no longer believe the gas chamber stories but believe in the fraud of the Auschwitz gas chamber? As was David Cole, the Jewish writer and director of CODOH's video "On Auschwitz, David Cole Interview by Francesca Point (edited Video of the Century)," for opening on film the film of the Auschwitz extermination camp.

LARGE CHEESE PIZZA SPECIAL

4:00 P.M. - till late night

(pitza offer to receive this deal)

EXTRA INCOME FOR ’99

Earn $500 - $1000 weekly stuffing envelopes For details - CALL 1-800-742-9076! (mention this ad to receive this deal)

EXTRA INCOME FOR ’99

Visit our website - www.collegetours.com

FREE RADIO + $1250!

$250,000 Offer

Every historical controversy can be debated on national television across the Jewish holocaust, according to Lisa Brownell, CC magazine editor, has encountered hostile reactions in publications in the past, both on the national and international scene. She states that she has been subjected to a "suspicious silence" when a sister organization encourages violence and bigots, who no longer believe the gas chamber stories but believe in the fraud of the Auschwitz gas chamber? As was David Cole, the Jewish writer and director of CODOH's video "On Auschwitz, David Cole Interview by Francesca Point (edited Video of the Century)," for opening on film the film of the Auschwitz extermination camp.

LARGE CHEESE PIZZA SPECIAL

4:00 P.M. - till late night

(pitza offer to receive this deal)
Br. REBEKKA PAGE

Staff Writer

In a world that is becoming more and more technologically influenced by computers and other scientific media, the utilization of arts and technology provides new and exciting avenues for advancement in both fields. Each symposium is the subject of a symposium by the various fields of Arts and Technology Symposium entitled "Minds, Machines, and Electronic Media," which will be held March 19-21.

The Center for Arts and Technology at Connecticut College facilitates partnerships between the arts and technology to study the impact of technology within a wide array of arts and fields of choice. The symposium is a chance to find a variety of questions from around the world who will make a presentation, exploring presenting various questions of technology. The first three days of the conference will feature keynotes and discussions presented by Milton Merrick, David Pappas, and Andrea Wollensak, Assistant Professor of Media Studies at the University of Connecticut. This year, the winners are five female artists, from Montana College of Technology, who were spending the summer exploring the arts and attending poetry readings. Of her experience, Girmay says, "It's been amazing to be here for five months. I've been here for the written and the oral." She also feels that it's been a great opportunity to communicate directly with the audience.

"Minds, Machines, and Electronic Media," coordinator of the symposium, says, "The symposium is a chance for those from around the world who will make a presentation, exploring presenting various questions of technology. The first three days of the conference will feature keynotes and discussions presented by Milton Merrick, David Pappas, and Andrea Wollensak, Assistant Professor of Media Studies at the University of Connecticut. This year, the winners are five female artists, from Montana College of Technology, who were spending the summer exploring the arts and attending poetry readings. Of her experience, Girmay says, "It's been amazing to be here for five months. I've been here for the written and the oral." She also feels that it's been a great opportunity to communicate directly with the audience.
THE COLLEGE VOICE
IS NOW ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS FOR 1999-2000 EDITORIAL BOARD POSITIONS.

The following positions will be available on The College Voice beginning after spring break. All currently enrolled Connecticut College students are eligible to apply. No previous experience with The College Voice is necessary. Applications will be available outside of The College Voice office, Cor 215.

Please call Brian Bieluch or Josh Friedlander at 2212 for questions.

Editor-in-Chief: Responsible for editing, brainstorming story ideas, and overall management of The Voice. Acts as a liaison between section editors. Runs weekly Editorial and Executive Board meetings. Must approve final content of paper.

Managing Editor: Assists Editor-in-Chief in all aspects of running the paper. Oversees business department. Runs weekly production of the newspaper. Must be able to work late hours.

Business Manager: In charge of running a small business including paying bills, overseeing budget, mailing subscriptions, organizing ads, and sending invoices. Must be well organized and responsible.

Copy Editor: Late nights required. Strong spelling and grammar skills a must.

News Editor: Responsible for developing story ideas, assigning, and editing news stories. Must be aware of campus events.

Opinion Editor: Weekly duties include soliciting and editing opinion pieces, letters to the editor, and editorial cartoons. Must be aware of timely issues on campus.

Features Editor: Responsible for creating and assigning interesting, off-beat, clever story ideas. This position offers its editor a high degree of creative freedom; the editor can determine the entire direction for the section.

A&E Editor: Responsible for creating and assigning interesting, off-beat, clever story ideas. This position offers its editor a high degree of creative freedom; the editor can determine the entire direction for the section.

Lifestyle Editor: Responsible for developing story ideas and assigning them each week. Knowledge of campus arts community a must, along with willingness to venture off campus for stories.

Sports Editor: Assigns and edits sports stories. Must be familiar with Conn athletic department.

Photography Editor: Responsible for developing weekly photo assignments for a large photo staff. Knowledge of Adobe Photoshop a plus.

Online Editor: Maintains and develops The College Voice online web site. Knowledge of HTML, and Adobe Photoshop essential.

ASSOCIATE POSITIONS ARE AVAILABLE IN NEWS, OPINION, ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT, FEATURES, SPORTS, AND PHOTOGRAPHY. THESE ARE EXCELLENT WAYS TO GET INVOLVED AT A HIGH LEVEL AT THE VOICE, BUT WITH LESS OF A TIME COMMITMENT.

Applications are due Friday, March 5, 1999 at 5:00 P.M. to The College Voice office.

ASSOCIATE POSITIONS ARE AVAILABLE IN NEWS, OPINION, ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT, FEATURES, SPORTS, AND PHOTOGRAPHY. THESE ARE EXCELLENT WAYS TO GET INVOLVED AT A HIGH LEVEL AT THE VOICE, BUT WITH LESS OF A TIME COMMITMENT.

GRIDLOCK grille
Former Owners of Goldy’s Restaurant

Open at 7:30 am daily
Serving breakfast till 4 pm daily
Lunch
Dinner

Located just minutes from the college at
566 Colman Street
New London
442-0033

www.gridlockgrille.com
Take Out Service

MYSTIC ARMY NAVY STORES
It’s not just a store...it’s an adventure!
Navy Pea Coats • Leather & Nylon Flight Jackets
Camouflage Clothing • Swiss Army® Knives & Watches
Zippos® Lighters & Accessories • Dog Tags
Trunks & Foot Lockers • Combat Boots and More!

Two Convenient Locations / Open 7 Days
Downtown Mystic 636-1877 www.mysticarmynavy.com
Olde Mistick Village 572-5844

Live in
New York City
This Summer
NYU Summer Housing
May 16—August 7, 1999

Living in an NYU residence hall offers a safe and convenient home base while you are working, taking classes, or doing an internship.

• Minutes from New York’s business and cultural centers.
• Apartment-style and traditional residences; single and double occupancy.
• Outstanding sports-recreation facility.
• Over 1,300 day and evening courses.
• Apply early to secure a space.

For more information, call toll free 1-800-771-4NYU, ext. H46 Mon.—Fri., 9 a.m.—5 p.m., EST.

New York University is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.
College Applications Rise with Rankings in Major Sports

JAYSON BLAIR

The Diamondback

U-WIRE COLLEGE PARK, Md. — It’s no secret that Maryland’s athletic programs — especially under head coach Gary Barnett — have been outstanding in recent years. In 1996, when the Terps made it to the Final Four, applications to the University of Maryland Morehouse College went up an incredible 46.5 percent. In 1997, when the football team went 11-1, applications rose another 75 percent. In 1998, when the basketball team went 26-6, applications jumped another 8 percent.

"This is the same phenomenon that is being observed in a lot of other universities," said John S. "Jack" Loebbaka, president of College Connections, a New York-based company that helps colleges market themselves. "We’ve been tracking this phenomenon for the past five years, and it is continually increasing."

Loebbaka said that the increase in applications is due to the success of the football and basketball teams. "When these teams do well, people think of the university as a whole, not just the sports programs," he said. "They start to see the university as a place to go for a quality education."

Loebbaka added that the increase in applications is not just limited to the University of Maryland. "We’ve seen similar increases at other universities," he said. "It’s a national phenomenon."

Loebbaka noted that the increase in applications is not just limited to students who are interested in attending the university for athletics. "We’ve seen an increase in applications from students who are interested in the academic programs," he said. "It’s not just about athletics. It’s about the whole university."

Loebbaka said that this trend is likely to continue in the future. "We expect to see even more increases in applications as the success of these teams continues," he said. "We believe that this trend will continue for the foreseeable future."
FLOOR HOCKEY

Hat trick. Billy Carr was overheard after the game blasting the play of his Zoob, someone might slip on them. "I wish half of these guys had an attitude adjustment as the playoffs near."
The Usual Suspects handily beat Bruisnuif and Old Time Hockey got the better of Rats of Nihm. Although Semprucci, whose scoreless drought was all the refs' fault." Men In the mumbled after the game, "The refs:..." There has been some unconfirmed, there has been some wild speculation that Mike Sampras, whosescoreless drought is the College Voice.

Letters to the Editor
Due 5 P.M. Wednesdays
Box 4970 · 215-226-3081

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1999

* NORM'S DINNER *
Open 24 Hours
171 Bridge St. Groton CT · 445 · 5026

Free Raffle with College ID for a
Norm's T-Shirt
(1 Every Hour)

NITE OWL SPECIAL
Monday - Thursday
Midnight to 4AM
ALL-U-CAN EAT Eggs,
Pancakes, home Fries and
Toast $2.99
Excludes Holidays

Boomer's Cafe Presents
(Right Next Door)
RIDERS OF THE STORM - A Doors Cover Band
performing Saturday, March 6
Tickets: $5.00 (advance) $8.00 (door)

NETWORK EVENT THEATER presents
FREE PREMIERE SCREENING

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE
@ Dana Hall
9 PM Wednesday, March 3rd
FREE ADMISSION
INFO?: call 439-2597

CRUEL INTENTIONS
when you were,Count Acton music.

PLAN YOUR WEEKEND
Plan your education.

Where would you like to be on Spring-Break?

How about South Padre Island, Texas? Here's your opportunity. Come on down to Daewoo of Fairfield. Take the test, drive a new Daewoo, and see what you think! While you're here, be sure to register to win our Spring-Break trip for two to South Padre Island. What's more, walk out with a free 30-minute telephone card after you've taken the test drive. Now that's a deal!
Men's Basketball Continues its Winning Ways

By MATI SKEADAS

The Camels have been a force in the NESCAC this season, and have continued that dominance in the final ten minutes of the game. The Camels were able to close out the game with a strong performance on both ends of the court.

The game started off with strong defense from both teams, but Conn was able to break that trend. Williams had the ball at the top of the key for the next few minutes and was able to get into the paint and score.

The next few minutes were a seesaw battle, with both teams putting up strong efforts on both ends of the court. However, Conn was able to make a few more baskets and maintain the lead.

Conn continued to build its lead in the closing minutes of the game, and was able to secure the victory with a few more baskets late in the game.

The Camels were able to dominate the game, and were able to build a lead that they were able to hold onto for the remainder of the game.

The game was a great example of how the Camels have been able to dominate the NESCAC this season, and will no doubt be looking to continue that success in the upcoming games.

Intramural Update: FloorHockey Nears End

In the last few weeks, the floor hockey intramural tournament has been in full swing. With the playoffs beginning, teams are beginning to come into their own after a slow start.

The intramural team has risen to the occasion, putting together an incredible week, dominating the regional poll. The game started out in Williams' favor, with the Ephs leading the Panthers 11-3 with three minutes remaining.

Dominate the game.

With both Davis and Keaney on the floor, the team decided that hard-nosed defense would be key to their success. This, joined with Coach Ron Hersey's example, has contributed to a gross incompetence and lack of intensity was obviously not helpful in the situation was.

Normally, the Camels are able to pick off or deflect the pass, but today the team decided that hard-nosed defense would be key to their success.

The divisions are based on the number 12 team in the country, and having a 4-16 record, the Camels had their best showing to date, playing to a gross incompetence and lack of intensity was obviously not helpful in the situation was.

Not helpful in the situation was

The team's only win this season was a 5-4 win over Connecticut College this past weekend, and they will be looking forward to building on this success.

Women's Basketball Drops Three Games

The Camels dropped three games in a row against William and Mary, 89-63, and Wesleyan, 41-34, before falling to Middlebury, 86-65, in the final ten minutes of the game.

The Camels were unable to adjust to the strong goaltending of the Middlebury Panthers, and were unable to capitalize on their shots. The Camels were not able to make many baskets, and were only able to score three points in the final ten minutes of the game.

The Panthers boxed out the Camels in the paint, limiting their scoring opportunities. The Camels were unable to adjust to the strong defense of the Panthers, and were only able to score three points in the final ten minutes of the game.

The Camels will be looking forward to building on this success.

Diving

Davis and Keene Plunge Into New England Championship

By LUKE JOHNSON

When the Camels rolled into Connecticut College, they were looking forward to their last collegiate meet.

Davis and Keene, both experienced divers, were ready to dominate the competition.

Davis, a junior, is heading for the varsity hockey team wth the Suspects this season. Keene, a senior, is looking forward to her last collegiate season.

Keene has been a key member of the diving team since her freshman year, and is looking forward to her last collegiate season.

As a freshman, Keene was able to finish with a top twenty-three diver field and is looking forward to building on this success as a senior.

This season, Keene has impressed his coaches with his ability to dominate the game.

The Camels have already established themselves as the best team in the division, and are looking forward to building on this success.

In the league office can kiss my fat rear end. I'm not going to let you win again. I'm going to come back and kick your ass, just like I have done before.

With all this said, the Camels are looking forward to building on their success and making a run in the upcoming NCAA championships.

The Camels will be looking forward to building on this success, and will be looking forward to the upcoming NCAA championships.

Intramural Update: Floor Hockey Nears End

In the last few weeks, the floor hockey intramural tournament has been in full swing. With the playoffs beginning, teams are beginning to come into their own after a slow start.

The intramural team has risen to the occasion, putting together an incredible week, dominating the regional poll. The game started out in Williams' favor, with the Ephs leading the Panthers 11-3 with three minutes remaining.

Dominate the game.

With both Davis and Keaney on the floor, the team decided that hard-nosed defense would be key to their success. This, joined with Coach Ron Hersey's example, has contributed to a gross incompetence and lack of intensity was obviously not helpful in the situation was.

Normally, the Camels are able to pick off or deflect the pass, but today the team decided that hard-nosed defense would be key to their success.

The divisions are based on the number 12 team in the country, and having a 4-16 record, the Camels had their best showing to date, playing to a