Sophomores And Juniors Tie In Feb. Dean's List

Names Of Students Are Placed In Order Of Class Ranking

The Dean's List for February is as follows:
Class of 1935—Sylvia Dowski; Mobolol E. Styant; Martha Davis; Christine C. Stoddard; Charlotte B. Harburger; Marjory L. Loesser; Letitia P. Williams; Frances M. Bishoff; Elizabeth Chace; Elizabeth Dutch; Olive G. M. Birch; Mary Wall; Jeannette Freeman; Adele Francis; Marjorie Wolfe; Gaiman; Blaire Geary; Rebecca Harris L. Loeser; Letitia P. Williams; Charlotte B. Harburger; Marjory Elizabeth L. Johnson; Gladys M. Wheeler; Edith Trude Weyhe; Frances D. Aiken; Freeman L. F. Dean's List

Margaret Mead Discusses Life In New Guinea

Convocation Speaker Describes Civilization From An Anthropologist's Standpoint

Margaret Mead, Assistant Curator of Ethnology at the American Museum of Natural History, spoke on "An Anthropologist in New Guinea" at Convocation Tuesday. Miss Mead has written two books in connection with her work in New Guinea: "Coming of Age in Samoa", and "GROWING UP In New Guinea." She gave us a visual picture of New Guinea, where she spent a year living with the natives. This picture was presented to us through the eyes of an anthropologist, who asks this question: "How much of their development follows regular laws?"

In all parts of the world people differing in language and customs from their neighbors have worked out experiments in what could be done with human nature, but these "priceless records" were not used wisely, and one primitive people after another has vanished and left no traces, so that its social customs and nature can not be studied and examined. However, a few cultures which need "unpuzzling societies, which have chosen solutions of life's problems different from our own" may be studied sooner than we thought. Miss Mead showed slides to the students and other faculty members from her trip. She showed them how the islanders live, what they eat, and how they are dressed. She also talked about the way they live and what they believe. Miss Mead also talked about the way they live and what they believe. She also talked about the way they live and what they believe.

Dr. Ernest Tittle Discusses Relation Of Conscience To Right At Chapel

"Do not lie to yourself; "To shine one's own hour-glass."" Words used by Dr. Ernest Tit- ller of Evanston, Illinois, at the Ves- per service in which he discussed conscience with its relation to what is right.

Conscience, a far better guide than supposed, includes two assumptions: (1) the conviction that something is right, and (2) the accompanying judgment as to what right is. If conscience is nothing more than the voice of the herd, as some claim, why does it protect against herd opinion? Neither is conscience an echo of racial experience; it can be cultivated, for no one is born with a climate which is damp and rainy. Their houses and clothing are insufficient to protect them from the cold, and nobody has enough to eat. "All these conditions would tend to make the people mean and harsh, but if they were given their liberty, we can see why in spite of all their handi- caps, they are a loving tribe."

There are no villages in New Guinea at that time, and some things property is almost unknown. The land, as these people conceive it, belongs to their ancestors, and they believe that their ancestral spirits hover over the land. An average man's voice is spent doing things for others, or answering the needs and de- mands of a series of relatives. It is a society "with no edges"—a society with interrelations between all. A person who feeds another has the right to demand whatever he de- sires from that person. There is no warfare among these people; the children are taught that one cannot become angry for oneself, but in be- half of somebody else, on can carry on a quarrel. Thus it is easily seen that since every individual is bound to everybody else by close ties, war cannot flourish.

There is one element, however, which spoils this would-be utopia, and that is a nearby tribe which practices sorcery. The natives of New Guinea are strong enough to keep the natives in a state of continual dread.

(Continued on Page 4.—Vol. 4)
The students in Thomas have in- stituted an "Exercise Club". Every evening at exactly 9:30 they file downstairs—some in shorts, some in sweaters, and some in pajamas. For about twenty minutes they kick and twist and roll and pull. Any offender has to pay five cents for every giggle during these twenty minutes. It remains to be seen how small the girls get and how large the treasury gets.

The race is over and Jeanette Austin won! She beat "Poofie Earle to the esteemed position of 'austr'-and "Poofie" is still waiting.

Tea time certainly attracts the off-campus freshmen every Wednesday day and Thursday. In fact, most of us feel quite the "jolly of English" who sip their tea around four o'clock.

And then there is the freshman who has been hiding her various customs goody at 11 p.m. as she didn't realize that she is now a full-fledged freshman with the privileges of the "higher-ups". "Ignorance is bliss"—oh yes?

Every Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons at Holmes Hall the freshmen have been enjoying teas which cannot correctly be termed "formal" and still should be called "al." We talk and laugh with some of the faculty: Miss Blunt, Miss Bursick, Miss Chevalier, Miss Harr, Miss Oakes, and Miss Pillett. These teas are so informal that some of the guests arrive with their huge, heavy ski-boots on. Nevertheless there is a certain formality at these afternoon teas because the girls acquire poise in being hostesses and guests. Previous to this time we have had affairs "to get us together", but these teas have proved to be far more successful.

A number of freshmen, seeking recuperation from source themes, took the homeward path leading from Winthrop House: Sylvia Dreyfus, Edie Wyman, and Miss Pillett, Polly Mitchell, Jeanette Austin and "Poofie" Earle, who entertained Betty Vanderbilt as a guest. A real dinner party was staged last Friday night with Bradford freshmen acting as hostesses to Lan ey House. Miss Botsford, Mrs. Carmen and Dean Bursick were the honored guests. Coffee was served after dinner to better acquaint the Laceyettes with the on-campus people. A lovely time was had by all, and students work to give the Freshmen a special op- portunity to show our appreciation by making an effort both to attend the teas and to get to know the other girls there!

Staff Writer

Cleveland students were rather "floored" the other day when visit- ing the display at the Art Museum, for the attendant claimed, "Some of these are quite impossible to remove—ever...no, that's right, from the Cleveland Art Mus- eum." Satisfied, Jimmie?

And who are the three freshmen who made an outside call from the phone in one of the professors' office? What is this modern generation up to?

And they are his sisters and his cousins and aunts. His sisters and his cousins and his aunts! No, not repetition or even insistence (ap- ologies to Gertrude Stein), but if you've entered Fanning some even- ing, you've probably heard the glee club singing the above. Just re- calling for "Pinfalrots", they claim.

A few of the more talented (?) Laceyettes painted a few objects in their live-in room one afternoon. Somehow or other their artistic gen- ius just wasn't appreciated.

Why is it that a certain Junior in Harkness is being trailed by police- men? Come across, Marty.

Bradford Junior College in Bos- ton entertained two students from C. C. last weekend. Jane Taylor and Harriet Moore were the visitors.

Darlene Stern and Caroline Bock- man went "high-brow" last week- end and went to Hartford to hear Mathan Milstein. Darlene is still very proud of an incident that hap- pened while there and we'd like to know what's what.

If Betty Rexford still appears disapproving, just ask her a few ques- tions about the "smooth" weekend in New York.

A real dinner party was staged last Friday night with Bradford freshmen acting as hostesses to Lane- ey House. Miss Botsford, Mrs. Carmen and Dean Bursick were the honored guests. Coffee was served after dinner to better acquaint the Laceyettes with the on-campus people. A lovely time was had by all, and students work to give the Freshmen a special op- portunity to show our appreciation by making an effort both to attend the teas and to get to know the other girls there!

Dear Editor-

I wonder how many Freshmen are taking advantage of the teas being held and secondly?

I don't mean to dispute the attendance, for a fair num- ber of girls have been there every time; but I still won- der if the main point is being achieved? Attend- ing the teas and then sitting around and chatting with our own little circle of friends doesn't much do for further the unity of the class as a whole. If we went out of our way to speak to someone we have never met in halls but have had a chance to talk to, we might be launching a real ac- quaintance. There is no distinction between the girl who lives off campus and the one who doesn't and there is no reason for imagining one. When Faculty and students work to give the Freshmen a special op- portunity for getting acquainted all the way around, the best thing we can do is to cooperate. So let's show our appreciation by making an effort both to attend the teas and to get to know the other girls there!

Sincerely yours,

1937

Editorial

(Continued from Column 1)

The prohibition Amendment produced such false and un- dertone emphasis on the individual privilege of indulg- ing in what is, at best a doubtful pleasure.

It is with a great deal of optimism, however, that the following rule is offered—

Students shall govern themselves according to the following

1. General Decorum is expected of every stu- dent, who will remember that she is, at all times, repre- senting her Alma Mater whether on the campus grounds or elsewhere, and that she will act in accord- ance with the college standards of decorum. Students violating this rule will be subject to appropriate pen- alties determined by the Board of Trustees, or, in severe cases, extending to recommendation to the administration for suspension or expulsion. (C, pp. 85)

2. There shall be no drinking on campus.

3. When a student indulges, in a discreet or exces- sive use of alcoholic beverages to a degree im- moral to her as a responsible, mature member of the college community, penalty will be imposed to the extent of expulsion from that community.

According to the recommendation of the Student Body passed by House of Representatives, Cabinet, and Student Government Committee, President Blunt the present drinking rule (pp. 48, C) has been with- drawn for a trial period of indefinite duration.

It should be understood that this does not con- stitute a permission to drink, but merely removes the legal prohibitions which is considered to be unnecessary for mature, and adult students.
CON ENCTICUT COLLEGE NEWS

EDUCATION CLUB
Mrs. Bennet Schauffler, representative of the Cooperative Teaching Service, which operates progressive schools such as Spring Hill in Litchfield and the Little Red Schoolhouse in New York City, will speak to the Education Club at a tea Friday afternoon, March 16. Her subject will be "Recent Experiments in Progressive Education." All those interested in education are cordially invited. Please sign on a slip which will be posted in Fanning.

FRENCH CLUB
Dr. Elio Gianturco, poet and son of the former Minister of Education in Italy, was the guest artist at a joint meeting of the Italian, French and Spanish Clubs, which was held in Knowlton House, Saturday evening, March 2. For the Italian part of the program, Dr. Gianturco played some ancient dances and airs of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries which were arranged for the piano by Ottorino Respighi. Dr. Gianturco also played selections by Ravel, the greatest living French composer, and by Granados, modern Spanish composer.

GERMAN CLUB
The German Club held a meeting on Thursday evening, February 28, in Fanning Hall. German music and Berthoven's Fifth Symphony were played on the phonograph, after which coffee was served. It is hoped that more people will attend the next meeting, which will be held soon after spring vacation.

SPANISH CLUB
Plans are being made for a meeting of the Spanish Club which will be held on Thursday evening, April 4, in the commuter's room in Fanning Hall. Alice Cobb is chairman of the entertainment. There will be Spanish music, dancing, and little skits given by members of the advanced Spanish classes.

MATH CLUB
Dr. Hans Rademaker, German mathematician who is visiting professor at the University of Pennsylvania, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Mathematics Department and Club which was held Monday afternoon, March 6. Dr. Rademaker, who is one of the most famous number theorists, spoke on "Ruler's Partitions Nonsingle.

The next meeting of the Mathematics Club will be held Tuesday evening, March 12, in the commuter's room in Fanning. The discussion, which will be led by N. Cooper Ruth Chittam, and Dorothy Richardson, is "Mapping of Complex Functions." All are cordially invited to attend.

In the laboratories of the Carnegie Institute of Technology (Pittsburgh, Pa.), it has been discovered that the same nitrogen which makes crops grow better will harden certain alloys which are the basis of the new rustless steels.—ACP

John Martin

Modern Dance Discussed
Mr. John Martin, dance critic of the New York Times, spoke Wednesday evening at Knowlton on "Martha Graham and the Modern Dance"

In discussing the Modern Dance Mr. Martin gave four qualifications which must be followed in order to have a dance truly be called modern:

1. There should be no music of any value, since dancing should express an idea of its own accord and not try to explain a piece of music. If music is great in itself, no dancer could add to it by attempting to interpret it, so that the dancer would be to inferior music which needs support. Thus to use dancing solely for the purpose of interpreting music would be to lower the level of the dance.

2. One should not attend dance recitals and other exhibitions of dancing with a literary mind, because this method only tears down the true significance which the dancer is trying to express to the audience. In connection with this Mr. Martin used the radio program as a parallel wrong. He said that by the detailed explanation of every movement, the audience is unable to understand the dance.

ALUMNI NOTES
Miss Margarete "Billy" Haehlwood, '32, is to receive her M. F. A. from Yale Dramaical School in June. Miss Dorothy Wheeler, '32, and Miss Theodosia Hewlett, '36, attended the Atlantic City Convention of the American Council of Guidance and Personal Association in February.

According to our Alumnae Register many of our C. G. graduates are following very interesting professions. Mrs. Elizabeth Berry, '24, is a designer in the Rudi Studio Inc., N. Y. Miss Margaret Monjo, '30, is assistant buyer for G. Fox & Co. in Hartford. Miss Janet Morris, '30, is Laboratory Technician at the University of Pennsylvania. Miss Margaret Osborn, '31, is Bacteriologist at the New Haven Department of Health Laboratory. Miss Henrietta Owen, '28, is "ad" copywriter for Benton and Bowles Inc., N. Y. Miss Alice Read, '38, is in the Advertising and Editorial Department of Conde Nast Publications, N. Y. Josephine Emerson, '29, (Dr. Robert Stiles' daughter) is a San Francisco physician and surgeon. Miss Margaret Eben, '26, is a New Jersey fashion writer and author. Miss Dorothy Cannon, '32, is Foreign Language Editor for the American Book Co.

Boynton Merrill

Next Vesper Speaker
Is Pastor of Second Congregational Church of West Newton, Massachusetts
Not a "first-timer" at our vesper services, but one to the present college generation, Boynton Merrill, minister of the Second Congregational Church in West Newton, Mass., comes to us as the vespers speaker on Sunday at 7 p. m.

A graduate of Dartmouth College, which also presented him with a D. D. degree, and of Union theological seminary, he was ordained to the Congregational ministry in 1918, was chaplain on board the U. S. S. Pennsylvania during the war, served a pastorate in Putnam, Conn., immediately thereafter, went to Boston in 1921 as associate minister of Old South church, and since 1927 has been pastor in his present charge, where he has built up one of the largest congregational churches in New England, being especially interested in young people's work. He is a trustee of Wellesley College, and the author of From Confusion to Certainty, and co-author of Sermons to Young People.

Peace Program

Begun in England
Brings Criticism
Object Is To Attack War On Its Own Ground of Emotion

Why all this talk about war? If peace is desired, is it not better psychology to talk about, to dramatize, to regiment people for peace, as pugnaciousness and dramatization have always been carried on for war? Emotionalism, propaganda, not cold wisdom has been instrumental in bringing about war. Cold wisdom will never achieve peace. War must be attacked on its own ground, that of the emotion.

Such a program has been begun in England by the founders of the Peace Army, similar to a military organization in all but its unarmed state and its policy of non-resistance. Its members, who are found all over the British Isles, Denmark, Holland, Syria and Hungary, pledge themselves to place themselves between the armies of the combatants and to die if need be. This program, while highly dramatic, is obviously insensible under the conditions of modern warfare. Its second pledge is to refuse in time of war to take any part in and to be prepared to be shot for this refusal. The members are prepared to lay down their lives for peace as men for countless centuries have been proud to do for war. In this way those qualities which have made war heroes—loyalty, courage, and endurance will be emphasized for peace and will bring peace to the attention of people as compellingly as war has been presented.

—Syracuse Daily Orange

Janet Benjamin spent last weekend with her parents at Winsted. During her visit she rode her champion golding "Gallant Victor" who is stabled at the Pittsfield Racing and Polo Club, Pittsfield, Mass.

A psychology professor at Syracuse University (N. Y.) was showing his class how sudden emotions will produce perspiration on hands. A co-ed in the class was blindfolded and the instrument attached to her hand. Suddenly the male professor kissed her and the class wails the frictionally waving needle on the instrument did not return to normal for a quarter of an hour.

Please patronize our Advertisers

GENUNG'S
NEW LONDON, CONN.
The Faculty-Student basketball game was played on Saturday afternoon, March 2. A large crowd was on hand to watch the game, as the unofficial custodian of the country's most beautiful girls.

Field of Therapy To Be Stressed; Important Speakers On Schedule

The Connecticut Occupational Therapy Association is holding its annual meeting at the Connecticut College for Women, Room 206, Fan- ning Hall, on March 9th, 1935. There will be a morning session beginning at thirty o'clock, and an afternoon session beginning at one thirty o'clock.

"Who is the Occupational Therapist? She is a highly trained specialist, a student of human nature, trained in the psychology of the ill—a woman possessed of infinite tact, patience, and a desire for service, a teacher with broad training in many occupations, herself possessed of a good mind; with a cultural background, and above all, a person with the professional mind."

It is just such women needed in the field of Occupational Therapy and the field is large.

The Connecticut Occupational Therapy Association is prepared to meet this need, to inaugurate the establishment of a training course for occupational therapists in the college curriculum. "Recent Methods in Teaching Occupational Therapy" as it is done at the Boston School of Occupational Therapy will illustrate what just such a course will consist.

Can a person do anything well if the organic mechanism of the body is defective? Dr. Lloyd T. Brown, instructor in Orthopedics at Harvard University will give a talk during the afternoon session of the meeting on "Back Mechanism." The program will stress in part the poise of educational guidance which will be the subject of a talk, "Limitations of Personnel Work Among Students" by a university professor, and by a counselor in high school guidance. A talk entitled "Pupil Adjustment and Parent Mechanism." "Academic Instruction as a Therapeutic Procedure" will explain how carefully planned individual courses of study and University Extension Courses provide purposive occupation and afford a practical future vocation or avocation for parents at a hospital for treatment of nervous and mental problems.

Practical demonstrations of "Pro- grams for the Visually Handicapped" may be seen in a Creative Work Shop" as taught at the Philadelphia School of Occupational Therapy and "The Making of Home Spun Products" as taught in the Home Demonstration Work- shop. The College will illustrate the individualized curative methods of training the handicapped for a live- line situation, and of teaching social adaptation.

There is such an thing as occupa- tional therapy malpractice. In urg- ing a patient to select a therapeutic procedure, care must be taken to avoid dangerous methods in occupa- tional therapy or too much occupa- tional therapy. This point will be explained by "Dangers of Occupa- tional Therapy in Tuberculosis" and "Evaluating the Capacity of the Patient".

All students who are interested are invited to attend the lectures. They will be especially worthwhile to the Seniors who are planning to work next year, regardless of the field they choose to enter.

Swimming Meet Is Held At Academy

Novelty swimming and serious racing were intertwined in the swimming meet held by Connecticut College in the I. S. Coast Guard pool last Tuesday afternoon. The out- standing event of the evening, how- ever, was Jane Cadwell, '36, of De- troit, Michigan, in her swim of the 100 yard breast stroke in 1 minute 26 and 1/6 seconds. The record for this event is 1 minute, 20 seconds. The interesting competition was won by the Juniors, with the Freshmen second and the Sophomores third. The events and winners were as fol- lows:

- 40 yard crawl — won by Betty Wagner (Freshman); second, Gladys Klippel (Freshman); third, Fay Irving (Sophomore), time 25 and 3/5 seconds.
- Novelty race, diving for plate- ters—won by Miss Minnie (Sopho- more) and Elizabeth Taylor (Sopho- more); second, Dorothy Frees (Freshman) and Margaret Wagner (Freshman); third, Betty Cranwell (Freshman) and Elizabeth Von Col- dit (Sophomore).
- Medley relay — interclass — won by Senior class, (Polly Spooner, Charlotte Harburger and Vera War- dnick).

IZZY'S
Oven Beach
Dine and Dance
"Naff Sed"

Perry & Stone, Inc.
10 North Bridge St.
Novellettes
Leather Goods
Stationery
294 State Street

ABEN HARDWARE CO.
78 Bank Street
Agents for Beach, Wright & Ditson Sporting Goods

Crorooms
Roses — Gardenia — Orchids
FELLMAN & FLORENT
Tol. 5088
Crocker House Block

The inn is proud to be "for your convenience."

The Selectmen have decided that Mr. Sanchez, Mr. Hunt, Mr. Kin- dsey, and Mr. Trots. They won the game 24-20, avenging their de- feat of last year. The women's team was: Dean Burdick, Miss Creighton, Miss Wood, Miss Botsford, Miss Brett, Miss Hartberg, Miss Manning, and Dr. Scoville. The students won this game.

The Red Shirts (men faculty) won their victory to Trainer Lux- benstein, who managed them but found it unnecessary to use the bandage or stretcher—or was it due to their mascot, Mr. Cobbledick's little girl? There are rumors of the students challenging the faculty to play again.

At the last basketball game of the season series, the Juniors won both scores and in their victory, had the Seniors. The score was 30-20. This game was the outstanding one of the season, both teams playing very well. Rush and Vanderbilt were outstanding defensive. The Juniors won the basketball cham- pionship for this year. They won the title in their freshman year but lost it last year.

Be sure not to miss the Dance De- nomination that is being held on Friday, March 15. As yet the plans are secret but rumor has it that it is going to be an excellent pro- duction. So—come everyone.

"Baba" Silvers and Betty Gilbert both of Vinal, helped with the ap- plause that brought four encore on "You're the Top." Saturday evening when they saw "Anything Goes" in the big city.

Freshman at Harvard University (Cambridge, Mass.), noted a bulletin board, "Attention, Freshmen,"" of which Mr. Kramer, a profes- sor, remarked that there are hardly any functions to which a fellow can go and stay anymore.
So long as the communists seem to be getting the "play" in the collegiate news these days, we thought that it would be no more than right that we should include something about them in this week's CRYPTO- graph. The Crypt has something to do with international law—but we can't tell you any more about it.

Before you get all tangled up in this week's puzzler, we'll tell you that the following is the correct answer to last week's CRYPTOgraph:

...open on arc

Dorothy Ray, 6th Floor, Hall of Fame, New York City.

That's it! If you got that one, you're on to the next.

John Martin Speaks on Miss Graham

Continued from Page 3, Col. 2) bar of music and every motif, the audience lost the greater meaning, while not gaining anything by picking up the fine points.

There should be no self-expression in dancing if it is to be considered great; instead the dancer should strive to imperfect the dancer that everyone has learned. There is no refinement in the bold declaration of personal feelings, and any such practices cannot be approved.

There should never be sensuous appeal in a dance. One should be conscious of the external beauty of the dancer; the beauty is not in Mrs. dance, but in the dance. When closing he stated the belief that everyone had the potentiality of dancing, and that when it was more widespread it would become a truly great art.

After this talk in Knowlton, Mr. Martin took part in an informal discussion in the lounge, where coffee was served to all those who wanted to come.

Please patronize our Advertisers

FBR "Fruit Food"

Heart Sandwiches

with Chicken and Lobster fillings

Stationery School Supplies

MAGAZINES

KEENEY'S

Main Street

The Specialty Shop

State Street

New Group Studies Dance Composition

Dance group is a new, informal organization on campus, and is open to anyone interested in creative dancing. The second meeting was held at Knowlton, Monday, February 26. Miss Elizabeth Hart- shorn of the Physical Education De- partment is its faculty adviser and Gertrude Park, 1935, of Webster, Mass., a member of the A. A. coun- cil, is chairman of the group.

The purpose of this new group is to study dance composition. Mem- bers will meet every two weeks to discuss and carry on new ideas. At present they are working on a dance to be presented at the gym meet, March 15.

The Beauty Box

For All Music Lovers

Music Department will present two Preludes on Wednesdays and a Liszt Symphonic Poem on Fridays.

The purpose of this new group is to study dance composition. Mem- bers will meet every two weeks to discuss and carry on new ideas. At present they are working on a dance to be presented at the gym meet, March 15.

Cincinnati, O.—Whether you believe it or not, the acceptance of radical social and economic innovations in the United States today will be tolerated only so long as the present cycle of generally mild, unstimulat- ing weather continues.

At least that is the theory of Dr. Clarence A. Mills, professor of experimental medicine in the Universi- ty of Cincinnati, who has recently published a volume on "Living with the Weather."

Thirty nationalities are represented in the University of Chicago (III.) dormitory which houses 100 foreign students there.

Special at...

THE HOGMeNOST...

Heart Sandwiches

with Chicken and Lobster fillings

Fisher’s

Remember Fisher’s for Corsages

We are now serving a 60c dinner consisting of soup, an entrée with vegetables, dessert, and coffee.
Ohio Wesleyan Makes Changes In Curriculum

Delaware, O. (ACP)—The selection of a major course of study will no longer be a requirement for graduation from Ohio Wesleyan University, according to a unanimous vote of the faculty on what Dean Harold J. Sheridan calls “the only plan of its kind in American colleges.”

Under the innovation each student will be allowed to decide at the outset of his junior year whether he wants to follow a major field of study. Those not registered as majors will be classified as general program students and will be under a special committee responsible for their work.

“Each of these students will have as a special adviser a member of this committee and his program of studies must be approved by that adviser,” the new provision in the university catalog will read.

The plan will aid those students who find that they have chosen the wrong major, Dean Sheridan explained. The faculty, he added, believes that more students, both those taking majors and those following the general course, will benefit.

A maximum of 32 and a minimum of 20 hours will be required of each major if he maintains a one-point average. Any student may be required to drop the major whenever his work is not satisfactory, according to the faculty vote.

“Iowa State College students who were given special reading improvement courses were able to increase their reading speed 35 per cent in 20 days.”

Policemen students are taught “police science” in short courses being offered in the teacher-training departments of several universities.

Joe Demyanovich, University of Alabama’s star fullback, never played football until he went out for the freshman squad at that institution.

Experiments on a large number of subjects at the Harvard University (Cambridge, Mass.) psychological laboratory have shown that difficult material is better assimilated by students by means of a speaker in the room than by receiving the same in formation by radio.

Twelve of the 18 students initiated into Phi Bette Kappa at Northwestern University (Evanston, Ill.), this year were co-eds.

The Italian Government has made a special gift of 800 Italian books to the University of California (Berkeley).