Organ Recital
We, who were fortunate enough to witness Miss Myers' organ recital on March 15, need no comment to assure us of what a privilege was enjoyed by those like ourselves who were entirely different world and if we had been allowed to come to some realization of that pleasantness for a single moment it would have been only to wish that many more might have gone with us.

The program which was most happily chosen was as follows:

* Bach—Prelude and Fugue in D Major
* Hummel—Introduction, Medley, and Polonaise
* Mendelssohn—Sonata in D Minor

I. Choral—"Our Father Who Art in Heaven"
II. Andante Sostenuto
III. Allegro molto

The voting which followed these discussions resulted in the college taking its stand against French occupation of the Ruhr; Adélaide Satterly and Harriet Woodford on America and the League of Nations; Margaret Wolls and Alice Bartlett once more in favor of the Harding-Hughes plan. The voting showed that the resolutions be read at an Economic Conference. The result of this consideration will culminate in the forwarding of opinions from the several colleges to President Harding, Secretary of State Hughes and Senator William E. Borah, with the request to the latter that the resolutions be read into the Congressional Record, and in this way a proper hearing assured for the opinions of the American student.

At a meeting of the Service League, held March 14, the following girls reported on the various questions that voting might be intelligent: Gladys Freshman and Charlotte Beckworth on the French occupation of the Ruhr; Adélaide Satterly and Harriet Woodford on America and the League of Nations; Margaret Wolls and Alice Bartlett once more in favor of the Harding-Hughes plan. SOPHOMORES WIN CHAMPIONSHIP.

The tenacity of atmosphere and the wildest of excitement reigned in the Gymnasium, May night, March 16, when the last inter-class basketball game of the season was played—the Freshmen against the Sophomores. Every loyal Freshman, every staunch Sophomore, every capable Junior and every true Senior was there to cheer on his classmates; the room was filled with humming voices, the atmosphere was electric, and the temperature was terrific.

The Sophomore team was in excellent form and their passing was unusually good. Such Crawford distinguished herself as guard, as did forwards, Edwards and Goodrich, who scored the second of the Freshmen's two goals. The Sophomores also showed their skill in the air when Silvia Bump, the guard, scored a perfect goal, and when Sadie Kenig, also a guard, added a fine goal to the Sophomore's score.

The game was played with great intensity and the players were hotly contested. The crowd was enthusiastic and the atmosphere electric. The game ended with the Sophomore team winning by a score of 6 to 2. TheSophomores were awarded the championship trophy, and the Freshmen were congratulated on their fighting spirit.

THE NEW LIBRARY.

We who have watched our new Library grow, from that thrilling day when ground was first broken for it, have thought of it longingly on days when our present quarters were so crowded that the floor or the arm of some generous friend's chair was the only seat available, more than anxious for the day when we shall take possession.

The new building is Georgian Colonial in architecture, and the furnishings are in keeping with that style. A few days after the entrance a low flight of marble steps leads immediately to the charge desk which occupies the center of the large hall.

The library contains a vast collection of books, both in print and manuscript, and is equipped with the latest in library equipment. The reading rooms are spacious and well-lighted, and the stacks are arranged in alphabetical order.

"DEVELOPMENT OF ARITHMETIC" DISCUSSED AT MATH. CLUB.

At a regular meeting of the Mathematics Club, March 16, Sadie Kenig read a paper on "The Development of Arithmetic as a School Subject in this Country," tracing its history from the founding of the Pilgrim Colony to the present day.

The paper outlined the most important scientific methods of map-making, with a brief discussion of the merits and limitations of the various types of maps.

"THE Pursuit of the Atom" was the subject of a lecture given on March 24, by Frederick A. Saunders, of Harvard College. Professor Saunders attempted to reach ultimate particles of matter by subdividing anything we can see is almost hopeless. There are living bodies smaller than the most powerful microscope can show us.

Professor Saunders explained several methods by which the atomic atom of atoms is derived, one of these being the Kinetic Theory of Gases. With the use of slides and by quoting figures, he conveyed some idea of the character of the atomic structure.

Counting atoms and photographing their trades has been made possible through research. Electrons have also been discovered as constituents of atoms, and these are known that ten thousand million of them laid side by side in a line would only reach across a hair's breadth.

As a result of this research, will prove of the greatest benefit to mankind.

LET'S "GET THERE IN THE MORNING."
Some say, "I can." others say, "I can't," and yet when we stop to think what is everyone who says in answer to the question, "Will you ask ten persons for ten dollars each in ten wet weeks?" This asking isn't begging— it is simply inviting those who are interested to help Connecticut College to live and grow and expand. If one insists that it is begging, she must admit that it is for the worthiest cause a person ever begged for!

This is an Endowment Effort. That word effort, means something. It means spirit, enthusiasm, energy, persistence, assurance. If we make our attempt half-hearted or careless, we shall never reach our goal, and if we do reach our goal, we shall forever give ourselves failures. We must reach it, and we will. Only you can put out our whole self in the effort, and we'll "get there in the morning."

WANTED—INSPIRATION.
Winter is going. Spring is coming. The waves of violet and pussywillows and green grass and blue skies come Inspiration—or it ought to come to every full-blooded human being. So, we urge, take advantage of this thin thing called Inspiration. Use it the moment you have it.

If C. C. could have a Liberal Club, our lathy would disappear. In its place there would be a keen zest for discussion, a lively interest in affairs national, personal, and international. We can see this, and out of it would come constructive ideas, of international affairs may take place—where we are all on an equal footing. If C. C. could have a Liberal Club, we:-would be better students. Our school is one free to say what she pleases without the fear of being laughed at where we are all on an equal footing.

We passionately hope that the duties of the Provost are not yet very accurately defined. They are in the process of development. Our distinguished predecessor in the office was a liaison officer between the Faculties and the Corporation. His word was "ex officio" a member of all the ten Faculties of the University. He sits with the Corporation and the Prudential Committee without the right to vote, and is a member of the Corporation's Committee on Educational Policy with the right to vote. He is also chairman of the University Council. And besides, he is "ex officio" a member of all the Faculties. He is expected to attend all the meetings of all the Faculties, and all the meetings of all the committees of the Faculties, as to see with all his eyes all that is going on, and must be at all times ready with wise counsel on educational questions that arise in all the Faculties, and all the committees of all the Faculties. It is a sort of watch dog—not unlike that Cerberus that lay by the threshold of the world. He is the Ko-Ko of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado"—The "Mikado" to the Corporation, our professors, associate professors, assistant professors, and instructors. The Departments and all the Departments also travel the same primrose path to the University Curriculum. Not somewhere else, the Provost must be on hand and ready accessible at all times to all members of all the ten Faculties and all the thirty departments of study who seek the refreshment of his wisdom. And when the Provost presides his business to the Corporation or its Committees, he must be familiar with the work of all, and without the fear of being laughed at— or there is no hope for him. As I have remarked, the sphere of the Provost has not yet taken fire and lasting form: it is still a sort of balloon, going through the initial stage of expansion. If I were to refer to the figure of the late Provost Walker, who likened the word "Provost" to a liaison officer, I should rather call the word "provost" lying between the Faculties—and the Corporation—placed there to receive and render the shades of American education. Of course in all colleges in the Faculties employ other liaison officers. Not to quote any violent phrases here, I may say that some has likened the word "provost" to a certain old known as "Three-in-One," at once a lubricant, a polisher, and a guard against rust. These are the words of a friend.

NEWS STAFF HAS A PARTY.
Following a brief business meeting held Thursday evening, March 15, in the Xexe Office, the News staff adjourned to the Service League room in Bradenford where preparations had been made for a real party. There Dean Nye was the guest of honor.

The room had been turned into a veritable cobweb by the twining of twittering and chirping chairs and under tables. Slowly the strings were untangled and at the end of each was found a tiny place where followed the clergy of popular advertisements which served as mural decorations, and the famous "scooter" conservation contest: the winners of these were awarded for their superior abilities.

After the exhaustion of "shouting provost" and the purgatorial game of "by the time the company was served with ice cream and cake by the freshman members.

Credit for the success of the party was due to Alice Barrett, chair-

IN THE LIBRARY.
The library has added to its shelves in the 1922 edition of Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians, in five volumes, Miscellaneous Supplement, the sixth volume. It furnishes the music lover with a complete, up-to-date set of reference books. The box contains articles on Beethoven, Mendelssohn, and Schumann, and is Sir George Grove's comprehensive work on music in literature.
A book not important in regard to either music or literature, although serious, is Sir James Matthew Barrie's 'Crown.' It will repay any young musician who will read it.
In essays we have added, Our Life and Letters, by Anatole France, the translation by D. B. Stuart (Works of Anatole France) 3rd series. Also, by Norman Douglas is a mixture of irony and laughter, a record of travel in Italy.
The Crow's Nest, by Clarence Day is a group of slight satirical essays on such topics as "The Enjoyment of Gloom," "On Cows," "Improving the Livres of the Rich." The illustrations by the author are amusing. Yellow Butterflies, by M. R. Andrews, has been voted one of the best pieces of fiction published in 1922.

JUNIORS SCORE AGAIN.
The Junior-Senior first-team basketball game was played in the Gymnasium, Wednesday, March 14, resulting in a decided victory for the Juniors.
The Junior team was in good condition for the game and did some fine pass work and shooting. Both Seniors put up their usual splendid fight; in spite of the over-confidence of the Junior advantage, and the loss of M. McCarty. Bigelow did noble work and was guarded Kendall, who led both teams in points. The Seniors made a brave fight for points, but the Juniors had the last word and won the game 72 to 29.
SOPHOMORES VICTORIOUS.
The Sophomore second basketball team won a victory over the Freshmen, Wednesday, March 14, in a very exciting and closely-fought game. Both teams had good passing, but the Sophomores were more sure of their baskets. The last minute of the game was one of breathless excitement and tension, when Abel shot a basket and brought the score up to 25-24 in favor of the Freshmen. Then, as the clock suddenly shot down the floor into the waiting hands of "Betsey" Allen, the Sophomores made a dash for a basket in the middle of the floor, and won the game for the Sophomores, making the final score 24 to 25.
A. A. CHOOSES BASKETBALL VARSITY TEAM.
The Varsity team in basketball for this year was chosen after the last game on Friday. The team is as follows: Edwards, M. Kendall and M. Cornelius: guards, I. Hamblett and K. Crawford: center, D. Hubbell, substitutes are K. Warner, J. Goodrich and A. Hilker.
Wilson—Dorothy Spinney who gave "Iphigenia in Tauris" two years ago here at college, recently presented the same drama at Wilson. Bays the Wilson "Billboard": "Dorothy Spinney is well remembered by those who heard her give Aida of Eurydice four years ago. Being thus acquainted beforehand with Miss Spinney's exceptional grace and charm of presentation, we are most eager to hear her interpretations this evening.

HISTORY CLUB ENTERTAINS.

A meeting of the History Club was held on Monday evening, March 15, in Plant Living Room. The meeting was given over largely to reading and discussion of CURRENT EVENTS, Elizabeth Moyle entertained with several readings from Dan AJEY's "Parody of the Outline of History." Marjorie Knox gave delightfully amusing talk on the Spanish Main and generally responded to requests for encore. Refreshments added to the entertainment of the evening.

A SPANISH MAIN CRUISE FOR COLLEGE BOYS.

New York, March—Cruising the Spanish Main in search of gold doubloons and pieces of eight, but of ultimate interest the latest thing in educational novelties. Such a cruise has been arranged by Dean A. Wellington Taylor of the Graduate School of Business Administration of New York University. It will follow the wake of the bold buccaneers who have tinged successive waves of juvenile literature with carmine, but it will not be made of the "low black hulks" so dear to the Captain Kid school of fiction, the Punteros, one of Great White Fleet of the United Fruit Company line of steamers, have been ordered to represent the July.

It is expected that a large part of the company will be made up of college students who will be able to combine an interesting and instructive vacation with an opportunity to gain from two to four points toward a college degree. New York University has consented to award these college credits because it regards the tour of exceptional educational value. Such of the tourists as seek such college credits will be required to attend lectures given on route by Dean Taylor and Prof. Paul J. Salvatore of the Department of Spanish of the Reverus Institute of Technology. These lectures will deal with the economic, political and historical phases of the countries visited. School teachers and business men interested in commercial conditions in the Caribbean will also be among the tourists.

THE NEW LIBRARY.

stacks under metal painted dull green. The floor is of slate gray. Straight, dark oak chairs are arranged at tables, with marble-topped counters for readers.

On the second floor is the stack-room, the cases arranged to form alcoves containing tables and chairs.

Here also is the Seventeenth Century room, furnished with a collection of antique furniture from several different countries.

The basement is taken up with small offices, a class room, a kitchenette furnished with glass and chinels, and the faculty room. Here the rugs and hangings are crimson, the walls mahogany, tables and rush-bottom tone gray, and the furnishings old Colonial chairs, and less beautiful but more comfortable, sofa—one in red, two in mouse gray.

The lighting throughout is by the overhead, indirect method.

The soul of the library has not yet entered into its body, The books have yet to be moved. When we see those all friends standing comfortably shielded, when quiet activity has entered the library will have become a part of our lives, instead of standing like a shy, unrecognized stranger within our gates.

JUNIORS AND FRESHMEN WIN IN FAST GAMES.

The senior first basketball team met defeat at the hands of the Freshmen Wednesday, March 7, in the gym. Although the Seniors got the jump, with Judy in her usual place, towering over all obstacles, the Freshmen guards were too much for the Seniors. Nevertheless, the whole Senior team put up a splendid fight. McCarthy and Hanigway both scored many baskets, and the final score was 58 to 46. Storborg and Cerlano both starred as Freshmen forwards, and H. Farnsworth played a pretty game at center. Both teams had worked up some fine passing.

The second team game between the Juniors and Sophomores was very even and close throughout. The final score was 25 to 23 in favor of the Juniors, for whom T. Mahan made two basket shots at the end. Both teams had worked up some fine passing. The Junior guards fairly outdid themselves in their splendid jumping, interceding and passing. The Sophomores were well matched against the Juniors. G. Wang and E. Allen did good work as Towardas, and the guards also played a steady game.
