"Be not afraid of greatness. Some are born great,
some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them."

-- William Shakespeare

Dear Members of the Class of 2003:

Congratulations! You have finished the last paper, attended the last student government meeting, played in (or cheered at) the last athletics contest, joined in (or applauded) the last artistic performance, endured the last committee meeting, and said goodbye, at least for a while, to many friends and mentors. The cycle of intellectual, social, physical, emotional, and ethical growth that began when you arrived on campus four years ago has reached if not a terminus, then at least a point of transfer.

Yet, it is no accident that the last ceremony of your undergraduate education is called Commencement. Graduation is much more of a beginning than an end. Over the past four years you have grappled with new ideas, formed new relationships, and immersed yourself in new experiences. Whether you know it or not, you have left an indelible mark on the unique community that is Connecticut College.

Our 21st century world is often called “post-modern”—by which people mean that there is no single, coherent system of meaning, that nonlinear thinking is ever more prevalent, that individuals have trouble organizing integrated and meaningful lives, and that communities have become collections of individuals and fragmenting groups. Yet, here at Connecticut College we seek, and often find, ways to overcome these fracturing forces.

As a small, residential liberal arts college, our educational ideas are rooted in the ancient academies of Greece and Rome, our faculties in the medieval Christian cloister, and our communal life in the British public schools. Yet, we are also characterized by a very American idealism and optimism. We believe that integrated lives are possible; that social diversity can become a basis for new forms of unity; and that soul, mind, and body can be developed together, in proportion, and in balance.

Your class has been part of a community of individuals who have lived, worked, played, and sought meaning together. In the process you have helped to create and shape this community. Now, I hope that you will take something of its ideals and aspiration into every community to which you belong in the years ahead.

Upon Commencement, you will become a member of another, larger community centered on Connecticut College—the community of more than 24,000 illustrious alumni. As a member of that community, I hope you will return to campus often and play a role in shaping the College’s future. I look forward to seeing you then.

Norman Fainstein
President

The Class of 2003 Koine Dedication

Christa Mathieu, Cro Bar

"Most bartenders will let you tell them your problems and then move on, but Christa will listen and talk to you about them. Because of this she's helped more than a couple of people through hard times. We'll all miss you Christa, and we wish you the best."

The Class of 2003 dedicates this year's Koine to Christa Mathieu, dedicated assistant permittee of the Cro Snack Bar. Sadly, Christa's tenure at Conn, like the senior class', is coming to a close. Everyone who has ever been to the Cro Bar can tell you a different story about an experience they have shared with Christa. She has been an integral part of our weekends and for many of us, weekdays since we passed the magical milestone of turning 21. For those of us who gathered the gumption to enter the hallowed ground of the bar prior to our 21st birthdays, Christa was there, smile on her face, telling us to wait until our time. The entire senior class thanks Christa for her ever-present smile, dedication to her job, and most of all, the memories with which every member of the senior class will leave with. Thank you and best of luck!

In The Beginning...

"He who would learn to fly one day must first learn to stand and walk and run and climb and dance; One cannot fly into flying."

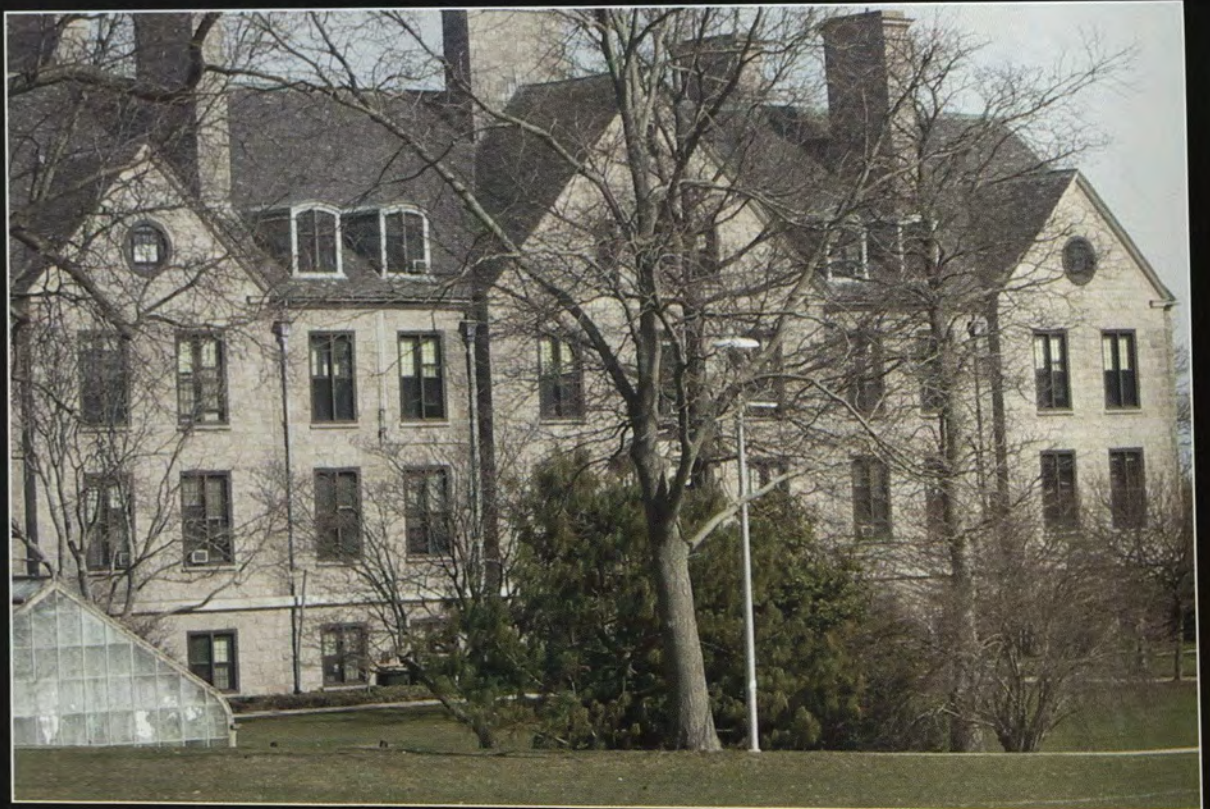

-- Friedrich Nietzsche

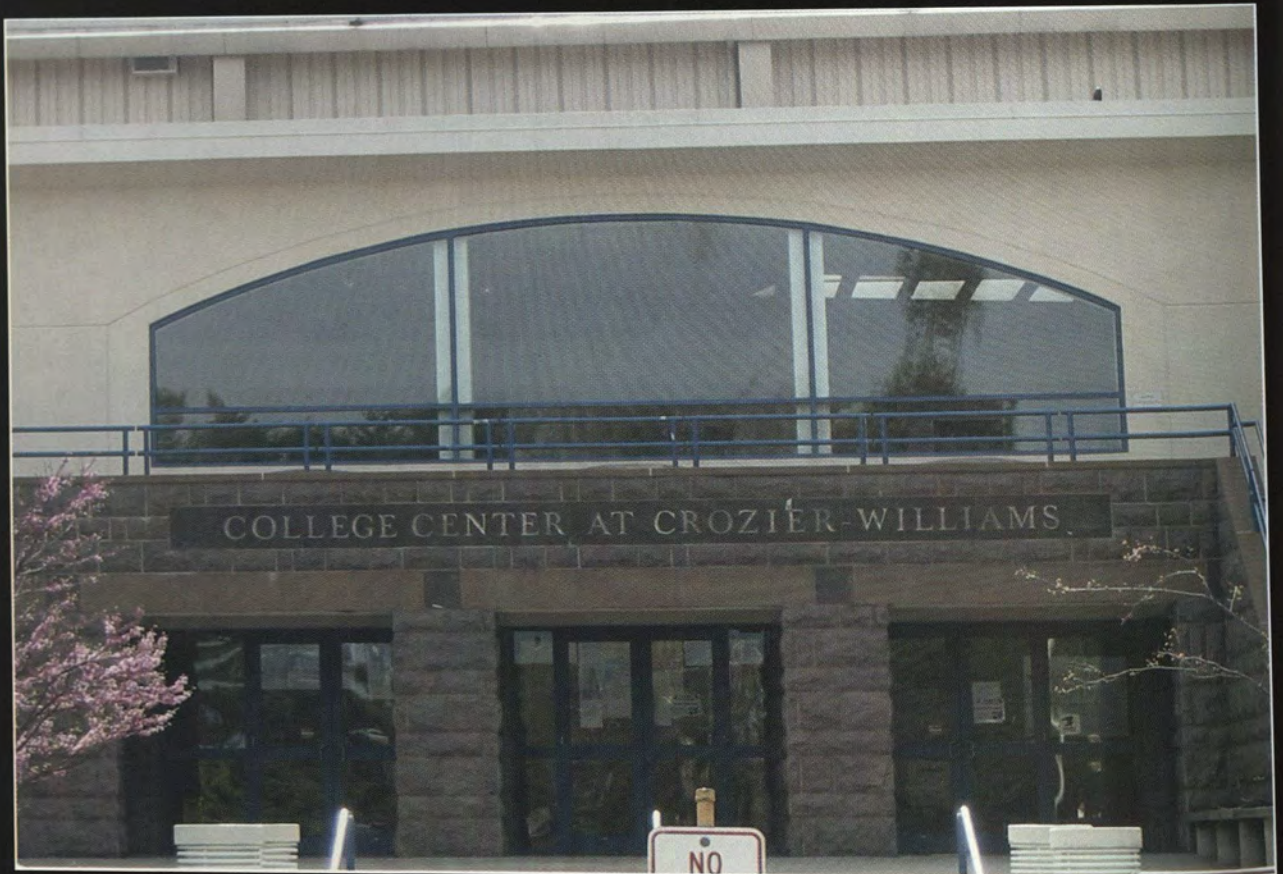

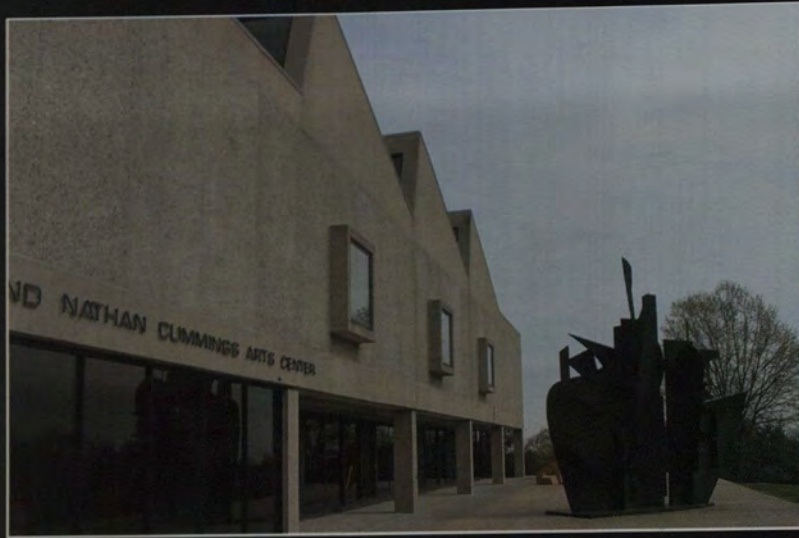

"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time."

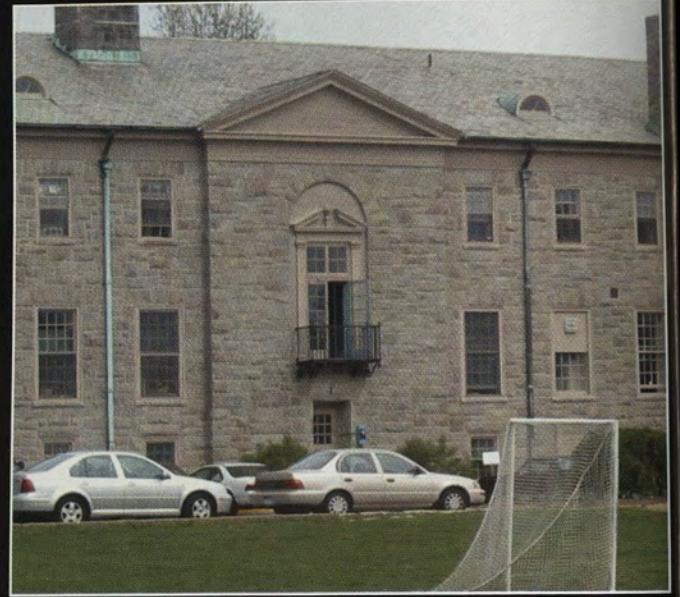

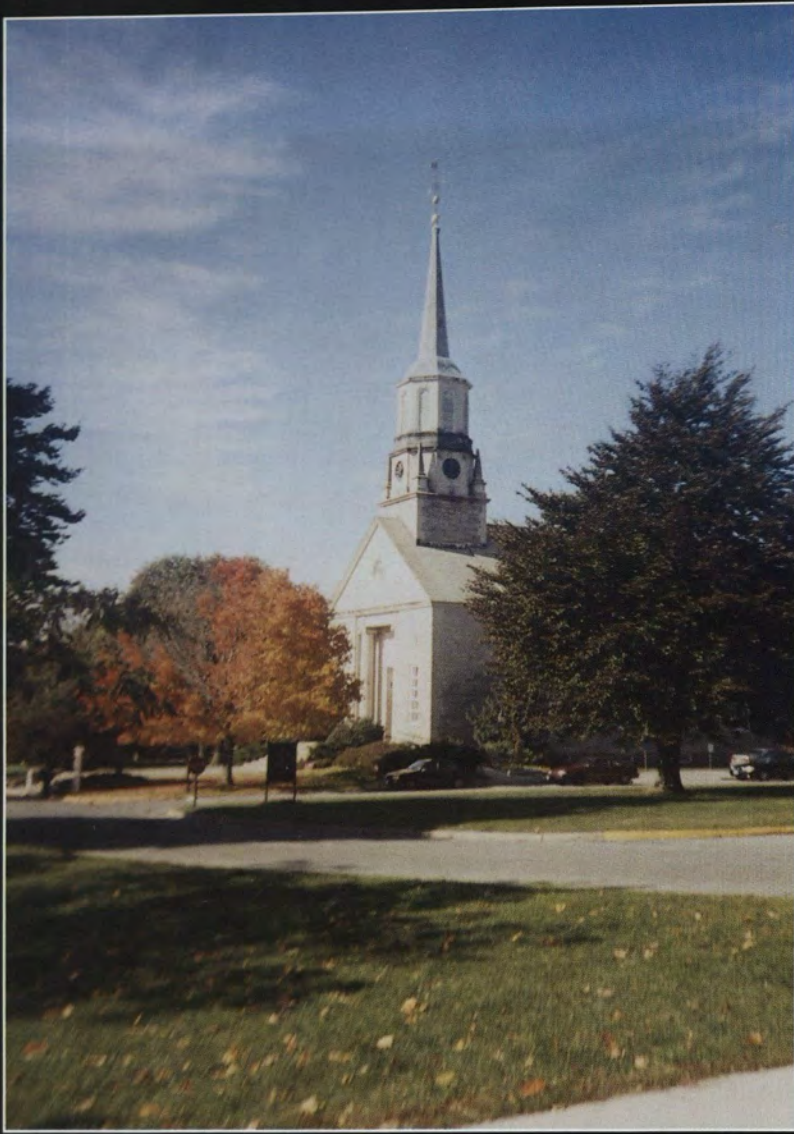

-- Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

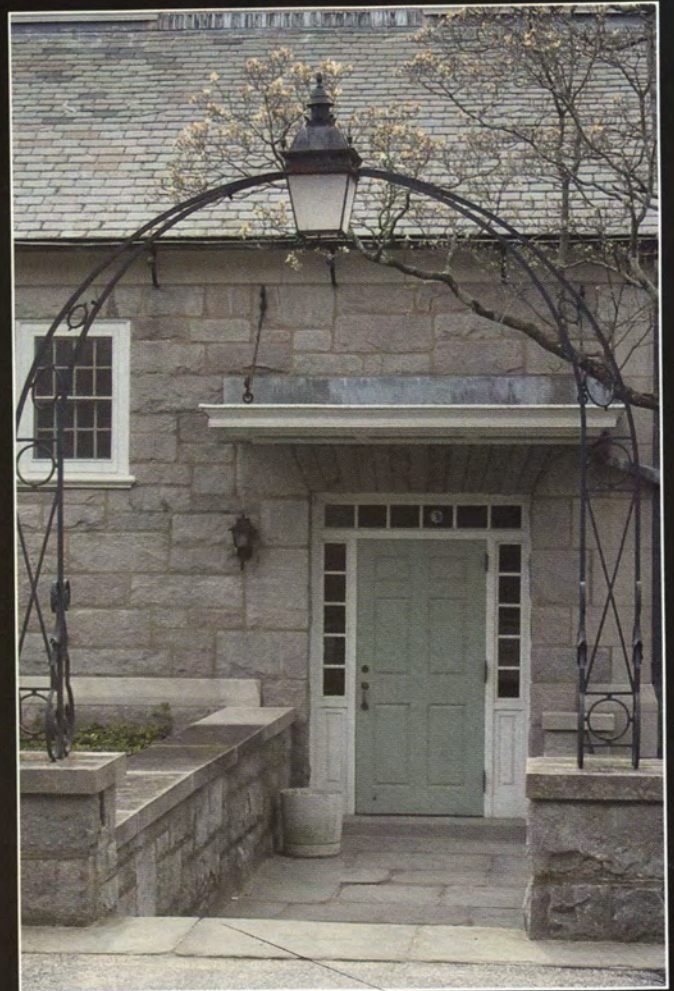

Hold fast to dreams
For if dreams die
Life is a broken-winged bird
That cannot fly.

Hold fast to dreams
For when dreams go
Life is a barren field
Frozen with snow.

-- Langston Hughes, "Dreams"

Take this kiss upon the brow!
And, in parting from you now,
Thus much let me avow:
You are not wrong who deem
That my days have been a dream;
Yet if hope has flown away
In a night, or in a day,
In a vision, or in none,
Is it therefore the less gone?
All that we see or seem
Is but a dream within a dream.

I stand amid the roar
Of a surf-tormented shore,
And I hold within my hand
Grains of the golden sand --
How few! yet how they creep
Through my fingers to the deep,
While I weep -- while I weep!
O God! can I not grasp
Them with a tighter clasp?
O God! can I not save
One from the pitiless wave?
Is all that we see or seem
But a dream within a dream?

-- Edgar Allen Poe, "A Dream Within A Dream"

Society Organized Against Racism (SOAR)

Chair: Jared Lamorte and Heidi Alvarez

The Connecticut College chapter of Society Organized Against Racism (S.O.A.R.) provides a healthy atmosphere for the discussion, involvement, and action in the area of racism, prejudice, discrimination, and culturism within and beyond the Connecticut College Community. Part of our major programming year is our annual SOARFest that incorporates the surrounding areas of New London and Connecticut College in a day for of cultural performance, displays, arts and crafts and more. S.O.A.R.'s initiative is to provide people with consciousness programming that will hopefully lead to a common community with all. "Together we stand, divided we fall." We are all part of a common struggle, we need to just be awakened to what that struggle is. Conquer your struggle.

Men's Cross Country

The Connecticut College Men's Cross Country team amazed the entire nation this year with their valient efforts and successes. The Camels finished fourth at the New England Division III Championships and advanced as a team to the NCAA National Championship meet. At New England's, the top seven runners all posted their fastest times in the five-mile distance en route to a fourth place finish. The team had never placed higher than ninth at this meet. Seniors Dave Clayman, Adam Fitzgerald, and junior Jesse Efron all garnered selection to the All-New England Team. Clayman is the first runner to finish All-Conference for four consecutive seasons.

At Nationals, the men's team went in seeded 24th and finished 20th. Members of the successful team were: Adam Fitzgerald, David Clayman, John Ridyard, Alex Roe, Matt Buchholz, Jesse Efron, and Matt Lunt. Head coach, Jim Butler, was named NCAA Division III New England Region Coach of the Year. "This is my team's award," Butler stated with pride.

On top of a great athletic season, the cross country team also showed thier academic abilities. John Ridyard, a freshman, was named an individual Academic All-American for the 2002 season.

The Women's Cross Country team placed 9th at NESCAC's this year, after a 10th place seeding. They unfortunately had to run with one of their top four runners sidelined. They finished with 242 points ahead of Hamilton College and Colby College. Kirsti Fitzgerald and Mary McCudden were named All-New England.

The women were successful enough to have a birth at ECAC's where they finished 14th out of 15, beating out Johnson and Wales.

The women's cross country team this year had a wonderful freshman addition from New Jersey. Mary McCudden qualified for Nationals where she placed 91st out of 215. She was the 8th freshman to cross the finish line, posting a time of 23:15.9 in the 6K race.

The Women also showed their intelligence by being named team Academic All-Americans. On top of being named as a team, senior captain Sarah Morgan and junior Kirsti Fitzgerald were named individual Academic All-Americans.

The most impressive accomplishment the field hockey team had this year was ten of their team members receiving Academic All-American honors from the National Field Hockey Association: Katie Roth, Ashley Scibelli, Kimberly Stellavato, Erin Wing, Stephanie Cole, Elizabeth Cusack, Corey McAuliffe, Katie Roe, Ashley Coltin and Carrie Ozols.

The top scorers for this year's field hockey team were: Emily Huffman - 8 goals, Caitlin Connolly - 3 goals, Christy Basset - 2 goals, Eleni Kotsonis - 1 goal, and Carrie Ozols - 1 goal.

Emily Huffman had her time in the spotlight this year as she was named to the NESCAC all-conference team, the Division III all-region team, and the NHFCA third-team All-American.

Men's Soccer

The Men's Soccer team proved that they did not use only one player to carry them through their season. At different occasions, different players were noted as contributing great skill.

Eric Archer was named the NESCAC player of the week in late October for his amazing performance in the Colby game.

Jon Knights was named to the NESCAC All-Conference team. He had a record 68 saves for the season and averaged 5.23 saves each game.

P.J. Dee was also named to the NESCAC All-Conference team as well as the New-England Intercollegiate Soccer League Senior All-Star Team.

Women's Soccer

The Women's Soccer Team made it to the NESCAC semifinals where they had to face the 1st seeded Tufts. The women played a hard game and were tied at the half, but lost 2-1 after two overtime sessions.

Christine Culver was named the NESCAC player of the week in mid-November. She was also named to the NESCAC All-Conference Team and the NSCAA first-team all-region.

Head Coach, Ken Kline had his share of praise as well. He was recognized as the NSCAA Regional Coach of the year. It was Kline's 18th season as the coach, but his team doubled their winning total this year, from five games in 2001.

Outdoor Track & Field

The Camels started out their indoor season with impressive performances at the Brandeis Invitational. The women placed 2nd and the men placed 7th. After that, it was a year of record breaking as the season continued. Senior Becca Strauss broke her own school record in the weight throwing event, tossing a distance of 40'08.75. This happened at the Tufts Invitational where the women finished 8th out of 13 schools, and the men finished 10th out of 14 schools. Lori Kessel broke two records at the Boston University Invitational. She ran both the 200-meter and 400-meter races in times of 27.01 and 89.70 respectively. At the MIT invitational, the men set a record in the distance medley relay. Matt Buchholz, Ryan Williamson, Alex Roe, and Adam Fitzgerald teamed up for a seventh place finish in a record-breaking time of 10:39.07.

At the New England championships, two school records were set in relay events for the men. In the distance medley relay, Jesse Efron, Ryan Williamson, Matt Lunt, and Matt Buchholz teamed up to set a Camel record with a time of 10:25.63. In the 4x800 relay, the foursome of Alex Roe, Matt Buchholz, Matt Lunt and Jesse Efron recorded a time of 8:00.74, setting another Connecticut College record. The Camel women made some history of their own at All-New-Englands in a relay event, setting a new record in the 4x800 distance. Kim Bellavance, Meredith Stebbins, Sally Girouard, and Sarah Morgan entered the Camel record books with a combined time of 9:37.22.

Indoor Track & Field

Mary McCudden started the indoor season off the right way by being named ECAC Division III athlete of the week. McCudden gave a dominating performance in her first place finish in the 5000-meter distance at the Connecticut College Invitational, finishing 22 seconds faster than her nearest competitor with a time of 18:23.47. It was her fastest time in the 5000 outdoors and it qualified McCudden for the New England Division III Championship.

The Camels continued their record-breaking habits of the indoor season. The Connecticut College women's 4x400 relay team broke a new school record that had existed since 1989 with their first place finish in the Silfen Invitational at Connecticut College Saturday afternoon. Meredith Stebbins, Lori Kessel, along with senior captains Meg Carleton and Kim Bellavance teamed up to post a record setting time of 4:04.70. The finish topped the 14-year-old record by 0.15 seconds.

Mary McCudden and Adam Fitzgerald both made qualifying times for Nationals at NESCAC's. Adam qualified with his first place finish in the 10,000 meters, and Mary qualified with her first place finish in the 5,000 meters. Lori Kessel also showed her strength with her second place finish at New Englands in the 400 meters.

The Camels started their season off with a new coach, Marc Benvenuti. It proved to be the beginning of a new era, as records fell and team overall records improved. The women were led by Kate Kovenock who was named ECAC swimmer of the week and earned All-American status. She broke school and conference records in the 50 and 100 freestyle as well as the school record in the 200 freestyle. Kate Derr, Lexie Zukowski, and Molly Goettsche joined Kovenock to set the 200 medley relays. Zandan replaced Zukowski to help the medley relay set the 400 record. Kovenock, Goettsche, Zukowski, and Zandan set the 200 free relay record.

After what could have been a very frustrating season, the lady Camels showed they knew how to end a season. The game was referred to as one that will be remembered for a lifetime by one of the players. This game came down to overtime and it was in the last eight seconds of overtime that junior Erin Shields netted two free throws to ensure the upset of and the win over Albertus Magnus College.

The leading scorers for the lady Camels this season were Margaret Guernsey - 197 points, and Erin Shields - 189 points. Sarah Huntington, Molly Gage, and Christa Thoeresz all broke 100 points.

Men's Basketball

The biggest highlight for the men's basketball team this year was how well they played in their first NESCAC victory of the season. Five different team members scored in the double digits during the game versus Middlebury. Freshman Danny Melzer poured in 19 points, leading a host of five Camels in scoring double figures. Senior Mike Strangfeld netted 13 points, and added nine rebounds, six assists, four blocks and three steals. Kevin Herrington registered his second double of the season, tallying 13 points and hauling in 14 rebounds. Junior Rob Wilson canned four three-pointers and finished with 13 points. Travis Reid chipped in with 11 points and seven rebounds for the hosts. Nate Anderson led all scorers with 21 points for the visiting Panthers.

The team combined to shatter a club record for the number of three-pointers in one season. The previous record was 181 three-pointers, but this year's team finished the year off with 281. That was an average of 11 per game, with seven players having 20 or more.

Facing a tougher schedule of opponents than the previous year, the Connecticut College Women's Tennis Team demonstrated great determination and improvement going into their second season under head coach Paul Huch. This year's women's tennis team was led by junior co-captain, Emily Sedlis. She competed at number singles and advanced to the semifinals at the Middlebury Invitational.

Led by head coach Paul Huch, the Connecticut College men's tennis team scored a stunning 4-3 victory over one of the top 10 teams in the Northeast Region, the Colby College Mules. The Camels were paced by seniors Dan Greenblatt and Nick Sheikh who swept singles play and teamed up for a victory in #1 doubles. Greenblatt and Sheikh have been a model of consistency in the NESCAC this spring but ironically the match was decided by the #6 singles player, Nick Raffel, who produced a phenomenal three set victory to clinch the upset victory for the Camels. With the victory, the Camels doubled their NESCAC win total of 2002.

Men's Rowing

The Men's Rowing team had an outstanding season considering their extremely young team, with only three seniors.

At Worcester, the first varsity eight placed fourth with a time of 6:29.7, finishing behind MIT, WPI and Williams College. Freshman Alex Forden handled stroke with Emily Cuthbertson as the coxswain. The second varsity eight posted a time of 6:57.9. Chip Krueger stroked the boat with Pam Ziering as the coxswain. The men's novice four recorded a victory over WPI, winning with open water in a time of 7:56.5. Ivo Parashkevov manned the stroke with Mike Schreve as the coxswain.

At the New England Championships the first varsity eight finished 15th out of 18 boats with a time of 6:19:45. The second varsity eight boat was 11th with a time of 6:38.11.

Head Coach Ric Ricci started the Connecticut College men's rowing team in 1973. He returned to the Conn in 1988 and has been coaching here ever since.

Women's Rowing

The Women's Rowing team at Connecticut College showed everyone how strong they are this year. The Connecticut College Women's Rowing team concluded its fall racing season on October 26th at the Head of the Fish Regatta in Saratoga, NY. The Camels had an impressive showing, finishing near the front of the pack in all of their events. In the Novice Women's eights event, both Camel boats placed among the top nine finishers in a 44 boat field.

The ladies posted two very prestigious championships this year. The first was the winning of the Trudy Harding Emerson Cup. The first varsity eight boat captured first place, posting a time of 7:10.94, beating out Trinity and Wesleyan. Senior co-captain Becca Fagan handled stroke on the winning boat that finished ahead of Trinity College by 1.07 seconds. Julie Chyten-Brennan, April Sullivan, Jane Ballerini, Clare Drayer, Lil Kolack, and Jillian May rowed from seats seven through two. Senior co-captain Erika Ferlins was in the bow seat with Lindsey Silken as the coxswain.

The Connecticut College rowing teams competed at the New England Championship Regatta on Lake Quinsigamond in Worcester, MA. The Camel women's third varsity eight boat picked up a gold medal with a winning time of 7:18.97. Sophomore Barbara Seymour handled stroke on the winning boat. Morgan Maeder, Hilary Garrison-Botsford, Alina Gross, Sarah Blair, Sarah Crooks, and Julie Berson rowed from seat seven through two. Senior Meg Kalisz manned the bow seat for the Camels. The second varsity eight boat finished 6th out of 12 boats and the first varsity boat finished 12th out of 18 boats.

Sailing

The Connecticut College sailing team, ranked 19th in the latest ICOSA National Poll, placed ninth out of 18 teams at the New England Dinghy Championship Regatta in Boston, MA. The Camels scored 312 points, finishing in front of the Coast Guard Academy and Massachusetts Maritime Academy. Junior John Stakes and Stonington's Henry Maxwell led the Camels in the "A" division to a ninth place finish and a score of 159. In the "B" division, Danny Markham, Cooper Offenbecher, sophomore Stella Emsellem and ICOSA All-New England Sailor Kate Mitsch sailed for the Camels. The foursome combined for an eighth place finish and a score of 153 points.

The camels showed their dominance by capturing the trophy at Boston University. Adolf Haffenreffer and sophomore Marcie Berry sailed to a third place finish in the "A" division. Niko Kotsatos and sophomore Stella Emsellem teamed up for a first place finish in the "B" division, leading the Camels to victory with a score of 43 points. The camels placed first at the Southern Series Two Regatta hosted by Yale University, scoring 28 points and topping the field of eight. In the "A" division, Kate Bogart and Amanda Calkins scored nine points, leading the field for the Camels. Jonathan Cahoon and Heather Garver notched 19 points in the "B" division in another first place finish for Connecticut College.

Connecticut College senior sailor Kate Mitsch was named to the Intercollegiate Sailing Association (ICSA) All-New England Team. Connecticut College Junior All-American Amanda Clark was selected to the 2003 US Sailing Team. The selection was announced by the Olympic Sailing Committee (OSC). The US Sailing team "Distinguishes the top-five ranked sailor in each of the nine classes chosen for Olympic competition." Clark has been selected for the 470 division.

Karen's yearbook

Some years ago, when dad wrote the speech for graduation from Northern Highlands (the one that had get through graduation, go to college, meet a guy, get married and have kids...in that order) it spoke about it not being the end, but rather just another chapter. It doesn't seem that it could be more applicable to anyone else but YOU. Hashem has gone to a lot of trouble to get you where you are right now and it is obvious that He has great plans for you.

We have watched with awe as you have woven your magic through the lives of so many people and endeared yourself to so many others. Your chameleon ability to match your surroundings separates you from others and makes followers out of strangers.

You and your sister each have special gifts that make you unique. Yours is your warmth with children regardless of their circumstances and in some situations, in spite of their circumstances. You were always the one to help other kids out who needed it. Remember nursery school?

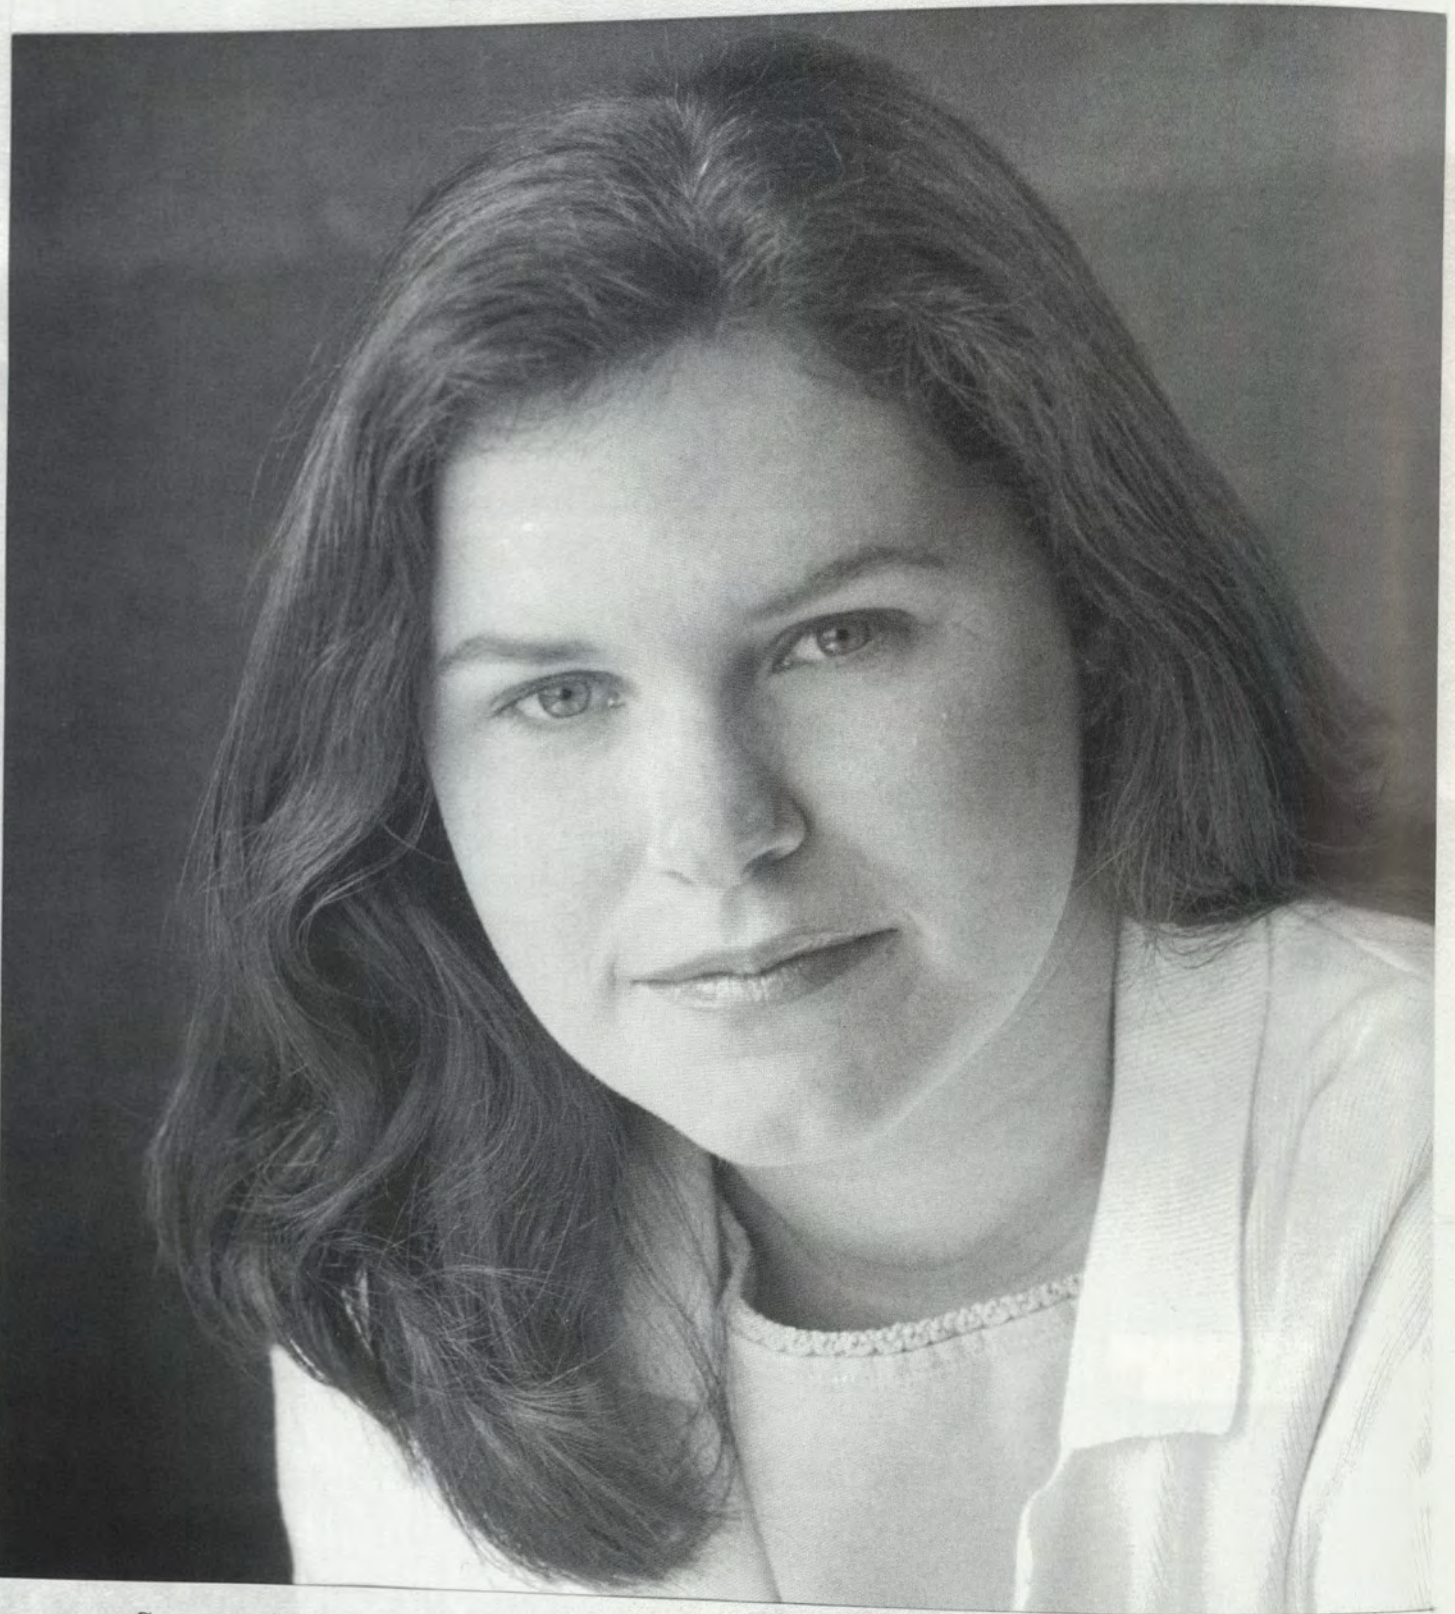

We continue to watch with pride as you formulate a foundation, set your goals and go through, around or over anyone or anything in your way. (Hello, NYU Admissions!) Our family support plan is to park the car on the side of the field and beep the horn each time you score.

Hey Karen, BEEP BEEP BEEP!!!

I hope you never lose your sense of wonder,
You get your fill but always keep that hunger...

I hope you never fear those mountains in the distance,
Nor settle for the path of least resistance...

Alexis D'Elia

From grade school to prep school throughout Connecticut College, and now onto medical school, you have made your Dad, your brother and I enormously proud of you. You are the model of the 21st century woman. You have strength of character, determination, social awareness, a sense of charity, and the depth of intellect to make a difference. Your innate ability to accomplish very difficult goals indeed sets you apart from others now, and we guarantee it will in the future.

Although you could have easily chosen less challenging routes or perhaps even given a little less of yourself, that is simply not you, and that is why we are all so proud that you are ours.

You are the personification of the traveler. We are certain that one day ages hence you will be able to tell, with that fulfillment that only comes from accomplishing challenging lifetime goals, that when the roads diverged for you "... you took the one less traveled, and that made all the difference".

God bless you, and love you, Mom, Dad and Justin.

Sara Wilkinson

Congratulations

To the best daughter in the world!

You always bring us great joy and soo many reasons to be proud..

We love you always.
Mom & Dad

Wyley Cooper Scherr

You've come a long way baby!

With much love from your very proud family.

Mom, Dad, Max, Eli
and Grandparents

Blemmy pum?

YES!!!

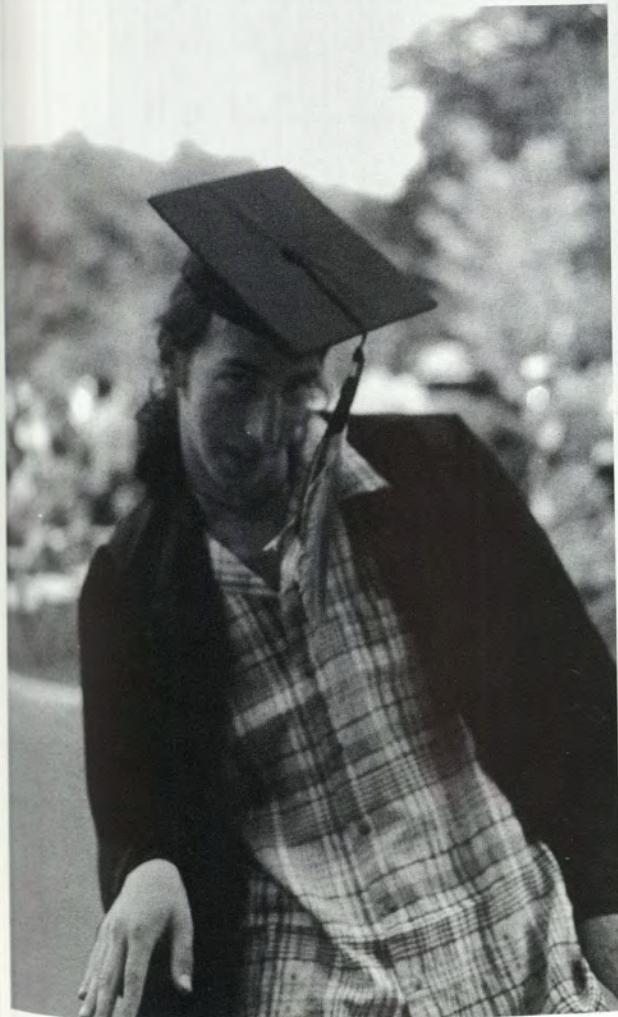

Abigail Davis Kornet

You are the light of our lives

All our best wishes on your way,
Ezra

Love & Peace
Mom, Dad & Pali

COMMENCEMENT 2003

“How can each of you construct a world where obligation and choice live proportionally with one another, where communities provide meaning rather than just conformity?”

-President Fainstein

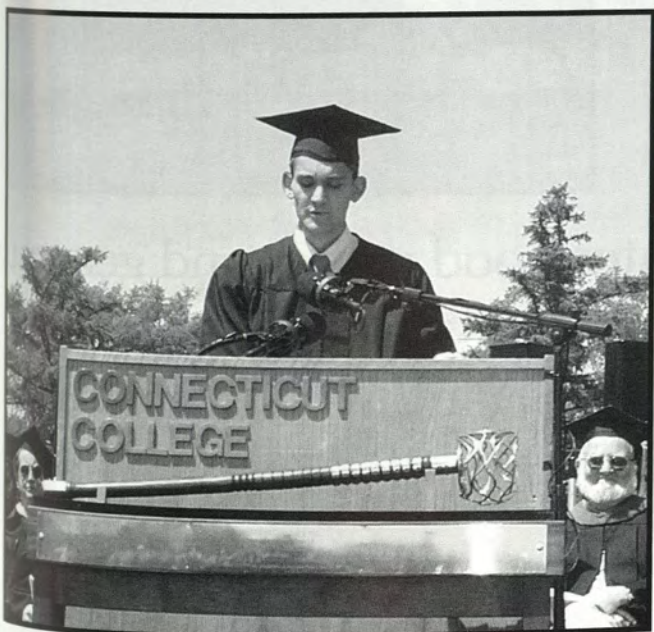

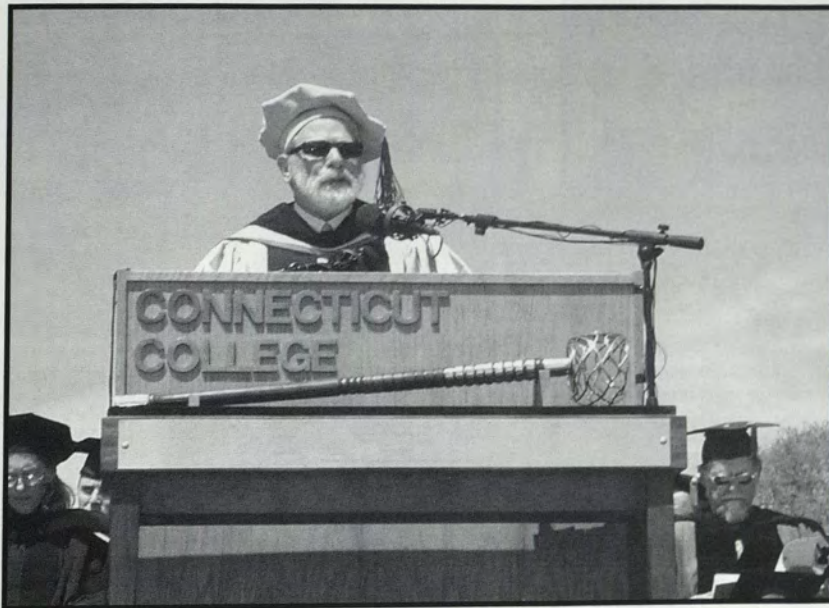

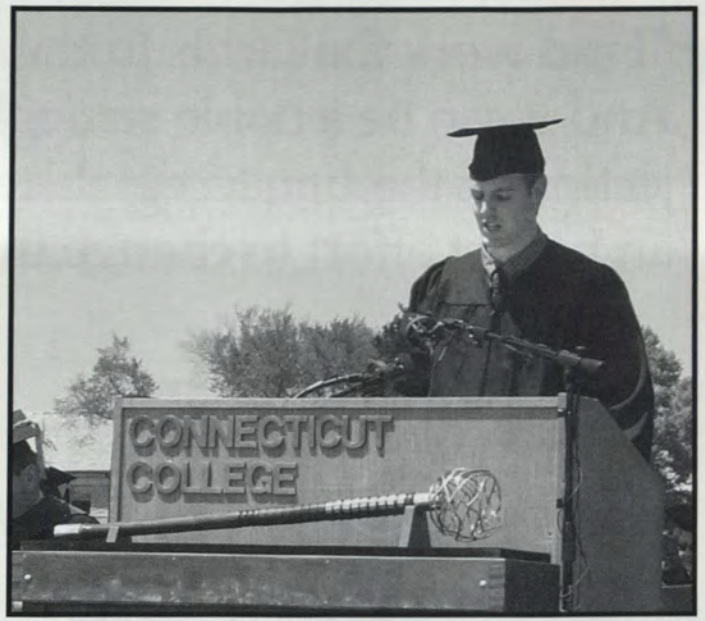

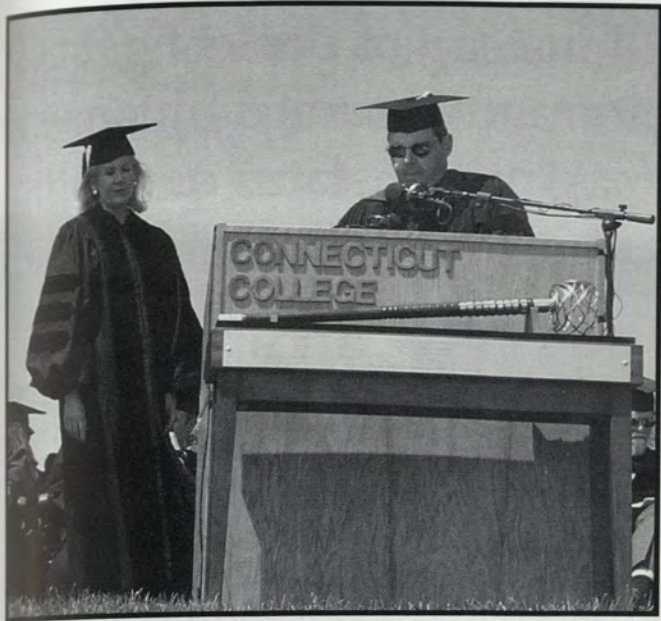

"The road to success is not straight. There is a curve called failure. A loop called confusion. A speed bump called friends. Red lights called enemies. Caution lights called family and you will have flats called jobs.

But if you have a spare called determination, an engine called perseverance and insurance called faith, you will make it to a place called success."

Terry Potter
Baccalaureate Address

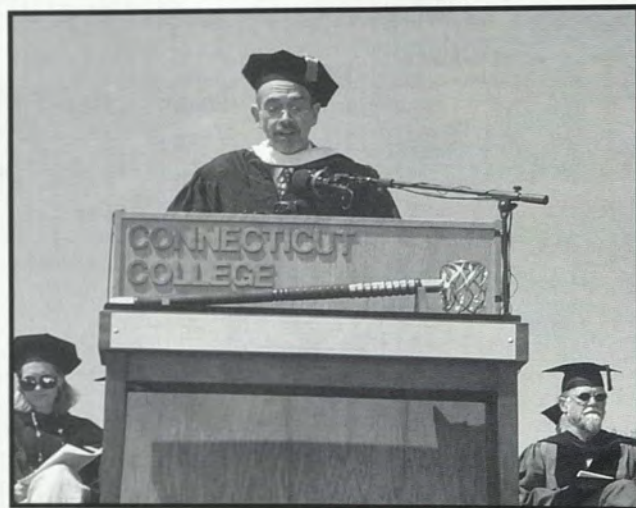

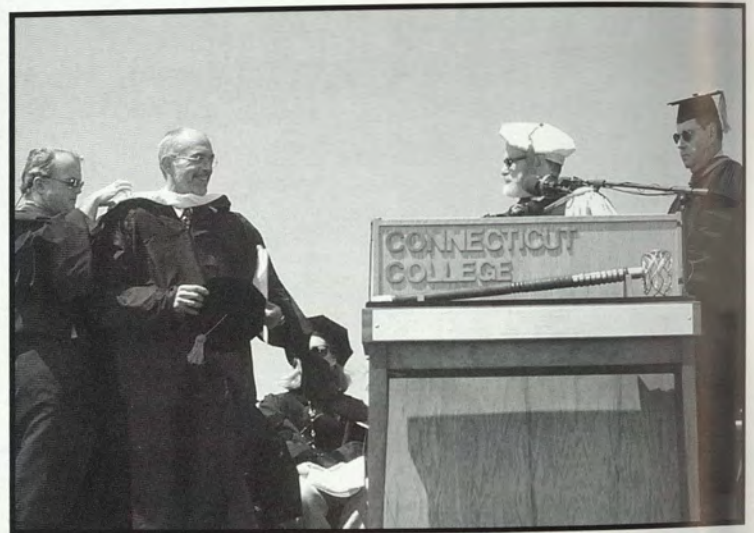

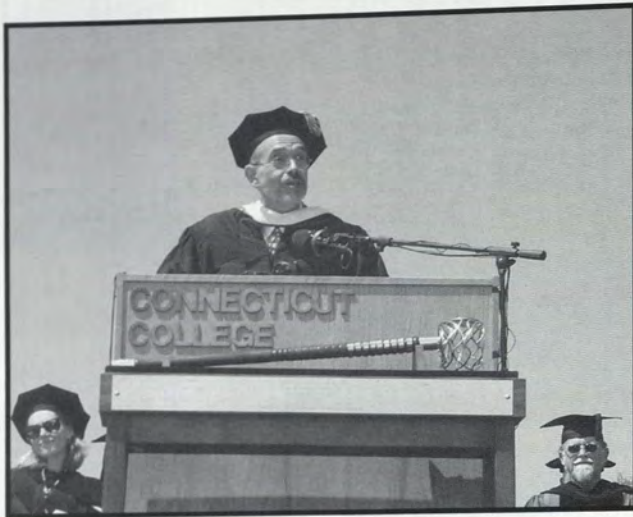

“Find work that adds to the world instead of depleting it. And it can be a noble struggle when accompanied by a rejection of the unacceptable, unimaginative status quo and an honest effort to change things for the better.

But how to improve an imperfect world, an imperfect nation, our imperfect selves?”

“...the unbearable pain that motivates good minds and generous hearts to bring their gifts to the table, roll up their sleeves, and fix things. Graduates, be a part of that. Find work that adds to the world instead of depleting it.”

Wally Lamb, Author
Commencement Speaker

"Differences are easy enough to identify and juxtapose; creating new unities, new communities requires continuous work and struggle. Remember that lesson as you shape your own families, cities, and countries."

"...to all of you in the Class of 2003 I say cherish Connecticut College and make the world more like it."

President Fainstein

Connecticut College by the sea
Your men and women together praise thee
Arboretum, Fanning, and Harkness
There we grew, there we knew
Work, sharing, and joy.

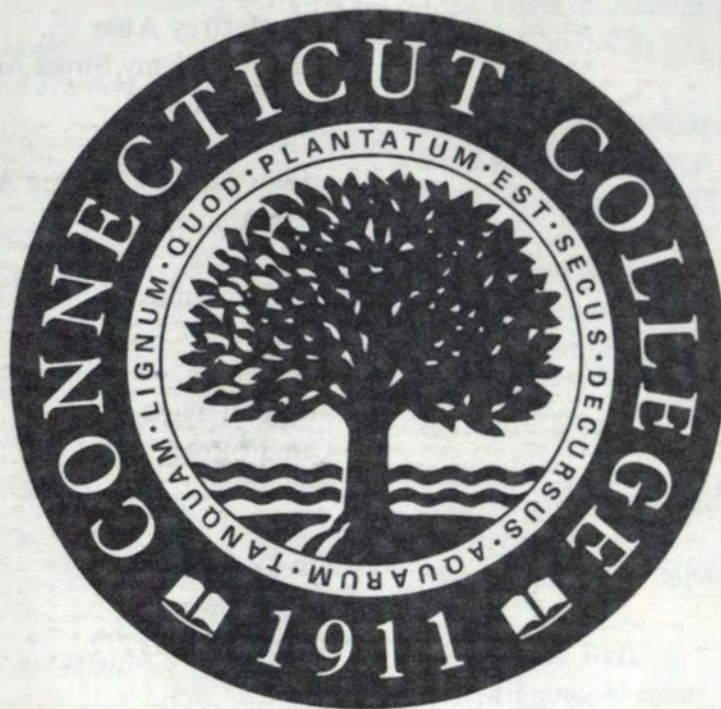

Alma Mater by the sea
Our hearts in love are lifted to thee
We'll carry your standard forever
Loyalty to CC
Faith, friendship, and love.

Hail to our college, white and blue
Keep through the years our love deep and true.
Our Alma Mater, we love thee
Ivied walls
CC calls to loyalty true.

Connecticut College liberal arts
You shaped our knowledge, our wisdom, our hearts
Our honor code we will carry
To the world where we'll build
Trust, justice, and peace.

“Tanquam lignum quod plantatum
est secus decursus aquarum”

“Like a tree planted by the rivers of water
(that bringeth forth its fruit in its season).”

YEARBOOK DEDICATION

The Connecticut College yearbook is named Koine, a Greek word meaning “voice of the people”. Within these pages are the voices of the students, faculty, and administration of Connecticut College, with a particular emphasis on the members of the Class of 2003. It is our hope that this book represents the true essence of the College and its community. In addition, we recognize the many people who have worked so that our voices could be heard, not only within our campus gates, but in the greater community as well. Therefore, it is our honor to include a special dedication of this yearbook to those who have spent their lives working towards the greater cause of freedom and free speech. We thank everyone who contributed to the making of this book, and to the greatness of Connecticut College, our proud alma mater.

Best of luck to future success,
The Koine Yearbook Committee

CLASSES OF 2003

To the Class of 2003,

Now that we have received our official parchment and have turned our tassels we may breathe a collective sigh of relief - we've made it! Although we are elated to have completed our rigorous undergraduate studies, the feeling is bittersweet. While we are eager to depart from the drudgery of school, we are undoubtedly hesitant to leave our friends and the intrinsic qualities of Connecticut College that we have grown to love. It is unfortunate that often times our appreciation for the people and qualities that have surrounded us is best realized when they are gone.

On a brighter note, we are optimistic of the future that lies ahead. As humans we are fortunately programmed to be in search of the "New". We are perpetually seeking new knowledge, new relationships, and new challenges. It is this instinct that brought each of us to Connecticut College and it is this same natural desire that will guide us through life.

As we journey beyond the shores of the Long Island Sound, we are better prepared to engage in the continuous search for the “New” because of Conn. At CC we have honed our skills, enriched our knowledge, and discovered and strengthened our passions. There should be little doubt in our minds (and hence great optimism) that we are prepared for the new challenges that lie ahead.

With contrasting memories of reluctance to leave and the avid hunger for new experiences, we aspire to take the best of the opportunities previously bestowed at CC and utilize them toward the opportunities we have yet to fully realize. As your momentum takes you forward, remember to look back upon all that has been encapsulated in these four years and most importantly the friends you have made along the way. It’s sad to think that our time on campus has a limit but it is better to acknowledge that our relationships can last a lifetime. Please stay in touch and I wish you the best of luck as you discover the “New” that life will afford you. God Bless!

All the best,

Bill Higgins
Senior Class President
