Campus Notes - Autumn 1954

On Saturday night after their arrival on campus the Freshmen enjoyed a reception in Knowlton to which the Coast Guard Academy cadets were invited. Under the direction of Service League such receptions have been held throughout the year. In the past Freshmen from Yale, Brown, Wesleyan, and Trinity have been entertained at Connecticut and have entertained our Freshmen on their campuses. Similar arrangements are being made for this year.

Service League also sponsors the annual Midwinter Formal held in February for all classes. The weekend is the high point of the winter season, and provides fun and relaxation for all from Friday until Sunday.

The charity and social service program is also under the auspices of Service League. Under its supervision students give their assistance to organizations in New London for the collection of special drives, and also work regularly at the local settlement house. The annual visit to the campus of the Red Cross Bloodmobile is sponsored by Service League.

The sixteenth Concert Series of Connecticut College includes the following recitals in 1954-55:

- Concertgebouw Orchestra of Amsterdam, Rafael Kubelik conducting.
- The First Piano Quartet.
- Boston Symphony Orchestra, Charles Munch conducting.
- Cesare Stepi, baritone.

All tickets for the series have been sold.

The year's program of the Connecticut College Choir began on Sunday, September 26, when the Freshman Choir sang at Vespers. The College Choir will sing regularly at every Vespers service and at Thursday morning Chapels.

The Christmas program will be presented with the Wesleyan University Glee Club, and will be given on both the Wesleyan and Connecticut campuses. The program will include selections from Handel's "Messiah". In addition the Choir will add much to the color and atmosphere of the Christmas Pageant.

In March, joining with the Yale Glee Club, the Choir will have the great privilege of singing Mozart's "Mass in C Minor". Two performances will be given, one at New Haven and one at New London. Mr. Arthur Quimby, chairman of the Department of Music, is the director of the Connecticut College Choir.

The first Convocation lecture of the year was given by Dr. Rollo May on "The Constructive Uses of Anxiety". Alumnae are invited to attend Convocations, which are held in Palmer Auditorium at 8:00 o'clock, admission free. The following lectures have been announced:

- Wednesday, November 10: Dr. Kemp Malone, "The Middle Ages".
- Thursday, December 9: Dr. Vera Michelles Dean, "New Trends in Europe".
- Wednesday, March 9: Dr. George Gamow, "Atoms, Nuclei and Elementary Particles".

Interest of alumnae in new members of the faculty and administration is always keen. In answer to the numerous questions asked about the new members of the College Community, we are printing the list with complete biographical data.

It is with pride that we announce that Miss Dorothy Bethurum, chairman of the English Department, is lecturing this year at Oxford University. In a later issue we shall publish news of her activities.

Mr. Smyser is chairman pro tem. of the English Department.

Miss Biaggi of the Spanish Department is on leave for the year which she will spend in Spain. Mr. Lockard of the Government Department is on leave on a Ford Fellowship, and is currently running for membership in the legislature of the State of Connecticut.

Others on leave for the year are Miss Monaco, French, who is teaching at Bryn Mawr; Bernice Wheeler '37, Zoology, who will be doing special work at Yale.

On leave for one semester are Miss Aiken of the English Department and Miss Weaver of Home Economics. Miss Finney of Economics will be on leave for the second semester.

MUNICH REVISITED

By H. M. Smyser

Mr. Smyser, acting chairman of the Department of English, spent most of the summer in Munich, which city he has visited six times. His comments are of interest and value to alumnae who wish to understand the peoples of foreign countries, especially those countries whose affairs are so deeply involved with our own.

Munich is a city of nearly one million people and has a corresponding metropolitan ism, but, as is well known, it is full of geniality or Ge"lIIetlichkeit. In my student days, when I was learning to speak German, a friend advised me to go to Munich. The advice was sound, as I found again this past summer.

In Munich even if one restricts oneself to only three or four meals a day in addition to an evening of beer-drinking in a restaurant or the garden of a restaurant, one is almost certain to have plenty of opportunity to hear and speak German at length. Almost inevitably, in any ordinary restaurant, one shares a table and so can get an insight into the minds and characters of many sorts of people.

I should like to begin these rather desultory notes with a highly insignificant story and then get on to matters from which one might conceivably draw conclusions.

On my first Saturday night, the first of many spent in Munich during the summer, there came to my table a man and his wife. What the man's occupation was I never learned. It was clear that he was not one of the many artists and intellectuals who, along with an infinite variety of other people, make up the quarter of Munich known as Schwabing. He and his wife were a very devoted couple and their conversation went by turns. The wife would utter a sentence and this would be followed by a sentence from the husband, and then would come the wife's turn again.

The man was making less than an American private in the Occupation Forces, which according to him is ninety dollars a month. (My friends in Munich later guessed that such a Muenchner as this probably made fifty to sixty dollars a month.) At any rate, he vastly prefers what he is making now to the twelve and one-half cents that he made for seven years in the German army. The wife said that her husband (her Mann) had a hobby: he was interested in nineteenth-century American history, and he in his turn said that he was especially interested in the Civil War. One following the other, they elaborated this thesis. Somehow the material seemed vaguely familiar and I recalled that Gone With the Wind was having a tremendously successful revival in Munich at the moment. (It takes an extra hour there because of two half-hour intermissions in which everybody eats.)

But the man's real hobby, she told me, was that er bummeln! Although the dictionaries are less colloquial, the proper Munich definition of bummeln should be "to pub-crawl and/or take a walk." It seems that from the time he ends work on Saturday, the Bummeler pub-crawls until the beer halls close, at four A.M. Then he walks briskly in the beautiful park of Munich, known as the English Gardens, until the beer halls open again, which in Schwabing would presumably be about eight A.M. But he goes to bed early on Sunday night and is thus fit as a fiddle for his work on Monday.

Then he walks briskly in the beautiful park of Munich, known as the English Gardens, until the beer halls open again, which in Schwabing would presumably be about eight A.M. But he goes to bed early on Sunday night and is thus fit as a fiddle for his work on Monday.

I tried to elicit his political opinions but he insisted merely that he was neutral, like the Swiss, and his wife begged me not to persist. They changed the subject by telling me that the wife was also employed and asked me to guess what she did. She had mahogany-colored hair, and it seemed to me that I had seen such hair, which is popular now in Germany, most often on the heads of ladies behind perfume counters. So I guessed "cosmetician." She was precisely that—a hairdresser—and was flabbergasted and distinctly alarmed at my uncanny insight.

In similar fashion I met this summer a man whose occupation is servicing slot-machines in beer-locale. He questioned me eagerly as to why slot-machines were illegal in most of our states. On my replying that it was merely Paritanimusus, he shook his head sadly and pointed out with pride that his company returned 60% of the "take" to the winners. Then there was the architect who was beside himself when he spoke about Mozart—and most knowledgeable. And the senile and lovable sculptor, who ramblingly told me how, in his youth, he had been exempted from military service by the Wittelsbach rulers of Bavaria because of his talent (their decision seems not to have been bad, if I may judge by what he told me about the museums which have his originals and those which have copies). He accompanied me to the street car and we waved each other out of sight. And the distinctly amateur economist, who assured me that Munich had no industries whatsoever. When I asked how people lived, he said, after a bewildered pause, that there was much building going on. (This is indubitable.) And the engineer who was rhapsodical about American scientific achievements and who as a boy used to take dancing lessons at the Viertabreszeiten Hotel. And the elderly couple who had moved in from Chiemsee and who were so bitter about Allied bombings in Germany that I felt impelled to remind them that London was earlier bombed. And so forth, and so forth.

The Bammel's reluctance to talk politics made no difference. I had already heard and was to hear and see enough in the following weeks to give me a pretty clear picture of the contemporary German political scene.

Nobody in Munich admits ever having liked Hitler, but, as a rule of thumb, I inferred that anybody who made an anti-Semitic remark in the course of the first four or five sentences was most probably an unregenerate Nazi. For example, there was the man at the Augustinerkeller who denounced Hitler as a Lump (in American, "bum"). He asserted the fact that our army had requisitioned his house and also that a new kind of Jew, "with curls on the side of his head," had now moved into Germany. One of my Munich friends, who was at the table, said sarcastically: "I see why you call Hitler a Lump. It's because he killed the wrong millions of Jews."

By a similar rule of thumb I think I spotted a somewhat larger number of crypto-Communists. These were people who had a pat answer, always very anti-American, for every argument, and, when the pat answer was challenged as being false or at least an oversimplification, could only repeat the pat answer. When speaking of America, these people rubbed the thumb against the index finger in the money-money-money gesture. Since this was exceedingly rude, and since rudeness is almost unknown in Munich, I could not help having the feeling that the gesture is taught by Communist leaders.

The important conclusion, however, is that a far larger proportion than I had dared hope are Middle Way, though with a much stronger tendency, I suspect, to turn Right rather than Left. I base this conclusion on two experiences.

In my association with Germans I have never met one who seemed to me really able to grasp the concept of democracy as we Americans understand it. That is why I use the term Middle Way instead of democratic. Even my best and oldest friend in Munich, whose resistance to Nazism was so stubbornly courageous that it is a marvel he was alive to show me around Munich this summer, could not with the best will in the world fully get the point of a long and arduous conversation on this subject. In this conversation, I tried to explain that the presence of Negro troops in the American army of occupation, far from being an insult to the Germans, was inevitable. Racism long antedates Hitler in Germany. Witness the case of the French Sénegalese troops on the Rhine immediately after the first World War, a cause of bitter resentment. The spectacle, by no means uncommon, of white German wives and black soldiers is a shock to even the most broadminded German. My friend said, "Isn't it true that Negroes are not admitted in some restaurants and theatres in America?" I said what any American should say: that legally Negroes were admitted everywhere; that our practice was not perfect but that we had been making advances and most notably a few weeks earlier when the Supreme Court had ruled against segregation; and that Eisenhower could not have done otherwise than send a normal number of Negro troops, without at once betraying our democratic principles and subscribing to Hitler's. I do not think I got the point across.

The second experience has to do with Germany's victory in the international soccer tournament. The event is so silly that I would not mention it except that the Times of London took it even more seriously than I did. The victory, which was won in Basel, was very thrilling, and when the team returned, it was greeted at Munich by milling thousands. My hotel window happened to be an even better grandstand seat. As soon as the welcoming was over, I went and got a haircut and did a couple of errands. I fancied that I was treated with a kind of insolence that I have never before met with in Munich. I attributed this either to my imagination or to the natural exuberance which a defeated nation would feel at having won at least some kind of victory, if only in sports.

But that night the football team was greeted in the Loewenbraeukeller by the president of the German sports association and, while thousands cheered, was told such things as that they had fought with the German flag in their hearts and had been watched over by some kind of German heroes in some kind of mystical German heaven.

In all candor, and perhaps by way of showing how complex these matters are, I should add two facts. Some days later, according to German newspapers, President Heuss made a very public, if somewhat mild, rebuke to the speaker in the Loewenbraeukeller. And secondly, while the illuminations of this historic evening were going on, I was sitting with a friend and six strangers in a Munich wine house. The strangers and my friend were talking gaily... about the soccer victory. Somebody at the table asked whether or not America had entered a team. I said I did not know, but that, since we played almost no soccer, I was sure that if we had, we must have been beaten promptly. A sportsman at the table said that we had entered a team but had not got so far as Switzerland. We were beaten by Mexico. I seemed to be the only person amused by this remark. I asked about the English team and was told that it got as far as the quarter finals. At this point one member of the group said—and the important thing is that the whole table rocked with merriment—“You Americans and English win the wars, but we Germans win the football games.”

After the evening was over, a very pleasant young German couple, who had been at our table, gave me a lift home in their tiny station wagon. They questioned me very closely and in most friendly fashion about my fabulous native land and its innumerable automobiles. I was particularly grateful for the speedy lift to my hotel. During the celebration of the afternoon, I had seen hundreds of people waving sticks, about three feet long, to which were attached red cardboard crescents about eight inches in length. These had an inscription which I hadn’t been able to read; but the German couple dropped me off just in time for me to dart ahead of the last street-cleaning truck and get a crescent out of the gutter. It was an advertisement and read, “Seventy-five years of Woolworth.”

“You Americans and English win the wars.” Whether or not Germany lost the war is debatable, but it must be confessed that a terrible amount of high explosives was thrown down on Munich. Though within sight of the Alps, Munich is on a plateau and has, or rather had, no hills. She now boasts three hills. These are the so-called Schuttberge. The Schuttberge are “mountains” of rubble. The smallest in acreage is about the size of a New York city block, but it is the highest—it rises something like two hundred feet. From it one gets a splendid view of the whole city. My friends and I wound our way around the gravel trail to the top. On the top is a cross about eight feet high, bearing an inscription in memory of those whose bones had to be scooped up with the debris.

Munich was raided sixty-six times, though the natives speak almost exclusively of three American daylight raids on the twelfth, thirteenth, and fourteenth of July, 1944. The first of these swept over Schwabing, the second over the center of the city, and the third over the south.

When we climbed the Schuttberg, I looked closely at the faces of the other strollers. Among them were a number of couples linked arm-in-arm. Still, I wondered whether this was a monument of nationalism, of revenge. Before the war, when I visited Munich, I came to recognize the “Nazi countenance.” It is the countenance of a man inclined to weep into his beer because his boss does not appreciate him and his nation has been wronged. I saw none of that on the Schuttberg am Luitpoldpark. But I cannot look into the hearts of the men who erected the cross, and I have no crystal ball.

I would not go so far as to say, as some do, that Munich is no longer a German city but an American one. To be sure, one sees German women in slacks, German boys with drooping socks, and handsome new apartment houses with washing hanging out of the front windows, these last being occupied by American troops who are immune to the rigidly enforced municipal ordinance against hanging anything out of any front window. Thus there is no denying a definite American influence.

On my last night in Munich I blew myself to a very fancy meal in a very fine restaurant, sometimes said to be one of the three best restaurants in the world. The food, the wine, and the service were above reproach. Innumerable waiters—it seemed to me not simply one waiter for each patron but one waiter for each dish for each patron—raced with spirit lamps over carpets that seemed overdue for a mowing. When I tipped the hat-check girl, she gave me what she probably considered the bonne bouche of service for the whole evening. She spoke to me in my own language: “Sank you very mooch. Solong.”

TO ALUMNAE:

The next issue of the Alumnae News will be published early in December. Beginning with that issue we shall be back on the regular publication schedule of December, March, May, and August. We thank you for your kind understanding of the delays brought about by the extra volume of work involved in the special three-year Alumnae Fund Campaign. During the campaign the Alumnae Fund gift of cash to the College will be added to the Student-Alumnae Center fund.

Details of the Distinguished Service Award given by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture last May to Esther Batchelder appear elsewhere in this issue. When pressed for particulars, Batch wrote: "I was on my way to the dance after the service in the spring of '11 studying at New York University. S. Muff found it a thrilling experience. She is enjoying her contact as a member of the Alumni Association, Executive Board, and getting a great deal of pleasure out of landscaping her new place.

Emma Wippert Pease wrote of the fun she had last winter in a writing class, taught by a newspaper man. She has been program chairman of the Community Club in Hamilton (Ohio) for two years and a vice-president of the Civic Music Association. Her son Bob is a teacher at Tufts College and his wife plans to teach at Northeastern.

Ruth McCollum Bassets' daughter, Kathryn Lee, granddaughter of Ruth McCollum '21, was born May 6, a second daughter, Kathryn Lee, granddaughter of Ruth McCollum Bassets.

Few responses to cards sent out asking for news means that everyone is too busy or not busy enough to make interesting notes. Flower gardens and vegetable gardens with canning, freezing, and jelly making keep many of us busy these days.

Congratulations to Joan Marie Odell who became a two-time grandmother on June 10th when her son Bruce and his wife Doris had a little daughter, Nancy Marie. Jessie Menzies Luce has received word of the safe arrival in Japan of her daughter, Marion Luce Butler (C. C. '49) and her baby, who have joined Marion's husband in the service over there.

Ruth Wells Sears, as Regent of the Ti- conquerora Chapter, DAR, attended the Continental Congress in Washington in April and in June was honored by being elected president of the Capitol District Regents' Council, N. Y. State DAR. She is also Eastern Director of the N. Y. State Federation of Home Bureaus. Ruth and her husband are leading what seems like an idyllic life in a 100-year-old house on a large apple farm in Washington County, N. Y. Ruth occupies spare moments knitting innumerable sweaters and mittens for her 11 grandchildren. Her hobby is collecting pitchers, of which she had 300 of all varieties. To use her own words, "We are travelling along life's journey enjoying the family and the farm, the TV, and the satisfying though different life that the country offers, a goodly measure of health and mental peace and I've decided that is what counts in this world today."

Lavinia Hall Smith has been in Nassau eighteen years and likes it better all the time. She regrets that she could not leave to attend class reunion last year. Lavinia and her husband are kept busy entertaining visitors from the States, among them several C. C. girls. Both experience a feeling of anticipation when a plane or the S. S. Nassau are due, wondering who will arrive next. On Queen Elizabeth's birthday, the Fourth of July and at other times during the year, the Smiths are called upon to attend Government functions and parties which, of course, are exciting. Lavinia is "completely spoiled" by the mild temperature in Nassau, where, in the hot weather, she has refreshing breezes and daily dips in the ocean.

Harriet Woodford Merriman has been elected secretary and treasurer of the Winthrop Scholars. She spends part of her summers in her cottage at Fenwick where she entertains her friends. Recently she visited Ruth Wells Sears and testifies to the interesting life Ruth leads. Harriet keeps busy writing, reading, working in the Community Red Cross, volunteering at the Hartford Hospital, interior decorating and playing bridge.

Katherine Stone Leavenworth is still an enthusiastic teacher of piano. The program of her June recital shows thirty-seven pupils participating. Tony recently was accompanied in an hour long song recital before the Artists and Writers of Conn.

Alice Boebringer teaches at the Thomas A. Edison Vocational High School Annex in N. Y. City. In these last years she has travelled widely with her 80 year old mother, visiting Lake Louise, California, Florida, and the Gaspé. She spent her sabbatical in the spring of '51 studying at N. Y. University. Alice is associate Sunday School superintendent, historian of...
Eastern Star, secretary of the Long Island Swiss Club and finds time to raise fruits, flowers, and vegetables on her bungalow lot in Springfield Gardens, N. Y.

Our sympathy goes to Mary Wheeler who reports a "grim" year. Mary's mother's sudden death in September was followed by the passing of her father in February. The family home was sold and Mary is now living in an apartment in New Haven. The one bright spot in her year was a trip with her sister to Bermuda where she went to gather strength for the sad job of breaking up her old home.

We are saddened to hear of the death of the mother of Elizabeth Whitten Fales. Elizabeth and husband have moved to be nearer the University of Oklahoma where their son is studying to become a chemical engineer. Elizabeth's activities include program planning for her church Circle, helping in the Mother's Club of her son's fraternity, gardening, reading, and pursuing her librarian training with her neighbors' children.

MRS. HUBER CLARK
(Marion Vibert '24) Correspondent
Box 578, Stockbridge, Mass.

Marie Fester Waturous had a two week vacation on Cape Cod this summer after a busy and hectic year whose events included her mother breaking a hip and her husband having a siege with pneumonia and a four month stay at Gaylord Farm.

Barbara Bent, daughter of Genie Walsh Bent, will be a sophomore at C. C. next fall, with plans for a major in music. This summer she is working at the Library of Congress.

Margaret Wells, whose old house has been closed for over a year, is now trying to get organized after her return to it.

Gladys Westerman Greene, after August 11, will be living at Decoy Farm, Rock Hall, Md., a 371/2 acre farm famous for its mallard ducks and wild geese, which she and her husband bought from Charles Hatch, once Assistant Secretary of Defense. They look forward to living there, with its nice old center hall typical Maryland farm house, its guest house, large garage, modern duck and chicken house, cow barn, many fruit and nut trees, and a bridle path where Glad can ride a recently purchased thoroughbred Tennessee walking horse. In a year or so, Glad hopes to start a pet project—raising ponies. Glad's son, Stephen, has been in the Army since February and is now in Fort Lewis, Wash. Daughter Joan and her husband still live in New Jersey. Gloria Hollister Atwood, as Bird and garden clubs in Fairfield County. Eileen Fitzgerald, stopping in for an afternoon, brought word that she has been teaching in Springfield for 25 years, that Gladys Forster Shahdan and her husband are spending the summer at their home in Raleigh, and that Kay Moss is making her first trip to Europe.

Ann Ruggoff Cohen claims to have lost contact with C. C. graduates other than her sister who lives nearby.

My David, after basic and a 13 week radio operator's course at Fort Dix, is in Fort Benning, Ga., for a 14 week course as communications chief. Larry goes to Haverford in the fall. I join the many housewives in the cooking, cleaning, sewing, canning, and jellying which are usual to the stay-at-home in summer.

Marion Barnett Holker, for 14 years executive secretary of the Travelers Aid Society in Springfield, from which she resigned in January, has been appointed the first family counselor in the history of the Holyoke Day Nursery. Her part time duties will consist mainly of guidance work with parents of youngsters enrolled at the nursery. Marion has a Master's Degree from Western Reserve University and has been associated with the Cleveland Associated Charities, the Springfield Welfare Association, and the Rochester Associated Charities.

Marion Walsh Bisbee and her husband had another summer cruising around Long Island Sound. She, of course, painted along the way.

Thelma Burnham is still active with the National Secretaries' Association. She attended a New England Conference in Waterbury in May, and hoped to get to the end of the National Convention in N. Y. in July, after which she was to leave for Europe.

Charlotte Lang Carroll and her husband drove around Europe this summer, visiting new places and revisiting others.

Catherine Calhoun, Torrington High School librarian, in March, was given the "Woman of the Year" award of the Torrington Quota Club at a testimonial dinner when city officials and representatives of the city's civic and fraternal organizations joined the club in honoring her for outstanding community service. Catherine is a past president of the Junior Women's Club, the Litchfield County Women's College Club, past regent of Marana Norton Brooks Chapter DAR and has taken a standing community service. Catherine is Torrington High School.

FRANCES GREEN '26 Correspondent

In June Kay Bailey Mauz graduated from the Nursery Training School of Boston. Kay plans to open a nursery school at her home in Kingston in the fall according to Amy Wakefield, who saw her in Boston this spring. Amy has completed her two years as president of the Boston Chapter, C. C. Alumni, in which she has done an outstanding job. Now she's again finding time to cheer for the Red Sox and to go to some of their home games. I have seen Amy several times this spring in Shrewsbury and Boston and spent a night with her late in April when we went to see "Pajama Game" shortly before its successful New York opening.

Oscar and Harriet Stone Warner spent March in Florida, fishing and sunning. Daughter Anne, who enters her senior year at St. Margaret's this fall, is spending her summer studying violin. Marjie, also at St. Margaret's, will be a sophomore this fall. Nancy, having finished her sophomore year at Middlebury, made a quick trip to Florida to attend a convention of her sorority in June, then returned to Connecticut to work this summer at a camp for handicapped children. In June, Harriet entertained the Waterbury C. C. chapter at her Woodbury home. Kay Colgrove, who continues to enthuse over her new work at Bronson Library, in Waterbury, was among those attending the picnic at Harriet's.

Barbara Bell Crouch writes of her always busy life, both on the campus and at home. Cal is to be at sea most of the summer, so Barbara and Ellis have with them Cal Jr. and his mother, Sandy. Judy, having finished her first year at C. C., is working again this summer at the "New London Day."
After being crippled with acute bursitis for several weeks early this spring, I recovered in time to spend two weeks at Ft. Monmouth in June, again the only WAVC with my Reserve unit. En route to and from I stayed overnight with Kay Daughy Bronson and her family in West Redding and Kay and I had a great time catching up on news and comparing African violets which we both enjoy. Bert and Phil showed me, with justifiable pride, their latest project, a marble fountain on the shore of their new reflection pool, its plume of water supplied by an old-fashioned hydraulic ram. Kay and daughter Carol met me in New York on the interim Saturday and we saw "Kismet" together before they had to hurry home so Kay could sing that night with a chorus to which she belongs.

On my way to Ft. Monmouth, too, I stopped briefly in Montclair to see Edna Smith Thistle (ex '26) whose husband, Bob, had died suddenly in late May while they were travelling in Norway. The class extends warm sympathy to Edna, especially remembering how at our 25th reunion Bob was elected an honorary member in recognition of his many helpful kindnesses at that time.

Your correspondent was overwhelmed with joy to have a twenty-four hour visit from Margaret Wheeler during the early part of June. Margaret came east from California where she works in the California State Library to attend her nephew's wedding in New York City. After leaving New Jersey, she motored up through New England with her sister, with a stop in New London to look at the campus and one in Portland, Me., where she had a brief visit with Grace Traupman and Gwen Lewis Hoyt. She writes that she was much impressed by the campus but had difficulty locating the old landmarks.

Carol Johnson Harris, daughter of Henry and Gertrude Johnson Harris, was graduated from Vassar on June 14th with a major in child study. On June 20th she became the bride of Edward Topkin of Jersey City, had to hurry home so Kay could sing that night with a chorus to which she belongs.

Jennie Pasco Ripka is staff physician at the Penna. State Sanitorium in Hamburg. She goes into Reading every week end and she and Alice Hungen are planning a gettogether.

Greetings to the Class of 1933! Dottie Wheeler Spalding, class president has asked me to be the correspondent for this year. I will welcome news from you all!

Helen Wallis Christensen, who lives in Kansas City, Mo., came east for two weeks in August, with her husband, Lyle, and her two daughters. They came to Darien several times for a swim, a picnic supper on the beach, and a party or two. It was such fun for me and my family to see them. The girls, Patsy and Linda, are 11 and 14, and my children, Kathie and Richard are 12 and 16, so they all had a marvelous time together. Ruth Norton Mathewson and husband, Doug, came for a buffet supper while the Christensens were here, so we had a small Vinal reunion. Helen likes Kansas City very much. She is president of the PTA and is very active in several other community projects. She said that an attempt is being made to organize a C.C. Alumnae Chapter there. They have had one meeting. There are about 25 alumnae in Kansas City. Lyle is Vice-President in charge of sales of the Marley Co., Inc., makers of cooling equipment.

My son is now in his second year at Kent School, and preparing for Princeton. He enjoys it very much. He is very athletic and particularly likes the athletic program at Kent, as well as all of the other opportunities offered there. Katie started Junior High this year, and is enthusiastic about the novelty of changing classes and teachers, and all of her new subjects. And then dancing school begins again soon, and that is fun! Bill is with the Shell Oil Co. in New York. He is Manager of the Plant Engineering Dept. and in charge of construction and operations throughout the United States.

Ruth Norton Mathewson and husband, Doug, and two daughters, Mary 13, Heather 10, make their home in Peltam Manor. Doug commutes to N.Y.C. where he practices law, and is also professor at New York University. Ruth says the girls have a full program with school, music, skating club, social dancing, and horseback riding.

Anna May Dorje Gillmer writes that she and Tom have lived in Annapolis for 15 years. They have built a house on the water, and enjoy being in a small community. Christy is 16 and just beginning to date midshipsman and having a gay time. Charley is 12 and interested in baseball sailing, and swimming. He is just starting Junior High. Tom is not in the Navy now, but is a professor in the Dept. of Marine Engineering at the Academy. Anna May says she has seen Dot Hamilton Algire and Elsie Nelson occasionally.

A reunion of '33 Branfordites took place last August at Jerry Wertheimer Mongahan's apartment in New York. Those present: Jerry, Eleanor Carney Gillet, Evelyn Carlough Higgams, Virginia Vall Lavino, and Esther Tyler. Also present ex-officio, Jerry's small daughter, Kate. Facts through the chatter: Tempi is now attending a teachers' college on Staten Island and plans to teach in the elementary school as soon as her son Rick reaches junior high, daughter Barbara is finishing high school; Carlo has acquired a curious interest in baseball, in order to keep up with her son, Mike. Carlo's daughter Deborah is in high school; all of Ginny's three boys are away at school. Esther says one may have graduated last June; Ginny is launched in business, decorating compact, handbags, etc. Jerry's daughter Deborah is in high school; all of Ginny's three boys are away at school. Reunion was the big moment in our lives. Twenty-seven from the Class, none of whom had changed one bit(1), had a wonderful time rediscovering how uncomplicated and thoroughly enjoyable our lives were twenty years ago. The campus was a revelation, with all its new buildings (and plans for more).

The Reunion Letter brings everyone up-to-date on who was there and what we did. Miss Oakes, now a Dean, was wonderful as our guest of honor at the Class banquet. It was indeed a rewarding experience which we wish more of you could have shared.

Recent news from Allie Jacobs McBride tells me that she and her father and three children were in a cottage at Matunick, R. I., when hurricane Carol hit. The house was flooded waist deep and then blown about for two hours before they hit higher ground and could swim and wade to safety.

Janet Paulson Kisling and her family are "all healthy and making the most of it." She has two children, Barbara and Lee (male), 11 and 6 respectively. Jan keeps out of mischief with housekeeping, volunteer hospital work, and other civic activities—with time out this past year for a winter holiday in Guatemala and a summer one in New Hampshire. Right now she is concentrating on housebreaking an Airdale pup!

According to Mary Savage Collins, her family’s vacation at Madison was memorable for four cases of mumps, including Mary herself, and two hurricanes. The hurricanes caused plenty of excitement, but fortunately did little damage throughout. Hurricane Carol also hit White Sands Beach at Old Lyme where Sabrina Barr Sanders and her family were vacationing. Subby lost her station wagon, but her family were all safe. This year her four sons are all in school.

Mary Spooner Hays and her children, John, 14, and taller than his mother, Emily, 12, and Barbara, 7, are all active in scouting. Polly is completing her fourth year as a Cub Den Mother and starting her second year as president of the Sullivan (Indiana) Girl Scout Council. Her husband, John, practices law and serves part time as a special consultant to the State Department in Washington. Vera Warbaise Spooner wrote that Polly and her children spent some wonderful days camed with sailing and swimming at her home at Ann Arbor in September. Vera and her family hope to come east to Woods Hole next summer for the first time in four years.

Our newly-elected class president, Margaret Bayliss Hrones spent the summer with John and their four children at their camp at Jaffrey, New Hampshire. Peg managed to climb Mt. Monadnock, but not without puffing! Elizabeth Dutch is enjoying her new home, with plenty of room to move around, a garden and a piano. Lydia Albree Child is quite adept with a hammer these days. Her family has outgrown their ranch-style house and Jill is lending a hand with the necessary addition. Besides carpentering, she’s busy canning and freezing. The children are active in 4-H work, Cub Scouts and choirs. Last spring Mabel Spencer Hajeck wrote that she was anticipating a busy summer, freezing great quantities of vegetables from her husband’s garden. Mabel is still secretary to the president of the Middletown Savings Bank.

Dear ’37 ers:

Those of us who were back for reunion in June missed the rest of you. We had fun and much exchanging of all that had happened during the intervening years.

Friday evening we took full advantage of the new snack bar on campus and talked into the wee hours. Saturday morning we attended the Alumnae Association meeting, at which time President Park brought us up to date on new developments at C. C. We learned about W.M.I., the secondary school which is being built on the east side of the campus, below the Auditorium parking lot. The College will help in forming the guiding principles of the school, but the school will be separate from the college, run by its own staff. We also were brought up to date on the New London School of the Dance, which takes place on campus each summer.

After the Trustees’ picnic, at which all reunion classes presented the college with gifts of money for the Student-Alumnae Center, we went to Class Day.

Our dinner was held at the Mohican, where we had a joint cocktail party with the classes of ’34 and ’35. Miss Brett was our guest for the evening and gave a fine, informal talk about present requirements for the B.A. degree.

Glorette Beckwith-Essell and Mary Degnan have agreed to serve as a nominating committee. They will have a report for us later. Also, those of you who did not fill out the questionnaires will be asked for some material from Mary, who is going to assemble a scrap book and try to keep it up to date on all the doings of our class.

I hope to see you all at the next reunion in 1958.

Sincerely yours,

Dorothy E. Baldwin

She went on to say that her aunt Elsie Schweb Fuller has moved to St. Petersburg, Fla., with all five cousins—Allen 13, Elaine 11, Larry 8, Waffy 4, and Kenny 1.

Elsie and Fran Willson Russell have seen each other occasionally as Fran puts it “between trips”. Since our last writing, Fran and Dave have made business trips to Chattanooga, Tenn., and to Quebec.

S. and is sponsored by 9 of the leading women's colleges in the East. Because both of her children were in school, Janie Guilford Newlin has had a part time job this year in the school and has also been taking some painting courses.

Libby Taylor Dean has three children and a farmhouse and grounds to keep her busy besides the usual civic projects. She also likes to paint (pictures as well as fences) and to make lamps. Betty Young Reidel has been in Hawaii for a year and a half and wonders if she will ever get shoes back on her children. Her husband is stationed there as a Coast Guard Engineer. She says "We are all becoming happily demoralized beachcombers but we really miss that lousy Connecticut weather."

Dotty Los Loamis has spent the winter—and I quote—"running a personal taxi to town to accommodate Cub Scouts, choir boys, ball teams, swim champs, not to mention the three-foot blonde and her girl friends." This is in addition to being the only woman member of the building committee for their church addition and being on a few other civic groups. Nancy Weston Lincoln is another very active person.

She is treasurer of the Junior League and as such was sent as a delegate to the Regional Conference in Boston last fall. She is raising two Golden Retrievers and is publicity chairman for the Maine Retriever Trial Club. She and her doctor husband participate in all the sporting activities of her state—fishing, duck hunting, and game hunting—though she leaves deer hunting to her husband. Also in the past year, she has attended two medical conferences with her husband, one in Hartford and one in Quebec.

Mary Kurtz Hall's husband is with the Eli Lilly Pharmaceutical Co. in Indianapolis. They have three children and a cocker spaniel for each one. Polly Salom Stevens took her two daughters (11 and 8) to Florida for spring vacation. Both girls got measles and spent the entire time in bed. Mary Martin McErl has lived in Texas for two years now and says this almost makes a Texan of her, except that she does retain a few traces of the U. S. Miriam Cooper works in the laboratory of the Lawrence Memorial Hospital in New London. Grace Hecht Block spends her so-called spare moments editing the monthly bulletin of the local chapter of Hadassah and entering all kinds of contests. She says the prizes have been surprisingly frequent and varied, from diaper service to "small but beautifully washable checks."

Marjorie Mortimer Kennedy lives in Fall River and is very busy being the wife of an orthopedic surgeon and the mother of two boys, besides serving on the hospital Woman's Board. Helen Kreider Belmer is a very enthusiastic member of the newly formed parents' committee for better schools in Anville, Pa., and hopes to run for the School Board next year. She is also a member of the Girl Scout Council.

Beets Parcells Arms says she has just moved into her new home in April and had, on the day she wrote the card, had lunch with Dede Lowe Nie, Ellen Mayl, Nancy Tramaine deWooody and Harriet Ernest Veale.

Next year she will be busy teaching Sunday School and as Chairman of the Homecrafters Shop. Ginny Taber McCamey is working on her house in the woods in Storrs. She and husband Frank and daughter Eleanor are building it themselves and I have a picture of Ginny on a ladder nailing roof boards to prove it. When not filling joints in plasterboard, she helps on church suppers, with the Brownies, and in the Woman's Club. The hospital that Barbara Myers Halad and I have been so interested in (Bobby is treasurer of the Woman's Auxiliary and I am on the Board) is finally taking form just a mile down the road from my house. Bobby and I are planning to drop a lot of outside activities and take the Nurses' Aide course and work in the hospital. The Brownies and the PTA can get along with other recruits.

Eleanor Strohm Leavitt's good letter reports that the Leavitts made their tenth move in six and a half years last September. One move came shortly after the Korean 'incident' when Bill was called back into service and the Leavitts ended up in Germany for "a glorious six months." Strohmie made the most of a golden opportunity, saw as much of the surrounding territory as she could. They returned to this country two years ago and finally got back into their N. J. home the next February. By July, Bill had been transferred by IBM to Roanoke, Va. The family, which includes daughters Anne and Ricky (6 and 3 1/2) was reunited eventually in a house in Roanoke—and they love it. The girls, the house and some volunteer and church work keep Strohmie busy. The Leavitts spent a month at the Jersey shore this summer where they saw Jo Viatt Montzani and her family. Jo has a new baby, her third daughter, born in March, Other news via Strohmie is that her third daughter, born in March, Other news via Strohmie is that she should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas and that they should have left Alaska by Christmas.

Peggy Blocker Dill and Austin flew out from Oklahoma City the first week in July for a visit with Peggy's family. Jo Eggers Wilkinson flew west from Van Wert, Ohio, for a visit in Boise, Idaho, and then on to San Francisco.

Bea Litell Lipt, ex '46, has now entered another business venture. She is practically an executive with the Cleveland, Doble, and Arnold Real Estate in Greenwich, Conn. Bea is most enthusiastic about real estate and has her own new home with many glass walls and brick siding on 3.99 acres of wooded land back of Cos Cob. Bea has seen Barbara Bushman Standberg and Peggy Cole Jennings and every now and then runs into Jane Quackenbush Lott and her four children. She reports also that Janet Crickshank McMullen is getting along very well with her five children and her new waterfront estate.

Phebe Gardner Rockholz wrote recently to inquire about the name of the company which handled our class rings. Does anyone know it? Phebe, who has two sons, 7 and 2 years old, joined the Levittown branch of the AAUW where she met Barbe Grimes Wise. She hopes to join the pastel group in the fall and a group which makes silver jewelry of merit.

Drusilla Fielding '32, Secretary to President Park, and Barbara Bell Crouch '26, Part-time Secretary in the office of President Park.

President Rosemary Park greeting Beverly Tasko '55, president of Student Government in the Green Room of Palmer auditorium before the freshman assembly on Monday, September 20.
Dear Alumnae:

You can help your college and have some fruit at the same time.

For every order from Connecticut College alumnae, whether gifts or for your own use, we'll give 10% of the fruit price of each order to the Alumnae Fund Campaign to help in the current campaign for the Student-Alumnae Center and in other worthwhile projects.

In the three years we have tried this special offer alumnae have doubled their orders. You can help us make it many times more this season. All who responded the last three seasons were most enthusiastic about our fruit. One alumna writes: "Think this idea is an excellent one benefiting both the College and alumnae as individuals." Others have also expressed approval.

A SPECIAL GIVE-AWAY: A free basket of citrus fruit with a SPECIAL SURPRISE GIFT will be shipped each month to that party in whose name the most shipments are made for that month for his own use or as gifts.

Best wishes to you all and to C.C.
